55. All the council—St. Mark passes over the details of the examination before Annas and the first commencement of insult and violence, recorded only by St. John. He places us in the mansion of Caiaphas, whither our Lord was conducted across the courtyard, and where a more formal assembly of the council of the nation had met. Sought for witness against Jesus—Not to ascertain the truth, but to destroy one whom they consider a personal enemy, was this trial conducted. Found none—It was necessary to find two who had been present at the same or a precisely similar offense, whatever it might be. The difficulty, then, was not that they found none, as the English Bible renders it, but, as the Greek words literally mean, they did not find (what they were seeking), that is, probably, two witnesses to one and the same act.

56. False witness—Witnesses that could accuse him of crime; of violation of the laws of the land or of God. We are not to suppose that they wished them to be false witnesses. They were indifferent, probably, whether they were true or false, if they could succeed in condemning him. The evangelist calls it false testimony.

57. Certain ... saying—The false witness consisted in giving that sense to his words which it appears by Matt. xxvii, 63, they knew they did not bear. There is, perhaps, a trace, in the different reports of Matthew and Mark, of the discrepancy between the witnesses. There is considerable difference between the words attributed to him there, and here.

58. Destroy this temple—Our Lord had said (John ii, 19), "Destroy the temple, and I will build it again in three days." There was surely no hostility to the temple in this; for the destroying was supposed to be performed by them, and the rebuilding by himself. The utterance of words tending to bring the temple into contempt was regarded as so grave an offense that it afterward formed a capital charge against the first martyr, Stephen.

59. Neither so did their witness agree—This, again, is peculiar to St. Mark. We are not told in what respects their evidence failed to agree; possibly as before, in details of time and place, possibly in the absence or presence of the words reported in the previous verse.

60. Asked Jesus—Caiaphas might have interpreted this silence as acquiescence, and closed the proceedings, but this would have opened the door for delay when the Sanhedrin proper should meet. Moreover, he chafed at our Lord's calmness and dignity, and could ill brook to have his authority thus openly set at defiance. Answerest thou nothing? What is it—This was an attempt to make the prisoner supply the want of testimony by his own confession, a proceeding utterly abhorrent to the spirit and the practice of the English law, though familiar to the codes and courts of other nations, both in ancient and in modern times.

61. He held his peace—Our Lord was silent; for in answering he must have added to them the meaning of his words, which was not the work of this, his hour, nor fitting for that audience. Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed—This is the only place in the New Testament where the well-known name used constantly by the Jews is thus absolutely given.

62. I am—This was a solemn moment. The titular high-priest of the Jews and their eternal High-priest were now face to face. The substance is arraigned before the judgment bar of the shadow. One is the representative of the Jewish nation; the other is its Messiah and its true King. The representative, in whom, for the time being, the nation is embodied, puts the great question, "Are you the Messiah?" He pronounces the solemn affirmative, "I am." And he is rejected. The great act is consummated. In the days of his happier ministry, when they would have taken him by force to make him a King—in the days when to claim the Messiahship in their sense would have been to set all their passionate prejudices in a way, and to place himself upon the topmost pinnacle of their adoring homage—in those days he had kept his title of Messiah utterly in the background; but now, at this awful decisive moment, when death was near—when, humanly speaking, nothing could be gained, everything must be lost, by the avowal—there thrilled through all the ages—thrilled through all eternity which is the synchronism of all the future, and all the present, and all the past—the solemn answer—"I AM; and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven." Son of man—The Greek article here can hardly be reproduced in English, but it is well to remember that our Lord speaks of "the power," that which, as in the doxology of the Lord's Prayer, belonged pre-eminently to the Eternal. He adds what may seem to be a mere prediction, but is also both an explanation and a pledge and confirmation of the foregoing answer: "Yes, I am the Son of God, but unless really the Son of man, and you shall one day see the very form now arraigned, and about to be maltreated in your presence, no longer as the form of a servant, but of a King seated on the right hand of power, as a sharer of the honors of Omnipotence, and coming with the clouds of heaven."

63. Rent his clothes—Literally, his tunic, not his priestly robe, which was worn only in the temple, and when officiating. The plural, perhaps, is due to the wearing of two inner garments by persons of note. Originally, it was a natural outburst of intense grief, and was involuntary; but at a later period it became a mere form regulated by special rules. The act was almost as much a sign of condemnation as the putting on of the black cap by an English judge.

64. Blasphemy—If it had not been true it would have been blasphemy. All condemned him—And the verdict is unanimous. Now, why did not immediate execution follow? The obstruction is a formidable one. The Jews are under the Roman government. The Romans have taken from them the power of life and death. Besides, the Scriptures require that he should suffer death from Gentile hands, a reason of which they are unaware. The Sanhedrin was forbidden to investigate any capital crime during the night, and according to the Roman law a sentence pronounced before dawn was not valid. This test vote, however, they considered as settling the question. We know of one exception to this statement; but the dissenting senator was probably not present at this meeting. Guilty of death—That is, justly liable, obnoxious, or exposed to it. "Blasphemy!" he exclaimed; "what further need have we of witnesses?" "See, now ye heard his blasphemy! What is your decision?" And with the confused tumultuous cry, "He is ish maveth," "A man of death" "Guilty of death," the dark conclave was broken up, and the second stage of the trial of Jesus was over.

65. Began to spit on him—Spitting was considered among the Jews as an expression of the greatest contempt. Cover his face—The covering of the face was the mark of a condemned man, held as unworthy to behold and enjoy the light of the sun or of a prince's countenance. Buffet him—That is, they struck him with their hands closed, or with the fist. And to say unto him, Prophesy—They blindfolded the Prophet, and then called on him to use his power of supernatural vision. Mr. Blount, in his work designed to prove the truth of the gospels by their undesigned coincidences, remarks that Matthew mentions this challenge to prophesy, and adds that it was a challenge to prophesy, Who smote thee? How it required the power of prophecy in Jesus to tell who smote him Matthew does not explain, nor, had we his gospel alone, should we be able to tell. But Mark in this verse supplies the fact that they covered his face, then smote him, and then, in ridicule of his title as prophet, made him prophesy which was his smiter. On the other hand, we may add that Mark omits to tell what was the prophecy demanded; so it is by a double tally that the two evangelists supplement each other.

Missionary.

Are Our Foreign Missions a Success?

Though the direct results of the propaganda of the various Christian missions which have long been at work in Africa may not show an extraordinary number of baptized and professing Christians in their published statistics, yet their indirect influence has had really remarkable effect in educating and humanizing cannibals and fetish worshipers, and the mere fact that numbers of savages have been taught to read, write and speak good English or French is alone one result of missionary enterprise which should secure the sympathy and support of European governments for these painstaking societies. Indeed, though the converted barbarians may afterwards grow slack in observing the practices of our religion, no one can deny that they have been very much benefited by their studies at the mission. No doubt if the great missionary propaganda of Britain confined itself to being a kind of school board for savages, it would save time and money spent in instilling into low-grade minds dogmas and doctrines which those barbarians are scarcely capable of turning to the practical purposes of life, but inasmuch as that is the original motive-power of Christian missions, and one must utilize forces as one finds them, political economists should be content to let the missionaries dogmatise and indoctrinate without let or hindrance, on account of the education and civilization which they laterally introduce. The trader civilizes, but he does not go to savage countries for that purpose; he goes to trade. In like manner the bait which draws these good men and women of Roman Catholic and Protestant missions to Africa, Polynesia, North America, India, China, and Persia, is the desire to instil into the minds of the backward races of these savage or semi-civilized lands their own views of Christian faith and hope but they accompany their care for the spiritual well-being of the pagan or Mohammedan with a very practical intention to improve his bodily life and to educate his mind, and in this they do, and have done in the past, an amount of good that has never as yet been sufficiently appreciated.—H. H. Johnson, in Fortnightly Review.

THE NECESSITY OF ENTHUSIASM.—The church must believe in the work, and, accepting the great responsibility which her Master has laid upon her, must send forth her children in the spirit of the old Spartan mothers, who bade their sons farewell as they went forth to battle, telling them to return either bearing their shields or being borne upon them. She must have supreme confidence in the success of this great enterprise. Her missionary meetings should be convocations of great joy, her songs should be full of exultant hope and confidence, and her prayers should ascend unceasingly for the consummation so long hoped for, so distinctly promised, so faithfully assured, that all the earth shall be the Lord's. And the missionaries who go to these distant fields should go in the same spirit. They do not go to try an experiment; they do not dream of going in the spirit of adventure, like the tourist wandering in the ruins of antiquity; they do not go because they fail to find congenial employment at home; they do not go to spend a term of years that they may return again to an honorable rest at home, thus bringing their ripe experience and throwing away the very best years, perhaps, of their possible service; but they go to live and labor and die among the people to whom God sends them. They love the work which God gives them; they love the people among whom they dwell; they love the associations by which they are surrounded; they are full of hope and confidence; their songs are songs of victory; and while they live in the days of small things, they see their triumph from afar and bring it nigh by the power of a vivid faith which never for a moment fails them. The value of such enthusiasm can not be estimated too highly. It is easy to disparage it. It is easy to say its possessors are too sanguine, that they are rash and impetuous, short-sighted or otherwise; but the men who win upon moral battle-fields, are, in nine cases out of ten, men of this very kind.—Bishop J. M. Thoburn.

A REMARKABLY EFFECTIVE YEAR.—The missionary work of the American Sunday school Union is attended with constant and growing success. During the last two years the number of missionaries has increased from sixty to eighty-nine. In the year closing March 1, 1889, they organized 1,758 new Sunday-schools in thirty-one States and Territories, in places hitherto destitute of religious privileges. In addition to this, they gave aid to other needy schools in 6,438 instances. In many cases the schools have developed into churches of different denominations. They have also distributed, by sale and gift, 8,585 Bibles and 11,683 Testaments, and made 40,041 visits to families. During the winter they earnestly conducted evangelistic work, and gathered many thousand souls into the church of God. It is entirely impossible to estimate the far-reaching and beneficent results of such a missionary work as this, accomplished in one year.

Temperance Notes.

Our Home Guards gives the following advertisement of a grocery firm as a capital temperance sermon: "Any man who drinks two drachms of whisky per day for a year, and pays ten cents a drink for it, can have at our store 30 sacks of flour, 220 pounds of granulated sugar and 72 pounds of good green coffee for the same money, and get $2 50 premium for making the change in his expenditures."

We want not to stop immigration, but to sift it; to have the wheat of honesty, industry, muscle, intelligence and religion dropped on our shores, and the chaff of ignorance, degradation, filth, vice and crime blown back across the sea. For this purpose, national prohibition will be an unequaled sieve. Observing men say that, even as seen on the trains, there is a great difference between the immigrants who go to Prohibition Kansas, and to High License Nebraska, the better sort taking the Kansas trains.—James C. Fernald.

Supposing a man can get a glass of whisky in Des Moines, it he works like a burglar to get it, what of that? For every man who knows where to get it, there are 5,000 young men who don't know. For every man who sneaks like a thief through some blind alley or into some barn to get a drink, there are 5,000 who walk the streets like honest men, and are never tempted by the sight of an open saloon. For every man who drops a dime or dollar in a hole-in-the wall, there are 5,000 workingmen whose weekly wages now go to buy food and clothing and the comforts of life for their families, and not a cent into the tills of saloon-keepers.

Estimated on the basis of the population in 1880 the loss to the people of Pennsylvania from the liquor traffic amounts every year to the enormous sum of $76,102.2 7—more than forty times the revenue from high license in 1888, under the Brooks law.

Mr. S. A. Kean, the Chicago banker, who has for years demonstrated the fact that conscientious Christianity is practicable in business life, has on more than one occasion also proven that a sumptuous banquet can be given without wine. The annual spread of the firm to its clerks and friends in which Mr. and Mrs. Kean, the night watchman and his wife held equal place, was lately given in the parlors of the Palmer House with great good cheer and no drunkenness.

The W. C. T. U. of Philadelphia is not entirely engaged in political agitation. During the last year members of this organization visited 420 prisoners, held 109 meetings in the Philadelphia hospitals and almshouses, visited 762 cots and 400 private families, distributed 456,845 pages of literature, and spent for philanthropic work at least $2,000.

If Sufferers from Consumption,

Scrofula, Bronchitis, and General Debility will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and permanent benefit. The Medical Profession universally declare it a remedy of the greatest value and very palatable. Read: "I have used Scott's Emulsion in several cases of Scrofula and Debility in Children. Results most gratifying. My little patients take it with pleasure."—W. A. HULBART, M. D., Salisbury, Ill.

The immense sum of $16,000 was spent for the single item of wine at the Centennial banquet in New York City. Richard Busse, the chief steward of the Hoffman House, said that not since the feast of Belshazzar had so much wine been drunk as on the occasion of the Centennial ball and banquet.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

If You Have no appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," or losing flesh, you will find the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach, build up the flagging energies as no other medicine will, and

Tutt's Pills

CURE CONSTIPATION.

To enjoy health one should have regular evacuations every twenty four hours. The evils, mental and physical, resulting from

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION

are many and serious. For the cure of this common trouble, Tutt's Liver Pills have gained a popularity unparalleled.

A TORPID LIVER

deranges the whole system and produces

Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.

There is no better remedy for these frequent diseases than Tutt's Pills, as a trial will prove. They should be found in every household. They are perfectly harmless, reliable, and can be taken without restraint of diet or occupation. Plain or sugar-coated. Sold everywhere. Price, 25c.

Office, 44 Murray Street, N. Y.

PIANOS ORGANS

LOWEST PRICES IN AMERICA.

Standard, Reliable Instruments at Lowest prices known. No competition with Cheap, Inferior Instruments.

REDUCED PRICES. SPECIAL OFFERS.

PIANOS $200. 7⅓ Oct. Upright, 3 Stringed, Rich Rosewood Case.

ORGANS $65. Four Sets Reeds, Eleven Stops, Complete. Fine Case

STOOL, COVER, INSTRUCTOR—ALL FREIGHT PAID. Largest Stock South. 200 Styles and Prices. Pianos—$10 Monthly. Organs—$5 Monthly. Low Time Prices—Fair Contract. No Risk—No Forfeiture of Cash Paid. SIX SPECIAL OFFERS. Send for Free Paper "Sharps and Flats," giving full information.

LUDDEN & BATES, SOUTHERN MUSIC HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA

Agents Wanted!

The 'ERIE' is the only PERFECT Self-Wringing MOP Made.

No breakage; made of malleable iron & steel wire; special cloth fitted in every mop before shipping. Liberal terms. Exclusive territory.

Send 50 cents for sample and save time. Circulars and terms free.

EVANS BROS., Southern Agents, 13 Perdido St., New Orleans, La.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS

CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITIES.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JARVIS.

BROWNE & JENKINS,

DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN

WALL PAPER

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free.

Frank Walker & Co.,

WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,

117 Tchoupitoulas St.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,

DEALER IN

WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

263 - CAMP STREET - 263

Bet. Delord and Poeylarre, NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.

W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

A. Brousseau's Son,

23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING, CARPETS, INGRAINS, LACE CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

Mention this paper.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

DRAINING MACHINES, IRRIGATION PUMPS, DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory. JOS. MENGE, 105 Tchoupitoulas St.

$65 A MONTH AND BOARD PAID, or highest commission and 30 DAYS' CREDIT to Agents on our New Book. P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., 523 Market St., St. Louis, Mo.

Queen & Crescent ROUTE

FROM

New Orleans to Cincinnati.

94 MILES THE SHORTEST.

TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes. Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST,

NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer through the City.

Luxurious Miami Monthly Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 31 St. Charles street.

R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans

J. C. GAULT, General Manager.

D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

And Through Cars for All Classes to

CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 4 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

Pullman Sleeping Cars

THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE

To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and

KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO

Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.

TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

Mississippi Valley Route.

Louisville, New Orleans and Texas Rail'y.

Arrives.	Departs.
No. 1. Fast Mail. 9:00 a.m	No. 2. Fast Mail. 4:00 p.m
No. 3. Express. 5:48 p.m	No. 4. Express. 8:05 a.m
No. 5. Bat. Rouge acc'dation. 10:10 a.m	No. 6. Bat. Rouge acc'dation. 4:10 p.m

Trains Nos. 1 and 2 run through and have Pullman Sleeping Cars between New Orleans and Memphis, and also locally to and from Vicksburg. Passengers may remain in Vicksburg sleeper until morning.

Trains Nos. 3 and 4 run between New Orleans and Vicksburg.

Trains Nos. 5 and 6 run between New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Connections at Harriston for Natchez and all points on the N. J. and C.

At Vicksburg with the V., S. and P. and V. and M. Railroads.

At Memphis with lines diverging for Little Rock, Hot Springs, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville, Eastern cities and all points North.

Ticket Office, 61 St. Charles Street.

P. R. ROGERS, Asst Gen Pass. Agt.
E. W. HOW, Gen. Pass. Agt., Memphis, Tenn.
R. F. REYNOLDS, Con'l Agent, New Orleans, La.

—THE—

Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

SHORT LINE

—BETWEEN—

NEW ORLEANS, TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT,

AND POINTS IN

Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas

JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS
(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1..... 9:00 am	No. 2..... 4:00 pm
No. 3..... 6:18 pm	No. 4..... 8:05 am
No. 5..... 10:10 am	No. 6..... 4 10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 F'st Ex... 7:00 am
No. 1 F'st Ex... 7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast.... 3:40 pm
No. 5 Coast.... 8:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex.. 3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r. 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim.... 7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express. 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express. 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local. 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local. 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local.... 7:20 pm
No. 17 Local.... 8:55 am	No. 20 Califor.. 11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.
(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd .11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd..... 3:35 pm
No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line.. 7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO.
(Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line.. 3:35 pm

P. AND F. EAST LA.
(Abita Springs.)
Daily Except Sundays.
Arrive..... 8:30 am | Leave..... 4:00 pm
Sunday Schedule.
Arrive..... 7:25 pm | Leave..... 7:30 am

TYPE-INK PAPER - PRESSES

At Southern Printers' Warehouse,

101-103 GRAVIER ST., NEW ORLEANS.

THREE WONDERFUL

SEWING MACHINES.

The New Singer Automatic (Single Thread). "It runs with a breath."

The New Singer Vibrator. More modern, lighter running and simpler than any other

The New Singer Oscillator. Scientifically and mechanically perfect

6,500,000 LADIES

Are Doing Sewing on

SINGER Family Sewing Machines.

8,500,000

SINGER SEWING MACHINES HAVE BEEN SOLD.

Every successful machine ever built contains one of these three principles. Each kind is sold on easy payments, equipped with the latest improvements and attachments for all kinds of family sewing.

Agency for Hall's Bazar Dress and Skirt Forms and the Improved Standard Fashion Patterns.

PREMIUM OFFER—Every purchaser of Standard Patterns amounting to 50 cents, or more, will be presented with a copy of The Standard Fashion Catalogue, (regular price, 20 cents) the most beautifully illustrated Fashion Book extant.

Needles for all Sewing Machines and parts for the Singer.

Send for Price-list and Catalogues.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO.,
185 Canal St., New Orleans.
S. E. RUNDLE - - - - - AGENT.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO.,

(LIMITED)

40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in—

WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application.

LHOTE & CO.

OLD BASIN

Sash, Door, Blind and Lumber MANUFACTORY,

OFFICES:

COR. FRANKLIN AND TOULOUSE, AND 32 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

PLANTATION CABINS.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS, FUNERAL : DIRECTORS.

CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor at Establishment.

243 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

COME TO THE LAND OF THE

BIG RED APPLES

Pears, Prunes, etc. Where the climate is so mild grass remains green during all the year. U. S. census report shows Oregon healthiest State in the Union. Rich lands cheap. Send stamp for an Illustrated Pamphlet to

BOARD OF TRADE, SALEM, OREGON.

Mention this Paper.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM

F. D. VanValkenburgh,

106 Camp Street.

Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Orders by mail promptly filled.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the so highly celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1889.

The Spirit and Missions.

There are surely a great number of people in our church who do not believe in missions, or else are wholly indifferent to the subject. We have come to this conclusion from this fact: In our church there are now about twelve hundred thousand members, and the contributions for foreign missions last year footed up, in round numbers, two hundred and forty-four thousand dollars. When we think of how many persons give as much as a hundred dollars, and how many give fifty, and twenty, and ten, and five, we see that there must be hundreds of thousands who absolutely give nothing at all. We wonder at this. We are pained to think of such an appalling fact. That thousands of professing Christians—men and women who proclaim themselves followers of Jesus—should seem to feel no obligation to help spread the cause of Jesus throughout the world is to us an unaccountable thing. If such a state of things arises from ignorance, then somebody is to blame for that ignorance. In this day of general enlightenment on other subjects, how comes it that so many thousand Methodist people are ignorant of their responsibility to help spread the gospel through the world? Have the preachers and religious newspapers failed in their mission to these thousands? Or is it a simple indifference to the claims of Christ? That is far worse than ignorance. Ignorance is a sort of negative thing, but indifference is tremendously positive, and, therefore, far worse. Or is it a covetous spirit that keeps these thousands from helping the cause of Christ? That is worse still, for that is the hardest of all spirits to exorcise. The covetous man or woman is the hardest to reach, because the love of money kills every germ of benevolence in the soul. That's the reason the Scriptures say: "No covetous man shall inherit the kingdom of God." We really do not know how to explain the fact that thousands and thousands of our Methodist people live upon the blessings of the gospel, which was brought to them by the missionaries of the church, and yet never give a nickel to send the gospel to those who have it not.

We wonder if such people ever read the thirteenth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. In that chapter we find the Holy Spirit inaugurating missions by his own blessed grace and authority. He said to the church at Antioch, "Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." These words were spoken to the church. They mean that the Spirit, by his own authority, as the administrator of redemption, calls the church to enter upon definite mission work. He himself designates the men whom the church shall send. The church acquiesces in this opening of a new department of work, and enters upon it immediately with zeal. "Then, when they had fasted and prayed, they laid their hands on them and sent them away." And the historian adds, "So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia." Here, then, is the Holy Spirit operating upon the church to inaugurate the missionary enterprise, and the church yielding itself to the Spirit's teaching, and both together sending forth the first missionaries. We may say, then, that mission work is the special work of the Holy Spirit, and that it is the special work of the church, and when a missionary goes forth with the authority of the church and the Spirit, he is on the highest line of duty; and that means the direct road to success. From this chapter we learn that the Holy Spirit first started mission work in the church; and he has had charge of it ever since. The sending forth of missionaries was first done by the church, acting under his authority; and it thus became a part of the church organization. The church that does not do this is not completely organized, and need not expect the blessing of the Spirit. How the members of a church, organized after the model of the first mission church at Antioch, can see their church struggling to carry out the plans of the Holy Spirit for the salvation of all men, and then be so indifferent as to afford no aid whatever, is a mystery to us. Do not these people see that they are in real opposition to the Holy Spirit? That their indifference or covetousness is a willful and positive obstruction to his gracious purposes for the salvation of their fellow-men? And that if they persist in this attitude of antagonism to the Holy Spirit's work, they must inevitably perish? The Scriptures are positive in the teaching that the Holy Spirit has charge of and is guiding the church; and can a man continue to oppose His work without incurring his displeasure and risking the awful interests of eternity?

But the contributions of our people to this good cause are increasing. This shows that those who are engaged in mission work have a growing faith in it as the work of the Holy Spirit. As their faith grows, their benevolence grows; and as benevolence grows, their offerings increase. They see the glory of the Spirit manifested in the conversion of heathen people to their Lord. In that fact they recognize an answer to their prayers, and see the fruit of their gifts. So they are encouraged. The success of the gospel among the heathen reacts in peace and joy in their own hearts and lives, and they believe the Spirit is in the work as well as in their souls, and they will pray and give more this year than ever before. Reader, the whole of redemption is nothing but mission work. The Father sent the Son, the Son sent the Spirit, the Spirit sent the church. "The mission of the Spirit was meant of God to give the church the spirit of missions."

A Good Proposition.

In another column we have said that those of our people who have been giving for mission work will give more this year. We believe this because the law of benevolence is, "The more you give cheerfully, the more you want to give." Our faith at this point is strengthened by the following proposition received by mail at this office:

PROPOSITION.

Dear Sir and Brother: I see from a letter in the last issue of your paper that Rev. J. W. Lambuth calls for three additional missionaries to Japan. I will be one of one hundred to give ten dollars each to send one man, and will pay that amount, or such other proportionate amount necessary, yearly, to keep him up until his appointment becomes self-sustaining.

A SUBSCRIBER.

When a proposition like this was made in our columns two years ago, our readers responded gladly, and we soon raised over one thousand dollars, and sent a missionary to Japan. We have that list of givers yet in our desk. It is a sort of book of remembrance of good done which we keep to look over when we get pessimistic. Now, here is a brother challenging the liberality of the readers of the Advocate again. "Will you take a dare?" Here is one brother challenging ninety-nine others to show as much appreciation of gospel blessings as he is willing to show. Will the ninety-nine be "backed out"? We don't believe they will. We know if they could have heard Bishop Wilson in the Mission Board, when he pointed out on the map the great openings in Japan and spoke of the need of men to enter those openings, they would immediately respond to "Subscriber's" proposition. We believe that more than a hundred persons will send us ten dollars each for this great work. We have never had such opportunities presented us as are presented to-day in Japan, and we ought to enter upon them as quickly as possible, feeling glad in our hearts that God thus honors us. Who will be the first to respond to "Subscriber's" proposition? Who has holy ambition enough to prompt him or her to be the next after "Subscriber" on this sacred roll of holy honor? We will begin to publish the roll with the first name and $10 received.

Woodville District Conference.

This body of ministers and laymen met in Amite City, La., May 16. Rev. C. McDonald, P. E., occupied the chair and conducted the business of the Conference with dispatch and to the satisfaction of all the members. We have seldom seen a Conference session where there was so little friction. "In the love of the brethren" seemed to be the principle governing every member of the body. Dr. Stewart, of Amite City, was made secretary, and a model one he proved to be—his Minutes requiring very little correction, and his report of what was done being given in the fewest, yet plainest, words. All secretaries ought to remember what Bishop McTyeire says in the "Manual of Discipline," that a secretary should eschew adjectives and adverbs, and deal in nouns and verbs. The attendance of ministers and laymen was good, especially when it is remembered that the place of meeting was at one extreme corner of a large district. Some of the ministers were late in putting in an appearance, being engaged in holding revival services; but by Friday evening there was quite a large Conference. The business was transacted rapidly, but not hurriedly. Each item was carefully gone over, and conclusions reached without haste.

The spiritual condition of the church, as represented by the pastors, does not seem to be as good as is desired. Worldliness has crept into the church in many places, and is a leaven of corruption, working much against the spirituality of individuals and churches. In some places it is said to have such sway as to interfere with the maintenance of proper discipline. This is a serious state of affairs, for the power of the individual Christian and the power of the church resides alone in spirituality; and a Christian or a church shorn of spirituality is deprived of working power; and a non-working Christian or church is nothing but a sort of baptized weakness. From the reports presented by the pastors, we judge that some very fine Sunday-school work is being done. There are a great many schools reported, attended by large numbers of children, and officered and taught by faithful men and women, who have consecrated their time and talents to this blessed work. The most of these schools are wholly Methodist, and the larger majority are using our own literature. We think that is wise, for the reason that there is no better Sunday-school literature than that which is sent out by our efficient Sunday-school Secretary, Dr. Cunnyngham.

The finances of the district are in a healthy condition. The preachers are being pretty well sustained, and the various Conference collections are being looked after and gathered in, quite a large proportion of the collections having been already provided for. Inquiry into the condition of church-houses and parsonages revealed the fact that a good deal of building and repairing had been done, and more is to be done during the summer and fall months.

The preaching, morning and night, was plain, practical, full of gospel truth and edifying to the hearers. We decidedly like the plan of having preaching as often as possible at the District Conference. A sermon at Conference, from the very surroundings, ought to have more power than anywhere else, and we are glad to note that more preaching is done now at District Conferences than formerly. We had the pleasure of hearing good sermons from Bros. B. F. Jones, Cecil and Dr. Featherstun. The editor had the privilege of representing the New Orleans Christian Advocate in a modest little speech, by which he secured quite a number of renewals and a few new subscribers. The paper is in great favor with this District Conference, as the following resolution, unanimously adopted, will show:

Resolved, That this Conference recognizes in the New Orleans Christian Advocate an invaluable helper in all the work of the church in spreading the kingdom of Christ among men.

Resolved, That it is, therefore, the duty of all our preachers and people to be active agents in extending its circulation.

A committee of six, with the presiding elder as chairman, was raisod for the purpose of securing a district parsonage.

Dr. Hunnicutt made a telling speech to a good audience, on Saturday night, on the endowment of Centenary College, and secured fifteen six per cent. notes of one hundred dollars each. The presiding elder informed us that this made the sum of $2,900 secured from this district within the last three months. Good for Woodville district!

During the session there was quite a colloquy on dancing, the result of which was the passage of the following resolution:

It is the sense of this Conference that the practice of dancing among the members of the church is an evil antagonistic to the principles of our holy religion, and detrimental to the growth in grace of those who practice it, and we do solemnly disapprove and condemn said practice by our members.

Dr. Murrah, vice-president of Whitworth College, spoke a few strong words for Christian education, and represented his college as in a flourishing condition.

The temperance question received a good show of attention, and the Conference spoke out as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Conference that the traffic in intoxicants is the great cause of the poverty as well as immorality throughout our country; that we are as much opposed to this traffic as ever, and pledge ourselves to use faithful endeavors to banish it from the land; that all our preachers and laity should be actively engaged in helping to drive this monster out of our country.

The hospitality of the little city of Amite was tested fully, and stood the test with grace and dignity, and gave the Conference a sample of generous entertainment. Our happy lot was with friends of long ago, among whom we spent many happy hours of boyhood, whose memories are among the pleasantest things of the past. The renewal of the friendship with the family of Judge Ellis was the chief delight of the editor's visit to Amite City. Sister Ellis, the matriarch of Methodism in this part of the Lord's heritage, is going down the hill of life leaning upon the arm of the Beloved, "growing old gracefully," with faith in lively exercise and trustingly looking for the summons of her Lord. Afflictions and sufferings have had their influence, but it has been elevating and refining; and the light is growing brighter and broader.

We incline to the opinion, from the experience we had, that this Conference will be known and talked of among the brethren, and be handed down among the traditions of the church as the "Strawberry District Conference."

The following persons were elected delegates to the next Annual Confereuce: E. F. Tucker, H. C. Newsom, Dr. C. S. Stewart and R. S. Austin. These were all elected on the first ballot. The next Conference is to be held at Gloster, Miss.

Several Things.

The signs are nearly all full of hope for Batesville and Wesley charge. There has been quite a religious awakening in Batesville recently under the auspices of the Baptist Church, and all the denominations of Christians shared in its benefits—the Methodists, perhaps, more largely than any other. The fruits abide, as seen in a largely increased attendance at the week-night prayer meetings and the Sunday-schools.

A better, kindlier, more generous people I have never served. But an enemy is sowing tares. The racing season is upon us, and at Batesville we are soon to have a fair, which, being interpreted, means a race-track in Mississippi. Then we shall have gambling and demoralization, and the ruin of our young men for time and eternity. When will the conscience of Mississippians be awakened to the iniquity of horse racing? Our statute law provides for the punishment of gamblers of all sorts, from shooting "craps" up, excepting the race and the shooting-match gamblers. Upon these two things men may win and lose money without stint, and the laws of Mississippi sanction it. If this is not straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel I do not know what it is. The plea is, that thereby good marksmanship and the breeding of fine stock are encouraged. "Let us do evil that good may come of it." Do we need fleet stock? For my part I would as soon my milch cow could run well as my horse. We need good saddle and harness horses, but not race horses. And as for marksmanship, our people shoot too well already, as the statistics of crime and the newspaper reports will show. An attorney said to me, a few days ago, that the true secret of it is, that those to whom is committed the making of our laws are fond of betting on these things. What we ought to do is to send men to our Legislatures who will, by wise and righteous enactment, put a stop to these iniquities.

District court open here today, and I have just listened to the able charge to the grand jury of Judge Rogers. He is a devout member of the Presbyterian Church; spent yestorday (Sabbath) in our town, attended service at the church, and partook of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This ought not to be considered a remarkable thing, yet in these days of degeneracy and wickedness in high places it is refreshing. In his hands the department of justice in this district is safe; and such men as Judge Rogers are an honor and a blessing to the State.

I am reminded by a copy of the Picayune, that lies on my desk, of the recent Episcopal Council, in Jackson, Miss., at which, in his "annual address," Bishop Thompson deplored the "evil of clerical changes," and says this evil "is on the increase over the whole church, and is destroying the sense of responsibility in clergy and laity alike." So the question of a settled pastorate is disturbing even the "succession." We call our preachers itinerants, but it is left for the "Bishop of Mississippi" to call his tramps in these words: "The fault is on both sides, but I am inclined to think the clergy are reaping as they have sown. I am sure the people are not always to blame. They are too often taught an evil lesson by the captious, careless and irresponsible comings and goings of a tramp clergy." Verily, "tramp clergy" is hard on the brethren.

I have been able to send you a few—only a very few—subscribers for our organ, and wish I could largely increase the number.

A drouth is upon us in North Mississippi, and many planters and merchants are "blue."

We will be glad to see you at our District Conference.

THOS. CAMERON.

Notes.

Dr. J. H. Brunner, of Hiwassee College, says of the new hymn book:

Taking the compilation all in all it surpasses anything of the kind we have hitherto ever seen. The whole church is destined to be quickened thereby. Its use among Southern Methodists should be universal—in our congregations, our Sunday-schools, our families, and even in our individual devotions.

This, from Dr. John Hall, will do for our pastors to ponder:

If I have had any success in the work of the ministry, it is because I have endeavored all through to bring forth the word of life. I have no skill, genius or ingenuity for a new way of putting things, no art in delivery, no sensational themes, and if I had to depend upon flowers round about the pulpit and flowers in the sermon to draw the people, I should abandon the pulpit.

In a speech before the Board of Missions, Bishop Keener emphasized the fact that the church needs prayer more than money. The last number of the London Methodist Times has this: "We believe that the most urgent need of foreign missions at this critical hour is neither money nor men but prayer." Did not the same spirit inspire those widely-distant, yet identical, utterances?

Have you thought, pastor, to count how many boys and girls of your congregation have been in college during the past session? We have read of a church that had one in eighteen of its members in college. How many have your church? Have you, as the Discipline requires you, preached on the subject of education? If not, why not? Suppose the presiding elder should say at Conference that you have not done your duty?

According to all the signs, we are destined to be a great people some of these days. The Interior represents Joseph Cook as saying:

"At the present rate of increase, by 1910 the population will number 100,000,000, and that in the year 2000 there will be 400,000,000. Ultimate America means America with her influence perfected, and reaching out over the nations of the earth." The question of the probable ultimate supremacy of America over England was considered and treated in a masterly manner.

Apropos of commencement sermons, the St. Louis Advocate says:

As a religious factor the reputation of the commencement sermon does not stand high. It is too much of a state, literary or scientific occasion, too much of elegance, rhetoric, and too little of the elements that make the sermon a power for good. As nature abhors a vacuum, so does the Holy Ghost abhor a state occasion, for elegance, pride and vanity. The rhetoric and taste of great occasions, fine preaching and artistic sermonizing are not in keeping with the severe and simple dignity, with the directness and singleness of the aim.

How would it do to try the Lord's plan in our praying? There is complaint arising from many quarters of uninteresting and unprofitable prayer-meetings. Suppose we limit our prayers—that is to say, concentrate them upon one point for several prayer-meeting evenings in succession. Our Lord assures us that if two shall agree as touching any one thing, their prayer will be heard. Is the Lord's word true? Then why not try his plan? Why not put his word to the proof? Have an agreement as to what to pray for, and see the gracious results.

Personal and Otherwise.

Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, of the American Sunday Association, spent several days in this city last week and spoke before large audiences, both white and colored, in favor of the Sunday law, upon the grounds of public policy and the interests of society. He showed the growth of right sentiment by reference to the resolutions of the Knights of Labor, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and other working bodies, all favoring a national law stopping the transportation of mails and other Sunday work by the United States Government. He also referred to the position taken by Cardinal Gibbons for the promotion of Sabbath observance, bringing the powerful aid of the Catholic Church to this movement. The stopping of freight trains on the Vanderbilt railroads and other systems was also felicitously alluded to. Mr. Crafts is an an able advocate of this good cause, and his mission in the South should be cordially received. Dr. Palmer presided at the meeting held in Carondelet Church for Sunday observance, and most of the city clergy were present.

Rev. R. G. Porter will preach the annual sermon before the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Mississippi Conference, at Greenville, Miss., June 9.

Bro. R. H. B. Gladney writes that he has had the best meeting ever known in Indianola, Miss.; there being more than thirty conversions!

Rev. J. W. Medlock writes from his meeting at New Iberia that Bro. Sawyer did him good service, and that quite a number have joined the church. The meeting still goes on.

A brother at the Woodville District Conference gave us the name of five postoffices on his work, and said: "Renew all the subscribers at these postoffices, and I will be responsible for the money." That brother means business."

Our foreman returned to us a good article of the editor's, with the laconic sentence: "No room." The Procrustes' bed story over again!

We regret that we did not receive the proof-sheets of Bishop Keener's sermon and sketch of Bishop McTyeire in time for our last issue. We should have had them. We give them entire in this issue, and hope our readers will enjoy the reading of them as we enjoyed their delivery.

Some of our papers are discussing the question, whether a man who does not subscribe for the church paper can be a fit person to be made a steward in the church. Have you thought any along that line?

Postal Card Reports.

—Bro. J. J. Kelly writes: "We have some fine Sunday-schools on the work; good interest taken. Have added two new appointments to the work this year. Preached at four places last Saturday and Sunday, and received three into the church. Our work is in a prosperous condition. We are encouraged to labor on."

—Rev. H. P. Lewis writes, May 13: "Have organized two prayer meetings and two Sunday-schools. All seem to be in a healthy condition. One of the Sunday-schools in a very thriving condition. Parents and children are alike interested. The people here are kind and good to us; liberal with their means, etc.; but how we do need a revival of religion all over this country! I know my heart is in my work, and I am doing the best I can, praying and working for a revival of heart purity among this, the good people of Benton circuit. Pray for us!"

—Rev. J. M. Weems writes from Toluca, Mexico, May 16, 1889: "It is with profound thankfulness to God that I am able to say we now have hopes of the speedy recovery of my wife. For four months we have not known what the final issue of her sickness would be; but the doctors now assure me the disease is conquered and she will soon be well. My own health has been good most of the time, for which I feel grateful."

The Southern Baptist Convention, recently held in Memphis, Tenn., adopted unanimously the following resolution:

Resolved, By the Southern Baptists in convention assembled, that we favor the speedy and entire prohibition of the liquor traffic; that we oppose license for the traffic in any and all its forms, through which men buy the right to destroy human hope and happiness and blight human souls, as an offense against public morals and a sin against God.

Notice.

The District Conference recently held at Pickens took measures to build or buy a district parsonage. Suitable parties in the district desiring to secure the location of it are invited to send their bids to me at Durant as soon as possible.

J. J. WHEAT, Chair'n Com.

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

DAVID LIVINGSTONE. By Thomas Hughes. Macmillan & Co., New York. George F. Wharton, New Orleans. Price, sixty cents.

This is one of the "English Men of Action" series, and a fine book it is. The author of "Tom Brown" is sure to have readers many, when he writes of such a muscular Christian and indomitable missionary as David Livingstone. Manly and Christian courage are seldom seen so well blended as in the acts of the great African explorer, and seldom are they so well portrayed as in Mr. Hughes' little book.

A SEVENFOLD TROUBLE. By Pansy and her Friends. Boston: D. Lothrop Company. Eyrich, New Orleans. Price, $1 50.

The name of "Pansy" alone is sufficient to guarantee any book to which it is attached a multitude of readers, but when there are added to it those of half a dozen other favorite authors, in what words can its attractions be described? A Sevenfold Trouble is a continuous story, not a series of sketches, and is told by seven different authors, each contributing the same number of chapters, and all together working out the plan of the original projector, who, we take it for granted, was Mrs. Alden herself. Among the seven authors the names most familiar to readers are these, after Pansy, of Mrs. C. M. Livingston, Grace Livingston, Fayo Huntington and "Paranete." The story is intensely interesting, and full of strong and helpful thoughts.

TOM'S STREET. By Mrs. S. R. Graham Clark. D. Lothrop Company, Boston. Eyrich, New Orleans. Price, $1 50.

This is an interesting story, well-told and having an excellent moral.

STUDIES IN THE OUTLYING FIELDS OF PSYCHIC SCIENCE. By Hudson Tuttle. M. L. Holbrook & Co., New York. Eyrich, 180 Canal street, New Orleans. Price, $1 25.

This is quite a pretentious little book. It is an attempt to prove the doctrine of immortality outside of revelation. It deals with clairvoyance, mesmerism, dreams and hallucinations. It imputes to the Bible what it never taught, discards revelation, ridicules prayer, makes fun of Christ and his redemption, and ends with relating the author's personal experience in the world of spirits. It is a jumble of truth and error. We are content still to be guided by the God of the Bible rather than submit to the guidance of this author.

THE GEM CYCLOPEDIA OF ILLUSTRATIONS. By Rev. J. G. Vaughan, of the Cincinnati Conference. Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati. Price $2 50.

This excellent book is introduced to the public by President Buttz, of Drew Theological Seminary, and is one of the best books of the kind that we have ever seen. Most books of this kind are filled with anecdotes alone, but this one has gathered in the best thoughts of the world's great thinkers; real gems from the world's mine of intellectual and spiritual wealth. The subjects are arranged in alphabetical order from Ability to Zeal, and the illustrations are pertinent and forceful. Many preachers can use this book to great advantage, and it will be a delight to the ordinary reader.

CHURCH HISTORY. By Prof. Kurtz. Translated from Latest Edition, with approval of the Author, by Rev. John Macpherson, A. M. In three volumes. Vol. I. just issued. Cloth, 12mo, 571 pp. Price, $2. Funk & Wagnalls, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York.

This work, first published in 1849, has passed through nine editions, the author revising and improving and enlarging it with the issue of each edition. It has long held a high place in Germany, and is now gaining a firm hold upon the church in England and America. It has been prepared as a text-book for theological students, but we think it admirably adapted to intelligent readers of all classes. The arrangement is good. There are grand divisions, sub-divisions, sections and numbered paragraphs. The most important matter is put in large type and minor matters in smaller type. This gives variety and relief to the eye of the student. This first volume brings the history of the Graeco-Roman Church down to A. D. 692, and that of the German-Roman Church to A. D. 911, and that of the Graeco-Byzantine Church, A. D. 1453. Of course, the author does not treat every subject in a way to satisfy every reader. If we consider the many centuries he covers, the great number of doctrines and practices he discusses, the prejudices of the reader and the predilections of the writer, it is evident that no man could possibly produce a Church History which might not be criticised. But the work before us is free from acrimony and dogmatism, and seems to be dominated by the spirit of Christian candor. It abounds in good things, and deserves a liberal patronage.

PERIODICALS.

—The Sidereal Messenger, for May, is an interesting number to all students of astronomy, opening with the Astronomical Theory of the Ice Age, by W. H. S. Monck, of Dublin, Ireland. Northfield, Minn. Price, $2.

—Wide Awake, for May, finishes the interesting stories of Five Little Peppers Midway, and, David Vane and David Crane. The other articles of this number will be found equal to any that appeared in this or any other children's monthly. We call special attention to the article, The Household of Andrew Jackson. This monthly is as good as the best. D. Lothrop Company, Boston. Price, $2 40.

—Scribners' Magazine, for May, has, The Land of the Winnebahe, by J. M. Yale and J. G. Creighton; The Greater World, by Rose Hawthorne Lathrop; Tolstoy Twenty Years Ago, by Eugene Schuyler; Freight Car Service, by Theodore Voorhees; Photography, by John Trowbridge; A Fragment from Plato, by Kato Stephens; Fiction as a Literary Form, by Hamilton W. Mable; The Master of Ballantrae is continued; The Lack of Old Homes in America, by Charles E. Norton. Charles Scribners' Sons, New York. Price, $3.

—From John Wanamaker we have Book-News, fifty cents a year; and from Scribners, The Book-Buyer, $1 a year. With these two monthlies a reader will be able to select what books he wants, and find out where to get them and what they cost.

—Our Little Ones and the Nursery. This is the best publication for the very small folks that comes to our office. The reading matter, prose and poetry, is pure and healthy, and the pictures make little eyes glisten with brightness. Russell Publishing Company, Boston. Price, $1 50 a year.

Notice.

To Delegates and Members who expect to attend Annual Meeting of W. M. S. in Greenville:

The Committee on Transportation has secured reduction on the following roads: Ill. Central, L., N. O. and T. (Miss. Valley Road), Memphis and Charleston, Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, and Georgia Pacific.

The reduction given is the usual one—i. e, return trip at one-third fare, except on the Georgia Pacific, which gives one-half. To secure the reduction on Illinois Central, persons living on that road must obtain receipts for tickets at starting-point on Southern Passenger Association blank—form 2. Those from connecting lines should obtain certificate at starting-point and also at junction-point of such lines with the Illinois Central. Local agents have these blanks.

All inquiries should be addressed to Mrs. R. Somerville. As a precaution, the committee would advise all persons coming to secure receipt of purchase of full-fare tickets, if local agents have the blank forms necessary.

Notice to Contractors and Builders.

Sealed proposals will be received until June 15, next, for the building of a Methodist Church, of brick and stone, on lot 121 in Yazoo City, Miss., as per plans and specifications in the hands of the Building Committee in this city, made by Benjamin D. Price, of Philadelphia. The committee reserve the right to reject any and all bids. Bonds and approved security will be required. Address all communications to

J. F. CASSELL, Chair'n Com.

Notice.

J. P. Daneer, formerly of North Mississippi Conference, but lately a local preacher in Mississippi Conference, has surrendered his credentials and withdrawn from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

T. S. WEST,
P. E. Seashore District.

E. A. Seminary.

EXAMINATION AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

MAY 31, 1889.

Examination of the Primary Department. 8 P. M.—Debate by the Adelphian Society. Music and Display of Pictures.

JUNE 2.

Annual Sermon.

JUNE 3.

Examination of Preparatory Department. 8 P. M.—Elocution and Calisthenics.

JUNE 4.

Examination of Collegiate Department. 8 P. M.—Annual Concert.

JUNE 5.

9 A. M.—Art Display. 10 A. M.—Commencement Exercises. Annual Address, by Prof. F. J. Squires, of Atchison, Kan. 8 P. M.—Annual Reception.

R. A. SMITH, Principal.

Wesleyan Female Institute, Staunton, Va.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

FRIDAY, MAY 31.

Final Celebration of Lee and Jackson Literary Society; Annual Address, by Rev. Collins Denny, of Salem, Va.

SATURDAY, JUNE 1.

Art Reception, 6 to 9 P. M.

SUNDAY, JUNE 2.

11 A. M.—Commencement Sermon by Bishop A. W. Wilson, LL.D., of Baltimore. 8 P. M.—Annual sermon before the Young Ladies' Christian Association, by Rev. W. J. Young, of Alexandria, Va.

MONDAY, JUNE 3.

8 P. M.—Final Soiree of Instrumental and Vocal Music.

TUESDAY, JUNE 4.

Final Exercises: Awarding Distinctions, Medals, Conferring Degrees, etc.

WM. A. HARRIS, President.

Whitworth College.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

SUNDAY, JUNE 9.

11 A. M.—Sermon by Rev. O. P. Fitzgerald, D.D., Pacific Conference. 8 P. M.—Anniversary of Y. L. C. A. Sermon by Rev. C. W. Carter, D. D., Louisiana Conference.

MONDAY, JUNE 10.

9 A. M.—Annual meeting of the Board of Trustees. 10 A. M.—Graduating Essays and Concert. 4 P. M.—Anniversary of Alumnæ Association.

TUESDAY, JUNE 11.

10 A. M.—Annual Address by Hon. T. Marshall Miller, Attorney General of Mississippi. 11 A. M.—Recital by Musical Faculty, and Conferring Degrees, by the President.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & CO.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN, - (Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.) - EDGAR L. STREAM.

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars. Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

OFFICE AND FOUNDRY: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
TELEPHONE—Office and Foundry, 688.

WE BUILD STEAM ENGINES AND BOILERS HERE. ARE AGENTS FOR OTHER MANUFACTURERS. HAVE A LARGE STOCK TO SELECT FROM.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address,
H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & CO., or COLEMAN'S FOUNDRY, N. O., LA.

District Conference Notices.

The Seashore District Conference will meet in Ocean Springs, July 3 and 4. Will the preachers of the district please send me the names of all delegates and local preachers who expect to attend. JAS. G. GALLOWAY.
OCEAN SPRINGS, Mississippi.

The Jackson District Conference will convene at Canton, Miss., on Friday, June 21, 1889, at nine o'clock A. M. Bishop Galloway will preside. I would be glad if the preachers will collect and bring the Bishop's fund with them. D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

Miss Frances E. Willard and her private secretary, Miss Anna Gordon, have just returned from a two months' trip through the Gulf States. They attended the W. C. T. U. annual conventions of Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Indian Territory, holding meetings also in Georgia and South Carolina, and a State conference in Alabama. Eighty addresses were delivered altogether, in twenty-five towns, Miss Gordon's work being with the children and young people. Miss Willard reports great activity and growth in temperance sentiment at the South, and her free expressions of the need of prohibition by political action and by woman's ballot with an educational test, were well received. Miss Willard and Miss Gordon will attend the annual meeting of the Indiana W. C. T. U. at New Albany next week, and in June will visit the Wisconsin convention at Oshkosh, and the Dominion of Canada convention, to be held in Toronto.—Temperance Bulletin.

Publisher's Department.

CELESTE PLANTATION, May 5, 1889.

Messrs. H. Dudley Coleman & Co., New Orleans, La.

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that your 12 inch (Stream's Patent) pump, with Westinghouse engine, has given more satisfaction than anything of the kind I have ever used, and is the only pump I have ever had that can make 336 hours in two weeks' steady pumping; the necessity for washing out the boiler caused the stop then. Your swivel joint on suction pipe, in saving time, trouble and labor, will pay for itself in a week—in fact, I would not have a centrifugal pump without one on suction pipe. Up to date we have been only lifting water six (6) feet; but the ease with which the engine goes along leads me to infer that we can more that double it without any hard firing, and, judging from what we have already done, I expect to have no difficulty in irrigating this place, which has 700 acres in cultivation, with the 12-inch and 9-inch pumps bought from you. I am,

Very respectfully,
(Signed) H. S. WILKINSON.

"Speakin' of twins," said the old man Chumpkins, "there was two boys raised in our neighborhood that looked just alike to their dyin' day. Lem didn't have any teeth and his brother Dave did, but they looked precisely alike, all the same. The only way you could tell 'em apart was to put your finger in Lem's mouth, and if he bit yer, 'twas Dave."

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

For Rent.

The Bleker Cottage, No. 82, on Seashore Camp Ground, adjoining Capt Pharr's Cottage. Furnished and ready for occupancy.

For terms and further information apply to D. L. MITCHEL, Fin'l Sec'y, or R. E. PRICE, Biloxi P. O., Miss.

Seaside Cottage For Rent.

An elegant home, with stoves and all heavy furniture and beds, situated on the beach, at Ocean Springs, Miss., will be rented for the Summer, or longer, at reasonable rates. The house has ten rooms; an orchard, pecan trees, a large grapery, an abundance of shade trees, an excellent bath-house, and the finest water in the place. Address C. F. E., care CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 112 Camp St.

Summer Boarders Wanted.

A family residing for Summer at Ocean Springs, in delightfully shaded home on the beach, wants a few boarders for the Summer, at moderate rates: Pears, pecans and grapes, together with fish, oysters and crabs, in abundance

For terms apply to G. B., care CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 112 Camp St., New Orleans.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,

BUILDERS,

OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.

287 EIGHTH ST.,

Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Both building and repairing promptly attended to.

DR. HAYGOOD'S NEW BOOK!

"PLEAS FOR PROGRESS."

JUST OUT. 8 Vo., pp 326. PRICE $1.00, POSTAGE PAID.

DISCUSSES Negro Education and Negro Citizenship on all sides, The Education of the Masses by Government, The Christian College, The Church and the Neglected Classes, Prohibition, Prison Reform, The Social Evil, The Farm the "Bottom Fact" in a Prosperous Country, and Kindred Topics.

Address, at my risk, with $1,

A. G. HAYGOOD, JR., DECATUR, GA.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

JOHN J. ROCHESTER. J. C. HODGSON.

Rochester & Hodgson,

Auctioneers and Real Estate Agents.

Real Estate, Furniture, Misc., Stocks, etc. Furniture Taken on Storage at Lowest Rates. Regular Auction Sales, Monday, Wednesday, Friday.

No. 161 POYDRAS ST., New Orleans.

Mention this paper.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,

The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters

FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.

Dauphine Street. Two Blocks from Canal Street.

Standard Guano and Chemical Man'f'g Co.,

SUCCESSORS TO STERN'S Fert. and Chem. Manufacturing Com'y

14 UNION STREET, New Orleans, La.

Write for Agricultural Hand-Book.

MANUFACTURERS OF HIGH GRADE BONE FERTILIZERS, PURE GROUND BONE, ACID PHOSPHATE, KAINIT, Etc.

Mention this paper.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

Mention this paper.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,

Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.

OFFICE, 139 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,

Homeopathic Physician,

288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.

Cases treated by letter.

Real Estate Agent.

D. L. MITCHEL,

112 Camp Street,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Special attention given to securing homes for stockholders in Homestead Associations.

35,000 acres of choice prairie land for sale at $5 per acre in Vermillion parish.

TERMS EASY.

MUSIC and FLOWERS

Go well together. Prepare to enjoy the genial season by learning Summer Songs, and playing restful Summer Idyls found in abundance on the pages of books published by DITSON COMPANY.

In our new Popular Song Collection ($1) are found such songs as "Happy Birds," "Hunting 4-leafed Clover," "An Old Garden," "At My Window," and 32 others.

In our new Choice Sacred Solos ($1) are found "Beulah Land," "Good Shepherd," "When the Mists," "Home So Blest," and 30 other songs of great beauty.

In our new Popular Piano Collection ($1) are many pieces that sound well among the trees, as "Dent de Leon," "Alpine Shepherd," "Forget me-not," "Fairy Echo," "Chapel in the Mountains," and 20 other pleasing piece.

In our new Popular Dance Collection ($1) there are many new and sparkling Waltzes, Polkas, etc. Spend a V in providing such books as the above and also the genial COLLEGE SONGS (50 cents), COLLEGE SONGS FOR BANJO ($1), for Guitar ($1), or WAR SONGS (50 cts.), or GOOD OLD SONGS WE USED TO SING ($1), or one or more of our excellent Glee or Chorus collections. (See Catalogues.)

GUITARS, BANJOS, MANDOLINS, of the best quality, for sale at reasonable prices.

Any Book Mailed for Retail Price.

Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.

C. H. DITSON & CO., 867 Broadway, New York.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats.

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

☞ Discount to Preachers.

H. B. STEVENS,

OUTFITTER,

122 and 124 Canal St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Clothing, Hats, Shirts and Furnishing Goods for all ages and all sizes. Fat suits and lean suits for men and boys. Always depend on us for the largest variety and lowest prices.

LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES.

KURSHEEDT'S

MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,

120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Mention this paper.

H. GARDES, Pres't. W. W. GHAULT, Cashier.

American National Bank,

No. 47 CAMP ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

PAINLESS EFFECTUAL
BEECHAM'S PILLS
THE GREAT ENGLISH MEDICINE WORTH A GUINEA A BOX

For Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain in the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after Meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c. THE FIRST DOSE WILL GIVE RELIEF IN TWENTY MINUTES. This is no fiction. Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be a Wonderful Medicine.—"Worth a guinea a box."

BEECHAM'S PILLS, taken as directed, will quickly restore females to complete health. For a

WEAK STOMACH; IMPAIRED DIGESTION; DISORDERED LIVER;

they ACT LIKE MAGIC;—a few doses will work wonders upon the Vital Organs; Strengthening the muscular System; restoring long-lost Complexion; bringing back the keen edge of appetite, and arousing with the ROSEBUD OF HEALTH the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, in all classes of society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is that BEECHAM'S PILLS HAVE THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY PATENT MEDICINE IN THE WORLD. Full directions with each Box.

Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.
Sold by Druggists generally. B. F. ALLEN & CO., 365 and 367 Canal St., New York, Sole Agents for the United States, who, (if your druggist does not keep them,)
WILL MAIL BEECHAM'S PILLS ON RECEIPT OF PRICE 25 CENTS A BOX.

THE DINGEE & CONARD CO'S
ROSES AND SEEDS

We offer postpaid at your own door, the LARGEST STOCK of ROSES in America, all varieties, sizes and prices, to suit all wants. ALL THE FINEST NEW ROSES, New Hardy FLOWERING PLANTS, New CLIMBING VINES, New Summer FLOWERING BULBS, and JAPAN LILIES, New CHRYSANTHEMUMS, GLADIOLUS and TUBEROSES, The Wonderful NEW MOON FLOWERS, New GRAPES, New and Rare FLOWER and VEGETABLE SEEDS. Goods sent everywhere by mail or express, Satisfaction Guaranteed. Our NEW GUIDE, 110 pages, handsomely illustrated, FREE TO ALL who write for it. It will pay you to see it before buying.
THE DINGEE & CONARD CO., Rose Growers and Importers, West Grove, Pa.

ADAMS' HATS!
26 ST. CHARLES ST.

Artificial Limbs,
Trusses and Surgical Appliances Made to Order and Adjusted
—BY—
A. McDERMOTT,
200 - - - ST. CHARLES STREET - - - - - 200
Bet. Julia and St. Joseph.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
A. A. WOODS'
General Insurance Agency,
184 GRAVIER STREET,
OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.
No. 78 CAMP STREET.

CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - - $413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - - $459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y

J. B. WOODS, JNO. J. BARR, J. B. LEVERT, F. STRINGER.
JOS. BAYLE, ANDREW STEWART, E. BORLAND, W. T. HARDIE,
JNO. BARKLEY, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. BORN, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.
Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,
14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000.
Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Rud't Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odenthahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbuhl, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. B. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.
New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company
OF NEW ORLEANS.
54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.
John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,
General Insurance Agents
—FOR—
FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING
COMPANIES.

Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.

64 BARONNE ST., N. O.
When writing, mention this paper.

Crescent Insurance Co.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849.
Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

CASH CAPITAL.....$300,000

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849.

Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. LYMAN, President.
JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-Pres.
CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.
Mention this Paper.

VULCAN
Fireproof Paint
IS INDORSED BY THE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICIALS OF NEW ORLEANS AND NEW YORK.

All Colors. Adapted to the finest as well as rough work. SHINGLE ROOFS MADE ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF and preserved from decay. Write for circulars.

H. R. GIFFNEY,
41 Union Street, New Orleans.

☞ Persons writing Mr. H. R. Giffney concerning Vulcan Paint will please enclose him this advertisement.

29 - - CHARTRES ST. - - 29
F. R. HARDON
Can supply everything in
Fashionable Millinery,
To the Entire Satisfaction of Patrons.
Orders Promptly Filled.
Remember the number.
29 - - - CHARTRES ST. - - - 29

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.
Mention this paper.

Our Young People.

TABLE MANNERS IN RHYME.

In silence I must take my seat,
And give God thanks before I eat;
Must for my food in patience wait
Till I am asked to hand my plate;
I must not scold, nor whine, nor pout,
Nor move my chair or plate about;
With knife or fork, or napkin ring,
I must not play—nor must I sing;
I must not speak a useless word,
For children must be seen, not heard,
I must not talk about my food,
Nor fret if I don't think it good;
My mouth with food I must not crowd,
Nor while I'm eating speak aloud;
Must turn my head to cough or sneeze,
And when I ask, say, "If you please;"
The tablecloth I must not spoil,
Nor with my food my fingers soil;
Must keep my seat when I have done,
Nor round the table sport or run;
When told to rise then I must put
My chair away with noiseless foot,
And lift my heart to God above
In praise for all his wondrous love.

Bob.

Bob is an intelligent dog, a large white and liver-colored setter, about nine years old. His home is in Benedict, Md., and his history is thus related by the Baltimore Sun:

Bob has free access to any of the residences or stores at all times. Mothers utilize him as nurse for their infants, and Bob seems to delight in taking care of the little ones. He will lie down and make a pillow of himself for the comfort of any child, and is careful not to move for fear of waking a sleeping infant. He knows who has authority to remove a child, and will not countenance the approach of any others when a child is left to his care. Two steamers stop at the town wharf, but Bob only goes to meet one of them. He seems to keep a mental record of the two nights during the week on which his steamer is due, and is always on hand to meet her, and before the gang plank is put out Bob goes aboard. His first self-assumed duty is to go over the steamer and inspect each of the deck hands, and, if a strange one is found, he spends considerable time near him and carefully sizes him up. After that he never forgets him. He next visits the engine room, pays his respects to each of the officers, goes to the steward and is fed. If the officers go to meals or ashore, Bob takes up his post at the gangway, and here his most acute perception is brought into play. Passengers or others having business aboard are greeted with a wag of the tail and other demonstrations of satisfaction, but idlers are given clearly to understand that the shore would be the safest place for them. The steamer usually remains at the Benedict wharf all night, though at times she goes up the river after freight, returning the same night. While even the passengers are seldom advised of the designs of the officers as to the steamer, Bob seems to have an intuition as to when she is going, and, if it is the intention to return to Benedict, he will remain on board; if not, he goes ashore.

Not long since Bob started ashore carrying a choice bone. Before he reached land he saw several hungry looking curs waiting for him. Bob halted for a moment to commune with himself. He then stepped overboard, on reaching a place that suited him, dropping the bone, which sank in about three feet of water. Bob went ashore, and an hour later, when the coast was clear, swam to the spot and at the first dive came up with the bone.

Whenever children are playing near the water, Bob will be found with his weather eye open, in case there should be an accident. Old age is beginning to tell on the noble dog, though he still attends to his duties, and will go to the field with anyone he knows who goes shooting. He was a good field dog in his day. When he dies, he will be mourned by both young and old residents and visitors of Benedict.

WHICH IS WORSE?—A little girl came running in from her play one morning, and going up to her mamma, said:

"Which is worse, mamma, to tell a lie or to steal?"

The mother replied that both were so bad that she couldn't tell which was the worse.

"Well," said the little one, "I've been thinking a good deal about it, and I think that it's worse to lie than to steal. If you steal a thing, you can take it back, unless you've eaten it; and if you have eaten it you can pay for it. But"—and there was a look of awe in the little face—"a lie is forever."

What do you think about it?

MR. EDITOR: I am a little girl just about to enter my teens, though I feel quite young and small. Papa takes the ADVOCATE and I surely appreciate the little children's letters. I have no pets to tell about now, as my pet rabbit disappeared very mysteriously. I go to school every day, and to Sunday-school every Sunday, to Miss Nelia Baker. We have a lovely, religious teacher, who has and is yet working for the great and glorious temperance cause. I am both proud and happy to say that I am a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. We have prayer meeting at our church (Concord) every Thursday night. Our zealous pastor, D. P. Bradford, is with us almost every Thursday night. Papa has seven children; all are members of the church, except three—Charley, Lola and India, who are too young. Hoping that I may see this in the dear old ADVOCATE, I am,

Your little friend,

ROBERTA E. PHARES.

JACKSON, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: As I am out here on a visit, I concluded to write you a letter. There is a nice Methodist Sunday-school here, and I go to it. Last Sunday, one week, the Baptist minister preached his farewell sermon here, and I went to hear him. The church was just crowded, and it was decorated so nice. On the wall over the pulpit were the words:

GOD BE WITH YOU
TILL
WE MEET AGAIN.

On a black cloth, in white letters, was,

SIN.

On a red cloth, in white and black letters, was,

WHEN I SEE THE BLOOD
I WILL PASS OVER YOU.

Then, on a white cloth, in black letters, was,

WHITE AS SNOW.

MR. EDITOR: As I never see any letters written from this portion of Jackson parish, I thought I would make one more attempt. It has been some time since I wrote a letter to the dear ADVOCATE. Bro. Wanie and myself are going to school. Prof. Stokes is our teacher. We are well pleased with him. Bro. Staples is our preacher this year. We like him very much. I am sorry to say we have no Sabbath-school, but think we will soon. I will close for fear my letter will find its way to the waste-basket. I will answer Tena Power's question: The word "grasshopper" is found in the Book of Leviticus, xi, 22. I will ask the cousins a question: Where in the Bible is the word "lace" found?—Wishing the ADVOCATE much success, I remain, Your little friend.

OLLIE M. RAPE.

NASH, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: I am a little girl ten years old. I go to school every day to Miss Nelia Baker. She is also my Sunday-school teacher. I have five studies: reading, spelling, geography, grammar, arithmetic and writing. My father takes the ADVOCATE, and I love to read the letters from the little girls and boys. As this is my first, I will close.

Your little friend,

ELIZA PETERSON.

JACKSON, Louisiana.

Said a mother to her little girl, who evidently objected to seeing another child petted, "Why, Sadie, I believe you're jealous!" "No, mamma," she replied, "I'm not jealous, but I don't feel comf'able!"

MANLY PURITY AND BEAUTY

CUTICURA REMEDIES CURE SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES FROM PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

NO PEN CAN DO JUSTICE TO THE ESteem in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES are held by the thousands upon thousands whose lives have been made happy by the cure of agonizing, humiliating, itching, scaly, and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new blood Purifier, internally, are a positive cure for every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

☞ Pimples, black-heads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Rheumatism, Kidney Pains and Weakness speedily cured by CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster.

PATENTS THOMAS P. SIMPSON, Washington, D. C. No atty's fee until Patent obtained. Write for Inventor's Guide.

Household.

Loving the Baby.

Young mothers are often told not to make idols of their babies, but are seldom warned against not loving them enough; and yet many children, after their earliest babyhood, have their loving little hearts starved, and their sweet natures perverted for want of an absorbing mother love. Mothers lavish care on their children and look after their practical wants, but for want of having had their own love nature developed, shrink from making any other demonstration of their affection. The rosy-cheeked lad whose mother never fails to see that he is properly mittened and coated before he starts to school would often far rather have his heart warmed by a mother's kiss than to have his body warmed by her care. Don't be afraid of loving the little ones too much. I can often ward off a fit of impatience or sulks in my little lad of five by calling him to my side and spending a few moments in caressing him. No matter how busy I am at the moment, I feel more than rewarded by his little loving epithets. I never forget that the angel of death may be standing without my gates waiting to snatch my treasure. When the sunlight has gone out of your life, when the naughty hands that yesterday seemed so troublesome are forever at rest, and the little tongue that once nearly drove you frantic with its questions is silenced and can never again lisp your name, it will be too late to show the love you would then give your life to express. Love your children, mothers. Don't be afraid of loving them over much; they were made to be loved. But love doesn't mean injudicious indulgence. American children are proverbially disrespectful to their parents. This argues a weakness in their home rule, but not by any means an excessive love. To allow a child to grow up a boor for want of wise teaching is mistaken kindness, or rather it is not kindness at all. A boy whose mother has been weak in her management of him will be apt not only to have little affection for her, but to have that little mixed with contempt. It is to the home life that we must look to so surround a child with gentle influences and kindly courtesy that a rude word shall be impossible to him.—American Agriculturist.

A BOY'S RELIGION.—If a boy is a lover of the Lord Jesus Christ, though he can't lead a prayer meeting or be a church officer or a preacher, he can be a godly boy, in a boy's way and a boy's place. He ought not to be too solemn or too quiet for a boy. He need not cease to be a boy because he is a Christian. He ought to run, jump, play, climb, and yell like a real boy. But in it all he ought to be free from vulgarity and profanity. He ought to eschew tobacco in every form, and have a horror of intoxicating drinks. He ought to be peaceable, gentle, merciful, generous. He ought to take the part of small boys against large ones. He ought to discourage fighting. He ought to refuse to be a party to mischief, to persecution, to deceit. And, above all things, he ought now and then to show his colors. He need not always be interrupting a game to say that he is a Christian, but he ought not to be ashamed to say that he refuses to do something because it is wrong and wicked, or because he fears God, or is a Christian. He ought to take no part in the ridicule of sacred things, but meet the ridicule of others with a bold statement that for the things of God he feels the deepest reverence.

We are not very much to blame for our bad marriages. We live amid hallucinations, and this especial trap is laid to trip up our feet with; and all are tripped up first or last. But the mighty mother, who has been so shy with us, as if she felt she owed us some indemnity, insinuates into the Pandora box of marriage some deep and serious benefits, and some great joys.—Emerson.

Save That Sweet Girl!

Don't let that beautiful girl fade and droop into hopeless invalidism or sink into an early grave for want of timely care at the most critical stage of her life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will aid in regulating her health and establishing it on a firm basis and may save her years of chronic suffering and consequent unhappiness.

A more pleasant physic
You never will find
Than Pierce's small "Pellets,"
The Purgative kind.

People Wonder
WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

Improvement

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular, and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

SEASONABLE MUSIC

ANNIVERSARY SONGS FOR 1889 Containing new and original words and music by the best writers in the field of Sunday-school Song. Price, 5 cents by mail, postpaid; $4 per hundred by express, not prepaid.

CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICES with Music. Children's Day Annual, No. 1; Children's Day Annual, No. 2; Children's Day Annual, No. 3; Praise the Lord. Price of each Service same as for "Anniversary Songs."

FOR FLOWER SUNDAY Or Children's Day. Flower Praise; Under the Palms. Two splendid cantatas by George F. Root. Price of Flower Praise, 30 cts. by mail; and of Under the Palms, 35 cts. by mail.

SEMINARIES That desire a new Cantata for Commencement at close of school are recommended to examine Frank L. Bristow's latest work (just published) entitled, "The Seven Sisters," a Cantata for ladies' voices with which will furnish abundant material for a delightful musical entertainment. Price, 35 cts. by mail, postpaid.

"NUGGETS" will be sent free to any address on application.

PUBLISHED BY
THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, O.
And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

MASON & HAMLIN

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, ORGANS the fact that at all of the $22 TO $1001. great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. One hundred styles from $22 to $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues free. Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the PIANOS high excellence achieved GRAND & UPRIGHT by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and organs sold for cash or easy payments, also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cutler Bros & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle is sent prepaid

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, without the knowledge of the person taking it; it is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It never Fails. We Guarantee a complete cure in every instance. 48 page book free. GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HAVE YOU GOT PILES
Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding and Protruding, yield at once to DR. BO-SAN-KO'S PILE REMEDY, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O.

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bells.
CHIMES AND PEALS FOR CHURCHES, etc.
Send for Price and Catalogue. Address
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CANCER and Tumors CURED without the knife; book free. Drs. GRATIGNY & GRATIGNY, No. 163 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO.
SUCCESSORS TO BLYMYER BELLS TO THE
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO
CATALOGUE WITH 1500 TESTIMONIALS
BELLS, CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

DAY—HOPKINSON.—At the Bender Hotel, in Amite City, La., May 2, 1889, by Rev. F. M. Keen, Mr. John W. Day and Miss Mamie Hopkinson, all of Wesson, Miss.

MANGIN—GATLIN.—At the residence of the bride, in Ticklaw, La., May 8, 1889, by Rev. F. M. Keen, Mr. John P. Mangin, of McComb City, and Mrs. Mary P. Gatlin.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

HARRIS—Miss NANNIE BARTLETT HARRIS, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, of Rapides parish, La., was transplanted in the paradise of God, on April 7, 1889. Thus her last Sabbath on earth was the beginning of her endless Sabbath in heaven. She was born July 4, 1873; so she will be "always only sixteen," as she repeatedly said it would be "so nice to always be."

Sister Nannie was a sprightly, buoyant, cheerful child until the hand of dire disease laid its palsying fingers on her six years ago. Her life, both before and after her long illness began, was marked by the greatest tenderness and kindness. This was evinced not only in her deep sympathy for her fellow-man, but for the suffering brute creation. She once found a little kitten almost dead on the public road, and her sympathies were so aroused that she had the little repulsive thing taken into the carriage; took it home, nursed it and fed it with her own hand until it was fully restored, and had it for a life-long pet. Some huntsmen wounded her deer in the leg and she, though sick herself, daily cared for it until restored to soundness again. After the death of a brother, she became intensely interested in all little boys. She was, it seems to me, the most patient young person in affliction I ever saw, and seemed to have more fortitude than any person I ever saw. Although prostrate and suffering for six long years, she never ceased to have the deepest interest in all the household concerns, assisting her devoted mother in every way possible. She was ever as busy as a bee, with her needle and bright worsteds, constantly making beautiful and tasteful ornaments for the various departments of household needs. Last, but by far not least, she was very fond of God's house and his worship. It was my privilege to receive her into membership in our church in October, 1883. Since that time and often before I have visited her, and ever found her the patient child of suffering. Although she said nothing of her departure, there were many things she said and did which showed she was expecting the change. A very large concourse of friends followed her mortal remains to our church (which was beautifully decorated with white flowers) and joined in the solemn funeral services; thence to the grave, where her body rests awaiting the triumphs of the first resurrection. Like the humanity of her Savior, she was "made perfect through suffering." B. F. WHITE.

SMITH—Died in Yazoo county, Miss., May 8, 1889, WALTER L., son of W. R. and S. H. Smith, aged eighteen years, four months and five days.

The subject of this humble tribute was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and of Langford Lodge No. 96, I. O. G. T., at Fletcher's Chapel. As a son, he was ever kind, patient and dutiful; as a brother, gentle and loving; and as a friend, just, true and noble. Though long and painfully afflicted, he bore his suffering with Christian patience and fortitude. He was ready and willing when the summons came to depart and be with Christ. Conscious to the last moment, he gave the parting hand to his weeping parents, brothers, sisters and friends, and bid them prepare to rejoin him in heaven. Rev. H. P. Lewis, of Brandon, Miss., read the burial service, commented on the same in the presence of a large crowd of weeping friends and relations. Weeping ones, mourn not for your departed dead. He is gone forever from this earth. But he is at home in heaven with parent, where pains and tortures will never more be felt. He who afflicts will heal your sorrows, though your loved in death is sleeping.

A FRIEND.

CARSON—Mrs. MAGGY FLORENCE CARSON (nee Rock) was born August 29, 1865, and died April 28, 1889. A beautiful child, an affectionate wife and true friend has been taken from us. Sister Carson lived for almost twenty-four years the joy and comfort of her father and invalid mother; and how her dear old grandmother loved her! Thus loved ones, with a host of admiring friends, watched every unfolding of this beautiful bud, and a noble Christian character they gladly saw developed. To meet her was but to be impressed that she was a woman of God. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when but a girl, and those solemn vows were ever sacred to her. She was a woman of strong convictions, with courage to vindicate the right and condemn the wrong. The young, the gay and wicked loved and admired her, and the old rejoiced in such a type of young Christian womanhood. She was frugal and industrious, helping willingly with her own hands her aged mother. She was cultured and refined, and spent some of her last unmarried days teaching school, and, no doubt, her beautiful character has been daguerreotyped upon more than one pupil. She was happily married to Mr. C. H. Carson (in whom she found a congenial and Christian spirit), June 7, 1888. Often while suffering, and life seemed to be so uncertain, she would say to her husband: "We have been so happy together I would love to get well." But when she found that dissolution was near she gave the many friends and loved ones the assurance that all was well, and, folding her frail hands upon her breast, said, "Lord Jesus, into thy hands I commit my spirit;" and very soon the suffering was over. She left many friends and loved ones. She waits; will we disappoint her?

Monday, April 29, 1889, we laid her away in the cemetery at Sunnyside. This is the last child, and, I think, the seventh, that these venerable parents have put beneath the ground. Only those who have passed through such fires know the comforts of the grace of the Lord Jesus. These bereavements I have experienced, and this grace I have felt as indescribable comfort to my poor, tired heart. And it is this grace that is sufficient for you, weeping and bereaved ones. May our Father comfort and sustain you!

W. S. SHIPMAN.

Nashville Christian Advocate please copy.

DAVIS—Born in November, 1818; converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1866; married in January, 1867; died April 15, 1889. Such is an epitome of the life of MARY IDELLA DAVIS. The preachers have lost a true and tried friend; her husband sorrows for a devoted wife; her mother mourns for a loving daughter, and her boy, her only child, grieves for a fond and praying mother.

Sister Davis was a woman of taste, culture and character. Hers were willing hands, and their kindly help will be missed in many homes besides her own. As it was said of Mary, so it can be said of Sister Davis—"She hath done what she could." Her last wish was that God would keep her husband and her boy blameless until the last day. She went up out of great suffering and has entered upon her reward. She was one of whom it is safe to say, even as she often sang, "Yes, my name's written there."

JOHN W. CHAMBERS.

SAYES—Miss MILLIE SAYES, departed this life, Tuesday, April 21, and she left in the triumphs of a living faith and praising God for his blessings. She was a strict member of the Methodist Church, and lived up to all of its rules. She leaves a large family to mourn her loss. She was great and noble in all of her deeds and actions towards her relatives and friends, and, while we mourn her loss, it can not be with regret. Because her dying testimony was such that we feel satisfied that she is at rest with all the blessed saints above. May God bless her bereaved husband and family, and help them to look to the future!

Some Do I's or Questions to Myself.

"The heart of the righteous studieth to answer."—Proverbs.

Do I give thanks at the table?

Do I make secret prayer my daily habit?

Do the people of the world know I am a Christian?

Do I observe daily Scripture reading and family prayer?

Do I give on the first day of the week as the Lord prospers me?

Do I visit the sick, the poor, the afflicted and the new members?

Do I see to it that my church engagements take precedence over all others?

Do I try to induce my friends and neighbors to attend the means of grace with me?

Do I ever take the trouble to make the stranger who sits in my pew feel at home?

Do I knowingly stand in the way of any sinner coming to Christ either by word, look or act?

Do I find delight in telling what the Lord has done for my soul whenever opportunity presents itself?

Do I ever have a personal talk or write a letter to an unconverted friend over whom I have some influence?

Do I ever feel a little sour when the usher gives somebody else my pew and I am obliged to take another seat?

Do I, in short, fold my arms, and do nothing in the Sunday-school, in the church and in the world for Christ and lost souls? Is "nothing but leaves" my only record for the judgment?—Pastor Stephen A. Northrop, Fort Wayne, Ind.

A Happy Medium.

In our efforts to urge conviction our greatest concern, often, is to capitvate inclination. When we have done our adversary admits that he has been agreeably entertained, but he is of much the same opinion as he was before. Then we attempt the direct. We establish an irresistible sequence; an adversary follows; he is convinced, but offended.

Our pith pellets of argument have only amused him; but directness and sincerity are trenchant and his veneer of composure is pierced. Now what must we do? We want to convince without offense. Perhaps there is a happy medium. Let us see.

DARLINGTON, S. C. Feb. 7, 1886.

"I intended writing to you three months ago to let you know how wonderfully your Compound Oxygen helped me. I recommend it whenever an opportunity occurs."

SERENA L. DARGAN.

ALMONT, N. Y., May 20, 1887.

"The Compound Oxygen is a marvelous remedy." I am, most sincerely,

MRS. J. C. GOFF.

CRAFTON, WISE CO., TEXAS, May 7, 1888.

"I want to tell you how your Texas Asthmatic is getting along. I am just as well at this date as I was when I gave you my testimonial in ('86)."

MRS. MARY HAIGHOVE.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., January 25, 1888.

"I have used the Compound Oxygen now for about three years, and consider it the most efficient remedy ever offered to the sufferer."

REV. WM. MCGLATHERY.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages, regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing DRS. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

America's Wooden Clocks.

George Terry, the New-Haven patent attorney, who died suddenly of apoplexy a few days ago, was a son of Eli Terry, the father of American clock-making, and the founder of what is now the Seth Thomas Clock Company of Thomaston, the largest establishment of the kind in the world. Eli Terry, with a jackknife and a saw, made the first wooden clock ever made in America at Terryville, Litchfield county. He began the business in 1793. In 1800 he employed two young men to help him. At that time the business was so enlarged that the works for one or two dozen clocks were cut out at a time before putting them together. Mr. Terry, when he had a small stock of clocks ready would make a trip to what was then called "The New Country," just across the lower Hudson, and sell the clocks for about $25 each. That price was for the movement alone.

In 1807 Mr. Terry fitted up a mill with machinery, and took a large contract to make clocks for Waterbury capitalists. It was then that he began to accumulate his fortune. It was a glorious time for him when, in 1808, he began the works for 500 clocks at once. Previous to that time the wheels had been marked out with square and compass, and the teeth cut with a very fine saw. Mr. Terry made the patterns and managed the business, but left his workmen to do the mechanical parts and went himself to peddle clocks from house to house. He often carried back to Terryville salt pork and farm produce in payment for the time-pieces. At that time Mr. Terry was very poor, but twenty-five years later he was worth $200,000. —Christian Weekly.

THE EXTENT OF OUR RAINLESS LANDS.—The vast region in the United States, where the rainfall is insufficient for successful agriculture, comprises about two-fifths of our entire area (exclusive of Alaska). It aggregates about 1,200,000 square miles, and is about equal to the combined areas of Great Britain and Ireland, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, Norway, Holland, and Austria-Hungary. This arid region embraces nearly all the public domain, and is capable of supporting a population of at least 200,000,000. It is a third larger than British India, a country having many similar physical characteristics, and supporting over 200,000,000 inhabitants largely by irrigation. In solving the problem how to utilize this vast arid region so as to make homes for the people, we have the experience of thousands of years to guide us. The most populous nations of ancient times occupied the arid regions of Asia, Africa, and Europe, and subsisted by agriculture prosecuted by irrigation. It is estimated that there are 6,500,000 acres of land now cultivated by irrigation in the United States, varying in value from $40 to $1,000 per acre, and yielding a net income equal to the interest on a much larger sum than this valuation.—Senator Steward, of Nevada, in the April Forum.

EXTINCTION OF PLANTS.—A committee of the British Association for the Advancement of Science has reported eighty-five flowers that have become completely or practically extinct in Scotland. The white water-lily was curiously found to have been nearly exterminated in the lochs about Dumfries by the ravages of a single individual who has now been warned off the estates. A plant which existed only in one locality in the country, the Bog of Methven, was undoubtedly destroyed by a flock of black gulls which settled in the bog and devoured everything in the shape of vegetation. Another plant, growing in shingle on the Bay of Nigg, was completely exterminated by the use of the shingle for concrete piers; and a grass which was confined to a patch near Moray Frith was destroyed by the overturning of a tree. The disappearance of plants has been largely due to the injudiciousness of botanists.

REV. DR. BELL, Editor of the Mid-Continent, Kansas City, Mo., says in its issue of Oct. 1st, 1887: It is to be believed that Dr. Shallenberger, of Rochester, Pa., has a sure remedy for Fever and Ague. A gentleman in our employ suffered greatly from Malaria, and tried many remedies to no purpose; when, seeing this ANTIDOTE advertised, tried it, was immediately relieved, and finally cured. This was two years since, and he has had no return of his trouble.

MO(U)RNING REVERIE.

"It is marvelous how a man like my husband, who prides himself on his tidy appearance, can carry so much hidden dirt. If the edge of my skirt looked as abominable as the bottom of his trousers he'd fly in a rage. And all this nastiness could be avoided if he would use on his Shoes, but he won't; and yet he says it is the finest Dressing in the world for his Harness. Some men are just pig headed, and John is one of them."

Wolff's ACME Blacking

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

Sold by all Dealers and Harness Makers.

WALL PAPER

In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty. WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES, WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS, UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.

Framing Neatly Done.

PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS, RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.

EDWARD HEATH,

Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds, FINE JEWELRY, Silver and Silver-Plated Ware, SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.

Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

(Established 1817)

119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,

135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.

Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.

FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.

Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.

New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.

Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S

FURNITURE HOUSE.

$35.00

Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00

Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00

Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00

Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00

Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50

Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00

Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00

Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00

Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.

CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.

Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☛Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.

☛Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

FULL WEIGHT PURE
DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.
PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood," "Life and Times of Bishop Pierce," and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VanVALKENBURGH,
108 Camp St., New Orleans.
Mention this paper.

W. B. SCHMIDT. F. M. ZIEGLER. JAS. J. SCHMIDT
SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Mention this paper.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

HIRES
25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING
ROOT BEER
The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.
Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.
C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD
HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA
for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belts on large Gins, Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars
A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

CARRIAGES,
Buggies, Phaetons,
Surreys, Carts,
HARNESS,
Baby Carriages,
R. P. RANDALL,
54 and 56 Baronne Street,
New Orleans.

PIANOS $150 to $1500 UNIVERSITY ORGANS $35 to $500
Guaranteed 6 years.

They Lead the World
We sell direct to families and send for trial in your own home before you buy. Catalogue Free. Estab. 1856. Incor. 1877.

MARCHAL & SMITH PIANO CO.,
235 East 21st Street, N.Y.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers (either sex) make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered.
Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

BUGGIES & HARNESS
WE CUT PRICES
$22 Cart, $12.40
$50 Buggy, $30.50
$9 Harness, $ 4.75
for CASH to introduce our work. Address with stamp
U.S. BUCCY & CART CO. CINCINNATI, O.
Special discount when sold to the Clergy.

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The woman's municipal suffrage bill was passed by the Michigan House, on May 16.

The Illinois House of Representatives passed the bill appropriating $50,000 for a monument to the late Gen. John A. Logan.

Four thousand people witnessed the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Nashville, on the sixteenth.

A wreck on the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston railroad, near Ormsby, Pa., resulted in the injury of eight workmen.

The Florida Legislature, last week, passed a bill making payment of a dollar poll tax a prerequisite for voting. This bill will become a law, and it is expected to cut a figure in the next general election.

Applications for pensions are beginning to come in at the pension office from the widows and dependent relatives of officers and men who lost their lives in the recent naval disaster at Samoa.

A cyclone, on May 17, swept over northern Texas, destroying the crops and causing the loss of several lives.

Kansas was visited, last week, by terrific rainstorms, which were highly beneficial to crops, but disastrous to the railroads. In Kansas City, it is estimated, about $25,000 damage has been done.

The death-warrant of the first man to be executed in New York State by the electrical execution law has been signed, and he will be taken to Auburn State Prison in a few days.

An English syndicate took charge of the Muscogee Lumber Company's property, the George Robinson Mill Company and the Michigan Lumber Company in Florida, on May 18, aggregating five mills, with 400,000 acres of land.

During the past week the Treasury Department has disbursed $11,380,000 on account of pensions, thereby exhausting the appropriation for the current fiscal year, amounting to $81,750,000.

The President, on May 18, signed a patent for the Coeur d'Aline Mission claim in Idaho Territory, containing 640 acres, in favor of Joseph McAtaido, superior general of the Rocky Mountain Mission of the Society of Jesus. The case has been pending in the General Land office for the last ten years.

The Ashland, Wis., coal heavers have gone out on a strike to secure 50 cents a day. The companies operating there have employed men from St. Paul and Duluth to take their places. Special police have been appointed to prevent trouble.

The Poitevent and Favre Saw Mill, at Pearlington, Miss., was destroyed by fire on May 20. The wharf and over two million feet of lumber destroyed. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

FOREIGN.

The powder magazine of the fortress at Koenigstein, Saxony, was struck by lightning, which caused an explosion. The magazine contained thousands of shells. The sentinels on duty at the time of the explosion escaped unhurt, but windows in the houses in adjacent villages were shattered.

Anarchists are fomenting a land agitation in Lombardy. There has been serious rioting, and a number of houses have been ransacked. Troops are suppressing the disorder.

Advices from Russia state that rumors of a plot against the life of the Czar are numerous in army circles, three of the officers of which have recently suicided. A bomb has been found near Warsaw, and the news of the discovery has unnerved the Czarina.

An Anarchist Republican conspiracy has been discovered at Succa, near Valencia. The conspirators, all peasants, planned to take the town and to sack the houses of the wealthy. The police and soldiers arrested many persons having in their possession firearms and passports from South America.

The French Senate, by a vote of 181 to 82, exempted students for the priesthood from military service after one year's drill. Premier Tirard protested against such exemption, promising that in the event of mobilization, the government would send medical and theological students to serve in the ambulance corps.

Emperor William, impatient at the delay in bringing about peace between the miners and employers, has directed the President of the Province of Westphalia to convey to the mining companies his emphatic desire to accelerate a compromise.

While the greatest secrecy in regard to the proceedings of the Samoan Conference is maintained, and heretofore nothing much beyond the fact that the meetings had been held was known, it is now stated that excepting the question of indemnity for German sailors killed and beheaded by the Samoans and one or two other minor points, the work of the commission is about over. It is thought that the restoration of Malietoa to power is assured and that the plan for a tripartite government in Samoa, for which the American commissioners contested against the German plan for one representative selected by the three powers, will surely be put into effect.

It is reported that the Czar will meet the Shah of Persia, twenty miles outside of St. Petersburg, and that the two monarchs will go directly to the Gatschina palace. The original intention was to give the Shah a grand reception at St. Petersburg. The change of programme is said to be due to fear of a nihilist plot.

The Prussian government has temporarily reduced freight rates on all the lines in order to alleviate the distress arising from the dearth of coal.

Nearly everybody needs a good medicine at this season, to purify the blood and build up the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful spring medicine and blood purifier. It cures scrofula, all humors, dyspepsia, sick headache, that tired feeling.

Seashore Camp Ground.

Mr. A. C. Danner, chairman of Committee on Transportation, writes: "The Louisville and Nashville, Mobile and Ohio, Illinois Central, and Mississippi Valley, as well as other railroads, will put on sale tickets to the Seashore Camp Ground, near Biloxi, Miss., at greatly reduced rates from various points, good from July 1 to 10, going, and until July 20, returning."

Useful Items.

Some interesting experiments are said to have been recently made in the employment of sugar as an agent to prevent the incrustation of steam boilers. The results are reported as highly satisfactory. Into a boiler of 20-horse power and containing 126 cubes, two kilometers of sugar were introduced every week, and after four months working under these conditions the incrustation on the boiler, which had formerly been badly incrusted every six weeks, was found to consist only of a thin film, which was easily removed by washing.

It ought not to be necessary every day to print evidence of the bad effect of cigarette smoking on growing youths, but the evidence from 200 doctors before the Michigan Legislature is worth heeding, and they each cited cases of boys being dwarfed, made insane, killed or rendered incapable of speech, and the professors of Michigan University also testified at length of the effect on the students who were made stupid by cigarettes.

The Bell Telephone Company have 170,000 miles of wire in operation in this country, over which 1,055,000 messages are transmitted daily, which if sent through one instrument, would take something like ten years to transmit them.

During the past fiscal year over 16,000,000 acres of land were sold under the operation of the homestead and timber culture law; and during the past eight years over 124,000,000 acres have been settled, representing a larger area than the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan.

The world's total production of coal last year was 430,000,000 tons, of which the United States produced 130,000,000 tons, or a little more than 30 per cent. of the whole.

Imports and Exports.

The exhibit for the nine months of the government fiscal year ending with March is of the same favorable character, both imports and exports showing an important increase as compared with last year, thereby indicating the larger volume of trade that has been in progress, while the relative increase in the exports over the imports of merchandise that resulted in a large excess of exports is equally satisfactory. This excess is much larger than last year, but does not come up to the proportions of 1887. The specie movement has resulted in an excess of exports, which, added to the merchandise account, makes a total excess of exports of nearly sixty-two and a half millions.

The imports for nine months, to March 31, 1889, foot up for merchandise, $549,322,969; for specie and bullion, $21,960,409—total imports, $571,283,378. And of exports for merchandise, $583,199,673; for specie and bullion, $50,556,568—total exports, $633,756,241.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

GREENVILLE DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Brooklyn	May 26
Bolivar	29
Huntington	31
Lake Lea	June 2
Duncan	16

H. Mc STANIFER, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Olive Branch, at Miller	May 25, 26
Waterford, at Ebenezer	June 1, 2
Hickory Flat, at Pisgah	8, 9
Shawnee, at Liberty	15, 16
Ashland, at Mt. Pleasant	22, 23

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Ebenezer, at Pleasant Grove	May 25, 26
Okolona circuit, at Tranquil	June 1, 2
Tremont, at Asbury	8, 9
Fulton and Smithville, at Greenbriar	15, 16
Prairie, at Prairie Chapel ...(Wed.)...	19
Athens	22, 23
Aberdeen	23, 24

District Conference at Houston, commencing Thursday morning before the fifth Sunday in June.

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Carrollton	May 25, 26
Tocopola	June 1, 2
Grenada circuit	8, 9
Tillatoba	15, 16
Charleston	18
Coffeeville	22, 23
Pittsboro	29, 30
Atlanta	July 2, 4
Banner	6, 7

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Lagrange	May 25, 26
Sturges	June 1, 2

District Conference at Louisville, July 4-7.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

CORINTH DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Marietta circuit, at Liberty	May 25, 26
Ripley and New Albany, at N. Albany	June 1, 2
Blackland circuit, at Wesley Chapel	8, 9
Ripley circuit	15, 16
Jonesborn circuit	18
Pleasant Ridge circuit, at Siloam	22, 23
Guntown circuit	29, 30

J. B. STONE, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Mt. Vernon	May 25, 26
Lake View	June 1, 2
Chulahoma	8, 9
Cockrum	15, 16
Louisburg	22, 23
Horn Lake	29, 30

S. M. THAMES, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—SECOND ROUND.

Salls ....(Thurs.)..	May 23
West ....(Sat. and Sun.)..	25, 26
Kosciusko ....(Wed.)..	29
Weir ....(Sat. and Sun)..	June 1, 2
Ethel ....(Thurs.)..	6
Poplar Creek ....(Sat. and Sun.)..	8, 9
Newport ....(Wed.)..	12
Lexington ....(Sat. and Sun.)..	15, 16
Belzona ....(Sat. and Sun.)..	22, 23

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Tallsheck, at Lee's Creek	May 25, 26
Covington, at Mandeville	June 1, 2
Bay St. Louis, at Lung Beach	5
Ocean Springs, at Handsboro	8, 9
Columbia, at Hopewell	15, 16
Bethel, at Ocohay	22, 23
Mt. Carmel, at Good Hope	29, 30
Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs	July 3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting	5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town	13, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl	16
Augusta	20, 21
Whillington	27, 28
Vancleve	Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zinn	10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point	11, 12
Americus	16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell	24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Benton circuit, at New Hope	May 25, 26
Flora, at Flora	June 1, 2
Silver Creek, at Lodi (Wed.)..	5
Edwards, at Edwards (Sat.)..	8
Raymond, at Clinton (Sun.)..	9
Mt. Olive, at Fletcher	15, 16
Canton, at Canton	22, 23
Spring Hillge, at Forest Hill	29, 30

D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Holmesville, at Holmesville	May 25, 26
Topisaw, at Lamar's	28
New Hope, at Mt. Pisgah	June 1, 2
Adams, at Muddy Springs	15, 16

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Mayerville	May 26, 27
Meadville, at Meadville	31
Roxie, at Knoxville	June 1, 2
South Warren, at Carter's	8, 9
South Vicksburg	15, 16
Vicksburg	22, 23

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Clinton and Betoville, at Clinton	May 25, 26
East Baton Rouge, at Antioch	June 8, 9
New River, at Magnolia	10
Livingston, at Friendship	15, 16
East Feliciana	22, 23
St. Helena, at Pipkin	29, 30

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Shiloh, at Cato	May 25, 26
Trenton, at Pine Grove	26, 27
Westville, at Pleasant Grove	June 8, 9
Strong River, at Fairmount	15, 16
Mt. Hose, at Pleasant Hill	16, 17
Marvin, at Richland	22, 23

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

DeKalb	May 25, 26
Leaksville	June 1, 2
Spring Hill	8, 9
Union	22, 23

R. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

HOMER DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Homer, at Arizma	May 24, 25
Tulip, at Sheppard's Chapel	27
Arcadia, at Paine's Chapel	June 1, 2
Downsville, at Mars Hill	6
Indian Village, at Sardis	8, 9
Louisville	11
Ruston	15, 16
Vienna	18
Saline	22, 23
Sparta	24
Gibbsland	25

The District Conference will meet at Gibbsland, June 26-30. Will every pastor be present and endeavor to have all delegates come? Come with all reports well matured.

ROBERT RANDLE, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.—SECOND ROUND.

Valley circuit	May 26, 26
Mooringsport, at Mt. Zion	June 1, 2
Many, at Lewing's Chapel	6
Anacoco, at Beech Grove	8, 9
Wesley circuit	15, 16
Conshatta	18
Red River	22, 23
District Conference, at Keachie	28

J. B. CASSITY, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Louisiana Avenue	May 26
Baton Rouge	June 2
Carondelet Street	9
Felicity	16

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Abbeville	May 25, 26
Bayne	June 7, 8
Lake Charles	15, 16
Opelousas	21, 22
Sabine Mission	29, 30

District Conference will meet on June 20, at Opelousas.

S. S. KEENEN, P. E.

A fact that all men with gray and many-shaded whiskers should know, that Buckingham's Dye always colors an even brown or black or not will.

Seashore Camp Ground.

Tents for sale and rent.
Apply to
J. G. GRANT, Recording Sec'y,
50 and 52 Baronne Street.
or to
D. L. MITCHEL, Financial Sec'y,
112 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Prof. C. F. E., A. M., President X Collegiate Institute, solicits correspondence with colleges and institutions desiring competent instructor. Aged thirty-five, married, sixteen years' experience in teaching, member Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Highest testimonials of capacity and executive ability.
Address above, care ADVOCATE.

Conductors' Excursion.

On May 29 the Vicksburg Division 231, Order Railway Conductors, will run their Second Grand Excursion over the L., N. O. and T. R. R. This time they go to Memphis from Vicksburg, Glen Allen, Greenville, Rosedale, Greenwood, and various intermediate points. A larger number of posters have been distributed.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.
Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

From Rev. Dr. McAnally, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate.
"I have tried J. & C. Maguire's Cundurango on myself and others, and it is my opinion that to produce a healthy and safe action on the Liver, Kidneys and secretions generally, there is not a better medicine known, and for persons of Bilious or Costive habits its action is most effective and salutary."
D. R. McANALLY.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending May 21, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8½	@ —
Ordinary	9	— —
Good ordinary	9½	— —
Low middling	10 1-16	— —
Middling	10 11-16	— —
Good middling	11⅛	— —
Middling fair	11 11-16	— —
Fair	12 11-16	— —
Galveston middling	10¾	— —
Mobile middling	10⅝	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— —	— —
Fully fair	6⅝	— —
Good fair	— —	6½
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGALS:
Seconds	6⅝	0 13-10
Prime yellow	7¼	— —
Gray white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	— —
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
Syrup	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	2	2¼
Good	4⅜	4½
Fair	4	4¼
Prime	4¾	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	8 90
Polish, ₱ ton	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy	— —	4 50
Fancy	— —	— —
Choice	— —	— —
Minnesota Patents	5 87½	6 00
Winter wheat patents	4 75	4 87½
Minnesota bakers	5 50	5 62½
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal	2 25	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 50	2 60
Hominy	2 50	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, ₱ bushel	— —	48
Yellow	47	48
Mixed No. 2	— —	47
OATS:
Western	— —	38½
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
₱ cwt	72½	80
HAY:
Prime	15 00	16 50
Choice	17 00	17 50
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess (Standard)	12 87½	13 00
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	10½	11
Shoulders	6½	6⅝
Sides, short rib	7⅛	7⅜
Sides, long clear	7⅛	7⅜
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	— —	11½
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	6⅜	— —
Sides, short rib	— —	6⅝
Sides, long clear	6⅝	— —
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime	— —	19¼
Fair	— —	18¾
Common	— —	16½
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
No. 1	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	— —	18
Western Dairy	15	16
Common	6	— —
LARD:
Refined	7	— —
OILS:
Coal, bbls	10	— —
Coal, cases	16½	16
Cottonseed, crude	41	43
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	— —	— —
Chicago, ₱ bbl	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	1 75	2 00
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	2 25	2 75
Western	1 50	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	1 25	1 40
Western	— —	— —
BALING STUFFS.
HAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb, ₱ yard	10¾	10½
Jute, 1¾ lb, ₱ yard	9½	9¾
Lone Mills Cotton Bagging	12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb	9½	10
TIES:
₱ bundle	1 05	1 07
SUNDRIES.
POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	4 00	4 25
Young Chickens	2 25	3 50
Chickens, Southern	3 25	3 50
Young	1 25	2 00
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	9	10
Southern	9	10
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb	24	24½
Louisiana	22	23
Burry	11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	3	— —
Dry salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	— —	13 00
Meal	20 00	23 00
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	2½
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.
The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.
A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

CHEAPEST FURNITURE HOUSE IN NEW ORLEANS.—This is the heading of the advertisement of Mr. J. G. Grant's, 50 and 52 Baronne street, New Orleans. Now, we would suggest to our readers to peruse it carefully, and they will be astonished at the low prices which Mr. Grant is selling furniture for. As this gentleman is thoroughly reliable, and guarantees the smallest article that leaves his store, we feel satisfied that those who may try him once will have further dealings with him. There is no store of this character in the South that keeps a larger or finer assortment than his, and as his expenses are less than others in the same line, he has informed us that he can sell lower. Try him.—N. O. Weekly Picayune, January 24.

BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic on a weak stomach.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

CLARK & MEADER,
—DEALERS IN—
FINE GROCERIES,
10 and 12 CARONDELET ST., and
Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.
Mention this Paper.

WANTED at once, everywhere, an Agent, Man or Woman. Profitable business. Liberal Pay. All time not necessary. Special inducement to TEACHERS and STUDENTS for Summer. Give references. R. H. WOODWARD & Co., Baltimore, Md.

MUSIC TEACHER!
Schools for Young Ladies in need of a first-class Music Teacher (Piano and Voice), with four years' experience teaching in the best Schools and with the best Teachers, would do well to address REV. W. M. LEFTWICH, NASHVILLE, TENN.

Capital Commercial College
Jackson Miss
Book keeping taught as it is now carried on in the South. Send for circulars
J. C. Rygall President

Centenary College
JACKSON, LA.
Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.
Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.
For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.
One of the most celebrated institutions of the South. The Thirty-Fourth Session will begin September 19, 1888, with a full corps of able and experienced faculty. Curriculum comprehensive. Instruction thorough. Advantages in Music unsurpassed, as in the best conservatories. Departments of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts under specialists.
Beautiful location; one of the healthiest of the South. The best climate in which to educate and the safest place for girls. Main building of brick, massive and commodious, with a large and well-shaded campus. Rooms large, well furnished, ventilated and warmed. Ample provision for table of the best the market affords. All necessary comfort secured. Expenses very low and the school very economical.
For particulars address
A. D. M'VOY, A. M., Pres.
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.

Elfinwood Select School.
The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.
Terms moderate.
Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1710.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

TERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW RLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

v. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
W. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

FFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

BSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
idows and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

l Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are horized Agents, to whom payments may be de.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. H. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WEIR, M. D.

PEACE.

BY C. W. WILLIS.

ds and wild waves in headlong huge commotion
rud, dark with tempest, o'er the Atlantic's breast, ile underneath, few fathoms deep in ocean,
Lie peace and rest.

rms in mid-air, the rack before them sweeping urry and hiss, like furies, hate possessed; ile over all white cloudlets pure are sleeping
In peace and rest.

rt, O wild heart! why be the storm-world raging,
n't thou thus midway, passion's slave and jest,
n all so near above, below, unchanging,
Are heaven and rest?

e Louisiana State Lottery Company Examined and Exposed.

BY REV. H. CARRADINE, D. D.

(Continued.)

Another charge I make against the uisiana State Lottery is in regard to fraudulent life and dealings.

I call especial attention of every er of truth and every faithful citizen Louisiana to this point of my address. For the facts that I present re I am indebted to a lawyer in this y, who has made the Louisiana te Fraudulency a study for months. The point I make is, that this Lotry, which pretends to be a municipal nefactor and general financial help our city and people, is to-day indted to the city of New Orleans for ense and taxes not less than one llion two hundred and sixty thond dollars.

f course, I know what most of you ll say here: that this Lottery, on ndition of its paying forty thousand llars annually to the Charity Hosital, was exempted from taxation. y answer to this is, that the Louisi- State Lottery Company has forted this immunity, or right, in two fferent ways. One was an unconious forfeiture by an act of its own. d the other was a conscious surnder of the immunity by their own nds, as I will prove presently by oting from a deed or contract made themselves, and that is on file toy in this city.

Take the first. The Louisiana State ttery lost unconsciously its immuny from taxation by a proceeding or t of its own. What was that act? ly a few months after the Company as chartered by the Legislature of 68, in a business meeting of its stockolders, the aforesaid Company transrred its rights, franchises and anority—in a word, its corporate exence—into the hands of a firm called T. Howard & Co. That such a nsfer took place, I offer, by way of roof, an extract from the following cal, which is recorded in the office Andrew Hero, a notary public of is city, in Commercial Alley. The ed bears the date of July 8, 1870. he extract I call the attention of the ople to reads as follows:

DOCUMENT NO. 1.

Personally came and appeared aries T. Howard, a member of and presenting the firm of C. T. Howard Co. (Italics mine), who declared at, whereas, under date of August , 1868, the Louisiana State Lottery , a duly organized corporate body this State, instituted under Act No. of the Legislature of this State for e year 1868, did grant and assign unto said firm of C. T. Howard & Co., e right and privilege to carry on and manage the lottery and policy business, and to enjoy and hold and exercise all the lottery rights, privileges and franchises conferred upon said Company, as fully and exclusively as said Company might or could do, and vested in his said firm all of its corporate rights and privileges for the term of twenty-four years from January 1, 1869.

Evidently from the Deed above the transfer took place. Now, mark the fact,—the instant the Company did this, it forfeited or lost the immunity from taxation granted it by the Legislature.

We know this to be true from no less than twelve different decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. I give below a few of these decisions, presenting a syllabus of the same, with references to guide the curious. Some of the most remarkable I withhold for certain good reasons: the few I present, however, are sufficient to convince the most skeptical.

Take the first (96 U. S., 712):

The grant of the franchise of a company does not include the immunity from taxation possessed by the grantor.

What could be plainer?

Take another (112 U. S., 609):

A statute exempting a corporation from taxation, confers the privilege only on the corporation specially referred to; and the right can not pass to its successor, unless the intent of the statute to that effect is clear and express. This salutary rule is founded upon an obvious public policy, which regards such exemptions as in derogation of the sovereign authority and of common right.

You have only to read the statute bearing upon the Louisiana State Lottery Company to see that there was no such intent expressed or intimated.

Another decision of the Supreme Court of the United States comes in very happily right here.

Here is the reference (99 U. S., 348):

In questions of immunity from taxation all doubts must be solved in favor of the State.

Let me ask you what shadow of hope has the Louisiana State Lottery Company under such a decision as this, if it should plead that, while the right of transfer of the immunity from taxation was not intimated or declared in words, yet that it was understood! The decision takes away the possibility of hope, in the words that "all doubts must be solved in favor of the State."

I call your attention to one more. The case is to be found in the 28th Annual, p. 483:

An exemption from taxation granted to a corporation is not a transferable right. The State never intends to confer to the grantee the power to convey this right or privilege to another corporation, or to a natural person. The privilege is to the person of the grantee. It is never intended to attach to the property of the corporation, and to follow it into third hands.

This decision was affirmed in the Supreme Court of the United States. (See 93 U. S., 217.)

Other decisions of still more remarkable nature could be given, but those quoted are sufficient to show that the Louisiana State Lottery Company forfeited its grant of immunity from taxation the instant it transferred its right, franchise and authority into the hands of a firm called C. T. Howard & Co. That moment C. T. Howard & Co., as the successors, or representatives, or the vestees and assignees of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, became amenable to our city government for license and taxes, and should have been notified and promptly proceeded against. Mark you—not the Lottery, but the firm of C. T. Howard & Co. should have been dealt with, and for that matter should be emphatically transacted with now.

Here was the mistake made by our city officials. Was it a mistake, or were they peculiarly persuaded? Our city officers demanded license and taxes from the original Company instead of the legal successor, and, of course, were promptly enjoined. The firm has ever been, and is to-day, the only vulnerable point of attack.

The question might well be asked here in regard to those gentlemen who represent the interests of the city; why, in view of these facts, they do not act promptly and vigorously? Certainly, it is in order for them to say.

Meanwhile the strange spectacle is presented to us of eight thousand delinquent tax-payers of this city, among whom we find hard-worked men and women, urged and forced to settlement, while a great MONEY-BLOATED INSTITUTION in our midst, of illimitable wealth, and of a constantly increasing capital, just as legally amenable and responsible, is allowed to go free. It is well for that institution that it did not exist in the days of the Bastile—or a similar scene would have been enacted; and outraged men with ropes, pick-axes and battering rams would have pulled down and laid low in the dust the building that sits at the corner of Union and St. Charles.

But this is not all. I come to my second point. I told you that the Lottery had not only forfeited its right of immunity from taxation by an unconscious act, but also by the conscious surrender of the privilege. I come at once to the proof. You will remember, some of you, that in the year 1879 the stockholders of the Louisiana State Lottery Company were in great alarm. The impression was abroad that the Constitutional Convention of that year would not likely restore their charter. By Act 41 of the Legislature of 1879 the charter of the Company was totally and unconditionally repealed.

It has been said by knowing ones, that certain individuals of the GREAT INIQUITY—the Louisiana State Lottery—fairly went down on their knees before that Constitutional Convention, and how much of the Louisiana State Lottery Lubricating and Healing Salve was applied to various attenuated and superannuated pocketbooks is not exactly known. One thing, however, is clear, and that is, that the philanthropist stockholders of the Lottery, full of loving schemes for the further education and charitable relief of the ignorant and poverty-stricken Louisianians, in order to carry on their heavenly work, made numerous promises and concessions to the State Constitutional Convention of 1879. The concession was a renunciation, as I shall show you presently.

The Legislature and Convention of 1879 were evidently of some little better stuff than the motley and ever-to-be-execrated Assembly of 1868 that fastened this GAMBLING CURSE upon us.

I call your attention now to certain statutes and documents that put the fact of the Lottery's indebtedness to the city beyond all peradventure.

The Constitutional Convention passed the following, which afterwards became a law—Art. 167 of the State Constitution. I quote only that part of the statute which bears on the point I am making.

ARTICLE 167.

* * * The charter of said Louisiana State Lottery Company is recognized as a contract binding on the State for the period therein specified, except its monopoly clause, which is hereby abrogated, and all laws contrary to the provisions of this article are hereby declared null and void; provided said (Louisiana State Lottery) Company shall file a written renunciation of all its monopoly features, in the office of the Secretary of State, within sixty days after the ratification of that Constitution.

(This was Section 20, of Ordinance No. 422; afterwards a State law—Art. 167.)

Please to remember this statute, and especially the emphasized words above.

Next in order comes a remarkable paper. It was presented to the Constitutional Convention while they were deliberating upon the Lottery, and had the above statute in bill shape. The paper now is a part of the public records. It comes from the directors of the Louisiana State Lottery Company.

DOCUMENT NO. 2.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, held at its office in the city of New Orleans, 7th of July, 1879, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

(Then follows considerable whereasing—and the quoting in full of the statute just given above, that is now Art. 167 of our State Constitution. Then the paper resumes.)

Whereas, It is the manifest interest of the Louisiana State Lottery Company to accept the provisions of said ordinance,

Be it resolved, By the Board of Directors of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, that, upon the passage of said ordinance, its incorporation into the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, its adoption by the people, this company will renounce all its monopoly features, and the president is hereby required to make a public declaration by notarial act to that effect, and to file the same with the Secretary of State.

Resolved, That immediately upon the ratification and promulgation of the new Constitution of the State of Louisiana, containing the ordinance herein above set forth, and upon its becoming a part of the Constitutional law of the State, the president of the Louisiana State Lottery Company is hereby required to file a written renunciation in behalf of the Company of all its monopoly features in the office of the Secretary of State, as is required by said ordinance.

I hereby certify that the above is a true copy from the minutes of the Board of Directors of the Louisiana State Lottery Company.

{SEAL.} (Signed.)
JOSEPH P. HORNER,
Secretary.

The above paper shows that the directors of the Lottery knew thoroughly what the State expected of them and what the law required.

The next document I beg you to consider is a covenant entered into by the president of the Lottery Company, which Deed of Renunciation, as it may properly be called, has been filed in the office of the Secretary of State. It was made July 7, 1879, and in the office of Andrew Hero, a notary public. I quote only a part:

DOCUMENT NO. 3.

Personally came and appeared M. A. Dauphin, president of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, and herein acting for and in behalf of said corporation under and by virtue of the authority in him vested by the Board of Directors thereof;—he does by these presents, for and in behalf of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, publicly declare and make known, and also promises, covenants and agrees, that the aforesaid Louisiana State Lottery Company shall and will (upon the passage of Section 20 of Ordinance No. 422 of the Constitutional Convention and its incorporation into the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, etc.) renounce, abandon and relinquish all the monopoly features, granted to or in favor of said Company; and that said corporation shall and will execute all instruments of writing that may be required to evidence and enunciate such relinquishment of its monopoly features.

(Signed.)
M. A. DAUPHIN, President.
ANDREW HERO, Notary Public.
E. P. J. CRAVENS,
H. J. DOWERS.

(To be continued.)

Qualifications Requisite for Successful Sunday-School Teaching.

Successful teaching means that kind of teaching which accomplishes the desired object or end. We may then inquire, What is the object or end of Sunday-school teaching?

The aim of the Sunday-school in every community is as high as the moral sentiment by which it is supported. This sentiment varies in different communities, and success is attained whenever the highest ideas of moral sentiment are secured. To have a good social meeting and advance the social feeling, to keep the children out of mischief and meanness, to instruct mentally and build up the child intellectually, to indoctrinate the child and start him out on the proper basis of truth, to implant truth in the mind and make impressions for future development, are all held by different persons as the highest ideas of successful Sunday-school teaching. While it is the object of the Sunday-school teacher, as a means to an end, to promote the best interests of society, to build up the child intellectually, to inculcate good moral lessons, and to make impressions for future development, the ultimate aim of the successful teacher is the immediate conversion of the souls of the children, with an intelligent religious life to follow, and ultimately salvation in the kingdom of Heaven. And while the teacher may plant and expect truth to bring a harvest, his aim is the present and eternal salvation of children.

The original aim of the institution, and the aim of the Sunday-school today, in its proper sphere, is to make as many intelligent Christians as possible, and the Sunday-school which stops short of this accomplishes not the desired end. Successful Sunday-school teaching consists in bringing souls to Christ, of leading them into the church, and of elevating all to a high spiritual plane. Salvation is the ultimate aim.

The question is, What are the qualifications requisite to this success in Sunday-school teaching? This we will notice in our next. HESLEP.

KOSCIUSKO, Mississippi.

Rev. R. P. Mitchell.

Rev. Robert Palmo Mitchell, son of Rev. William B. and Sarah S. Mitchell, was born in Coffeeville, Miss., September 4, 1849, and died at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. John W. Bulley, in Memphis, Tenn., April 3, 1889.

While yet a small boy his parents moved to Oxford, Miss., where he received a fair English education in a high school correlated to the University of Mississippi. Bro. Mitchell professed religion in a meeting at Abbeville, Miss., in August, 1871, and joined the church at Mt. Zion, on the Oxford circuit, in September following. A month later, in October, he was licensed to preach, and recommended to the Annual Conference for admission on trial into the travelling connection, by the Quarterly Conference of that circuit, the Rev. Amos Kendall being presiding elder of the district. He was admitted on trial by the North Mississippi Conference, at its session in Columbus, Miss., in November, 1871. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Paine, for whom he was named, in Grenada, Miss., November 30, 1873, and elder by the same, in Kosciusko, Miss., November 28, 1875.

He filled the following charges with credit to himself and with great profit and blessing to the church: Early Grove circuit, two years, 1871-1873; Marshall circuit, two years, 1873-1875; Emory circuit, one year, 1875-1876; Holly Springs circuit, one year, 1876-1877; Kosciusko station, four years, 1877-1881; Aberdeen station, four years, 1881-1885; Winona district, presiding elder, three years, 1885-1888. Here his health gave way, and at the Conference in Starkville, Miss., in December, 1888, he took a superannuated relation, hoping a season of rest would restore him to health and to his "loved employ."

The twentieth of November, 1873, he was happily married to Miss Lou B. Bailey, a partner every way worthy to be the companion of such a man in the Christian ministry. Their children all died in infancy, or before they had fairly begun to live.

In childhood and boyhood Bro. Mitchell was distinguished for his respect for and obedience to his parents—a sure indication of a noble and successful manhood. The foundations of character and of subjection to lawful authority were laid broad and deep while he was in the impressible state of infancy and childhood—the only time this work can be successfully done.

Bro. Mitchell, like Timothy, "knew the Scriptures from a child, and they made him wise unto salvation." It need be no matter of astonishment, then, that he was licensed to preach and given pastoral charge in less than four months after his conversion and admission into the church. The early training of Moses prepared him to be the law giver of Israel, made Samuel a prince among prophets, and qualified Paul to be the great apostle of the Gentiles. Thereby Timothy was found to be a workman approved unto God while he was yet young in years.

Physically, Bro. Mitchell bid fair to live to a ripe old age. He was a man of strong and solid build, but his zeal for God led him to overtax his strength when given charge of a large district.

Integrity, fidelity and punctuality were, perhaps, the most prominent traits in his character. It was a matter of religious duty with him to do promptly, faithfully and honestly everything required by the church at his hands. He neglected no duty and shirked no responsibility.

Bro. Mitchell was a very exact man in everything—in his private devotions, public ministrations, and in his secular business. He could tell every night, to a cent exactly, how he stood with the world. He was a man of deep, constant, uniform piety, though not demonstrative in fervor or feeling. He was always ready to give, in a quiet way, a good reason for the hope he had in him. He lived on a high, but even plane, and was not subject to seasons of exaltation and depression. His was the steady glow of uniform piety.

Bro. Mitchell was a faithful, tender and conscientious pastor, dealing plainly, tenderly and honestly with the souls committed to his care. He comforted, exhorted, warned and rebuked, in love, as occasion required, those over whom he had been made overseer by the great Shepherd and Bishop of souls.

His preaching was characterized by spirituality, solidity and strength, rather than brilliancy. It was always wonderfully edifying to the church; hence the people of God grew strong under his ministry, and developed in working power in all the enterprises of the church. The revival was a steady increase of power and numbers from the beginning of his pastorate to the close.

Bro. Mitchell possessed, in a high degree, those qualities—good judgment, tact, common sense, administrative ability, equanimity, firmness and tenderness—which marked him as a safe counselor and a presiding elder worthy of all honor, as his brief career in district work fully demonstrated.

His home-life was brimful of sweetness, tenderness and love. Honored and loved everywhere, but most loved, and shining at his best, in the bosom of his own family. Here Bro. Mitchell was seen at his very best. His home was like the paradise of God, as all Christian homes should be.

He was ready and fully "ripe like a shock of corn in his season" when the Master called for him. His sufferings were intense, but his mind and heart were fully stayed of God. Among many other tender and beautiful things, an heritage of benedictions to his wife and family, he said: "If I had not made preparation for this hour, I could not do it now. I am in no condition for it. I am suffering too much." He then dwelt long and lovingly on the prospect that lay before him—the glory of God, the many loved ones gone before, and, most of all, on meeting the Savior whom he adored. It was a most glorious and triumphant ending of a short, but beautiful and useful life of service in the church for the salvation of men.

His last articulate utterance was that short, sweet word, "Wife," expressing the sweetest relation in human life, and containing, as in a nutshell, the higher relation that exists between Christ and the church. Bro. Mitchell "loved his wife as Christ loved the church," and rarely addressed her by any other name than "wife."

Through faith in God; fidelity to his ordination vows, and diligent application to the work assigned him, he had risen in a few years to a front place among his brethren. He now rests from his labors. GILDEROY.

SENATOBIA, Mississippi.

Notice.

The Aberdeen District and Sunday-school Conferences will be held at Houston, Miss., June 27-29. Rev. J. A. Whitehurst will preach Wednesday night, June 26. The Sunday-school Conference will open Thursday morning at nine o'clock, when the following programme will be observed:

1. What is the Best Method for Teachers and Scholars in Preparing the Lesson?—Rev. Eugene Johnson, T. B. Sykes and J. C. Park. 2. Is the Bible, as a Study, Sufficiently Prominent in our Sunday-schools?—Rev. J. M. Barnes, Joe Woodall, and F. A. Whitson. 3. The Nature and Extent of Parental Responsibility in Relation to the Sunday-school?—Rev. W. T. Shell, J. A. Lewis and B. B. Sullivan. 4. The Importance of Establishing a Circulating Library in all of our Sunday-schools?—M. C. Shell, Rev. G. W. Buchman and W. Lewis. 5. What Influence Has the Work of the Sunday-school on Moral Character?—Dr. T. C. Weir, M. H. Honoli, W. W. Woollard and J. A. McArthur. 6. Do Sunday-schools Generally Give Sufficient Prominence to the Office and Work of the Holy Ghost in Applying the Truth Taught?—Revs. E. L. Spraggins, J. A. Whitehurst and W. D. Bass.

Dr. T. C. Weir will preach the opening sermon of the District Conference, Thursday night, at eight o'clock. Bishop C. B. Galloway is expected to preside.

Pastors will please bring the Bishops' fund in full, and see that their Quarterly Conference records are on hand. Editors, agents and representatives of our educational interests are cordially invited.

Houston is twenty miles from Okolona. Brethren—clerical and lay—let us have a full attendance.

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

Church Dedication.

Sunday, May 19, was a high day with us in West Jackson. Bishop Galloway preached us an eloquent and powerful discourse at 11 A. M. After the sermon he raised nearly $400, which clears off all indebtedness, and some $160 toward a sum for pews. Then the Board of Trustees appeared at the chancel and, through Col. Nugent, presented the house, which the Bishop, aided by our many prayers, dedicated to the service of Almighty God. In the afternoon I preached to the children, and, no doubt, some of the dear lambs were led to the Savior. This church given to God is the result of many prayers, labors, and sacrifices rendered by God's people in Jackson. And our people look upon its completion with pride and much thanksgiving to God. We feel now equipped to do good service for Christ.

Yours, W. W. HOPPER.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1889.

For the Advocate.

SACRED HEART.

BY MARIA TAYLOR PIPKIN.

Sacred Heart, once pierced for me
Ever keep me near to thee;
In thy fountain, undefiled,
Cleanse thy willful, erring child.
Wash my every sin away,
Sacred Heart, thou all the Way;
Lead me by thy tender love
To the realms of light above,
Where, in robes of righteousness,
I may all thy love confess,
And glorious palms of victory wave
O'er my sin's deep-covered grave.

Sacred Heart, once pierced for me,
Let me rest my soul on thee,
Knowing for each grief of mine,
A greater one, for me, was thine;
Knowing for each pang I bear
Thou a crown of thorns didst wear;
Knowing for my sorrows here,
Thou didst shed a brother's tear;
Each temptation by me met,
Thou didst drawn in bloody sweat;
On the cross that I but see,
Thou was nailed to set me free.

Sacred Heart, once pierced for me,
Let me find my home in thee;
When from dust thou dost me raise,
When my prayer is lost in praise,
Let loved Spirits on the wing
Heavenly greetings to me bring,
Each on holy mission sent;
All by one great Father sent;
Some, with scarcely waving wing,
Hovering over lovers who cling
To the earth, and joy impart
To each lonely, wounded heart;
Others bearing on their breast
Weary ones to heavenly rest;
Guardian angels everywhere,
Having wee ones in their care,
Whose lineaments, so pure and fair,
Impress of some earth-child bear,
Sacred Heart, by thy rich grace,
Beholding e'er the Father's face.
Near these little ones of thine,
With those ten whom I call mine,
Sacred Heart, once pierced for me,
Let me have my home in thee.

To Board or Keep House.

A minister with a large family, of course, must keep house, but with a small family, on account of company in his absence, often prefers to board. Which to do he is often puzzled to know, and which is the cheaper is a contregerted point: and this very largely depends upon the domestic qualities of the wife, and the industry of both. To do in the main their own work, which we think a small family should do, there is no comparison in the cost. With a parsonage, or with small house-rent to pay, housekeeping can be made far cheaper than boarding, according to the writer's experience. We have boarded, as it was called, where no charge was made, and, of course, that could not be improved upon: but such generosity is rare. The advantages in housekeeping are many: A family is more at home; can have meals at any hour desired; can have the food hot or cold. Same in regard to early or late rising. In addition to these prerogatives, donations are an important consideration. The first of the Conference year Bro. Liberality, realizing that his pastor and family are not angels, but human beings like himself, brings over a nice fat porker. Bro. Impulsive, taking the hint, sends some corn, and Bro. Miser heaves a sigh, and brings over a bag of "taters," and Sister Thoughtful sends some butter; in short, there is a generous pounding, and the preacher's larder is well supplied. In a short time the mill is sent to for meal and grits, and the miller says: "I don't charge you nothin'." The beef market is visited twice a week, and the nice juicy steak and the rich soup-bones are handed out without weighing. Then the minister can, as a necessary recreation, cultivate a good garden. He can not study unceasingly. The birds are not always singing, the winds are not always blowing. Nature has her rests, and a minister must have his, and he can rest his mind by doing manual labor in his garden. By so doing he will sleep better, eat better, and can labor better. The wife, if domestic and energetic, can profitably employ her time with the house, poultry, etc.

Conclusion: Housekeeping is much cheaper and better.

H. ARMSTRONG.

DELHI, Louisiana.

Several Things.

Let me endorse what Bro. Hounsell said about Holiness Associations in the last issue of the ADVOCATE. It sounds strange that a Methodist preacher, such as Bro. Godbey claims to be, should use such language. I fear it means "come-outism" in the end. I believe in holiness of heart and life, preach it, talk it, and am doing my best to practice it; but God save me from such holiness (?) that denounces my brother as a heretic because he doesn't agree with me as to the "how" of sanctification.

LOCATION OF THE NEW COLLEGE.

Bro. Lane thinks it might be best to locate the proposed new college at Brandon. Dr. Abbey wants it on the Gulf Coast. Bro. T. B. Malone wants it located in the woods. I think Brandon is an unsuitable place, because it is not as accessible as either Jackson or Winona; and, as to health, Winona has no superior in the State. The Gulf Coast is not the place for it, because of its want of accessibility, and because the people of North Mississippi will not send far South to educate their children. How much will Bro. Abbey give to secure the location on the coast? It is impracticable to talk about locating it in the woods, far away from any town, unless you could get some man to give money enough to put up the buildings. About three-fourths of a mile from Winona there is a beautiful beech grove, which will be given for the location of the college; and, all things considered, there is not a more suitable place in the State. Another fact was suggested to me by Bro. Lagrone. It is this: Around Winona there is a large number of substantial farmers who own small tracts of land, who are out of debt, and whose support to this college enterprise would insure its success. There are but few negroes here, and these white farmers are the very bone and sinew of our country. Winona proposes to make a liberal offer.

OUR WORN-OUT PREACHERS.

"Old Fogy" rather growls because the old brethren are neglected. But, brother, it would not remedy the evil to lessen our contributions to education or missions. We must put each collection upon its own merits. As a member of the Joint Board of Finance, I am determined to look more closely into the necessities of each claimant than I have ever done. It may be that some do not need so much as they get. Let me urge every pastor to put the collection for Conference claimants upon its own merit, and ask your people to give.

WINONA STATION.

We have ordered one hundred and twelve copies of the new hymn book for our church. We intend to have some grand singing in our church. With a converted choir, and good hymns to sing, we expect a revival of good singing. We expect to protract in June. Congregations are good. Several men have asked for an interest in our prayers.

T. W. LEWIS.

College Location.

I notice that there are a number of places mentioned as suitable locations for the contemplated Methodist College. Let me suggest Shiloh Camp Ground, which is, in my opinion, one of the most eligible sites for a college in the State. Shiloh is located in what is known as the Shiloh Hills, one of the healthiest parts of Mississippi. It is just half-way between Vicksburg and Meridian, five miles from the V. and M. R. R., ten miles from Brandon, and six miles from Pelahatchie Station.

Shiloh Church has a membership of about two hundred, and almost everyone in the neighborhood is a member of some branch of the Christian Church. Attached to the edifice is 120 acres of land, on which, in the immediate vicinity of the house, is built a school-house, a tabernacle and about fifty tents, so that, in addition to the regular religious services, there is a camp meeting held on the ground every year.

Shiloh is blessed with an abundance of good water, being surrounded by springs, which flow out in almost every direction, and which, with a little labor and expense, may be made to afford abundant facilities for bathing as well as for other purposes. The public road leading from Brandon to Raleigh in Smith county, and the road leading from Pelahatchie into Simpson county pass through the church grounds, along which there is a daily United States mail.

Another consideration is, that there are no intoxicating drinks sold in this county, and the nearest town, Pelahatchie, has had a special act passed prohibiting the sale of intoxicating drinks there for ninety-nine years. If the locating committee think it advisable to visit the grounds, and will drop us a note, we will take pleasure in meeting them at the railroad with conveyance, and bring them out and take them back without any expense to them.

LOUIS KENDALL.

CHAPMAN, Rankin Co., Miss.

An Evangelistic Tour.

MR. EDITOR: It might be interesting to some of my friends to know of my whereabouts, etc. I left home on the morning of February 9 to answer to a call for revival work in California. My route was over the Iron Mountain railroad, from Memphis to St. Louis; thence over the Missouri Pacific to Kansas City, and on to Pueblo and Denver City; thence over Denver and Rio Grande to Salt Lake City and Ogden. This last-named road carries one across the Rocky Mountains, and has along its line some of the finest scenery in the world; a succession of objects of interest that are absolutely sublime. These are so numerous, however, that we will not stop here to describe them. Having reached Ogden we change trains again, and take the Central Pacific for Sacramento and San Francisco; thence over the Southern Pacific to Los Angeles. Thus we have passed through Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Utah Territory, Nevada and California. Then visits were made to several coast towns. During my stay of six weeks in this beautiful land of fruits and flowers, I engaged in two revival meetings, one of which was quite successful. The way opened for me to have remained, but I felt that I was too far from home, unless I could have had my family with me. So I returned to Texas over the Sunset route, taking in Arizona and New Mexico. I also went over into Old Mexico at El Paso. My visit to the republic proved right expensive, for, although it only costs twenty cents to go and return on the tram-car, I unfortunately fell into the hands of a band of highway robbers, who, in open daylight, dispossessed me of all the money I had with me. I felt glad, however (when I had taken time to look back and take in the situation), that I had escaped without any broken bones. Thank God for deliverance! But we have now reached the Lone Star State, and no damage done to our person. So we enter upon revival work here. The meetings held were at Willis' Point and Kaufman. Both glorious. Many souls converted, and our church wonderfully built up. These over, and we are in Arkansas filling some engagements. Outlook fine for a good work. We go from here home, to be joined by the good wife and dear little ones, and then to Greenwood, Miss. The Lord hath done and is doing great things for us, whereof we are glad. I ought to have said at the right place that Bro. Oats, who was transferred from us to California at the last session of our Conference, is doing well. I was with him three weeks, and can say he is appreciated by his people. He is truly a worthy man. Bro. Brown is also doing a fine work. I spent a week in his home, and was never more heartily entertained. He has an elegant little wife, and they know (as do dear Bro. and Sister Oats) how to make one feel welcome. But I have written enough. More anon.

Yours in love for souls,

E. G. KILGORE.

Location for the College.

MR. EDITOR: Permit me to nominate Walthall as a suitable location for the new college. Its advantages, I think, will compare favorably with any other place within the two Conferences; its geographical location is not objectionable; its natural drainage is fine, being that of the gentle sloping hill-sides that border the head-waters of Big Black river; its health is excellent—our doctors have to supplement their profession to make a living. In the Walthall Normal, which organized last year with one hundred and sixty-five, increased this year to two hundred and twenty-three, no death has occurred, and but little sickness among the pupils. Our water is fine and abundant. Our village is surrounded by a thrifty, industrious and intelligent class of farmers and laborers. The moral and social aspect of society is good. Our courts of justice mean something to all violators of law, especially those engaged in the blind-tiger business, there being no other kind of a shop within our county limits where strong drink can be obtained. Walthall is the seat of government for Webster county, about equal distance from the Mobile and Ohio and the Illinois Central; situated about five miles north of Emporia, on the Georgia Pacific railroad.

J. W. PITTMAN.

Is It Wise or Otherwise?

MR. EDITOR: In the Col. Pacific, of May 1, is the following:

But while millions of our fellow-creatures are dying in sin and ignorance, is it well to put so much money in a church for a thousand people?

The church in question is in Washington City, and, when completed, will cost $215,000. The Pacific fears the investment has a "high-toned, exclusive look," and doubts the propriety of such lavish expenditure of money on a house of worship. Nothing is truer in Christian philosophy than are these words: "There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty." I once heard an intelligent lady say, the reason the young people in the community were not religious was the uncomfortable, unsightly houses of worship; that these object-lessons taught them to undervalue the true worth of Christianity and Christian life. It has been my own experience and observation, that where people take a pride in having their church property the very nicest in the town and community, their finances were not only kept up with the demand, but spiritual life was strong and faithful. It is the people who consent to worship in unsightly and unpainted houses, and put their pastor to live in the poorest and most uncomfortable house in the community, who are always distressed about the support of the institutions of the church, and make the pastor feel as if they thought he was a pauper on their hands. Let the people build costly houses of worship as an inspiration to liberality and as educators in fidelity to God, and neither the heathen nor we who are among them will be the losers thereby.

J. M. WEEMS.

TOLUCA, Mexico.

Woman's Department Church Extension.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL REPORT, MARCH 31, 1889.

Number of Adult Societies reported during the year	125
Number reported last year	214
Total Adult Societies	339
Total Juvenile Societies	73
Whole number of Societies	412
Total adult members	5,120
Total juvenile members	701
*Whole number of members	5,821
Number added to Sabbath-school by auxiliaries during the year	300
Amount of dues, or "Regular Fund," remitted to General Board	$ 1,323 93
Retained by Conferences	1,323 93
Total Regular Fund	$ 2,647 86
Amount of special donations remitted to General Board	2,053 47
Total on general account	$ 4,701 33
Total on Loan Fund	881 00
Amount of special donations for local work reported by auxiliaries	4,024 92
Total raised by Woman's Department this year	9,607 25
Total last year	9,218 91
Total in two years	$18,826 16
Number of parsonages helped by General and Conference Boards this year	38
Helped by the Boards last year	23
Total by the Boards in two years	61
Number of parsonages helped by auxiliaries with special donations raised by them for local work in two years	60
Total helped by the Woman's Department in two years	121
Amount of Loan Fund included in the total raised in two years given above	$ 2,194 95
Number of leaflets distributed this year	89,100
Distributed last year	24,000
Total in two years	113,100

* Many societies fail to report members.

We trust this summary of our work will prove to our friends their confidence in the success of this department has not been misplaced, and induce those who have "waited" to come forward and help us to organize more rapidly in the coming year than in the past. There is the point where we need most help. Notice particularly the amount of special donations received by General Board as compared with total dues, or Regular Fund, and bear in mind the well-known fact that general associations draw to themselves many gifts and bequests from individuals who would not otherwise have the opportunity, or be induced to put their money in that channel of work. Increase our societies, and through them the amount of dues remitted, and the amount of special donations will equal it every time. Compare the amount of special donations for the local work raised by our auxiliaries, after remitting dues, with the total dues, or Regular Fund; it is nearly twice as much—showing our society fosters the local work. But add the special donations received by General Board to the special donations for local purposes, and it will be seen that every dollar of dues is represented by nearly two and a half in special donations. Now, remember the money raised by this organization is invested in real estate secured to the church—purchasing homes to save the immense amount expended every year in renting. Many individuals have large incomes from the rental of houses built for the express purpose. Should not the church be provident enough to, at least, save this impoverishing outlay?

From the beginning, in every advance, at every step of its progress, the most puzzling question the Methodist Church, with its itinerant polity, has had to settle is, how to secure homes for the preacher in places where the church is not strong, and the salary paid inadequate. Our organization is proving itself the solution of that question. What wonder that Bishop McTyeire, who helped to inaugurate it, should pronounce it one of the most important branches of church work!

LUCINDA B. HELM.

We heartily commend this parsonage-building enterprise to all our readers, and exhort each and every one to help a forward movement on this most important line of church work. A parsonage, well furnished, not only saves the church in dollars, but it lifts a mighty load of care and anxiety off the hearts of preachers' families and stewards. Let our elect ladies in every charge put themselves in communication with Miss Helm, and she will instruct them as to all the details of inaugurating a parsonage society, and let everyone go earnestly to work. We would rejoice to see this work move off vigorously during this summer and autumn.—EDITOR.

From the Work.

GREENVILLE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: The Greenville District Conference, which assembled at Cleveland, Miss., April 26, 1889, was the most remarkable session in the history of the district. The territory covered by the district includes nearly all of the great Yazoo Delta, or all of six counties. There are seventeen charges, and all the pastors were present, except two, and a very large representation of laymen.

Cleveland is a new town on the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas railroad, easily accessible to every part of the district. Here we have a large membership, worshiping in a beautiful new church.

The Conference was called to order by Rev. R. M. Standifer, P. E., who presided with ease and ability until the arrival of Bishop Galloway, on afternoon of first day. A District Conference presided over by a real live Bishop was an ovation to Cleveland, for Bishops are wonderfully scarce in the Mississippi bottom. Bishop Galloway's presence was a benediction to us. I doubt very much if he ever visited a community where he was so much enjoyed or did so much good. The reports of the preachers showed a decided advance on all the lines. The people are growing in grace, and congregations are larger, new Sunday-schools are organized, and better churches are being built. On Saturday the Bishop talked grandly about the Mississippi Methodist College, and received subscriptions for $3,025 to the endowment fund. Sunday was a high day. Bro. J. G. Grant, publisher of NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, addressed the Sabbath-school at half-past nine o'clock, and he was equal to the occasion. The Holy Spirit was present, and many hearts were touched and blessed. At eleven o'clock Bishop Galloway preached with great power, and at night delivered an instructive lecture on the religions of Mexico. Bro. G. W. Buehman, colporteur and Sunday-school agent, was with us selling books and taking subscribers to various periodicals. Grenada Collegiate Institute was represented by its able president, Rev. T. J. Newell. The Committee on Books and Periodicals spoke in high commendation of the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE. Bro. Grant took a number of new subscriptions.

The Conference, by resolution, gratefully acknowledged the munificent offer of Maj. R. W. Millsaps, of Jackson, Miss., to donate $50,000 towards the endowment of a Methodist Male College to be established in Mississippi, and endorsed the action of the Joint Committee in obtaining the consent of Bishop Galloway to canvass the State in order to raise an additional $50,000.

Galloway Male College, Vinita, In. Ter., was represented by Rev. J. W. McCrary and W. J. Folsom, a full blood Choctaw. The cause of missions was greatly benefited by their visit.

Bro. Barnett, P. C., made an admirable host, and Cleveland opened wide her hospitable doors. They received the hearty thanks of all concerned.

E. H. Moore, W. B. Trigg, H. C. Wasson, T. B. Johnson were elected delegates to the Annual Conference; J. N. Loudell, H. T. Edmundson, L. P., alternates. Next Conference goes to Lake Bolivar.

We greatly desire our editor to come next time.

T. V. RAMSEY, JR., Sec.

A VISIT TO MOSS POINT.

MR. EDITOR: By special request of Rev. L. Carley, the esteemed pastor of our church at Moss Point, this scribe and his wife spent a very pleasant and profitable sojourn of ten days in that beautiful and delightful "City of Mills." Our special mission there was to conduct a revival meeting; which we did for the space of eight days. The Lord was present in much grace and power. The pastor will report more definitely. We were most favorably impressed with everybody and everything at Moss Point. Bro. Carley is deeply in love with his people, and he is in great favor with them. He seems to hold the reins and guide the affairs of the church very gracefully and successfully. They have a large, beautiful church edifice, elegantly furnished; a large, intelligent congregation; a splendid choir, unsurpassed for good spiritual music; and last, but not least, an excellent parsonage, with every comfort provided, and every want anticipated. The natural scenery and attractions of that vicinity are sublimely beautiful, which enchant the soul with rapture.

While there we were the privileged guests of many delightful Christian homes, but the major part of our stay was with Bro. and Sister L. N. Dantzler, whose kindness and hospitality were unbounded. Their home impressed us as surpassingly beautiful and delightful. We are deeply grateful to all, to whom our hearts are bound with cings of gold. May God bless abundantly both pastor and people!

We were called home hastily to our little daughter, who is sadly afflicted. Pray for us. Your brother.

E. F. EDGAR.

WAYNESBORO, Mississippi.

VANCLEAVE, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: We have just closed a protracted meeting at Mt. Pleasant Church, Vancleave circuit. We were assisted by Revs. L. R. Roberts and James G. Galloway, and the dear, good local brethren of the circuit. The meeting was a grand success, and the house crowded at every service with anxious and patient listeners, and the altar crowded at every service with penitents. Results: The church greatly revived, the whole community stirred, eight infants baptized, and seven accessions to the church. Nearly everybody is in the church here. We had a consecration service and good sermon on the subject by dear Bro. Price. I look for grand things on this circuit this year. My people have been kind to me. They are showing forth their religion everywhere they go by their walk, conversation and example. The foreign mission money has been collected and sent off; money on hand on other collections; all claims collected but forty-two dollars; will have that soon. The ladies are succeeding finely in furnishing the parsonage. The preacher is being cared for splendidly. Our second quarterly meeting has been held. Dr. West stayed with me several days, and did some fine preaching, which did that part of the circuit great good, for which we give God all the glory and praise. The ADVOCATE is a listening to me.

M. L. WHITE, P. C.

COURTLAND CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: Our second Quarterly Conference, which convened May 11 and 12, was an occasion of much spiritual pleasure and profit to this community. Rev. S. M. Thames, our indefatigable presiding elder, was on hand, and, with his characteristic zeal, carefully looked after the temporal and spiritual interests of the Master's kingdom. He reports the Sardis district, along all the lines of church work, in a flourishing condition. But we were specially gratified on his stating that our financial exhibit was the best in the district. My debts are cleared, and I am now ready for working up a new church, and raising the deficit on our parsonage. Rev. J. W. Luter, our worthy Conference missionary treasurer, was with us, and preached to the delight of all. He is up here, as he says, rusticating. He is yet full of zeal, and abundant in labors. Our Sunday-school interest is good. I am expecting large results this year from this field.

H. L. VAUGHAN.

Personal Contact.

There are various ways of doing good, and one of these ways is by personal contact. There are people who do us good by their simple presence. We feel the greatness, the goodness, the gentleness, the piety in them, and are made better by it. An influence emanates from them that affects all who come near them. The expressions that play over their faces, the look out of their eyes, the tones of their voices, their gestures, their postures, their attitudes—all reveal the soul within. The very presence of noble souls is a benediction to all who have spiritual sense to apprehend it.

One of the recent phases of benevolence in this city is the gospel of personal contact. Ladies of refinement, culture and Christian philanthropy are renting rooms in the crowded portions of the city where they may form personal friendships with their less favored sisters, and by all kindly offices win their affection, and then by sympathy draw them upward to a higher, sweeter, richer, purer life.

There are multitudes who earn money enough to live in comfort, if not in elegance, who do not know how to spend it so as to secure comfort and elegance. If they can have near them an example, in sympathy with them, and glad to exchange all kindly offices with them, they will readily learn how to make their lives gardens rather than deserts, how to plant flower-seeds along their pathways rather than thorns and thistle seeds.

When once by gentle, sisterly kindnesses the hearts of those sought are won, and their lives brightened and sweetened by improved methods of living, it is an easy matter to go a step further and engage them in Sunday-school and church work. Especially is this the case when by kindly suggestion, supplemented by personal aid, a tasteful costume has been achieved, so that the wearer feels that she "looks as well as anybody," or, at least, is not conspicuously ill dressed. A great many people stay away from church because they are ashamed to be seen there in unseemly garments, but who are glad to go when properly clothed. And this is true of city and village and country alike.

There may be some whose eye glance along this column who may see in the suggestion here given a chance for them to do a little work for the Master, who took our nature upon him that he might live with us and lift us up to himself.—New York Christian Advocate.

THE INDIANS DYING OUT.—The report of the Commissioner for last year shows that there has been a decrease of nearly five thousand. For instance, the total number of Indians, according to the Commissioner's report in 1884, was 261,359, and in 1887, 259,183. If there could be an actual count of the Indians, the numbers would be much less. We succeeded in counting the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians recently, and found that they number two thousand less than the estimate made by lodges. The Indians are superstitious about being counted, and besides they make more rations when a family of three gets supplies for a family of five. An attempt to force an actual census would probably result in war, and as the same result is being gradually attained, the authorities have never tried to compel the taking of the census. There are the Sioux Indians, for example. They have never been counted, and it is probable that if an actual count was made, their latest numbers, as now reported, would be reduced some two thousand. The Indians, however, are dying out very rapidly, and as the tribes grow fewer in number, the individuals become wealthier, and in the course of a few years the millionaires of the country will be found among these Indian tribes. They now control large quantities of land, which is becoming more valuable each year, and have besides trust funds in the Treasury amounting altogether to over $1,000,000. In addition the government, as shown by the Holman report, appropriates large amounts for their support yearly and provides schools for their children. The Indians are being very well treated just now.—Washington Star.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Hurlburt and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON X.—June 9.

JESUS BEFORE PILATE.

Mark xv, 1-20.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him.—John xix, 6.

TIME.—A. D. 29. On the morning of the crucifixion.

PLACE.—The judgment hall of Pilate the procurator.

PARALLEL PASSAGES.—Matt. xxvii, 11-26; Luke xxiii, 1-25; John xviii, 28-40.

1. A consultation—They had agreed that he deserved to die, on a charge of blasphemy. Yet they did not dare to put him to death by stoning, as they did afterward Stephen, and as the law commanded in case of blasphemy, for they feared the people. They, therefore, consulted, or took counsel together, to determine on what pretense they could deliver him to the Roman emperor, or to fix some charge of a civil nature, by which Pilate might be induced to condemn him. The whole council—A touch of accuracy. Lightfoot quotes from Maimonides a precept which declares that of the Sanhedrin of seventy-one members it is not necessary for business that all be present; but when all were specially summoned, attendance was compulsory. To Pilate—After the eldest son Herod the Great, Archelaus (Matthew ii, 22), had been recalled and banished to Gaul by Augustus, Judea was annexed to the great Roman province of Syria, and governed by deputies called procurators, the fourth of whom was Valerius Gratus, and the fifth Pontius Pilate, appointed in the thirteenth year of Tiberius, and already hated by the Jews for his extortions and severities. "Suffered under Pontius Pilate." So, in every creed of Christendom is the unhappy name of the Roman procurator handed down to eternal execration.

2. Art thou the King of the Jews—Pilate, not unacquainted with the prevailing Messianic hopes, formulates his question very precisely. Thou sayest it—That is, thou sayest right, or thou sayest the truth.

3. The chief priests—After the first examination Pilate came forth to the Jewish deputation standing before the entrance of the palace, and declared his conviction of the innocence of the accused. This was the signal for a furious clamor on the part of the chief priests and members of the Sanhedrin, and they accused our Lord of many things: of (1) "stirring up the people," and (2) "teaching falsely throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee even to Jerusalem." He answered nothing—He was conscious of his innocence. He knew that they could not prove these charges. They offered no testimony to prove them; and, in conscious innocence, he was silent.

4. Answerest thou nothing ... how many things—Again the charges were reiterated: He stirs up the nation; he rebels against Cæsar; he tells us that we ought not to pay the imperial taxes. There is not a town or village from Dan to Beersheba, from Galilee to Jerusalem, where he has not preached his seditious doctrines. They witness against thee—This means, rather, that they accused him. They were not witnesses, but accusers.

5. So that Pilate marveled—It might not be so wonderful that a prisoner should make no defense, but the many circumstances of a mysterious nature which Jesus refuses to explain greatly perplexed the governor. Convinced, as Pilate was, of the innocence of Christ, he was all the more at a loss to understand the forbearance with which he maintained such sublime silence.

6. At that feast—Rather, at festival time. It seems to have been a custom, the origin of which is unknown, to release to the people on the occasion of the passover and other great feasts any prisoner whom they might select. Whomsoever they desired—It was probably adopted to secure popularity among the Jews, and to render the government of the Romans less odious. Any little indulgence granted to the Jews during the heavy oppression of the Romans would serve to conciliate their favor, and to keep the nation from sedition.

7. One named Barabbas—Keeping in mind the significance of names in Scripture, we can hardly fail to recognize a fearful mockery in his name, Barabbas, or "son of the Father;" as though in the very name which he bore, not to speak of the work which he wrought, he should be the devil's counterfeit and caricature of the true holy One of God. He had wrought, we may well believe, in that false Messias's spirit, which was filling with wild and insane hopes the whole nation, and rapidly hurrying it to that final conflict with the Roman power in which, as a nation, it should be forever broken in pieces. Made insurrection—It is remarkable that this man was confessedly guilty of the very crime with which the priests and rulers had falsely charged Jesus—that of sedition; and no plainer proof of their hypocrisy could be given to the watchful Pilate than their efforts to release the former and to condemn the latter.

8. The multitude ... began to desire—Note the wording of the new version. The mob of the city, pouring from street and alley in the excited Oriental fashion, come streaming up the avenue to the front of the palace, shouting for this annual gift. The cry was for once welcome to Pilate, for he saw in it a loop-hole of escape from his disagreeable position.

9. Pilate answered them—The proposition of the people that he should act according to his usual custom concurred with Pilate's own wishes and hopes, and he resolved deliberately to give the populace their choice. King of the Jews—He asked them whether they would have the King of the Jews—probably to ridicule the priests who had delivered him on that charge. He did not show the people how absurd the accusation was. There he stood, apparently a poor, inoffensive, unarmed and despised man. Herod set him at naught and scourged him, and sent him back. The charge, therefore, of the priests, that he was a king opposed to the Roman emperor, was supremely ridiculous; and Pilate, expecting the people would see it so, hoped also that they would ask him to be released.

10. He knew that ... for envy—The whole narrative presupposes what this verse distinctly asserts, that Pilate was before acquainted with the acts and character of Jesus.

11. Chief priests moved the people—The word translated moved only occurs here and in the parallel, Luke xxiii, 5. It denotes: (1) to shake to and fro, to brandish; (2) to make threatening gestures; (3) to stir up or instigate.

12. Pilate answered and said again—We learn from Matthew xxvii, 19, that, during the interval while the people were making their choice between Christ and Barabbas, Pilate's wife sends to him a message of warning. It is a remarkable fact that a woman, and she a heathen, should be the only human being who had the courage to plead the cause of our Savior during those dreadful hours, when his own disciples forsook him, and when the fanatical rulers cried out against him. Whom ye call the King of the Jews—He may have hoped that the sound of the title might have not been in vain on the ears of those who had lately cried, "Blessed is the king that cometh in the name of the Lord," "Blessed is the kingdom of our father David."

13. Crucify him—For now, for the first time, rose in answer to him the fearful words, "To the cross!" "Crucify him! crucify him!"—the priests and rabbis—prelates and doctors of the nation—on the raised platform of the tribunal, shouting first, and the mob, below, presently re-echoing them far and wide.

14. Why, what evil hath he done—Pilate had failed twice, but he still held out. Appealing a third time to the excited crowd, he strove to reason with them. In his conduct at the trial of our Savior, Pilate appears like a true Roman politician. He is on the side of justice, in regard to which his perceptions are acute and his procedures exact and just, so far as no passion or self-interest of his own interfered. He is versatile and inventive of expedients to rescue Jesus from an unjust death, until the Jews make him feel that such a course endangers his standing as Cæsar's friend. He examines Jesus, and pronounces him innocent; he expostulates with the Jews; he endeavors to release him instead of Barabbas; he sends him to Herod; he presents him as an object of sympathy, to move the Jews to pity; he proposes to chastise and set him free; and, finally, he washes his hands in token of irresponsibility of Jesus' death. (It was only to save himself from the danger of what he finally suffered, an arraignment before Cæsar for maladministration, that he yielded the point. But to save his own life or interests, the life of a single man or of any number of men would have been readily sacrificed. They cried out the more exceedingly—But his appeal only woke a fierce outbreak of the screams. "Crucify! crucify!" The mere sight of him, even in this his unspeakable shame and sorrow, seemed to add fresh fuel to their hate. In vain the heathen soldier appeals for humanity to the Jewish priest; no heart throbbed with responsive pity; no voice of compassion broke that monotonous yell of "Crucify!"—the howling refrain of their wild "liturgy of death." The Roman who had shed blood like water on the field of battle, in open massacre, in secret assassination, might well be supposed to have an icy and a stony heart; but yet icier and stonier was the heart of those scrupulous hypocrites and worldly priests.

15. Willing to content the people—Observe the pitiful vacillation of a man devoid of all principle or conscience of duty. Pilate is willing to release Jesus (Luke xxiii, 20), and Pilate is also willing to content the people. Pilate wanted to release Jesus, but in the dilemma (of his own making) concluded to gratify the mob. When he had scourged him—Jesus was now seized by some of the soldiers standing near, and, after being stripped to the waist, was bound in a stooping posture, his hands behind his back, to a post, or low pillar, near the tribunal. He was then beaten, till the soldiers chose to stop, with knots of rope, or plaited leather thongs, armed at the ends with acorn-shaped drops of lead, or small, sharp-pointed bones. Thus, then, is Pilate fallen; fallen at last, because he prefers to have the emperor, whose kingdom is of this world, as his friend rather than the King whose kingdom is not from hence. The prize for which he staked his soul never became his. Some three years afterward he was removed by the legate of Syria, and then banished by the emperor.

16. The hall, called Pretorium—The Pretorium signified the place of the pretor, and in military service it was the general's tent. But in this present passage it seems to refer to the court, or part of the tower of Antonia, where the procurator's guard were stationed. The whole band—The whole band, or cohort, which was gathered to join in the mockery, was the tenth part of a legion, embracing from three to six hundred men; but here probably only that portion of the band or cohort which was then actually on service.

17. Clothed him with purple—A kind of round cloak, which was confined on the right shoulder by a clasp, so as to cover the left side of the body, worn by military officers, and called paludamentum. Those of the emperors were purple. This cloak or robe, called by Matthew scarlet, is by Mark called purple. The two colors blend into each other, and the words are interchangeable. The scarlet dye, however, was made from a shrub, and the purple from a shell-fish. Platted—The word platted here means woven together or having made a wreath of a thorn bush. A crown of thorns—Hasselquest, a Swedish naturalist, supposes a very common plant, nabn or nubka of the Arabs, with many small and sharp spines, soft, round, and pliant branches; leaves much resembling ivy, of a very deep green, as if in designed mockery.

18. Smote him—Rather, began to smite or kept smiting him. With a reed—The blow of the reed would have been too light to inflict much pain upon any other part than the head, and there it would aggravate the pain of the thorns. Worshiped him—Matthew says "they bowed the knee." Smote ... spit ... worshiped—All three verbs are in the tense which implies frequent repetition.

20. Led him out—All we know is that the place of execution was outside of the walls, to the northwest, at the side of a leading road, to let the spectacle be seen by the crowds passing and repassing. From the palace of Herod, the sad procession must have passed out under the shadow of the great castles of Hippicus, Phasael, and Mariamne; through the Hebron or Jaffa gate, or the gate Gennath. As it moved slowly on an official proclaimed aloud the names of the prisoners, and the offenses for which they were about to die. Four soldiers walked beside each, as the special guard and executioners, the rest of the detachment preceding and following.

Missionary.

Missionary Work Needed.

MR. EDITOR: Like other pastors coming from elsewhere to this South Louisiana country, I feel greatly impressed with the importance of our church doing missionary work among the Creoles of this country. I have at Rayne, quite a number of Catholics to hear me—most of whom are leading citizens: intelligent, nice French people. There are others—Creoles—that are uneducated, can not read, and know nothing about religion, but have been baptized in the Catholic Church, and some of them are communicants. They all like singing, and we do a good deal of it. Others are coming, and I am in hopes of accomplishing good by the blessed Lord's help. Near Crowley we have a Sunday-school of sixty persons—mostly Creoles—under the superintendency of a Bro. Bailey. Many of his pupils are unable to read, but are attentive and apparently, at least, greatly interested. Last Wednesday I visited a Creole who had just received three severe wounds from a knife at the hand of one of his equals. He consented that I should hold a religious service with him and his family. I read and expounded the Scripture from the third chapter of John, sang and prayed. The whole family were in tears, and the unfortunate man promised to give himself to God and be a better man. They gave me a pressing invitation to visit them again. I think, by entering every door, we can, slowly but surely, do something for these poor heathens.

But we need a French missionary. Not an imported one. We want a converted Creole—one of their own tongue and blood. Of course, he should speak English also. Now, why not pray the Lord to convert and call to this missionary work a suitable man? I am working and praying for it. And I hereby ask the prayers of the church and ministry that God may raise up a man for this field. The good people that live here—that have been here for years—seem to think very little about these unfortunate heathens. They have gotten easy in their conscience. They are accustomed to thinking upon them as a lower class—ignorant, treacherous people. We contribute money to send the gospel to just such beings in foreign lands, and let these poor souls perish for knowledge. To one less familiar with this state of affairs—one who has not had time to harden his heart, shut his eyes and stop his ears—this field is white and ready to harvest, and God is holding us that live here and preach here responsible. May the Lord move our hearts to do something for these people!

R. M. BLUCKER.

PLAQUEMINE BLUFFS, Louisiana.

SUCCESS OF MORAVIAN MISSIONS.—The history of the missionary labors and successes of the Moravians, is among the marvels in the history of Christianity. Immediately after their organization as a distinct church, early in the eighteenth century, and scarcely one hundred and seventy years ago, these descendants of the immediate followers of John Huss, then numbering only about six hundred sent missionaries to the West Indies and to Greenland. The former were resolved to become slaves themselves, if that were necessary to win souls to Christ. The latter labored for fifteen years without a single convert—a fact which is commended to the attention of Canon Taylor, with his slate and pencil, if he will not forget the additional facts that in the comparatively populous district in which they labored in Greenland, there is not now a single heathen, and that to-day the living converts from heathenism by Moravian missionaries, directly and indirectly, number more than 80,000; while the communicants of the "Home" Church in America, Continental Europe, and Great Britain, do not exceed 15,000! In this wonderful history of God's blessing upon the patient and self-denying labors of the Moravian missionaries, there may be important practical lessons for us—lessons that will not remain long undiscovered in these days of earnest inquiry.—Evangelist.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

If You Have no appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," or losing flesh, you will find the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach, build up the flagging energies as no other medicine will, and

Tutt's Pills

CURE CONSTIPATION.

To enjoy health one should have regular evacuations every twenty four hours. The evils, mental and physical, resulting from are many and serious. For the cure of this common trouble, Tutt's Liver Pills have gained a popularity unparalleled.

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION

A TORPID LIVER

deranges the whole system and produces

Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.

There is no better remedy for these frequent diseases than Tutt's Pills, as a trial will prove. They should be found in every household. They are perfectly harmless, reliable, and can be taken without restraint of diet or occupation. Plain or sugar-coated. Sold everywhere. Price, 25c.

Office, 44 Murray Street, N. Y.

PIANOS L&B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE 1 TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000 Worth of Pianos and Organs Must be Closed Out by August 1.

New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new in our repair factory.

MUST SELL! Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices; Easy Terms. Write for Bargain Sheet.

LUDDEN & BATES SAVANNAH, GA.

Agents Wanted!

The 'ERIE' is the only PERFECT Self-Wringing MOP Made.

No breakage; made of malleable iron & steel wire; a special cloth fitted in every mop before shipping. Liberal terms. Exclusive territory.

Send 50 cents for sample and save time. Circulars and terms free.

EVANS BROS., Southern Agents, 13 Perdido St., New Orleans, La.

Mention this paper.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS

CLEANED OF ALL IMPERFECTIONS.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JARVIS.

BROWNE & JENKINS, DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN X WALL PAPER X

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free.

Mention this paper.

Frank Walker & Co., WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses, 117 Tchoupitoulas St., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN, DEALER IN WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

263 - CAMP STREET - 263

Bet. Bidord and Poeyfarre, NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.

W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

A. Brousseau's Son, 23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING, CARPETS, INGRAINS, LACE CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

T. W. BOTHICK, UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

DRAINING MACHINES, IRRIGATION PUMPS, DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory.

JOS. MENGE. 105 Tchoupitoulas St.

PATENTS THOMAS P. SIMPSON, Washington, D. C. No atty's fee until Patent obtained. Write for Inventor's Guide.

FROM

New Orleans to Cincinnati, 94 MILES THE SHORTEST.

TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes. Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST, NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer through the City.

Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.

R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans
J. P. GAULT, General Manager.
D. H. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. "GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE —RUNNING— PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

And Through Cars for All Classes to

CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE —RUNNING—

A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 5 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE —RUNNING— Pullman Sleeping Cars THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE

To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS FROM NEW ORLEANS TO Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.

TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

Mississippi Valley Route. Louisville, New Orleans and Texas Rail'y.

Arrives.	Departs.
No. 1, Fast Mail, 9:00 a.m	No. 2, Fast Mail, 4:00 p.m
No. 3, Express, 5:43 p.m	No. 4, Express, 8:05 a.m
No. 5, Bat. Rouge acc'dation, 10:10 a.m	No. 6, Bat. Rouge acc'dation, 4:10 p.m

Trains Nos. 1 and 2 run through and have Pullman Sleeping Cars between New Orleans and Memphis, and also locally to and from Vicksburg. Passengers may remain in Vicksburg sleeper until morning.

Trains Nos. 3 and 4 run between New Orleans and Vicksburg.

Trains Nos. 5 and 6 run between New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Connections at Harriston for Natchez and all points on the N., J. and T.

At Vicksburg with the V., S. and P. and V. and M. Railroads.

At Memphis with lines diverging for Little Rock, Hot Springs, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville, Eastern cities and all points North.

Ticket Office, 61 St. Charles Street.

P. R. ROGERS, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt.
E. W. HOW, Gen. Pass. Agt., Memphis, Tenn.
R. F. REYNOLDS, Cont'l Agent, New Orleans, La.

—THE— Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

SHORT LINE —BETWEEN— NEW ORLEANS, TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT, AND POINTS IN

Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

E. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas
JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS (Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1..... 8:50 am	No. 2..... 6:00 pm
No. 3..... 4:43 pm	No. 4..... 8:05 am
No. 5..... 10:10 am	No. 6..... 4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 Fast Ex. 7:00 am
No. 1 Fast Ex. 7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast. 3:10 pm
No. 5 Coast. 9:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex. 3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r. 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim. 7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express. 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express. 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local, 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local, 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local.... 7:20 pm
No. 17 Local.... 6:55 am	No. 20 Califor. 11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE. (New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd, 11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd.... 3:55 pm
No. 5, Fast Line, 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line.. 7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO. (Via Meridian.)

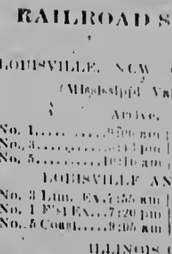
No. 5, Fast Line, 8:30 am	No. 8, Fast Line.. 3:55 pm

P. AND F. EAST LA. (Abita Springs.)

Daily Except Sundays.
Arrive..... 8:30 am | Leave..... 4:00 pm
Sunday Schedule.
Arrive..... 7:25 pm | Leave..... 7:30 am

TYPE-INK PAPER - PRESSES At Southern Printers' Warehouse, 101-103 GRAVIER ST., NEW ORLEANS.

THREE WONDERFUL SEWING MACHINES.



The New Singer Automatic (Single Thread). "It runs with a breath."

The New Singer Vibrator. More modern, lighter running and simpler than any other

The New Singer Oscillator. Scientifically and mechanically perfect

6,500,000 LADIES Are Doing Sewing on SINGER Family Sewing Machines.

8,500,000 SINGER SEWING MACHINES HAVE BEEN SOLD.

Every successful machine ever built contains one of these three principles. Each kind is sold on easy payments, equipped with the latest improvements and attachments for all kinds of family sewing.

Agency for Hall's Bazar Dress and Skirt Forms and the Improved Standard Fashion Patterns.

PREMIUM OFFER.—Every purchaser of Standard Patterns amounting to 50 cents, or more, will be presented with a copy of The Standard Fashion Catalogue, (regular price, 25 cents) the most beautifully illustrated Fashion Book extant.

Needles for all Sewing Machines and parts for the Singer.

Send for Price-list and Catalogues.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO., 185 Canal St., New Orleans.
S. E. RUNDLE - - - - AGENT.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO., (LIMITED)

40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in—

WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application.

CARRIAGES, Buggies, Phaetons, Surreys, Carts, HARNESS, Baby Carriages. R. P. RANDALL. 54 and 56 Baronne Street, New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS, FUNERAL DIRECTORS. CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor and Establishment, 217 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

COME TO THE LAND OF THE BIG RED APPLES

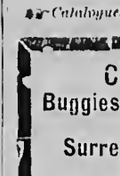
Pears, Prunes, etc. Where the climate is so mild grass remains green during all the year. U. S. census report shows Oregon healthiest State in the Union. Rich lands cheap. Send stamp for an Illustrated Pamphlet to BOARD OF TRADE, SALEM, OREGON.

Mention this Paper.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM F. D. VanValkenburgh, 106 Camp Street.

Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Orders by mail promptly filled.



We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. O. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. RUNNICLTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1889.

Tests of Christian Life.

Christ does a two-fold work for us. He has come to reveal heaven to the soul, and, second, to fit that soul forheaven. It is impossible to say which is the most important work; certainly the two can not be separated. The preparation is carried on by the direct agency and power of the Holy Ghost; but the earthly medium upon which and through which he works is the various experiences of life. What a panorama rises before the mind of the reader with that expression—the experiences of—life! What a sudden solemnity falls upon the spirit, what shadows steal into the face and sorrowful thoughtfulness into the eyes at the hare word—the experiences of life!

These experiences, as far as we can see, do two things for us. One is, that they make us to know ourselves. There is no school or college equal to life in its mighty educative power. It is God's university for the soul. The conditions of life are the classes. We are passed from one to another, for all are valuable, not to say, essential. The lesson contained in each we must learn. The object of all is, that through Christ, the Great Teacher, we will get to know ourselves. Many things we have said that we could not do, nor be; but a few experiences left us silent and confounded. They taught us what was in our hearts. Mr. Wesley said about that most trying life of his in Georgia, where everything he did seemed to fail, and where the deepest humiliations and hindrances and persecutions distressed and maddened him, that all these things were allowed in order to show him his heart.

Another thing done for us by the experiences of life, under the blessing of Christ, is that we are made by them. As we rise to meet them—adjust ourselves to them—or resist and combat them, faith is evoked, every Christian grace aroused from its slumber and set to singing, spiritual fiber produced, and a strong muscular Christian character developed.

Above all, we recognize the experiences of life as most powerful tests of the Christian life and character. They, with all their educative power, come invariably as tests to the child of God. No one can turn to I. Kings xvii, and read the first sixteen verses without being struck with the number of the tests that came to Elijah as he sojourned for awhile in the wilderness on the banks of the brook Cherith. The tests that came to him there have come and will come to us all. How will we bear them? One was the test of sudden change. Here was a man in a moment swept from the abodes of men and palaces of kings to the depths of the wilderness. As sudden and sharp was the change of occupation. From being used of God, a mighty and effective instrument of heaven, he is suddenly set aside to a life of utter inactivity. What can a man do in a wilderness? No sinners to warn, no Ahab to rebuke, no work to perform. Was there suffering in this experience, and was it not a test of most painful character? Look in your lives and see how often that test has been applied to you—days of activity followed suddenly by periods of inactivity; the multitude on Mt. Carmel to-day, the wilderness to-morrow; the palace at one time of the life, and then the change to a lowlier home, or, sadder still, to have no home. God was testing you—and character was revealed.

Another test in Elijah's life, seen at this time, was that of loneliness. He seemed to have been made to command crowds, his work called him to confront nations, and yet here was projected into his life for a dreary period the profound hush and loneliness of the wilderness. No human face looked in upon him; no human voice cheered him. The only sound he heard was the rippling of the brook Cherith, and the rustling of leaves and wings, as the ravens brought bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening. What a time it was for despondency—and unbelief and despair and all the dark work of Satan! Do you recognize the test? Has it not come to you; beloved, as a stranger in a great city, or stretched on a sick bed, or in that far-off country home, where you are made to dwell aloof from the world's busy multitudes and industries, and where the rustling of leaves, and flitting wings, and murmur of brooks make up the framework and background of your life? The test has come. How are you enduring it, and what has it revealed?

Another test we discover at this point in Elijah's life is that of want. He had been brought down to the simplest of fare—and then to two meals each day, and these meals brought by the birds of the air. The whole dealing brought the boundaries of utter destitution into sight. There is a way of being fed so as to have the thought of starvation suggested. Some paths run along the brow of the precipice. But this was not all the test with Elijah. By and by the brook Cherith ran dry. Day by day it had narrowed; its tinkle became fainter and fainter, until finally the dry and empty channel met the eye of the prophet. Here was want, indeed; for what is bread without water? The end certainly had come.

Sooner or later the test of want in some form comes to all. A narrow margin becomes narrower. Limitations are felt, a contracting wall is about the life, a taking away goes on in the life, until the hands are emptied, and we recognize a bare subsistence, and that support as precarious as though brought by beak and wing of bird. A brook in the life still runs, but the day comes that an invisible hand is laid on that. Perhaps we were not grateful for the brook; we did not appreciate the blessing; anyhow the flow grew weaker, the crystal flood became an attenuated thread, then a drop, then disappeared altogether. Perhaps its absence will teach us what its presence failed to convey—that God is the Father of all mercies, and the Author of every good gift. What a picture we have here—the lonely man by the dried-up brooks of life! Sharp and terrible is the test of want. How are you bearing it, O child of God, tempted and tried? What an opportunity for faith, for patience, for expressions of confidence in God that will thrill earth and heaven! Will you sink in despair, or trust in Christ? Elijah came through this trial triumphant; how will it be with you?

A fourth test is seen in this passage. I would call it the test of relief. And here I would say that God's ways, at all times inscrutable, are especially mysterious when he moves to our relief. He tests us as deeply by his methods of helping and delivering as he does by bringing us into want. Study the dealing with Elijah. God was going to relieve the prophet. How did he do it. Of course, bring him to the broad flow of the Jordan, and then to the waving wheat fields of Galilee, and the homesteads of the rich? Far from it. God caused him to turn his back upon the Jordan and led him away from Galilee into a remote part of the country to the home of a widow. And it was a poor widow at that—and so poor that she was reduced at that time to a handful of meal and one measure of oil. To a starving woman God led a starving man for relief. That is God's way, and his ways are not our ways, for his thoughts are not as our thoughts.

Look into your past life and see if this has not always been the same method of deliverance. Let the preachers rise up to a man and tell how frequently pressing want has been met in the parsonage and in ministerial labor by the gifts of the poor—and, more than that, by the poorest of the poor! Was it not a test? Did not the test make your faith at first to stagger? I suppose that at first Elijah could not realize when the journeying cloud of providence stopped before the lonely home of a woman on the verge of starvation, that here he was to be fed. I suppose when you called upon God for relief, that you expected a coach-and-four and a being like a prince to come down and relieve you. But instead, as you rose with streaming eyes from your knees to answer the knock at the door, lo! there was one of the humblest and most poverty-stricken of your acquaintances with your relief for a day or a week in his hands. Could that be the divine relief? Verily, because God threw a plain coarse garb over his servant, you did not at first recognize the deliverance or the messenger! One of the most distinguished of our ministers was in trouble through a crushing bereavement. He needed comfort—he asked God for it—he felt it would come. Who now shall bring it? Of course, you say, let a like distinguished and eminent divine come; let a lordly intellect minister to this prostrate pulpit giant. God will recognize the necessities of the case and suit the reliever to the need. One day a tap was heard upon the door, and upon the threshold stood Christ's messenger of help and comfort. It was a poor, devout old colored woman! Standing at the foot of the bed, where was stretched the sorrowing man of God, she, with unpretending speech, presented the blessed truths of the gospel in the simple, humble, tender way that a broken heart needs and craves to have. As she spoke of submission to God and its joy, of the resurrection and of heaven, healing flowed down into the sick heart, and the old-time strength came back to the ministerial Samson. He arose like one long before him, washed his face, ate bread and glorified God from that day.

And here we must conclude. The summing up of it all is, that, as Christians we are never left to ourselves. We are constantly under spiritual tests. Life is the university of God; Christ is the great Teacher; the changes and circumstances of life are the classes. Every condition has its peculiar truth and lesson. Like the ships of Solomon, they come laden with treasures. Each experience goes to reveal us and make us; we can not afford to miss any. Let us never be despondent under new tests and trials, for they hold our development and highest good. Rather let us meet the trying experience as Jacob met the mysterious stranger on the brookside, and, twining the arms of prayer about him, say, I will not let thee go until thou bless me.

B. C.

A host of minds, of profoundest thought, find nothing in the disclosures of science to shake their faith in the eternal verities of reason and religion.—George Ripley.

Missouri Letter.

BY M. B. CHAPMAN, D. D.

District Conference season is about over in Missouri, and the reports indicate increased attendance and interest over previous years. For the towns which are too small to support the Annual Conference, the District Conference is an occasion of great interest, and good results always follow when, as the Discipline directs, "prominence is given to religious exercises, such as preaching, etc." I have attended two District Conferences this spring, and they may be taken as types of the different methods of conducting these gatherings. At the first, each pastor was provided with the blanks from our Publishing House, and by the time these are filled out and read, with the questions which are interjected by the Bishop, presiding elder and preachers, the Conference has a pretty clear idea of the condition of each charge in the district. And it is well for this thorough examination to take place at the District Conference, as its principal business is "to inquire into the condition of the several charges in the district." At the other District Conference there was a printed program, and most of those who read papers and delivered previously prepared addresses were invited guests from without the bounds of the district. It was largely an educational convention, and there was not even a committee on the state of the church or on missions. It was an interesting convention, but was not a District Conference, for neither the work of the district nor religious services were prominent. Ans. 6 and 7, under ¶ 56 in our Discipline, should be placed under the regular business of the District Conference. The entire supervision of the local preachers should be relegated to that body, to which they should bear the same relation, so far as report of work, examination, passage of character, etc., are concerned, as traveling preachers bear to the Annual Conference. It should recommend them to the Annual Conference for deacon's or elder's orders, and for admission on trial or re-admission into the traveling connection. Our District Conferences would then possess a legal force and importance which is now lacking to them.

Central Female College, at Lexington, has a new president in the person of Prof. A. A. Jones, of Dalton, Ga. He will enter upon his presidency under the most favorable auspices. An old debt of $16,000, which has hung over the college like an incubus for years, has been paid through the exertions of Rev. W. B. Palmore, who, under the call of the Board of Curators, started out about a month ago to raise this sum, and succeeded in an almost incredibly short space of time. But Palmore is the best traveler, the best debt-raiser, and one of the most indefatigable and untiring workers in Southern Methodism. I speak "by the card," for was he not my compagnon de voyage for twelve months? And if I ever go around the world again, I want him with me. I do not agree with him in his ideas about organizing the church into an insurance company; but, for all that, he has a level head and almost unlimited capacity for work. Bro. Palmore and I had some rich experiences in the "relics" which we saw in Egypt and Palestine. I thought human credulity had reached its climax in the tomb of Adam's Skull, which was shown us in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, at Rome, and which we were gravely (no pun intended) told rolled out when Helena's workmen were digging for the cross; but this is eclipsed by a snake's head in one of the dime museums of Chicago, which bears this interesting legend: "Skin of the serpent that tempted Eve in the Garden of Paradise." I have read somewhere of a German play entitled "The Creation," in which Adam is represented as going across the stage to be created!

Our Missouri Chautauqua, at Warrensburg, promises to be unusually attractive this year. The Pertle Springs Park, where it is held, is a beautiful tract of 200 acres, with a good hotel, handsome buildings, drives, walks, lakes, etc., and everything to make the place attractive and pleasant. This will be the third assembly which has been held, and the program for this year is a very interesting one. The assembly will be held from July 17 to 26.

Rev. S. H. Werlein, whom New Orleans gave to St. Louis last year, preaches the commencement sermon at Central College. Bro. Werlein has had phenomenal success at Lafayette Park Church, having advanced from nothing to nearly 300 members. St. Louis is considerably in debt to New Orleans, as she also owes Drs. Hill and Matthews to her Southern sister, though the latter came by way of Kansas City. They call Dr. Matthews the Sam Jones of St. Louis, and he packs the largest church building in Southern Methodism every Sunday night.

HANNIBAL, Missouri.

Revival at Old Carondelet.

For months the spiritual condition of the members of Carondelet Street Methodist Church, of New Orleans, has been deepening and broadening. All the services have been well attended. Its Sunday-schools, of which there are three, are vigorous and well worked by efficient laity. While class meetings in other large cities seem difficult to maintain, they are successfully kept up in this mother of Methodism in the Southwest. That of the young people's is indeed a school where a number of excellent young men and women have been and are being developed into wise, earnest and faithful Christian laborers. It seems as if the Captain of salvation has been preparing this church for a mighty effort against the host of the devil marshalled in New Orleans. When the beloved pastor, Rev. B. Carradine, announced that a revival service would commence Wednesday, May 22, few of his people were surprised, and numbers at once enrolled themselves as willing co-workers with their Lord and their pastor.

These services were successfully carried on by Bro. J. T. Sawyer, Bro. C. F. Evans and Bro. F. N. Parker until Sunday morning, when Bishop Keener held a large audience spellbound by an inspiring, soul-feeding sermon on, "Behold what manner of love!" Sunday afternoon Bro. W. W. Hopper, of Jackson, Miss., whom Bro. Carradine had sent for to conduct these services, took charge of the children's meeting; and about fifty boys and girls, mostly, if not all, from the Carondelet Street Sunday-school, went to the altar mourning over their sins and seeking Jesus. Numbers of them confessed Christ, and said they were pardoned and blessed. It was a precious season of grace; there were but few dry eyes in the assembly as these lambs of Jesus sweetly told, in their childish way, "how they loved Jesus." Bro. Hopper's tender and gentle way of presenting the truth to children pre-eminently makes him the children's preacher. We were glad to hear him dwell upon the importance of childhood conversion.

On Monday morning a gospel meeting was started, at which a number of consecrated workers were instructed how to prepare themselves for revival work. Bro. Hopper's method is clear and definite. He aims by Scripture to reach the heart, first of Christians, and through them sinners. He preaches "cleansing by the blood, emptying self, and filling by the Holy Ghost." His close-put truths carefully selected from "the Book," of which he makes great use, fit and humble hearts. The blessed seed-planting and vineyard-nursing of Bro. Carradine only needed a shower of just such gospel grace for blossoming into fruit. It was to be expected that God would answer prayer and give the harvest; and it came; from the first night there have been penitents, sinners, backsliders and hungry souls at the altar. Over forty had professed conversion up to Tuesday morning.

These meetings will be continued this week, and longer, if God's Spirit so directs.

D. L. M.

Sunday Conversation.

The following observations on the above topic from Rev. George H. Hubbard, in the Sunday-School Times, are so pertinent that we make no apology for reproducing them here:

Very many persons who observe the Lord's day scrupulously, so far as their occupations are concerned, are utterly careless and indiscriminate in their choice of topics for Sunday conversation. Farmers who would not do five minutes' work in the field on Sunday will discuss crops with their families and neighbors on the way to and from church and will occupy all the leisure hours of the day in walking about their fields, laying plans for the work of the coming week and talking about various parts of their work. Tradesmen, in the same way, discuss market reports, business prospects, recent developments of trade, and failures in which they have an interest. Railroad men on Sunday talk of the incidents and accidents of railroad life. Mechanics discuss the latest invention, and its bearing on their work. Lawyers recount the interesting, amusing or important cases of the week. Doctors converse freely on professional and business topics. And even ministers of the gospel too often amuse their friends with wholly irrelevant conversation upon innumerable topics. Ladies talk about the fashions. Children talk of school, lessons and play. Unfortunately, too, people of all classes may be heard speaking one to another of topics less worthy than these. Political and social questions, the latest concert, baseball game, boat race, walking match, prize fight, etc., are discussed on every side. In short, the Sunday conversation of the majority of our Christian families is pretty accurately reproduced in its variety and unsanctity by the average Sunday newspaper.

Now, the sanctity of Sunday is profaned by worldly conversation as really as by worldly labor. Our conversation and our action are inseparably linked together. We do not wholly lay aside our work so long as our minds are busy thinking and worrying about it. The farmer who talks over plans for the coming week, or discusses the best markets, is really doing a part of his week-day work. The merchant who spends the hours of Sunday in reading the latest news of failures or good bargains is saving time, and thus doing a part of his regular daily work. Everyone who permits his mind to dwell on secular affairs, and makes them his chief subjects of conversation on Sunday, is bringing in the cares and labors of the week to the exclusion of those higher thoughts and nobler aspirations that ought to fill the sacred hours. The ban was laid upon man's work, not as a privation, but that men might be free to turn their attention wholly to God's work; and this purpose of Sunday is frustrated if we occupy our time with worldly thoughts and words. To accomplish its divine purpose, the sanctification of Sunday must be complete. Not the hands and feet only, but the mind and the tongue and all the powers, whether physical or mental, must be turned from the things of the world, and consecrated in an especial manner to God. "Not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words."

Personal and Otherwise.

That was a far-reaching romark that a minister made not long ago: "One thing greatly needed in these times is men great enough to be small."

Mr. Moody says that Satan hates the book of Revelation more than any other book in the Bible, because it predicts his complete overthrow.

One of our exchanges says that the present rate of appointments of postmasters is from 100 to 150 a day.

London Truth estimates that the Pope's income during last year was £504,000, which is about two and a half millions of dollars.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Carondelet Street Church is moving in the matter of securing a parsonage for that station. One sister has subscribed $1,000, and another $200 as a starter. That is a splendid beginning. We hope the ladies will be speedily successful in that good work.

Our Sunday-school periodicals, for June, are on hand and as fresh and good as ever.

Thanks are tendered President Fitzhugh, of Whitworth College, for a catalogue of his flourishing institution.

Rev. B. S. Rayner will preach the commencement sermon for the Tylertown Normal Institute, Sunday, June 2.

We are pained and distressed beyond measure to hear of the death of Rev. R. B. Crawford, of the Alabama Conference, which occurred, last week, at Enfaula, Ala.

The trustees of the Gretna Church have concluded to build at once, and have adopted the plans and specifications submitted by W. G. Evans, architect, for a building that will seat 250 people. We congratulate the young architect, son of our presiding elder, upon the beauty of his plan, and the church on the prospect of so soon having a domicile. Nearly all the money needed for the building is on hand. We hope our generous people will supply the deficiency, so that there may not be a dollar of encumbrance.

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. O. L. Savage writes as follows: "The second Quarterly Conference of Faisenia and New Salem charge, Greenville district, North Mississippi Conference, was held at New Salem, May 18 and 19. Rev. R. M. Standifer, P. E., in the chair. The day was bright and beautiful on the eighteenth, and the people all turned out en masse. Dinner being provided by the sisters, we had three sermons on Saturday. And the preaching was full of the Holy Ghost, and the gospel was the power of God unto salvation. Sunday, the nineteenth, was a lovely day, and the house packed morning and evening. The doors of the church were opened, and seventeen joined the church, making twenty-three this quarter. 'The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad.' The visit of our beloved presiding elder will be long remembered in this charge. The work moves on on all lines. We have paid the Bishops' fund and educational fund, and we are confident that all the claims will be promptly met by this charge. We have organized a Woman's Missionary Society on this work, and we hope it will be a factor in the salvation of this people as well as the heathen in foreign lands. The condition of this charge is very good. We are doing all we can for the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. It is a great help to me in my work. The outlook on this work is very encouraging."

—Rev. T. B. White writes from Mansfield, La: "Our church interests brightening. Congregations fine and most serious. Prayer meetings deeply interesting and well attended. Peace, harmony and love reigns. Collections for foreign missions and church extension in full and forwarded. Other collections mostly provided for. Noble Board of Stewards; pastor's salary well up; children's day a success. Our worthy Bro. J. L. Scales at the helm in Sunday-school work—a prince at it. Mansfield Female College will soon close a successful year. Zion in these regions is 'putting on her beautiful garments,' thank God. Pray for us. Come."

—Dr. W. C. Black writes as follows: "On Sunday, May 19, I had the pleasure of dedicating our new church at Currey, Miss. Currey is a new town on the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas R. R., about thirty miles above Vicksburg. It is also immediately on the famous Deer Creek, and is, therefore, in the midst of one of the most fertile regions on the globe. Currey and Rolling Fork constitute a pastoral charge, which is under the superintendency of our diligent and faithful brother, Rev. W. D. Dominick. There are now three pastoral charges within the territory which five years ago constituted Rolling Fork circuit—an evidence that Methodism, true to her history, is seeking to conquer the Mississippi swamp for Christ."

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

READINGS IN CHURCH HISTORY. By the Rev. James S. Stone, D.D. 12mo. Cloth, extra. Price, $1 50. Porter & Coates, publishers, Philadelphia.

In this volume are carefully examined and interestingly set forth the prominent periods of ecclesiastical history, and much is told of the persons, books, customs and movements which thereto belong. Ritual Poetry, Monachism, Doctrine, Architecture, Symbolism and Folklore are dealt with; and an analysis of characters such as Augustine of Hippo, Guthlac of Croyland, Thomas a Becket, Henry VIII. and George Fox, and of books such as the Inferno, Piers the Plowman, Paradise Lost, Pilgrim's Progress and the Book of Common Prayer is given. This is a good book for spare hours.

A MANUAL OF INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW TESTAMENT. By Dr. Bernard Weiss, Professor of Theology in Berlin, Germany. In two volumes, 12mo, 868 pp., cloth, $2 per volume. New York: Funk & Wagnalls.

The second volume, just issued, is now before us. It opens with a careful analysis of the Epistle to the Hebrews, and treats at some length the question of its authorship. This Epistle has been variously ascribed to Paul, Apollos, Luke, Philo, Clement, and Barnabas. Dr. Weiss thinks it morally certain that Paul was not its author, as is commonly supposed. In his judgment the strongest reasons point to Barnabas, as the writer of this remarkable book. Next follows a suggestive examination of the Revelation of John, the Brethren of Jesus, and the General Epistles of James, Jude, Peter and John. Two hundred pages are then devoted to the Historical Books of the New Testament, taking them up separately and interweaving many facts of decided interest. The volume closes with an Appendix giving a "History of the New Testament Text," involving its original language, its early manuscripts, its various versions, and its marvelous preservation. On the whole, we are compelled to admit that this is a work of vast research on the part of the writer, and, rightly studied, must be one of vast instruction to the reader.

GOD IN BUSINESS. By H. J. Latham. American News Company, New York.

The object of this book is to show, by examples given, the blessing God gives to the business of those who consecrate themselves and their business to him, and the examples show it very clearly.

PERIODICALS.

—Cassell's Family Magazine, for June, comes with a well-filled table, on which we find both solid food and dainties. Cassell & Co., New York. Price, $1 50.

—Fashion and Fancy comes from the emporium of the West, and is just such a monthly as our lady readers will be pleased with. The June number is specially inviting. St. Louis, Mo.: 610 Olive street. Price, $3.

Literary Notes.

For European tourists, the Scribners are about to issue a new and revised edition of their "Index Guide to Travel and Art Study in Europe." This is the only European guide which is illustrated, and especially devotes itself to art subjects.

The "Multum in Parvo Atlas of the World," just imported by Messrs. Scribner & Welford, is a surprising example of book-making. It contains ninety-six double-page maps, a large amount of statistics, and an index covering over 100 pages, all in shape and size for the pocket.

Rev. F. E. Clark, the able and popular president of the Christian Endeavor Society, has a new book in the press of D. Lothrop Company, entitled "The Mossback Correspondence."

Prof. Boyesen's "Vagabond Tales" include some of his strongest and breeziest stories. Of the seven included in the volume the professor himself likes best "A Disastrous Partnership."

The June number of The Century Magazine will contain an appreciative paper by Margaret J. Preston, the Southern poetess, on "General Lee After the War." She says, "Nothing could exceed the veneration and love, the trust and absolute loyalty, which people and soldiery alike had manifested towards him throughout the struggle. But it was after the war had closed that the affection of the people seemed more than ever a consecrated one."

An agreeable evidence that the popular demand for religious works of importance is not on the wane comes from the Scribners in the success which has attended their most recent theological books. Dr. Shedd's "Dogmatic Theology" has reached its second edition, while a fourth edition of Dr. Roswell Hitchcock's "Eternal Atonement" has been called for. The first volume of Dr. Vincent's "Word Studies in the New Testament" has also gone into its second edition, and Dr. Ladd's "What is the Bible?" has sold through two printings, with a third edition just ready.

Lovers of Nature should read "Leaves from an April Journal" and "The Return of the Natives," in Horace Lunt's delightful volume, "Across Lots."

Jessie Benton Fremont, in her present series of personal story-reminiscences in Wide Awake is recalling the pioneer adventures in which she and General Fremont were actors in the early mining days in California. The May number tells how once they were "Besieged."

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 23 Carondelet street.

Vanderbilt University.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

FRIDAY, JUNE 14.

Contest for the R. A. Young Prize Medal in Oratory—evening.

SATURDAY, JUNE 15.

Legal Contest Before the Moot Court, and closing exercises of the Law School—evening.

SUNDAY, JUNE 16.

Annual Commencement Sermon, by Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of Mississippi—morning at 11 o'clock.

MONDAY, JUNE 17.

Alumni and Graduates' Day; Oration by James C. McReynolds, Esq., of Nashville, Tenn.—evening.

TUESDAY, JUNE 18.

Contest among the Biblical Students for the A. L. P. Green Medal—morning. Annual Address before the Literary Societies, by Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky—evening.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19.

Commencement Day: Conferring Diplomas, Awarding Medals, and Addresses by the Faculty and Class Representatives.

Grenada Collegiate Institute.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

JUNE 16.

11 A. M.—Commencement sermon, by Rev. W. C. Black, D. D. 8 P. M.—Sermon, by Rev. J. W. Honnoll.

JUNE 17.

9 A. M.—Class Review. 8 P. M.—Entertainment by Academic and Primary Departments.

JUNE 18.

8:30 A. M.—Meeting of Trustees. 10 A. M.—Essays—English, Latin and German, by Senior Class. Annual Address by Rev. B. Carradine, D. D. Conferring Degrees. 8 P. M.—Annual Concert.

REV. THOS. J. NEWELL, A. M., President.

E. A. Seminary.

EXAMINATION AND CLOSING EXERCISES.

MAY 31, 1889.

Examination of the Primary Department. 8 P. M.—Debate by the Adelphian Society. Music and Display of Pictures.

JUNE 2.

Annual Sermon.

JUNE 3.

Examination of Preparatory Department. 8 P. M.—Elocution and Calisthenics.

JUNE 4.

Examination of Collegiate Department. 8 P. M.—Annual Concert.

JUNE 5.

9 A. M.—Art Display. 10 A. M.—Commencement Exercises, Annual Address, by Prof. F. J. Squires, of Atchison, Kan. 8 P. M.—Annual Reception.

E. A. SMITH, Principal.

Wesleyan Female Institute, Staunton, Va.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

FRIDAY, MAY 31.

Final Celebration of Lee and Jackson Literary Society; Annual Address, by Rev. Collins Denny, of Salem, Va.

SATURDAY, JUNE 1.

Art Reception, 6 to 9 P. M.

SUNDAY, JUNE 2.

11 A. M.—Commencement Sermon by Bishop A. W. Wilson, LL.D., of Baltimore. 8 P. M.—Annual sermon before the Young Ladies' Christian Association, by Rev. W. J. Young, of Alexandria, Va.

MONDAY, JUNE 3.

8 P. M.—Final Soiree of Instrumental and Vocal Music.

TUESDAY, JUNE 4.

Final Exercises: Awarding Distinctions, Medals, Conferring Degrees, etc.

WM. A. HARRIS, President.

Whitworth College.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

SUNDAY, JUNE 9.

11 A. M.—Sermon by Rev. O. P. Fitzgerald, D.D., Pacific Conference. 8 P. M.—Anniversary of Y. L. C. A. Sermon by Rev. C. W. Carter, D. D., Louisiana Conference.

MONDAY, JUNE 10.

9 A. M.—Annual meeting of the Board of Trustees. 10 A. M.—Graduating Essays and Concert. 4 P. M.—Anniversary of Alumnæ Association.

TUESDAY, JUNE 11.

10 A. M.—Annual Address by Hon. T. Marshall Miller, Attorney General of Mississippi. 11 A. M.—Recital by Musical Faculty, and Conferring Degrees, by the President.

Cleanse the scalp from scurf and dandruff; keep the hair soft and of a natural color by the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

Notice.

Holly Springs District Conference will be held at Early Grove, July 12-14. District Sunday-school Convention will convene on the eleventh at 9 A. M. Ministerial Aid Society at 8. P. M. We expect Bishop Galloway, and would like to have the editor or publisher of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. J. W. HONNOLL.

HOLLY SPRINGS, MISS., May 23, 1889.

Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, &c.

From General Albert Sidney Johnston, the great Confederate General.

FT. RUDGER, UTAH, Nov. 8, '57.

Messrs. J. & C. Maguire, St. Louis, Mo.

I have used the bottle of Maguire's Benne Plant handed me by Ass't Surgeon Dr. Kirtley Ryland, and found it a most efficacious remedy for Complaints of the bowels.

A. SIDNEY JOHNSTON.

Notice to Contractors and Builders.

Sealed proposals will be received until June 15, next, for the building of a Methodist Church, of brick and stone, on lot 121 in Yazoo City, Miss., as per plans and specifications in the hands of the Building Committee in this city, made by Benjamin H. Price, of Philadelphia. The committee reserve the right to reject any and all bids. Bonds and approved security will be required. Address all communications to

J. F. CASSELL, Chair'n Com.

Publisher's Department.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

When a married woman goes out to look after her rights, her husband is usually left at home with his wrongs.

CHANGES.—We have quite a number of orders to change the address of subscribers; some without signatures, and others who do not give the former address. Under these circumstances, change can not be made.

Since life is but a span, why should a man want a four-in-hand.

A man makes his maiden speech when he asks a young girl to carry him.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

Seaside Cottage For Rent.

An elegant home, with stoves and all heavy furniture and beds, situated on the beach, at Ocean Springs, Miss., will be rented for the Summer, or longer, at reasonable rates. The house has ten rooms; an orchard, pecan trees, a large grapery, an abundance of shade trees, an excellent bath-house, and the finest water in the place. Address C. F. E., care CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 112 Camp St.

Summer Boarders Wanted.

A family residing for Summer at Ocean Springs, in delightfully shaded home on the beach, wants a few boarders for the Summer, at moderate rates. Pears, pecans and grapes, together with fish, oysters and crabs, in abundance. For terms apply to G. H., care CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 112 Camp St., New Orleans.

Report of the Condition of the

New Orleans National Bank,

AT NEW ORLEANS,

In the State of Louisiana, at the Close of Business, May 13, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,961,691 38
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		165,794 60
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000 00
U. S. bonds to secure deposits		200,000 00
U. S. bonds on hand		1,550 00
Other stocks, bonds and mortgages		789,465 00
Due from approved reserve agents		266,678 80
Due from other national banks		379,112 59
Due from State banks and bankers		31,575 80
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		95,616 53
Current expenses and taxes paid		20,275 72
Premiums paid		47,579 13
Checks and other cash items	$1,117 07
Exchanges for Clearing-House	147,237 45
Bills of other banks	56,792 00
Fractional currency (including nickels)	220 85
Specie, including gold treasury certificates	373,165 00
Legal tender notes	240,000 00	821,822 37
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, 5 per cent. of circulation		2,250 00
Total		$4,825,441 32

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$200,000 00
Surplus fund		550,000 00
Undivided profits		118,187 75
National bank notes outstanding		34,500 00
Individual deposits subject to check	$3,327,618 64
Demand certificates of deposit	52,289 11
Certified checks	3,115 00
Cashier's checks outstanding	22,000 00
United States deposits	223,192 43
Due to other national banks	192,936 13
Due to State banks and bankers	161,272 26	3,922,763 57
Total		$4,825,441 32

STATE OF LOUISIANA, PARISH OF ORLEANS, SS.

I, WILLIAM PALFREY, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. WM. PALFREY, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of May, 1889.

GEO. W. CHRISTY, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest: ROBT. MAXWELL, CHAS. CHAFFE, A. BALDWIN, Directors.

Pure Songs

For the Sunday-School.

EDITED BY

REV. ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, D. D.,

AND

R. M. MCINTOSH.

PURE SONGS contains 176 pages, and is published in both forms of Musical Notation—Round Notes and Character Notes. It has been prepared with special reference to Sunday-school work, and we unhesitatingly announce it as the best book of hymns and tunes for Sunday-schools anywhere to be found. It abounds with songs founded on the parables, miracles and leading texts and incidents of the Holy Scriptures, making it easy to illustrate Bible instruction with song.

Single copy—Notes Edition, 35 cents by mail; Word Edition, by mail, 15 cents per copy. Music Editions, by express, at purchaser's expense, $3 60 per dozen, $10 per hundred. Word Edition, $1 20 per dozen, $10 per hundred. Specimen copy, postpaid, 35 cents. Address

J. W. BURKE & CO., MACON, GEO.

CLARK & MEADER,

—DEALERS IN—

FINE GROCERIES,

16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and

Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.

Mention this Paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.

(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.

Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.

We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address

H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN., the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,

R. L. SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.

Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As HEALTHFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, not salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad.

FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 10, 1889.

For full particulars send for Catalogues.

DR. HAYGOOD'S NEW BOOK!

"PLEAS FOR PROGRESS."

JUST OUT. 8 Vo., pp 326. PRICE $1.00, POSTAGE PAID.

DISCUSSES Negro Education and Negro Citizenship on all sides; The Education of the Masses by Government, The Christian College, The Church and the Neglected Classes, Prohibition, Prison Reform, The Social Evil, The Farm the "Bottom Fact" in a Prosperous Country, and Kindred Topics.

Address, at my risk, with $1,

A. G. HAYGOOD, JR., DECATUR, GA.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

JOHN J. ROCHESTER. J. C. HODGSON.

Rochester & Hodgson,

Auctioneers and Real Estate Agents.

Real Estate, Furniture, Mdse., Stocks, etc. Furniture Taken on Storage at Lowest Rates.

Regular Auction Sales, Monday, Wednesday, Friday.

No. 161 POYDRAS ST., New Orleans.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,

The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters

FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.

Dauphine Street, Two Blocks from Canal Street.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

Mention this paper.

LOUISIANA

STEAM

SASH, BLIND AND DOOR

FACTORY,

299, 301, 303, 305, 307 Gravier Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

ROBERTS & CO., Proprietors.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Flooring Ceiling, Newels, Balusters, etc., always on hand or made to order.

Orders promptly attended to.

Plantation Cabins a Specialty.

BRANCH OFFICE: No. 52 CARONDELET ST.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,

Homeopathic Physician,

288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.

Cases treated by letter.

MUSIC and FLOWERS

Go well together. Prepare to enjoy the genial season by learning Summer Songs, and playing restful Summer Idyls found in abundance on the pages of books published by DITSON COMPANY.

In our new Popular Song Collection ($1) are found such songs as "Happy Birds," "Hunting 4-leafed Clover," "An Old Garden," "At My Window," and 32 others.

In our new Choice Sacred Solos ($1) are found "Beulah Land," "Good Shepherd," "When the Mists," "Home So Blest," and 30 other songs of great beauty.

In our new Popular Piano Collection ($1) are many pieces that sound well among the trees, as "Deut de Leon," "Alpine Shepherd," "Forget-me-not," "Fairy Echo," "Chapel in the Mountains," and 20 other pleasing pieces.

In our new Popular Dance Collection ($1) there are many new and sparkling Waltzes, Polkas, etc.

Spend a V in providing such books as the above and also the genial COLLEGE SONGS (50 cents), COLLEGE SONGS for BAND ($1), for Guitar ($1), or WAR SONGS (50 cts.), or GOOD OLD SONGS WE USED TO SING ($1), or one or more of our excellent Glee or Chorus collections. (See Catalogues.)

GUITARS, BANJOS, MANDOLINS, of the best quality, for sale at reasonable prices.

Any Book Mailed for Retail Price.

Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.

C. H. DITSON & CO., 867 Broadway, New York.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,

Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,

OFFICE, 108 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats.

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

Discount to Preachers.

H. B. STEVENS,

OUTFITTER,

122 and 124 Canal St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Clothing, Hats, Shirts and Furnishing Goods for all ages and all sizes. Fat suits and lean suits for men and boys. Always depend on us for the largest variety and lowest prices.

H. GARDES, Pres't. W. W. GIRAULT, Cashier.

American National Bank,

No. 47 CAMP ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

W. W. CARRE,

LUMBER MERCHANT

AND MANUFACTURER OF

PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,

Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,

NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

ADAMS' HATS!

26 ST. CHARLES ST.

Standard Guano and Chemical Man'f'g Co.,

SUCCESSORS TO STERN'S
Fert. and Chem.
Manufacturing Com'y

MANUFACTURERS OF High Grade
BONE FERTILIZERS,
PURE
GROUND BONE,
ACID PHOSPHATE,
KAINIT,
Etc.

14 UNION STREET.
New Orleans, La.
Write for Agricultural Hand-Book. Mention this paper.

Artificial Limbs,
Trusses and Surgical Appliances Made to Order and Adjusted
—BY—
A. McDERMOTT,
200 - - - ST. CHARLES STREET - - - - - - 200
Bet. Julia and St. Joseph.

ESTABLISHED 1868.

A. A. WOODS'
General Insurance Agency,
184 GRAVIER STREET,
OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.
Mention this paper.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.
No. 78 CAMP STREET.

CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - -	$400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - -	$413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - -	$459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y

J. B. WOODS, JOS. BAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, JNO. J. BARR, ANDREW STEWART, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. B. LEVERT, E. BORLAND, J. BORN, F. STRINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.

Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,
14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000.
Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Robt Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. B. Wheeler, B. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, F. J. Cockburn, B. T. Cottam, J. A. Braschman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.
New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company
OF NEW ORLEANS.
54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.
John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Meage, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,
General Insurance Agents
—FOR—
FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING COMPANIES.

Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.

64 BARONNE ST., N. O.
When writing, mention this paper.

Crescent Insurance Co.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

CASH CAPITAL.....$300,000

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849.

Annual and Term Policies Issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. LYMAN, President.
JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-Pres.
CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.
Mention this paper.

Liverpool and London and Globe INSURANCE COMPANY.

Largest Fire Office in the World.

Losses paid by Chicago Fire, 1871, $8,239,091.
Losses Paid by Boston Fire, 1872, $1,429,729.

All Losses Paid in Cash without Discount as Soon as Adjusted.

Losses and all matters of business settled by officers and directors in New Orleans without reference to any other office, the same as with local companies.

Directors in New Orleans—NEWTON BUCKNER, Chairman; RODOLPH WOLTZE, JOHN W. EAGLESON, A. DELVAILLE.

CLARENCE F. LOW, Ass't Res't Sec.
HENRY V. OGDEN, Resident Secretary.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

VULCAN
Fireproof Paint

IS INDORSED BY THE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICIALS OF NEW ORLEANS AND NEW YORK.

All Colors. Adapted to the finest as well as rough work. SHINGLE ROOFS MADE ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF and preserved from decay. Write for circulars.

H. R. GIFFNEY,
41 Union Street, New Orleans.

Persons writing Mr. H. R. Giffney concerning Vulcan Paint will please enclose him this advertisement.

29 - - CHARTRES ST. - - 29

F. R. HARDON
Can supply everything in
Fashionable Millinery,
To the Entire Satisfaction of Patrons.
Orders Promptly Filled.
Remember the number.
29 - - - CHARTRES ST. - - - 29

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.
COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,
BUILDERS,
OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.
287 EIGHTH ST.,
Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Both building and repairing promptly attended to.

LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES.

KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

LADIES
Enamel your Ranges twice a year, tops once a week and you have the finest-polished stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove Dealers.

Our Young People.

FATHER AT PLAY.

Such fun as we had one rainy day
When father was home and helped us to play!

And made a ship, and bolsted a sail,
And crossed the sea in a fearful gale.

But we hadn't sailed into Boston Town,
When captain and crew and vessel went down.

Down, down in a jolly wreck,
With the captain rolling under the deck.

But he broke out again with a lion's roar,
And we on two legs, he on four,

Ran out of the parlor, and up the stair,
And frightened mamma and baby there.

So mamma said she'd be policemen now,
And tried to rest us. She didn't know how;

Then the lion laughed and forgot to roar,
Till we chased him out of the nursery door;

And then he turned to a pony gay,
And carried us all on his back away.

Whippity, hickity, kickity, ho!
If we hadn't fun, then I don't know!

Till we tumbled off and he cantered on,
Never stopping to see if his load was gone;

And I couldn't tell any more than he
Which was Charley and which was me,

Or which was Towser, for all in a mix,
You'd think three people had turned to six.

Till Towser's tail had caught in a door;
He wouldn't hurrah with us any more.

And mamma came the romping to quiet,
And told us a story to break up the riot.

—Sunday Magazine.

MR. EDITOR: As I have never written to your valuable paper before, I thought I would write and let my name be enrolled in the children's department. My papa takes your paper, and I always read the children's letters, every week, as soon as the paper comes from the office. I go to Sunday-school and every-day school also. Mrs. Reynolds is my Sunday-school teacher. My day teacher's name is Mr. Britt. Bro. Lyons is our pastor. I think he has neglected us. He only preached twice for us this year; but I suppose he has had so many appointments to attend to he had to leave some of them off. The second Sunday is our day on Lamourie, at four P. M. I hope he will be with us next Sunday. One of my sisters is in Mansfield, going to school in the college. I do hope and trust my letter will not reach the old waste-basket. I remain, as ever,

Your new letter writer.

BELLE PICKELS.

LAMOURIE, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: As I have never written to your valuable paper, I thought I would write. I am a little girl eight years old, and enjoy reading the little children's column very much. I go to school to Mr. I. C. Price, and I like him very much. My studies are first reader and spelling book. Bro. Huffpauir is our pastor, and I like him very much. This year will be three years he has been preaching for us, and I hope he will be sent back next year. I am a member of the Sunday-school. Can any of the little cousins tell me which is the shortest chapter in the Bible? I will close for fear of the waste-basket. I am,

Your little friend.

ELISABETH HARROW.

HOLLOWAY, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: This is my first letter to your valuable paper, which we all read with great interest. I am a little girl eleven years old, and think it would be good to see something printed from this neighborhood. I go to Sunday-school at Bradley's Chapel every Sunday. Bro. Bradley is our preacher, and my brother, Hugh Bell, is superintendent. We have got over forty members and have always a right good turn out. I love my teacher, and like always to learn some new hyms. They have such pretty music. On the week days I have to go to school at home. I take music lessons. Please don't let the waste-basket get acquainted with my letter—that would be too bad. I am,

Your friend,

ANNIE BELL.

OAK RIDGE, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: As it has been so long since I last wrote to the ADVOCATE, I will now write. I have four sisters and one brother. We go to school at home to a young lady by the name of Miss Ida Henderson, and we all love her dearly. Bro. V. D. Skipper is our preacher in charge, and every one likes him very much. We have a very nice Sunday-school for the size of the place. I will answer Lera Adams' question: Lamech was the father of Noah. Now, I will ask a question: Where is the word. "purloin" found in the Bible? With many kind wishes to the dear old ADVOCATE, I remain,

Your little friend,

KATE E. GRAMLING.

MAYERSVILLE, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: As I have just seen my first letter in print, I thought I would write again. I am afraid my last letter got to the waste-basket. I am glad to say that we have a nice Sunday-school, but sorry to say we have not any prayer meeting. Each scholar gets a lesson-sheet and a Sunday-School Visitor every Sunday, and there is nice reading in them. I always like to see Saturday come, for I like to read the little cousins' letters. The people are talking about building a parsonage down here, which I hope they will. I will answer Lera Adams' question: Noah was Methuselah's son. I will close for fear of the waste-basket. With many good wishes to you and the little cousins, I am,

Your true friend,

ALICE HARROW.

HOLLOWAY, Louisiana.

Faithful.

Two boys were at work rigging a small sail-boat. It lay in an inlet on the New Jersey coast, and had been hired from them for the season by a stranger from New York.

"Come along, Bob!" said one of the boys. "It's all right now. We'll be too late to see the ball match, if we don't start at once."

Bob had taken down some of the old ropes, and had rigged the boat with bran new ones. The halyards he had not yet examined.

"They're all right," urged his companion trying them—"strong enough to last for years."

"No; I'll put in new halyards. I promised to make a thorough job of it."

"Then you'll miss the game. I'm off!"

Tom ran across the field: Bob hesitated as he looked after him. It was a sharp disappointment to miss the game. The old halyards were worn, but they were still stout.

"They'll stand this summer well enough!" muttered Bob.

Then, with a quick, decisive movement, he cut them, and proceeded to put in new ropes. "I'll make this job thorough," he said.

That very evening the New York gentlemen took a party of his friends out for a sail, among them several persons whose lives was especially valuable to the community, and whose death would have been a calamity. When they were a mile from the land, a fierce squall struck the boat. They steered toward the shore. The boat was carrying too much sail for such a wind.

"If your gaff gives way, we are gone!" said a physician in the party, in a low voice.

"It all depends on the halyards. They are new. But there's a terrific strain on them."

Every eye in the boat was upon the short, knotted ropes. They creaked ominously; but they bore the strain, and in a short time the boat was driven up on the beach. Bob's stout bits of new rope had saved the lives of all on board.

Who would not be particular about a rope if he knew beyond a question that human lives would hang upon it within twenty-four hours? The truly faithful souls are those who do their duty, no matter how unimportant it may seem in itself, or how remote and uncertain in its results.—Youth's Companion.

WHILE there is life there is hope for the Consumptive—that is, if Pe-ru-na is taken.

PE-RU-NA has met with the most marked success in severe cases of Typhoid Fever.

To be forever seeing when your boy yields to a temptation, and never discovering when he resists one, is the surest way to promote the faults and discourage the virtues.—Lyman Abbott.

BEAUTY of Skin & Scalp RESTORED by the CUTICURA Remedies.

NOTHING IS KNOWN TO SCIENCE AT all comparable to the CUTICURA REMEDIES in their marvelous properties of cleansing, purifying and beautifying the skin, and in curing torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; RESOLVENT, $1; SOAP, 25c. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Dull Aches, Pains, and Weaknesses instantly relieved by the CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster. 25c.

Household.

Hurry.

Some people are always in a hurry, and generally always behind-hand. The two go together; for hurry is the child of a state of mind rather than of a train of circumstances. The methodical man is never in a hurry. He moves along in his orbit, as Goethe says the stars do, "without haste and without rest." He knows what is first to be done, what next, and how long each item to be attended to will require. He sees in an exigency what can be omitted or deferred, and what must be done according to the programme he has made. If he is due at a certain train he is there on time, with five or ten minutes to spare. If a certain task is to be done by a certain date, the work is ready a little in advance of the date.

All this comes of a habit of forecasting, planning out, of working daily according to a settled programme, of allowing for each tick of the pendulum a second to tick in.

If the person who is always in a hurry will sit quietly down and make a list of what he has to do, what must be done, what may be omitted, and of the time each task will probably take, of the limit beyond which work can not be deferred, and will then simply work up to his programme, he will find no need to be in a hurry.

Some housekeepers are always in a hurry about breakfast or dinner, or getting to church, or having their sewing done, or making calls, or something else; and they do not realize that hurry is in their state of mind, is within them, and not caused by circumstances outside of them.—New York Christian Advocate.

"For a good, every-day household angel, give us the woman who laughs," says an exchange. This does not mean one who simpers and giggles, but one who has a uniformly cheerful spirit, and is able to discover the silver lining to every dark cloud. Her bread may not always be the lightest, nor her furniture spotless of dust, nor the week's mending all completed on Saturday night; but she does not fret over these shortcomings, nor make other people uncomfortable because of them. Cheerfulness, like other qualities, is to a certain extent a matter of temperament; but it can be cultivated by even the most morose, and it creates a delightful home atmosphere. As a rule it is the largest and most comprehensive natures who are the most hopeful and trustful and helpful. They are the people to whom we instinctively turn for sympathy when burdens press heavily. We feel that they can teach us the secret of walking bravely beneath heavy loads without repining, or fretting, or wasting our energies in useless lamentation.

Occasionally a child seems to be born with an instinct for order, but in the average household the art of taking care of one's own things, and putting them in the proper place, is a lesson which the mother is obliged to teach over and over again before the habit becomes fixed. Yet, by such seeming trifles as the misplacing of a book or garment, the whole household may be thrown out of gear, and many besides the offender made to suffer inconvenience. Some mothers allow the boys and girls to be as careless as they please for a time, and then try to repair the mischief by taking a day to "set things to right." It is better never to let them get into disorder by insisting that each individual shall hang up his or her clothing, and put hooks and phythings where they belong. It may be necessary, sometimes, to call children from their play in order to enforce the rule, and, doubtless, there will be grumbling and tears on their part, but firmness will prove a kindness in the end.—Congregationalist.

What wrought the change? This woman's face
Is ruddy with a rose's grace,
Her eye is bright,
Her heart is light.
Ah, truly 'tis a goodly sight.
A few brief months ago her cheek
Was pallid and her step was weak.
"The end is near
For her, I fear,"
Sighed many a friend who held her dear.
I can tell you what wrought the change in her. She was told by a friend, who, like her, had suffered untold misery from a complication of female troubles, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would certainly cure her. This friend "knew whereof she spoke," for she had been cured by the remedy she advised her friend to use. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and tells her friends that Dr. Pierce deserves the universal gratitude of womankind for having given it this infallible to give satisfaction in every case or money refunded.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, one a dose. Cure headache constipation and indigestion.

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most effectual means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels resumed their natural and regular action, so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

Excellent

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Merlin, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hazel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Ayer's Pills,
PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold By all Dealers in Medicine.

NEW SHEET MUSIC
SONGS.
SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES.
An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto.
WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW
A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song.
NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING.
A pleasing song, not difficult, and a number that sings itself. Price, 35cts.
PIANO MUSIC.
GALATEA GAVOTTE
A bright and elevating composition.
MARCH OF TRIUMPH.
A stirring and excellent Military March.
ALBUMBLATT.
A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the nocturne. Price, 30cts.
Any of the above, or any other sheet music, to be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.
PUBLISHED BY
THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati,
And 19 East 16th St., New York.

BROWN'S FRENCH DRESSING
—FOR—
LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S BOOTS AND SHOES.
Awarded highest honors
Phila., 1876 Melbourne,
Berlin, 1877 Frankfort,
Paris, 1878 Amsterdam,
New Orleans, 1884-5
Paris Medal on every bottle.
Beware of Imitations.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Brown Bros. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle and genuine.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
ACT LIKE MAGIC
ON A WEAK STOMACH.
25cts. a Box.
OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

For Gas or Electric Lights.
BAILEY'S
COMPOUND high speed silver-plated corrugated glass
REFLECTORS,
A wonderful invention for lighting CHURCHES, Halls, etc. Handsome designs. Satisfaction guaranteed. Catalogue and price list free. BAILEY REFLECTOR CO. 118 Wood st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE PEOPLE SA
Go where you will in this broad land, you will hear RHEUMATIC SPECIFIC is unequaled to relieve every case of Rheumatism, and in nine cases out of ten cures. Sold by druggists, $1 per bottle. Compounded by Temple Medicine Co., Hamilton

HINDERCORNS.
The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co.

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC
From its combination of valuable medicines, is peculiarly adapted to the essence of Ginger in the cure of Cramps, Colic, Dyspepsia and bowel disorders, and is invaluable for Throat and Lung troubles. Use it without delay if you have Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Weak Lungs, etc.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The only remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers can make from $100 to $150 per month. Best inducements for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. For particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered. Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bells
CHIMES AND PEALS for Churches.
Send for Price and Catalogue to
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Baltimore, Md.
Mention this paper.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. Fully WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CANCER and Tumors CURED without the knife. Book free. Drs. GRATIGNY & GRATIGNY, No. 143 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

CALLAHAN—DOWD.—At the residence of the bride's mother, Martha Dowd, in Neshoba city, Miss., April 18, by Rev. J. A. Vance, Mr. J. K. Callahan and Miss Marlia Anna Dowd, both of Neshoba county, Miss.

McCARTY—McGEE.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Henry H. McGee, in Itawamba county, Miss., by Rev. J. C. Lowe, Mr. Henry McCarty to Miss Sallie McGee.

ERVIN—ETHREDGE.—At the residence of the bride's father, Dr. Ethredge, near Crystal Springs, April 21, 1889, by Rev. M. L. Burton, Mr. Thomas Ervin to Miss Mary M. Ethredge, all of Copiah county.

MERRICK—LOMBARD.—At Christ Church, Methesday, May 15, 1889, by Rev. Dr. Davis Simms, Miss Katharine Lombard, daughter of Captain E. H. Lombard, to Mr. Edwin T. Merrick, Jr., all of this city.

PATTERSON—CONNERLY.—At the residence of Capt. H. A. Bird, Tyrus, Miss., May 21, 1889, by Rev. Robert H. Howner, Mr. J. Ellison Patterson, of Wesson, to Miss Lillian Connerly, of Tyrus, Miss.

BOWEN—HOBN.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. James McGhee, of Cherokee county, Ala., May 16, 1889, by Revs. J. H. Mitchell and S. R. Tester, Rev. James A. Bowen, of North Mississippi Conference, and Mrs. S. E. Horn, of Rome, Ga.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

FLOWERS—Sister SALLIE A. FLOWERS, wife of Hon. J. E. Flowers, was born in Pickens county, Ala., November 5, 1841, and died March 9, 1889. Sister Flowers was baptized in the Presbyterian Church in infancy. In early life she was converted and received into the church. She was educated at the Female Institute, Columbus, Miss., graduating with honor in 1859. After her marriage she joined the Methodist Church at Friendship, in Montgomery county, Miss., and lived a faithful, consecrated Christian life, dying in confidence and esteem of all who knew her. Her life was given to her family and the church. She was the mother of seven children, and one had only to enter that home to know that an intelligent Christian woman presided there. A more devoted wife and mother you seldom see. It was refreshing and encouraging to be there and watch the influence of that home and enjoy the kind hospitalities she so freely dispensed. She would always sacrifice her comfort for others. We miss her so much. Her seat was never vacant at the church unless providentially hindered. She was intelligent and of attractive, graceful person, affectionate and kind.

Her remains were laid in their last resting-place in presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends. May God bless Bro. Flowers and his five boys, and bring them in the end to wife and mother in the home of the blessed!

W. S. LAGRONE.

MARTIN—JAMES W. MARTIN was born November 26, 1855; was converted and joined the Methodist Church in 1879; died April 21, 1889.

For two years the wasting hand of consumption rested heavily upon him, and many useful lessons of submission were gathered by those who watched his patient struggle with that dread disease. Incapacitated for business, the last few months of his life were spent quietly waiting and watching for the messenger of death. In a recent letter to the writer he expressed himself thus: "I am young and sometimes wish I could live the usual time allotted to man in a useful way; but since that can not be, I try to be patient, and feel reconciled to my lot. I know that my probation on earth is short, and I hope to be at rest and suffer no more." Many comforting expressions that fell from his lips are now treasured by loved ones, which serve as balm to their wounded hearts, rendering it impossible to forget him, whose soul, though fled from earth, seems yet to speak in strains that can not die. Meekness, submission, and Christian fortitude characterized his last days, and, when the death-angel came, there was no terror or shrinking back, but, quietly reclining in his chair, he fell asleep in Jesus at the early dawn of a bright Easter Sunday. Sadly we laid him away in the silent city of the dead, and, weeping beside his new-made grave, we felt that "all is not here of our beloved and blessed."

NEILL.—MARY ADALINE NEILL, wife of F. M. Neill, and daughter of Marcus and Patsy Alexander, fell on sleep, October 25, 1888. The deceased was born in Mecklenburg county, N. C., March 7, 1830, and with her parents moved to Montrose, Miss., where she died in great peace, October 25, 1888, having lived a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church more than thirty years. She left a kind husband and five grown children, also grandchildren and other relatives and friends to mourn for her; yet we can truly say, "They weep not as those who have no hope."

Your friend, E. BURTON.

HARRISON—Died, at Gallman, Miss., April 7, 1889, Mrs. HARRIET M. HARRISON (nee Norman). Sister Harrison was born January 25, 1855; joined the Methodist Church while young; was married to Mr. J. D. Harrison, December 15, 1879, with whom she lived till her death. I visited her a few days before she was called to her reward, and she expressed herself as perfectly resigned to the will of God. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn the loss of a wife and mother. May they each have grace to so live, that they may meet again in heaven!

M. L. BURTON.

LYONS—Mrs. LOUISA JOHNSON, the widow of Gabriel Lyons, who departed this life in 1876, died at the residence of her son, J. C. Lyons, near Plaquemine Bruleq, La., May 4, 1889. Sister Lyons was about seventy-three years old. She was mother of four sons and two daughters. Three of her sons are yet living. Crawford, Offute, and Dr. J. J. Lyons, of New Orleans. This dear old lady joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, some thirty years ago, and was ever a faithful, consistent member. Her home was a living demonstration of hospitality, especially during her husband's life, and many were the ministers of the gospel who lodged with them and found comfort, rest and hearts full of sympathy and love. Sister Lyons was a kind, generous-hearted neighbor, and a great nurse for the sick and suffering. She has now gone home to live with Jesus, where there shall be no sickness and death. She died as she had lived—trusting in Jesus.

Let her sons remember, while never again shall they see that mother's face on earth, that she is that same precious mother, but now in heaven, and they may meet her there. God bless the bereaved family!

R. M. BLOCKER, Pastor.

Modern Battles.

It is not uninteresting to state what have been the bloodiest battles of the last 100 years, that is, to compute the percentage of loss to the numbers engaged. Within the allotted time the Napoleonic battles come first. The battle of Lodi, Bonaparte's first brilliant success, was simply the daring passage of a brigade, and does not enter into the computation. Arcola was the most sanguinary struggle of the Italian campaign. The forces engaged numbered about 70,000, and the loss about 25,000, or about 35 per cent. At Rivoli there were 80,000 men engaged, and the loss was 40,000, but 20,000 of these consisted of Austrians who surrendered to Napoleon, so that the real loss was only 25 per cent. After Bonaparte's return from Egypt he fought the battle of Marengo. In its results this was one of the most momentous engagements in history, but all accounts agree that it was the worse planned and worse fought of all Bonaparte's victories. There were 60,000 men engaged, and the loss was 17,000, or about 28 per cent. At the battle of Austerlitz, which by many is considered Napoleon's most brilliant victory, the French and Austro-Russian armies numbered 210,000 men, and the loss was 40,000, or about 18 per cent. At Jena-Auerstadt there were 325,000 men engaged, and the loss was 40,000, or about 12 per cent. At Borodino there were 170,000 men in battle, and 80,000 were killed and wounded, amounting to more than 47 per cent. At Leipsic there were 500,000 men in the battle, which lasted three days, and the loss was 110,000, or 22 per cent. At Waterloo 140,000 men were engaged, and the loss was 44,000, or 24 per cent. In the Crimean war there were 125,000 men at the battle of Inkerman, and the casualties amounted to 25,000, or 20 per cent. At Magenta there were 225,000 men, the loss was 11 per cent., or about 25,000. At Solferino there were 250,000, and the loss was 40,000, or 16 per cent. At Sadowa the hostile forces numbered 125,000, and 70,000, or 16 per cent. were killed and wounded. At Gravelotte there were 450,000 men in the encounter, of whom 35,000, or about 8 per cent., were killed and wounded. At Shiloh the armies numbered 90,000, and the loss was 30,000, or one-third. At Fredericksburg there were 180,000, and the loss was 20,000, or 11 per cent. At Antietam there were 150,000, and the loss was 20,000, or about 13 per cent. At Chickamauga there were 105,000, and the loss was 30,000, or 29 per cent. At Chancellorsville there were 150,000, and the loss was 30,000, or 20 per cent. At Gettysburg there were 160,000, and the loss amounted to 57,000, or 39 per cent. Thus the figures show that Borodino was the bloodiest battle of modern times, with Gettysburg in the second place.

The greatest philosopher living is the governor of the Danish colony of Greenland. He is not numbered among those nervous, restless news devourers who can not breakfast without their morning paper or sleep comfortably unless they have seen the latest "extra." He receives by the ship which brings him his annual supplies copies of the daily papers of Copenhagen for the year preceding. He arranges these papers in the order of their dates, and then quietly and calmly reads a paper each day, as though it was fresh from the press. He is sometimes strongly tempted to peer into futurity by reading some papers ahead when he comes across interesting news, but he resists the temptation, no matter how anxious he is to know the fate of some measure. One day's paper for each day is his rule, and so at the end of the year he is thoroughly familiar with the news of the preceding year. He says he is just as happy as though he pulled each day's paper off the press.—Interior.

Listen Now.

It is on the principle we are eventually induced to accept an oft-repeated song that we present to your attention these modest little bulletins of Compound Oxygen.

DECATUR, Ga., July 29, 1888.

"My son is now in good health. He has had no attack of bronchitis since taking Compound Oxygen.

MRS. A. A. CONN.

MAPLE VALLEY, Wis., May 14, 1887.

"Compound Oxygen has saved me again with God's blessing, and I feel very thankful to Him, and to you, of course. MRS. G. M. JUDD.

GREENFIELD, Ohio, April 28, 1887.

"My complicated disease is evidently giving way to Compound Oxygen. Am better in every respect. MRS. B. T. GRISWOLD.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

Ozone.

Ozone—active oxygen—is believed to be a product of plant life; especially, according to Dr. Anders, the product of opening blossoms. As ozone is believed to be the agent that destroys the germs of disease, or, perhaps, prevents their active development, the relation of plants to the public health assumes a new interest. Everything, in fact, relating to the production of ozone, or to its presence and action in the atmosphere becomes a question of supreme importance. A very valuable paper by Dr. J. D. Plunkett, of Nashville, Tenn., entitled "Ozone in its Relations to the Public Health," has been issued by the Tennessee State Board of Health at Nashville. It gathers together a large number of facts bearing on the question, and gives details of many new observations made under the direction of the Board. The general belief among people of science that the prevalence of epidemics and the absence of ozone in the atmosphere run parallel with each other is strongly confirmed. There was a marked deficiency of ozone in the atmosphere at Marseilles during the existence of cholera there, and in one hospital where artificial ozone was provided the death-rate was low. The fatality was found to be greatest always in proportion to the smallest proportion of atmospheric ozone, and when a large supply came with a south-west wind the malady ceased. The influence of a thunder shower on vegetation is well-known to be wonderful, and the report says that after thunder showers the atmosphere always presents a marked addition to its ozone, and instances are given where epidemics at once ceased after thunder showers. The atmospheric fragrance so perceptible after a summer thunder shower is referred to the increase of ozone.—Independent.

COMPRESSED AIR IN PARIS.—The use of compressed air for the distribution of power in Paris promises to attain a great development. The system was first inaugurated in 1879 for circulating uniform time by pneumatic clocks, which have met with such favor that no less than 7,800 of the clocks were in operation at the close of last October. It was not until 1886 that compressed air was employed for other purposes, but there are now 34 miles of mains in action for industrial power in addition to 40 miles of pipes for the time service. On October 1, 1888, these mains supplied 400 horse-power for general manufacturing and trade purposes, and about 600 horse-power for electric lighting; while between October 31 and December 20 the air delivered for power increased about 350 horse-power. In addition to operating numerous electric lighting stations, air is supplied to 13 sewing machine factories, to four ice manufacturers, to 39 turners, to 16 printers, to 35 saw and moulding mills, and to 86 miscellaneous industries. The efficiency of this system of distribution of power is estimated by M. Joseph Francis at 46 per cent. if the air is employed cold; at 64 per cent. if the air is sent out at a temperature of about 400 degrees Fahrenheit, and at 87 per cent. if water is injected into the heated air.

THE ILLITERATE POPULATION.—A census of the illiterates in the various countries of the world, recently published in the Statistische Monatsschrift, puts the three Slavic States of Rumania, Servia, and Russia at the head of the list, with about 80 per cent. of the population unable to read and write. Of the Latin-speaking races, Spain heads the list with 63 per cent., followed by Italy with 48 per cent., France and Belgium having about 15 per cent. The illiterates in Hungary number 43 per cent., in Austria 39, and in Ireland 21. In England they are 13 per cent., in Holland 10 per cent., in the United States (white population) 8 per cent., and in Scotland 7 per cent. Among the purely Teutonic States there is a marked reduction in the percentage of illiterates. The highest is in Switzerland, 2.5; in the whole German Empire, it is but 1 per cent.; while in Sweden, Denmark, Bavaria, Baden, and Wurtemberg there is practically no one who can not read and write.

A fair trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, salt rheum, or any affection caused by impure blood, or low state of the system, will be sufficient to convince any one of the superior and peculiar curative powers of this medicine. Buy it of your druggist. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Teacher.—If by the use of

Wolff's ACME Blacking

you save one pair of Shoes a year, and a bottle at 15 cents lasts three months, for how many years blacking will one year's saving in Shoe leather pay?

Any child sees at a glance how WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING saves in two directions at once. It is the cheapest blacking, because through the saving of shoes it pays for itself.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

Sold by all dealers, Harness dealers included.

WALL PAPER

In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty. WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES, WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS, UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.

Framing Neatly Done.

PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS, RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.

EDWARD HEATH,

Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

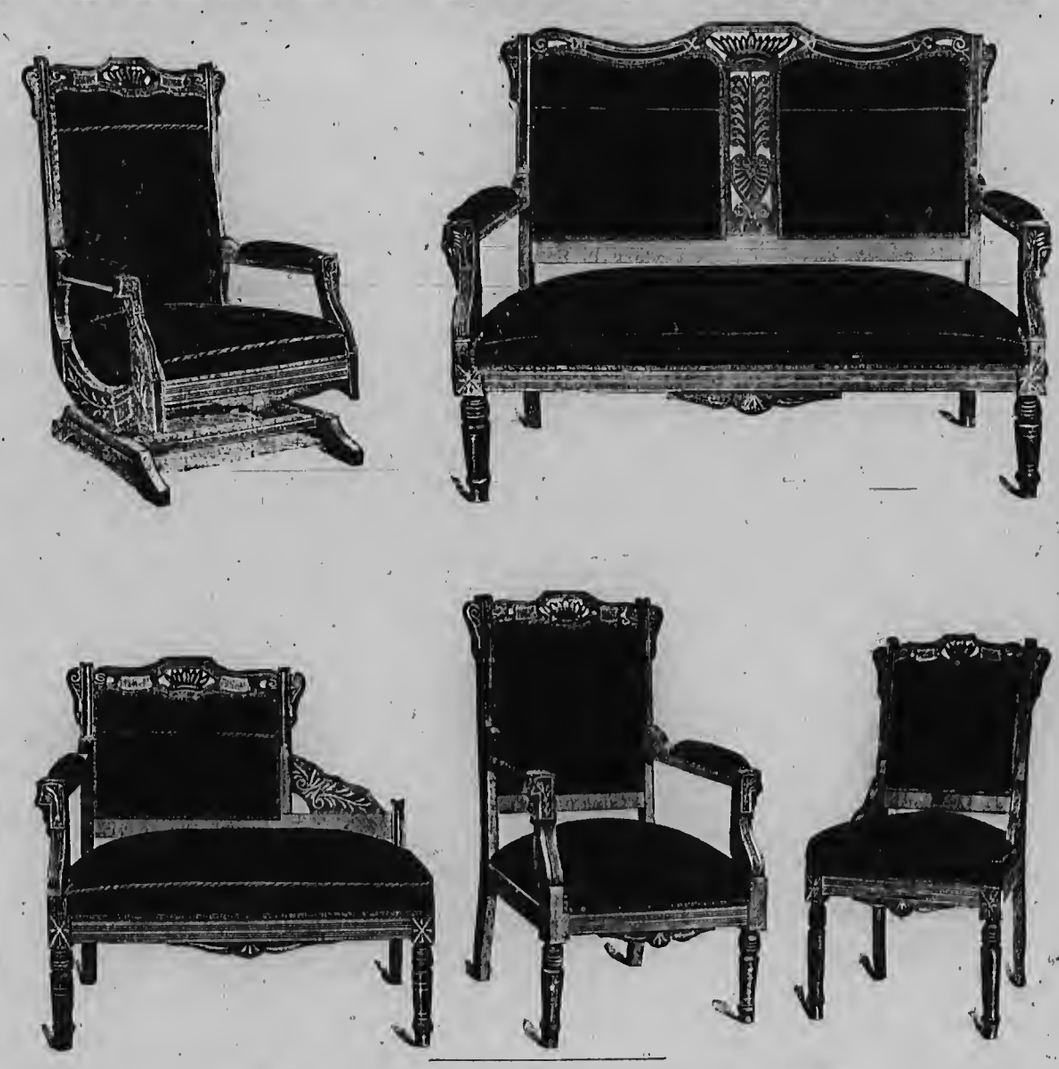
MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.

Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00

Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in Illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00

Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00

Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00

Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00

Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50

Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00

Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00

Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00

Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.

CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.

Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.

☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood,"
"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"
and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.

W. B. SCHMIDT. F. M. ZIEGLER. JAS. J. SCHMIDT
SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Mention this paper.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

WANTED at once, everywhere, an Agent, Man or Woman. Profitable business. Liberal Pay. All time not necessary. Special inducement to TEACHERS and STUDENTS for Summer. Give references. R. H. WOODWARD & Co., Baltimore, Md.

They Praise All Pe-ru-na.

Why? Because it does what it is advertised to do. As a Tonic it has no superior, while it never fails to cure any curable case of Consumption and all other Lung Troubles, Neuralgia, Diseases of Heart, Stomach and Liver, Cholera Morbus and Infantum, Bright's Disease, Scarlet, Malarial and Typhoid Fever, Acute Diseases, Skin Diseases, and all Female Diseases. Thousands testify to its efficacy. Read the testimonials in Dr. Hartman's "Ills of Life," obtained free of the Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio. PE-RU-NA is sold by all druggists. $1 a bottle; 6 for $5. Manufactured by
THE PERUNA MED. CO., Columbus, O.

Lung Troubles

HIRES
25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING
ROOT BEER
The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.
Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.
C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD
HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA
for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Tiers on large Gins. Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars
A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

PIANOS $150 to $1500 UNIVERSITY ORGANS $55 to $500
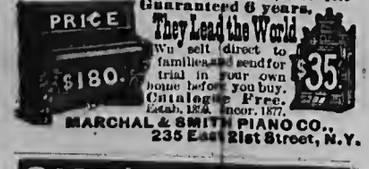
Guaranteed 6 years.



We sell direct to families and send for trial in your own home before you buy. Catalogue Free. Estab. 1858. Incor. 1877.
MARCHAL & SMITH PIANO CO.,
235 East 21st Street, N.Y.

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

BUGGIES & HARNESS
WE CUT THE PRICES
$22 Cart. $12.60
$50 Buggy. $30.50
$ 9 Harness $ 4.75
for CASH to introduce our work. Address with stamp
U.S. BUGGY & CART CO., CINCINNATI, O.
Special discount when sold to the Clergy.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

A St. Louis and San Francisco train was derailed near Sullivan, Mo., by the removal of the spikes and fish plates in a curve, and forty-five persons seriously injured.

Henry W. Sage, an Ithica, N. Y., millionaire, has promised a $300,000 endowment for the Cornell College library. This makes the total of his gifts to the university $1,000,000.

The Baltimore gambling houses are being investigated by the grand jury, with a prospect of the indictment and trial of the proprietors.

The trustees of the Hartford, Ct., Theological Seminary have voted to open all courses of the institution to women on the same terms as to men. It is the first institution of the kind in the country to undertake theological training for women.

A number of points in Indiana report a heavy white frost on May 23, which did considerable damage to fruit and vegetables. The wheat which is heading out is also somewhat injured.

As the east-bound passenger train on the Texas and Pacific railroad reached the outskirts of Dallas, on May 24, two masked men with drawn revolvers entered the express car, beat the messenger, took his keys and robbed the safe of $1,500, pulled the bell cord, and when the train slowed up jumped off and escaped.

The Gulf Coast Baptist Convention, in session at Biloxi, on May 20, decided against admitting female delegates.

The Confederate graves at Lenisville, Ky., were decorated on May 25. A large number went out to the cemetery and engaged in the services. A thousand Marechal Neil roses were sent from Mississippi for the occasion.

The weather during the week has been favorable for all growing crops throughout the Northwest, the central valleys and New England, but the drouth continues in the south Atlantic and eastern Gulf States, where the reports indicate that all crops are greatly in need of rain.

The Atlas Line steamer Alvena sailed for Nicaragua last week, carrying the first batch of machinery and men for the construction of the transatlantic canal. At Greytown the engineers of the surveying expedition of 1887-'88, who have remained in Nicaragua in the services of the construction company, will meet the Alvena's passengers and supervise the labor.

A Chilean paper referred to a State senator as Mr. thes. n. jones, and he has sued for $75,000 damages.

Secretary Blaine is determined to protect American rights in Alaskan waters. If England persists in sending ships of war to protect the Canadian vessels in taking the young seal, this government will take vigorous measures to stop it.

At a meeting of the Mississippi River Commission in this city, on May 27, the project of a railway bridge over the river was thoroughly discussed. The bulk of evidence was in favor of a bridge below the city.

FOREIGN.

Emperor William and King Humbert, who is in Berlin on a visit, witnessed a sham fight on the Tempelhofer field, on May 24. In the afternoon King Humbert, the Prince of Naples and Prince Bismarck witnessed from a balcony a procession of Berlin students in 180 carriages, and King Humbert received a deputation of the students. The court concert in the evening was a brilliant affair.

The work of evicting tenants was continued on the Olphert (Ireland) estate on May 24. The tenants have erected barricades around their homes, and from behind the defenses they hurled stones and other missiles at the attacking parties. Boiling water was thrown upon the evictors, and a number of policemen and bailiffs were baldly scalded. The police arrested fourteen persons.

The Pope, at the consistory, on May 24, protested against Italian legislation hostile to the charitable institutions of the Catholic Church. The proposal to erect a monument in memory of Giordano Bruno, who was burned as a heretic at the end of the sixteenth century, was denounced by the Pope as an outrage upon religion.

Sir Edward Malet, Mr. Cason and Herr Holstein, as a committee of revision, completed, on May 25, a draft of a protocol concerning Samoan questions. It contains clauses relating to the municipal government of Apia, the coaling ports held by the Powers, the land commission and the autonomy of the Samoan government, the text of which has already been cabled to Washington and approved by Mr. Blaine.

The situation at the Westphalia collieries continues critical. According to the Rhenish papers, the proclamation of martial law is imminent. Hitherto the miners have held aloof from the socialists and have resented their approaches, now there are symptoms of impatience under the passive resistance of the masters.

The swarthing at the Paris Exhibition is becoming serious. A quarter of a million people were present Sunday, though the Exhibition is unfinished, and the English and American rush has hardly begun, the accomodations, sanitary and restaurant, are utterly inadequate.

It has been decided that it would be superfluous to renew the treaties between Italy, Austria and Germany.

At a meeting of Gen. Boulanger's supporters, at his residence in London, it was decided to contest all the elections in France.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

Railroad Rates to the Seashore Camp Meeting.

The following are the round-trip railway fares to the Seashore Camp Meeting. Other railroads connecting with the Louisville and Nashville railroad, we are informed, are preparing schedule rates as low as last year. Freight for this station, via the Louisville and Nashville railroad, will be half tariff.

FROM L. AND N. POINTS.

Nashville, Tenn.	$12 50
Franklington, Tenn.	12 00
Columbia, Tenn	11 50
Pulaski, Tenn.	11 00
State Line, Ala.	10 50
Elkmont, Ala.	10 50
Athens, Ala.	10 25
Harris, Ala.	10 25
Decatur, Ala.	10 00
New Decatur, Ala.	10 00
Flint, Ala.	9 95
Hartselle, Ala.	9 90
Leesdale, Ala.	9 85
Falkville, Ala.	9 85
Culimau, Ala.	9 75
Hanceville, Ala.	9 65
Garden City, Ala.	9 60
Bungor, Ala.	9 60
Blount Springs, Ala.	9 55
Warrior, Ala.	9 45
Morris, Ala.	9 40
New Castle, Ala.	9 30
Birmingham, Ala.	9 25
Bessemer, Ala.	9 50
Oxmeor, Ala.	9 05
Helena, Ala.	8 70
Siurla, Ala.	8 55
Pelham, Ala.	8 60
Long View, Ala.	8 40
Calera, Ala.	8 25
South Calera, Ala.	8 20
Jemison, Ala.	7 95
Clanton, Ala.	7 65
Verbena, Ala.	7 40
Deatsville, Ala.	7 05
Elmore, Ala.	6 85
Wetumpka, Ala.	7 15
Coosada, Ala.	6 75
Montgomery, Ala.	6 50
McGehees, Ala	6 45
Merganville, Ala.	6 45
Letohatchie, Ala.	6 40
Calhoun, Ala.	6 40
Fort Deposit, Ala.	6 25
Greenville, Ala.	5 90
Georgiana, Ala.	5 45
Chapman, Ala.	5 30
Dunbam, Ala.	5 40
Garland, Ala.	5 25
Gravella, Ala.	4 95
Evergreen, Ala.	4 80
Castleberry, Ala.	4 50
Brewton, Ala.	4 05
Pollard, Ala.	3 80
Flomaton, Ala.	3 65
Williams, Ala.	3 20
Bay Minette, Ala.	2 80
Mobile, Ala.	2 00
Fowl River, Ala.	1 80
St. Elmo, Ala.	1 70
Grand Bay, Ala.	1 50
Orange Grove, Miss.	1 20
Scranton, Miss.	90
Ocean Springs, Miss	25
Biloxi, Miss.	15
Mississippi City, Miss.	30
Pass Christian, Miss.	80
Bay St. Louis, Miss.	1 00
Lookout, La.	1 65
Rigolets, La.	1 90
Chef Menteur, La.	2 30
New Orleans, La.	2 50
Bluff Springs, Fla.	3 75
Saltmarsh, Fla	4 00
McDavid, Fla.	4 20
Pine Barren, Fla.	4 55
Meline, Fla	4 70
Cantonment Junction, Fla.	5 10
Gonzales, Fla.	5 20
Pensacola, Fla.	5 90

FROM ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. POINTS.

Grand Junction, Tenn.	$19 30
Michigan City, Miss.	19 05
Lamar, Miss.	18 80
Hudsonville, Miss.	18 60
Holly Springs, Miss.	18 30
Water Valley, Miss.	17 95
Abbeyville, Miss.	17 50
Oxford, Miss.	17 10
Taylor, Miss.	16 80
Water Valley, Miss.	16 45
Coffeeville, Miss.	15 90
Torrance, Miss.	15 60
Grenada, Miss.	15 30
Elliott, Miss.	15 00
Duck Hill, Miss.	14 80
Whonm, Miss.	14 35
Vaiden, Miss.	13 95
West, Miss.	13 55
Durant, Miss	13 15
Goodman, Miss.	12 85
Pickens, Miss.	12 55
Vanghan, Miss.	12 30
Ways Bluff, Miss.	12 10
Canton, Miss.	11 75
Madison, Miss.	11 30
Tougaloo, Miss.	11 10
Jackson, Miss	10 85
Sallis, Miss.	13 30
Kosciuske, Miss.	14 00
Ethel, Miss	14 10
McCool, Miss	14 45
Weirs, Miss	14 70
Fentress, Miss.	14 90
Ackerman, Miss.	15 05
Sturgis, Miss.	15 35
Osborn, Miss	16 30
Pocohontas, Miss.	11 40
Flora, Miss	11 60
Bentonia, Miss.	11 90
Auding, Miss	12 05
Valley, Miss	12 35
Eden, Miss.	13 05
Beelake Lake, Miss	13 25
Milesville, Miss	13 50
Howard, Miss.	14 00
Tchula, Miss.	13 75
Crugar, Miss.	14 15
Sidon, Miss	14 40
Rising Sun, Miss	14 55
Greenwood, Miss	14 75
Dedd's Ferry, Miss.	15 10
Le Flore, Miss.	15 30
Parsons, Miss.	15 40
Bryan, Miss	10 45
Tiny, Miss	10 20
Crystal Springs, Miss.	9 85
Hazlehurst, Miss.	9 50
Martinsville, Miss.	9 30
Beauregard, Miss.	9 10
Wesson, Miss.	9 00
Brookhaven, Miss	8 65
Bogue Chitto, Miss.	8 25
Summit, Miss.	7 85
McComb City, Miss	7 70
Magnolia, Miss.	7 40
Chatawa, Miss	7 20
Osyka, Miss.	7 05
Tangipahoa, La.	6 65
Amite, La.	6 25
Gullets, La	6 82
Independence, La	6 00
Tickfaw, La.	5 85
Hammond, La.	5 65
Ponchatoula, La	5 45

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

GREENVILLE DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Huntington	May 31
Lake Lee	June 2
Duncan	16

H. M. STANDIFER, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Waterford, at Ebenezer	June 1, 2
Hickory Flat, at Pisgah	8, 9
Shawnee, at Liberty	15, 16
Ashland, at Mt. Pleasant	22, 23

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Okolona circuit, at Tranquil	June 1, 2
Trenpeul, at Asbury	8, 9
Fulton and Smithville, at Greenbriar	15, 16
Prairie, at Prairie Chapel...(Wed.)	19
Athens	22, 23
Aberdeen	23, 24

District Conference at Houston, commencing Thursday morning before the 4th Sunday in June.

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Tocopola	June 1, 2
Grenada circuit	8, 9
Tillatoba	15, 16
Charleston	18
Coffeeville	22, 23
Pittsboro	29, 30
Atlanta	July 2, 4
Banner	6, 7

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

CORINTH DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Ripley and New Albany, at N. Albany	June 1, 2
Blackland circuit, at Wesley Chapel	8, 9
Ripley circuit	15, 16
Jonesboro circuit	18
Pleasant Ridge circuit, at Siloam	22, 23
Guntown circuit	29, 30

J. B. STONE, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Lake View	June 1, 2
Chulahoma	8, 9
Cockrum	15, 16
Louisburg	22, 23
Horn Lake	29, 30

S. M. THAMES, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—SECOND ROUND.

Weir (Sat. and Sun.)	June 1, 2
Ethel (Thurs.)	6
Poplar Creek (Sat. and Sun.)	8, 9
Newport (Wed.)	12
Lexington (Sat. and Sun.)	15, 16
Belzona (Sat. and Sun.)	22, 23

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Covington, at Mandeville	June 1, 2
Bay St. Louis, at Long Beach	5
Ocean Springs, at Hamilsboro	8, 9
Columbia, at Hopewell	15, 16
Bethel, at Ocohay	22, 23
Mt. Carmel, at Good Hope	29, 30
Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs	July 3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting	5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town	13, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl	16
Augusta	20, 21
Whitlington	27, 28
Vancleve	Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zion	10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point	11, 12
Americus	16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell	24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Flora, at Flora	June 1, 2
Silver Creek, at Lodi (Wed.)	5
Edwards, at Edwards (Sat.)	8
Raymond, at Clinton (Sun.)	9
Mt. Olivet, at Fletcher	15, 16
Canton, at Canton	22, 23
Spring Ridge, at Forest Hill	29, 30

D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

New Hope, at Mt. Pisgah	June 1, 2
Adams, at Muddy Springs	15, 16

W. R. LEWIS, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Meadville, at Meadville	May 31
Roxie, at Knoxville	June 1, 2
South Warren, at Porter's	8, 9
South Vicksburg	15, 16
Vicksburg	22, 23

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

East Baton Rouge, at Antioch	June 8, 9
New River, at Magnolia	10
Livingston, at Friendship	15, 16
East Feliciana	22, 23
St. Helena, at Pipkin	29, 30

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Westville, at Pleasant Grove	June 8, 9
Strong River, at Fairmount	15, 16
Mt. Rose, at Pleasant Hill	16, 17
Marvin, at Richland	22, 23

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Loaksville	June 1, 2
Spring Hill	8, 9
Union	22, 23

R. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

ROMER DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Arcadia, at Paine's Chapel	June 1, 2
Downsville, at Mars Hill	6
Indian Village, at Sardis	8, 9
Louisville	11
Ruston	15, 16
Vienna	18
Saline	22, 23
Sparta	24
Gibbsland	25

The District Conference will meet at Gibbsland, June 26-30. Will every pastor be present and endeavor to have all delegates come? Come with all reports well matured.

ROBERT HANDLE, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.—SECOND ROUND.

Mooringsport, at Mt. Zion	June 1, 2
Many, at Lewing's Chapel	6
Anacoco, at Beech Grove	8, 9
Wesley circuit	15, 16
Coushatta	18
Red River	22, 23
District Conference, at Keachie	28

J. B. CASSITY, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Baton Rouge	June 2
Carondelet Street	9
Felicity	16

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Rayne	June 7, 8
Lake Charles	15, 16
Opelousas	21, 22
Sabine Mission	29, 30

District Conference will meet on June 20, at Opelousas.

S. S. KENNER, P. E.

FOR A DISORDERED LIVER try BEECHAM'S PILLS.

Shallenberger's Antidote for Malaria is the cheapest remedy in the world in proportion to the work it does, because it is certain to cure even the worst cases if taken properly. One bottle of thirty pills will cure any ordinary case, and one dose will stop the chills, but a number of doses and a little time are required to drive all Malaria from the system. Sold by Druggists.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending May 28, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8½ @	— —
Ordinary	9	— —
Good ordinary	9½	— —
Low middling	10 1-16	— —
Middling	10⅝	— —
Good middling	11¼	— —
Middling fair	11 11-16	— —
Fair	12 11-16	— —
Galveston middling	10 7-16 @	— —
Mobile middling	10⅝	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	6 11-16	— —
Fully fair	6⅝	— —
Good fair	— —	6½
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	6	6⅞
Prime yellow	7¾	— —
Gray white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	— —
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
SYRUP	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	2	2¼
Good	4⅛	4½
Fair	4	4¼
Prime	4¾	5
Rough & foul	2 25	3 00
Polish & ton	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy	— —	4 75
Fancy	— —	4 30
Choice	— —	— —
Minnesota Patents	5 85½	6 00
Winter wheat patents	5 00	5 20
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal	2 25	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 50	2 60
Hominy	— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, ₩ bushel	— —	49
Yellow	47	48
Mixed No. 2	47	— —
OATS:
Western	— —	33½
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
₩ cwt	72½	80
HAY:
Prime	16 00	18 00
Choice	18 00	19 00
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess (Standard)	13 00	13 25
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	10½	11
Shoulders	6½	6⅝
Sides, short rib	7⅛	7⅜
Sides, long clear	7⅛	7⅜
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	— —	11¾
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	5¾	6
Sides, short rib	— —	6⅝
Sides, long clear	6½	— —
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime	— —	19¾
Fair	— —	18¾
Common	— —	16½
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
No. 2	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	18	19
Western Dairy	13	16
Common	7	— —
LARD:
Refined	7	— —
OILS:
Coal, bbls	10	— —
Coal, cases	15½	16
Cotton seed, prime	41	43
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₩ head	— —	— —
Chicago, ₩ 100	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₩ crate	1 75	2 00
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	1 90	2 25
Western	1 50	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	1 25	1 50
Western	— —	— —
BALING STUFFS.
BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb. ₩ yard	10⅛	10½
Jute, 1¾ lb. ₩ yard	9½	9¾
Lane Mills Cotton Bagging	12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
₩ lb	9½	10
TIES:
₩ bundle	1 05	1 07
SUNDRIES.
POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	4 00	4 25
Young Chickens	2 25	4 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 25	2 00
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	9½	10
Southern	9½	10
WOOL:
Lake, ₩ lb	24	24½
Louisiana	22	23
Burry	11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₩ lb	4	— —
Dry salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₩ ton	— —	13 00
Meal	20 50	23 00
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₩ lb	— —	2½
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holahird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.

The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

TEACHERS, PROFESSORS and TUTORS supplied to Schools, Seminaries, Colleges and Families free of charge. We have a large normal student registration. Teachers, register early. Fee, small. Address with stamp,
AMERICAN BUREAU OF EDUCATION,
Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn.

Boston University.
Professors and Lecturers, 120. Students from nearly every Southern State. Literature, philosophy, science, law, medicine, theology. Circulars of departments free. Address the Registrar, 12 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.
Mention this paper.

MUSIC TEACHER!
Schools for Young Ladies in need of a first-class Music Teacher (Piano and Voice), with four years' experience teaching in the best Schools and with the best Teachers, would do well to address REV. W. M. LEFTWICH, NASHVILLE, TENN.

Capital Commercial College
Jackson Miss
Book keeping taught as books are kept in the South. Send for a circular
J. A. Bryant, President

Centenary College
JACKSON, LA.
Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.
Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.
For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.
Mention this paper.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.
One of the most celebrated Institutions of the South. The Thirty-Fourth Session will begin September 19, 1888, with a full corps of able and experienced faculty. Curriculum comprehensive. Instruction thorough. Advantages in Music unsurpassed, as in the best conservatories. Departments of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts under specialists.
Beautiful location; one of the healthiest of the South. The best climate in which to educate and the safest place for girls. Main building of brick, massive and commodious, with a large and well-shaded campus. Rooms large, well furnished, ventilated and warmed. Ample provision for table of the best the market affords. All necessary comfort secured. Expenses very low and the school very economical.
For particulars address
A. D. M'VOY, A. M., Pres.
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.
Mention this Paper.

Elfinwood Select School.
The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. Ry. in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.
Terms moderate.
Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 23. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1711.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

NTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

ev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
v. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.
FFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

UBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are uthorized Agents, to whom payments may be ade.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. H. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.
NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

"A SOUTHERN MORNING.

from twilighted east, the glorious sun rough moss-hung forests turns his burning wheels, aper-bearer from the throne of God,
yal messenger, whose shining trail ghtens the dewy groves with flakes of gold—monarch crowned and armed with flashing spears, lipped with jewels from a duer world,
es through the rose-hued temples of the sky,
et there be light!'" And there was light again, ht drinks dissolving stars, and slowly dies day is born. The tender child of time
th twinkling feet now walks the laughing waves, ds every misty height and dusky glen en with beauty for a waking world.
—J. M. P. O., in Youth's Companion.

e Louisiana State Lottery Company Examined and Exposed.

BY REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

(Continued.)

Now comes the most wonderful document of them all. It certainly deserves study. For some reasons it is a riosity, and for others calculated to oke that long-protracted whistle ich has been known to issue from e lips of an astonished individual.—

You will remember that Art. 167 of r State Constitution reads that the uisiana State Lottery Company shall a written renunciation of all the nopoly features in the office of the retary of State within sixty days er the ratification of the Constitu-n.

The Board of Directors agreed to it. . Dauphin, acting for the Board, demnly covenants by a legal docuent to file the renunciation in the cified time. The Constitution was tified and passed into operation at the se of the year 1879. And promptly thin the sixty days, on February , 1880, this GEORGE WASHING-N TRUTHFUL ASSOCIATION prepares d sends up the long-promised docuent of renunciation.

After reading it, you will desire to one of three things—first to take up e history of eels, their nature and bits; or to confine your musing attion awhile to the last three words verse eleven of the 116th Psalm; or ruminate awhile upon the remarkae history of a gentleman mentioned the fifth chapter of the book of Acts his name was Ananias.

Here is the paper signed, sealed and ed, that was prepared by the HATCHET D CHERRY TREE SOCIETY, viz: the uisiana State Lottery.

DOCUMENT NO. 4.

At a meeting of the stockholders of e Louisiaaa State Lottery Company, bruary 23, 1880, the following resoluns were adopted:

Resolved, That this Company hereby cepts the provisions contained in rticle 167 of the State Constitution of uisiana, and renounces in favor of d State the monopoly features conned in the charter of the Company, as to allow the General Assembly of State to grant other lottery charters privileges in accordance with the terms said article.

Resolved, That the president of this mpany is hereby required to file a py of the above resolution in the ice of the Secretary of State of Louiana, as the written renunciation called by said Article of said Constitution of State of Louisiana.

How anyone can read this paper, rporting to be the fulfillment of the mands of the State's requirement, d not be amazed at such cool fraud d shaken with indignation at such rfidy and betrayal of trust, I can not ceive.

Article 167 demanded the renuncian of "all monopoly features." Not monopoly feature." It is careful to , "monopoly clause," and adds, all onopoly features." What are the features? One was, of course, the privilege of existing alone as a lottery company in the State. That was to be given up. But this was only one feature. Another feature was its exemption from all taxation, and another the exemption of its peddlers and vendors of tickets from all licenses, etc. The proof of this can be had by referring to Article 25, of the Legislature of 1868, which constitutes the charter of this Lottery Company.

Now, when the present State law, Art. 167, demanded upon the part of the Louisiana State Lottery Company a written renunciation of all its monopoly features, did it mean only one? Did not an assembly of intelligent men know that all is a collective word, and meant more than one thing; and that "features" was plural, and could not possibly be twisted into the singular number?

One of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States has said in a decision that all privileges granted a monopoly constitute its features. Common sense tells us the same. And to crown all, here was the verbiage of the law's demands in Art. 167, "that the Louisiana State Lottery Company shall file a written renunciation of all its monopoly features within sixty days after the ratification of the Constitution." That the directors of the Lottery understood this is seen in their use of the identical language in their promise to comply and file the desired renunciation. But when they came to do it—presto, change! What do we find? The surrender of one single feature, and that feature the right to exist as the only lottery company in the State. They, the directors, in their writ of renunciation, which M. A. Dauphin files for them in the office of the Secretary of State, limit an obligation that was general, to something specific or special. They have reached up a felonious hand and virtually struck out or stolen away a letter written and placed in the Constitution of the State by the will of the people. They have robbed the very law of its evident and expressed meaning, as composedly and as ruthlessly as they have gone into the pockets of this and other communities and emptied them. A confirmed robber cares not whom nor what he robs—he gets into the robbing way. He would rather steal than not. Alas! and alas! for the GREAT CHARTERED KLEPTOMANIA of the State of Louisiana! Touching things it ought not—taking things it ought not—is its way!

It remains now to show up one more paper.

This is the recognition of the presence of the remarkable renunciation in the Secretary's office. It is technically called an endorsement.

DOCUMENT NO. 5.

Resolution of the Louisiana State Lottery Company relinquishing the monopoly features granted by its charter in favor of the State of Louisiana, so as to allow the General Assembly of the State to grant other lottery charters or privileges in accordance with the terms of Art. 167 of the Constitution. Filed February 24, 1880.

(Signed.) OSCAR ARROYO,
Assistant Secretary of State.

About this paper we have only to say these two things: First, where were certain features (especially the eyes) of our State officer's face when he accepted the paper handed him by M. A. Dauphin and put upon it the endorsement of the seal of the State? Did he not know that the law demanded the surrender of all monopoly features, and could he not see that but one feature was here renounced? That the paper before him was but a masterpiece of perverted meaning by the use of cunningly contrived words and sentences? The other question I would ask is, What is the use of having State officials if they do not and will not watch over the interests of the State?

Now, then, to gather up our argument, we insist that the Louisiana State Lottery Company is indebted today to the city of New Orleans over one million dollars for taxes and licenses, for itself and its army of ubiquitous ticket peddlers and vendors. That they owe this amount, first, because of the transfer of the Company to a firm; and, secondly, because the State law demanded the full renunciation of all their monopoly features, in which we find exemption from all taxation, and because the directors of the Lottery bound themselves by a Deed (Document No. 4) to surrender this and all other monopoly features of their Company within sixty days after the ratification of the Constitution.

The fraud they perpetrated upon us through twisted words and sentences should not save them from the payment of the money they owe to the city of New Orleans, while it should bring down upon every director and stockholder of that institution the overwhelming indignation of an outraged State and public.

And yet it is not their money we want. The curse of God is on it. It is unrighteous gains which, he says, will always bring calamity and ruin. We would gladly give them the million they owe us if they will only remove from our midst and cease to corrupt our children, rob our poor, and make gamblers and idlers and beggars out of our people.

The only point I am contending for is, that the Louisiana State Lottery Company is a fraudulent institution, and not to be trusted. That its promises are nothing; for while its words are fair, its performances agree not with its declarations and engagements. That which deceived you once before, O people of Louisiana, will deceive you again.

"Trust her not.
She is fooling thee!"

(To be continued.)

To the Preachers and Members of the M. E. Church, South.

DEAR BRETHREN: We address you on the subject of missions. The important department of domestic missions we shall no further present than to remark, with pleasure, that it shares the general advance in missionary interest, the collections of 1888, $104,-473, exceeding those of 1887 by $12,-046. The work at home has nothing to fear from the work abroad; having as their common impulse the love of Christ, and as their common foe covetousness and indifference to the kingdom of God, they quicken and support each other. Annual Conferences, that look with Pauline zeal to the regions beyond, that long with Christ-like love to save the world, will not neglect the scattered sheep within their own territory. We speak now, as requested by the General Board, of "the foreign missions, and of all others not provided for by the Annual Conferences."

CHEERING SIGNS.

"Prejudice against missions, though not dead, is dying, and insensibility to their claims is gradually changing to intelligent interest. There is a steady growth in liberality; and, however impatience, contrasting needs, and receipts may dispute the statement, the growth is not slow. The collections of last year aggregated $244,176—if we add those of the Woman's Society, they exceed $300,000. Our preachers preach more, our press publishes more, our people think more on this subject than ever before. What gives us most joy is the growing number of men and women who take this cause to heart, ponder it day and night, keep it before God in continual supplication, and count it dearer than life. We are blessed with faithful and zealous missionaries, but the most devoted and heroic laborers in foreign fields do not surpass those saints at home in fervent desire, wrestling prayer, and ready self-sacrifice for the progress of the work. Few in number, some of them poor, frail in body, or aged, and, therefore, incapable of much giving and labor, they have power with God, and with men; they keep not silence before the Lord, and give him no rest; their flame kindles duller souls, and they are educating another generation to a higher appreciation of the grand mission of the church to evangelize all nations.

Abroad, obstacles to success, though still tremendous, and except to faith invincible, have wonderfully lessened. Violent persecution has nearly ceased; our missionaries dwell and move in safety under the eye of our sympathetic government, and the protection of the native authorities. Swift steamers, regular mails, telegraphic communication, and the increase of commercial and general travel diminish the feeling of distance and isolation. Everywhere the door is open, and in some places there is welcome. Papal nations begin to claim freedom and responsibility of private judgment, and pagan nations to admire the higher culture of Christendom.

ACTUAL RESULTS.

We take the figures from the annual report of the Board. In Mexico, Cuba, Brazil, China, and Japan, our membership is 4,014—a gain of over 10 per cent. during the year. The Indian Mission has 8,730 members; the German Missions in Louisiana and Texas, 1,160; those charges in Florida and our Western work which are helped by the General Board, 15,227. The fruit is in worth far more than the money and effort expended, but in abundance is far less than our longings and hopes. The question is often asked, Why have we not made greater progress? Prominent among the causes are the failure of the church to supply these fields, year after year, with a competent force of laborers, and the lack of earnest prayer to the Lord of the harvest to give the increase.

What has become of the funds contributed? In part, they sent out and supported the laborers: last year in our foreign work there were employed 34 missionaries, 85 native preachers, and 12 other native helpers. In part, they are invested in a permanent plant, consisting of churches, schools, parsonages, and other means of work; the mission property abroad is valued at $379,176; the total value, abroad and within the United States, is $932,986.

APPROPRIATIONS AND ASSESSMENTS.

The assessments are unchanged, aggregating $300,000. The appropriations amount to $249,977, exclusive of $15,000 provided for by the bequest of Thomas Branch. At the last General Conference our debt was $100,000. It has been greatly reduced; the Committee on Estimates reported actual liabilities, $33,242. The Board earnestly desired to wipe out the debt before next May. They were unwilling to burden the church. But consider the situation. Japan stretches forth her hands, and begs for the Bread of Life; our missionaries are overjoyed and overworked, enlarged in hope and straitened in means because so many are eager to be instructed; we can not delay to re-enforce the little band. In China the present missions must be maintained; nobody would think of a backward step. Alas, that we can not yet make the forward movement which is so much needed, not only to enlarge the work, but in doing so to occupy healthy places where our brethren and their families, broken down by a very trying climate, may, while remaining in the field, recruit their strength. Brazil, that vast empire of the new world, had only five missionaries, and not one boys' school, no institution where native preachers may be trained. Cuba, almost within sight of our shores, asked for $20,000, and in our poverty we could grant only $2,000. Mexico, bordering our happier republic, and bound to us by ever-multiplying and tightening ties, should be cherished, not neglected. In the Indian Territory the wild tribes invite our preachers, and among the civilized tribes we are building up our own schools, instead of schools which belong to the natives, and from which we could be ejected by their caprice. The rapid expansion of population in Florida, Texas, and the whole West, demands an expansion of our work. The rush into Oklahoma, which in one day converted a wilderness into a peopled territory, with cities, banks, and other features of civilization, does not allow us to hesitate or delay in sending thither preachers to proclaim the gospel, pastors to care for the sheep. These demands could not be resisted. Caution whispered, Beware! But faith and hope spoke out, Dare!

OUR ABILITY.

The net increase of our membership within three years is 150,000. The wealth of our people has grown largely. The amount of capital flowing into the South, the development of her resources, and multiplication of her industries, is the daily wonder of the press. Though improving, we are far behind the Methodists of England and Canada in collecting for missions from all classes of our members according to their several ability. The many littles which more thorough system might gather from those who have hitherto given nothing would make a large sum. Our men of wealth, with few exceptions, do not contribute to this cause in any measure approaching its just claims. The cases are rare in which individuals have given a few thousands. We are glad to report two bequests during the past year—one of $5,000, and one of $15,000. Southern Methodists, worth from $50,000 to a round million, with yearly incomes ranging from $10,000 to ten times that amount, give to the world's conversion paltry sums, from twenty-five to five hundred dollars. We rejoice to acknowledge that some of them give liberally to churches, colleges, orphan asylums, and other Christian enterprises at home. But their thought has not yet turned, their conscience is not yet touched, their heart has not yet warmed on this greatest movement of the church. They give in response to the pastor, they give toward meeting the assessment, a tribe which they would not begrudge to buy a piece of furniture; or a diamond ring, or to entertain a party of friends on an evening—they do not give to Christ for the extension of his kingdom. We look for the time, God speed it! when, as they subscribe, they will say, "For the love of Christ constraineth us." They need—we all need, both rich and poor, pulpit and pew—a mighty baptism of the missionary spirit.

Without hurt to any other cause, without strain on our people, we can raise this year $300,000, and thus cancel the debt and pay all the appropriations. But this will not be accomplished if strong churches are content with paying their assessments; if pastors of rich congregations that should give thousands (a few do), but give only hundreds, report at Conference with an easy conscience, "Collections all full."

A WORD TO OUR PREACHERS.

Brethren of the ministry, we congratulate you on the good service you have done in the cause of missions. Your efforts, in private and in public, to instruct and inspire the people on this great subject, have borne fruit. Some of you who reported only tens when your brethren reported hundreds, have not fallen behind the most successful in fidelity, zeal, and self-denial. We call upon presiding elders, preachers in charge, editors, and professors in our schools, to continue and to abound in this good work. Leaders of Israel, captains of hundreds and of thousands, speak into the people that they go forward.

THE CLOSET, THE HOME ALTAR, AND THE CHURCH.

We need more prayer. We need in prayer more faith and fervor. Let us cry aloud unto the Lord that his Word may have free course and be glorified in all our missions, in all the earth, as it has been glorified before our eyes and in our experience. Nothing but the outpouring of the Spirit who subdueth all things unto himself can give us success in this great undertaking. We have a right to claim power from on high as the endowment of the ministry and of the church. It will descend when we seek it with all our heart; it will be sent in the measure of our faith—not an idle, listless, self-indulgent faith, but of a living, working, struggling, giving faith. Plead with God in the secret place for a rich blessing on our missionaries and missions; plead with him, searching and purifying your hearts and ways; plead importunately until the suit is gained. Unite your household in prayer, praise, and giving; let there be a family altar for supplication and thank-offering; grateful for happy Christian homes, intercede for heathen lands. During the week of prayer assemble daily in your churches to study our mission fields, and to wrestle with God in the power that prevails. "Prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

JOHN C. KEENER,
ALPHEUS W. WILSON,
JOHN C. GRANBERY,
ROBERT K. HARGROVE,
WILLIAM W. DUNCAN,
CHARLES B. GALLOWAY,
EUGENE R. HENDRIX,
JOSEPH S. KEY.

Qualifications Requisite for Successful Sunday-School Teaching—II.

There are several characteristics necessary to success.

1. First, the successful teacher must possess a natural aptitude for teaching. Teachers, like preachers, are born, and possess a talent for imparting and impressing knowledge. The possession of knowledge does not imply the ability to impart it unto others. It is noticeable how many do not possess the power to communicate their thoughts. They can not command language to express themselves in a clear and comprehensive manner. It is requisite in the teacher that he be able to command language and words, in order to make the lesson plain, and be able to call to his aid, from any and every source, such illustrations as will make the most forcible impressions. It is very true when we say that it is not those who are the most wordy and the most profuse in the use of language who are the most successful. It is not the voluminous talker, the eloquent, and those who command the most beautiful rhetoric, but those who are able to find the very word, the suitable word, the forcible illustration, and whatever in language that makes simple and plain, and that helps to fix the truth indelibly in the mind. The true teacher, then, is not made altogether by the acquisition of knowledge, but is born with a talent and aptitude for communicating thought and of teaching others; and in the pursuit of a Sunday-school teacher, this natural endowment should by no means be overlooked and disregarded.

2. Another indispensable qualification is a good, reasonable amount of acquired ability. It is a mistaken idea that because one possesses certain other essential elements for teaching, that education is of no consequence, and must, therefore, be ignored. It is true that here no standard can be erected; but, to say the least, the teacher should understand something of the ordinary branches of an English education. This standard should be, at least, as high as that erected by the authorities of the church for the admission of young men into the ministry. A teacher without the requisite literary ability must suffer embarrassment, and can not possibly have the highest success in imparting plainly unto others. The teacher must take in before he can give out. This acquisition of knowledge must be varied enough to take in history, biography, moral philosophy, and theology. No one can be well prepared for successful teaching who resource does not comprehend, at least, these branches, together with a good understanding of the Bible and human nature. The power of analysis is a very valuable acquisition. I have noticed that those persons who have the greatest powers of analysis are the ones the easiest understood in public discourse or the more private presentation of any subject; and those who have not acquired this power are prolix and profuse in the use of language, and hence are not clear. A good natural and acquired ability is requisite to success in Sunday-school teaching.

3. Again, another very important qualification is that the teacher should be a student. This follows as a consequence if the above remarks with reference to the acquisition of knowledge be true. Knowledge is all-important; it is absolutely indispensable, and is only acquired as we are profoundly studious. It does not flow into a passive mind without due activity and exertion on our part. The range of study has been intimated, and need not, therefore, necessarily include certain of the sciences; but every teacher should improve well the schools of observation, experience, conversation, reading, and earnest investigation. Sacred, ecclesiastical, and a certain amount of secular history may receive attention, together with biography, human nature and the Bible. The teacher, to be successful, must be a student of self and of the disposition of children, and all this investigation must have but one object in view. Concentration is the secret of success. He who exhausts his thoughts in the direction of his profession is the successful man; but he who has no specified or well-defined object in view, but reads indefinitely in general literature, scattering his reading, will, in like manner, scatter and weaken his success. The reader of novel and trashy literature, of secular papers and books of skeptical tendency, or of doubtful character, can not acquire good, useful knowledge. Mr. Spurgeon well says: "Certain insects assume the color of the leaves they feed upon, and they are but the emblems of the great law of our being. Our minds take the hue of the subjects whereon they think. 'As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.' Readers of trash become trashy, lovers of skeptical books become skeptical; students of the Bible, who are in earnest, become biblical, and display the qualities of the Bible. If you read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest the Word of God, the qualities of that Word will be displayed in your lives." To be successful teachers, we must be students.

HESLEP.

KOSCIUSKO, Mississippi.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1889.

THE DEATHLESS SONG.

BY KIRK E. HEXFORD.

A singer sang his little song
From all the world apart;
He cared not for a listening throng,
But sang because his heart
Was full of music as a bird's,
And oftentimes ran o'er
His lips in sweet and simple words
That none had heard before.

A weary traveler passed that way,
And heard the cheery strain.
It followed him through all the day,
And lingered in his brain.
And sometimes on his way he sang
The song that cheered him so,
Till far and wide the echoes rang
Across the vales below.

And others listened to the song,
Caught up its glad refrain,
And scattered as they went along
The blitheness of its strain.
And many learned the song of cheer,
And sang it for their own,
Till all the world grew glad to hear
The song before unknown.

Ah, little dreamed the man who sang
This little song that day,
That he was singing to the world
What proves a deathless lay.
The grave is green upon the hill,
He lived and died unknown,
But all the world is singing still
The song the ages own.

—Youth's Companion.

Letter from Mexico.

MR. EDITOR: Glory to God that the Mississippi Conference is represented in every field occupied by our church—China, Japan, Indian Territory, Brazil and Mexico.

Dear Sister Chatfield: I had hoped up to the last moment my wife would be able to write a letter with her own hands for your annual meeting. But at this date she is unable to sit up or to feed herself; and when she will be able to walk we have no idea. I have had five doctors to examine and advise in the treatment of her case; and while they assure me of her final recovery, they all say it will take time. Since February 15 I have been constantly by her side, and much of the time in doubt as to the final result of her illness. But in my distress I cried to God, and he heard the voice of my supplication. Wife requests me to say to you that if she has only come to Mexico to suffer and die, she does not regret having come. And I am happy to say to you we have not been friendless during these long dark days of sorrow. Many of you have cheered and comforted our hearts by the sweet, brave words you have written us. When the hour for the mail arrives, wife is all anxiety till she gets her letters; and after they are read and put away to be answered when she is able to write, she thinks, and talks of you all and your work, and the day when she shall welcome your representative to this needy field. We have been blessed with the best of friends here. Sister Watkins left her home and came with us to this city, and will remain until Monday, when we hope to return to the City of Mexico. When you pray for us, do not forget her and her loved ones. We have been so blessed with true affection and lasting friendship of the Mexican members of our church throughout both Conferences. I do not know of a church in either Conference that has not held special prayers for us. I think this a proper place to give you a copy of a letter written by our Bible woman in the City of Mexico, and translated by Sister Watkins. The translation is literal.

MEXICO, April 8, 1889.

Senora E. Watkins: My appreciated and dear sister of all my respect and affection, this letter alone reduces itself to saluting you in union with our dear brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Weems. Tell Mrs. Weems we have prayed much to our Lord for her health, remembering that he heard our petition when Senora P—— was on the verge of the grave; and we have great faith that he will also hear our prayers for her. We tell our Lord we want her to live and learn our language, so that with the living voice she will give us many Christian counsels, that may serve us even unto eternal life—since God knows what a necessity we have in our souls for this. I speak for myself, and also that her soul may be enlarged from having complied with the great commission—"Go and preach the gospel to all the world;" and also that many souls may be made to rejoice on receiving such precious news, or, rather, such a rich treasure, that will never perish. Blessed be God that she was born in a Christian country, as also yourself, and that you have never had the disgrace of trusting in dumb idols as we have done, which I remember with horror. When I consider our blindness and ignorance, it appears to me as a dream that I have ever been in such darkness; but who am I that the Lord should have mercy on me?

"Shall you whose souls are lighted
With wisdom from on high,
Shall you to men benighted
The lamp of life deny?

Salvation! oh, salvation!
The joyful sound proclaim,
'Till earth's remotest nation
Has learned Messiah's name!"

I praise God always when I remember this hymn, because he put into your souls the ardent desire to bring to us the good news, undertaking long journeys, leaving your home, spending your earthly treasures, and, perhaps, many even separating from their children, who are the beings most dear to the heart—and all for us. But God will reward you; for has he not said even a cup of cold water given in his name will have its recompense? For this reason I pray the Lord that our very dear sister Sophia may not die, but be restored to health. This I pray for with all my soul, since he has said, "Ask and ye shall receive."

I will not write more; but there are many things I wish to say concerning the gratitude I feel in my soul for the knowledge of his holy Word. We all salute each of you with tender affection.

Your sister in Christ, who desires your speedy and happy return.

PILAR G. SUBELLAZA.

When we started to the depot to come to this city, these dear people ran on foot, and when the carriage stopped at the depot, a mile from our house, they pressed around my wife, with tears and flowers, to show their affection. Ah! that you could but know the need and opportunity of your work in this field. I have often seen women and donkeys harnessed to the same wagon, drawing it along the streets of Toluca. I can not imagine it possible for you to argue past experience as an excuse for refusing to re-enter this field. Had this been the spirit of our Lord, he would have left us long before he became a sacrifice for our sins. We hope your Board has made arrangements to begin work here very soon. I am happy to say our people in Mexico have the missionary spirit. A few Sabbaths ago a little girl of nine years applied for membership in our church in the City of Mexico, and, to test her conversion, our pastor, Bro. Watkins, said to her: "Suppose our Lord should want you to leave your papa and mamma, and go to Africa and tell the heathen of his love; would you go?" She dropped her eyes to the floor and stood motionless, as if in deep study, for a few moments, and then, raising her large black eyes till they met the eyes of her pastor, she replied, as the tears rained down her cheeks: "If he wants me to go, I will go and do the best I can." You may be sure there was not a dry eye in the house after this reply. But I must close. Wife sends love to all friends, and asks an interest in your prayers. May our Father's blessing rest upon each of you and your work!

Yours in Christ, J. M. WEEMS.

New Missionary in Japan.

MR. EDITOR: I am glad there are such men as "Subscriber," who, in your issue of May 23, proposes to be one of a hundred to give $10 to send and maintain a new missionary in Japan. And I am glad that I love to take and read church papers wherein I can find out and about such doings. I believe in a good time Christ will bring to pass, or into being, for this unhappy world of ours, and such acts very much strengthen my halting, limping faith. Is it not an excellent thing, Doctor, that there are some men always looking about for some good thing to do, and thereby, when finding it, call the attention of we careless, selfish, laggard ones to the same, that we may help, and feel glad that we have helped? It always makes us feel better when we have done something nice and good, whether we have suggested the thing ourselves, or whether another has suggested. Here's my $10, and my "hat off" to "Subscriber" for the suggestion.

Yours kindly, PETER JAMES.

Indian Mission Proposition.

MR. EDITOR: With your permission I will now comply with my promise of some time ago, and prepare for publication in the ADVOCATE my Indian Mission proposition, which is as follows:

We, the undersigned, promise to become responsible for the payment of amounts annexed to our names, respectively, for the purpose of supporting a missionary to preach to and teach the Indians in Mississippi; said amount to be paid annually for a period of five years, and first payment to be made to Bishop C. B. Galloway as soon as it will aggregate five hundred dollars. (Promise to be null and void in case of the death of promiser.)

LIST OF NAMES.

A. D. Miller, Cato, Miss	$5
A. L. R. Gainey, Hammond, La	2
H. P. Gibbs, Hood, Miss	5
J. R. Chapman, Cato, Miss	5
Rev. J. F. Robinson, Brandon, Miss	5
Mrs. M. E. McClure, Ocean Springs, Miss. (Paid $1)	5
Rev. J. G. Sibley, Nicholson Station, Miss	5

My first proposition, as you know, was to get one hundred persons that would pay five dollars annually for five years; but I am now willing to say five—more or less—for there probably are persons that would like to help in this great work that would not be able to pay five dollars a year, while there are others that would not be willing to stop at so small an amount. So we take any amount, and only require persons to become responsible for amounts, allowing them to raise it where they please, with the understanding that it is not to interfere with or take the place of other collections.

And now surely we will get the names rapidly until we have the full amount wanted. We have, I suppose, two hundred forty (or fifty) itinerant preachers, with as many or more local, and probably now about seventy-five thousand members in Mississippi (to say nothing about other States that will probably help us some). Surely we have enough consecrated men and women, with the means at their disposal, to raise the amount at once; so I shall watch the mails with a great deal of confidence, feeling assured that so great a work as the salvation of the Indians in Mississippi will find many willing hearts and hands among the members of so great a church.

Brethren and sisters, write me, as before, at Cato, Rankin county, Miss., and I will soon give you some statistics with regard to the Indians.

Yours in hope of the success of the Indian Mission in Mississippi,

A. D. MILLER.

Location of the New College—Suggestions.

I am glad to see the hearty interest manifested in and the liberal contributions made toward the building of the Mississippi College for boys by the two Conferences in Mississippi. I think it may be considered as certain that we will have the college; but, Where shall it be? is the question. Upon its location its success greatly depends. I should like to see it in Macon, and had thought something of asking our people to bid for it. We have here commodious school buildings now idle, which could be bought and tendered. Then I thought again this was probably not the right place—too much stimulants here, and too easy to get at; and I dropped that idea. The suggestion of one of your correspondents suits my notion better, and I write to urge his plan. Let the commissioners appointed to make the location select some suitable place on a railroad—say, on the line from Starkville to or about Kosciusko, or on the Georgia Pacific, west of West Point, where land can be bought at a low price; buy three or four sections of land, have it incorporated, adopt a constitution that will enable the trustees to keep out all immoral influences; have the land surveyed into lots of suitable size for residences; arrange the plan so as to have a depot and business center; sell them all, as demand shall arise, at moderate prices, and very soon it will attract the attention of the moral and Christian people, who will buy lots, build houses; and in a few years there will spring up a town noted for good character, moral influences, temperate habits and usages. Families of moral worth, who desire to educate their children free from vices and immoralities, will seek settlements there; a town of good government will grow up like magic, as it were, and in an almost incredible length of time one of the most noted places of Mississippi will be inviting and calling not only people of Mississippi, but from other States, to make their homes there.

The public, the moral portion of it, at least, want such a place to live in. They are tired of drinking-shops and gambling-holes where boys are ruined. They demand such a town as I have alluded to or attempted to picture. The present time gives the opportunity. The generation of to-day will not pass without seeing its benefits; and generations to come will raise their voices in rejoicing and praise for those who adopted the plan. H. W. FOOTE.

From the Work.

SIMSPORT, LA.

MR. EDITOR: Seeing accounts in the ADVOCATE of the progress of the work in other sections of the country, I thought it would not be amiss to write a line from "old Simsport." You, as all other preachers, know what the first year in the itinerancy means. My first year, so far, has not been barren of results, but rather is fruitful of encouragement, as regards the success of my work.

Arriving on my circuit, I found five appointments, two Sunday-schools, and no weekly meetings of any sort. We now have in successful operation six or seven weekly prayer meetings. My plan, as regards them, is simply this: When I go to a charge to hold the regular monthly Sunday services, I stay at said place until the following Thursday, visiting members and holding prayer meetings myself. When I am away at other appointments, the leader takes charge. At one of these appointments the meeting took like wild fire, for sometimes the members gather together three or four times a week, and have a little meeting to themselves, on the cottage prayer-meeting style.

As to increase in membership, have received up to date eighteen members, one of whom was converted through the agency of these cottage meetings.

As to Sunday-schools, we now have four instead of two, just doubling the number.

We have already in hand a little over one-third of all our Conference collections. Our congregations at some of our appointments have increased wonderfully. At Grange Hall we now have an average attendance of from 80 to 90, whereas it was some 20 or 30 last year. At another place where it was formerly 25 to 30, we have 50 to 60. These numbers are not by guess, but by actual count.

Among those that come to hear us, we have some who have not darkened the doors of a church for fifteen or twenty years, by their own confession, and they are among my best listeners. We have great reason to hope that they will join us before long.

Bro. Dunstan, who preceded us last year, did a grand work, and sowed some very good seed, which is now springing up to the glory of God, and also to the encouragement of his successor in the work.

We have just closed a meeting at Simsport, Bro. J. E. Denson being with us. He gave us the true Bread of Life, and in a manner calculated to awaken slumbering souls. I am sorry to be unable to report conversions, as have many, but can say, however, that we were all blessed, the church revived, and the members more determined to live close to God. Do pray for us at this place, and also for its poor pastor.

Yours in Christ, JNO. F. FOSTER.

ROBELINE, LA.

MR. EDITOR: It is with a heart overflowing with gratitude to Almighty God that I break the glad news to your readers of our unrivaled meeting at this place. Our little town was shaken from centre to circumference; strong, stalwart men, influential and potent women, felt, trembled and fell as God's Word burnt itself into their hearts at every service. The gospel missiles, taken from God's own armory, were thrown at the very first service, and in a short while we commenced a great spiritual bombardment. Then the barracks, which had so long fortified and concealed the iniquitous practices and nefarious artifices of the devil, tottered and crumbled. Bodily temples shuddered more and more as the immaterial earthquake threw back its God-opened sides, into which abyss fell the wine-glass, the card-table, the ball-room, the world-compromising church members, and other influential drummers for Satan and ruin, and from whence immediately arose the family altar, the young people's prayer meeting, the sober, God-fearing character, the happy wife, the joyful child, and many other powers whose effects will be felt upon the cycles of eternity. Our meeting resulted in about sixty conversions. Forty-five were added to the Methodist Church. Our Baptist friends encouraged us in the work and harvested many sheaves; so together we praise our common Father for his baptism of blessings upon our common town; and we pray that we may all be kept faithful unto death, that we may at last be safely homed in that common "house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Rev. William Whiberly, of Plaquemine—that noble, fearless preacher of God's Word—was with me during the entire meeting and constantly broke the Bread of Life to my perishing congregations. By his argumentative thought, his sound reasoning, his forcible presentation of biblical truth, his short, severe, practical utterances, and his stirring, inciting, eloquent flights, divine truth sunk deep into the hearts of our hospitable populace.

As penitents came rushing to the altar, seeking life and light and liberty, our dear brother, with many others, would exclaim, "Surely my cup runneth over!" God continually bless you, my worthy co-laborer! We beseech God to strengthen you, day by day, that you may be able to wage many more wars for him, at whose great day many will rise up and call you blessed.

Our little town is now pervaded by a heavenly atmosphere, and a hallowed influence brooding over us is felt by all. Be all of the glory to God! Amen! A. D. M'VOY, JR., Pastor.

WESLEY CIRCUIT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: I will write you a short letter in reference to the above-named work. This work was known as East Point circuit last year, but East Point was taken from the work, and a change of name was necessary. It takes its name after a church we built last year—Wesley. This church is not finished; it lacks ceiling. This we hope to complete soon. We also built a parsonage on the work last year. Though it is not fine, it gives the preacher a shelter and a good home. We have built a church on the work this year also—a large, commodious house in a thickly settled neighborhood, where we hope it will be the means of effecting much good. The work is moving on steadily this year. The people are attentive to the gospel. The Sabbath-schools are in good working order, and are doing well. There are some good, true, working Christians on this work, and we hope by our united efforts and prayers to bring others into the fold.

And now, Mr. Editor, in conclusion, permit me, in the name of the members of the Holly Springs Church, to thank Bro. Grant for the beautiful Bible he presented to that church this year. J. B. WILLIAMS.

ASHLAND CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: This preacher has many reasons for great rejoicing. One is because he has one of the most pleasant charges—the Ashland circuit—and some of the best people in the North Mississippi Conference. We came to this charge with a full determination to do a faithful year's work, and have had our souls, our minds and our hands full all the while. Since Conference we have built a new church, and are about ready to commence the second. This charge is on the up-grade all along the lines. We feel confident that under the jurisdiction of our faithful and efficient presiding elder we will be able to report far in advance of preceding years. One pastor says all his people need is more and better preaching. Well, brother, that is quite a "slam" on your predecessors; and perhaps it is true, and if so, God grant you grace and power and wisdom to give it to them this year. You were sent to them for that especial business. We are not so fortunate as all that on the Ashland circuit. We need better preaching, and lots of it; but that is not all we require. We need church-houses—somewhere to preach; and we fully intend to have them. This charge built one church last year, and has undertaken to build two and repair two others this; and with a little more encouragement and some hard work it will not fall far short of its undertaking.

The Lord is with us here, and is blessing us, too, both at the family altar and in public worship. Many times have we been sprinkled with the dew of heaven. Many times have our souls been made happy, and rejoiced in the blessed hope of the glory of God. The tears have been seen dripping from the eyes of the old hard-hearted sinner while the preacher tried to instruct him in the "way of life." The lukewarm are revived, the backsliders reclaimed and the faithful rejoice. We are ripe for a glorious revival this summer, and we are praying for and expecting it. My soul is happy to-day. Thank God for the privilege of serving the Ashland circuit!

Yours in Christ, W. W. MOSS.

SALEM, Mississippi.

GRAND CANE, LA.

MR. EDITOR: Yesterday, May 26, was the fifth anniversary of the Woman's Missionary Society of Grand Cane. The society met and had a pleasant and profitable meeting. After brief addresses by the writer and Dr. Courtney (Baptist minister) on the subject of missions, the president of the society, Mrs. H. P. Pipes, took the chair and attended to the usual order of business of the society; when Mrs. E. J. Fullilove, president of the Louisiana Conference Society, favored us with one of her characteristic and appropriate addresses, which was replete with information and encouragement. Though this society has had no Jonah-gourd development, its growth for five years has been uniform and steady. To-day these women have more faith and more confidence in themselves and more zeal for the missionary cause than at any previous day. The power and influence of woman's work for women is one of the wonders of the day. Some of the wise and prudent seemed to be exercised over it, not knowing whether to oppose or to fall into ranks. The more prudent way, we think, would be to take the advice of Gamaliel when the apostles were greatly opposed. He stood up in the council, and said: "Let them alone; if this thing be of men, it will come to naught; if it be of God, ye can not overthrow it." To let them alone would be wise, and yet I show unto you a more excellent way, viz: to take the advice of Paul to the church at Philippi—Philippians iv, 3.

MAY 27, 1889. J. P.

NESHOBA CIRCUIT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: Since Conference I have organized one new church, received twenty-four members, and raised, by cash and subscription, enough to build a neat church at Union, besides other important work that I will not mention here. By the assistance of our efficient presiding elder we have our Conference collections most up, by cash and subscription. Hope to make a full report at Conference.

I notice "A Note of Warning" in the ADVOCATE, of May 16, from Rev. J. W. Honnoll, of Holly Springs, Miss., that utters my sentiments exactly; and I know from experience that he knows exactly what he is talking about.

I have been in possession of the new hymn book three weeks, which I am highly pleased with, and think it a great success.

I have asked the Lord to give us 100 souls on this circuit this year. I ask the brethren to remember us in their prayers, that we may not be disappointed. The ADVOCATE is not neglected. Yours fraternally,

JAS. G. CAMMACK.

GREENVILLE, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: Last Sabbath was a glorious day with us at Greenville. Ten accessions to the church—three by profession and seven by certificate. At one of the services a large number of grown persons came forward for prayers. We are having a revival without a protracted meeting. The "Sam Jones' meeting" of last November abides. Our presiding elder and the preachers of the Greenville district, assisted by Bro. Joe Jones, are taking this country for Christ. The work is wonderful. The power of God is with the ministry and people. The results are beyond my description. We are busy saving souls and praising the Lord. Our people are praying and preparing for the woman's missionary meeting, June 6. We consider it an honor to entertain such godly women, and we hope that many of our preachers will be present. We are expecting a great baptism of the Holy Ghost upon us all. J. A. HOWER.

MAY 28, 1889.

CHINA GROVE, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: Please announce in the ADVOCATE that the China Grove Camp Meeting will begin on Friday night, August 23, and continue about one week. All arrangements are being made for a season of great spiritual pleasure and benefit. The hotel this year will be kept by one of our staunchest members, and meals or beds furnished at the low rate of twenty-five cents each, and kindest attention paid to all. We anticipate a glorious triumph of God, a mighty uprising of the dead. Pray for us, brethren, that we may see the salvation of the Lord.

Everything is moving forward slowly. Conference demands are nearly satisfied. Sunday-schools have grown from one to seven, and four Woman's Missionary Societies are yet in their infancy. We are too busy to find time to spit on our hands to get a fresh grip, but we always take time to talk up the ADVOCATE. Fraternally,

HICKS M. ELLIS.

OKOLONA CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: We observed Children's Day on the Okolona circuit last Saturday, May 18, uniting the schools of Pine Grove and Tranquil. The time was taken up by the schools singing and reciting. Mrs. Dr. Wood delivered an excellent address to the children. The collection which followed amounted to $7 35. We were next entertained with speeches from T. B. Sykes and Rev. G. W. Bachman. The occasion was one of profit, especially to the children.

Bro. Bachman preached for us Sunday at Tranquil, on "The Anointing of Jesus." After he got through, we took up our collection which the Conference requires. We were asking $30; and got $33 25.

We think the Okolona circuit is moving up some, and especially on the line of liberality.

F. A. WHITSON.

JACKSON, LA.

MR. EDITOR: Yesterday at the Methodist Church, Children's Day was observed by the Methodist Sunday-school here, carrying out the programme arranged by instruction of the General Conference. Kind invitations were extended the Presbyterian and Baptist Sunday-schools, which were accepted; and all enjoyed the exercises in a full measure. The children's sermon by Dr. W. L. C. Hamilton was beautiful and highly entertaining, and though short, it told volumes to both the children and adults. The Doctor was in his happiest mood, and told many pretty and instructive things which seemed to reach the heart of everyone, except two "little boys"—little fellows. We will be glad when Children's Day comes again.

Yours truly, [illegible]

MAY 27, 1889.

STARKVILLE, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: You and Bro. [illegible] are cordially invited and lovingly expected at our District Conference, at West Point, July 18–21. The ADVOCATE is growing in favor in this region if it be only slowly, yet surely, and there is an endogenous growth. The college is going to come to pass, not to the detriment of Centenary. Both are needed. Let them be loving sisters. In this district some things are fair, and some foul. The church as a whole, is growing; building better churches and more parsonages, and taking on more spiritual muscle. The world works also; spiritual wickedness in high and low places—your infamous lottery among other things. God bless you. Your brother,

W. T. J. SULLIVAN.

NEW IBERIA, LA.

MR. EDITOR: My meeting was a success. Nearly twenty applicants for membership, and the church in much better trim than at any time since I have been here. Three class meetings, a good prayer meeting, Sunday-school flourishing, and fine congregations.

Yours truly, J. W. MEDLOCK.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Harlburt and Simpsnn's Lesson Commentary. Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON XI.—June 16.

JESUS CRUCIFIED.

Mark xv, 21-30.

GOLDEN TEXT.—He humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.—Phil. ii, 8.

TIME.—A. D. 29. Friday. Passover day. It was about ten in the forenoon, for at least an hour had been spent in getting ready.

PLACE.—It was outside of the city, and yet easily reached from the place of trial.

PARALLEL PASSAGES.—Matt. xxvii, 27-37; Luke xxiii, 26-38; John xix, 1-24.

21. One Simon a Cyrenian—Cyrene was a distinguished city in northern Africa, in which, though consisting mostly of Greeks, a Jewish colony was located.—Having much intercourse with Jerusalem, they maintained a regular synagogue at that city. Simon appears at this time to have been a resident, at any rate temporarily, either of Jerusalem or its adjacent country, inasmuch as it is from the country he is coming when he is so sadly met by the procession of our Lord's executioners. The Roman officer had official authority to press into the military service, for a special service, either horses or men. Alexander and Rufus—It is taken for granted that they were well known at the time when the gospel was written, and hence doubtless they were Christians of some note in the church. Bear his cross—Jesus at first bore his own cross (John xix, 17), as was customary.

22. Golgotha—Golgotha was simply a rounded knoll, bare perhaps of trees and grass, in shape like a skull, lying beyond the gate in the suburbs of the city.

23. Gave him to drink—The Talmud of Jerusalem relates that before crucifixion there was offered to the prisoner a stupefying draught which compassionate people, usually ladies, of Jerusalem prepared at their own cost. Wine mingled with myrrh—Myrrh is a bitter, aromatic gum obtained from a low, thorny tree, growing in Arabia, and was highly prized by the ancients and used in incense and perfumes. But he received it not—He refused to drink. He determined to look death in the face with all its possible horrors, and submit to the full penalty of the first transgression, and no anodyne or soporific potion might cloud his faculties at such a time, or dull in the smallest degree the sharpness of the pain.

24. They parted his garments—The execution was carried out, and the cross watched by a guard of four soldiers, with a centurion, and the garments of the sufferers were their perquisite. Casting lots—The inner robe, however, like the robes of the priests, was of one piece woven from the top, without any seam or stitching, and would be destroyed by rending. The dice were ready in their pocket, and one of their brazen helmets would serve to throw them; it would be better to cast lots for this, and let him who won the highest number keep it for himself; and so it was done. No wonder that both Matthew and John, looking back on the scene, were struck by the fact that it had been written, ages before, in the twenty-second Psalm, which the Jews of that day, as well as Christians, rightly believed to refer to the Messiah, "They parted my garments among them, and for my vesture they cast lots."

25. It was the third hour—According to the Jewish reckoning, that is, from sunrise, about nine o'clock of our time. But, according to John (xix. 14), it was already the sixth hour when Pilate made his last attempt to rescue him. A solution is, that John, writing primarily for the churches of Asia Minor, used the Roman mode of reckoning, that is, from midnight.

26. Superscription—The writing over his head on the cross, The King of the Jews. His accusation—The reason or charge for which he suffered. It was customary to publish in some way the crime for which a person was crucified. Sometimes a public crier announced it; sometimes it was written on a tablet, and hung about the neck of the criminal as he was led to execution; and very commonly it was, as in this case, written on a white tablet, and put above the criminal's head on the cross. The King of the Jews—Mark is the most concise. Matthew has, "This is Jesus the King of the Jews;" Luke, "This is the King of the Jews;" and John, "Jesus, the Nazarene, the King of the Jews." The difference in these titles may be explained: (1.) That some of the evangelists, and even all of them, may have given the sense rather than the words. (2.) That the accusation was written in Hebrew, Greek and Latin (John xix, 20), and while the inscriptions were one in sense they were very likely varied in expression, and hence the translation of them would vary. The Latin was the official language of the empire; the Greek, the language of the cultivated classes, and very common in the province; the Hebrew, or Aramean, the vernacular language of the Jews and the common people. It is quite likely that John's inscription, containing the contemptuous phrase, "the Nazarene," was the one written in Hebrew, and which would be understood by the Jews of Palestine. Pilate purposely wrote the sarcastic title, purporting that the Jews were crucifying their king, and also that he was a Nazarene.

27. Two thieves—Rather, two robbers.

28. And the Scripture was fulfilled—The reference here is to Isaiah liii, 12, but the verse is omitted in some manuscripts.

29. They that passed by—The words bring before us the picture of a lounging crowd, strolling from one cross to the other, and mocking the central sufferer of the three. Railed on him—Literally, "blasphemed." They heaped vile epithets upon him. Wagging their heads—An accompanying gesture, expressive of the contempt uttered in their words. Ah—The interjection, which in its Greek form (ua) expresses a kind of inarticulate scorn, is peculiar to St. Mark, and may be noted as another instance of his habit of reproducing the very sounds that had been uttered.

30. Come down from the cross—Shutting their eyes to all the manifestations and evidences of his divine power and Sonship, they prescribe this last test. Ever ready to applaud success (chapter xi, 9) and denounce failure, they conclude that Jesus is an impostor, and revile him accordingly.

31. Chief priests—The chief priests, and scribes, and elders, less awe-struck, less compassionate, than the mass of the people, were not ashamed to add their heartless reproaches to those of the evil few. He saved others himself he can not save—They had been compelled to acknowledge his supernatural power. They taunt him with having lost it now, when he needs it for his own deliverance. They treat him as an impostor.

32. Let Christ—Better, the Christ. The article is emphatic, and the word had not yet come to be used only as a name. That we may see and believe—They deceived themselves; they who would not be convinced by his preaching and the raising of Lazarus would not have believed though he had come down. And they ... reviled him—And now the criminals themselves have their say, which is, that he is more criminal and contemptible than themselves. Few are so mean but they fancy there is somebody below them. At the bottom of all, in present estimation, is this Jesus.

33. There was darkness—This was no eclipse of the sun, for it was full moon at the time—nor any partial obscuration of the sun such as sometimes takes place before an earthquake—for it is clear that no earthquake in the ordinary sense of the word is here intended. Those whose belief leads them to reflect Who was then suffering will have no difficulty in accounting for these signs of sympathy in nature, nor in seeing their applicability. The consent, in the same words, of all three evangelists must silence all questions as to the universal belief of this darkness as a fact; and the early fathers appeal to the testimony of profane authors for its truth. Over the whole land—Probably of Judea; yet it seems to have extended to other lands, having been noticed in Egypt, we are told.

34. At the ninth hour—The hour of the offering of the evening sacrifice. With a loud voice—Literally, a great voice; that is, with a voice still strong, unweakened by approaching death. Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani—The words are Chaldee, and not Hebrew. Our Lord spoke them in the ordinary dialect, not in that of the sacred text itself. The form which St. Mark gives is a closer reproduction of the very sounds of the Aramaic form of the word than that of St. Matthew, who gives the Hebrew as it stands in Psalm xxii, 1. The language we have heard from our mother's lips, and have spoken in childhood, may be laid aside in after years for another, to meet the requirements of life; and Jesus, doubtless, in these last years, had often had to use the Greek of city communities instead of his own simple Galilean. But now the sounds of infancy, always nearest the heart, and sure to come to the lips in our deepest emotion, returned in his anguish, and in words which he had learned at his mother's knee his heart uttered its last wail. My God, My God—The cry, not of despair, but of extreme anguish, yet of resignation and holy confidence in God as his God. It is the cry of innocence: the lost know that they are forsaken, but know why, and do not call on God as their God. It was, therefore, no literal transfer of the experience of remorse and spiritual death which Christ experienced. Why—The interrogative form gives intensity to the expression. It is not the cry of ignorance of the cause of this abandonment, but rather the struggling of language in its weakness to express the unfathomable woe and utter desolation of his victorious sufferings. Yet the cry, coming forth at the close of this abandonment, shows that he had endured all that was put upon him, and was coming forth victorious from the conflict. Though left to himself for a time, yet he did not forsake God. Personifying forsaken humanity under the wrath of God, he makes an atonement, cries unto God, and is heard in that he feared. Thou forsaken me—The particular words are expressive of the divine abandonment, of the departure of the divine presence, as part of his atonement endurance. They are uttered by him to show that he is enduring an intolerable agony, deeper than any external infliction. His inner consciousness of union with God must have been complete and indestructible; but, like his higher and holy will, liable to be obscured by human weakness and pain, which at this time was at its very highest. We must, however, take care not to ascribe all his suffering to bodily pain, however cruel: his soul was in immediate contact with and in prospect of death—the wages of sin, which he had taken on him, but never committed—and the conflict at Gethsemane was renewed.

35. He calleth Elias—Most commentators suppose this was said in jest. If so, it betrays the most terrible depravity, and insensibility and malignant hatred almost inconceivable.

36. And one ran ... and gave him to drink—John xix, 28, says, that this was in consequence of Jesus saying, "I thirst." One of the effects of crucifixion was excessive thirst. Saying, Let alone; let us see—Or, let me alone; quit interfering. In Matthew these words are addressed to the man who gave the vinegar; here they are spoken by him to the others. A sign of accuracy; such a conversation is natural; the one addressed by the crowd flinging back their own words. Whether Elias will come—Some of the Roman soldiers, who, amid this wonderful phenomenon, had listened attentively to the conversation of the Jews about the coming of Elijah, might have thought Jesus calling for the prophet.

37. Cried with a loud voice—The evangelists all dwell upon the loudness of the cry, as it had been the triumphant note of a conqueror. The words are given by John: "It is finished!" They mean, that the atonement is wrought. Gave up the ghost—Is not, as the English reader might imagine, an exact translation of some strange Greek phrase, but a native idiom of our own, corresponding to a single Greek word, meaning breathed out, or expired, a beautiful substitute for died, which all the evangelists appear to have avoided, perhaps in order to suggest more strongly the idea that our Lord's death was an act of his own will, as predicted by himself, and distinctly, although variously, recorded here in all the gospels.

38. The veil of the temple was rent—The interior of the temple was an extended oblong room divided into two apartments by a large curtain. The front one of these apartments was called the holy place; and the further one, concealed by a second curtain or veil, was called the holy of holies. Into the holy of holies none entered but the high-priest, and he but once a year on the great day of atonement. Veiled in this holy of holies the divine presence was supposed to dwell. When the temple's veil was rent from top to bottom, it was declared in fact that God no longer dwelt there. There was nothing to conceal. The great work of salvation was now, at last, completed; prophecy fulfilled; the ancient covenant at an end, the new inaugurated. Judaism was forever obsolete, and the holy of holies had ceased to be the peculiar presence chamber of Jehovah among men. Nor was a sign wanting that it was so, for the great veil of purple and gold—sixty feet long and thirty broad—before the inner sanctuary of the temple suddenly rent itself in two, from the top to the bottom, at the moment of Christ's death, as if he who had hitherto dwelt there had gone forth to lead up his eternal Son to his own right hand.

39. When the centurion ... saw that he so cried out—The expression of a wonderful power of life and spirit in the last sign of life, the triumphant shout in death, was to the warrior, who had learned to know death from a totally different side upon the battlefields, a new revelation. He said—There was something in the manner of this last cry so unusual and superhuman that the centurion is convinced that he must have been that person whom he was accused as having declared himself to be. This man was the Son of God—The centurion was a heathen, and he had probably no very distinct notions of the phrase the Son of God; perhaps understanding by it only that he was like the heathen heroes who had been deified; but he certainly regarded these wonders as proof that he was what he professed to be. In the original it is, "a son of a god;" an expression perfectly suitable to a polytheist, who believed in the existence of many gods. Mark xv, 39, says that they affirmed that "this man was the Son of God;" Luke xxiii, 47, that they said, "certainly this was a righteous man." These things were said by different persons, or at different periods of his sufferings—one evangelist having recorded one saying, and another another. The centurion knew that he was executed for claiming to be the Son of God; he now recognized that whatever that title meant (and probably his conceptions in regard to it were very indefinite), it was divinely attested by these supernatural phenomena.

Missionary.

Progress of Missions.

It is affirmed on good authority that the foreign field for the past twenty years has yielded more converts in proportion to the work done than the home field. In more than fifty islands of the Pacific a great company has been reclaimed from idolatry and superstition. The largest congregation in the world, numbering 4,500 members, is on the island of Hawaii recovered from a savage type of false religion within the memory of living men. Over 90,000 Feejeans gather regularly for Christian worship, who, within the present generation, feasted on human flesh. Not twenty years ago Madagascar had only a few scattered and persecuted converts. Now its queen and 200,000 of her subjects are ranged on the side of the Cross. Fifty years ago there was not a native Christian in the Friendly Islands. Now there are 30,000, who contribute $15,000 a year to religious objects. On the western coast of Africa are over 100 organized congregations. In Sierra Leone 50,000 civilized Africans worship the God of our fathers. Two thousand miles of sea-coast have been wrested from the slave-trade, and the church and the school substituted for the slave pen. In Asia, the citadel of cultivated and intellectual paganism, Persia and Hindostan, Japan and China, have their story to tell. In the last alone, missions have been established in 40 walled cities and 360 villages. And all of this, remember, has been done in spite of serious drawbacks at home and most formidable difficulties abroad. There may be those who will undertake to belittle even the achievements of the past seventy years. But let them bear in mind that the first century of our Lord, and that the one of miraculous gifts, closed with less than 500,000 disciples of Christ, or less than the half of one per cent. of the population of the Roman Empire. The positive achievements of modern missions are wonderful. People who were thought beyond the reach of divine grace have been brought under the sway of the gospel, and turned from a savage state into civilized and Christianized communities; and yet the promise of the near future, if the church be true to her trust, is brighter than ever before.—Bishop Littlejohn.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Tutt's Pills

stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as an anti-bilious medicine. In

Malarial Districts

their virtues are widely recognized, as they possess peculiar properties in freeing the system from that poison. This popular remedy rarely fails to effectually cure

Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness

and all disorders arising from a Torpid Liver and Bad Digestion.

A Proclamation!

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Felton, Ark., says: "A year ago I had bilious fever; Tutt's Pills were so highly recommended that I used them. Never did medicine have a happier effect. After a practice of a quarter of a century, I proclaim them the best medicine ever used. I always prescribe them in my practice."

ANTI-BILIOUS

Sold Everywhere.

Office, 44 Murray St. New York.

Tutt's Manual of Useful Receipts sent Free.

PIANOS L&B. S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE 1 TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000 Worth of Pianos and Organs Must be Closed Out by August 1.

New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new in our repair factory.

MUST SELL! Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices! Easy Terms! Write for Bargain Sheet.

LUDDEN & BATES SAVANNAH, GA.

Agents Wanted! The 'ERIE' is the only PERFECT Self-Wringing MOP Made.

No breakage; made of malleable iron & steel wire; special cloth fitted in every mop before shipping. Liberal terms. Exclusive territory.

Send 50 cents for sample and save time. Circulars and terms free.

EVANS BROS., Southern Agents, 13 Perdido St., New Orleans, La.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS

CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITIES.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JARVIS.

BROWNE & JENKINS,

DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN

WALL PAPER

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free. Mention this paper.

Frank Walker & Co.,

WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,

117 Tchoupitoulas St., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,

DEALER IN

WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cordice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

263 - CAMP STREET - 263

Bet. Delord and Poeyfarre, NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.

W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

When writing, mention this paper.

A. Brousseau's Son,

23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING, CARPETS, INGRAINS, LACE CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand.

Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

DRAINING MACHINES, IRRIGATION PUMPS, DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory.

JOS. MENGE, 105 Tchoupitoulas St.

PATENTS THOMAS P. SIMPSON, Washington, D. C. No atty's fee until Patent obtained. Write for Inventor's Guide.

FROM

New Orleans to Cincinnati.

94 MILES THE SHORTEST.

TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST,

NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer through the City.

Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.

R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans

J. C. GAULT, General Manager.

D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

And Through Cars for All Classes to

CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 5 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

Pullman Sleeping Cars

THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE

To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and

KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO

Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.

TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—

Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

SHORT LINE

—BETWEEN—

NEW ORLEANS, TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT, AND POINTS IN

Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas

JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

VULCAN Fireproof Paint

IS INDORSED BY THE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICIALS OF NEW ORLEANS AND NEW YORK.

All Colors. Adapted to the finest as well as rough work. SHINGLE ROOFS MADE ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF and preserved from decay. Write for circulars.

H. R. GIFFNEY, 41 Union Street, New Orleans.

Persons writing Mr. H. R. Giffney concerning Vulcan Paint will please enclose him this advertisement.

WANTED at once, everywhere, an Agent, Man or Woman. Profitable business. Liberal Pay. All time not necessary. Special inducement to TEACHERS and STUDENTS for Summer. Give references. R. H. WOODWARD & Co., Baltimore, Md.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS (Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....9:00 am	No. 2.....1:00 pm
No. 3.....5:45 pm	No. 1.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:20 am	No. 6.....1:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 Fast Ex...7:00 am
No. 1 Fast Ex...7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast....3:40 pm
No. 5 Coast....9:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex..3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r. 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express. 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express. 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local. 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local. 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local....7:20 pm
No. 17 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor..11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE. (New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd. 11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd....3:35 pm
No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line..7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO. (Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line..3:35 pm

T. P. AND F. EAST LA. (Abita Springs.)

Daily Except Sundays.

Arrive.....8:00 am | Leave.....4:00 pm

Sunday Schedule.

Arrive.....7:25 pm | Leave.....7:30 am

TYPE-INK PAPER - PRESSES

At Southern Printers' Warehouse, 101-103 GRAVIER ST., NEW ORLEANS.

E. F. DYKE, Pres't. E. P. MACRIE, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO.

(LIMITED)

40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in—

WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application. Mention this Paper.

CARRIAGES,

Buggies, Phaetons, Surreys, Carts, HARNESS, Baby Carriages,

R. P. RANDALL,

54 and 56 Baronne Street, New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS, FUNERAL : DIRECTORS.

CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor at Establishment.

213 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM

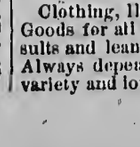
F. D. VanValkenburgh,

106 Camp Street,

Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Orders by mail promptly filled.

$300 to $500 a month made by working for us. We guarantee energetic persons $300 a Year, with the opportunity of making 6 times that amount. Men who can furnish their own horses preferred. A few vacancies in towns and cities. Holloway & Co., 112 N. 4th St., St. Louis.



We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the so highly celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats.

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

Discount to Preachers.

H. B. STEVENS,

OUTFITTER,

122 and 124 Canal St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Clothing, Hats, Shirts and Furnishing Goods for all ages and all sizes. Fat suits and lean suits for men and boys. Always depend on us for the largest variety and lowest prices.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. O. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. R. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1889.

Delhi District Conference.

This body convened in Bastrop, La., May 23. Rev. J. D. Harper, presiding elder, occupied the chair and guided the deliberations of the Conference to a successful termination, Saturday evening, May 25. There was a good attendance of ministers, but the laymen did not appear in much force as to numbers. It seems to be a difficult matter to secure a full attendance of laymen at these annual meetings. Some of them do not recognize the obligation resting upon them in such matters, and the progress of the cause of Christ is, no doubt, retarded. What occasions for good and for the accumulation of power for work these meetings would be if every delegate recognized his obligation to attend, and was promptly on hand at the opening session and continued in the Spirit until its close! What streams of fertilizing influence would go out all over the district! The fire kindled in the hearts of members would light up many dark places, and the gospel preached would radiate its power in every direction! The District Conference would be like Jerusalem—the center where new influences would originate yearly, and whence they would flow out in good to all parts of the district! Next year, brother, see to it that you attend your District Conference. Contact with your brethren in Conference will freshen your religion and quicken your energies and strengthen your faith—yea, make a new man of you, and be an inspiration to diligent and faithful work for a whole year.

The presiding elder made careful enquiry into the various phases of church work, and the conclusion reached was, that the cause of the Lord is making progress all over the district. The spirituality of the church is gaining in power somewhat; the financial interests seem to be in good condition, some circuits being ahead of last year; church buildings and parsonages are receiving attention, and the Sunday-school work is growing in influence. The presiding elder expressed himself as gratified with the reports made of the condition of the charges, and looks with confidence for more progress during the remainder of the year. There was preaching twice a day during the Conference, and we had the pleasure of hearing brethren, with whom we have been meeting in Annual Conference for years, preach for the first time. The congregations were large and attentive, and, doubtless, the seed sown will spring up in after days in a harvest of glory to God in the salvation of souls. The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, There is a spirit of lawlessness pervading our country, developing in mobocracy; And, whereas, this spirit is condemned by the Bible, and is wholly opposed to the Christian religion; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we do most emphatically condemn such spirit of lawlessness, and agree to do all in our power, by the help of God, to check and overthrow it.

Whereas, The reports of the pastors who observed Children's Day indicate the fact that efforts put forth publicly for spiritual benefit of the children resulted in great good; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we suggest to the pastors the propriety of devoting a reasonable proportion of the time especially to the children.

Resolved, That we stand committed fully and unreservedly to the furtherance of all proper methods used for the prohibition of the demoralizing and destructive liquor traffic and to the overthrow of that monster iniquity—The Louisiana State Lottery. We recognize these as twin evils united by a common interest and upheld by the same depraved sentiment.

The editor presented the claims of the ADVOCATE to the body, and received a few new subscribers. The larger part of the members were already subscribers, as was shown by a vote taken on that question.

Dr. Hunnicutt's absence was much regretted by everybody when the subject of Christian education was called. Had he been present and talked as he can talk on that subject, no doubt, much more would have been accomplished. The man who has studied his subject thoroughly, and has it well in mind and heart, can always accomplish more than he who talks at random. The presiding elder called on the editor to take Dr. Hunnicutt's place; and while he felt very small in so large a place, his love for the old alma mater caused him to do the best he could under such discouraging circumstances. The result of the talk was $3,000 in six per cent. endowment notes for the college. Several ladies contributed, and several young men who have been students at Centenary, and several more gave promise of doing likewise.

The members in attendance and visitors did not begin to exhaust the hospitality of the town. The guests were absolutely hunted up and "compelled to come in." Every guest had the best place and every host had the best guest; and as for the editor, the freedom of the city was unanimously voted him, and he was entertained everywhere with a generosity so cordial that he began to think maybe he was somebody after all! Such handshakings from Jew and Gentile, Baptist and Presbyterian, Episcopalian and Methodist, white and black, he never underwent before. Eight and a half long years seemed not to have weakened the friendships formed in the first years of our ministry. "Kinsfolk and acquaintance" vied in making the time one of supreme pleasure to us; and they succeeded. The audience that greeted us on Sunday morning was one of the sights of a lifetime. Thank God for friends, tried and found true, in those dark times "that tried men's souls"!

The whole parish of Morehouse is stirred on the railroad question. One is being built from Monroe to Prairie Mer Rouge, and it is said will be in running order by July 4. The survey of another had just been made through the town of Bastrop, and an election has been ordered to take place June 9 in the parish to vote a railroad tax. The country certainly needs a railroad. The fact that it takes a man 48 hours from New Orleans to Bastrop by public conveyance demonstrated it; and we hope our friends will have it as soon as it is possible to build it.

As pleasant as was our trip, we could not linger long, and trust that its memories will be an inspiration to diligent and faithful work for many days to come.

Sardis District Conference.

The nineteenth session of the Sardis District Conference was held at Sardis, Miss., May 31 to June 2, 1889, Bishop C. B. Galloway in the chair; the pastors all present. The attendance of laymen was small, owing to the pressing nature of their farming operations.

The ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society convened on Thursday, May 29, and had a pleasant and profitable conference. The reports indicated a fair state of prosperity in this department of church work.

The reports of the pastors from the several charges of the district indicated a solid and substantial improvement in all matters relating to material prosperity. The attendance on divine worship and on all the means of grace was reported to be good. The Sunday-school work is increasing in interest, and in the number of children who are brought into the church through this instrumentality. There seemed to be an increasing interest in family worship and in all the private means of grace. It was, however, a matter of deep regret that in some places there was a tendency to run off after worldly amusements, particularly after the pernicious evil of horse-racing and gambling thereon. The preaching during the Conference was full of unction and power, and the religious features of the Conference full of blessing to all who were present.

The Committee on Education made a stroug report, heartily endorsing the action of the two Conferences in Mississippi in the effort to establish a Methodist College in the State, and commending the generosity and liberality of Maj. R. W. Millsaps, in giving fifty thousand dollars towards an endowment fund, to the liberality and emulation of our people, who are expected to add another fifty thousand to this sum. After this report Bishop Galloway made a stirring and eloquent speech on this behalf, and proceeded to lift a collection for this purpose. About two thousand dollars were subscribed, with the hope of a large increase above this amount.

The business manager of the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, Rev. D. L. Mitchel, made a strong speech in behalf of that paper, and made our faces burn when he told us only fifty-five copies of our Conference organ were taken in the bounds of this district. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we will present the claims of the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE publicly in all our congregations during the months of June and July.

It is to be hoped there will be a large increase in the number of subscribers to this paper. We can not successfully carry on our work without the help of our Conference organ.

The Committee on Education made a report endorsing in the strongest terms the good work being done in the Grenada Collegiate Institute. Rev. T. J. Newell, A. M., then presented the claims of this school in a strong speech. This institution richly deserves the patronage of all our people.

The following were elected delegates to the Annual Conference: J. C. Kyle, G. D. Shands, P. B. Jones and Dr. J. W. Sharp; W. C. Sturdvent and P. T. Callicut alternates. Next District Conference at Senatobia. R. G. PORTER, Sec.

The Spiritual Equivalent.

BY "ASTERISK."

Casting out a devil on one occasion, the Savior said, "This kind goeth not out but by fasting and prayer." Exactly what kind of a devil it was does not appear. It is enough to know that to pass from certain forms of demoniacal possession to possession by the Spirit of God calls for an unusual exercise of the means of grace. Now, it is just as far from heaven to earth as it is from earth to heaven; and the law of spiritual gravitation may act like that in nature. In the movement, therefore, which brought into one the two natures of the God-man we may suppose that deity and humanity met half-way. In this view the temptation of Christ as to bread has a peculiar significance, for just as the change from demoniacal to angelic possession could not be wrought in some cases without the uplifting power of fasting and prayer, so it may be that the Son of God could not be brought down into sympathy with man upon this subject without the levelling effect of a similar discipline.

How the Savior could be tempted in all points like as we are is a question whose solution depends largely upon what is meant by "we." Indeed, a solution is hardly possible without determining first the moral and spiritual common measure of men. It startles our reverence no little to suppose the Savior liable to some of the temptations and moral casualities which lie in the path of the average man. Our departure from virtue begins so early in life and extends so far that we can but poorly estimate the power of evil over us, were we subject only to the disabilities of original sin. There is a logic of salvation, no doubt, though it does not always follow the canons of the schools. When the two agree, the highest power of conviction has been reached. It is this cumulative quality which gives such force to the reasonings of our Savior. Upon the question of bread, however, as it includes the wants of the body, it seems to have been impossible for him to make himself understood by his disciples.

After forty years of manna in the wilderness, the Israelites preferred to trust God through the medium of sun and shower, and fields of grain, with all the vicissitudes of soil and season, rather than to receive their bread direct from heaven. Centuries of discipline—the severest, yet the most loving that ever came to any nation—left these descendants about where their fathers were. These twelve men, with the opportunity of daily intercourse with the Great Teacher, seem not to have advanced a Sabbath-day's journey in the better part of the divine life. The stubborn challenge, What shall we eat, what shall we drink, and wherewithal shall we be clothed met the sublimest teachings of the Master at the very threshold of their hearts.

What a commentary upon the New Testament would be a series of instantaneous photographs of the disciples during those crucial tests to which he occasionally subjected them. In one memorable instance, the giving of a form of prayer, and the explanation which follows, one may easily imagine some features of the scene. The response of our own nature to the several petitions gives us almost the very words of their unspoken comment as the prayer proceeded:

"Our Father who art in heaven; hallowed be thy name."

That is good: a "father"—and "in heaven"—kind by reason of the paternal relation, yet far enough away not to shame our evil doing by the awful presence of his purity.

"Thy kingdom come."

A kingdom of bread, for instance.

"Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."

As it regards the supply of bread chiefly. Amen!

"Give us this day our daily bread."

Ah! that covers the whole ground. A well-fed man is in the humor to forgive; is ready to pray for deliverance from evil, for immunity from the temptations of the full, and to ascribe praise to the great Father and Feeder of men. It may have taken forty days in the wilderness to put the bread petition into that prayer; but there it is, and it has borne the emphasis of humanity from the day it was first spoken until now.

But there is another comment—that of the Savior himself. Passing at once to the uppermost thought in their minds, he enforces the certainty of this daily provision. With what glowing countenances—still judging them by ourselves—must the disciples have listened as he spoke of "father" and "son," and "stone" and "bread," and "fish" and "scorpion"! In this glow of confident expectation the conclusion begins to be stated: "If ye, then, know how to give good things (bread) to your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give?" Thus far, we may imagine, teacher and pupil went together. Is it too much to say, however, that between the Savior's concluding words, as they are given by Luke, and the anticipations of his hearers there is a sheer descent of the whole distance from heaven to earth? "How much more shall your heavenly Father give"—bread! bread! is the eager conclusion of the natural man. But the divine Logician closes on a higher plane than this: "How much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?" Is it true, then, that the Holy Spirit is the equivalent of all good gifts—the sufficient answer to every prayer of faith which brings no answer in kind? This, at least, seems to be the meaning of our Savior. It is only when we realize this fact that we are prepared to receive many gracious promises of the Bible. As to material good, these promises do not extend very far. The Psalmist had "never seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread." But there is quite a difference between this and the guarantee of a fortune, or even plenty, to the servant of God. "Houses and lands" is a consequence, not a specific of self-abnegation for Christ's sake; and the title to these is not like that by which men ordinarily hold real estate. "Whatsoever he doeth shall prosper," is limited by certain conditions which preclude the idea of gain in money and property as a direct gift of Providence. Indeed, the best that can be said of religion as a factor of success in business is, that it promotes temperance, diligence, faithfulness, and other qualities which ordinarily lead to such success. There is a sense, however, in which the Christian becomes possessor of an immense estate here as well as hereafter. Paul itemizes the account more than once, but always with the condition expressed or implied that our possession is a spiritual one. The Spirit of God resident in the heart is proprietary as well as supplemental; it not only fills up the measure of blessing which comes in answer to prayer, but puts the Christian in an attitude to enjoy his neighbor's good as his own.

Of a certain member of the Louisiana Conference, then recently deceased, Bishop Keener once wrote in substance: "For years his work lay in the rich alluvial region of Louisiana. Day after day he road past elegant mansions and great estates of cane and corn, having nothing himself and envying no man anything." And why should he be envious? The rich prospect everywhere was his by that power the Spirit gives: to possess without owning, and to lack without being in want. The trouble with most of us is not that we want too much, but that in this special sense we claim too little. It is no longer a question of earth or heaven with us, but earth and heaven are ours, and "we are Christ's, and Christ is God's."

Brother, the kingdom is come; the equivalent Spirit makes possession sure on both sides of Jordan.

That is a good sentence from a young preacher, the son of a preacher, in another column. For fear you won't see it, we give it here. "I always take time to talk up the ADVOCATE." That young brother is going to succeed.

Something for Prohibitionists to Consider.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

At the session of the circuit court in Batesville, Miss., last fall, certain parties were convicted of violation of the local option law. The complexion of the cases was this: These parties, residents of Batesville, were acting as agents for a saloon in Memphis. Orders for whisky were taken here; the whisky was sent by express, and by these agents delivered to the parties ordering through them. The said agents were indicted, tried and convicted as above stated. A test was made by appealing the most prominent case to the Supreme Court of the State. That high tribunal reversed the decision of the court below. Notice of its action was sent to this place while Judge Rogers was holding the spring term of circuit court here, and these violators of good order, if not of law, were permitted to go scot-free. The opinion of the Supreme Court was this: The transaction of the sale took place in Tennessee, and not in Mississippi, and was closed when the whisky was delivered by the saloon in Memphis to the express company, which transported it to Batesville, and was, therefore, not a violation of the local option law of Mississippi now in force in Panola county, of which Batesville is a county-site. This decision, which common sense would say is an unrighteous one, was rendered in the face of the facts that these agents delivered the whisky and received the money, therefore, on the streets of Batesville. But, right or wrong, the decision has been so rendered, and we are left thereby at the mercy of whisky dealers in other States. If the decision of the Supreme Court be correct, then there is nothing to prevent any merchant, or anyone else, from acting as agent for a whisky establishment in some other State; and thus open the very flood-gates of iniquity and damnation on our people, notwithstanding our excellent local option law.

Now, what is to be done? It seems to me the prohibition convention, soon to be held in Jackson, might well take this matter into consideration. Has Congress no power to enact an inter-State law for the protection of one State against another in such cases? By federal law the importation of whisky into the Indian Territory is forbidden—prohibited. Maybe more civilized people do not need such protection. At any rate, the foregoing decision of the Supreme Court of the great State of Mississippi places prohibitionists at a great disadvantage, and strikes local option a terrible blow right in the face.

THOS. CAMERON.

Notes.

Dr. Sullivan, in a note on the second page, says "there is an endogenous growth" of the ADVOCATE. We have been told that several times lately by parties in different sections of the country, but they did not call it by that name. We intend to keep that growth a-going, by the help of the Lord and the brethen.

The Western Christian Advocate makes this good suggestion:

A "yard committee" to keep the church grounds clean and make them beautiful, is a good thing. Let us have "yard committees" through all the land, to keep church and parsonage grounds in good order. It is time to fix up. The day of stumps and log-heaps is pretty much gone by. There is a chance now to make the wilderness rejoice and blossom as the rose.

The Secretary of the Navy has received this hint from a little girl in the matter of replacing the ships that were destroyed by the storm at Samoa:

MR. THACY: My cousin was on the war ship, and she said the sailors wasted the potatoes, and I thought if they took thinner parings you might build a ship to send where the others got lost. I am only eleven, but I can take thinner parings. My mother does not know I am writing this.

It is said that the Secretary will refer the communication to the Bureau of Provisions and Clothing for a suitable response.

Personal and Otherwise.

A note from Rev. J. R. Roberson brings the sad intelligence of the death of his wife and infant son. May the grace of our Lord be sufficient in this dark hour!

We have received the programme of the commencement exercises of the Memphis Conference Female Institute, Jackson, Tenn., for which we give thanks to the efficient president, Dr. A. W. Jones.

The Cherokees of Indian Territory recently dedicated a new seminary for girls which cost them $200,000.

Mrs. Bishop Kavanaugh has been visiting friends in Vicksburg, Miss.

President Harrison is expected to visit Fort Worth, Texas, to attend the opening of the Texas Spring Palace about the middle of June.

Bro. Van Valkenburgh was on hand at the Delhi District Conference, selling books and pamphlets. He sold 100 copies of Dr. Carradine's Sermon on the Lottery.

"The Kernel of the Southern Question," is what the Des Moines Christian Advocate calls Dr. Haygood's "Plans for Progress." Sent postpaid for $1, by A. G. Haygood, Jr., Decatur, Ga.

The Delhi District Conference elected the following delegates to the Annual Conference: Dr. A. S. Helmick, Joseph Gorten, Samuel Whited, C. Newton.

Hon. E. J. Gay, member of Congress from the Third District of this State, died at his residence, near Plaquemine, La., May 30. Mr. Gay was a member of the Methodist Church, and was seventy-three years of age.

A card from Rev. R. L. Wiggins, of Florida Conference, announces the death of Mrs. Rev. T. C. Bradford. Bro. Bradford was for years a member of the Mississippi Conference, and his wife was well known and loved by all who knew her. Bro. Wiggins says: "She was eating supper on Monday evening and died at the table, without a word and without a struggle." Our bereaved brother and seven children have our deepest sympathy!

Our friend, Rev. Inman Cooper, of Edwards, Miss., made the address to the Alumni Association of Hillsassee College at its recent commencement, and the editor of the Holston Methodist speaks of it as "not without literary polish and sufficiently practical to catch the popular ear."

The Rev. F. M. Featherstun, D. D., will deliver the address to the graduating class of the Feliciana Female Academy, June 19, 1889.

Rev. Sam Jones will be in Wesson, Miss., June 13, and will conduct a meeting two or three days.

The student band of missionary volunteers, which took its beginning three years ago at Mr. Moody's Summer School, keeps growing. Evidently the missionary spirit is growing among the young people. There are now 3,100 under-graduates who desire, after suitable preparation, to serve as missionaries in any clime to which they may be called."

We are pleased to learn that Bishop Beebe, of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in America, has been successful in paying that portion of the debt on their valuable property, corner of Prytania and Conery streets, which was overdue; and no reasonable doubt exists that the other payments will be made as they all due. This secures to our colored brethren an excellent location in the best part of the city, and we sincerely hope they may grow into a large and important religious community.

Another Missionary to Japan.

"Subscriber's" proposition made in the ADVOCATE, two weeks ago, is being generously responded to. A Methodist preacher's wife sends the first response, and "Old Reliable" sends the next, and the publisher of the ADVOCATE comes in third. Now, who will be the next? The roll of honor begins thus:

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00

These are but the droppings betokening the coming shower. Japan has flung her gates open for the entrance of the gospel, and our little band there is calling for re-enforcement. Where are the ninety-six others who will take ten dollars' worth of stock in this missionary enterprise? Next!

Notice.

All subscribers to the fund for helping the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, on corner Prytania and Conery streets, are requested to make payment to Dr. C. W. Carter, editor of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and any other contributions for this worthy cause will be gratefully acknowledged.

J. A. BEEBE,
Bishop Presiding.
J. C. W. SMITH, P. C.

Revival at Carondelet.

The revival that was begun at the Carondelet Street Methodist Church, Wednesday, May 21, still increases in results and interest. Bro. Hopper, of Jackson, Miss., continued his zealous, faithful work until Monday last. He was aided by the Holy Spirit, Bro. Carradine and a number of consecrated, holy men and women. On Sunday morning over fifty persons joined this church, at which time the glory of God filled the sacred temple. The entire congregation felt the divine presence. On the call for testimony for Christ, more than one hundred arose and told the sweet story of Christ's love, and twenty stated they had received the blessing of entire sanctification. At each service from ten to fifteen have been converted, and up to last Monday night it is estimated there have been one hundred and twenty-five souls born again, most of whom have publicly professed Jesus, many shouting happy. The meetings will continue each night for the present.

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. H. M. Banks writes from Sugartown, La.: "I wish to say that my May round has been one of delightful interest on the part of the preacher. Preached twelve sermons, conducted two class meetings, met with two of the Sunday-schools, and gave the children a little Sunday-school talk which seemed to encourage parents, teachers and children. The congregations were unusually large and attentive, and five were added to the church, all of whom were received by baptism; besides the baptism of a sweet little babe, in which the pastor took unusual interest, and whose heart was made to rejoice by hearing the mother say that it was her purpose, by the help of God, to train little Thomas Christian for the Lord. It might be well to say that the people of Sugartown circuit are taking care of their preacher, and I think at the end of the year Sugartown will come up in the front ranks of country circuits in a financial point of view, besides a full harvest in the church."

—Rev. F. M. Keen writes from Amite City, La.: "That indefatigable worker, Bro. M. H. Moore, remained with us after District Conference and did faithful preaching. We are having a regular camp-meeting time. The altar is crowded with penitents earnestly enquiring the way; six accessions and more applications. The church is greatly revived. Praise the Lord! Bro. Moore has left us, but Bros. Winans Drake is with us doing good work. I am expecting more help this evening. We are pushing the conquest to the very gates of the enemy. Pray for us!"

—Rev. Heslep R. Tucker writes from Kosciusko and Durant station: "Children's Day was observed at Kosciusko the third Sunday, and at Durant the fourth Sunday. Each occasion was a success in every respect. Congregations were large, the programme at each place excellent, and the children, who were made prominent, performed well their duty. The collection amounted to $17. We are moving finely in this charge. Prayer meetings and Sunday-schools improving, the assessment for foreign missions raised in full, and twenty received into the church. The people have been kind to the preacher and his family from the beginning, and the stewards have the salary well up to date, and say that every dollar will be paid."

—Rev. T. B. Holloman writes from Canton, Miss.: "Through the efforts of the good ladies of our church at this place, we now have one of the neatest, most comfortable churches in the State. With bright new carpet, and pews of latest pattern, delightful to sit upon, and a general refitting from pulpit to ceiling, our church is beautiful within. All of this has been accomplished within the last four months, and at an expense of nearly seven hundred dollars. Yet not a supper, fair, festival, or any of those questionable means were resorted to. Here is simply an evidence what a people can do by honest, earnest effort when they put their hands to the work. We are moving along smoothly in church affairs. Congregations improving weekly. We hope for much good during the year. Our District Conference convenes here on June 21. We look for some representative from the ADVOCATE office. Can't you come?"

(We hope to be there.—EDITOR.)

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

LEAVES FROM THE TREE OF LIFE; OR, GLEANINGS FROM THE WORD OF GOD. By Rev. L. L. Pickett. Publishing House, Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

This excellent little book is calculated to be of much benefit to the church and the ministry. It is on somewhat a new plan. A topic is taken, and all that is said in the Bible under this head is classified and quoted. This is followed by a short commentary by the author, with an appropriate extract from Bishop Newton. Thus a great variety of topics are treated in a most instructive and edifying manner, and the reader has the advantage of all the scriptural references being made and fully quoted before him.

PERIODICALS.

—The Missionary Review of the World, for June, shows no evidence of decline in interest or power. The Correspondence in this number from almost all parts of the world is unusually full and important. All the other departments likewise are crowded with matter of great missionary interest. The twelve pages occupied with General Missionary Intelligence, and the Monthly Bulletin, showing the Progress of Missions, exhibit a degree of patience in gathering reliable information, and of skill in arranging and presenting it so as to make it available, rarely seen, and that makes the Review indispensable to one who wishes to keep up with current missionary movements. Published by Funk & Wagnalls, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York. $2 per year; 25 cents for single numbers. In clubs of ten, $1 50.

—The Quiver, for June, is on our table. This is a most excellent number of one of the best monthlies that we receive. It contains many thoughtful religious articles from the pens of foremost English preachers. The present number has papers from the Bishop of Derry, Prof. Blaikie, Rev. P. B. Power, Rev. A. B. Carpenter, Rev. J. Telford, and others. This is a fine periodical for Sunday reading, furnishing always that which is instructive as well as entertaining. Cassel & Company, New York. Price, fifteen cents a number.

—We have little doubt but that the frontispiece of the Magazine of Art, for June, will find itself framed and hanging on many a wall before the month is well out. It is the study of a head done in photogravure from one of Sir Frederick Leighton's portraits. The opening article is on the popular painter, Hermann Corrodi, whose popularity in England may be judged from the fact that the Jubilee present of the Prince and Princess of Wales to the Queen was one of his pictures, which, by the way, is here reproduced. The papers on the Barbizon school are continued, with N. V. Diaz still as their subject. There is an article on Studies in English Costume, by Richard Heath, which is carefully illustrated; a poem by Cosmo Monkhouse with illustrations by Arthur Lemon, printed in tint, and then we come to The Early Days of the Renaissance in Italy, with illustrations, which is followed by a paper on Old Arts and Modern Thoughts, and then come the notes. Cassell & Co. Thirty-five cents a number; $3 50 a year, in advance.

—The Century, for June, opens with Mr. Kennan's first article on The Convict Mines of Kara. An article on the Bloodhound, by an English writer, shows that dog in a new light. Certain Forms of Woman's Work, by Mrs. Helen Campbell, is an interesting paper. The Life of Lincoln still drags its slow length along. The Relations of the United States with Canada is the subject of a paper by Charles H. Lugrin. Mrs. Margaret Preston writes of General Lee after the War. Other articles follow which make this number a valuable one. Century Company, New York. Price, $4.

—The Popular Science Monthly, for June, has 140 pages of interesting reading from authors of great repute in the literary world. D. Appleton & Co., New York. Price, $5.

—The Chautauquan is one of the best periodicals that comes to our office, and we give it our highest commendation. T. L. Flood, Meadville, Pa.

—Our Little Ones is a gem in its way. It is exactly suited to the growing minds of the little folks, and will bring sunshine to any home. Russell Publishing Company, Boston. Price, $1 50.

—The Homiletic Magazine has sermons, Expository Papers, Homiletical Commentary, Children's Service, Sermon Outlines, etc., and is published for $1 50, by E. B. Treat, New York.

—Scribner's Magazine has Electricity in the Service of Man, by C. F. Brackett; Slavery in Africa, by Henry Drummond; Count Leo Tolstoy Twenty Years Ago, by Eugene Schuyler, and other interesting papers. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York. Price $3.

—St. Nicholas is breezy and bright and beautiful, and gladdens all the young people. Century Company, New York. Price, $3.

Publisher's Department.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

"Mamma," said a little five-year-old, as his mother was giving him a bath, "be sure and wipe me dry, so I won't rust."

CHANGES.—We have quite a number of orders to change the address of subscribers; some without signatures, and others who do not give the former address. Under these circumstances, change can not be made.

The best fire-escape—The chimney.

The counter-sign—"No goods exchanged."

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

Notice.

To the Preachers of North Mississippi Conference:

DEAR BRETHREN: A few of you have not sent me names of Sunday-school superintendents. Please send to-day; also names of persons who may help in M. E. G. or L. Fund.

Brethren, I do so want an enlarged report in Sunday-schools this year. I hope you will not fail me. Be sure to observe Children's Day, if it take till July to do so. I am using the missionary programs; you would be surprised at the interest taken in them. Am going to continue to open morning service with them.

J. L. FUTRELL.
STONE, Alabama.

Notice.

The Annual Convention of the Woman's Missionary Society, Louisiana Conference, will meet in Delhi, July 5-8, inclusive. Every auxiliary in the State is urged to send, at least, one delegate. Delegates and visitors pay full fare going; certificates must be obtained from railroad agent at their respective places of starting in order that reduced rates may be obtained returning.

MRS. C. J. FOSTER,
Conf. Cor. Sec.

East Mississippi Female College, Meridian, Miss.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

SUNDAY, JUNE 16.

Annual Sermon, by Rev. J. M. Boland, D. D., of the Alabama Conference.

MONDAY, JUNE 17.

Art Exhibition from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees, at 10 A. M. Art Address at night, by Albert S. Bozeman, Esq.

TUESDAY NIGHT, JUNE 18.

Annual Meeting of the Alumnæ Association.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT, JUNE 19.

Annual Concert.

THURSDAY NIGHT, JUNE 20.

Graduating Exercises. Annual Address, by Rev. W. H. Huntley, of the Mississippi Conference. Members of the Conference most cordially invited to attend these exercises. Rooms will be provided for those who send their names to the president beforehand.

It is said that 200 periodicals are owned and edited by colored people in this country.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. P. RANDOLPH.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,

Homeopathic Physician,

288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.

Cases treated by letter.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH, BUILDERS,

OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.

287 EIGHTH ST.,
Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Both building and repairing promptly attended to

Pure Songs

For the Sunday-School.

EDITED BY
REV. ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, D. D.,
AND
R. M. McINTOSH.

PURE SONGS contains 176 pages, and is published in both forms of Musical Notation—Round Notes and Character Notes. It has been prepared with special reference to Sunday-school work, and we unhesitatingly announce it as the best book of hymns and tunes for Sunday-schools anywhere to be found. It abounds with songs founded on the parables, miracles and leading texts and incidents of the Holy Scriptures, making it easy to illustrate Bible instruction with song.

Single copy—Note Edition, 35 cents by mail; Word Edition, by mail, 15 cents per copy. Music Editions, by express, at purchaser's expense, $3 60 per dozen, $30 per hundred. Word Edition, $1 20 per dozen, $10 per hundred. Specimen copy, postpaid, 35 cents. Address

J. W. BURKE & CO., MACON, GEO.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,

General Insurance Agents

—FOR—

FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING COMPANIES.

Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.

64 BARONNE ST., N. O.

Crescent Insurance Co.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

CASH CAPITAL.....$300,000

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849.

Annual and Term Policies Issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. LYMAN, President.
JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-Pres.
CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRING No. 2.

NATURE'S GREAT SPECIFIC FOR DYSPEPSIA AND GOUT.

Photograph of Dolly Shelton (an old colored woman), taken Jan. 10, 1889, in her 86th year.

At Eighty Years of Age, bedridden from Dyspepsia and Gout, she was miraculously restored by this Water.

Her case stated by Dr. James Shelton, residing near the Buffalo Springs:

"Dolly Shelton, formerly a family servant, resides a mile from BUFFALO SPRINGS. When about eighty years of age she was bedridden, a sufferer from ATONIC DYSPEPSIA and RHEUMATIC GOUT. I advised remedies in the case as palliatives merely, not regarding her recovery as among possibilities. While she was in this condition, a Spring was discovered at Buffalo, now known as Spring No. 2. Without suggestion, she at once commenced the use of it, and in a few months (I saw her only at long intervals, not feeling that I could be of service to her) I found, to my great astonishment, that it was proving highly beneficial. There was marked improvement of the DIGESTION, and also of the GOUTY SYMPTOMS. Under continued use of the water, there was continued improvement until she was able to substitute a diet of meat and vegetables for bread and milk, boiled rice, corn meal mush, etc., and there was also entire disappearance of the GOUTY AFFECTION. At the same time there was a gradual increase of flesh and nervous vigor until she could walk, without unusual fatigue, several miles at a time over the surrounding hills. She is now living, and certainly not under ninety-five years of age. She claims to be a hundred; would weigh, I suppose, two hundred; is in good general health and walks without difficulty about her house, yard and garden, having had no return of DYSPEPSIA or GOUT."

FEBRUARY 1, 1889.

For sale by leading druggists everywhere.

THOMAS F. GOODE, Proprietor,
Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va.

Mention this paper.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)

Price, 80 Cents.

HUNT & EATON, 805 BROADWAY, NEW YORK:
CRANSTON & STOWE, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY

A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN., the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,

R. L SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.

Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As BEAUTIFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, not salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad.

FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 19, 1889.

For full particulars send for Catalogues.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

JOHN J. ROCHESTER. J. C. HODGSON.

Rochester & Hodgson,

Auctioneers and Real Estate Agents.

Real Estate, Furniture, Mdse., Stocks, etc. Furniture Taken on Storage at Lowest Rates. Regular Auction Sales, Monday, Wednesday, Friday.

No. 161 POYDRAS ST., New Orleans.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,

The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters

FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.

Dauphine Street, Two Blocks from Canal Street.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,

Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.

OFFICE, 199 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

H. GARDES, Pres't. W. W. GIRAULT, Cashier

American National Bank,

No. 47 CAMP ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA

LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES.

KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

CLARK & MEADER,

—DEALERS IN—

FINE GROCERIES,

16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and
Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.

W. W. CARRE,

LUMBER MERCHANT

AND MANUFACTURER OF

PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,

Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.

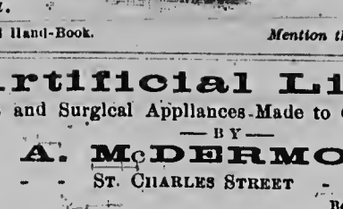
PAINLESS EFFECTUAL
BEECHAM'S PILLS
THE GREAT ENGLISH MEDICINE WORTH A GUINEA A BOX
For Weak Stomach—Impaired Digestion—Disordered Liver.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 25 CENTS PER BOX.
Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.
B. F. ALLEN & CO., Sole Agents
For United States, 365 & 367 Canal St., New York.
Who (if your druggist does not keep them) will mail Beecham's Pills on receipt of price—but inquire first. (Please mention this paper.)

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,
H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.
(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)
CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!
Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.
Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.
We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.
Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.
Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address
H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."
A. W. SKARDON & SON,
Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,
643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,
Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.
Particular attention paid to country orders.
No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.
Mention this paper.

ADAMS' HATS!
26 ST. CHARLES ST.

Standard Guano and Chemical Man'f'g Co.,
SUCCESSORS TO STERN'S Fert. and Chem. Manufacturing Com'y
14 UNION STREET, New Orleans, La.



MANUFACTURERS OF HIGH GRADE BONE FERTILIZERS, PURE GROUND BONE, ACID PHOSPHATE, KAINIT, Etc.
Write for Agricultural Hand-Book. Mention this paper.

Artificial Limbs,
Trusses and Surgical Appliances Made to Order and Adjusted
—BY—
A. McDERMOTT,
200 - - - ST. CHARLES STREET - - - - - 200
Bet. Julia and St. Joseph.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
A. A. WOODS'
General Insurance Agency,
184 GRAVIER STREET,
OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.
Total Assets over $200,000,000.
Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.
Mention this paper.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.
No. 78 CAMP STREET.
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - - $413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - - $459,369.50
Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.
LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.
Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y.
J. B. WOODS, JOS. BAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, JNO. J. BAIR, ANDREW STEWART, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. B. LEVERT, E. BORLAND, J. BORN, F. STRINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.
Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,
14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - - $500,000
Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.
TRUSTEES.—Robt Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselmau, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.
New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company
OF NEW ORLEANS.
54 - CAMP STREET - - 54
Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.
FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.
This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.
FINANCE COMMITTEE.
John T. Moore, Jr.. J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

The Great Church LIGHT.
FRINK'S Patent Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Banks, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl Street, N. Y.

Our Young People.

SIX LITTLE FEET ON THE FENDER.

BY CORNELIA W. ST. JOHN.

In my heart there liveth a picture
Of a kitchen rude and old,
Where the fire-light tripped o'er the rafters,
And reddened the roof's brown mold,
Gilding the steam from the kettle
That hummed on the foot-worn hearth,
Through all the live-long evening,
Its measure of drowsy mirth.

Because of the three light shadows
That frescoed that rude old room;
Because of the voices echoed
Up 'mid the rafters' gloom;
Because of the feet on the fender—
Six restless, white, little feet—
The thoughts of that dear old kitchen
Are to me so fresh and sweet.

When the first dash on the window
Told of the coming rain,
O where are the fair young faces
That crowded against the pane?
While bits of firelight stealing,
Their dimpled cheeks between,
Went struggling out in the darkness
In shreds of silver sheen.

Two of the feet grew weary,
One dreary, dismal day,
And we tied them with snow-white ribbons,
Leaving them by the way.
There was fresh clay on the fender
That dark and rainy night,
For the four little feet had tracked it
From his grave on the brown hill's height.

O why on this darksome evening—
This evening of rain or sleet,
Rest my feet all alone on this hearthstone?
O where are those other feet?
Are they treading the pathway of virtue,
That will lead us together above?
Or have they made steps that will dampen
A sister's tireless love?

—Canada Presbyterian.

Boys Who Became Famous.

I.

"Why don't you send that child to school? He looks a bright boy, and it's a pity he should trifle away his time like that."

So spoke a tall, well-dressed man who was standing beside the counter of a ship-chandler's shop in one of the water-side streets of the old Scotish seaport of Greenock. The door of the inner room happened to be open, and through it could be seen the chandler's younger son—a slender, large-eyed, delicate-looking fellow of six years old—who, kneeling upon the hearth-stone, seemed to be drawing strange figures all over it with a piece of colored chalk.

As the visitor spoke a slight flush of displeasure passed over the father's rough face; but in another moment it gave place to a smile of quiet amusement.

"Weel, sir," said he, in his broad Scotch accent, "will ye just look what he's 'trifling away his time' wi', as ye ca' it?"

The other stepped softly forward, and looking over the shoulder of the unconscious child, saw to his amazement that this six-year old boy was drawing a mathematical diagram, and marking each line in turn with letters or figures, with which he seemed to be working out some kind of calculation.

"Does he really understand all that?" asked the visitor in a whisper.

"Ask him yoursel,'" replied the chandler, quietly.

The other did so, and the boy, not at all disturbed at finding himself face to face with a perfect stranger, answered so clearly and readily that the questioner was astonished.

"He must take a good deal of time to play too, though," said he, looking round the room, "if he uses all these toys that you've bought for him."

"That I've bought for him!" echoed the father, with a broad laugh. "Man, he's made every one o' them himsel',"

"Made every one of those toys himself!" cried the visitor, staring.

"Ay, just as ye see. I bought him a box o' tools a wee while since, and this is what he's done wi' them."

"Well, upon my word, you may be proud of him. He's certainly a most uncommon child, and I beg your pardon sincerely for speaking so foolishly about him as I did just now."

II.

"Weel, neighbor, has he been a good laddie?"

The "laddie" in question was the ship-chandler's clever son (now a smart, though rather delicate, boy of fourteen), who had been on a visit to an English friend in Glasgow, and the speaker was his mother, who had come to fetch him home again.

"Good!" echoed the hostess. "He's made us all jump out of our skins, that's what he's done."

The mother looked puzzled, as well she might.

"It's not that he's been behaving badly," continued her friend. "He's as good as gold, bless him! But as sure as we get settled round the fire at night, he begins telling all sort of stories out of his own head, some so sad that they set us all crying like babies, and some so terrible that we daren't look behind us; and that way he keeps up every night till pretty near twelve o'clock, for when once he's begun a story you can't budge till you've heard how it ended. I don't blame him neither, for (as his brother John says) he can't sleep at night, poor lad! and so of course he don't care to go to bed. But if he was to stay another week he'd drive me clean crazy, as sure as I stand here."

With this good character our hero went back to Greenock; but it seemed to be "out of the frying pan into the fire" with him, for the very next evening his mother, coming home to tea, found him getting a terrible scolding from the shrill voice of his old aunt:

"I ne'er saw sic an idle in a' my days. Can ye no tak' a book, man, and employ yersel' usefully? A' this while ye've done naething but tak' aff yon kettle lid and put it on again, and haud (hold) a cup or a spoon i' the steam to watch the water drap fra it. Are ye no ashamed to waste your time in sic a daft-like way?"

But the old lady lived long enough to be very sorry for those hasty words of hers, when she found out that what she had mistaken for the idle caprice of a careless boy was really the first idea of the steam-engine shaping itself in the mind of James Watt.—Harper's Young People.

Overthrowing a Giant.

In the winter of 1824 a boy was playing in the garden of an old country house in northeastern Germany. On the pedestal of a statue broken by the French soldiers when they swept over Prussia and Poland eighteen years before, he had piled the snow into the rude likeness of an enormous man, which he was pelting lustily with stones and snowballs. Though not yet ten years old, he was unusually tall for his age, and very strong and active. His features were plain, and even heavy, but there was a nameless something in the expression of his firm lips and large bright eyes in which a close observer would have seen the promise of great things to come.

Shot after shot hit the great white figure, but though the giant tottered, he did not fall. Then a sudden and startling change came over the boy's face. His teeth clinched, his eyes flashed fire, and his whole face seemed to harden as the unconquerable spirit that was one day to shake all Europe boiled up within him. Seizing a heavy stone, he hurled it with all his might at the monster, which trembled, lurched forward, and broke into a thousand pieces.

"Hello, Otto, what art thou doing now?" cried an old servant of the household, coming round the corner at that instant, with a broad grin of amusement on his weather beaten visage, scarred by the French sabres which he had faced by Blucher's side at Ligny and Waterloo.

"I am Germany overthrowing France," replied the lad, with a glow of stern triumph on his boyish face which quite transfigured it for the moment.

"Good!" cried the veteran, as a flush of excitement overspread his ruddy face. "Mayhap I shall yet live to see thee do it in earnest some day."

And so he did; for, not many years later, little Otto had become Prince Bismarck.—Harper's Young People.

INFANTILE Skin & Scalp DISEASES cured by CUTICURA Remedies.
FOR CLEANSING, PURIFYING AND BEAUTIFYING the skin of children and infants and curing torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, the CUTICURA REMEDIES are infallible.
CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood diseases, from pimples to scrofula.
Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.
Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."
Baby's Skin and Scalp preserved and beautified by CUTICURA SOAP.
KIDNEY PAINS, Backache and Weakness cured by CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, an instantaneous pain-subduing plaster. 25c.

Household.

Comforts in the Kitchen.

One of my comforts is a small ironing-board. It saves both the bosom board and the ironing board proper, besides being easier to handle than the latter. Any small board about thirty by ten inches will do. Cover first with old blanket or bed ticking, and then with old white muslin. Let the outer piece be of a single thickness, to be removed when soiled. Tack a loop of leather at one end, and hang in a closet where it will be as free as possible from dust. Akin to this is a small piece of old mahogany board, which can be run into the legs and arms of little trousers and jackets, when seams are to be pressed open. These latter need not be dampened, owing to the moisture in the mahogany.

Two or three iron frames, somewhat like teapot holders, and which may be had at house-furnishing stores for a few cents each, are handy to place hot vessels on, and will protect the kitchen table both from black and scorch. In lieu of these a piece of clean board, half an inch thick, may be used. Perpaps one of the greatest of comforts of all is a kitchen apron, or rather aprons, and plenty of them. Let them be sensible ones, too—reaching to the bottom of the dress, and two breadths in width. It pays to buy the strongest of gingham, which is never less than seventeen or eighteen cents a yard, for real work aprons, while seersucker, at five cents, is heavy enough for such work as washing dishes, sweeping and dusting.

Have a rocking-chair in your kitchen. If you do your own work you will snatch many comfortable and much-needed moments of rest in it, and if you have the right kind of girl she will need it sometimes too, and will not impose upon the fact that you have provided her with this luxury.

Have a shelf for such cook books as you may find useful, especially for one of your own compiling, so that your receipes are at hand when you want them, and not in the sitting-room, or in some bureau drawer. I always keep, in addition to these, some instructive or entertaining book which I am reading, and I take much "comfort" in snatching a few moments' reading now and then, although it takes some practice to be able to do this without burning the dinner.—American Agriculturist.

Kitchen Sewerage.

This is a matter of importance to be cared for about every farm-house; but what is convenient at one house will not answer in every place. If I tell what I do with waste water it may help some one else similarly situated. The ground around the back side of my house descends toward a meadow. My milk room and kitchen and water-closet are on the second floor, and are supplied with running water from a mountain spring. The water is kept running. Traps are carefully arranged below the sinks and water-closet, to prevent a return of gases. The three outlets discharge into one four-inch pipe, into which a spare conductor from the eaves also runs. This makes a good ventilator for the large pipe, and also helps to keep the pipe clear. The large pipe is conducted down the hill a convenient distance and discharges into a long box, made of plank (single width) and partially set into the ground. The box is ten or twelve feet long and has one partition and a loose cover over all. The sewer pipe discharges continually into one end of this box, and a sediment forms; the water overflows at a notch in the top of the partition into the next compartment, more sediment is deposited, and the overflow from the other end of the box is conducted some rods farther in a ditch and distributed over the meadow, with good results. Two or three times a year we take the cover off the box and shovel or dip the contents into a barrel set on a stone-boat and draw it off into the meadow and spread it.—American Agriculturist.

"You don't know how much better you will feel if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will overcome that tired feeling, purify your blood, give you a good appetite, and make you bright, active, and strong. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by druggists.

A Fact
WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.
Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—
"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gent, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."
Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."
"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me as much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

NEW SHEET MUSIC
SONGS.
SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Fredric... An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto. Price...
WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Bryant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price...
NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. S. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a melody that sings itself. Price, 35c.
PIANO MUSIC.
GALATEA GAVOTTE. By BARTLETT HALL. A bright and charming composition by the composer of the well-known "Militaire." Price...
MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By FRANZ... A stirring and excellent Military March of the grade of difficulty. Price, 40cts.
ALBUMBLATT. By LOUIS SCHEHEMEL. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the style of a nocturne. Price, 30cts.
, Any of the above, or any other sheet music, to be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.
PUBLISHED BY
THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, And 66 East 16th St., New York City.

MASON & HAMLIN
The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of their unequalled excellence, the first prize ORGANS at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. One hundred styles, from $22 to $900 or more. Illustrated catalogue free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. The highest excellence achieved GRAND & UPRIGHT by other organ makers in the art of piano building, but they claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them as far back as 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent together with descriptive catalogue, to any address.
Pianos and organs sold for cash or easy payments, also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS, The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver, Lung and Female Diseases. Good active workers can make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. For particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered.
Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit. Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It never Fails. We guarantee a complete cure in every instance. 48 page book free.
GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

HAVE YOU GOT PILES?
Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form is known as Blind, Bleeding and Protruding, yield at once to DR. BO-SAN-KO'S PILE REMEDY, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. At Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO.
SUCCESSORS IN "BLYMYER" BELLS TO THE BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.
CATALOGUE WITH 1800 TESTIMONIALS.
BELLS, CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM.

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bells.
CHIMES AND PEALS for Churches.
Send for Price and Catalogue.
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. PEALS WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CANCER and Tumors CURED; no knife; book free. Drs. GRATIGNY & GRATIGNY, No. 163 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

SULLIVAN—TYSON.—On March 27, 1889, by Rev. J. F. Wynn, Mr. Emmett Sullivan to Miss Laura Tyson, both of Natchitoches parish, La.

ETHRIDGE—BALLANCE.—On May 19, 1889, by Rev. J. F. Wynn, Mr. George L. Ethridge, of Montgomery, La., to Miss Mollie Ballance, of Atlanta, La.

ABNEY—SLOANE.—At the residence of the bride's father, Hon. Roberts Sloane, in Acadia parish, La., May 23, 1889, by Rev. H. M. Blocker, Mr. George Relephord Abney to Miss Lola A. Sloane.

HILTON—COLLINS.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. S. T. Collins, of Morehouse parish, La., April 29, 1889, by Rev. T. S. Handle, Mr. C. W. Hilton, of Monroe, La., to Miss Addie W. Collins.

SMYTHE—RUSH.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. G. T. Rush, May 23, 1889, by Rev. W. G. Hackus, Mr. M. G. Smythe, of Vicksburg, Miss., to Miss Lura Rush, of Kemper county, Miss.

HALL—SHAW.—At Flora, Miss., May 15, by Rev. T. H. Holloman, Rev. John W. Hall, of Brownwood, Texas, and Miss Hamerou Shaw, of Flora, Miss.

CASSELL—WATTS.—At the residence of the bride's father, Dr. Watts, May 22, 1889, by Rev. T. H. Holloman, Mr. Frank Cassell and Miss Olivia Watts, all of Madison county, Miss.

SKIPWITH—HALSELL.—At the residence of the bride's uncle, T. A. Ledyard, of Shubuta, Miss., May 22, 1889, by Rev. J. P. Drake, Mr. Robert E. Halsell to Miss Helen Skipwith, of Virginia.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

HAMMONDS—MARTHA HAMMONDS, wife of Jackson Hammonds, was born in Georgia, May 15, 1822; married December 22, 1844; died near Lenoir's Church, in Marion county, Miss., May 10, 1889. Sister Hammonds, it is said, was a consistent and true Christian, like many who have preceded her to the happy, golden shore, where the wicked cease from troubling, and there the weary be at rest." She had been a member of the church about forty years, during which time she proved ever faithful to the cause of her Master; to her husband, an affectionate companion; to her children, a gentle, kind and patient mother, ever ready to administer to their several wants and necessities, and to the world at large a friend. Her feeble body had been enveloped in the flames of loathsome disease for about three years prior to her death, and by its continual gnawing at the vitals made life the shorter. Just before the end came, as the children stood near the bedside of the aged mother, whose life was fast ebbing away, these words fell in gentle tones upon their ears: "Don't grieve after me; all's well now; God is my physician;" and, after a solemn exhortation to loved ones to be faithful in all the duties of life, she, as "they say," "fell on sleep." After the Christian race has been run, how lovely and peaceful the end! After the injunction of a blessed Master has been fulfilled, "Be thou faithful unto death," why, then, the promise, "and I will give thee a crown of life."

To the aged, tender-hearted and bereaved husband we tender our sympathy, and for the children, who bemoan the loss of one so dear, we pray that God's grace may be sufficient in the hour of trial, and by it they may finally triumph in eternal glory!

J. M. COWAN.

BASS—Little DAVID KELSEY, son of Rev. Samuel and Cleo Bass, was born at McCandy, Chickasaw county, Miss., September 13, 1887, and died of cholera infantum at Houston, Miss., May 22, 1889. Little David was a bright, sweet, intelligent child of his age; his mother's pet and the idol of a devoted father's heart. He had been dedicated to God in baptism, and his parents indulged the fond hope that he would be spared to them, and that God would make him a herald of the gospel. But God wanted him now, and took him to himself before he had been contaminated with sin or overcome by temptation. The little bud plucked from earth will open into full bloom in the balmy sunshine of the celestial city. He is not lost, but gone before to enhance the interests and attractions of heaven. May God bless the bereaved parents and may they meet their babe where parting is no more!

J. R. ROBERSON.

FORSHEE—JOHN GRINSTEAD FORSHEE, aged seven months and three days, died Sunday, May 19.

When we enter a garden of flowers, and inhale their rare perfume, if permitted to pluck but one, we are fain to choose a sweet, unopened bud, whose pure wax-like petals still enclose a wealth of odor; and, hearing it tenderly to our sanctum, guard it from the sun's fierce rays, and joy to watch its sweet unfolding. Thus choice is death, the gleaner! Passing by the open flower, whose leaves, perchance, are marred by the canker that is devouring its heart—whose existence is but a blight upon its surroundings—he selects the fairest and purest bud and transplants it where it may unclose its petals in an atmosphere of immortal radiance to mature beneath our Father's loving eye.

M. L. JUSTINE.

HARRIS—Died at his father's residence, Alligator Lake, Bolivar county, Miss., ROBERT T., son of Dr. H. H. and Mrs. Bettie Harris. He was born October 5, 1878; died May 17, 1889. In his brief life little Robert had endeared himself to all who knew him. To know him was to love him. His tender and cheerful obedience to his parent had so woven his life into theirs as to make it seem a part of themselves. In his death a part of their own lives went out. He waits on the other shore for their coming.

J. D. NEWSOM.

WOOTEN—WILLIAM WOOTEN was born in South Carolina about the year 1801, and came to this State with his father and mother when but a boy. He expressed a desire to "flee from the wrath to come and be saved" last fall, after which he was baptized by Rev. J. W. Welborn, and received into the Methodist Church by Rev. W. L. Linfield. Since that time a marked change in his life has been noticed. The last few years of his life he endured intense suffering and had not walked a step since last August. On Thursday morning, May 16, 1889, at his residence in Lawrence county, Miss., he breathed his last, leaving a wife and four children to mourn his departure. He gave evidence before he died that he trusted in Jesus, and we hope that all his family may meet him in heaven. May the Lord bless and comfort those left behind!

W. H. LEWIS.

THOMPSON—JOSEPH SIMON THOMPSON, son of S. A. and Elizabeth Thompson, was born August 13, 1874, and died of measles, April 22, 1889, at the home of his father in Calcasieu parish, La. Joseph was a child of affliction from infancy. He is now relieved of all suffering, and, with his sainted mother, is now joined to the heavenly choir singing "unto him that washed us from our sins in his own blood." On his way to his appointment, on the morning of the twelfth, the pastor visited Joseph and encouraged him to trust in the Savior, feeling sure that he would not see Joseph alive again. He leaves a father, six sisters and two brothers and other relatives to mourn his loss, the most of whom are resolved to meet him on the other shore.

H. M. H.

FLOWERS—JOSEPH PIERCE FLOWERS was born November 4, 1875, and died April 25, 1889. Little Joe's death was very sudden. While in health and full of life, he was suddenly made a victim to the monster, death, by a little thunder-snake, which bit him on the hand. He died in a short time, though long enough to give evidence that he was going to rest. While suffering great pain he asked his father to pray for him, and while he was praying, he was heard to say, "Glory! hallelujah! I am nearly there." Good-by, little Joe. We hope to meet you where no serpent's painful sting is felt and where sorrow never comes.

A FRIEND.

Strong in God.

"The other day," says Dr. Norman Macleod, "I was requested by a brother minister, who was unwell, to go and visit a dying child. He told me some remarkable things of this boy, eleven years of age, who, during three years' sickness, had manifested the most patient submission to the will of God with a singular enlightenment of the Spirit. I went to visit him. The child had suffered excruciating pain; for years he had not known one day's rest. I gazed with wonder at the boy. After drawing near to him and speaking some words of sympathy, he looked at me with his blue eyes—he could not move, it was the night before he died—and breathed into my ear these few words, 'I am strong in him.'

"The words were few and uttered feebly; they were the words of a feeble child in a poor home, where the only ornament was that of a meek and quiet and affectionate mother; but these words seemed to lift the burden from the very heart: they seemed to make the world more beautiful than ever it was before; they brought home to my heart a great and blessed truth. May all of us be 'strong in him.'"—Life of Dr. Norman Macleod.

The highest truth is a character force. It is that which lifts man in himself upward toward God. This is why Jesus is the truth, and the greatest and most helpful theme for contemplation. This is why he dominates the ages and the eternities with undisputed and indisputable kinghood. This is why he is the light of the world lighting every man upward to God. This is why what he was is mightier than what he did and what he said. What he did and what he said are simply manifestations of what he was—the outputtings of his character. It is himself that lays hold of us and transforms us into his own blessed image.—Thought Etchings.

Actions Speak Louder Than Words.

Anything that serves to recall a maxim, works reciprocally: the maxim is all the more a maxim and the thing itself receives that much endorsement. Now, for more than purposes of illustration we get as close to the above as is possible.

Our purpose is to impress you with the value of Compound Oxygen, and naturally, after what we have just said our manner of procedure must be, that our patients in the past and present are our indorsements.

Here you have it; and concerning the following we may quote, "For they themselves have said it."

WILLISTON, S. C., March 20, 1888.

"I am pleased to report a continued improvement both in myself and wife. May you live long to bless suffering humanity with your Compound Oxygen." REV. W. W. GRAHAM.

GASTONIA, GASTON CO., N. C., May 25, 1888.

"I sincerely believe that had it not been for the Compound Oxygen, I would have been in my grave before this time."

W. D. HANNA.

HEISTERTOWN MD., February 29, 1888.

"Two doctors of Baltimore examined me and said mine was a hopeless case of asthma. Now almost two years after using only one treatment I think I can truthfully say my health is as perfect as it can be on earth."

MRS. MARY R. IRELAND.

PORTAGE, WIS., January 30, 1888.

"My wife has been taking your Compound Oxygen for over two years for consumption and has derived much benefit from its use. In fact, I think she would have died long ago but for it." H. D. JAMES.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

Two Hundred Miles an Hour.

The new and beautiful application of electricity for the purposes of rapid transit is destined to work a revolution in methods of overland travel, if on further test it shall prove successful. By this process, in which the momentum of a car passing between magnetic coils is utilized for the attainment of speed greater than that of a swallow and equal to that of a swift, which goes through the air at the rate of 200 miles an hour, the distance between Boston and New York can, it is claimed, be covered in about an hour, and it will be possible to send parcels, and ultimately passengers, from New York to Albany in forty-five minutes. This seems incredible, but there appears to be good reason to believe that it is true. Experts in electricity who have examined the invention say that it will do even more than is now claimed for it. The cost is small when compared with that of transportation by railroads, and the convenience will be much greater, especially in summer, when the lives of travelers are now made a burden to them by smoke and flying cinders, jar and noise. The invention seems almost too simple and beautiful to be believed in. Yet there it is, and—after electricity, what? It is a long stretch from the time when it took months to carry the news of Nelson's victory at the battle of the Nile to London to the present time, when travel is promised and seemingly assured, at this marvelous rate. It may be interesting to compare this speed with others. A greyhound can, for a short time, cover ground at the rate of 57 miles an hour. In 1884 Count Caroly's carrier pigeons flew from Pesth to Paris at the rate of 114 miles per hour, and kept up their speed for seven hours. Swallows go at the rate of 150, and swifts at that of 200 miles in the same time. A surface tempest-wave on the ocean moves but 50 miles, and a good iceboat skims along at 70 miles—say a third of the rate promised by the new invention—and the swiftest running now made on English railways is that attained on the Great Northern, over which cars are sent at a speed of 105 miles in 100 minutes, though it is said that trains have been driven 100 miles an hour on this road. All these speeds are trifling when compared with that which we are now promised. Surely electricity is destined in time to "annihilate space" and to disprove the saying of Ecclesiastes that there is no new thing under the sun.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

M. Janssen, of the Paris Academy of Sciences, claims to have made a discovery which upsets the entire theory based on the analysis of celestial bodies by means of the spectroscope. On the night of May 12 the electric lamps of the Eiffel Tower were turned on the Meudon Observatory, four miles seven furlongs away. M. Jannsen reckoned that the mass of air lying in a given section of that length at the height of the tower is equal to the atmospheric mass above. He argued from this that the number of molecules of air encountered by a beam of light sent from the Eiffel Tower to the observatory was about the same as that met by sunlight on its way to the earth when the sun is near the zenith. A fundamental theorum of spectrum analysis is that the width of the characteristic bands of a gas is proportionate to the number of molecules that intercept the light. In last Sunday's experiment the most important rays of the oxygen group were precisely similar to those of the solar spectrum. The French savant infers that the belief that the sun contains oxygen is unfounded, and that if its spectrum contains the characteristic oxygen rays, this is due to the oxygen of our atmosphere.—New York Sun.

Life is a crucible. We are thrown into it and tried. The actual weight and value of a man are expressed in the spiritual substance of the man. All else is dross.

There is a man in our town
And he is very wise, sir,
When e'er he doesn't feel just right
One remedy he tries, sir,
It's just the thing to take in spring
The blood to purify,
He tells his friends, and nothing else
Is he induced to try because, having taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to cleanse his system, tone it up, and enrich the blood, and finding that it always produces the desired result, he considers that he would be foolish to experiment with anything else. His motto is, "Prove all things and hold fast to that which is good." That's why he ples his faith to the "Golden Medical Discovery."

Walking advertisements for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy are the thousands it has cured.

ONE BOY

WHOSE MOTHER USES

Wolff's ACME Blacking

One of the coming men who will have grown up to the idea of washing his shoes clean, and will always uphold "THE BLACKING MOTHER USED."

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

The Best Blacking for Men, Women and Children

WALL PAPER

In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty. WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES, WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS, UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.

Framing Neatly Done.

PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS, RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.

EDWARD HEATH,

Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds, FINE JEWELRY, Silver and Silver-Plated Ware, SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.

Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

(Established 1817)

119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,

135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.

Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.

FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY CHINA MATTINGS.

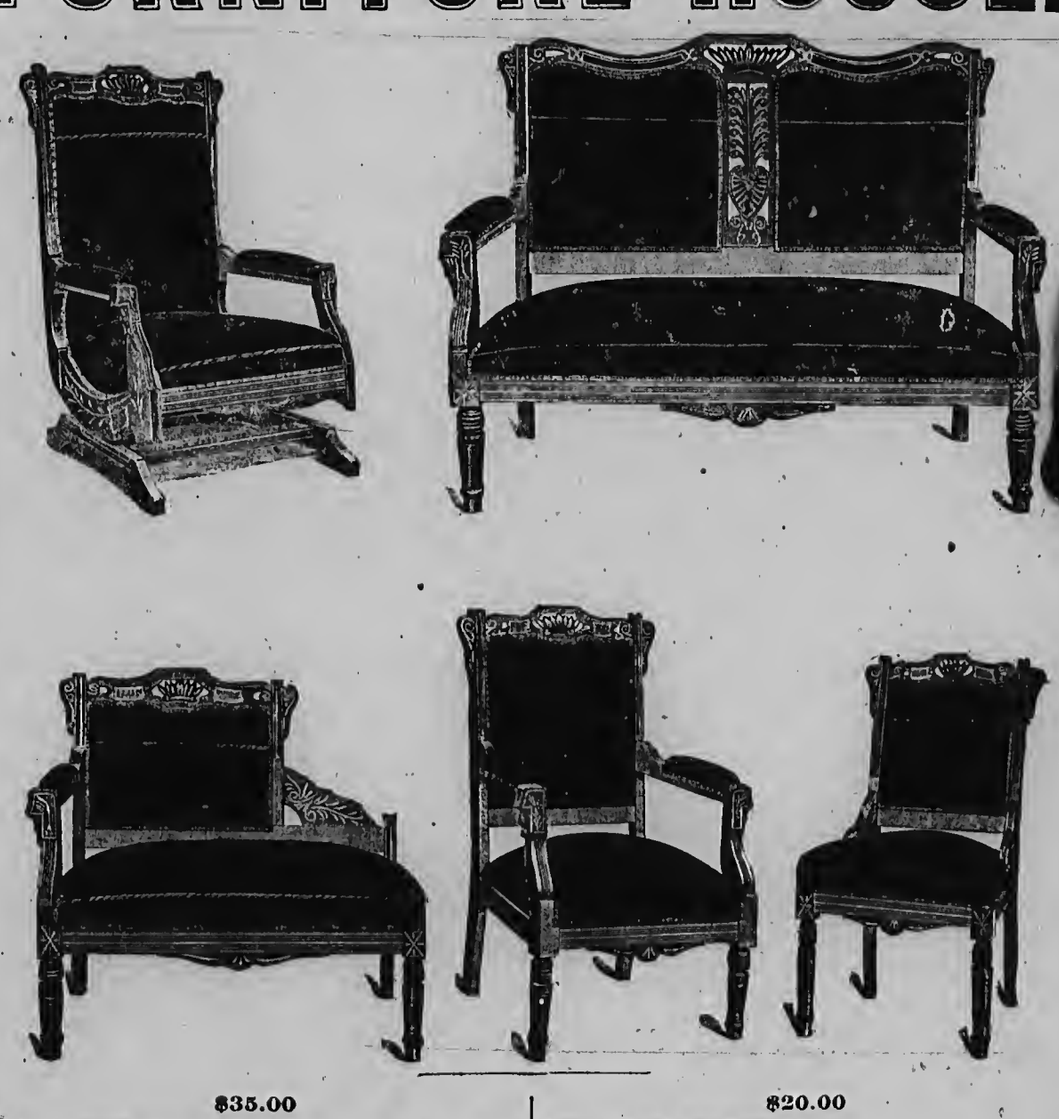
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES CURTAINS.

New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.

Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices Mention this paper.

GRANT'S

FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00

Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00

Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00

Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00

Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00

Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50

Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00

Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00

Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00

Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.

CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.

Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.

☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

FULL WEIGHT PURE

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

MUSIC and FLOWERS

Go well together. Prepare to enjoy the genial season by learning Summer Songs, and playing restful Summer Idyls found in abundance on the pages of books published by DITSON COMPANY.

In our new Popular Song Collection ($1) are found such songs as "Happy Birds," "Hunting 4-leafed Clover," "An Old Garden," "At My Window," and 32 others.

In our new Choice Sacred Solos ($1) are found "Beulah Land," "Good Shepherd," "When the Mists," "Home Sa Blest," and 30 other songs of great beauty.

In our new Popular Piano Collection ($1) are many pieces that sound well among the trees, as "Dent de Leon," "Alpine Shepherd," "Forget-me-not," "Fairy Echo," "Chapel in the Mountains," and 20 other pleasing pieces.

In our new Popular Dance Collection ($1) there are many new and sparkling Waltzes, Polkas, etc

Spend a V in providing such books as the above and also the genial COLLEGE SONGS (50 cents), COLLEGE SONGS FOR BANJO ($1), for Guitar ($1), or WAR SONGS (50 cts.), or GOOD OLD SONGS WE USED TO SING ($1), or one or more of our excellent Glee or Chorus collections. (See Catalogues.)

GUITARS, BANJOS, MANDOLINS, of the best quality, for sale at reasonable prices.

Any Book Mailed for Retail Price.

Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.

C. H. DITSON & Co., 867 Broadway, New York

W. B. SCHMIDT. F. S. ZIEGLER. JAS. J. SCHMIDT

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mention this paper.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

Wholesale : Grocers,

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,

(Formerly New Levee.)

NEW ORLEANS.

Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

AGENTS WANTED!

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,

TO INTRODUCE

"Christian Womanhood,"

"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"

and other good books. Apply at once to

F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.

HIRES

25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c

ROOT BEER!

IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS

MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING

ROOT BEER

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

For Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belt and large Gins, Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

DROPSY

TREATED FREE. Positively Cured with Vegetable Remedies. Have cured many thousand cases. Cure reported in cases of 10 to 60 days by the best physicians. From first dose symptoms rapidly disappear, and in ten days at least two-thirds of all symptoms are removed. Send for FREE BOOK of testimonials of cures. TEN DAYS treatment FREE by mail, if it effects cures. 6 furnished FREE if you order trial. Send ten cents in stamps to pay postage.

DR. H. H. GREEN & SONS, ATLANTA, GA.

BUGGIES & HARNESS

WE CUT PRICES

$22 Cart, $12.60
$50 Buggy, $30.50
$ 9 Harness, $ 4.75

for CASH to introduce our work. Address with stamp U. S. BUGGY & CART CO. CINCINNATI, O.

Special discount when sold to the Clergy.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

Hon. E. J. Gay died at his residence on the St. Louis Plantation, near Plaquemine, La., on May 30.

Decoration Day, May 30, was generally observed throughout the United States. President Harrison lent his presence to the ceremonies in Brooklyn.

An English syndicate last week consummated the purchase of 320,000 acres of yellow pine land, four saw mills, three planing mills and thirty-six miles of railroad and equipment. The property is situated in Escambia county, Fla., and Baldwin county, Ala. adjoining. The price paid was $1,500,000.

An enormous lake on the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, used as the South Fork (Pa.) reservoir, collapsed on May 31, and sweeping down the Allegheny Mountains, destroyed many villages. Fully 10,000 lives are believed to have been lost. The great Cambria Iron Works and other property is in ruins, involving a loss of many millions of dollars. Railway, telegraphic and mail communication is broken off entirely.

All rivers in West Virginia and Pennsylvania were rising rapidly last week. Several of the larger cities were under water, and millions of dollars of damage done.

President Fitzgerald has issued a circular postponing the meeting of the Irish National League, which was to have been held July 9 at Philadelphia. This was done upon the advice of Mr. Parnell that such action be taken. The postponement is until after the ending of the present session of the British Parliament.

The railroad blockade is serious all through the region of country visited by the fearful rain storms of May 30 and 31, and the swollen streams continued their work of destruction, on June 3, in Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland.

The terrible floods in Pennsylvania will cause the indefinite suspension of ten large mines in the Mt. Carmel Valley, which employ 6,000 hands.

Rev. Father Footte, pastor of the Church of St. John the Baptist (Roman Catholic), this city, died on June 1.

Five railroad officials were indicted in Chicago, last week, under the interstate commerce law. The offense charged is illegal discrimination, and the indictments are the first of the kind here since the passage of the statute.

FOREIGN.

Heavy storms of rain and hail at Huentjutla, Mexico, have caused the river to inundate that town, drowning many persons and cattle, washing away many houses and destroying crops.

The Roumanian Senate has voted 15,000,000 florins to complete the fortifications of the country.

A shock of earthquake was felt in the British Isles and in France on May 31.

Mr. Balfour, the chief secretary for Ireland, introduced in the House of Commons bills for the drainage and improvement of the Shannon and other Irish rivers and loughs and the construction of railways in Ireland.

The Emperor William will decorate and appoint Deputy Hammacher a councilor of state as a reward for his mediation between the mine owners and the strikers.

Twelve thousand men are still on a strike at Saaranda and have asked the Emperor to receive a deputation from them.

It is stated that the Pope's health is seriously affected. It is said that during the recent consistory he fainted, falling back in his chair to the consternation of all present. Dr. Ceccarelli, the Pope's chief physican, is reported as saying he may die any moment.

After the seventh plenary sitting of the Samoan Conference, held last week, the American commission was in a position to cable to Secretary Blaine the definitive acceptance by the German and English governments of the Washington proposals limiting the German indemnity and Samoan rights to levy import duties, and some of Mr. Blaine's amendments to the clauses relating to the International Samoan policy.

The Cologne Gazette affirms that recent crown councils decided that the severest measures should be taken in event of the strikes spreading. The temporary resumption of work by the miners since the arrest of the workmen's delegates from Bochum has been erroneously attributed to fears of the government's action.

Premier Crispi is credited with a design to occupy the Vatican in the event of the conclave meeting of cardinals abroad.

Heavy storms of rain and lightning have occurred in the midlands of England. The lower part of Liverpool is under water. A bank building at Preston has been struck by lightning. Numerous accidents are reported from other places.

Counsel for the Times and for the Parnellites in the Parnell commission investigation have begun the inspection of Mr. Parnell's letters written during the past six years. The letters number over 5,000.

It is expected that the protocol drawn up by the Samoan Conference will be signed on the eighth instant. The American commissioners are making preparations to leave for home.

At a meeting of 600 Panama Canal shareholders in Paris, on June 3, it was decided to send a commission to Panama immediately to inspect the canal works.

From the Centropolis, Kansas City Mo., December 1st, 1887.

There is nothing so valuable to us as health, but we do not realize this until we are deprived of it. How many of our readers awake in the morning with dull pains in the back and head, and find it a hard task to perform daily duties? These are symptoms of Malaria, and we know from personal trial they may be completely eradicated by Shallenberger's Antidote for Malaria. It is a simple and effective remedy, and we advise our readers to try it.

District Conference Notices.

The District Conference of Columbus district, North Mississippi Conference, will be held at West Point, beginning at ten o'clock, Thursday morning, July 18, next, and ending with the exercises of Sunday, 21. Important reasons require this change in place and time. Bishop Charles B. Galloway will preside. Let all members attend and be prepared to take an interested part in the business of the Conference. Will the preachers in charge please bring written reports on the several topics designated in the Discipline, page 54? Let the report on each topic be full and separate from the others. This will greatly aid the secretary and will facilitate the consideration of each topic singly. Will the pastors see also that the Quarterly Conference Records are brought up for examination. Brethren, let us strive to make this Conference rich in spiritual and practical results.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

The Brookhaven (Miss.) District Conference will be held in McComb City, June 27-30. The district trustees will meet at the same time and place; also the committee appointed to locate the district parsonage. The district trustees will please come prepared to report the amounts the several pastoral charges will contribute to the district parsonage. They will be called together in the afternoon of June 27. W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

The Corinth District Conference, North Mississippi Conference, will meet at Booneville, Miss., Friday, 9 A. M., before the second Sunday in July. The recording stewards will have on hand the Quarterly Conference Records. It is expected that Bishop Galloway will preside. The Sunday-school Conference will convene Thursday before, at 9 A. M.

J. B. STONE, P. E.

The time of holding the Vicksburg District Conference is changed to July 5-7. Bishop Galloway will preside. JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

A Timely Warning.

We clip from the Louisiana Journal, published at Homer, La., and commend it to the serious thought of all our readers in Louisiana:

The Louisiana State Lottery is still a question in the politics of this State. The charter of the institution will expire in a few years, and a strong and desperate effort will be made to renew and extend this charter. This can only be done by an amendment to the State Constitution, and the next Legislature will be asked to submit such an amendment to the people. If the Legislature should submit such an amendment, it would, doubtless, be ratified in the same way that some other amendments have been adopted. The place, then, to make the fight is in the Legislature, and those opposed to the Lottery should have their eyes open when the Legislature next assembles, and the people should be on guard to see that their representatives and senators do not betray them.

Unless more care is given to the hair the coming man is liable to be a hairless animal; hence, to prevent the hair from falling use Hall's Hair Renewer.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Seashore	July 5
Henlington	Aug. 8
Topisaw	Aug. 10
St. Tammany	Sept. 27

CAMP MEETINGS.

BRETHREN: On account of some misunderstanding as to time of holding the Topisaw Camp Meeting, we again ask the editor of the ADVOCATE to republish our former statement, in order to allay all confusion and misunderstanding on the part of some. This camp meeting will be held as usual—Saturday before the second Sunday in August. As to changing the time other than this, is a mistake. Everything has been taken into consideration, and the camp meeting association has decided to commence as heretofore—Saturday before the second Sunday in August. J. M. COWAN, P. C., for Com.

St. Tammany Camp Meeting begins this year on Friday, September 27; embraces the fifth Sunday, and continues several days.

G. K. ELLIS, P. C., Tallsheck Ct.,
L. W. WOOD, P. C., Covington Ct.
F. MALTHUS, Pres. Asa'n.

The next annual camp meeting of Henlington Camp Ground, near Crystal Springs, Miss., will begin August 8, the present year, and continue one week. The public and ministers friendly to camp meetings are especially invited.

T. W. M'NEIL,
Sec. Henlington C. M. Association.

From Most Rev. Bishop Ryan, of Philadelphia.

I can testify to the efficacy of J. & C. Maguire's Cundurango, it having been my favorite medicine for several years past. I believe it to be the best Anti-Bilious Cathartic and Corrector of Liver, Blood and Kidney derangements that can be taken, and its general use in families would no doubt avert attacks of sickness.

P. J. RYAN.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Tibbee, at Mayhew	June 15, 16
West Point	16, 17
Starkville	19
Columbus	21
Columbus circuit, at New Hope	22, 23
Tampico, at Pleasant Grove	29, 30
Macon	July 7, 8
Hebron, at Memphis	11
Shuqualak, at Ridgeway	13, 14
Dist. Conf., at West Point	18-21
Crawford, at Trinity	27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel	31
Brooksville, at Exprairie	Aug. 3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove	9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills	10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg	15
Chester, at South Union	17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch	31, Sept. 1
LaGrange	7, 8
Sturges	14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Tremont, at Ashury	June 8, 9
Fulton and Smithville, at Greenbriar	15, 16
Prairie, at Prairie Chapel ...(Wed.)..	19
Athens	22, 23
Aberdeen	23, 24

District Conference at Houston, commencing Thursday morning before the fifth Sunday in June.

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Grenada circuit	June 8, 9
Tillatoba	15, 16
Charleston	18
Coffeeville	22, 23
Pittsboro	29, 30
Atlanta	July 2, 4
Banner	6, 7

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

CORINTH DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Blackland circuit, at Wesley Chapel	June 8, 9
Ripley circuit	15, 16
Jonesboro circuit	18
Pleasant Ridge circuit, at Siloam	22, 23
Guntown circuit	29, 30

J. B. STONE, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—SECOND ROUND.

Ethel ...(Thurs.)...	June 6
Poplar Creek ...(Sat. and Sun.)..	8, 9
Newport ...(Wed.)..	12
Lexington ...(Sat. and Sun.)..	15, 16
Belzona ...(Sat. and Sun.)..	22, 23

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

South Warren, at Porter's	June 8, 9
South Vicksburg	15, 16
Vicksburg	22, 23
Fayette, at Ebenezer	29, 30
Port Gibson ...(Mon.)..	July 1
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh	8, 9
Bartonton, at Pisgah	13, 14
Martin, at Martin	20, 21
Utica, at Reeves ...(Wed.)..	24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel	27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove (Thurs.)	Aug 1
Natchez—Jefferson Street	3, 4
Anguilla, Sunflower Chapel	10, 11

District Conference will be at Vicksburg, July 5-7. Bishop Galloway presiding.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Ocean Springs, at Handsboro	June 8, 9
Columbia, at Hopewell	15, 16
Bethel, at Ocean	22, 23
Mt. Carmel, at Good Hope	29, 30
Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs	July 3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting	5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town	13, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl	16
Augusta	20, 21
Whittington	27, 28
Vancleve	Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zion	10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point	11, 12
Americus	16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell	24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Edwards, at Edwards ...(Sat.)..	June 8
Raymond, at Clinton ...(Sun.)..	9
Mt. Olivet, at Fletcher	15, 16
Canton, at Canton	22, 23
Spring Ridge, at Forest Hill	29, 30

D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

East Baton Rouge, at Antioch	June 8, 9
New River, at Magnolia	10
Livingston, at Friendship	15, 16
East Feliciana	22, 23
St. Helena, at Pipkin	29, 30

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Westville, at Pleasant Grove	June 8, 9
Strong River, at Fairmount	15, 16
Mt. Rose, at Pleasant Hill	16, 17
Marvin, at Richland	22, 23

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Algiers	June 23
Morgan Street	24
Dryades Street	30
Carrollton and Parker's Chapel	30
Carondelet Street	July 7
Seashore Camp Meeting	14
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.	21
Rayne Memorial	28
Gretna and Surapart	28
Craps Street	Aug. 4
Louisiana Avenue	11
Baton Rouge	17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Arbroth	19
Felicity Street	25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

HOMER DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Downsville, at Mars Hill	June 6
Indian Village, at Sardis	8, 9
Louisville	14
Ruston	15, 16
Vienna	18
Saline	22, 23
Sparta	24
Gibbsland	25

The District Conference will meet at Gibbsland, June 26-30. Will every pastor be present and endeavor to have all delegates come? Come with all reports well matured.

ROBERT RANDLE, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.—SECOND ROUND.

Many, at Lewing's Chapel	June 6
Anacoco, at Beech Grove	8, 9
Wesley circuit	15, 16
Coushatta	18
Red River	22, 23
District Conference, at Keachie	28

J. B. CASSITY, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Rayne	June 7, 8
Lake Charles	15, 16
Opelousas	21, 22
Sabine Mission	29, 30

District Conference will meet on June 20, at Opelousas.

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure bilious and nervous ills.

Notice of Removal!

The Edwin Alden Co., Advertising Agents, have moved their Cincinnati office to 248 Race St., and added to their already great facilities in conducting the advertising business, a Photo-Engraving department, where in a brief period of time and at a small cost, advertisers may receive illustrations for insertion in the newspapers.

The Edwin Alden Co. are prompt, energetic, and have introduced to the Press of the United States some of the largest and best advertisers.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending June 4, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8 1/2 @	— —
Ordinary	9	— —
Good ordinary	9 1/2	— —
Low middling	10 3/8	— —
Middling	10 3/4	— —
Good middling	11 1/4	— —
Middling fair	11 3/4	— —
Fair	12 3/4	— —
Galveston middling	10 3/4	— —
Mobile middling	10 5/8	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	6 3/4	— —
Fully fair	— —	— —
Good fair	— —	— —
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	6 3/8	7 3/8
Prime yellow	7 7/8	7 15-16
Bray white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	— —
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
SYRUP	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	2	2 1/4
Good	4 3/8	4 1/2
Fair	4	4 1/4
Prime	4 3/4	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	3 90
Polish, ₱ ton	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy	4 25	4 75
Fancy	— —	4 30
Choice	3 25	3 50
Minnesota Patents	5 87 1/2	6 25
Winter wheat patents	5 00	5 20
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn-meal	2 25	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 50	2 60
Hominy	— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, ₱ bushel	— —	50
Yellow	47	48
Mixed No. 2	47	— —
OATS:
Western	— —	34
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
₱ cwt	72 1/2	75
HAY:
Prime	16 00	18 00
Choice	18 00	19 00
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess (Standard)	— —	13 00
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	10 1/2	11
Shoulders	— —	6 3/8
Sides, short rib	— —	7 1/4
Sides, long clear	— —	7 1/4
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	11 1/4	11 3/4
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	5 3/4	6
Sides, short rib	— —	6 5/8
Sides, long clear	6 1/2	6 5/8
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime	— —	19 3/4
Fair	— —	18 3/4
Common	— —	16 1/2
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
Ho-Sa	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	13	20
Western Dairy	13	14
Common	— —	9
LARD:
Refined	— —	6 3/4
OILS:
Coal, bbls	10	— —
Coal, cases	15 1/2	16
Cotton seed, crude	41	43
Land, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	— —	— —
Chicago, ₱ bbl	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	1 75	— —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	1 25	1 50
Western	— —	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	— —	1 50
Western	— —	— —
BALING STUFFS.
BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb. ₱ yard	10 3/4	10 1/2
Jute, 1 3/4 lb. ₱ yard	9 1/2	9 3/4
Lane Mills Cotton Bagging	12 1/2	— —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb	9 1/2	10
TIES:
₱ bundle	1 05	1 07
SUNDRIES.
POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	4 25	4 50
Young Chickens	2 25	4 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 25	2 00
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	11 1/2	12
Southern	12	12 1/2
WOOD:
Lake, ₱ lb	24	24 1/2
Louisiana	22	23
Barry	11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	3	— —
Dry salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	— —	13 00
Meal	26 50	28 00
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	2 1/2
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,

Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.

The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., New York.

SAFE INVESTMENT

FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS

DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cyrus Bros. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle is sent prepaid.

J. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HUDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y.

HIWASSEE COLLEGE,

FOUNDED 1849.

Expenses Very Moderate.

Located, amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R. from which conveyance any hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our postoffice is Hiwassee COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

Capital Commercial College, Jackson, Miss. Book keeping taught as it is done in the South. Send for circulars. T. A. Bryan, President.

Centenary College

JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Huddleston, President.

Mansfield Female College,

MANSFIELD, LA.

One of the most celebrated institutions of the South. The Thirty-Fourth Session will begin September 19, 1888, with a full corps of able and experienced faculty. Curriculum comprehensive, instruction thorough. Advantages in Music unsurpassed, as in the best conservatories. Departments of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts under specialists.

Beautiful location; one of the healthiest of the South. The best climate in which to educate and the safest place for girls. Main building of brick, massive and commodious, with a large and well-shaded campus. Rooms large, well furnished, ventilated and warmed. Ample provision for table of the best the market affords. All necessary comfort secured. Expenses very low and the school very economical.

For particulars address

A. D. M'VOY, A. M., Pres.
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.

Elfinwood Select School.

The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. Ry., in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Editor N. O. Fay, A.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 24. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1712.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. C. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. A. JONES.
NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

LET DOWN YOUR NETS.

Launch out into the deep,
The awful depths of a world's despair;
Hearts that are breaking and eyes that weep,
Sorrow and ruin and death are there.
And the sea is wide, and the pitiless tide
Bears on its bosom away—away,
Ready and youth in relentless ruth
To its dark abyss for aye—for aye.
But the Master's voice comes over the sea,
"Let down your nets for a draught" for Me!
He stands in our midst on our wreck-strewn strand,
And sweet and royal is his command.
His pleading call
Is to each—to all;
And wherever the royal call is heard,
There hang the nets of the royal Word.
Trust to the nets and not to your skill,
Trust to the royal Master's will!
Let down your nets each day, each hour,
For the word of a King is a word of power.
And the King's own voice comes over the sea,
"Let down your nets for a draught" for Me!

—Sunday Magazine.

The Louisiana State Lottery Company Examined and Exposed.

BY REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

(Continued.)

Another charge I make against the Louisiana State Lottery is, that its existence is illegal.

I know what a number of you will say to this statement: that one of the judges of the Supreme Court has settled the question of its legality by a decision rendered in a celebrated case a few years ago. To this decision we will presently refer. Sometimes a little additional light makes an object appear very differently. That light has been furnished and thrown on this ruling by a painstaking lawyer in this city. From him I will in a few moments quote.

To come properly to the view of the case, we find it necessary to direct you to three articles in the State Constitution:

The first was Art. 118 of the Constitution of 1868:

Taxation shall be equal and uniform throughout the State. All property shall be taxed in proportion to its value. The General Assembly shall have power to exempt from taxation property actually used for church, schools and charitable purposes.

It is evident now from the wording of the article why the Lottery announced itself a charitable institution, and how, by the mere assumption of a name and a pittance flung to the Hospital, it has been able to enter on its gambling career. It is also evident how the law just quoted was violated by the State Legislature of 1868 in incorporating the Louisiana State Lottery Company with exemption from taxation; and if you call the forty thousand it contributes to the Hospital a commutative tax, then still the law is violated in the first and second clauses, which declare that all property shall be taxed in proportion to its value. Coming aside from all the bewildering technicalities and constructions by which men who claim to be advocates of justice confuse us and succeed in defeating the ends of justice; coming apart from all these penitentiary-deserving actions, and looking with a calm and truth-desiring purpose at the Art. 118 of the old Constitution, we see that a dodge was made, a forced construction was placed upon a word, that men lied, that they saw a gambling institution full-fledged before them, and then swore it was a charitable institution; that they exempted from taxation a corporation whose genius and practice was not charitable, and so stultified themselves and fastened upon us illegally a MORAL AND SOCIAL CURSE AND NUISANCE. And to heighten the wrong, that Legislature, under pretense of securing forty thousand dollars to the Charity Hospital, has, up to date, by its illegal exemption from taxation of the Lottery, occasioned to the city of New Orleans the loss of not less than one million two hundred and sixty thousand dollars in the way of licenses and taxes.

I now call your attention to Arts. 205 and 207 of the present State Constitution:

Art. 205 reads:

The power to tax corporations and corporate property shall never be surrendered nor suspended by act of the General Assembly.

Art. 207 reads:

The following property shall be exempt from taxation, and no other, viz: All public property, places of religious worship or burial; all charitable institutions, etc., etc.; provided, the property so exempted be not used or leased for purposes of private or corporate profit or income.

No one can read these articles without realizing that both of them declare the nature of this corporation; and again, that both of these articles have been violated, and continue daily to be violated by the existence of the Louisiana State Lottery.

Neither can anyone claim that these are post-facto laws. For Art. 167, which recognizes conditionally the charter of the Lottery, stipulates that all its monopoly features shall be abolished, one of which, as we have seen, was the exemption from taxation. So we see how thoroughly they agree.

But the point is made that the forty thousand dollars paid the Charity Hospital was recognized by the Supreme Court of the State as a commutative tax, and that the court decided that commutative taxation was constitutional.

Not so fast, my friends, the true state of the case is, that the court had before it the question of licenses, and decided that the commutation license of $40,000 was a constitutional commutation of all licenses, municipal licenses included, and then through an obiter dicta, which is to say, an opinion made upon a matter not properly before them, the court, by a vote of 3 to 2, extended the ruling to taxes, holding that commutative taxation was constitutional, and the Lottery Company was, therefore, exempt from municipal taxation.

The mistake of our attorneys and counsel for the city is seen in accepting an obiter dicta for a decision made upon a point in hand, when really it was a ruling in a matter that was not before the court, for license is one thing and taxes another. Who wonders that Justice Matthews, of the Supreme Court of the United States, decided as he did in 118 U. S., 265, when our attorneys accepted an obiter dicta as a decision in point, virtually surrendered the fort, and let the case go up thus peculiarly and erroneously before him.

But this is not all. Since the Supreme Court of this State decided, in 1872, that commutative license was constitutional, it has since then no less than twelve times changed its ruling, and decided that all commutative taxation was in derogation of Art. 118 of the Constitution of 1868, and so unconstitutional. (See 26 An., 702; 27 An., 376; 27 An., 646, and 28 An., 498.)

In May, 1876, the Supreme Court ruled likewise, and, at the same time, specifically and unanimously overruled the obiter dicta of 24 An., 86, as unauthorized and erroneous.

By Arts. 205 and 207 of the present Constitution both commutations of licenses and taxes are strictly prohibited, so that the Lottery Company since it began operation in 1869 has never been for a single day in the legal and constitutional possession of an exemption from taxes and licenses.

Right here I would quote from a paper prepared by the lawyer to whom I referred. I use his own words, hoping to arrest the attention of the legal mind of the city. He gives an epitome of the case which ought to be the line of our action toward the Louisiana State Lottery Company in regard to the question of taxation, as well as its illegal existence.

AN EPITOME OF THE CASE.

The delusion of the citizens of New Orleans as to the Louisiana State Lottery Company having a legal and constitutional right to the immunity from taxation it has enjoyed for more than twenty years, arises entirely from their surprising ignorance of four important facts, to-wit:

No. 1. That since January 1, 1869, when the concern began its career, its corporate rights and franchises have been operated, managed and administered, first, by the firm of Chas. T. Howard & Co., and, second, upon the death of Chas. T. Howard, by the firm of John A. Morris & Co., all by virtue of a private grant and assignment made in 1868. An immunity from taxation being ungrantable and unassignable, without the express and special consent of the Legislature, which was not obtained, and has never been obtained, it follows that the concern has never been in the legal and constitutional enjoyment of an immunity from taxation.

No. 2. Ignorance of the facts, that on July 7 and 8, 1879, the Board of Directors of the Company, and also Chas. T. Howard, in behalf of his firm, did publicly and by notarial act, covenant and agree with the Constitutional Convention then in session, that upon the adoption of Art. 167 of the proposed Constitution as part of the fundamental law of the State, the Company and Howard's firm would "renounce, abandon and relinquish all the monopoly features granted to or in favor of said Company under and by virtue of any grants or laws of this State; and that said corporation shall and will execute all instruments of writing that may be requisite to evidence and enunciate such relinquishment." Nevertheless, Art. 167 once duly adopted, the said directors and said firm entirely failed to make the promised covenant and agreement, and to execute the necessary "instruments of writing;" that instead the stockholders of the Company filed in the office of the Secretary of State, on February 23, 1880, a renunciation, not of "all the monopoly features" of the Company, but of only its "monopoly clause," which had been duly abrogated by Art. 167, and consequently had ceased to exist on December 28, 1879, when the Constitution went into effect, "the framers of the Constitution having, in that article, done away with the exclusive privilege accorded to that organization." (32 An., 722.) Had the promised renunciation been made, and which was imperatively required by Art. 167, the Company's immunity from taxation, a special privilege, would have been thereby lost, since "monopoly features" relate to special privileges and not to "exclusive privileges," like the Company's constitutionally abrogated and "done away with" monopoly clause.

No. 3. Ignorance of the yet more important fact, that between March 1, 1874, and November 30, 1880, the Supreme Court of Louisiana decided no less than twelve different times that all commutative exemptions from taxation—and this is the only kind of exemption granted to the Louisiana State Lottery Company by Section 1 of Art. 5 of its charter—was repugnant to Art. 118 of the Constitution of 1868, and, therefore, unconstitutional; hence the Company, from first to last, has been without any right or valid claim to that immunity from taxation usurped by it for more than twenty years, for "an unconstitutional grant is not a law; it confers no rights; it imposes no duty; it affords no protection; it is, in legal contemplation, as inoperative as though it had never been passed." (118 U. S., 425.)

No. 4. Ignorance of the most important fact of all, that the decision in 119 U. S., 265, upon which the Company mainly relies for its exemption, was obtained through the misrepresentation and concealment of facts, and the substitution for what was concealed of what was not true, to-wit:

That the small obiter dicta in 24 An., 86, in favor of the constitutionality of the Lottery Company's exemption from taxation, which decided nothing, and was adopted by the small vote of 3 to 2, and which was four years later overruled by an unanimous court as unnecessary, unauthorized and erroneous, was represented in the court a quo (in 1881) as a bona fide still subsisting decision, in full force and effect, and binding upon the city; and, more wonderful still, the attorneys of the city admitted in their answer, that these misrepresentations were true and correct; that the so-called decision was conclusive and hence binding upon the city. There was no trial of the case, the whole matter being submitted to the court upon the averments of the petition and the wonderful admissions of the city attorneys. Of course, the city lost; and lost also before the U. S. Supreme Court, on appeal, the whole of the latter court's decision resting entirely upon the so-called decision in 24 An., 86—in truth, a mere overruled obiter dicta, and, therefore, substantially nothing. Of the right of the city to have the case reviewed and set aside there can be no question.

Another charge I make against the Louisiana State Lottery Company is, that in its relation to other business interests, it is unjust and oppressive.

Those last two words give the explanation of every revolution and reformation of the past. When England became unjust and oppressive, we threw off the yoke and resolved to be free. When a king became, through injustice and oppression, a tyrant, he was made by the outraged and indignant people to taste the sweetness of solitary exile, or to feel the sharpness of the axe of the headsman.

There is something in human nature that rebels at the voice and touch of wrong. The Marseillaise hymn lies latent in the spirit—and was there before the author clothed it in words—and is ready to burst forth at the sight of a "hateful tyrant," whether he be on a throne or whether in a corporation.

It needs not a second glance to see the marked advantages possessed by the Lottery over every business that you could mention—and that these advantages are oppressive and unjust, I mention only one or two. One is seen in respect to the uniform taxation demanded by the Constitution. Here is a corporation with vast wealth, and an ever-increasing capital, paying a contemptible tax of forty thousand dollars, when it is well known, and I can prove it by the statement of one who knows all the inward workings of the Lottery, that, if the Louisiana State Lottery Company paid taxes on its property in the same proportion that the banks and other institutions of our city have to pay, then, instead of forty thousand a year, they would have to deposit in the city treasury something like two hundred and twenty thousand dollars annually.

Is not this injustice and oppression?

Take another view. This time in regard to licenses. When a poor fellow about town tries to make a living for himself by peddling some kind of merchandise, he has to obtain a license. When some destitute woman, with four or five children dependent upon her for bread, opens a boarding-house to wring out of it a bare living, she must first pay down so many dollars for a license.

But when we turn to consider this perfect army of Lottery ticket vendors and peddlers, who are daily becoming more aggressive and bolder and more insolent, who thrust their tickets into the faces of ladies and gentlemen on the streets at all hours, who are like the frogs of Egypt in their numbers, and like the frogs of Egypt in their disgusting ways of leaping on you and crawling into your homes—when you come to these peddlers of licensed wrong—behold, they go free. They are not to be charged. Their industry is to be encouraged. A poor woman, struggling to make bread for herself and children, must pay for the privilege of trying to support herself—but a gambling peddler is under the protecting smile and cherishing care of the State government.

Another charge I make against the Lottery is, that it is injuring the reputation and interests of our city and State abroad.

I read only a few days ago a letter printed from Boston, and another letter in a Nashville paper, where this very thing was mentioned.

A gentleman from Cincinnati remarked to me, a week since, that the Lottery was so regarded there, that it was considered a disreputable thing to be connected with it in any way. People from all parts of the North tell me of the contempt in which the better class hold it, and hence the consequent contempt for us in permitting it to abide in our midst.

The impression abroad is, that the Louisiana State Lottery Company governs the State and rules the city. No one doubts it, and when you add, that it also controls a number of churches, changes the municipal government of towns by making them conditional gifts, buys up our strongest lawyers, bribes our legislators—and these things become known, as they are known today everywhere—who wonders that the better class of people, the very class we desire as citizens, turn from us, and plant their stores and build their homes elsewhere.

I tell you, that we are hurt, hurt unto death abroad by the presence in our midst of this CHILD AND SERVANT CORRUPTER, this THEFT ENCOURAGER, this MUNICIPAL PAUPERIZER, this JUDGE AND LAWYER PERSUADER, this LEGISLATURE BRIBER, this CHARTERED CURSE AND ABOMINATION, the Louisiana State Lottery Company.

You may think our unpaved streets and yellow fever epidemics keep immigration and prosperity from our doors. But the truth is, that it is our well-known disregard of the Sabbath, together with the existence of a gambling corporation, which flutters its tickets on every street and corner, that has disgusted and alarmed the outside world, and wrought us more harm in material and spiritual ways than all the natural evils could have done in the sweep of centuries.

People cover with their homes the hillsides of Mt. Vesuvius, but they don't rush to New Orleans. A volcano is less dreaded than a Sabbath-breaking, gambling city.

The last charge, or point, I make against the Lottery is, that it has been forbidden and legislated out of Empires and Kingdoms and States all over the world.

In fact, the way that the Lottery has been treated by the different governments of the world plainly shows that they have viewed it as an evil and curse; and so they rested not until it was outlawed.

It was to them what a certain class of tramps is to you. It was more than a suspicious character—it was dangerous and destructive, and so the order came to move on and move out of the country.

Looking at the Lottery in one light, I know of no better definition than to call it the GREAT MORAL or, rather, IMMORAL TRAMP of the world. It is never allowed to stay long in any place.

I once read of a tramp, who had been kicked from Chicago almost to New Orleans. He had boarded fifty trains, rode a few miles, and was promptly landed between stations by an energetic blow of the conductor's foot. This was he ricochetted from the North to the South.

So it has been with the Lottery. In 1826 England kicked it out of her borders, and it fell into France. In 1828 France kicked it out of her beautiful dominions. In 1830 Belgium kicked it out of that kingdom, and it fell into the United States. Then the different States passed it along with valedictory kicks, even as I have seen a dog assisted out of a church, when every pew contributed a parting and assistful boot salute, while the periodic yelp of the brute declared to the certainty of two things: one was his sure progress and vanishing presence, and the other to the unflagging continuation of the kicks.

Not less than twenty-six States in the Union have hurled the Lottery from their borders; and it is our duty and privilege to do the same. Surely, you do not realize that it is regarded as most disreputable in every State but this—that the tickets, which flutter so boldly upon our streets, have to be sold by stealth in other cities. In some places it means a fine; in others, imprisonment; and in Ohio it means the penitentiary.

The voice of the nations, with the exception of unhappy Italy and another kingdom, is against the Lottery. That voice in the thunderous accents of the law declared to it, you can not stay.

Certainly, if England could not tolerate it, and France would not endure its presence, and all the other States in the Union forbid its entrance, how can we afford to have it in our midst. Can we endure what they would not allow? Is the morals of Louisiana so much worse, is the public sentiment so low, is its care for the public welfare so much less, that we will allow a PLUNDERING CORPORATION to fasten itself upon the commonwealth unrebuked, insult our commercial men and interests by allowing a GAMBLING NUISANCE to be regarded as a business, and accept as a feature of our autonomy what is nothing else but a HUGE MORAL EXCRESCENCE, and needing but the sharp surgical knife of the law?

Driven from land to land, and from State to State, the Lottery finds itself at last on the borders of the sea. This is the second time that Satan has been entrenched by the side of the sea. I wonder if he does not remember the fact, and even now trembles at what he knows is certain to come.

Here he is incarnating and fortifying himself in the people, as he did in Gadara. Here he is trying to get us to say what he succeeded in making the Gadarenes say to Christ: Depart, we beseech thee, out of our coasts; we prefer gambling to the gospel, Sabbath desecration to Sabbath observance, and the swinish nature to the Christ-like life and character. Depart from us with your churches, and Bibles, and Sabbaths, and holy teachings, and leave us to wallow in sin and revel in every abomination.

O blessed Lord Jesus!—thou Almighty Son of God—who hast all power in heaven and earth—just as you with a word put the devils into the swine and rushed them into the Sea of Galilee, so, Lord, put Satan and this GAMBLING INSTITUTION into the swinish natures that would defend it, and rush them all down into the depths of an overwhelming and lasting defeat, and rid this fair land of their dark and corrupting and destructive presence, that this country might be thy country, this people thy people, and thy will be done in our midst as the angels do it in heaven.

(To be continued.)

Qualifications Requisite for Successful Sunday-School Teaching—III.

1. Love of the Bible and familiarity with its truths are important and indispensable qualifications for successful teaching. Whatever else may be known, knowledge of the Bible is indispensable, and familiarity can not be attained in the absence of an absorbing love for the Book. Familiarity of the Bible, without love for it, will not guarantee success, if, indeed, any become familiar with it without love for it. Taking it for granted that the teacher might possibly become familiar with the Bible without love for it, it is not possible for him to become successful without a profound love, respect and reverence for the precious Book. This we have illustrated in secular schools and in the various callings of life. We once knew a teacher who was successful in teaching grammar and mathematics, but was a failure in teaching other branches. He had a perfect love for these studies, and found supreme delight in giving instruction therein. The teacher in the Sunday-school must be able to press the Bible to his bosom, and say:

"Holy Bible, book divine; Precious treasure, thou art mine!"

2. A fondness for teaching and love for the children most characterize those who teach. These are qualifications as necessary as love for the Bible. To teach is one thing, and to love it is another. To teach from a sense of duty is commendable, and will have God's approval; but to possess a love for teaching is a more important thing to possess. The fear of God may prompt the teacher, and, thus prompted, he will go diligently about his work, and the blessing of God will follow; but where there is no fondness, there can not be the full measure of success; but where there is fondness for the work, there is punctuality, promptness and diligence. Fondness for the work and love for the children will prompt the teacher to all diligence in the study of the lesson, and in that reading which looks to the better understanding of the Scriptures and the good of the children. Diligence and punctuality are all-important elements, and without these there will be failure. The teacher must be laborious, and be punctual in meeting his class and in all the promises made; and what, we ask, will give greater incentive to this than fondness for teaching and love for the children? The teacher, actuated from a sense of duty merely, may have a degree of success without fondness for teaching and love for the children; but the full measure of success can only be achieved thus, and if these do not give success, what will?

3. The highest and most essential qualification is religion. The teacher, first of all, must be a Christian, and fully consecrated to God. The mere fact of possessing all the other essential qualifications will not suffice for a religious life. The principal element which gives success is not the qualification which comes from learning and discipline of the schools, from wide acquaintance with the sciences and polite literature of the day, from the sedulous study of all the requirements of grammar, rhetoric, logic and elocution; but the inspiration that comes from God—the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ. The teacher in Sunday-school should stand side by side with the preacher in his love for God and the salvation of souls. His grandest qualification is his religious force and ability to teach. The true teacher is full of the Holy Ghost, with a burning love for the salvation of souls. While religion alone does not qualify for successful Sunday-school teaching, it is certainly, with aptitude for teaching, good natural and acquired ability, a disposition to study, fondness for teaching, love for the children, familiarity with the truths of the Bible, and good powers of adaptability, is the mightiest factor of success in all Sunday-school work.

We are not discussing an impossible ideal, but the really possible and desirable in all Sunday-school work. We have met with a few Sunday-school teachers whose classes had good lessons, pretty fair manners, and love for their teachers; but only a few had what we would term true success. To be a successful teacher, have your ideal. There can be no success without it. "All standards and models of excellency and perfection, which must be the aim of all human effort, are in the ideal, and there only. They are the ideal men who effect the great practical world." HESLEP.

KOSCIUSKO, Mississippi.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1889.

"THE LEAST OF THESE."

BY ELLEN E. COMBS.

She had little of earthly beauty,
She had indeed earthly love;
She climbed by a path so narrow,
Such wearisome burdens bore!
And she came with her heart a-trouble,
To the warder at heaven's door.

She said, "There were hearts of heroes,"
She said "There were hands of might;
I had only my little children
That called to me, day and night;
I could only see their sorrows,
Their childish hearts make light."

And she bowed her head in silence,
She hid her face in shame;
When, out from a blaze of glory,
A form majestic came;
And, sweeter than all heaven's music,
Lo, some one called her name!

"Dear heart! that hath self forgotten,
That never its own hath sought,
Who keepeth the weak from falling,
To the King hath jewels brought!
Lo, what thou hast done for the children,
For the Lord himself was wrought!"

—Woman's Journal.

Several Matters.

MARBLE—NEW DISTRICTS—OUR 7TH ARTICLE—SECOND BLESSING—DR. C.

I have been rolling around with Bro. Marble a few days. He is a handy-man; can bring wood and water, mend sewing machines, tinker on old clocks, stock plows, etc. He is popular with the young men; loves to fish and hunt with them. He pays attention to the children; is exceedingly prudent in his deportment towards young ladies. One of them told me confidentially that she verily believed he loved little girls better than he did big ones. This is much better than being a universal beau, making love to every pretty girl in the charge, as I have heard of. If Bro. Marble had a little more mental energy, was a little fonder of books, there would be much more promise of usefulness to the church in him.

I read the Nashville Advocate in bulk, three or four at a time, when I happen to find them. In a late number, Dr. Featherston tells of some defective presiding elders: "They come Saturday morning, and hurry home Sunday evening." He proposes to remedy this by making the districts smaller. The Doctor's remedy will hardly reach the case. I think it would be better to tell it to the Bishops, that he might give the brother a work better suited to his taste—say, a small circuit or a little station. The preacher that has not enough of the self-sacrificing spirit in him to remain away from his family a little while is not fit for a district, be it great or small. Yet I am in favor of smaller districts. Some time ago I wrote to each presiding elder in our Conference, proposing one or two new districts, and asking co-operation in the matter. An official, some time ago, said to me: "We paid our presiding elder $35 last year for two sermons, and our people complain at it." Another said to me: "Our presiding elder often sent somebody in his place, robbing the adjoining circuit of their preacher for a Sunday, and he not filling his place."

I see Bro. O. Honnoll reviews Dr. Cottrell. He thinks the Doctor covertly attacks our 7th Article in the Review. I noticed that Dr. Cottrell brought in his favorite rotten-egg illustration. By the way, that egg illustration is a very fine one, if the unnatural rottenness is taken out of it. I once found a nest with four white eggs in it. I passed that way a little later, and found four white birds in the nest. They were not flyers; had no broad, black pinions to spread and bear them through the air, while with telescopic eye they peered for carrion. And yet somewhere in the secret meshes of those pure, fresh, snowy eggs was folded the buzzard-nature. And these little birds, covered with soft white down, would as certainly become great black buzzards as they lived. Does anybody deny that physical features are transmitted from parent to child; that some diseases are hereditary? You had just as well deny it as to deny that moral features are transmitted. Does not everyone know that the appetite for alcoholic drinks is often inherited? "And be it known" that a child often comes into this world heavily handicapped with a dreadful bias from a lecherous parent. Think of it: there lies in a mother's lap a child, smiling in her innocence and beauty. She is as sinless as an angel, and yet folded in her inmost being is a heritage from a vile parent, that makes her the easy prey of some villainous wretch. O man, be pure in your thoughts and acts, lest you impart a bias that will bring sin and misery on your offspring! I am one that believes in "good blood" in men as well as in horses.

Bro. Honnoll, in our ADVOCATE, sounds a note of alarm against some holiness fanatics. I say, Amen! We have some people that have got too good to remain in the church; too good to say the Lord's Prayer. Their key-note is second blessing. I confess much ignorance on this second blessing business. When the Savior called his apostles, did he impart any blessing? When he gave them power over unclean spirits, was that a second blessing? After the resurrection he breathed on them, and said, "Receive ye the Holy Ghost." What was that? The noon the day of Pentecost—was that the third or fourth blessing? When I was converted, I did not know anything about a "second blessing," and I thought I had to keep God's law; and that if I did not, I carried with me the testimony that I was not a child of God. I read that "he that committeth sin is of the devil;" and that "the Son of God was manifested that he might destroy the works of the devil;" and that "whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin;" and I thought Mr. Wesley's brief explanation of these passages was about correct. I had great confidence in what Mr. Wesley said, but more in what Mr. Paul and Mr. John said. I had great respect for the opinions of many learned doctors of divinity, and fully as much for Dr. Luke's as any other. I believe to-day "if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his;" yet I feel to-day, as one of old, "not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before." My imperfection is manifested in the slight impatience I have with that brother who stands before me, and says: You are blind, because, sir, you did not first see men as trees walking,' and, after a second touch, 'see every man clearly.'" Well, my brother, I am glad you have such clear spiritual vision; but I think a little modesty and humility might help you wonderfully. How do you know that he did not simply say to me, "Ephphatha, be opened." Two men at the same meeting were powerfully converted. One uses all the instrumentalities appointed for advancement in the divine life, and he goes on his way rejoicing. With due diligence he adds to his faith virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, etc., insuring himself against a fall. The other runs well for a time, but gets a little lukewarm, falls into indifference, and then into sin. Under some influence he is reclaimed, and now he is full of love, light and liberty. He meets the first, and says to him: "My dear brother, have you yet experienced a second blessing? Oh, sir, it is a grace you ought earnestly to seek for!" This is not a fancy sketch. It is more important for you to be partakers of the divine nature and to escape the corruption that is in the world through lust, than whether you attain it by one bold, energetic act of faith, by successive leaps or graduated growth.

I see our little giant, Samson-like, but with both eyes open, is grappling about the middle pillars of the great temple of iniquity in your State. May he jar it to its very center, and come out unhurt amid the crash of its falling timbers! Has he seen The Capital Almanac, 1889—pages 34-37 inclusive?

T. S. WEST.

Children's Day.

We observed this all-important and interesting event the fourth Sunday; and would that I could use words to portray to the mind's eye some of its beauty and profitableness! It was a perfect feast to the soul, worth a thousand picnics and Fourth of July dinners.

The church was handsomely decorated with evergreens and half-blown white roses, while from the altar smiled vases of beautiful hot-house flowers. For three weeks previous "Children's Day" had been the sole topic of conversation with the Sunday-school. Our worthy pastor (Bro. Robertson) had remarked that it was to be truly Children's Day; and if any were forced to take the back seats, it should be the older people: so the younger ones seemed to accept the responsibility of entertaining, and only the pastor was allowed the privilege of speaking a few words, as he insists on including himself among "us children" (though I can not tell why it is).

Long ere the bell rang happy hearts and impatient feet were hurrying on toward the church to welcome their much-loved and honored superintendent, who makes every effort to inspire the teachers and children with an active interest in this important department of church work; and I am sure he feels encouraged, as there are manifest evidence of his labors bringing forth fruit. Even a careless passerby would have immediately recognized the fact that something very pleasant, as well as unusual, would soon take place within, from the smiles upon the throng of fair faces without. The church was soon filled—mostly with young people—eagerly awaiting the commencement of the exercises. After the usual form of Sunday-school, and ten minutes' recess, the school was again called to order, and the programmes distributed—which were exactly carried out, only on a larger scale. Many were the beautiful pieces recited and essays read by our worthy boys and pretty girls. Twenty-five (I believe) shared in this entertainment, whose ages ranged from seven to twenty-one years. The infant class memorized suitable verses in the Bible; and one little fellow (still in his aprons) on finding the others had recited, overlooking him, acknowledged the slight by exercising his lungs to the best advantage as known to his age, and had to be taken from the church. Next came the collection, which amounted to over ten dollars; then singing and the benediction. The choir, led by the organ and cornet, did honor to the occasion.

Hope you will pardon me for monopolizing so much of your valuable space. Yours in Christ.

MATTIE TUCKER.

CAMDEN, Mississippi.

Our Missionary.

It is with profound gratification that I avail myself of this opportunity to inform the Christian public that Miss Sallie M. Phillips, formerly of Natchitoches, La., intends offering herself to the Missionary Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for work in foreign fields. Miss Phillips has been a member of the faculty of the State Normal School, located at this place, for the past three years; during which time her high intellectual attainments, linked with her rare gifts of body, mind and soul, having pre-eminently qualified her for the work of an instructor here, now especially fit her for the grand work into which she has been called. Our people are very much grieved at the idea of giving her up, for her place in our church, faculty and town will not be easily filled. Surely the Normal School sustains a great loss; but the State's loss is the church's gain. This refined, cultured, and deeply consecrated woman, whose name, wherever she is known, is a sufficient encomium, has consented to go abroad, not because she has nothing to do here, but—to use her own words—"God has directly called me to that special work." Her Father has chosen her for the foreign missionary work, and she feels that she must obey the voice of him who said: "The heathen shall be my inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth shall be my possession." Miss Phillips' postoffice address for the next few months is Mt. Lebanon, La.

As she goes direct from my church here to enter upon her untried work, we feel deeply interested in her every step; so we ask the church at large to join us in prayer to God, that "he may continue to supply all of her needs according to the riches of his grace in Christ Jesus." God bless our Louisiana missionary! "May the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with her now and forevermore! Amen!"

A. D. M'VEY, JR., P. C.

NATCHITOCHES, Louisiana.

"Country Stewards."

Under the above heading, in the ADVOCATE, of March 6, appears an article from the pen of one signing himself "Country Steward," which I think ought not to be suffered to pass without a friendly adverse criticism. It is an article, if I understand it at all, the tendency of which is to mislead and convey erroneous and hurtful impressions. The writer starts out with an admission of the fact that the contributions of the Alexandria district are but a "meagre pittance" (italics mine). This, to a certain extent, I am as ready to admit as he. His next step is an heroic effort at finding out where the blame lies, and, after discovering it, makes the wonderful revelation to the many readers of the ADVOCATE. Before proceeding let us see if we understand the writer's argument: "The contributions of the Alexandria district are but a meagre pittance." There is cause for this; somebody is to blame. Who? Answer: The presiding elders. In what way? Answer: By "the time-honored custom" (italics mine) of meddling where they have no business. He says, further, that this time-honored custom—that has so "crippled and suppressed our financial work" on this district—has been in vogue "since his earliest recollections." I think this is a fair statement of the argument contained in the article under review.

Now, I submit: This is a very grave charge to bring against a line of worthies, such as White, Stone, Cooper, Marshall, C. Keener, Hocutt, Connell, Harper, and last, but not least, the present efficient Incumbent. Of the years prior to 1887 I can not speak knowingly. This writer and the present presiding elder came to the Alexandria district at the same time in the winter of 1887. Of the work done since that time under the "time-honored" system of meddlesome presiding eldership, I have somewhat to say; and just here we are going to let figures speak for us. Below we give figures showing the rate per cent. of increase of the years 1887-'88 over that of 1886:

	Increase of '87 over '86.	Add'l in of '88 over '87.
Pastor in charge	1½.	35 7-5.
Presiding elder	38½.	14½.
Missions	75½.	21 7-10.
Conference collections	80 1-5.	46.
For'n Miss'ns (by ch's, Sunday-schools, etc.	96 3-5.	37 7-10.
Domestic Mission	25 1-5.	7 9-10.
Church Extension	21 7-10.	22 2-5.
Education	38½.	2½.
Wom. For'n Mission.	500.	246 3-5.

This last item is included above in the item foreign missions, but it is but just that we make a separate statement of it, showing that this department is looked after also. The rate per cent. of gain in white membership is: 1887 over 1886, 11 3-10; additional gain of 1888 over 1887, 20 1-10.

The object of this paper is to show that it is not failure; and I, for one, believe that "Country Steward" has failed to discover the real cause of the failure we may justly claim, and that our hard-worked, poorly paid, faithful presiding elders are not to blame. In the paper under review much is said about "organizing" and "organized Boards of Stewards." There are but one or two appointments in the bounds of the Alexandria district where there could be an organization of the Board of Stewards after "Country Steward's" idea of organization, for the simple reason that our stewards are scattered over such a large territory. Take the Ada circuit as an illustration, embracing twelve appointments; not more than one steward at any one of these appointments. Some of these appointments are fifty or sixty miles distant one from the other. Now, then, we will organize the Board of Stewards of Ada circuit. The president would be at the A. church, the secretary at B., fifty miles from A.; the treasurer at D., twenty-five miles from either of the afore-mentioned. Now, get your Board together for the transaction of business. You can't do it. The only time and place where we can get a majority of them together is at the Quarterly Conferences. The presiding elder is present. It is but right that he should look after the finances of the church; it is but right that he should instruct and admonish the Board of Stewards then and there assembled. Go on, ye host of faithful presiding elders, and may God bless you in your work; and let country stewards and country preachers second them in their legitimate efforts.

J. I. HOFFPAUIR.

Children's Day.

At last the long-expected day has dawned upon us; and, as the bell rings out the hour of nine, many happy children assemble at the dear old church to fill their accustomed places. The teachers went through with the usual exercises of the Sabbath-school; our punctual secretary, Mr. H. E. Adams, called the roll, and the names of forty-four children were enlisted on the roll (a few were absent), making, in all, over fifty pupils.

The exercises of the day opened with the long-meter Doxology; then prayer by the pastor, Bro. Ira B. Robertson; then followed the coronation song and responsive reading, and next in order, was the song, "Joy Bells," skillfully executed by our faithful organist, Miss Lizzie Purviance, and Miss Willie Aden on the cornet; and, as the children's voices, mingled with the sweet tones of the instruments, rang out on the air, we were reminded of the increasing ring of the joy bells in heaven, where the angels sing the never-ending song of praise to him who has redeemed us by his own precious blood.

Next came the essays and recitations by twenty-four pupils, which was wholly voluntary on their part. The children acquitted themselves most admirably. Their essays and recitations were appropriate, instructive, soul-inspiring and suggestive; each one was an object lesson. The audience were sometimes almost moved to tears as some touching words awakened a cord of sympathy in the heart, and at one time they so far forgot themselves as to indulge in loud applause, but were kindly reproved by our pastor, who reminded them that we were in God's holy sanctuary. Our pastor thought the children had completed the exercises, and left him nothing to say; but, notwithstanding, he gave us an appropriate talk, just to the point. He was lavish in his praises of the children, and passed quite an eulogy on our superintendent, secretary, and teachers, which were words fitly spoken, "like apples of gold in pictures of silver." After singing "Little Jewels," Bro. Robertson announced the singing of another song, "Do something for Jesus to-day," and reminded the congregation of their opportunity to do good by donating something to the destitute Sunday-schools in the bounds of the Conference. The teachers and children responded to the call, and went forward to cast into the treasury the sum of $3 35. The congregation contributed $6 15, and were waited upon by four little children, who took up the collection. The exercises closed with the benediction.

Our Sabbath-school is at this time in a flourishing condition. The outlook is encouraging. It reflects credit upon the untiring energy of our superintendent, Mr. E. W. Melvin, and the faithfulness of our secretary and teachers. Our Sunday-school is an important factor in the church work. Much good has been done by our faithful pastor, who is kind and forbearing. He often reproves, but in a kind way; so that no one can become offended. May our heavenly Father give him great success in his noble calling!

MRS. EMMA MAXWELL.

Report of Woman's Department of Church Extension.

FROM JUNE, 1887, TO MARCH, 1889.

CONFERENCE TREASURER'S REPORT.
(Mrs. O. S. Robbins.)

Burlington	$ 2 75
Carlisle	2 25
Hickory	11 50
Little City	6 00
Tanglefoot	1 75
Anguilla	2 05
Enterprise	6 60	—$ 32 85

CONFERENCE SECRETARY'S REPORT.
(Supplement to Treasurer's Report.)

Burlington	$ 7 18½
Carlisle	5 67½
Wertheim	17 45
Sarepta (Mite-box collection)	41
Raymond Home Builders	1 00
Mrs. Young (Child's mite box)	1 65
Rocky Springs	5 75
Mr. Weeks	50
Fayette (collection)	3 80
Fayette (Mite-box collection)	4 35
Mrs. McRae	1 00
Morton	1 00
Enterprise	5 00
Anguilla	3 00
Anguilla (Children's mite-box collection)	70
Mrs. Johnston (Mite box collection)	5 00
Mathis	3 55
Rev. P. Howard	1 00
Little City	1 75	— 70 77
Total amount "Regular Fund"		$103 62
Amount of "Regular Fund" remitted to General Board	$ 21 62
Retained by Conference	79 00
	$103 62	$103 62

SPECIAL DONATIONS REMITTED TO GENERAL BOARD.

Mrs. A. A. Carr, for parsonage, Anadarko, I. T. (Rev. J. J. Methvin)	$ 1 60
Brookhaven W. M. S., for parsonage, Anadarko, I. T. (Rev. J. J. Methvin)	5 25
Vicksburg (Collection anniversary meeting) for parsonage, Carpenteria, Cal., for San Luis Obispo district, Los Angeles Conference	103 26	—$130 21
Total on general account		$233 83
Total on Preachers' Wives' L. Fund		105 00

PARSONAGES AIDED BY CONFERENCE BOARD, C. E.
(Retention of fifty per cent. dues.)

Burlington, for parsonage on Burlington circuit	$ 2 06½
Carlisle, for parsonage on Burlington circuit	1 96½
Anguilla, for parsonage at Anguilla	2 50
Hickory, for parsonage on Brandon district	3 25	— 11 78
Amount of special donations for local work reported by auxiliaries	$ 60 30

Total raised by Woman's Department, $416 91.

N. B.—All persons who send money direct to Dr. Morton and Miss Helm do not report to Conference secretary; therefore the report can not be considered complete.

Number of societies reported	26
Number of members reported	441
Number of leaflets distributed (about)	6,500
Number added to Sabbath-school	151

LIFE PATRONS C. W. L. F.

Mrs. W. C. Black, by Meridian Aux. Par. Society
" R. Bradley, by Mr. E. D. Jones.
" W. B. Lewis, by Mrs. E. D. Jones.
" M. H. Moore, by Mr. Wm. Purnell
" M. C. Calloway, by ten members Miss. Conf.
" James A. Godbey, by Pres. L. T. Fitzhugh.
" T. L. Mellen, by Mr. A. H. Thompson.
" J. M. Weems, by Mrs. L. Kind.
" M. L. Galce, by Rev. D. F. Galce.
" F. M. Featherston, by Rev. F. M. Featherston
" J. P. Drake, by Rev. J. P. Drake
" H. P. Lewis, by Rev. H. P. Lewis
" P. P. Simmons, by Rev. W. W. Simmons.
" Benjamin Jones, by Rev. Benjamin Jones.
" F. M. Williams, by Rev. F. M. Williams
" J. W. Harmon, by Rev. N. W. Harmon
" George Bancroft, by Rev. George Bancroft.
" R. F. Wells, by Rev. R. F. Wells.
" E. F. Edgar, by Rev. L. F. Edgar.
" M. J. Parker, by Rev. J. S. Parker.
Miss Mamie Wood, by Rev. J. S. Parker.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. E. D. JONES,
Miss. Conf. Sec'y W. D. Ch. Ex'n.

From the Work.

REVIVAL AT SHUBUTA, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: With devout gratitude to the Master we report a work of unusual interest at this place. This kind people had received us with the spirit of true and loyal Methodism. Coming among them—about last Christmas—a total stranger, I had begun already to love them much for their solid virtues. The unanimity with which nearly all our citizens joined to vote down the liquor traffic, early in the spring, was a prophecy of good things in store for them. All of us felt the need of a spiritual uplift. We prayed for direction as to time, and the man or men we should get to aid us. God opened the way most graciously. On Wednesday night, May 8, we began a protracted prayer meeting. Our leading lay brethren rallied nobly to this work. On Monday, May 13, Bro. J. W. Chambers, our pastor at Enterprise, came to our help, strong in body, mind and spirit, and full of faith that "the Lord of hosts is with us." The meeting moved on grandly from our first service. The church responded quickly and very generally to the calls to new consecration and fuller devotion to the work. Our business men determined to shut their stores during the hour of morning preaching, and in the evening early enough to allow all to attend eight o'clock service. We coupled much prayer and some fasting with the work, which went steadily forward for two weeks. During all this time Bro. Chambers staid with us in labors abundant and effectual. On Monday, May 20, that consecrated and devout servant of God, Bro. D. C. Langford, came also to our aid. From that time till Saturday these dear brethren worked as true yoke-fellows, alternating in their preaching and leading of prayer meetings.

I have never heard so much of pointed, plain and pithy talk in the same length of time. Those who came into the church under these services surely know that Methodism is "religion in earnest," and that "whosoever sinneth is of the devil." The modern method of getting people to say they are converted simply "because they want to go to heaven" was totally abjured. They were distinctly taught that religion means a new heart and a godly life. We thank God for a fearless and loving ministry. Our congregations continued full to the end of the meeting. The brethren had to return to their own loved fields of labor on Saturday, but not without very substantial tokens of appreciation by the church. On Sunday morning we received at the altar of our church twenty new members, most of them young persons, but all well instructed in the duties of church membership and in the obligations of the baptismal covenant. It was a beautifully impressive scene, long to be remembered. A sermon to the young and Children's Day exercises and offerings were not forgotten. The brethren have overwhelmed me by the gift of a nice summer suit for the pulpit. The church feels greatly revived and blessed. To God be all the praise!

J. P. DRAKE.

OXFORD, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: We held a meeting of much interest and profit in this place some time ago. Rev. G. H. Hodge, of Olive Branch, did the preaching. Many were led to see themselves as only formal Christians under the mask. Lifting truth of God's Word, presented by the fearless Hodge. The work done will abide. We think less of ourselves, but infinitely more of the power and grace of the Holy Spirit since than before the meeting. It was a revival. Not less than twenty-five persons in the church confessed to the saving power of the truth, and to the freedom of sons. Others were reached; but the work done was in the church. Bro. Hodge left, hearing many prayers and "God bless yous" for this Oxford (church with him. The residue of the remainder, sanctificationists of the day, may claim Hodge, but he don't claim Rip with any crank on the face of the earth. "Hear, O Israel!"

By the way, Hodge and Honnoll are workers and thinkers along the same lines. That shot from Honnoll's line into the camp of Godbey and his guerrillas caused a hustling and a scampering of the crotchety tribe from the ancient Methodists' entrenched position in the H. S. district. I enjoyed the bursting shell from the Gatling gun—a little aside I was—and the ground was not favorable for picketing. Honnoll has practiced gunnery. He holds the fort; and to demand a surrender of his post is but to hear the defiant reply ring out, "A marshal of Methodism never surrenders."

Well, Mr. Editor, come to the university commencement. We are to have the redoubtable and irrepressible Lafferty, of the old Richmond. Come, laugh and get rid of your scion twinges.

Our prospective Mississippi Methodist College is just in the near future, so they say. "Seacoast" or no coast location should not be considered at all until, at least, three hundred thousand dollars have been secured to equip it for the race of life. Let this sum be the minimum, if we would have it run and not weary.

The venerable chancellor of the Vanderbilt University, in a conversation with the writer not long since, said: "We find our Vanderbilt endowment fund not too large for our needs." Our Bishop Galloway will, we hope and believe, hold the church clear of a mere tentative effort. I'll stop here.

T. W. IOE.

BOLTON, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: On December 18, 1888, after a pastorate of four years, we left Clinton, La., for Bolton, our present home. Our stay in Clinton was most delightful; so much so that we grew sick at heart when the train bore us away from the people we had learned to love so well. Bro. Featherston has a noble people to live among, and a delightful pastorate. Two days after our departure from Clinton we arrived at Bolton, where we were kindly received by the church. Never did a preacher and his family receive more tokens of love and appreciation from a people than have we from our first day on the Raymond circuit to the present, notwithstanding we have had severe afflictions all the year in our family. We have done good work up to date. We have held two revival meetings up to this time. April 1, with Bro. W. W. Hopper as leader, we commenced a meeting at Raymond, which lasted about ten days. Bro. Hopper did us fine service (as he always does), and his labor was crowned with success. The church was greatly revived, souls were converted, and six were added to the church. This meeting closed. We commenced a meeting at Bolton. Not being able to get anyone to conduct the meeting for me, I undertook it myself. Preaching twice a day, we carried the meeting on for three weeks. During my ministry I have never witnessed such a meeting. The church was converted in the early part of the meeting, and went to work in good earnest to lead sinners to Christ. Between fifty and sixty were converted, and twenty-six added to the church. Bro. I. W. Cooper gave us several good sermons towards the close of our meeting.

Our collections are all well up. We have several meetings planned for the summer. By the grace of God we expect to report one hundred conversions, one hundred accessions, and every dollar assessed paid in full and running over. To God be all the praise!

L. S. JONES.

Missionary.

A MISSIONARY HYMN.

BY S. D. PHELPS, D. D.

Heralds of the Cross, selected
For the highest service known,
Spirit-called and heaven-protected,
Jesus shall your labors crown—
With you always,
Every deed of love to crown.

On Jehovah's might depending,
Ever hopeful, strong in prayer,
Armed by faith, in love contending,
Glorious victories you shall share!
Desert regions
Bud and bloom as gardens fair.

Ripened under showers of blessing,
Sheaves rejoicing (vapors bring—
Souls redeemed, their Lord confessing,
Harvest home the billers sing,
While the angels
Chant the joy before their King.

Sweet your rest and labor leaving,
When is closed this work of love,
Gratefully from Christ receiving
Glorious crowns of life above!
Oh, what kingdoms
Wait for those who faithful prove!

Letter from Japan.

MR. EDITOR: I have just returned from the City of Himiji, about forty miles from Kobe by rail, where I have just opened Christian work. The Lord has given me an open door there, and open hearts to receive the glad news of salvation through Christ Jesus our Lord. I went there not knowing anyone in the place, and after several unsuccessful efforts, and after several days of earnest prayer to God, the Lord raised up friends for us in that city of forty thousand inhabitants, and I was directed to a family who had been for months earnestly reading the Bible. They not only offered to rent me a house in which to preach and teach the Word of God; but they offered me a home in their family. I accepted their kind invitation, and for more than a week I lived in that kind family's home and had the blessed privilege of pointing them, night and day, to the Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world. After eight days my own house, which belongs to this family, being ready, I moved to it, but continued each day for two weeks to visit the family and instruct them in the Word of God. It is the wealthiest family in Himiji. The wife of this man (Mr. Nakagawa) has been for four or five months meeting with some ten or more of her lady friends, earnestly reading the Bible and earnestly engaged in prayer. I have never had kinder treatment from anyone in all my past experience than I have had from this family. When I offered to pay for the food which they so kindly supplied, Mrs. Nakagawa (her husband being absent) said: "I can't receive any pay. I feel the Lord has directed you to us, and I do all this for Jesus' sake." When I asked her if she did not wish some security, she replied, "The Lord is my security." As soon as our church was ready, I began a series of meetings twice a day. On the first day the Lord heard our prayers, and the presence of the Spirit of God was felt in every heart present and all were melted to tears. Every day during my stay the good work went on and many were greatly blessed and led to cry to God for mercy. I was sorry to leave them just then, but I am called to another part of my work, two hundred and twenty miles from here. But I hope to return to those kind, good people in about three weeks. They gave me a home and supplied my food all free of charge, and when I left them many came as far as the station and begged me to return to them as soon as possible. They promised to pray for me. The work will be kept up from Kobe during my absence. I leave Kobe to-night. Surely the hand of the Lord is in this movement. Blessed be his holy name! Pray for us.

Ever your brother in Christ,

J. W. LAMBUTH.

A Saturated Solution of Heathenism.

"In a ten or fifteen minutes' address I must give a 'saturated solution' of heathenism. And I will tell you in just a few words what the churches of America are doing, in the mind of a foreign missionary. I have stood in Benares, with its five thousand shrines: I have seen the masses going in and out of some of the principal temples in Benares, mad upon their idols, in and out of those temples, to make offerings to the gods, just as it was some great feast day; yet it was so every day in the year. And I have stood in Madura city, where there is the largest temple, covering the greatest area, in the whole of India, and I have thought, as I have seen the masses of the people, that the force that we have in our Madura Mission, and in the whole of India, is like a little child digging with its little wooden spade, as they do in so many of these seaports, a small hole on the beach, and then, with a little cup, trying to empty the water of the Atlantic into that hole. I tell you, you do not begin to realize what heathenism is, or the work which rests upon the churches of America. No church will live whose pastor does not take an interest in foreign missions. There is no other work that can do so much good, that can so build up a church, and lead you to take an interest not only in foreign missions, but in home missions and in the work of your own town."—Rev. Edward Chester, M. D.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure sick-headache.

The College.

A great deal is being said about the location of the proposed Methodist college. Kosciusko has been mentioned by several writers as the most suitable place. Indeed, there is no more suitable place for its location. It has all the advantages that could be asked for. In the first place, and most important of all others, it is noted for its healthfulness. Perhaps no place in the State has a better record in this respect. No one acquainted with the place doubts of its exceeding healthfulness. There has not been a death in the town during the present year.

Kosciusko is a fine business point—one of the finest in the State. She has shipped the past season over 15,000 bales of cotton. Surrounded by a large territory, she receives a vast deal of country produce; and, because of this and similar advantages, board can be had as cheap or cheaper than many other places. Our people are plain, intelligent and industrious, and noted for their hospitality. This place is accessible, and yet, in case of epidemics, far enough removed from the great main railroad lines to be able to protect the school by quarantine.

Kosciusko is the geographical center of the State, and on the line between the two Conferences. The church will do well to consider Kosciusko as the proper place for the location of the Mississippi Methodist College.

HESLEP H. TUCKER.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Shorthorn and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON XII.—June 23.

JESUS RISEN.

Mark xvi, 1-13.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.—1 Cor. xv, 20.

TIME.—A. D. 29. Third day after the crucifixion.

PLACE.—The tomb.

PARALLEL PASSAGES.—Matt. xxviii, 1-10; Luke xxiv, 1-12; John xxv, 1-18.

1. The Sabbath was past—The day of the Savior's sepulcher repose was the last of Jewish Sabbaths. The first day of the week has from that time to this succeeded to the honors of the fourth commandment. Mary Magdalene—That is, Mary of Magdala. She is described as one out of whom our Lord cast seven devils. There is no ground whatever for identifying her with the woman that was a sinner, mentioned in Luke vii, 36-50, and none, therefore, for the popular idea that her early life was profligate. Yet that idea is all but universal. Mary the mother of James—The other Mary was not the mother of Jesus, but the mother of James and Joses (Mark). Mark says that Salome attended them. Salome was the wife of Zebedee, and the mother of James and John. From Luke it appears that Joanna, wife of Chusa, Herod's steward, was with them. Sweet spices—Consisting of myrrh, aloes, and other preventives of putrefaction, and odorous perfumes. These spices had been prepared upon the previous Friday evening. That they might come and anoint him—Embalm him; or apply these spices to his body to keep it from putrefaction. This is proof that they did not suppose he would rise again; and the fact that they did not expect he would rise gives more strength to the evidence for his resurrection.

2. At the rising of the sun—Matthew says, "As it began to dawn;" John, "When it was yet dark." This discrepancy is only verbal; the language describes the same substantial flow, and differs only as we should expect the language of independent writers would. At sunrise is, in popular language, equivalent to dawn.

3. Who shall roll us away the stone—Unaware of the deputation of the Jewish rulers, which had gone to Pilate, and secured the sealing of the stone and the setting of the watch over the tomb.

4. And when they looked—These words are correctly placed in our English version in a parenthesis. The narrator breaks in upon his narrative to set in contrast with their anxiety the unexpected and supernatural removal of the stone. Was rolled away—It was not for him to whom the stone was no hinderance, but for the women and disciples, that it was rolled away. It was very great—This clause seems to render a reason for the query of the women, and would, therefore, be naturally appended to the preceding verse.

5. A young man—A man in form, but an angel in nature. It would seem that angelic beings can assume different forms, and invest themselves with apparent habiliments, and present or withdraw themselves from sight, as they please. So our Lord in his resurrection body could make himself more or less known, as he chose, to disciples. Affrighted—The word points to an extremity of terror. It is used four times in the New Testament, and only by St. Mark.

6. Be not affrighted—Let the soldiers fear, but not ye. This indicates that all were still outside the tomb. He is risen; he is not here—When exactly he had risen no man knoweth, for no man saw. I have been used, for many years, to study the history of other times, and to examine and weigh the evidences of those who have written about them; and I know of no fact in the history of mankind which is proved by better and fuller evidence of every sort, to the mind of a fair inquirer, than that Christ died and rose again from the dead. Behold the place where they laid him—Pointing, doubtless, to the particular cell in the wall of the tomb. This implies that the angel was in the tomb. The place was, doubtless, a cell, or niche, usually cut horizontally in the perpendicular wall, so as to insert the corpse, with the head entering first and feet toward the court. Sometimes a shelf or bench was cut along the wall, so as to allow the corpse to lie parallel to the wall and entirely visible.

7. Tell his disciples and Peter—Mark adds particularly, "tell Peter." This was a kind message to Peter, who had so recently denied his Lord. It would serve to cheer him in his despondency, and to assure him that his sin had been forgiven; and it shows the tender love and remembrance of Jesus—even for his unfaithful friends. The Greek word for and is by critics interpreted to be equivalent to and especially. Peter is especially mentioned here, as some suppose, because he was the most eminent of the apostles; and others, because of his late denial of his Lord. According to the former view it was a token of respect; according to the latter, of compassion and restoration to favor. Both views may be combined. He goeth before you—This language does not imply a literal traveling by Christ. The angel refers to the Lord's last prophecy of his resurrection, which contained a promise couched almost in these very words.

8. Went out...fled...trembled...were amazed—A natural state of mingled feeling in view of what they had seen and heard. Trembling of body. Stupor (amazement) of mind. Neither said they any thing to any man—They were in a tumult of commotion, and could not pause by the way to speak to any.

9. He appeared first—First of all, to Mary Magdalene, whose narrative was discredited: "after that" to the two from Emmaus, whose account was also disbelieved; and "afterward" (or rather, finally, verse 14) to the whole eleven, whom he "upbraided with their unbelief." The word first, then, in this verse, by no means implies that the Lord's absolutely first appearance at all was to Mary Magdalene; but the first of this class of three cases.

11. And they ... believed not—Desolate at the loss of their beloved Master, and unable to realize the wonderful accounts of his resurrection. They had not forgotten, nor did they truly disbelieve their Lord's predictions; but in their dejection of mind they had lost realizing power, and could not grasp the fact. Their disbelieving was overruled for good, for it furnished abundant proof that they did not invent the story of the resurrection.

12. In another form—In a form unlike his ordinary appearance, so much so that they did not at first know him. This second appearance of Jesus is more fully described in Luke xxiv, 13. The place in the country was Emmaus, some eight miles from Jerusalem. No instance given illustrates more strikingly the adaptation of the risen Savior's self-disclosures to the requirements of his disciples. Their minds were first enlightened and their hearts warmed, till there was no longer a danger of affecting their senses only, but a security of intelligent conviction, resting on impressions left by the discourse they had heard. They were gently led on till fully prepared, and then the appearance was granted in a way so inexpressibly touching and tender that it no less fixed their love than established their faith.

13. Told it unto the residue—The remainder. Those who remained at Jerusalem. They recognized the Lord in the breaking of bread (Luke xxiv, 35), and returned in haste to Jerusalem and found ten of the apostles gathered together. Neither believed they them—The ten announced that the Lord had appeared to Simon, and this they at first time believed. When the two disciples arrive they announce that he had appeared to them also. Unable to comprehend this new mode of existence on the part of their risen Lord, that he could be now here and now there, they were filled with doubts.

Confidence Begat of Success.

So confident are the manufacturers of that world-famed remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, that it will do all that they represent, in the cure of liver, blood and lung diseases, that, after witnessing its thousands of cures for many years past, they now feel warranted in selling it (as they are doing, through druggists) under a positive guarantee of its giving satisfaction in every case or money paid for it will be refunded. No medicine of ordinary merit could be sold under such severe conditions with profit to its proprietors, and no other medicine for the diseases for which it is recommended was ever before sold under a guarantee of a cure or no pay. In all blood taints and impurities, of whatever name or nature, it is most positive in its curative effects. Pimples, blotches, eruptions and all skin and scalp diseases are radically cured by this wonderful medicine. Scrofulous disease may affect the glands, causing swellings or tumors; the bones causing "fever-sores," "white swellings" or "hip-joint disease;" or the tissues of the lungs, causing pulmonary consumption. No matter in which one of its myriad forms it crops out, or manifests itself, "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure it if used persevcringly and in time.

Its thousands of cures are the best advertisements for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Americans spend about $125,000,000 a year for books and periodicals, while the English spend only about $100,000,000. English standard publications sell better in this country than they do in England.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

LADIES Enamel your Ranges twice a year, tops once a week and you have the finest-polished stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove Dealers.

Tutt's Pills

Stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as an anti-bilious medicine. In their virtues are widely recognized, as they possess peculiar properties in freeing the system from that poison. This popular remedy rarely fails to effectually cure

Malarial Districts

Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness and all disorders arising from a Torpid Liver and Bad Digestion.

A Proclamation!

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says: "A year ago I had bilious fever; Tutt's Pills were so highly recommended that I used them. Never did medicine have a happier effect. After a practice of a quarter of a century, I proclaim them the best medicine ever used. I always prescribe them in my practice."

ANTI-BILIOUS

Sold Everywhere.

Office, 44 Murray St. New York.

Tutt's Manual of Useful Receipts sent Free.

PIANOS L&B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000 Worth of Pianos and Organs Must be Closed Out by August 1.

New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new in our repair factory.

MUST SELL! Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices! Easy Terms! Write for Bargain Sheet.

LUDDEN & BATES SAVANNAH, GA.

CLARK & MEADER,

—DEALERS IN—

FINE GROCERIES,

10 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.

Mention this Paper.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS

CLEANED OF ALL IMPERFECTIES.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JARVIS.

BROWNE & JENKINS,

DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN

WALL PAPER

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free. Mention this paper.

Frank Walker & Co.,

WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,

117 Tchoupitoulas St.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mention this paper.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,

DEALER IN

WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

203 - CAMP STREET - 203

Bet. Delord and Poeyfarre, NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.

W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

When writing, mention this paper.

A. Brousseau's Son,

23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING, CARPETS, INGRAINS, LACE CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

DRAINING MACHINES, IRRIGATION PUMPS, DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory.

JOS. MENGE, 105 Tchoupitoulas St.

PATENTS THOMAS P. SIMPSON, Washington, D. C. No atty's fee until Patent obtained. Write for Inventor's Guide.

FROM

New Orleans to Cincinnati.

94 MILES THE SHORTEST.

TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST,

NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer through the City.

Luxurious Main Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.

R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans.

J. C. GAULT, General Manager.

H. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

And Through Cars for All Classes to

CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 5 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

Pullman Sleeping Cars

THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE

To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and

KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO

Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York,

TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—

Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

SHORT LINE

—BETWEEN—

NEW ORLEANS, TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT,

AND POINTS IN

Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas

JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

VULCAN Fireproof Paint

IS INDORSED BY THE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICIALS OF NEW ORLEANS AND NEW YORK.

All Colors. Adapted to the finest as well as rough work. SHINGLE ROOFS MADE ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF and preserved from decay. Write for circulars.

H. R. GIFFNEY, 41 Union Street, New Orleans.

Persons writing Mr. H. R. Giffney concerning Vulcan Paint will please enclose him this advertisement.

SAFE INVESTMENT FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS

(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....9:00 am	No. 2.....1:00 pm
No. 3.....11 pm	No. 4.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:10 am	No. 6.....4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 F'st Ex....7:00 am
No. 1 F'st Ex....7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast....3:40 pm
No. 5 Coast....9:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex. 3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. Or. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 Californ'a Express. 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express. 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local. 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local. 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local... 7:20 pm
No. 17 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor. 11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.

(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd. 11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd.....3:35 pm
No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line...7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO.

(Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line...3:35 pm

P. AND F. EAST LA.

(Abita Springs.)

Daily Except Sundays.

Arrive.....8:30 am | Leave.....1:00 pm

Sunday Schedule.

Arrive.....7:25 pm | Leave.....7:30 am

H. GARDES, Pres't. W. W. GRAULT, Cashier.

American National Bank,

No. 47 CAMP ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

E. F. HYER, Pres't. E. P. MALKIN, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO.

(LIMITED)

40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in—

WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cakes, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Shadenery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application. Mention this Paper.

CARRIAGES, Buggies, Phaetons, Surreys, Carts, HARNESS, Baby Carriages, R. P. RANDALL, 54 and 56 Baronne Street, New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS, FUNERAL DIRECTORS.

CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor at Establishment.

213 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM

F. D. VanValkenburgh,

106 Camp Street.

Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Orders by mail promptly filled.

$300 to $500 a month made by working for us. We guarantee energetic persons $300 a Year, with the opportunity of making 6 times that amount. Men who can furnish their own horses preferred. A few vacancies in towns and cities. Holloway & Co., 112 N. 6th St., St. Louis.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the so highly celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at 160 Ill in unoccupied territory. Send on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. A. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants' Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats.

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

Discount to Preachers.

H. B. STEVENS,

OUTFITTER,

122 and 124 Canal St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Clothing, Hats, Shirts and Furnishing Goods for all ages and all sizes. Fat suits and lean suits for men and boys. Always depend on us for the largest variety and lowest prices.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
Rev. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
Rev. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
Rev. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1889.

Centenary College.

The commencement exercises of this institution began Sunday, June 2. Dr. C. G. Andrews, of Meridian, Miss., preached the annual sermon. His theme was, "Solomon's Choice." The elaboration of the subject was interesting and edifying to the large audience in attendance; and the Doctor's pathetic appeal to the members of his own class, the majority of those now living being in attendance, was exceedingly tender and impressive, and left an impression for good in the hearts of all the hearers. At four P. M., in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, Rev. B. F. Alexander, of the Louisiana Conference, gave the young men a practical address on the Psalmist's question, "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way?" It was a plain talk, packed with wisdom gathered from God's Word, from observation and from experience. At night the writer preached to the Young Men's Christian Association on, "The True Life-Work." The audience was large, and the truth seemed to be well received.

On Monday evening the college chapel was early filled to witness the contest of eight young gentlemen of the preparatory department for the prize of a gold medal offered by Mrs. J. N. Pharr, of Berwick, La., to the best declaimer. All the speakers acquitted themselves well, and the Committee of Award voted that Master Walter Holcombe, of Jackson, La., was entitled to the prize; and the same was presented to him in a neat and appropriate speech by Rev. Dr. F. M. Featherstun, of Clinton, La.

Tuesday was a great day. The closing exercises of the Franklin Institute, in the society hall, were such as impressed upon all present the value and tenderness of true college friendship. The farewell words, the delivery of badges and diplomas to departing members, the impromptu speeches of wit and wisdom from visiting friends, the sympathizing audience and the inspiring music—all conspired to produce an hour of real enjoyment and to fill the hearts of all with encouragement and hope. The annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held, and the annual address delivered by Louis Levy, Esq., a young Jew, of the town of Jackson. It was an address on the current topics of the day, thoughtfully conceived, forcibly delivered, and well received. The association elected Hon. T. C. W. Ellis, of New Orleans, to deliver the next annual address, and I. D. Wall, of Clinton, La., the next annual poem. The exercises of the day closed with an oratorical contest between chosen members of the two literary societies for the gold medal offered by Hon. G. T. McGehee, of Woodville, Miss., for the best original oration. There were three contestants from each society, and right well and worthily did the young orators bear themselves and entertain the large audience for the space of two hours. O. H. Simpson, of the Franklin Institute, obtained the prize; and it was presented to him in a most appropriate speech by Dr. C. G. Andrews. To close the programme of the day, Dr. J. B. Walker, of New Orleans, made an address to the societies on, "Talkers and Talking." It was replete with wisdom and instruction, flashed with wit and anecdote, and rounded up the exercises of the day just as the hands of the clock pointed to the beginning of a new day! Here we desire to whisper in the ears of the authorities in the college this piece of advice: Quit putting this speaker to the literary societies up to make his address at eleven o'clock at night before an audience already surfeited with "the feast of reason and the flow of soul."

Wednesday was graduation day. Two young men had completed the college course with credit to themselves and with satisfaction to the faculty. These young men are H. W. Van Hook, a young minister of Jackson, Miss., and R. H. Wynn, son of Rev. John Wynn, of the Louisiana Conference. On the rostrum these young graduates acquitted themselves with honor. Mr. Van Hook's Latin salutatory was exceedingly gratifying to the audience, being exceedingly brief. The subject of his graduating speech was, "Political Morality," which he discussed in an interesting way. Mr. Wynn's subject was, "The Abolition of War," and was spoken of by competent judges as a speech giving promise of much in the future of this preacher's son. Dr. Hunnicutt's baccalaureate address was well conceived and delivered in apposite words. Bishop Keener made a few congratulatory and encouraging words, and pronounced the benediction, and the great crowd dispersed, well pleased with all the exercises, and encouraged to hope for still larger improvement in every direction during the coming year.

The Board of Trustees had a fuller attendance than we have ever seen. The whole business pertaining to the college was carefully reviewed in every particular. The Board had five sittings, and omitted to scrutinize nothing pertaining to its work. The finances of the college are in a growing condition, the receipts from the different sources showing a large increase over last year. The increase from collections in the Conferences being 20 per cent.; increase of interest on endowment notes rose from $280 to $604; the increase in tuition being about 25 per cent.; this last despite the fact that 26 or 28 young preachers and preachers' sons pay no tuition. Financially, the college is on a firmer basis than it has been since the war. The endowment fund has reached the sum of $35,000 in 6 per cent. interest notes, and is growing constantly. The outlook in that direction is encouraging, and hope is brightening and broadening every day. The attendance of students the past session was 40 per cent. larger than the attendance of the session previous; and the expectation, based upon promises already made, is, that next session the increase will be equally as great.

We can not do better than give our readers the report made to the Board by its Committee on the "State of the College," whose chairman has been a life-long college man, who knows what a college is, and can see further into its workings and understands those workings better than most men. Read this report carefully, as made by Prof. W. H. N. Magruder, and you will see exactly the present status of Centenary in several important particulars:

Your Committee on State of the College submit the following report: First, in regard to the property. After a careful and thorough inspection, we are happy to report a state of things in most pleasing contrast with those of some former years. In both the dormitory buildings the rooms lack nothing to render them delightfully comfortable. They are roomy, in good condition, and with each its quota of young men, neat in their habits, and emulous of a true manhood, would be not only comfortable to their occupants, but attractive to visitors. They are pleasantly situated, and with all the conditions of healthfulness. The two buildings have a capacity for the convenient accommodation of two hundred students.

The exterior appearance of these buildings is pleasant, with an air of neatness and evidence of care entirely commendable. The west wing was repaired several years ago, so far as to render the dormitories comfortable. The ground floor of the gallery is still in a condition which might tempt some generous friend to invest a few hundred dollars in brick and cement. The east wing, through the generosity of Rev. and Mrs. Christian Keener, has been changed from an almost dilapidated condition to a delightful residence for students. We find no broken glass, no signs of vandalism, but the evidence of good order generally. There is much improvement in the interior of the main building. Halls have been fitted up and furnished for the various uses of the college. Much of this is due to the students themselves and evinces a gratifying interest in their own work and in the future of the college. We might enter into more detail of the various improvements that have been made and are still greatly needed. We dismiss the subject with the hope expressed that some friend of large means and larger heart, with a Christian interest in the Christian education of our youth, will treat himself to the luxury of removing all cause of regret.

We have greater cause for gratitude and hopefulness in contemplating the excellent moral sentiment pervading the student body. This is certified to by conversations with the president, faculty, the students themselves and citizens, and by our own careful observation of the town. Your committee consider that in the fine religious and moral conditions surrounding our students rests the future prosperity of the college. We refer to the total absence of defacements of the public buildings to the pure moral atmosphere about the campus. We also observe a strong esprit du corps growing among the students. They don't hesitate to lend a helping hand to any work in progress about the college, thus showing an interest in its welfare. We further learn that every student in attendance at the closing session intends to return, thus manifesting a personal interest and attachment for the college. The wholesome religious influences surrounding the students is shown by the gratifying work of the Young Men's Christian Association, and the number who have entered and are otherwise engaged in active Christian work of the ministry. The citizens say "the college boys are smart," and the professors report the class standing as being high, unusually high, thus showing to the world that healthy moral and religious sentiments are not only consistent with a high grade of mental cultivation, but that the influence of the former is more than apt to promote the latter.

Your committee can conscientiously and cordially commend the college to those who have sons to educate as a safe place for their intellectual and moral development, and for aids to the formation of Christian character.

As is said in the above report, the condition of the buildings has been vastly improved. Wandering about through the various rooms of the main building, we discovered indubitable evidences of the tasteful touches of a female hand! We saw things done which we know boys do not, can not, do. We were at first at loss to account for this, but finally "fixed it up in this way:" The president's wife, having no sons of her own, must have adopted this college, and her motherly instinct has gone to work to make things home-like and pleasant and bright; and she is succeeding beautifully.

Taking everything into consideration, we are more hopeful of Centenary than ever. Her friends are beginning to rally to her support with genuine enthusiasm. Her professors believe she is shaking off the dust from her garments. Her students have gone to their vacation with the determination to labor for new students. Her president expects to work through the entire summer to increase her endowment and the number of her pupils. Her trustees are in better heart over the future prospects than we have ever seen them. There are throbbings and pulsations of life which contradict the assertions made a few months ago that she was dead. The evidences of vigorous life are abundant. Let the friends nourish this life, and many will see the day when Centenary College will be the pride of all the Methodisms of the Southwest.

The Forward Movement.

The progress of the church has been marked by great forward movements.

1. Abraham was called to arise from his native country and to go into a land of which he knew nothing. In obeying this command, it is said he went out not knowing whither he went. By faith he dwelt in the land of promise, as a strange land, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise. For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

2. In carrying out this plan, his descendants went down into Egypt, where they heard a strange language that they understood not. At length, four hundred years, the second movement began when Moses was called to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt. This was achieved by a series of the most stupendous miracles, in which the chariots of Egypt were overthrown, and their horses and riders drowned in the depths of the sea.

3. The third great movement was when the Jewish polity was overthrown and the new covenant made in the person of Jesus Christ, as set forth in Hebrews viii: "In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away." The vital forces of Christianity which overthrew the tabernacle soon pushed out into the world and subdued the Empire of Rome. By a necessary disintegration and renewal that empire passed away, but Christianity remained; and after a long struggle with the disordered elements of society, it emerged in the reformation of Martin Luther and his coadjutors, forming the basis of modern Christianity.

4. This is the fourth and last development of this vital force; but it is working, perhaps, more energetically now than ever before. Everywhere throughout the world the emblems and institutions of the Church of Christ are displayed, and by common consent the Christian nations are leading the world. Prophecy fulfilled.

5. The great evangelical movement set on foot by Whitfield and the Wesleys has vitalized the olden forms of Christianity and put them into the position of aggressive powers. The Church of England, the Baptists, the different Presbyterian and Congregational bodies have all entered the field of missions, and their stations to-day are dotted over the map of the world. If only the present lines can be held and the ordinary rate of advance be made from them, in another decade no country will be without the gospel.

6. But what I would call attention to at this time is the present forward movement in Methodism. In reading the Methodist Times, of London, one is impressed with the vast undertakings of that noble body of evangelical Christians.

(1) About twenty years ago Sir Francis Lycett proposed to give the sum of £50,000 for building fifty Methodist chapels in London, provided the Conference would raise an equal sum for the same purpose. This was done; and there are now about 100 Methodist Churches in that great city.

(2) This gave rise to a vast missionary movement in the city among the laboring classes; and now there is a powerful organization for mission work in London, of which Rev. Hugh Price Hughes is the president, and in which Mark Guy Pearse, Mr. Nix and other prominent ministers are engaged, with the co-operation of the most influential laymen. But this work is not confined to London. The same paper contains an account of the opening of the new chapel in Nottingham, giving access to some 37,000 people outside the churches.

(3) In addition to the foreign and home mission work, there are new enterprizes in Methodism in England and at the North, looking more to benevolent work among the poor than formerly in connection with our church. Cleveland Hall, in London, has just been dedicated to the uses of the poor in a populous, but destitute portion of the city. This was formerly a place of vice and dissipation, but is now fitted up for moral and religious purposes. The last New York Advocate contains an account of the dedication of the Brooklyn Home for the Aged at the cost of about $100,000.

(4) Many forms of evangelism are of recent origin, showing unwonted activity in preaching the gospel outside the churches. Chief among these is the Salvation Army, led by Gen. Booth and wife, whose anniversary has just been held at London. It now numbers several thousand companies, operating in many parts of the world. Four subscriptions of £100 each were made at the anniversary, besides smaller sums to an unknown amount. Add to this the lay preaching of Dwight L. Moody, the college preaching of Charles Spurgeon, the labors of Sam Jones, Small, Pearson, and many other modern evangelists, and we find that the masses are having the gospel carried to them.

7. Last of all, the woman's movement promises when fully inaugurated to double the effective forces in all church work.

F. M. G.

A Missionary Lost.

The sad news comes to us that Miss Clara Chrisman, who so recently left her home in Beauregard, Miss., for her work in Brazil, was lost in the terrible Johnstown flood. She was on her way to New York to take the steamer for Brazil, to enter upon the work to which she had been appointed by the Board of Missions, when the fatal flood cut short all her purposes and crushed all the hopes of her friends and relatives. It is said that her valise was found in the great wreck, but her body has not yet been discovered.

Miss Chrisman was a graduate of the Memphis Female College, of Jackson, Tenn. From childhood she has been an active worker in the church. She felt called to missionary work in the foreign field, and was examined and accepted by the Mission Board in February last, and appointed to labor in Brazil. Very interesting farewell services were held in the church at Beauregard, May 26, on the eve of her departure. Many were the prayers and good wishes of friends that her life should be spared, and that her work would be successful; but, alas! her life went out in the awful flood, and her work has been transferred to another sphere. May the Lord give grace to the relatives to suffer with uncomplaining patience, and to wait with resignation that time when the love of the Father shall make all inexplicable things plain.

Never fear to bring the sublimest motive into the smallest duty, and the most infinite comfort to the smallest trouble.—Heber.

An Invitation Extraordinary.

We clip the following from the Southern Churchman, organ of the Episcopal Church in Virginia. The invitation to the Bishop of the Diocese of Louisiana ought to be accepted. We shall look in the Churchman for his acceptance.

One of our Southern Methodist exchanges has for some weeks been printing a sermon by Rev. B. Carradine, D. D., on "The Louisiana State Lottery Company Examined and Exposed." Not many years ago, and all the States permitted lotteries; but, seeing their tendencies were evil, have one by one abolished them, until now (we think) Louisiana alone permits them. But it will not be long before even this State will not license them. If the excellent Bishop of the Diocese of Louisiana, instead of sitting on the fence about changing the name of this Protestant Episcopal Church, would jump down and declare this Louisiana Lottery was a nuisance and a temptation to evil, he would exhibit such a spirit that every good man would applaud him. In the meantime, the columns of the Southern Churchman are opened to him to declare his moral indignation against this lottery.

Notes.

The collection basket, passing through a congregation in Tennessee at a self-denial service, brought back an envelope containing $1 15, with this explanation: "Self-denial; one week's cigar bill. Foreign missions." That's the way to do. If all our people will follow this example, the missionary treasury will be full and we would be able to hold up our heads when the subject of missions is mentioned.

If your religion does not sometimes prompt you to acts of self-denial to help forward the cause of the Lord, you had better take it out of your heart and look at it to see what sort of a religion it is. Paul says: "If a man think himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself." And a religion that is not saturated with the missionary spirit—the spirit that helps others—won't take a sinner far on the way to heaven.

The following resolution was passed by the Sardis District Conference:

Whereas, The opposition of the Methodist Church against gambling of every kind has always been pronounced and unequivocal; And whereas, Gambling on horse-racing is without a redeeming feature, but is essentially and only wicked and, therefore, ruinous in its influence; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this District Conference do now put itself on record as condemning in toto this species of gambling, and earnestly request all our membership to set their face against this unmitigated evil.

Bro. McCoy, of the Alabama Advocate, gives some instructions to the writers who want to favor him with their poetical effusions. Just listen:

The lines must be so constructed as to give perfect rhyming iambic pantameters, consisting of a major portion called the octave, subdivided into two quatrains, and of a minor called the sestet, subdivided into two tercets. In execution, there must be no obscurity, nothing superfluous, nor weak. The poem must open with significance, progress with power, be burdened with thought and richly freighted with music. Where these simple requirements are strictly complied with, the poetry will always be published.

While waiting in Vicksburg for the train to Monroe, we had the good fortune to meet Bro. N. B. Harmon, who is in charge of South Vicksburg circuit. He has a neat little church in the southern part of the city, and has recently had a gracious revival of religion. Beginning the year with no members and five Sunday-school scholars, he has now a membership of sixty-nine and a Sunday-school with more than a hundred on the roll. His people have made him a present of a beautiful pony and buggy, and he gave the editor a delightful ride around about the city.

The Holy Spirit organized the church into a mission church with Paul and Barnabas as the first foreign missionaries, and since that day, as the church has yielded to his influences, she has possessed and manifested the missionary spirit. That spirit is abroad to-day and working in a wonderful way. The wife of a missionary in a foreign land says: "If I have come here only to suffer and die, I do not regret having come." That's the true spirit, and everywhere in the territory of our paper it is being more largely manifested. Our people are beginning to realize that the Christian religion is missionary through and through. We thank God for the evidences daily coming in that the church is growing in this direction.

Personal and Otherwise.

v. G. W. Bachman, colporteur North Mississippi Conference, that the sales of religious literaow are 100 per cent. better than he began this work five years That means that our people are ng twice as many religious books papers as they did five years ago. had the pleasure of meeting, at Centenary commencement, Rev. Alexander and his bride. Conlations go out from this office to and the wish for great happl-

. Louis Levy, in his address be- the Alumni of Centenary College, 4, gave the Louisiana Lottery a k equal to the blow from a der's battle-axe, and the ape of the audience showed them mpathy with the speaker.

v. J. S. Oakley, of Columbus, will preach the commencement n at the North Mississippi Col- Verona, Miss., Sunday, July 16.

s M. E. Compton has our thanks program of exercises and an inion to be present at the comement of Port Gibson Female ge, June 14-18.

v. Dr. Carradine preaches the encement sermon at Port Gib- Female College, June 16.

e assessments for missions to our Conferences are as follows: Mississippi, $9,450; Mississippi, 0; Louisiana, 6,800—total, $24,050. e are in these three Conferences persons calling themselves odists. In order to "raise the sment" each one must pay twenven cents. Let every pastor get thing for missions from every ber, not slighting even the boys girls.

e Monteagle Assembly convenes 2, and will hold until August 20. ything points to an auspicious ing and an interesting session. now of no more pleasant place end a few weeks.

v. H. R. Singleton writes from ral Springs: "We are doing ; larger congregations; ladies' er meeting and regular prayer ing flourishing, and a fine rain."

o. Van Valkenburgh requests us to that, by consent of the managers rustees of Seashore Camp Ground, xpects to have a full supply of new hymn book and of other odist books on sale there during coming camp meeting.

eshore Camp Ground is being put der rapidly for the approaching meeting. The springs have cleaned out thoroughly and y fitted up with brick. Mr. , the keeper, furnished the brick, Mr. Henry Estetter furnished the and labor of their own free and without expense to the ds. They deserve many thanks water is said to be greatly hared. There is a new well near the t, lined with brick, besides other rovements. The grounds are very tive.

o. J. T. Sawyer, the zealous and ful pastor of the Felicity Street odist Church, on Monday night, started "gospel meetings" at the ion Sunday-school of this church, o. 7001 Annunciation street. From rst service mourners have crowded altar, and there are good indicaof a baptism of the Holy Spirit at place. The meetings will con- every night.

the second Quarterly Conference he Carondelet Street Methodist rch, the popular preacher in ge, Bro. B. Carradine, reported cessions during this quarter, most hose received into the church beconverts during the revival services, h have been in progress since 21. Among these are many young le and children from the Sunday- ols. The following young gentle- were elected stewards at this rterly Conference: G. P. Harmon, W. Carter, A. O. Pessou and y P. Dart.

Postal Card Reports.

Rev. H. S. Johns writes from hington, La., June 3: "I have returned from Abbeville, where I e been assisting Bro. J. E. Denson, ., in a meeting at Prairie Gregg, Twenty-four were received into church and twenty-five infants e dedicated to God in baptism. . Keener, our presiding elder, said was the largest class he ever bapd at once. God is blessing Bro. son in his work. He is now holda meeting at Abbeville, with Bro. atley assisting."

Rev. J. H. Evans, writing from nklinton, La., says: "We are y dry here; we have had light shower in two months. mbers of acres of land not planted, not even broken up. Corn is nted and is very small, but there is sance for a good crop yet. Over a rd of the cotton land in this parish ot planted yet, and a great deal of t is not come up—the land is so dry. Times up here are hard and are growing harder, especially on the preacher. We are trying to stir up the people to duty; but Louisiana is the hardest place I have struck since I have been in the Mississippi Conference. Pray for us. God bless you and the dear ADVOCATE."

—Rev. George T. Ashley writes from Flowery Mound, La.: "I send you a few subscriptions to the ADVOCATE. I am doing all I can for it, but it seems that I make slow progress. I do believe it gets better every issue. When the time approaches for it to come, it produces an anxiety something akin to getting a letter from home when a school-boy. Long may it live and do good. We are getting along tolerably well up here, having built a parsonage and nearly finished a church since Conference."

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

ALMEDA, by Dr. N. T. Oliver. Rand, McNally & Company, Chicago and New York. George F. Wharton, New Orleans. Price, twenty-five cents.

HOME RULE AND FEDERATION. By a Doctor of Medicine. E. Truelove, London, 256 High Holborn. Price, two pence.

This pamphlet contains remarks on law, government and international anarchy, and proposes and discusses the question of a federal union between France and England as the most important step to the federation of the world.

POLPIT STUDIES FROM ROBERT ELSMERE. J. S. Ogilvie, New York. Price, ten cents.

PERIODICALS.

—The Methodist Magazine and Family Repository is edited by James Shaw, D. D., and published by Shaw and Son, Chicago, for $1 50 a year, and is quite a readable monthly.

—The Treasury for Pastor and People, for June, has a rich table in the way of sermonic and homiletic literature, and helpful hints for workers. E. B. Treat, New York. Price, $2 50; clergymen, $2.

—The June Book-Buyer has a fine portrait of John Burroughs and sketch by H. W. Malde. English Notes and Literary Affairs in Boston, and Recent Fiction and The Newest Books make up a fine number. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York. Price, $1.

—Wharton has sent us the June number of the North American Review, which has a full table of contents, discussing many important subjects of the day. Price, $5 per annum.

—Vick's Illustrated Magazine, for June, is an interesting number for all lovers of plants and flowers. Rochester, New York. Price, $1 25 a year.

—Christian Thought has the Messianic Element in the Book of Job, by J. G. Lansing, D. D.; Final Cause, by Rev. Jesse F. Forbes; The Attitude of the Secular Press toward Religion, by A. H. Siegfried; Thomas Arnold and his Son. This bi-monthly is edited by Dr. C. F. Deems, and published by W. B. Ketcham, 13 Cooper Union, New York. Price, $2. Clergymen, $1 50.

—The Home-Maker is the best of its kind that comes to our office. Every housekeeper ought to have it. It is worth far more than it costs. Edited by Marion Harland, it is winning its way to high favor among all sorts of people. Home-Maker Company, New York. Price, twenty cents a number.

—The Southern Cultivator is published at Atlanta, Ga., and, we suppose, is a favorite among the agriculturists of the Southwest. You can secure it for $1 per year, or ten cents a copy.

—The Echo is a musical monthly, published at Lafayette, Ind., for one dollar, and contains reading matter on musical themes and several pages of music in each issue.

—The Forum has this table: Corrupt Political Methods, by Senator Edmunds; Annexation, by W. B. Harte; Languages in Modern Education, by Prof. Blackie; Ethics of Politics, by W. S. Lilly; What is the Missionary Doing, by Dr. T. T. Munger; Representative Government in Japan, by W. E. Griffis; Preventable Causes of Poverty, by Dr. H. D. Chapin; Reducing the Cost of Insurance, by A. Hamilton; The Moloch of Monopoly, by Dr. W. Barry; Cheap Academic Titles, by L. W. Bacon; Peasant Life in Roumania, by the Queen of Roumania. Forum Publishing Company, New York. Price, $5 a year; fifty cents a copy.

Literary Notes.

A new story by Robert Louis Stevenson and Lloyd Osbourne, with the curiosity-piquing title of "The Wrong Box," will be published by the Scribners in a fortnight, and is likely to create a great deal of interest. The tale is said to be entirely outside the lines along which Mr. Stevenson's genius for story telling has manifested itself, and will illustrate afresh his extraordinary versatility in the field of letters.

Mr. George Kennan, the famous traveler and lecturer, recently told a newspaper man that, when he was among the convicts in Siberia, he was frequently asked about that wonderful institution, Chautauqua; and Mr. Kennan said that he occasionally found a person who was familiar with the plan of this great popular university and had gone through the course of readings.

A brilliant array of popular lecturers appears on the program for the Chautauqua season of '89, among them the following: Prof. H. H. Boyesen, Mr. Frank Beard, Colonel Russell H. Conwell, the Hon. Will Cumback, Miss Kate Field, Dr. Washington Gladden, Mr. A. M. Griswold (the "Fat Contributor" of Texas Siftings), Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, Prof. J. P. Mahaffey (of Dublin), Donald G. Mitchell (Ik Marvel), Bishops Newman and Androws, and Dr. David Swing.

Mr. George Parsons Lathrop has never written anything better than his short stories, and Messrs Cassell & Company are fortunate in offering the first collected volume of these to the public. "Two Sides of a Story" is the title of the volume whose contents are made up of his more notable contributions to Harper's, The Century and the Atlantic Monthly. There is as much plot and character drawing in one of these stories as would satisfy some of our novelists for an entire book. Mr. Lathrop is a strong writer and has a keen sense for dramatic situation.

Mr. Froud's novel, "The Two Chiefs of Dunboy," has gone into its fourth edition, and promises to be the most widely read of all the recent novels this summer.

The extraordinary interest awakened in England by the fascinating "Diary and Letters of Gouverneur Morris," has necessitated the London publishers to put forth a second edition of the work. It is likely that the American edition will also be shortly duplicated.

The increase in European travel this year is said to be noticeable in the much larger demand which the Scribners are receiving for their illustrated "Index Guide to European Travel," than during any previous season.

Another Missionary to Japan.

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Shelmire	10 00

Methodist College of Bishops.

PLAN OF VISITATION ARRANGED FOR THIS AND NEXT YEAR.

July 21—Denver: Albuquerque, N. M., Bishop Granbery.
July —, Brazil Mission: Rio de Janeiro, Bishop Granbery.
August 11—Montana: Stevensville, M. T., Bishop Granbery.
Aug. 28—Columbia: Dallas, Or., Bishop Hargrove.
Aug. 28—Western: Atchison, Kan., Bishop Granbery.
Sept. 4—Western Virginia: Cattletsburg, Ky., Bishop Wilson.
Sept. 11—Missouri: Palmyra, Mo., Bishop Granbery.
Sept. 11—Kentucky: Paris, Ky., Bishop Wilson.
Sept. 4—Japan Mission: ——, Bishop Wilson.
Sept. 18—Pacific: Fresno, Cal., Bishop Hargrove.
Sept. 18—Illinois: Casey, Ill., Bishop Wilson.
Sept. 18—St. Louis: Salem, Mo., Bishop Duncan.
Sept. 25—Louisville: Morganfield, Ky., Bishop Keener.
Oct. 2—Los Angeles: San Bernardino, Cal., Bishop Hargrove.
Oct. 2—Southwest Missouri: Marshall, Mo., Bishop Granbery.
Oct. 2—Holston: Morristown, Tenn., Bishop Wilson.
Oct. 2—China Mission: Suchow, China, Bishop Wilson.
Oct. 2. Indian Mission: Atoka, I. T., Bishop Hendrix.
Oct. 9—Tennessee: Murfreesboro, Tenn., Bishop Keener.
Oct. 16—Mexican Border Mission: San Antonio, Tex., Bishop Galloway.
Oct. 23—West Texas: Seguin, Texas, Bishop Key.
Oct. 30—Central Mexican Mission: Guadalajara, Mexico, Bishop Galloway.
Nov. 6—Northwest Texas: Belton, Tex., Bishop Key.
Nov. 13—Memphis: Fulton, Ky., Bishop Hendrix.
Nov. 13—Virginia: ——, Bishop Wilson.
Nov. 13—German Mission: Cuero, Tex., Bishop Galloway.
Nov. 20—North Texas: Greenville, Texas., Bishop Key.
Nov. 20—Arkansas; Conway, Ark., Bishop Hendrix
Nov. 20—North Alabama: Huntsville, Ala., Bishop Duncan.
Nov. 27—North Carolina: Greensboro, N. C., Bishop Hargrove.
Nov. 27—North Georgia: Cedar Town, Ga., Bishop Keener.
Dec. 4—North Mississippi: Holly Springs, Miss., Bishop Galloway.
Dec. 4—Texas: Lagrange, Tex., Bishop Key.
Dec. 4—Little Rock: Pine Bluff Ark., Bishop Hendrix.
Dec. 4—Alabama: Greenville, Ala., Bishop Duncan.
Dec. 4—South Georgia: Americus, Ga., Bishop Hargrove.
Dec. 11—South Carolina: Camden, S. C., Bishop Keener.
Dec. 11—White River: Searcy, Ark., Bishop Hendrix.
Dec. 12—Louisiana: Baton Rouge, La., Bishop Duncan.
Dec. 18—Mississippi: Crystal Springs, Miss., Bishop Galloway.
Dec. 18—East Texas: Rusk, Tex., Bishop Key.
Jan. 8—Florida: Gainesville, Fla., Bishop Keener.
March 12—Baltimore: St. Paul's, Baltimore, Md., Bishop Duncan.

What think you of a congregation that wants to build a church worth somewhere between $10,000 and $50,000 in modern style, that allows its pastor some $700 or $800 per annum and doesn't pay that?—Southern Christian Advocate.

We think such a congregation ought to send for Sam Jones.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
31 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

The Seashore Camp Meeting,

—ON THE—

GULF COAST, near BILOXI, MISS.,

Will Commence JULY 5, and Last Ten Days.

W. C. T. U. DAY is Tuesday, JULY 16th.

Reduced Railroad Rates have been secured. Grounds are beautiful, and everything ready for the large crowd coming from all directions.

For particulars as to board, renting tents, etc., address either of the following Trustees: W. J. HEARIN, Mobile, President; J. H. KELLER, N. O., Vice-President; P. WERLEIN, N. O., Treasurer; J. G. GRANT, N. O., Recording Secretary; D. L. MITCHEL, N. O., Financial Secretary; B. O. L. RAYNE, W. B. THOMSON, J. H. CAMPMAN, E. P. MACKIE, N. O., La.; A. C. DANNER, C. H. LINDSEY, W. OTIS, Mobile, Ala.; J. H. LAKIN, Montgomery, Ala.; DR. E. F. GRIFFIN, Moss Point, Miss.; J. P. CARTER, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Notice.

The Corinth District and Sunday-school Conferences will be held at Booneville, Miss., July 11-13. We will open the Sunday-school Conference, Thursday, nine A. M. The following program is to be carried out:

1. What are the Duties of the Pastor to the Sunday-school?—J. H. Mitchel, L. A. McKeown and G. W. Grisham.

2. What are the Obligations of Parent to the Sunday-school, and how are We to Stimulate on this Line?—J. W. Bell, H. P. Crow and G. P. Hammerly.

3. Is the Custom of Establishing Sunday-schools in School Hours in the Same Community of the Church the Best?—K. M. Harrison, W. M. Young and L. W. Worsham.

4. How are We to Keep Sunday-schools out of Winter-quarters?—D. W. Baldwin, G. H. Jacobs and O. N. Koon.

5. What Constitutes a Successful Sunday-school teacher?—Joseph Johnson, A. B. Dearing and H. M. Young.

6. Are We Sufficiently Careful in Securing Our Own Literature and Avoiding Union Schools?—T. L. Foster, M. E. Tumlin and Joseph Wells.

J. H. STONE, P. E.

Improve the nutritive functions of the scalp by using Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, and thus keep the hair from falling and becoming gray.

Notice.

Notice is called to the following resolution passed at the recent meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society at Natchez:

Resolved, That the recording secretary be authorized to send a notice to the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, giving directions for sending the money for the publication of the Minutes of the Conference to Mrs. Anna Harper, Raymond, Miss.; also that it is the duty of each district secretary to notify each auxiliary in her district that one dollar is assessed them for the publication of the Minutes, the same to be sent to the chairman of Finance Committee—Mrs. Anna Harper, Raymond, Miss.—and also to the following district secretaries: Mrs. R. D. Norsworthy, of Meridian; Mrs. P. A. Johnston, of Brandon; Mrs. Coffee, of Vicksburg; Mrs. Hunnicutt, of Woodville; Mrs. Florence West, Seashore district; Miss Annie Gibbs, of Jackson; Miss Addie Marshall, of Brookhaven.

BESSIE FEARN, Rec. Sec.

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE, Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels opened June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Publisher's Department.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

If there is such a thing as cholera in the spirit land, it must be cholera in phantom.

CHANGES.—We have quite a number of orders to change the address of subscribers; some without signatures; and others who do not give the former address. Under these circumstances, change can not be made.

Musical harmony is one affair; harmony among musical people is another.

The ice men are taking things coolly.

Above all other animals—The giraffe.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

80 CAMP STREET.

Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.

FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK RODE, Vice-President. E. C. CLAUSSEN, Cashier.

Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.

Directors—Fred. W. Dietsamie, Frank Rader, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Kluepp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Ricks, Fred Peters and Louis Leonhard.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN., the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,

R. L. SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.

Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As HEALTHFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, and salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad

FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 19, 1889.

For full particulars send for Catalogues.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,

The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters

FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.

Dauphine Street, Two Blocks from Canal Street.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND AND DOOR FACTORY,

299, 301, 303, 305, 307 Gravier Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

ROBERTS & CO., Proprietors.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Flooring Ceiling, Newels, Balusters, etc., always on hand or made to order.

Orders promptly attended to.

Plantation Cabins a Specialty.

BRANCH OFFICE: No. 52 CARONDELET ST.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Summer Homes by the Sounding Sea.

The sounding C on one of Ditson Company's famous GUITARS; BANJOS; MANDOLINS is always in unison with the restful pleasure of summer days in summer pleasant places. Don't go to a music-less house! Take with you one of our light, portable musical instruments!

Seasonable and most enjoyable music books are:

COLLEGE SONGS (50 cts.). 150,000 sold.
COLLEGE SONGS for Banjo ($1). Guitar ($1).
GOOD OLD SONGS we USED TO SING ($1).
PRAISE IN SONG (40 cts.). New Gospel Songs.
TEMPERANCE RALLYING SONGS (35 cts.).
SONG HARMONY (60 cts.). Fine 4 part songs.
POPULAR SONG COLLECTION ($1). 37 good songs.
SONG CLASSICS ($1). 50 high-class songs.
SONG CLASSICS, ALTO VOICE ($1). 17 songs.
CLASSIC TENOR SONGS ($1) 36 songs.
CLASSIC BARITONE OR BASS SONGS ($1). 33 songs.
CHOICE VOCAL DUETS ($1). The newest.
POPULAR DANCE MUSIC COLLECTION ($1).
POPULAR PIANO COLLECTION ($1). 27 pieces.
CLASSICAL PIANIST ($1). 42 pieces.
PIANO CLASSICS ($1). 41 pieces.

Also music in quantity and variety for all occasions. Send for catalogues, free.

Any book or Piece Mailed for Retail Price.

Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.

C. H. DITSON & CO., 867 Broadway, New York.

Mention this paper.

WALL PAPER

In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty. WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES, WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS, UPHOLSTERERS GOODS.

Framing Neatly Done.

PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS, RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.

EDWARD HEATH,

Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

When writing, mention this paper.

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mention this paper.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

Wholesale : Grocers,

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,

(Formerly New Levee.)

NEW ORLEANS.

Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,

BUILDERS,

OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. Hours: 12 to 1 P. M.

287 EIGHTH ST.,

Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Both building and repairing promptly attended to

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belts and large Hubs, Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers (either sex) make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered.

Address BRUCE, HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,

General Insurance Agents

—FOR—

FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING COMPANIES.

Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.

64 BARONNE ST., N. O.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Crescent Insurance Co.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

CASH CAPITAL.....$300,000

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849.

Annual and Term Policies Issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. LYMAN, President.
JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-Pres.
CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Liverpool and London and Globe INSURANCE COMPANY.

Largest Fire Office in the World.

Losses paid by Chicago Fire, 1871, $3,289,091.
Losses Paid by Boston Fire, 1872, $1,129,739.

All Losses Paid in Cash without Discount as Soon as Adjusted.

Losses and all matters of business settled by officers and directors in New Orleans without reference to any other office, the same as with local companies.

Directors in New Orleans—NEWTON BICKNELL, Chairman; RODOLPH WORMSER, JOHN W. LAFOURCADE, A. DELVAILLE.

CLARENCE F. LOW, Ass't Res't Sec.

HENRY V. ORDEN, Resident Secretary.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)

Price, 80 Cents.

HUNT & EATON, 805 Broadway, New York;
CRANSTON & STOWE, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY

A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.

Mention this paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.

(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.

We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address

H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

Standard Guano and Chemical Man'f'g Co.,

SUCCESSORS TO STERN'S Fert. and Chem. Manufacturing Com'y

MANUFACTURERS OF High Grade BONE FERTILIZERS, PURE GROUND BONE, ACID PHOSPHATE, KAINIT, Etc.

14 UNION STREET. New Orleans, La.

Write for Agricultural Hand-Book. Mention this paper.

ADAMS' HATS!

26 ST. CHARLES ST.

ESTABLISHED 1868.

A. A. WOODS, WALTER SCHFT. L. H. POURSINE, A. F. GODAT.

A. A. WOODS & CO.,

General Insurance Agency,

184 GRAVIER STREET,

OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.

Mention this paper.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.

No. 78 CAMP STREET.

Cash Assets, December 31st, 1886,	$400,479.08
Cash Assets, December 31st, 1887,	$413,860.76
Cash Assets, December 31st, 1888,	$459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y.

J. B. WOODS, JNO. J. BABE, J. B. LEVERT, F. STRINGER.
JOS. HAYLE, ANDREW STEWART, E. BORLAND, W. T. HARDIE,
JNO. BARKLEY, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. HORN, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.

Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,

14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000

Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Robt Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. R. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vigues, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lubdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delsvallade.

New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company

OF NEW ORLEANS.

54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

Artificial Limbs,

Trusses and Surgical Appliances Made to Order and Adjusted

—BY—

A. McDERMOTT,

200 - - - ST. CHARLES STREET - - - - - 200

Bet. Julia and St. Joseph.

Our Young People.

FISH PUZZLE.

I once went out a fishing,
A fishing in the sea,
And a very odd lot fish I got,
As you will shortly see.

For first I caught a sunbeam,
And a portion of a shine,
With a piece of mouthful breather
And a very pretty lassie too.

I caught a situation
To which I had an eye,
And a prickly blinder portion
That floated gently by.

I caught a cooking apple,
And a whistling sour, as well,
A toll gate from the king's highway,
And a past tense of a smell.

An insect on a streamlet
And a verb that disagrees,
A crooked letter listening,
And the signer of the seas.

A shoe for icy weather,
A thing to roast your meat,
Some lime-wash for your ceiling,
And a feathered creature's seat.

I caught a woman's jewel,
A letter on a card,
And the hirsute one of ocean,
Who was shod with an extra yard.

The last thing I caught was a thimble
And that was enough for me;
So that was the end of my fishing
In this wonderful deep blue sea.

—Selected.

Aunt Jane's Paper of Pins.

"I say now, Aunt Jane, what would you like for a Christmas present?"

Aunt Jane looked at her small nephew, who from his corner by the fire hurled this question at her in the twilight. "What would I like?" she said, briskly. "Oh, a set of Browning in Russia leather, or Omar Khayyam, or a new silk dress, or Millet's 'Angelus,' the etching, in a carved frame, or—"

"Oh, pshaw, now, Aunt Jane!" Fred interrupted, "you know we can't get one of those things. I meant—you know what I meant."

"You said what would I like," answered Aunt Jane. She was rather fond of taking the children up for careless speaking, but Fred knew well enough the twinkle of fun that was in her eye now.

"Well, I meant what would you like that we could get," Fred said. "I do say picking and choosing is worse than anything when you haven't much money, and we haven't, you know."

"No!" Aunt Jane said, dropping the long mitten she was knitting for Fred. "Well, then, a paper of pins."

"Oh, come now, auntie, that isn't fair; that isn't any present."

"It's something I want, and something you can afford to buy, isn't it?" Aunt Jane said, laughing a little, as she picked up her knitting. But be sure they are the best make, Fred; I can't use poor pins." And with that she left Master Fred to his meditations.

"A paper of pins—pshaw! Aunt Jane just likes to tease us boys. If she wasn't just an up-and-down jewel of an aunt about kites and gingerbread, and painting sleds and all the rest, I'd feel like taking her at her word. A paper of pins—hum!"

And therewith there crept into Fred's brain the first glimmer of an idea. Presently he shared it with Kate, the sister next older, and then with Will and Mary, and then with mamma; and the result was this:

On Christmas morning there appeared at Aunt Jane's door a procession of children carrying a large roll, which, after due greetings, they solemnly unrolled on the bed where Aunt Jane lay. At the head of the sheet was a pretty lace-pin from mamma (a golden arrow in filigree), next a handsome shawl-pin in wrought silver from papa, then some fancy hair-pins in tortoise-shell from Kate, and then every variety of pin the shops afford—large and small, black and white, milliner's pins, hat-pins, hair-pins, safety-pins, sleeve-button pins—all ranged neatly down the paper. And under all was fastened a handsome card—Mary's work—which stated that the linchpin and the tholepin sent their compliments, which they thought would be more acceptable to a lady's toilet table than they themselves would be.
—Harper's Young People.

KEEPING STILL.—Young Tommy is a very talkative boy. The other day his uncle promised him ten cents if he would go an hour without speaking a word. Tommy wanted the dime very badly, and set out bravely to keep perfectly still from five o'clock until six o'clock. He watched the clock very uneasily and eagerly, however. By and by the hands pointed to half-past five. Tommy looked up and exclaimed at the top of his voice: "Well, half of the time's gone, anyway."

MR. EDITOR: As you were so kind as to publish my last letter, I and my little brother thought we would write another. We have been going to a public school, but it closed May 17. We will start again, in a few days, to a private school. Our Sunday-school is still interesting. One hundred and seventy-five pupils and twenty-nine teachers. Mr. Editor, do you not think we ought to have quite an interesting time every Sabbath morning? Mr. Editor, we would like to see a letter so much from Rev. A. T. Galloway; he was our last pastor in Louisiana. We would like so much to hear him preach again. We will answer James E. Henderson's question: All of the alphabet, except "j," are found in Ezra vii. 21. We will ask a question: Who was Moses' father-in-law? We will close for this time. Hoping this will not reach that dreadful waste-basket, we remain,

Your little friends,

MARY HODGES,
PALMER HODGES.

ABILENE, TEXAS

MR. EDITOR: This is my first attempt to write to your valuable paper, and I do hope it will not reach the waste-basket. I am ten years old; going to weekly and Sunday-school. My little brother is my pet, and we are our papa's pets. Papa is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and takes the ADVOCATE. Our mamma has left us to mourn her loss, but we will meet her in the better world. Our grandma watches over us in our slumbers. We have preaching first and third Sundays in the month, and prayer meeting every Thursday night. Rev. C. B. Carter is our zealous pastor. Hoping that the little cousins and their parents are in perfect peace and contentment with their neighbors and playmates, I will close with a question: In what year was the foundation of Solomon's Temple built? Wishing health to the editor and success to the ADVOCATE, I remain, sincerely,

Your little friend,

MARY A. NORGRESS.

PATTERSON, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: I wrote to you several weeks ago, but I guess it was thrown into the waste basket, as I wrote on both sides of the paper. I will write again, hoping to see this letter in print. I attend Sabbath-school, and study the senior quarterly. We have an interesting Sabbath-school, although not a large one. I have an uncle in your city attending the commercial college. I will answer one of Aleatha A. Barrows questions: "Vapour" is found in Jeremiah x, 13. I will close by asking a question: Where is "chickens" found in the Bible? Your friend,

KATIE C. VINSON.

FOLKVILLE, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: You were so kind as to publish me a letter about two years ago, so I will try and see how successful I will be this time. I attend a Sunday-school. It enrolls about thirty. I have a few pets: a pair of pigeons, two little kittens and a colt. I will ask the cousins a question: Where and how often is the word "coolin" mentioned in the Bible? For fear of wearying the editor, I am, Your friend,

BESSIE HOLMES.

WINONA, Mississippi.

This is the best time of the whole year to purify your blood, because now you are more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to take, and it is the most economical—100 Doses One Dollar.

There is a transcendent power in example. We reform others unconsciously, when we walk uprightly.

How to Cure Skin & Scalp Diseases with the Cuticura Remedies.

THE MOST DISTRESSING FORMS OF SKIN and scalp diseases, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, are speedily, economically and permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, when all other remedies and methods fail.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA 50c.; SOAP 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Relief in one minute, for all pains and weaknesses, in CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster. 25c

Household.

HOUSEKEEPING MELODIES.

Sing a song of cleaning house!
Pockets full of nails!
Four-and-twenty dust pans,
Scrubbing-brooms and pails!
When the door is opened,
Wife begins to sing:

"Just help me move this bureau here,
And hang this picture, won't you, dear?
And tack the carpet by the door,
And stretch this one a little more,
And drive this nail, and screw this screw;
And here's a job I have for you—
This closet door will never catch,
I think you'll have to fix the latch,
And oh, while you're about it, John,
I wish you'd put the curtain on,
And hang this curtain, when you're done
I'll hand you up the other one;
This box has got to have a hinge
Before I can put on the fringe;
And won't you mend that broken chair?
I'd like a hook put up right there,
The bureau drawer must have a knob;
And here's another little job—
I really hate to ask you, dear—
But could you fix a bracket here?"

And on it goes, when these are through,
With this and that and those to do,
Ad infinitum, and more too,
All in a merry jingle—
And isn't it enough to make
A man wish he was single? (Almost.)

Good Cure for Bad Temper.

Once upon a time there lived an old gentleman in a large house. He had servants and everything he wanted; and yet he was not happy, and when things did not go as he wished he was cross. At last his servants left him. Quite out of temper, he went to a neighbor with the story of his distresses.

"It seems to me," said the neighbor, sagaciously, "'twould be well for you to oil yourself a little."

"To oil myself?"

"Yes, and I will explain. Some time ago one of the doors in my house creaked. Nobody, therefore, liked to go in or out of it. One day I oiled its hinges, and it has been constantly used by everybody ever since."

"Then you think I am like a creaking door!" cried the old gentleman. "How do you want me to oil myself?"

"That is an easy matter," said the neighbor. "Go home and engage a servant, and when he does right praise him. If, on the contrary, he does something amiss, do not be cross; oil your voice and your words with the oil of love."

The old gentleman went home, and no harsh or ugly words were ever heard in the house afterward. Everybody should have a supply of this precious oil, for every family is liable to have a creaking hinge in the shape of a fretful disposition, a cross temper, a harsh tone, or a fault-finding spirit.

HOW TO MAKE CHILDREN LOVELY.—There is just one way: that is to surround them by day and night with an atmosphere of love. Restraint and reproof may be mingled with the love, but love must be a constant element. "I found my little girl was growing unamiable and plain," said a mother to us the other day, "and reflecting on it sadly, I could only accuse myself as the cause thereof. So I changed my management, and improved every opportunity to praise and encourage her; to assure her of my unbounded affection for her, and my earnest desire that she should grow up to lovely and harmonious womanhood. As a rose opens to the sunshine, so the child-heart opened in the warmth of constant affection and caresses I showered upon her; her peevishness passed away, her face grew beautiful; and now one look from me brings her to my side, obedient to my will, and happiest when she is nearest me." Is there not in this a lesson for all parents? Not all the plowing or weeding or cultivation of every sort we can give our growing crops will do for them what the steady shining of the sun can effect. Love is the sunshine of the family; without it, not character, or morality, or virtue can be brought to perfection.

Dr. Salemi, of Nice, recommends strong carbolic acid for the cure of corns. After bathing the feet, melt the carbolic crystals and apply a thick layer to the corn, taking care not to touch the sound skin round it. After a few minutes, apply a piece of blotting-paper or cotton-wool to the acid to absorb any excess. Repeated every three or four days, this is said to be a certain cure.

MALARIA would not prevail as it does if Pe-ru-na were universally used.

The rapidly-increasing demand for Pe-ru-na is gratifying proof of its value as a Tonic.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken, and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mrs. Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unequaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for a dressing, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. Geo. La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I have of it from my own experience. It promotes the growth of new hair and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Dr[illegible]

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cull[illegible], Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

NEW SHEET MUSIC

SONGS.

SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Frederick [illegible]. An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto. Price, [illegible]

WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Bryant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price, [illegible]

NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. G. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a [illegible] that sings itself. Price, 30cts.

PIANO MUSIC.

GALATEA GAVOTTE. By BARCLAY [illegible]. A bright and charming composition by the composer of the well-known "Militaire." Price, [illegible]

MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By FRANZ [illegible]. A stirring and excellent Military March of grade of difficulty. Price, 60cts.

ALBUMBLATT. By LOUIS SCHEIBLER. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the [illegible] nocturne. Price, 30cts.

. Any of the above, or any other sheet music, to be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.

PUBLISHED BY

THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, And 19 East 16th St., New York.

BROWN'S FRENCH DRESSING

—FOR—

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S BOOTS AND SHOES.

Awarded highest honors

Phila., 1876 | Melbourne, [illegible]
Berlin, 1877 | Frankfort, [illegible]
Paris, 1878 | Amsterdam, [illegible]
New Orleans, 1884-5.

Paris Medal on every bottle.

Beware of Imitations.

FOR A DISORDERED LIVER
Try BEECHAM'S PILLS.
25cts. a Box
OF ALL DRUGGISTS

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Brou & Co., Boston. For [illegible] large bottles at [illegible]

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co.

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC

The best of all remedies for Inward Pains, Colic, Indigestion, Exhaustion and all Stomach and Bowel troubles. Also the most effective cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and affections of the breathing organs. It promotes refreshing sleep, improves the appetite, overcomes nervous prostration, and gives new life and strength to the weak and aged. 50c. and $1.00, at Druggists.

THE PEOPLE'S [illegible]

Go where you will in this broad land you will find RHEUMATIC SPECIFIC is recommended to relieve every case of Rheumatism, and permanently cure nine out of ten cases. Sold by druggists, $1 per bottle. Compounded by Temple Medicine Co., Hamilton, O.

For Gas BAILEY'S

COMPOUND light-spreading silver-plated Corrugated Glass REFLECTORS,

A wonderful invention for lighting CHURCHES, Halls, etc. Handsome designs. Satisfaction guaranteed. Catalogue and price list free. BAILEY REFLECTOR CO. 113 Wood st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

McShane Bell Foundry

Finest Grade of Bells,

CHIMES AND PEALS FOR CHURCHES.

Send for Price and Catalogue.

H. McSHANE & CO., Baltimore, Md.

Mention this paper.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. Fully WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CANCER and Tumors CURED; no knife. Book free. Drs. GRATIGNY & [illegible], No. 163 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

Christian Advocate.

General Conference in 1890.

ITS ENTERTAINMENT.

The committee on the entertainment of the next General Conference met in the office of the Book Agent, Nashville, Tenn., May 7, 1889. Present: Col. E. W. Cole, chairman; C. G. Andrews, secretary; and Dr. J. J. Tigrey. Absent: R. M. Scruggs, Esq., and D. H. Snyder, Esq.

By request, the book agent, Dr. J. D. Barbee, and Dr. T. M. Finney, of St. Louis, met with the committee. Dr. Barbee reported that but few of the Boards of Finance of the Annual Conferences had furnished estimates of the expenses of their delegates, according to the instructions of the General Conference; but that he had nevertheless estimated the expenses for each Conference as best he could, and had forwarded the same to the chairmen of the Joint Boards of Finance of the various Conferences. He further reported that he had notice that many of the Conferences had made assessments and ordered collections, but of others he had no report.

The committee requested the Book Agent to call attention again to the matter, urging the brethren to take up collection promptly, and forward the amounts collected, according to the instructions of the General Conference.

Col. E. W. Cole was appointed to make the best terms for transportation with the management of railroads. R. M. Scruggs, Esq., was appointed to make negotiations for the entertainment of the members of the General Conference at St. Louis upon the basis of the plan submitted by the last General Conference.

E. W. COLE, Ch'n.
C. G. ANDREWS, Sec.

All the papers in the Connection will please publish the above.

In compliance with the request above made, I respectfully urge the preachers generally to collect the amounts assessed to their respective charges at such times as it may suit their convenience and pleasure to do so. The whole amount required for the purpose is not large, and it is hoped that all of it will have been forwarded to the Book Agent before the meeting of the General Conference, May, 1890.

J. D. HARBEE, Book Agent.

A Vital Force.

The advantages to be derived from ardent engagement of the mind in connection with what is truly laudable, can hardly be over-estimated. That activity is the out come of true life which is to the mind what healthy exercise is to the body. The mental exercise thus afforded is invaluable, prevents stagnation and paralysis. There can be no mental health or strength without activity of mind, such as is required in being "zealously affected." Ardor and fervor of mind are needful to energy, efficiency and enjoyment. Without this mental excitement, there is no true life, no real activity, no actual enjoyment. Action is necessary to life, and mental stimulation is essential to action. Indifference causes inaction, and inaction results in uselessness and wretchedness. Very significantly does John Spencer, of the Seventeenth Century, say, "Whilst the stream keeps running, it keeps clear; but if it comes once to a standing water, then it breeds toads and frogs and all manner of filth. The keys that men keep in their pockets and use every day wax brighter and brighter; but if they be laid aside and hang by the walls they soon grow rusty. Thus it is that action is the very life of the soul; whilst we keep going and running in the ways of God's commandments, we keep clear and free from the world's pollutions; but if we once flag in our diligence and stand still, oh, what a puddle of sin will the heart be! How rusty and useless will the graces grow!"

Without the inspiration to action which zeal affords, this world would be quite too tame to satisfy any living soul. There would be too many dwellers therein, of whom the author of "The Castle of Indolence" might be a representative, it being said of him that when discovered in bed at a very late hour in the day, and asked why he did not rise, his answer was, "Troth, mon, I see no motive for rising." Where zeal is lacking, the motives for acting are not recognized, and in proportion as this deficiency would prevail, the world would be as the Castle of Indolence. Zeal has inspired all the acknowledged worthies of all ages. But for its influence there would have been no Moses, nor Nehemiah, nor John the Baptist, nor Paul the Apostle, nor Martin Luther, nor Adoniram Judson, nor David Livingstone. All the pioneers in great and noble enterprises have been "zealously affected" in the good things wherein they have been successfully engaged. There would have been no genuine reformers in the world but for this vitally impulsive force. Indeed, but little of importance can be done in the absence of this effectual inspiration.

Thus inspired, John Wesley, who said say, "Leisure and I have long taken leave of each other," travelled some five thousand miles in a year, more than a hundred years ago, preached about three times a day, commencing at five o'clock in the morning, and published works amounting to nearly two hundred volumes. Through this inspiration, Edmund Burke was moved to exclaim to his constituents in his famous speech at Bristol, Eng., "Applaud us when we run; console us when we fall; cheer us when we recover; but let us pass on—for God's sake let us pass on!" Impressed with the value of this inspiration Johann Zimmerman, of Switzerland, in the century preceding this, said, "If you ask me which is the real hereditary sin of human nature, do you imagine I shall answer pride, or luxury, or ambition or egotism? No, I shall say indolence. Who conquers indolence will conquer all the rest. Indeed, all good principles will stagnate without mental activity."

It was as one "zealously affected in a good thing" that Daniel Haskall, founder of Madison University, when near the end of his days spoke of his readiness to go on to the heavenly world, but said, "I expect to be busy there. If there is nothing to do there, I choose to remain here." Under the same inspiration, Captain Thomas Sullivan, sailor-preacher in Boston, when approaching the close of his life found his greatest trial in being unable to do anything, and after all hope of recovery was given up, and he could only whisper, he said, "I want to be gone. My view of the future state makes me wish for deliverance from this inactivity. I want to be at work, at work, at work." Philip James Bailey aptly says:

"There is a firefly in the southern clime
Which shineth only when upon the wing;
So it is with the mind; when once we rest
We darken."

—Watchman.

Secularized Schools—Australian Experience.

In the March Fortnightly Review the Earl of Carnarvon has a thoughtful paper, Australia in 1888, based upon recent personal observations. The following paragraph is of special significance to Americans, in view of the desire of some among us to secularize our schools entirely:

Elementary education in Australia is now virtually free; it is excellent of its kind, and it is secular—in some cases absolutely so. In some colonies with a slight tincture of religious teaching; but the practice of the different colonies in this respect is not identical, and he would be rash who ventured to predict that the present system is unassailably rooted in popular affection. It has to reckon with the decided opposition of the Roman Catholic and the Church of England communions, who, divided on many subjects, are agreed in this; nor is it any longer regarded by many of the best men in other denominations as the one and only escape from religious differences of opinion. There is, rightly or wrongly, a belief prevalent, and perhaps growing, that the Sunday school, which occurs only once in the week, and the uncertain accidents of religious teaching in a small and busy home, are powerless against the thousand and one influences of the outer world in a contrary direction, and that the daily common school really offers the one great opportunity of inculcating morality on the children of unwealthy parents. There are, I know, not a few of the earlier founders of the secular system who contributed powerfully by voice and vote to its establishment, who now are dissatisfied with some of the apparent results, who doubt whether it is for the stability of public institutions and for the general well-being of the State, that the education of the rising generation should be one from which the element of religion should be almost, if not actually banished, and who are willing, if not to retrace their steps, at least to consider a possible modification of some parts of public instruction.—Congregationalist.

"Faithful to the Lord."

"He is before all things;" yes, even before the trifling things of our daily life. He must come first before them. They must not be forgotten. "In all things he must have the pre-eminence." His will must be first considered, his pleasure sought. In other words, to do a thing is not first or chiefly to be thought of, but to be faithful to him in the doing of it.

The things we have to accomplish are not half so important as we make them. We can let them go, or at least defer them, far oftener than we think. In serving the Lord, it is not so much what we do, as how we do it. It is being "Careful not to serve him much,

But to please him perfectly."

It would be well, often, were we to do less and pray more, our aim being, moment by moment, to fall in with his mind and will about everything, however insignificant. If our first thought invariably be faithfulness to him, we shall, as a natural consequence, be faithful to duty; whereas, otherwise, we may be faithful to duty without being faithful to him. We may be preoccupied with the service itself, like Martha, and so wound his loving heart. Far better were we to do less, like Mary, and yet satisfy his spirit. A quiet, leisurely, composed way of working, combined as we go along, with prayer, will greatly help us to recollectedness of spirit, sensitiveness of his presence, heavenly-mindedness and a closer union with him.—Silver Cross.

Our Patients Speak.

McCONNELSVILLE, O., September 14, 1886.
"With the largest gratitude I remain truly yours." MRS. F. A. DAVIS.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 29, 1887.
"I am talking Compound Oxygen to everybody." M. G. KIMMEL.

NEW CASTLE, Md., July 3, 1888.
Compound Oxygen certainly was the means of giving me a new start to life and health. MRS. J. A. HEICHERT.

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 8, 1887.
"I hope you feel greatly rejoiced over the grand work of the Compound Oxygen." TIMOTHY CALVER.

ASOLANO, O., May 29, 1887.
"I am still improving in every respect." R. L. HALSTEAD.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

Only Undecorated Walls are Sanitary.

The Sanitary News calls attention to the unhealthfulness of the customary practice of dealing with the walls of our houses. Allusion is made to the outcry of a few years against arsenical wall papers, and it is asserted that other conditions of our walls and ceilings are far more deadly. People are urged not to paper their walls, but, if they will do so, to remove the old coats of paper and paste before applying new coats. It is a well-known fact that flour paste will soon mold; that it is a ready absorbent of moisture and disease germs; also, that paper is a very ready absorbent. They may not be aware, however, that the coloring and bronzes, which are pulverized metals, brasses, etc., are only temporarily held upon the face of the paper with animal matter (glue) that soon decays, and glue is the greatest absorbent of moisture and the natural culture ground for the germs, and if these little pests get sufficient heat while there they will flourish, and the rooms are sometimes very warm above the lines of the doors and windows with a moderate fire; and where repeated coats of this paste, paper and glue are applied, from which outdoor air with its purifying effects are excluded, by the respirating pores being sealed or strangled, the danger is much greater. The glue soon rots sufficiently to allow the air, or any friction, to remove small particles to which these germs have attached themselves to float about the room unseen, until they lodge in the system of some unsuspecting victim, whose physical condition is such that they take effect; then they still have the little particles of fertilizer with them to help give them a start on their deadly mission. The practice of calcimining and painting walls is also condemned, although it is preferable to paper from a sanitary point of view. By any method in use the pores of the walls are closed, and the purifying process of the air passing through and through them is cut off. By this showing it would appear that undecorated walls, unsightly as they are, are the only healthy ones to live within.—Christian Weekly.

Some time ago M. Dufour, of Morges, Switzerland, called attention to the fact that, on account of the curvature of the earth's surface, the image of the sun reflected in still waters should be distorted. If the observer is near the water-surface the effect is not sensible; but if he is at a considerable elevation (200 or 300 feet), and the sun is near the horizon, so that the points where the reflections take place on the water surface are some miles distant from him, the effect becomes very noticeable, and constitutes a new and very pretty proof of the earth's rotundity. Several observers have recently made the observations to test the theoretical result. Ricco, at Palermo, has used photography, and Forel, at Geneva, has made telescopic measures of the vertical and horizontal diameters of the reflected image. The vertical diameter of the image is made shorter by the distortion.—Independent.

NOTES.

A Dr. Richardson has achieved some instructive experiments in the use of the graphophone for recording physical symptoms, such as coughs and pulses. A cough of to-day can always be recorded and compared readily with one of days before.

Ex-President A. D. White recently sent to Cornell University a papyrus found in the tomb of a priest of the Ptolemaic period. The inscriptions, which are partly hieroglyphic, represent certain chapters of the "Book of the Dead." With the papyrus was sent also a collection of 140 large photographs to illustrate Egyptian art.—The Epoch.

Marriages.

ALEXANDER—LANDRUM.—In the Methodist Church, at Melville, La., by Rev. C. H. Godfrey, Rev. H. F. Alexander, of the Louisiana Conference, to Mrs. M. C. Landrum, of Melville, La.

ANDERSON—BURDETT.—At the residence of the bride's mother, May 29, 1889, by Rev. J. A. Bowen, Mr. Hugh C. Anderson, of Jackson, Tenn., and Miss Emma C. Burdett, of Burdett Station, Miss.

WEEMS—FOXWORTH.—At the hotel of Mrs. Magee, in Franklinton, La., June 3, 1889, by Rev. J. H. Evans, Mr. A. B. Weems, of Ellisville, Miss., to Miss Lillie B. Foxworth, of Pearl River, Miss.

MOORE—ROYCE.—At the residence of the bride's father, June 4, 1889, by Rev. V. D. Skipper, Mr. C. Moore, of Washington county, to Mrs. M. A. Royce, of Mayersville, Miss.

REJECTED ADVICE.

"I will not take any other Dressing. My friends use

Wolff's ACME Blacking

and praise its merits; and if you can't get me what I want, and not what you think I ought to have, I'll go elsewhere and get it."

Ladies, do likewise!

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.
The Best Blacking for Men, Women and Children.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.
LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES.

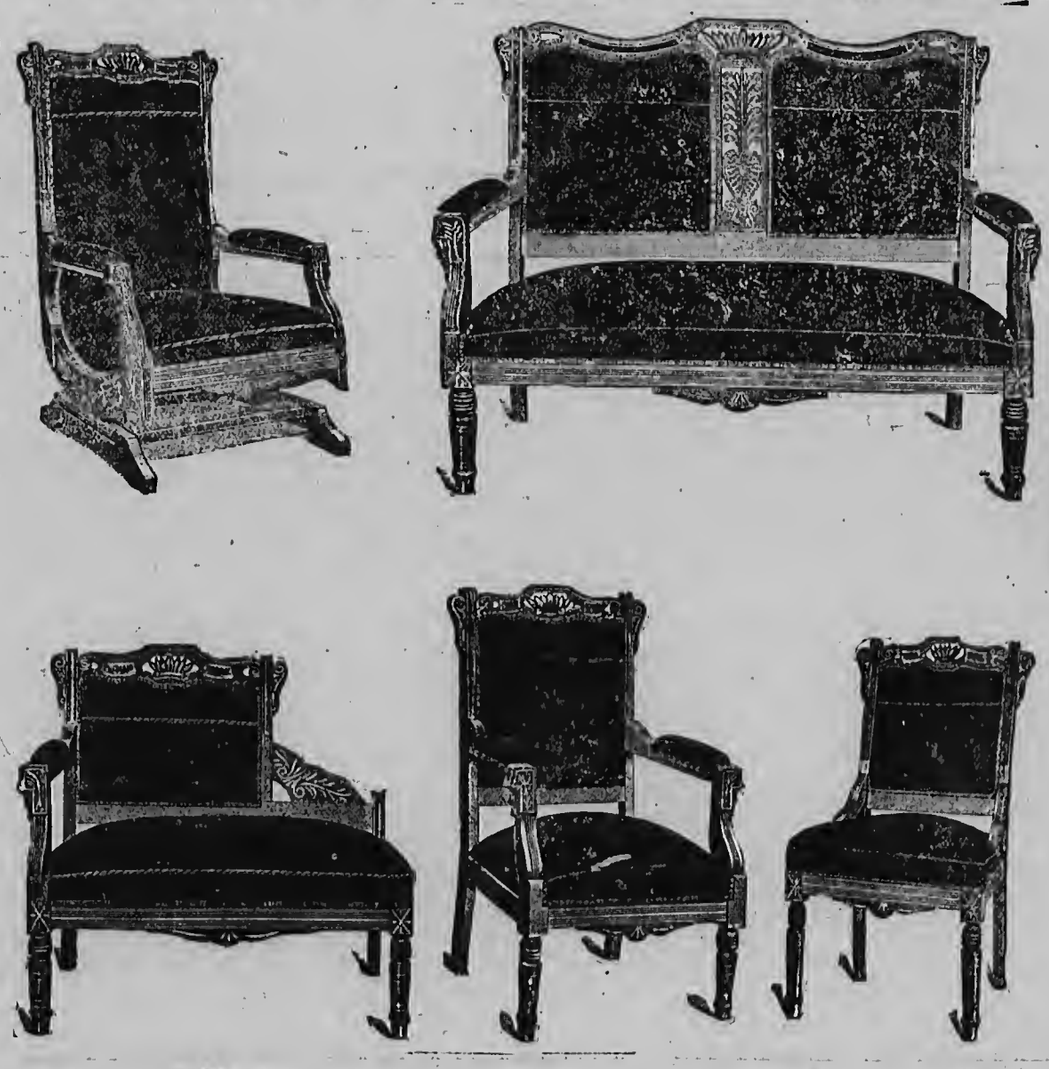
KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.
A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.
Music and Musical Instruments.
Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00
Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in Illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00
Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00
Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00
Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00
Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50
Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00
Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$10.00
Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00
Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.
CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.
Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.
☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

FULL WEIGHT PURE

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood,"
"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"
and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.

Mention this Paper.

P. P. P.

(Prickly Ash, Poke Root, and Potassium.)

CURES

RHEUMATISM

And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.

If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.

P.P.P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.

SCROFULA

Is an impurity in the Blood, producing Lumps or Swelling, causing Running Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.

BLOOD POISON

Cured in its worse form; sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases Scrofulous Ulcers broke out till the party was a mass of corruption; a bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.

Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.

DYSPEPSIA
AND
Nervous Prostration

Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE
A SURE CURE FOR CHILLS & FEVER
DUMB AGUE AND MALARIA.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

AN Eighteen Years' Cough Cured by Peruna.

For Throat and Lung Troubles there is no better medicine than PE-RU-NA. Better proof of this than the case of Mrs. L. C. Baker, of Bradford, Tenn., could not be desired. For eighteen years a Terrible Cough had afflicted her. That it was Consumption there could be no doubt. During all that awful time she could not sleep once on her back. The poor woman got no relief until she took PERUNA. A half bottle brought her sound sleep, and six completely restored her to health. Dr. Hartman's "Ills of Life," sent free by the Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O., gives many other cures effected by PE-RU-NA. Sold by all druggists—$1 a bottle; 6 bottles for $5. Manufactured by

THE LUNGS

THE PERUNA MED. CO., Columbus, O.

HIRES

25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING

ROOT BEER

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The list of victims in the Conemaugh Valley (Pa.) disaster is swelling daily. A military cordon was formed around Johnstown on June 6, and no sight-seers permitted between the lines. The physicians demanded the cremation of the wreckage, to prevent infection from the unrecovered bodies. Generous responses to the appeals for aid are coming in from all sections.

A statement prepared at the treasury department shows that there was a net decrease of $16,780,608 in circulation during the month of May, and a net increase of $1,973,910 in money and bullion in the treasury during the same period.

The business portion of Seattle, the largest city in Washington Territory, was reduced to ashes, on June 6, by a furious fire, involving a loss of over $5,000,000.

The graves of 3,800 Confederate veterans in Stonewall Cemetery, Winchester, Va., were decorated on June 6. Gen. Jubal A. Early was orator of the day.

The New Orleans University (colored) was formally dedicated on June 7. The Northern Methodists contributed $90,000 to the work, while the colored people gave $10,000.

Orders for $4,500,000, gold for export to Europe were filled in New York City on June 7.

Louisiana Immbermon, on June 8, petitioned the Secretary of the Treasury to appoint a deputy collector of customs at Lake Charles, as a growing trade is hampered by the present arrangements.

In recognition of the valuable service rendered by King Mataafa in saving life and property on occasion of the recent hurricane in Samoa, the navy department, to show its appreciation of the king's conduct, has decided upon sending him a whaleboat of the latest improved model.

FOREIGN.

The French Cabinet has considered favorably the request of the American residents for permission to hold a public celebration in Paris on July 4. President Carnot has consented to unveil the statue of Liberty on that day.

Two hundred and fifty members of the Chamber of Deputies have signed a response to the memorial sent by 263 members of the British House of Commons to President Carnot in relation to the absence of Lord Lytton, the British embassador, at the opening of the Paris Exposition. The response expresses gratitude for the assurance of sympathy for France.

In response to a communication from the municipal authorities of Edinburgh, asking him to name a day on which he could accept the freedom of that city, Mr. Parnell has written that he will be able to visit Edinburgh on July 20.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times says the American and English delegates to the Samoan conference are still waiting for the necessary powers for the final conference. It is evident that America is discontented as to some points, and more committee work is not unlikely.

The Popo has ordered the clerical journals to cease their polemics against the Bruno monument. The congregation of cardinals to be held next week will discuss the question whether the Pope should leave Rome.

Two Americans have been arrested at Tullamore, Ireland, for having a quantity of suspicious luggage. They were on their way to Westmeath.

The French Chamber of Deputies appointed a mixed committee, consisting of thirty-three deputies and eighteen senators, to discuss the disputed points in the recruiting bill, especially the senate's exemption of the theological students.

The rebellion of the tribesmen in Morocco is spreading. They have captured Prince Hamid, the heir to the throne, and killed several members of his escort. This outrage has incensed the Sultan of Morocco, and he is raising his army to crush the rebels.

The Czar told the Shah of Persia, and hotly, too, that if while in England he should make any concessions unfavorable to Russia, 100,000 Russian soldiers now on the frontier would be made to march into Persia.

Until the interview between Prince Bismarck and Count Kalnoky, Austria's attitude toward the German-Italian convention is undetermined. Signor Crispi appears to have obtained a definite pledge of German aid in the event of hostilities with France arising from colonial or any other dispute.

The statue of Bruno, who was burned as a heretic, was unveiled in Rome, on June 9, with imposing ceremonies; 30,000 persons, including students and deputations from various parts of Italy, marched in procession through the principal streets. Deputy Barle in an oration eulogized the martyr and declared to-day there was born a new religion of free thought and of liberty of conscience, which will be worse for the papacy than the loss of the temporal power.

Prince Bismarck sent to St. Petersburg asking the appointment of a date and place of meeting for the Emperors. The Czar declined to appoint a date except that on returning from Copenhagen he might meet the Emperor William at Kiel, and he desired that the interview should be without ceremony and attended with no naval or military demonstration.

The Remarkable Cures

Which have been effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla are sufficient proof that this medicine does possess peculiar curative power. In the severest cases of scrofula or salt rheum, when other preparations had been powerless, the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla has brought about the happiest results. The case of Miss Sarah C. Whittier, of Lowell, Mass., who suffered terribly from scrofulous sores; that of Charles A. Roberts, of East Wilson, N. Y., who had thirteen abscesses on his face and neck; that of Willie Duff, of Walpole, Mass., who had hip disease and scrofula so bad that physicians said he could not recover, are a few of the many instances in which wonderful cures were effected by this medicine.

Our Mineral Resources.

From advanced proof-sheets furnished by the Department of the Interior of the United States we clip the following:

The total value of the minerals produced in 1888 was $591,659,931. It is recognized that this is the sum of the values of substances taken in various stages of manufacture and hence not strictly comparable with each other; still it is the most valuable means for comparing the total products of different years. The result is an increase of nearly $50,000,000 beyond the value of the product in 1887. In that year nearly every mineral industry showed an increase, and hence an increased total was evident. But the fact that the increase was so very large was due to rather exceptional conditions in a few important industries, and it could not reasonably be expected that a similar combination of circumstances would result in even a larger total value for 1888. Nevertheless, the unprecedented stimulus given to the production of copper by an artificial price increased the total value of that product nearly $13,000,000, or nearly enough to offset the decline in the total value of pig iron. The other important factors in the increase were coal and the other fuels which followed the increased quantity of metals. With the anticipated decline of copper to the normal demand, a decline in the total value of the product in 1889 will not be inconsistent with the natural development of our mineral resources.

Frank Sheldon while riding his bicycle on Calumet avenue just as the children were coming from school, discovered that his dog had gone mad. He sprang to the ground, seized the snapping, gnashing beast between the shoulders and was on his wheel before people, watching in terrified helplessness, knew what he was doing. Once on he fairly flew up the avenue, past the children, holding the dog at arm's length, while it howled in agony, making every effort to bite him. He turned from the avenue into Ray street, hoping to escape the children, but ran into another group of them; Mrs. N. G. Bartlett saw him and comprehended the situation; she opened her door and screamed to Sheldon to bring the dog into her front hall. He did so, still keeping his grip till Mrs. Bartlett brought a cloth saturated with chloroform and held it over the dog's mouth till he died. Such an instance—two such instances—of heroism and presence of mind in the face of awful danger, are seldom witnessed and deserve lasting memorials.—Union Signal.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Seashore	July 5
Henington (Crystal Springs)	Aug. 8
Topisaw	Aug. 10
St. Tammany	Sept. 27

CAMP MEETINGS.

BRETHREN: On account of some misunderstanding as to time of holding the Topisaw Camp Meeting, we again ask the editor of the ADVOCATE to republish our former statement, in order to allay all confusion and misunderstanding on the part of some. This camp meeting will be held as usual—Saturday before the second Sunday in August. As to changing the time other than this, is a mistake. Everything has been taken into consideration, and the camp meeting association has decided to commence as heretofore—Saturday before the second Sunday in August. J. M. COWAN, P. C., for Com.

St. Tammany Camp Meeting begins this year on Friday, September 27; embraces the fifth Sunday, and continues several days.

G. K. ELLIS, P. C., Tallsheek Ct.,
L. W. WOOD, P. C., Covington Ct.
F. MALTHUS, Pres. Ass'n.

The next annual camp meeting of Henington Camp Ground, near Crystal Springs, Miss., will begin August 8, the present year, and continue one week. The public and ministers friendly to camp meetings are especially invited.

T. W. M'NEIL,
Sec. Henington C. M. Association.

Prevent Attacks of Fever.

We ask but a glance at this, and it will pay any sufferer from liver complaint, enlarged spleen or ague cake, bilious affections of any kind, deranged secretions, prostration from dissipation, constipation, dropsy, or any affections where liver, bowels, blood and stomach are involved. A guaranteed cure for all this class of diseases is offered in J. & C. Maguire's Cundurango. Doctors are astonished and invalids delighted.

We can never see this world in its true light unless we consider our life in it as a state of discipline, a condition through which we are passing to prepare us for another state beyond.—J. W. Alexander.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders. The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Tibbee, at Mayhew	June 15, 16
West Point	16, 17
Starkville	19
Columbus	21
Columbus circuit, at New Hope	22, 23
Tampico, at Pleasant Grove	29, 30
Macon	July 7, 8
Hebron, at Memphis	11
Shuqualak, at Ridgeway	13, 14
Dist. Conf., at West Point	18-21
Crawford, at Trinity	27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel	31
Brooksville, at Expraire	Aug. 3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove	9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills	10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg	15
Chester, at South Union	17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch	31, Sept. 1
LaGrange	7, 8
Sturges	14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—THIRD ROUND.

Winona circuit	July 6, 7
Winona station	10
Valden	13, 14
Koseiusko and Durant	17
Black Hawk	20, 21
West	25
Carrollton and Greenwood	27, 28
Richland	Aug. 1
Koseiusko circuit	3, 4
Newport	8
Ebenezer	10, 11
Weir	15
Skillis	17, 18
Poplar Creek	22
Ethel	24, 25
Belzona	28
Lexington	30

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Fulton and Smithville, at Greenbriar	June 15, 16
Prairie, at Prairie Chapel ...(Wed.)	19
Athens	22, 23
Aberdeen	23, 24

District Conference at Houston, commencing Thursday morning before the fifth Sunday in June.

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Tillatoba	June 15, 16
Charleston	18
Coffeeville	22, 23
Pittsboro	29, 30
Atlanta	July 2, 4
Bacger	6, 7

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

CORINTH DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Ripley circuit	June 15, 16
Jonesboro circuit	18
Pleasant Ridge circuit, at Siloam	22, 23
Guntown circuit	29, 30

J. B. STONE, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Shubuta, at S. Chapel	June 29, 30
Waynesboro and St. Linc, at New Hope	July 6, 7
Clarke, at Manassas	13, 14
Enterprise and H., at Stonewall	20, 21
Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant	27, 28
Vossburg	Aug. 3, 4
Paulding, at Hopewell	10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel	17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill	24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh	31, Sept. 1
Meridian Station	3
Hinnsville, at Wahallak	7, 8
Leaksville	14, 15
Union	21, 22
Lauderdale	28, 29
Spring Hill	Oct. 5, 6
De Kalb	12, 13
West End	19, 20

R. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

McComb City, at Magnolia	June 16, 17
Summit, at Summit	22, 23
District Conference, at McComb City	27-30
Gallman, at Terry	July 6, 7
Crystal Springs	13, 14
Wesson, at Beauregard	20, 21
Hazlehurst	27, 28
Providence, at New Hope	Aug. 3, 4
Topisaw, at Topisaw	10, 11
Franklinton, at Fishers	17, 18
Holmesville, at China Grove	24, 25
Scotland, at Gaiatia	31, Sept. 1
Brookhaven	7, 8
Howerton, at Pleasant Ridge	14, 15
New Hope, at Centenial	28, 29

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

South Vicksburg	June 15, 16
Vicksburg	22, 23
Fayette, at Ebenezer	29, 30
Port Gibson	(Mon.) July 1
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh	8, 9
Burtonton, at Pisgah	13, 14
Martin, at Martin	20, 21
Utica, at Beeves	(Wed.) 24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel	27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove	(Thurs.) Aug 1
Natchez—Jefferson Street	3, 4
Angadilla, Sunflower Chapel	10, 11

District Conference will be at Vicksburg, July 5-7. Bishop Galloway presiding.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Columbia, at Hopewell	June 15, 16
Rothel, at Oechay	22, 23
Mt. Carmel, at Good Hope	29, 30
Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs	July 3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting	5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town	13, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl	16
Augusta	20, 21
Whittington	27, 28
Vancleve	Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zion	10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point	11, 12
Americus	16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell	24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Algiers	June 23
Morgan Street	23
Decades Street	30
Carrollton and Parker's Chapel	30
Carondelet Street	July 7
Seashore Camp Meeting	14
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.	21
Rayne Memorial	28
Gretna and Scrapiarn	28
Crapa Street	Aug. 4
Louisiana Avenue	11
Baton Rouge	17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Arbroth	20
Felicity Street	25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

HOMER DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Ruston	June 15, 16
Vienna	18
Sallice	22, 23
Spurla	24
Gibbsland	25

The District Conference will meet at Gibbsland, June 26-30. Will every pastor be present, and endeavor to have all delegates come? Come with all reports well matured.

ROBERT HANDLE, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Lake Charles	June 15, 16
Opelousas	21, 22
Sabine Mission	29, 30

District Conference will meet on June 20, at Opelousas.

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

DODGE & CHANDLER, of Cambria Mills, Michigan, wrote Dr. Shallenberger:

We are selling five different kinds of Ague Pills, but yours are in the lead. After trying all other remedies our customers invariably fall back on Shallenberger's Pills. They never fail to effect a cure, and living in the midst of a Fever and Ague country, we speak from experience.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending June 11, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8½ @	— —
Ordinary	9	— —
Good ordinary	9½	— —
Low middling	10⅜	— —
Middling	10¾	— —
Good middling	11⅛	— —
Middling fair	11¾	— —
Fair	12⅝	— —
Galveston middling	10¾	— —
Mobile middling	10⅝	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— —	— —
Fully fair	— —	— —
Good fair	7⅜	— —
Common	— —	7
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	6⅜	7⅜
Prime yellow	7⅜	7 15-16
Gray white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	— —
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
Syrup	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	2	2¼
Good	4⅜	4½
Fair	4	4¼
Prime	4⅝	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	4 00
Polish, ₱ bbl	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy	4 60	4 75
Fancy	— —	4 30
Choice	— —	— —
Minnesota Patents	— —	— —
Winter wheat patents	5 00	5 20
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal	2 25	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 50	2 60
Hominy	— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
Oats:
White, ₱ bushel	— —	50
Yellow	— —	48
Mixed No. 2	— —	47
Hay:
Western	— —	35½
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
Bran:
₱ cwt.	72½	75
Hay:
Prime	16 00	17 00
Choice	18 00	19 00
PROVISIONS.
Pork:
Mess (standard)	— —	13 00
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
Bacon:
Fancy Breakfast	10½	11
Shoulders	— —	6⅝
Sides, short rib	— —	7¼
Sides, long clear	— —	7¾
Hams:
Sugar-cured	11½	12
Dry Salt Meat:
Shoulders	5¾	6
Sides, short rib	— —	6⅝
Sides, long clear	6½	6⅝
GROCERIES.
Coffee:
Prime	— —	19¾
Fair	— —	18¾
Common	— —	16½
Teas:
Choice	40	80
No. 2	— —	55
Butter:
Western Creamery	19	20
Western Dairy	13	14
Cohoes	— —	7
Lard:
Refined	— —	6¾
Oils:
Coal, bbls	10	— —
Coal, cases	15½	16
Cotton seed, crude	41	42
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
Cabbages:
Western, ₱ head	— —	— —
Chicago, ₱ bbl	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	1 75	— —
Potatoes:
New Louisiana	1 40	1 50
Western	— —	— —
Onions:
New Louisiana	— —	1 75
Western	— —	— —
BALING STUFFS.
Bagging:
Jute, 2 lb. ₱ yard	10¾	10½
Jute, 1¾ lb. ₱ yard	9½	9¾
Lane Mills Cotton Bagging	12½	— —
Baling Twine:
₱ lb	9½	10
Ties:
₱ bundle	1 05	1 07
SUNDRIES.
Poultry:
Old Hens, Western	4 25	4 50
Young Chickens	2 25	4 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 25	2 00
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
Eggs:
Western	13	14
Southern	14	15
Wool:
Lake, ₱ lb	24	24½
Louisiana	22	23
Hurry	11	15
Country Hides:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	3	— —
Dry salted	5	— —
Fertilizers:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	— —	13 00
Meal	21 00	23 50
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	2½
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

Talking is like playing on the harp; there is as much in laying the hand on the strings to stay the vibrations as in twanging them to bring out their music. —O. W. Holmes.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD

R. B. TODD & SON,
Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.
OFFICE, 109 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,
Homeopathic Physician,
288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.

Cases treated by letter.

TEACHERS, PROFESSORS and TUTORS supplied to Schools, Seminaries, Colleges and Families free of charge. We have a large normal student registration. Teachers, register early. Fee, small. Address, with stamp,
AMERICAN BUREAU OF EDUCATION,
Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn.

J. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HUDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y
HIWASSEE COLLEGE.
FOUNDED 1849.
Expenses Very Moderate.

Located, amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our post-office is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

This powder never varies. A marvel of strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

DAVES' TRAINING SCHOOL

LAKE CHARLES, LA.

JOEL T. DAVES,
WALTER W. DAVES, Principals.

Fall Term Begins First Monday in Sept.

Honest, thorough training; prepares for College, or for all the duties of life. A full course of practical book-keeping without extra charge.

For full particulars address Principals.

Boston University

Professors and Lecturers, 120. Students from nearly every Southern State. Literature, philosophy, science, law, medicine, theology. Circulars of departments free. Address the Registrar, 12 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.

Mention this paper.

Capital Commercial College
Jackson Miss
Book keeping taught
Terms are cash in South Send for a
L. A. Wyatt Pres't.

Centenary College

JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, Valley R. R., 113 miles north of Orleans. The location is beautiful, healthful, the buildings are and ample, and the Faculty is plete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law five miles of the College. Its ment fund is being rapidly increased and the college is expected to upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other mation apply to Prof. G. H. Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. cutt, President.

Mansfield Female College

MANSFIELD, LA.

One of the most celebrated tions of the South. The Thirty-Session will begin September with a full corps of able and enced faculty. Curriculum sive. Instruction thorough vantages in Music unsurpassed the best conservatories. Depart of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts specialists.

Beautiful location; one of healthiest of the South. The climate in which to educate safest place for girls. Main of brick, massive and commo with a large and well-shaded Rooms large, well furnished, lated and warmed. Ample for table of the best the affords. All necessary com cured. Expenses very low school very economical.

For particulars address
A. D. M'VOY, A. M.,
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.

Elfinwood Select School

The undersigned proposes to open, 1889, a Select School for young ladies dence, near Gaydon, on the L., N. O. in the parish of East Feliciana, United pupils. Every advantage will be afforded can be found in the first girls' College land. All persons desiring their daughters ough, educated will do well to make application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Edwin H. Fay, A.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 25. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1713.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

TERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW RLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

v. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
v. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

FFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
idders and widows of deceased preachers, $1.

l Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are horized Agents, to whom payments may be le.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. H. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. H. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

"WE SHALL BE LIKE HIM."

BY HARRIET CHASE.

e shall be like him"—strange the story!
Will wonders never cease?
e shall be like the King of Glory?
Like him, the Prince of Peace;

must be true, for carefully,
've read this passage o'er;
plainly says that "we shall be Like him" whom I adore.

tell me does it really mean
'Tis possible on earth be all glorious within,
Like him, of lowly birth?

does it mean that we must wait
o lay this earth-robe by?
w impatient with the thought,
And long to mount the sky.

read it o'er again. It says
That "when he doth appear e shall be like him;" it must mean
"We shall be like him" here!

t night, while bowing low
Before my Father's throne, ow his face, and O! I felt
His strong hand clasp my own.

n gentle and tell me 'tis by faith,
And not by sight, I see:
uch the fact, makes it the richt
A whit less real to me?

ught'st have me think that faith is but e opus fatuus light?
, no, 'tis all the same to me
Whether 'tis faith or sight.

ll this I know, for 'twas his voice
Which spoke thus in my ear:
we would dwell with him above,
We must be like him here!"

e Louisiana State Lottery Company Examined and Exposed.

BY REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

(Concluded.)

V.—THE REMEDY AND OUR DUTY.

We suggest several things that are sible, and which constitute our imative and immediate duty.

First. Get the facts that have been ed under the charges of fraudulency illegality into proper legal shape spring them through the City ncil into the courts, and enjoin the tery Company from another draw-

Second. Let every man who is a true zen and lover of his State, talk and te against the Lottery, until sentiit is created all over the land.

ou were never more mistaken in r life, than in thinking that public nion is against the Lottery in this te. On all hands I hear it defended use of the good it is supposed to doing. The people have been hoodked and are deceived. Turn on the ht, and let them see that the Lottery plundering us of thousands, and ing back, in the name of charity, a kle in proportional value. The old dieval picture that, at a little disce, showed a priest in apparent deion, with hands clasped over his sal, but on closer inspection reled the father confessor squeezing th both hands a lemon into a punchl, this picture is redrawn and reg before the public to-day in the ble-life of the Louisiana State Lot-. Oonb has again met Abner on highway, and, taking him by the rd, under pretence of kissing him, plunged his concealed sword into heart of the unsuspecting man. n on the light! We have been in dark long enough! Let the luminand exposing and blistering beams Facts and Truth show to our land the full hideousness of this INCORPORATED ILLEGALITY—this LOUISIANA STATE FRAUDULENCY, the LOUISIANA STATE LAW DEFIER, or the Louisiana State Lottery—just as you are pleased to call it—for they are all one and the same.

You must create public opinion and sentiment, and to that end make the streets fairly hum with your outspoken condemnation, and the columns of the country press quiver with your written indignation.

You may fancy gentle means will do the work. Some people, indeed, are adopting the peaceful and conciliatory policy. The pliant back and sycophantic smile and cringing demeanor and speech seem to be the order of the hour. It will never do. These Lottery people laugh at your cowardice, despise your pusillanimity and gird themselves for fresh monthly plundering. You might as well hope, with finger and thumb, quietly to press out the poison from the fangs and tongue of a hissing rattlesnake, or with gentle stroke or smile so alter the nature of a Numidian lion, maddened with wounds and hunger, that he would allow you to extract his teeth, as to expect with peaceful dealings to change the character and stop the destructive career of the Louisiana State Lottery. The resistless sweep of widespread popular indignation, the might of an aroused public conscience, and the tremendous force of a long-insulted and outraged law, are the only things that can settle this Company.

Third. Socially ostracize all that persistently connect themselves with this Lottery. Even as a thief is made to feel, or an unrepentant fallen woman, persisting in her iniquity, realizes the isolating power of her misdeeds, so must these chartered gamblers feel. They have struck at the moral life of the community, they have insulted and outraged a great commonwealth by a life of flagrant wrongs; and if they propose to continue in misdoing, then they must be prepared to receive the honest scorn and merited condemnation and social ostracism that has come and will ever come upon certain forms of iniquity.

Fourth. Oppose with all your strength the holding of a Constitutional Convention until after the year 1895. In that year the charter of the Lottery expires. We all know how the Constitutional Convention of 1879 revived conditionally the charter of the Louisiana State Lottery, that had been repealed by the preceding Legislature. It is well known that twenty votes fastened upon us in that Convention the State Lottery again. We do not want another Constitutional Convention until after 1895. As much as we need it for certain reasons, yet it will be infinitely better for Louisiana to endure various constitutional imperfections and discomforts, than to run the risk of greater evils, and of having the Lottery fastened upon us for twenty-five, or, possibly, ninety-nine years to come. We have reason to dread the delicate attentions of the LOUISIANA STATE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND CONVENTION FINANCIAL LUBRICATOR-AND-PERSUADER COMPANY—vulgarly called the Louisiana State Lottery.

Fifth. Start a newspaper that will be an anti-lottery organ. We need such, and must have such a sheet. We have no such secular paper in our midst today. As for the religious papers here, they have so small a circulation that they are scarcely felt in such a city as this. There was a time when the Times-Democrat, or its predecessor, boldly opposed the Lottery, and mainly through its instrumentality the charter of that company was repealed. All honor to the Democrat of that day! But as is well known, this paper changed hands, and suddenly, only two days before the Constitutional Convention of 1879 that revived the charter—presto, change—and lo! the vehement, lion-like accuser of the Lottery becomes as quiet and peaceful as a lamb. We have heard in our lives of cases of sudden paralysis of tongue and hand; this case we now allude to is one peculiarly sudden and distressing. There is yet no sign of improvement upon the part of the suffering patient.

The mournful fact before us is, that we have not a single secular newspaper in the city of New Orleans that will attack the Louisiana State Lottery Company. They haven't the courage. As Sam Jones says, instead of backbone, they have got running down their backs a white cotton string with buttons tied to it. If a petty thief makes away with a few dollars, they rage with indignation and give columns for his persecution and prosecution: but they allow a great corporation to plunder the people and wrong us in countless ways, and they haven't a word to say. If a case of bribery occurs in the courts of some third-rate case, you can hardly hold these papers to the ground: their virtuous rage is so constaining and powerful; they grow eloquent in editorial wrath; they fairly foam. They can also print accusations about a young lady's withholding from some author a few pages of manuscript, which she had borrowed, and had not returned promptly—all this because so devoted to seeing things done on the square, and so wedded to strictest honesty. A shadow of falsehood seems unbearable. And yet before them and us to-day, and known to all, is a corporation that has taken from us something more than a few sheets of manuscript, and that has bribed legislator, judge and lawyer—and yet not a word against it in their columns! Perhaps, the advertisements of the State Lottery fill so many columns that there is no space left for accusing the institution and warning the public. Certain it is that they have no word against the Lottery. They will slam at the church and the Christian ministry on the slightest provocation, but never, under any circumstances, will they find fault with the Lottery. Its blessed mission of caring for the widow and orphan, and of educating the ignorant of poverty-stricken and wretched Louisiana, doubtless, saves it from remark. The New York Times exposed the Tammany Ring, and the Cincinnati Inquirer is continually unearthing municipal wrong and villainy. Would that for the honor of the Press, and the honor of the city of New Orleans, we had such a paper in our midst!

But we haven't got it. And, as I remarked, we must have such a paper. The moral and spiritual part of this city has no voice or organ. Thousands of people here have profound convictions on the moral questions of the day that agitate our nation and city. But being without an organ, we are unheard: in a great measure unfelt, and unknown to the community and outside world. We are, in a sense, muzzled; our views differ so from the tone of the management of the various city newspapers that we are not, and could not expect to be, allowed to speak through their columns. Columns are freely given to describe the firemen's desecration of the Sabbath, while the paragraph call to the public to meet in solemn protest had to be paid for. Columns given for Lottery advertisement—not a line printed to show its evil nature and influence.

We must have a newspaper. One that will come out boldly on the platform of general reform, and that will represent the moral element and life of this city and State. One that will oppose the saloon, condemn Sunday violation, and attack with might and main, with fact and figure, and with argument and appeal, the Louisiana State Lottery. Can't we have such a paper? Not a religious paper, but a secular paper—sound and wholesome, opposed to wrong, and advocating the right, calling attention not only to the dirty gutters of the city: but the dirty institutions of the city—in a word, representing and defending and advancing the true and best interests of city and country.

There are enough people in New Orleans alone who love purity and morality, who, if they combined, could buy the stock and start such a paper, and give it, by their patronage and influence, certain and solid success.

Let there be such a meeting of our best citizens: let them subscribe for the stock of such a company, and launch out, as our truly representative voice and organ, just such a paper.

Sixth. Form at once an anti-Lottery Association. A powerful organization confronts us, and it can only be properly met by organized effort. With such an association located in New Orleans, we can have friends and correspondents in every town in Louisiana keeping us posted. We can have proper men representing us in the Legislature, and we can have prominent citizens as spectators and auditors during the session of the General Assembly, and we can sow down the State with facts and figures, with arguments and revelations of the Louisiana State Lottery, until moral sentiment is created, the public aroused, and the curse of twenty-five years shall be hurled forever from our land.

Seventh. Our greatest and surest hope is in God. Let us, as we work, call upon him. The very greatness of the corporation against which we contend, its moneyed influence and power, its possession of the most legal talent, its ascendency over State and city officials, its virtual ownership of the newspapers of the city, its friendly relations with certain churches, its control of many corporations, its identification with respectable and powerful families—all of these things convince us that we, in addition to the natural forces we employ, must have supernatural aid to overthrow a corporation that for twenty years has laughed to scorn every earthly effort for its downfall. We must have with us in order to succeed, the power of God. "Unless the Lord keeps the city, the watchman's waketh but in vain." "It is the Lord that pulleth down," says the Bible. He that sent the sound of a going in the trees, and an army fled; he that by the blast of a trumpet caused the walls of Jericho to crash down; he that simply said to a mob, "I am he!" and the organized wickedness of Jerusalem fell prostrate before him—he is the One we want for our help and deliverance. We will use the means, make the efforts, sound the trumpet and grasp the sword—in a word, do our part; but it will require the presence and power of the Son of God upon it all to give us the victory. May every Christian throughout the land pray for that power: and may we never cease praying and never cease working until the curse is lifted, the evil ended, and the Louisiana State Lottery is no more!

Texas Notes.

BY REV. H. W. WILLIAMS.

We are now in the midst of a series of college commencements. Baccalaureate sermons by eminent divines are the order of the day. Of course, these discourses are able, instructive, entertaining, logical, and impressive. Who ever heard of one that was not? But it is possible that the desire for reputation and literary excellence has detracted from the spiritual power and religious usefulness of our commencement sermons. These occasions are auspicious for the accomplishment of good, by moral and religious impressions made upon the minds of the young, quickening their consciences, generating holy impulses, and inspiring them with noble aims in life. We admire learned and eloquent sermons, but let them be interspersed with sound gospel truth and godly admonition, such as will promote piety and increase desires for holiness.

Frequent revivals are reported by pastors and evangelists of our own and other churches. The number of conversions and accessions shows constant aggression on the part of the church and ministry. Dr. H. A. Bourland, pastor of Fifth Street Church, Waco, has recently enjoyed a most gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon his charge, resulting in about 100 conversions and over sixty additions to the church. At Ferris, Bro. G. W. Owens, assisted by the evangelist, Abe Mulkey, has had a glorious meeting, with between 120 and 150 conversions and reclamations. At Pilot Point the power of God was manifested in the conviction and conversion of many sinners, and the edification of the church. Rev. F. A. Hendrix reports a revival at Kaufman, which resulted in fifty bright and happy conversions, thirty-four additions to the church, and other good results.

Apropos to the discussion on methods of raising money for church purposes, I beg leave to append the following extract from the Pittsburg Advocate, of recent date, concerning the church festival:

1. It robs the giver of the blessing that comes to the "cheerful giver." Being a commercial transaction, he receives value equal to his investment, and so gets reward. This tends seriously to degrade the sense of obligation to give.

2. It hinders church finances by fostering a spirit of selfishness instead of encouraging true liberality. True liberality gives for the good of others. The spirit appealed to by the festival is that of good to yourself. There is a wide difference between giving to others and investing for a little present entertainment.

3. It takes the support of benevolent enterprises out of the region of conscience, and makes it depend upon the caprice of the mind in the impulse of the moment.

4. The church festival is a screen behind which parsimonious souls seek to shield themselves from their obligations to God. It is a blind with which the idea of sacrificing effort for the cause of Christ is sought to be maintained, with the sacrifice really left out.

5. It is a littleroms subterfuge, by which many persons try to make themselves believe it is easier to give.

6. The church is a family. Suppose the members of an earthly household should propose to raise some means to support the family by a festival. It would provoke laughter.

7. It will get those to give who otherwise would not. But does it get them to give? Is he not cultivate benevolence.

These points are well taken. Let our people think seriously before resorting to such methods of raising money for the cause of Christ. "Be not conformed to the world, but be ye transformed by the renewing of your minds."

In a former letter mention was made of Granbury College as being embarrassed by debt, and in need of financial aid to prevent the closing of a mortgage on the building. The friends of the school failed to obtain the needed relief, and the property has passed out of the hands of the church. Prof. Switzer, the president of the college, thereupon proposed to remove it to Weatherford, on condition that the citizens would buy, repair, and furnish the Cleveland College building, and donate it to the Methodist Church for the use of the school. The necessary amount has been raised, and all the conditions will be met: so that the removal of the college to Weatherford is assured. Our people approve the action of Prof. Switzer, and it is believed that the change will conduce to the interests of the school, and be fruitful of good to the church at large.

The Fort Worth District Conference was held at Alvarado, Texas, beginning May 22. The pastors belonging to the Conference were all present but one, he being detained by sickness. Several local preachers and a goodly number of laymen were in attendance; also a number of visiting brethren, Rev. J. Fred Cox, the presiding elder, conducted the business of the Conference with much skill and ability, closely adhering to the order of business laid down in the Discipline. A commendable enterprise in the shape of a district parsonage, to be located at Alvarado, was set on foot. The subjects of missions, Sunday-schools, education, finances, church extension, books and periodicals, and the spiritual state of the church, were considered in carefully prepared reports, showing encouraging progress.

The Texas Spring Palace, at Fort Worth, is attracting much attention, and may well excite the admiration of the public. The building is a magnificent structure, covering 240,000 square feet, and every article used in its construction is a product of our own State. It was first suggested by Gen. Cameron, earnestly advocated by the Fort Worth Gazette, and finally taken hold of by the people of that city, who went to work with a vim and erected a wonderful "karporama," as it is called. It is, perhaps, the most unique, artistic, and instructive exhibition of products and material resources ever gotten up by any State. It opened a few days ago, and is being largely attended.

WEATHERFORD, TEXAS.

In Memoriam.

BY BISHOP J. C. KEENER.

The Hon. Edward J. Gay died May 30, 1889, at the St. Louis plantation, La. He was an agriculturist, a manufacturer, a merchant, a politician, and very successful in all. He brought to all these the same habits of life and thought: was temperate and frugal, industrious, painstaking, thorough, well up in his business, in all knowledge that belonged to its pursuit—the cost of material, the quantity and value of production, how affected by seasons and trade. Of excellent judgment, well balanced, not speculative, a very solid business man, one not likely to fail in any condition of the market; all the elements for accumulating property he possessed. One of the very few men in the Southwest who came out of the war, and who did active business for forty years without failing.

He was a domestic man, in that he enjoyed his home, his family, his wife and children, and was glad to see his friends.

He early in life became a Christian and a Methodist. He was the son of a well-known Methodist family of St. Louis, Mr. John Gay. The old people were decided and consistent members of the church for a great while, and died in the faith, full of years and good deeds.

Few men have been blessed with profounder religious convictions or finer religious sensibilities than Mr. Gay. He enjoyed the company of godly people, and he felt an interest in advancing the institutions of the church. He was so largely engaged, and so actively, in life's daily work that he was drifted by its imperceptible currents, and yet he held to his course heavenward. Could a period of comparative rest have been afforded him, he would, doubtless, have done far more toward the building of the kingdom of the Savior.

Very late in life, and very unexpectedly to himself, he became engaged in the arduous and unsatisfactory pursuit of a politician. He was pressed into it by his fellow-citizens, and he did the State and the South good service at a large sacrifice of health, time, and money. His extensive knowledge of mercantile and industrial affairs well fitted him for the highest positions in Legislatures. His education had been excellent. His common sense and remarkable perception of the principles of political economy and the sources of material prosperity gave his counsel great value and weight in all the higher questions of general and State policy. Had he lived he must have held the very first place among Secretaries or Senators.

With great energy, he was singularly tempered with moderation. He was unpretending and exemplary in all his personal habits and intercourse with his neighbors. For breadth of view, and intelligence upon all subjects, he had few equals. In the acquaintance of forty years, I have known no one more uniform, a man uniformly reliable in all departments and conditions of life. He was a pure and blameless man, a faithful husband, an affectionate father, and a helpful friend.

He was born at Liberty, Bedford county, in the State of Virginia, on February 3, 1816. In 1820 his father moved to Illinois, and in 1821 to St. Louis, with whose growth for more than half a century he was identified. The son was educated in the schools of St. Louis, and at Augusta College, Ky.

In 1840 he was married, at Nashville, to Miss Lavinia Hynes, whose father was largely engaged in planting in Louisiana. Upon the death of Mr. Hynes, Mr. Gay moved to Louisiana, and became interested in planting. His wife still survives him, and two sons, Andrew and John, as also two daughters, Mrs. Andrew Price, of this State, and Mrs. Crowe, of St. Louis.

The State and the Church both feel the loss of such a man, who dies in the full possession of great ability, and in the active experience of life. In the very day he seems to have contemplated some greater thing, he passed away. At the very last of his protracted sickness he obtained a great blessing, in the realizing sense of his inexpressible indebtedness to the Savior. "He has done so much for me, and I have done so little in return for him," he said to his pastor. Some one remarked, "You have done something." "No," said he, "I have given nothing, nothing."

It was by his contribution that we rehabilitated Centenary College after the war. And for some years he gave $500 annually to the support of its faculty. Doubtless, many who will surely enter heaven will still look back upon what they might have accomplished for the cause of Christ. Let us all remember "the night cometh when no man can work." In his death I have lost a life-long friend.

Brookhaven District Conference.

The pastors in Brookhaven district will please send the names of members who will probably attend the District Conference—June 27-30—to Bro. A. T. Barnes, at McComb City. I am requested by the McComb City Church Conference to say that all who attend the District Conference will be entertained free of charge. Parties sending their names to Bro. Barnes will be provided for. A large attendance is desired.

H. S. RAYNER.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1889.

JUNE.

BY FRANK DEMESTER SICKMAN.

O June! delicious month of June!
When winds and birds all sing in tune;
When in the meadows swarm the bees,
And hum their drowsy melodies
While gilliflowers the jealousy
To steal the golden honey up
O June! the month of cloudless skies,
Dear to the pilgrim butterflies,
Who seem gay-colored leaves astray,
Blown down the tide of amber day.
O June! the month of merry song,
Of shadow-brief, of sunshine long,
All things on earth love you the best—
The bird who carols near his nest;
The wind that wakes and, singing, blows
The spicy perfume of the rose;
And bee, who sounds his muffled horn
To celebrate the dewy morn;
And even all the stars above
At night are happier for love,
As if the mellow notes of mirth
Were wafted to them from the earth.
O June! such music founds your name;
With you the summer chorus came.

—St. Nicholas.

What Is Consciousness?

This has been a perplexing question to us. Often when meditating on the doctrine of the witness of the Spirit we have been brought face to face with this question; consequently we have been exceedingly anxious for any information respecting it that would enable us to reach a conclusion on which we could rest with confidence and satisfaction. The latest utterances which we have seen on this subject are contained in a work entitled, "Elements of Intellectual Science," by Dr. Noah Porter, where this, together with many other subjects, are treated, as is usual in books of this sort. He begins, after a few preliminary remarks, with a definition of consciousness as "the power by which the soul knows its own acts and states." It appears by this that the author regards consciousness as the ability to know, though in his discussion of the subject he often speaks of it as an act of cognition; in fact, it seems to us that much of his argument requires that this should be done. In this he passes from the recognition of it as a power to it as the exercise of one. Whether or not this is in keeping with the rules of logic is doubtful; yet if it should be found so in either case—that is, if the privilege to mend the definition be allowed, so that in the reasoning that follows it is to be recognized not only as the power to know the acts and states of the soul, but as actually knowing them—we humbly apprehend, then, that this improvement will be insufficient to make the author's discussion of this subject consistent and satisfactory. For to assume the truth of the division of the mind into intellect, sensibility and will as sufficient to account by their exercise for all the mental phenomena known, and to which are traceable, as powers exercised, all the states and acts of the mind of every sort, then upon this assumption consciousness would be the exercise of one of these, which conclusion we think it is impossible to reconcile with the definition the author has given or its amendment. But if instead of this assumption it should be claimed that consciousness is the exercise of a different power than these, whose sole function is to acquaint the mind of its various acts and states, then we think if pursued to its consequences, it will be found untenable. Let us, then, proceed to reason from the supposition that consciousness is an act of the knowing-power, or intellect, included in the above division, and see what the consequences will be. Then let's see what will be the result by reasoning from the supposition that it is an act of a power diverse from those whose function is to testify to the soul of its states and acts, or, which is the same thing, to make them known. Now to know is an act of the mind; to be conscious of this is, by supposition, also an act of knowledge. To know we know, then, is in keeping with this theory of consciousness. Now, to be conscious that we know, since it is an act, requires the use of the knowing-power already supposed to be in a state of knowledge. So, then, it follows that the mind in the use of the one power in the one way must be supposed to be occupied with two objects at one and the same moment of time; or it is the equivalent of saying that the mind is both here and there in the use of an identical power, which is in effect to say the mind is now doing this, yet at the same time it is not doing this but that.

This theory of consciousness also requires that the mind in a state of consciousness, if the object be an act or otherwise, is both observed and observer. If consciousness is an act of knowledge, and the object known is also an act of knowledge, we hold this to be impossible. To say so would be to say that the cognitive power takes cognizance of its act of cognition. There is an incongruity in the terms of the proposition which is self-destructive in that that they imply the mind to be both in an active and passive state at the same time, not with respect to different powers, but with reference to the same one; for the supposition requires the active, knowing-power of the mind to be exercised in both instances. If consciousness be an act of the cognitive power of the mind, and the object of consciousness be an act of cognition, then it is knowledge taking knowledge of knowledge, which is a consistent deduction from the supposition that consciousness, the observer, is an act of knowledge, and the object observed is an act of knowledge also. Now, this can not by any possibility be, for to predicate two conditions of one and the very same thing, at one and the same time, is the same as to affirm that the one object can be in two places at once. Then to know we know, being a proper statement of this theory of consciousness, it follows that knowledge is necessary to knowledge. This is true whether we consider the act of consciousness concomitant to the knowing act, which it is supposed to make known, or subsequent to it, if the object revealed by consciousness should be an act of perception, whether they exist apart or not in the order of time. This theory requires that to know by perception we must be conscious of it—that is to say, what we are not conscious of we never know. Yet it also requires that consciousness is an act, too, and that it is an act of knowledge. We have shown that it being necessarily an act of the cognitive power—for we are reasoning on the supposition of the truth of the division of the mind into intellect, sensibilities and will—it can in no way differ in the way of being from any other act of knowledge. From this it follows that knowledge is necessary in order to knowledge; and if so in one instance, why not in all, and so on ad infinitum, which is to preclude the possibility of its attainment at all. The same conclusion follows in a different way by supposing the acts to originate from the same source; and since they do, it would be consistent to invest them with equal power; but should we do so, neither could be known. But since consciousness is the power by which the mind knows its own acts and states, its act must be a superior illumination than the act to know; but how by any possibility can that be when they are supposed to originate in an identical power?

It is admitted by the author that we can not doubt our doubts. This proposition we think is true, and, furthermore, if we are not mistaken, the philosophical tendency of it, if pursued with consistency, will go a long way in the solution of this difficult question. For to suppose we could doubt our doubts would be to suppose that the mind is in a different condition from the one it now is in, which is a contradiction, for it is to affirm the mind is in a state of uncertainty with respect to that about which it is certain, and the reverse. But we can doubt our doubt just as soon as we can know we know. There is no more absurdity in the one position than in the other. The same is true of the sensibilities. We can not feel that we feel, for if we must know we know to be certain, we have knowledge in one instance based on different grounds than in the other, which is absurd; and, then, if we must know we know to be certain, from whence is the certitude derived? If one act of the intellect is required to substantiate another, then another to that is required also, and so on ad infinitum. The same argument will apply to the sensibilities. It is impossible that we should feel that we feel in order to certitude; for why, we ask, would one state of the sensibilities be more certain and satisfactory than another? Besides, we must bottom somewhere, or else be involved in an infinite series of sensible impressions, the one necessarily dependent on the other, which is in effect to deny that there is such a thing by making the possibility of it as a phenomenon of the mind impossible, or, which is the same thing, knowable. And since it is necessary to this theory of consciousness that every state or condition of the mind, whatsoever it may be, to exist, must be known, and to be known, must be so consciously, it follows, then, that agreeable to the conditions required such a thing as a mental state or condition of any sort can not be; for to be, it must be known, and to be known, it must be so by the act of a power in use in order to its existence in any other way. For if consciousness is that power by which the soul knows its own acts and states, these acts and states must be separable from consciousness or the knowing act.

We think this is sufficient to show that what is called consciousness does not obtain in the way supposed. Let us now proceed to reason from the supposition that consciousness is the exercise of a power not included in the division of the mind into intellect, sensibilities and will; and if so, then either one of two conclusions is inevitable, namely: We will involve ourselves in an infinite series, or that a thing can reveal itself; either of which, we think, is destructive of the supposition, if the act of revelation be supposed as anything different in existence from the act of consciousness, which is supposed to reveal all other states and conditions of the mind but its own, and the existence of the power of which it is supposed to be the exercise. For if the intellect, sensibilities and will need that their exercises should be made known by the exercise of another power diverse from these, then it would seem that this also should need to be made known by the exercise of another power, and so on ad infinitum. The supposition that a thing can reveal itself, if the act revealing be different from the act revealed, and this condition is necessary to the idea of a consciousness as an act different from other acts of the mind, is absurd, for it supposes the power engaged to be doing two things at once, which is impossible. It follows, then, that on the supposition of the existence of such a power its existence can never be known as a psychological fact. We have, in the first place, endeavored to discover consciousness as an act of the intellect separate from an act of cognition, though accompanying it; and, in the second place, we have tried to account for it as an act of a special power, whose sole function is to make known to the soul its own acts and states, and have seen the consequences. It seems to us that the notion that consciousness is an act revealing to the soul its other acts and states, originating in any department of the mind, is false. Let us now see if consciousness is the result of the reciprocal action of the mind's powers one for another—that is, do we feel we think, and perceive we so feel. This position ends in an infinite series, or else we are bound to stop short of a knowledge of the whole facts; for on the supposition that to know we think, we must feel that to be the condition of the thinking power. Then we must perceive we so feel in order to that being the condition of the sensibilities, and so on forever; or else the last act or feeling would be unknown. Now, it seems to us that what is called consciousness is but another name for knowledge, and that knowledge, pure and simple, needs no proof. The notion that the knowing-power of the mind in an act of knowledge needs any evidence of the certitude of the act to know is false. There is no power by which such evidence can be afforded. It is as if one should endeavor to prove the correctness of vision by some power not at all adapted to sight. Moreover, it is an appeal from the knowing faculty to one more knowing, which, as has been shown, is contradictory and absurd, and reflects upon the wisdom of our Divine Creator. The certitude of knowledge, then, is made to depend upon the adaptation of those powers which God has given us for its attainment, and from them there is absolutely no appeal.

R. M. DAVIS.

Letter from Mexico.

The following letter, written in reply to a remittance from the Woman's Missionary Society of Rayne Memorial Church, in this city, will be read with interest.

MRS. J. G. ROWLAND, New Orleans, La.—

My Dear Mrs. Rowland: Your very kind favor of May 8, with material proof, whose ring puts beyond doubt the reality of your kindness, was duly received, and should have been answered sooner but for absence from home. Please tender my most sincere thanks to the ladies who were led to bestow on me such a token of their esteem.

I doubt not that the widow's mite that has been on interest so long in the bank of heaven has increased, and is to-day an enormous sum in heavenly coin. I hope your fifty dollars will bring good interest. I have already begun to invest it. I have had the pleasure and the honor of publishing the first paper in the republic of Mexico, dedicated entirely to temperance. It is called "The Protector of Our Homes." I have published two numbers only (in Spanish, of course), and the paper has been well received by a great many people. This publication is the organ of the temperance society of our church in the City of Mexico, of which I am pastor. It is sustained by this society, and by subscribers and voluntary subscriptions. As we were short of money for the third number, I have put fifteen dollars of your kind gift into this temperance paper. The remainder will be duly invested in the great cause of humanity, trusting that when final accounts are settled, large capital, as the result of this investment, will be put to the credit of the ladies of New Orleans.

Our church in the city is steadily making advances on the enemy, capturing a prisoner of hope now and then. Since I began work in the city, a year and a half ago, about one hundred have united with our church, a large portion of whom were converts direct from the Romish Church. Besides, many have been converted who have not united with our church.

We expected and had planned to hold revival services for a few months this year, and to last every night in the week; but I am sorry to say that the mission treasurer said he could not afford to give the amount needed for lights, and so we were obliged to lose a great ingathering into the fold. This has discouraged me very much; but, God sparing my life, we shall have funds enough to pay for our lights in future.

Among our converts there are a few persons of whom I have written articles in our Spanish paper, which have been translated and published in some of our papers in the United States. One of these converts was a young man, a student in the medical school of the city; abandoned by his father as a hopeless case, an habitual drunkard. He was converted, and is now doing well. Another whom I consider was a noted convert had been a highway robber; as he publicly confessed, was guilty of more than one murder. He was one of the five soldiers chosen to shoot Maximilian and his comrades, Miramon and Mejia. He came to our church with no good object in view, but was soundly converted.

Not long ago an Italian came to our church, out of curiosity, and was gloriously converted. His wife became anxious to know what he had taken, or what he had done to bring about such a change as was manifest in his manner, conversation, and even in his countenance. When informed of the change he had met with, she said: "I shall go where my husband has been; for where one can get a clean heart and tongue, as my husband has, must be a good place." She would tell her neighbors that her husband had no more demon in his words, nor in his eyes, nor in his temper—that he was a new man. She, too, is now one of our faithful workers.

Last year a Catholic priest was converted in one of our meetings. He is now employed by our mission, and is doing a good work. A young man about to be ordained as a priest was also converted, and is now teaching and preaching in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

It is a great source of comfort and encouragement to me to be able to say that we have the largest prayer meeting in the city; that our church is full of life, aggressive and hopeful.

I am kept very busy, for besides the care of the church, I am editor of our weekly church paper, the temperance paper, Sunday-school lessons, and other press work, with but one assistant. I have received permission from the Board to take a furlough of two or three months, so that I may visit my sick father in Wales, whom I have not seen for thirteen years. I shall hope to sail next month.

Trusting that you will pray for us and our work, and again accept the assurance of our gratitude for your interest and kindness, I remain,

Very truly yours,

DAVID P. WATKINS.

TOLUCA, MEXICO, May 20, 1889.

Our Companionships.

David says, "I am a companion of all them that fear thee." Who are our companions? Most obviously those with whom we most consort—our immediate family, our business partners, and those whom we select as our social companions. Of all the influences affecting and modifying our lives, none are so powerful as these companionships. Let us illustrate this by the three classes just referred to.

1. The home life. The child, as a matter of course, has no option here. He must make the best of the lot in life into which he has come without his choice. The responsibility here is with the parents. They make the companions of the child, and not the child of the parents. If love, the sense of responsibility to God, and the general instincts of parenthood, do not constantly act as moral forces, disposing them to right conduct towards their children, then the child's misfortune is the parents' moral crime. The mutually responsible companionship of the home is that between the husband and wife. It is that which is attended on the one hand with the greatest happiness, or on the other with the greatest misery of any relation in life. It makes us worse or better than anything else in life can. To be "unequally yoked together" is for both of them to throw life away. Two can not walk together except they agree. The unbelieving husband will spoil the faith of the believing wife, and likewise an unchristian wife will make difficult, if not impossible, a pious walk in the husband. Moral suitability is a question of the utmost importance at the threshold of the marriage relation. No one is unblameworthy who either deliberately or unthoughtedly hedges up his or her own course to spiritual welfare.

2. Business partnerships. Let us put it in the concrete. A young man, well raised, comes of age and joins the church. He is exemplary and promising. He takes actively hold of church work, is happy, useful, and evidently a growing man in the church; but, by degrees, the pastor, and others who know how to apply the spiritual thermometer, note a change. He takes a sent further back, is cool in his greetings, uncomfortable with former fellow-workers in the church. The explanation is easy. He went into business with John Smith. Smith is not a bad man, as the world counts badness, but he is not a Christian, and his influence, purposely and constantly, is against religion. In harmony with his real character, there is a sly crookedness in all his dealings. His partner has to consent to all these, and, in consenting, he gives up his religion.

3. Social companions. A young man was going off to school, a few years ago, and his mother said to him: "If I were dying, and had but three words to say to you, they would be, 'Keep good company.'" Nothing should cause parents greater solicitude than the kind of company their children keep. Nine times in ten those who go astray have been seduced by bad companionships. The worldliness of young Christians comes about in this way: The influence over us of one whom we respect and admire is subtle and irresistible. We unconsciously adopt his opinions, and sometimes his very manners. Parents are sometimes deceived right here, as well as their children. "Johnnie is happy with his new friend," says a satisfied and dating mother, forgetting that the very happiness makes the friend the more dangerous to him, if dangerous at all. Every strong and matured Christian may, with safety, select his own companions; but not so our children. Let us guard and guide them in this matter till their characters are formed, and they may be allowed to trust themselves.

J. W. M.

Gulf Coast—College Location, etc.

Bro. T. W. Lewis, in the ADVOCATE, of May 30, is, I think, a little too fast on the subjects above indicated. I do not think I said I wanted the new college to be located here, or on the coast. My wants would weigh but very little. I did not say this was the best place. I might be asked how I come to know that. I stated substantially two facts, and then made a suggestion.

1. I stated that the geographical question, mere mileage, is easily settled. It is two cents a mile, payable in money. That settles that question.

2. That as to health, this coast—any part of it—is very far superior to any place in the interior. The man who will question that is uninformed. Bro. Lewis says: "As to health, Winona has no superior in the State." How does he know? How long has he lived on the Gulf? With some knowledge of both regions, my belief is, that while in the interior, Winona or anywhere else, there are individual cases of reasonably good health; yet, as to a neighborhood, there is no person in Winona, unless he have lived at least a year or two on the coast, who knows what good health is. The "good health" up there is not to be compared with health here. Climatic disease is not known here, unless brought here; and then, unless a far-gone case of consumption, or some such disease, it has to get away speedily. I give for the benefit of anybody who desires it such information as I possess. I will listen to the man who questions these things when he shows me that his means of information are as good as mine.

3. I respectfully suggest that those having custody of this college question, when they come to consider its location, might do well to turn an eye in this direction.

If an exact calculation could be made, it would most probably show five or ten times as much sickness in Winona as here, pro rata.

R. ABBEY.

GULF VIEW, Mississippi.

From the Work.

TALISHEEK CIRCUIT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: We have just completed a church with a seating capacity of two hundred, and held our third Quarterly Conference in it. This church is situated in the northern portion of my work, near Lee's Creek, where there has never been a Methodist Church before, and where the Baptist reigns supreme. To use a quaint phrase of an old negro, it was through "trials and triggervaters" that we built it; but by earnest prayer, bodily exertion and the blessings of God it stands to-day an ornament and a credit to the community—clear of debt. My presiding elder, Bro. West, tells me that it is as good, if not the best country church on the Seashore district. Since our second Quarterly Conference there have been eight accessions to the church. The parsonage has been repaired and furnished, and a nice garden built. I have good congregations at all my appointments, and we are looking and praying for and expecting a revival ere long.

A few Sundays ago I held a two days' meeting, at what is known as the John Tally Church, on my work, adjacent to a Baptist community; and notwithstanding they (the Baptists) had a foot-washing near by on the same day, there was near, if not quite, one hundred persons present at my meeting, among whom were a goodly number of Baptists. The meeting was a success and a blessing to the whole community, the Spirit being present at every service to bless and save. Four accessions, with many more to follow soon, the whole church and neighborhood revived, with active steps being taken to erect a comfortable and commodious church by the third Sunday in July, are the visible results of the meeting.

It is with regret that I have to say that I have not been able to make the advancements this year, in a financial point of view, that some of my brethren in the ministry have made; but when we take into consideration the undeveloped condition of a portion of the work, and the utter aversion to foreign missions with a great many of my people, I feel thankful to God that we are moving along as favorably as we are, and, by the blessing of God, expect to carry up a good report to the next Annual Conference.

Our St. Tammany Camp Meeting will begin this year September 27. Remember, Doctor, that a cordial invitation is hereby extended to you and all other ministers to attend.

G. R. ELLIS.

OPELOUSAS, LA.

MR. EDITOR: We are moving on here very encouragingly. There is a decided improvement, spiritually, on the part of many church members, and our services grow more and more interesting. There is increased interest on the part of the ungodly in waiting upon the sanctuary, and we are praying for and expecting a glorious revival. Numbers are being received by letter and on profession of faith. Have baptized many infants. A good congregation assembled in the Methodist Church on April 30, to celebrate with appropriate services the centennial of George Washington's first inauguration as President of the republic. We had two short sermons, and talks from the brethren. We all found it good to be there. We had a grand, glorious time on Children's Day. Much enthusiasm prevailed on the part of all present, especially the children, and a good collection was lifted. Our church is now enclosed with a neat fence, and our church property will soon be under thorough repair. On next Sunday I expect to listen to a sermon from President Hunnicutt, of Centenary College. On Thursday, the twentieth inst., our District Conference convenes. We all want you here at that time. Can you come? If not, will you send a representative?

R. S. ISBELL.

COLFAX, LA.

MR. EDITOR: A gracious revival closed at this place on last Wednesday night, having been conducted by Rev. J. L. Hoffpauir, assisted by Bro. R. L. Walker, of Catahoula, and Bro. Mc. Lyons, of Boyce, and the ordinary thirteen additions at the church, with a great many more expressed sorrow for their sins and declared their determination to lead better lives. There is a glorious and wonderful work to be wrought in our little town, which has been generally regarded as given over to hardness of heart and reprobacy of spirit. But we know that nothing is impossible with our God—glory be to his holy name!—and we hope and pray for the greater things yet to come. Let the brethren pray for the continued upbuilding of Zion's walls in our community, and may it grow and spread until all the country around shall feel its power for good, which of late its wickedness has been felt with most baneful effect.

H. G. GOODWYN.

Sparks.

There is quite as much human nature behind a white tie as there is behind a black one.—Methodist Times, London.

The more the diamond is cut the brighter it sparkles, and in what seems hard dealing God has no end in view but to protect his people's graces.—Guthrie.

No one can ask honestly or be fully to be delivered from temptation unless he has himself honestly and firmly determined to do the best he can to keep out of it.—Ruskin.

A Christian who spends his whole life in the selfish aim of saving his own soul, and never troubles himself with trying to help to save other men, either from destruction in the next world or from pain and suffering here, is a cowardly Christian.—Bishop of Peterborough.

Nations are saved by righteousness and by manliness, and by self-denial and by the preaching of simple Christ to simple men; not by mitres and crosiers and chasubles, and such gewgaws fetched from Aaron's wardrobe or the Flamens' vestry.—Canon Farrar.

If you have built castles in the air your work need not be lost; that is where they should be; now put foundations under them.—Thoreau.

Only he can love his fellow-man truly who loves God more than he loves his fellow-man. There is no such love for man possible as that love which comes of looking upon every man as one dear to God, and, therefore, as doubly dear to all who love God.—Sunday-School Times.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Burhart and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Hope & Hum. New York.)

LESSON XIII.—June 30.

TEMPERANCE LESSON.

1. Cor. viii, 4-13.

TIME.—A. D. 58. The date of this epistle can be fixed with more precision than that of any other. It gives us the means of ascertaining, not only the year, but even the month and week, in which it was written.

PLACE.—City of Ephesus.

4. Things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols—Those portions of the animals offered in sacrifice which were not laid on the altar, and which being divided partly to the priests, and partly to those who had offered. We know—as you will observe, these Corinthians have got a most clear conception of what Christianity was. An idol is nothing in the world—That is, that the gods of the heathen (meaning not merely the images, but the persons represented by them) have no existence in the world. The meaning in general is, that the heathen idols have no divinity in them: and, therefore, in the Old Testament they are commonly called "lies" and "vanities," or "lying vanities."

5. There be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth—This is an allusion to the famed division of the heathen gods into celestial and terrestrial.

6. The Father—It brings out promiently the contrast between the standards of the heathen and the Christian: for the heathen have no father in this sense. One Lord Jesus Christ—the name of God, truly common to the three persons of the blessed Trinity, but not in way of exclusion, but according to a mysterious peculiarity attributed to God the Father, who is the fountain of the deity, the first in order of the divine persons, so likewise is the name "Lord" truly to the other persons, peculiarly, though not exclusively, ascribed and appropriated to God the Son.

7. There is not in every man that knowledge—But howsoever ye have knowledge to understand this, yet every man hath not: for some ignorant Christians, out of a misled conscience, thinking hereupon that there is some virtue conceived to be in the meat the meat sacrificed thereunto, with some kind of good respect to the idol: and so their conscience, being weak, is by your example debased and drawn into sin.

8. Meat commendeth us not to God—As if the apostles had said, It is not heading or the not drinking, simply considered, that makes a man either better or worse, more or less acceptable in the sight of God; but we must have great heed lest by our example others take occasion to worship the idol; you, therefore, ought not so to use as to give occasion to the fall of your weak brother. Religion is of a more inward and more spiritual nature than to have regard to circumstances like these. God looks at the heart, he regards the motives, the thoughts, the inward actions of men. The mere circumstances of eating meat or abstaining from it can not make a man any better or worse in the sight of a holy God.

9. In any wise—Any Christian, who does not know that an idol is nothing, sit at meat in the idol's temple—St. Paul would seem here to be putting the extreme case. Josephus, in his defense against Appion, Bk. 2, says: Heathens offer hecatombs to their gods and use their temples for their banqueting houses. This appears likewise from Judges ix. 27; Amos ii. 8. Emboldened to eat—He will see you in the idol temple partaking of a feast in honor of the idol; and he will infer from only that it is right, but that it is a matter of conscience with you, and will follow your example.

11. For whom Christ died—If he cared so much to save the soul, assuredly we should not pursue a course which would tend to destroy it.

12. To sin against Christ—Injuries done to Christians are injuries to Christ; especially to babes in Christ, weak Christians.

13. If meat make my brother to offend—It is the duty of Christians in matters wherein they are left at liberty by the Word of God to take that part which they see will give least occasion of offense to their brethren, and to avoid that which, if taken, will certainly give others occasion to sin. Although we ourselves well satisfied of the lawfulness of an action, we ought to abstain ourselves in some things rather than occasion our brethren to fall into sin. He deserves not the name of a Christian who will not abridge himself of his Christian liberty to prevent his brother from sin and temptation.

Missionary.

Training-School for Missionaries.

The Woman's Board of Missions at its last annual meeting took action toward the establishment of a training-school for missionaries. Miss Belle Bennett, of Kentucky, was appointed to investigate plans, methods, place of location, and to arrange for the speedy establishment of such a school. She was authorized to present the subject throughout the church, and to collect funds for it; also to enlist the interest and patronage of other churches and societies.

The object of this institution is to furnish thorough instruction in the Bible and all that relates to foreign missions, to give practical training in city mission work, to provide a Christian home while obtaining such training and to arouse a greater interest in missions.

The idea is not a new idea. In 1872 the Institute for Home and Foreign Missions was established in London, and the result has magnified the Lord in the fruitful labors of hundreds of men and women in the home and the foreign fields. In our own country the Chicago Training-school for City, Home and Foreign Missions was opened in 1885. Though it was not completed its fourth year, one hundred and six young women have been in attendance. Of this number thirty-seven are now actively engaged by six different Boards in various foreign missions and in city missions at home. This school is carried on altogether by volunteer contributions and labor. Five teachers and assistants devote their time to it without salary, and lectures by some of the most men and women in the country are given without compensation.

The success of these schools encourages those who have felt a similar need to supply it.

The call from the field is for trained, experienced women; yet the pressure for immediate re-enforcements has hurried the departure of our missionaries without giving them an opportunity for the training such a school would afford. Now the time has come when our thought and effort must be directed to this important object. Already a beginning has been made. Individual members of the Board have pledged $600, with promises of continued effort in raising money; and providential indications point toward the location of the school in a certain large city whose Christian workers offer active and financial help.

If possible, it should be opened next fall. Candidates are now waiting to enter. That possibility means work and liberal giving. Will not those who appreciate the importance of thorough Bible study and other training for foreign and city mission work give their prayers and money to aid in establishing such a school in our Southland?

As this work is not included in the appropriations of the Woman's Board of Missions, it is not to be presented to auxiliaries; nor is it allowed to divert any of the funds of the society, and no money collected for missions will be directed to it. But, as individual members, all are urged to give—and to induce others outside of the Woman's Missionary Society to make donations for the establishment of this school.

For full information on this subject address Miss Belle H. Bennett, White Hall, Ky. Donations may be sent to her, or through the regular channels of the Woman's Missionary Society, to Mrs. H. N. McTyeire, Jr., Nashville, Tenn. In the latter case, let care be taken to state that it is for the "Training-school for Missionaries."

MRS. D. H. M'GAVOCK,
Cor. Sec. W. B. M.
—Nashville Advocate.

NOTES.

Thibet, an extensive region of Central Asia, tributary to China, and having an area of 750,000 square miles, and a population of eight million, is said to be the only country on the globe not open to Christian missions. It is one of the great strongholds of Buddhism, and Lhassa, the capital, is regarded by faithful Buddhists as the city of Rome is by devout Catholics. Who shall have the honor of first entering that vast country in the name of Christ?

The ten different missionary societies of Holland which have representatives on the field in Netherlandish India have issued through their officers a joint appeal to all Low Country Christians to enter more heartily into the work of missions, by prayers and by gifts, selecting whatever agency seems best to them. This movement toward co-operation may be traced back to the London Conference, and is one of the cheering signs of advancing unity among Protestants.

Recent letters from Bishop Taylor, who has returned to the prosecution of his work in Africa, were dated Jan. 14, when he was at a point in the interior only 200 miles from Monrovia, where he was to hold a conference of his workers. Under his direction, several missionary stations have been planted on the Cavalla River, a beautiful stream about the size of the Hudson, which empties into the Atlantic about eighteen miles south of Cape Palmas. To help this African work, a monthly magazine, the African News, has been started at Plainfield, N. J.

Some missionaries begin their work for the Lord even on their way to the field. Four English missionaries on board a steamer for China recently, though traveling second class, succeeded, after some remonstrance from a few passengers who preferred that the cabin should be given up wholly to dancing and games, in holding daily evangelistic meetings, in which a number were converted. At their close, over 100 of the passengers signed an address thanking the missionaries for their ministrations. This treatment of the gospel envoys seems to be something of an exception to the way in which their rights and wishes are frequently disregarded on the Pacific steamers.

As their great Master, while on earth, touched and transformed the lepers, so the Christians of to-day are not ignoring that most heroic form of service. In the leper colony on Robben Island, just off the Cape of Good Hope, the missionaries of the English Church have supported a hospital since 1846, and there is a leper mission in Calcutta under the same auspices. The Moravians have for twenty years maintained, with great faithfulness, a leper hospital near the Jaffa gate at Jerusalem. Nor have the Roman Catholics been lacking in this respect. A priest devoted sixteen years to a leper-stricken community in the Sandwich Islands, and when overcome by disease, a few months ago, six sisters from a convent in Syracuse, N. Y., went to his assistance.—Congregationalist.

Criticism of missionary methods is much more rife in England than this side the water. Though such attacks as those of Canon Taylor and Mr. Caines carry little influence, the public mind has been directed to the general subject, and even so old and strong an organization as the Church Missionary Society, which has 500 missionaries at 291 stations over the world, and whose last year's income was upwards of a million of dollars, is charged with serious extravagance. Bearing on Canon Taylor's accusation that the returns for the annual outlay of Christendom for missionary efforts are proportionally small, somebody has been looking up the ratio of outlay and returns in the canon's own benefice. He shows that while a half-penny is expended annually for every individual heathen, the canon's own income, if divided among his 802 parishioners, would mean the outlay of one pound and six shillings per soul, and wonders if the returns justify so great an expenditure!

Temperance Notes.

Miss Willard writes: "Mr. and Mrs. Goodale, of Baton Rouge, La., are the most luminous 'double stars' in our temperance galaxy. He is a graduate of Yale College, where he was a classmate of Joseph Cook; he is a lawyer in first-rate standing, and a leading layman of the M. E. Church, South. No man in our great ranraleship has loftier ideals of personal character, the home, or the State. Brother and Sister Goodale have marshalled our forces in every corner of the delicate State of Louisiana. He is at the head of its State Prohibition Association, and his wife is one of our most acceptable National organizers. Her address at Mississippi W. C. T. U. Convention was universally spoken of as logical, choice in language, happy in illustration, and given in a most gracious and womanly way. April 26 I heard Mr. Goodale for the first time, and shall never forget his remarkable speech. He is manly, has a noble voice, deep and earnest; in felicity of illustration and uniqueness of research he reminds me of Joseph Cook, while his pathos and power are altogether exceptional, and place him in the front rank of our speakers. Coming from the South, these two, with their message to men and women both, will stir every community they enter, and set a clear, sweet key 'For God and Home and Native Land.' I have urged them to take the field, and they are inclined to do so. Our Lecture Bureau will find them among its most helpful and attractive features."

Speaking of the defeat of the Woman's License Suffrage Bill in Massachusetts, the Woman's Journal says that it is stated that at a meeting of the Boston Liquor Dealers' Association, the evening previous, a "trade" was arranged between Senators in the liquor interest and several so-called Temperance Republican Senators, whereby the former agreed to abandon their efforts to increase the number of licenses on condition that the latter should vote against the woman's License Suffrage Bill. This accounts for the change of votes on that occasion, and may also explain the anxiety of some people to make us believe that the bill was lost through the unwise action of its friends forcing it to a premature vote. Of course these traders wish to throw us off the scent of their own misdoings.

It appears that of farm products valued at $3,700,000,000 produced in 1886, but $55,000,000 worth were manufactured of liquor, or only about one-half of one per cent. The farmer, therefore, would have nothing to lose by the extinction of the traffic, since the money now spent upon it, if spent upon the necessities of life, would create fully as great a demand for farm products.

An Honest Skeptic.

Does Skepticism pay?

The enthusiast has his answer ready—No!

However, we differ, although our devotion to Compound Oxygen comes under the head of enthusiasm.

We differ because an honest skeptic is one who insists on proof in support of assertion.

Can you find fault with that? Hardly, since as a rule, it is your own plan of procedure.

However, we will step in advance of usual method and call attention to proof without assertion. That is, we will say nothing and leave our case in the hands of those we have benefited.

Rev. Chas W. Cushing, Rochester, adds to former testimonial:

Feb 14, 1888.

"The treatment you sent my daughter for chronic ulceration of the throat a year ago, was very effectual. It was the first thing which seemed to do her much permanent good."

CHESTER, S. C.

"I believe in the remedy and can therefore recommend it."

REV. H. T. CHRETTIEBERG.

ST. PAUL, MINN., March 20, 1888.

"For giving the system permanent vitality and the elimination of disease I believe Compound Oxygen to be far in advance of all medicine or treatment."

H. H. COOK.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 14, 1888.

"I commenced your Compound Oxygen Treatment the last of August, 1887, and was happily surprised at the end of one month to find I was almost entirely relieved."

MRS. C. K. DAGGET.

WEATHERFORD, TEXAS, April 1, 1888.

"You have my heartfelt gratitude for the good your Compound Oxygen has done me."

MRS. FRANKIE EDWARDS.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

THE twelve States in which a direct vote of the people has been taken on constitutional prohibition have given a total of 1,255,956 in favor of such a law, and 1,301,047 against. A majority against prohibition of only about two per cent. in the total vote cast.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Tutt's Pills

stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as an anti-bilious medicine. In

Malarial Districts

their virtues are widely recognized, as they possess peculiar properties in freeing the system from that poison. This popular remedy rarely fails to effectually cure

Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness

and all disorders arising from a Torpid Liver and Bad Digestion.

A Proclamation!

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says: "A year ago I had bilious fever; Tutt's Pills were so highly recommended that I used them. Never did medicine have a happier effect. After a practice of a quarter of a century, I proclaim them the best medicine ever used. I always prescribe them in my practice."

ANTI-BILIOUS

Sold Everywhere.

Office, 44 Murray St. New York.

Tutt's Manual of Useful Receipts sent Free.

PIANOS L&B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000 Worth of Pianos and Organs Must be Closed Out by August 1.

New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand

TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new in our repair factory.

MUST SELL! Can't hold them. No room. Cash, Easy Terms or Rent. Write for Bargain Sheet.

LUDDEN & BATES SAVANNAH, GA.

CLARK & MEADER,

—DEALERS IN—

FINE GROCERIES,

18 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.

When writing, mention this paper.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS

CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITIES.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works,

44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JAMES.

BROWNE & JENKINS,

DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN

WALL PAPER

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free.

Frank Walker & Co.,

WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,

117 Tchoupitoulas St.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mention this paper.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,

DEALER IN

WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

263 - CAMP STREET - 263

Bet. Delord and Poydras. NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.

H. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

A. Brousseau's Son,

23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING,
CARPETS,
INGRAINS,
LACE CURTAINS,
WINDOW SHADES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

Mention this paper.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord,
NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

DRAINING MACHINES,
IRRIGATION PUMPS,
DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory.
JOS. MENGE,
105 Tchoupitoulas St.

PATENTS THOMAS P. SIMPSON, Washington, D. C. No atty's fee until Patent obtained. Write for Inventor's Guide.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

FROM

New Orleans to Cincinnati.

94 MILES THE SHORTEST.

TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST,

NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer Through the City.

Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press Street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.

R. H. GARRETT, Dis. Pass. Agt., New Orleans.
J. C. GAULT, General Manager.
D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

And Through Cars for All Classes to

CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 5 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to

MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

Pullman Sleeping Cars

THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE

To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and

KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO

Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.

TICKET OFFICES: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—

Texas and Pacific

Railway Company.

SHORT LINE

—BETWEEN—

NEW ORLEANS,
TEXARKANA,
SHREVEPORT,

AND POINTS IN

Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas.
JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

VULCAN

Fireproof Paint

IS INDORSED BY THE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICIALS OF NEW ORLEANS AND NEW YORK.

All Colors. Adapted to the finest as well as rough work. SHINGLE ROOFS MADE ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF and preserved from decay. Write for circulars.

H. R. GIFFNEY,
41 Union Street, New Orleans.

Persons writing Mr. H. R. Giffney concerning Vulcan Paint will please enclose him this advertisement.

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS
(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....	No. 2..... 1:00 pm
No. 3.....	No. 4..... 8:55 am
No. 5..... 10:30 am	No. 6..... 1:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 8 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 Fast Ex. 7:00 am
No. 1 Fast Ex. 7:20 pm	No. 3 Coast..... 6:40 pm
No. 5 Coast..... 3:05 pm	No. 2 Lim. Ex. 7:00 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r. 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim. 7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 7:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express. 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express. 8:30 am
B. Rouge, local. 11:25 am	B. Rouge, local. 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local..... 7:20 pm
No. 17 Local..... 5:55 am	No. 20 Califor. 11:30 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.
(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd. 11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd..... 8:30 pm
No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line. 3:35 pm

MOBILE AND OHIO.
(Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line. 3:35 pm

P. AND E. EAST LA.
(Addis Springs.)
Daily Except Sundays.

Arrive..... 8:30 am	Leave..... 4:00 pm

Sunday Schedule.

Arrive..... 7:25 pm	Leave..... 7:30 am

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO.

(LIMITED)

40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in—

WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Cocks, Decoys, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glass-ware, Wells, Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application. Mention this Paper.

CARRIAGES,
Buggies, Phaetons,
Surreys, Carts,
HARNESS,
Baby Carriages,
R. P. RANDALL,
54 and 56 Baronne Street,
New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS.

CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor at Establishment,

213 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM

F. D. VanValkenburgh,

106 Camp Street,

Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Orders by mail promptly filled.

We herewith present you the Agricultural Implement that we sell the celebrated Plow and Thousand Machine extremely cheap at retail in unexcelled territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special Inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GILLIZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market St., St. Louis, Mo.

Mention this paper.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1.50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs, Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats.

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

Discount to Preachers.

H. B. STEVENS,

OUTFITTER,

122 and 124 Canal St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Clothing, Hats, Shirts and Furnishing Goods for all ages and all sizes. Fit suits and lean suits for men and boys. Always depend on us for the largest variety and lowest prices.

Established 1857.

The GREAT CHURCH LIGHT

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors for Gas or Oil, give the most powerful, softest cheapest & Best light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Banks, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A Liberal discount to churches and the trade. Don't be deceived by cheap imitations.

I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl St., N. Y.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. O. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. H. CADMAN, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1889.

Briefs.

L. D. Dameron, manager of the St. Louis Christian Advocate, has transferred to the patronizing Conferences his entire interest in and ownership of said paper. A Board of Trustees now hold the property for the benefit of the superannuates and widows and orphans of deceased preachers of said Conferences. Mr. Dameron retains a life-lease unless he shall sooner voluntarily surrender it.

The following among the daily telegrams from Johnstown sets at rest all doubts in regard to Miss Clara Chrisman:

This afternoon the body of Miss C. A. Chrisman, the foreign missionary from Beauregard, Miss., who was on the fated day-express when the flood swept it from the track, was found. On her person was found a check for $275 32, $70 in money, a gold watch, a gold breastpin of unique design, and a baggage check. Her body was embalmed and placed in a handsome casket by E. Goldstein, superintendent of the fourth ward morgue, to await the disposition of friends. Telegrams were sent to the cashier of the Nashville Bank. She was a woman of fine presence, and was clad in a light-brown dress with braided front.

We understand the remains have been returned to Beauregard and interred in the family cemetery near that place.

The next number (July) of the Missionary Reporter will appear in magazine form. It will be sent to regular subscribers for fifty cents a year. It will furnish every month information respecting our own missions. It will furnish news from the mission fields under the charge of other branches of the church. Selections illustrating mission life, and demonstrating the success of missionary labor, will enrich its columns. The Children's Department will be continued. A Concert Exercise, suited for Sunday-school missionary concerts, will appear in every number, as well as matter designed to encourage the missionary spirit in the children of the church. Let every subscriber to the ADVOCATE send fifty cents to Nashville and secure the Reporter for a year. No one will regret having done so when the year ends.

In line with the policy inaugurated by the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, and followed by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Bee Line, and other roads operating in connection with the Vanderbilt System, to discontinue, as far as practicable, all labor on their railways on the Sabbath, an agreement has just been reached to close all the city ticket offices in Buffalo on Sunday, beginning with June 9. This will give a large number of men an opportunity to attend church and secure a well-earned rest, and the railways interested are entitled to great credit for this movement. The example should be followed in every city in the United States. Owing to the arrival of delayed trains, it may be found impossible to close the depot ticket offices, but there is no reason why the city ticket offices of all the railways in the country should not be closed on Sunday. Chicago and Buffalo have adopted the "Sunday Closing" rule. What city will be next to have its name placed on the new roll of honor?

Whitworth Female College.

The commencement exercises of this popular college for young ladies began on Sunday, June 9, and closed Tuesday, June 11. Whitworth has had many brilliant occasions of this kind, but we doubt if any ever surpassed this one in intellectual enjoyment. It was "a feast of fat things" from beginning to close. President Fitzhugh had the good fortune to secure the inimitable Sam Jones for a lecture for the benefit of the college library, on Saturday evening before the regular commencement exercises began, and we were fortunate enough to arrive in time to hear it. We have not the temerity to attempt a description, either of the lecturer or the lecture. He took for his subject, "How to get there;" and for more than an hour he held the vast throng as a plaything in his hand, and it responded instantly to every touch of his genius. All we can say of the lecture is, that it was humorous and pathetic, witty and wise, ironical and satirical, prosy and poetic, anecdotal and philosophical, scorching and soothing, eloquent and commonplace; and wound up with a peroration of remarkable beauty.

Sunday morning Dr. O. P. Fitzgerald, of the Nashville Christian Advocate, preached the annual sermon to a large audience in the college chapel. The Doctor took as his text Paul's last words: "I have finished my course." His words of wise counsel to the graduating class will, doubtless, be cherished for many days to come, and bring forth fruit for future enjoyment. In the evening the editor of this paper preached to the Young Ladies' Christian Association, on "Life and Its Duties," as best he could. He heard of one comment, which showed that his sermon had some effect. One young lady remarked, as she was passing down the aisle: "Thank the Lord, that old fellow has had his say, and we will hear no more from him!" We heartily joined in that thanksgiving!

Monday was a great day! The large chapel had been handsomely decorated with evergreens, and works of art executed in beautiful style by the pupils of the college. These paintings and crayons added the charms of art to the beauties of nature; and both together made up an art gallery where art seemed to vie with nature in competing for the prize of encomium from the critics in the seats below. At an early hour the chapel was filled with people, eager to see and hear and enjoy the exercises of the day. The programme was quite extended. There was music, vocal and instrumental, recitations and essays. Of the twenty-two graduates four read essays. These essays were thoughtful, and read in an easy and graceful manner, and in a tone of voice that readily reached the ears of most of the hearers. The recitations, for the best of which a gold medal had been offered, were exceedingly well rendered; and the committee, to whom was entrusted the delicate task of deciding which was most meritorious, after proceeding upon the fairest plan possible, gave the award to Miss Alice Fitzhugh. The music that was interspersed among the essays and recitations was, we thought, exceedingly good. These young musicians have evidently been carefully trained, both as to the management of the voice and touch of the instrument; and their performances in both vocal and instrumental music reflected credit upon their teachers and honor upon their own attainments. The orchestral selections rendered by piano, violincello and eight violins was, to us, a splendid performance. We have always had a suspicion that there was music in a violin which a man could not call forth, and now that suspicion has been transformed into a fact of experience. A woman's fingers are just the fingers to trend the strings of a violin, and a woman's arm to move the bow across those strings evokes a music from the wonderful instrument that would craze Paganini himself with delight. We here congratulate President Fitzhugh upon the success of the musical department of his college.

Monday evening was devoted to the annual exercises of the Alumnæ Association. Whitworth now has a large number of graduates, and these yearly reunions are occasions of special pleasure. The programme for the evening was good, and was carried out with commendable taste and ability. Mrs. Crosby, the president of the association, presided with a graceful modesty and an authority that easily swayed the great multitude. Mrs. Sexton, of Hazlehurst, read an essay of great interest, and read in a tone of voice that reached every ear, and with an accent that placed her thought clearly before the mind. It has been a long time since we heard anything so well read as her essay. Mrs. Manship, of Jackson, Miss., recited "Carl Potter," with great effectiveness and power. Her manner showed that she had penetrated the deepest meaning of the piece, and her rendering of it captured the whole house. The orator of the evening was Charles E. Hooker, Jr., of Jackson, Miss. As far as we could hear it, the address was appropriate to the occasion, and spoken in fitting words well put together. We think, however, that a speaker owes it to himself, as well as to his audience, to speak so that all can hear every part of every sentence. This the speaker did not do. The habit of lowering the voice at the middle of a sentence, and then letting it get lower and lower until the sentence is finished in an inaudible whisper, is pleasing to very few listeners. The general verdict is, that if a thing is worth saying, it is worth hearing; and to say a thing in a way that half of it is lost is to defeat the object of speech and, therefore, exasperate the hearer! The music for the occasion was happily selected, and rendered according to the best methods of that high art.

Tuesday was the greater day. The exercises consisted in the annual address by Hon. T. Marshall Miller, attorney general of Mississippi; a concert by the members of the musical faculty, the delivery of medals for proficiency in various branches, and presentation of diplomas to the twenty-two graduates by the president. The address of Mr. Miller was a fine effort and a complete success. With a clear voice, whose tones were heard all over the great hall, he enunciated truths and expounded principles to the edification of the school, and to the pleasure of all his hearers. His exposition of the word "hand-maiden" was peculiarly apposite. Altogether, it was one of the best of commencement addresses. The music, furnished by the faculty, was simply superb. In the absence of Dr. Fitzgerald, the lot fell upon this writer to deliver the medals. This being a new line of work for us, we were a little timid about it, but we went through it with as much brass as if we had been used to it for a lifetime. In a few brief and beautiful sentences President Fitzhugh delivered the diplomas to his "sweet girl graduates;" the benediction was pronounced, the large audience slowly filed out of the house, and the brilliant occasion was over.

The editor and wife enjoyed the simple, Christian hospitality of Prof. Ricketts and his family; and a more enjoyable three days we have scarcely ever had, and its pleasant memories will linger about our pathway for many days to come.

Things in the Mississippi Bottom.

BY "GILDEROY."

I am now on my first visit to the Mississippi Bottom — to Greenville. I am here to attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Mississippi Conference. What a country this is! The land is as rich as cream. The crops are fine. There is a world of land yet to be cleared and put into a state of cultivation. When this is done, this country is capable of making cotton and corn enough for the whole United States, and some for the regions beyond. The bottom is a big thing. It is long and wide and deep. Brand-new towns are springing up along the railroads, and new roads are being built. Judging from what I could see from the cars, every third business house is a saloon. The devil is wonderfully enterprising. He gets on the ground among the first. He begins on time, sticks to his business, and holds on until driven out. They say whisky kills malaria. It may—I can't say; but I know it kills men. I had ten times rather die of malaria than of strong drink. Malaria sometimes kills, and strong drink always gets the man who sticks to it. Often it is a long shot, but always a dead-sure one. It doesn't miss fire nor hang fire. The white folks lay the blame of whisky on the negroes, and the negroes lay it on avaricious white men. God knows how it is, and he will make no mistakes in the day of judgment. I am informed that not a single American is engaged in the traffic in Greenville. I wish they could say not one drinks the stuff. The better people down here say we of the hill country can relieve them by adopting a constitutional amendment, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of ardent spirits in the State. Good! Let us try it. Floating saloons ply the waters of the mighty Mississippi. Somebody, some power, will have to take charge of the river. The negro is here, and here he will stay. He can make more here with less labor than in any country on the globe. The negro is fond of eating and drinking—particularly fond of drinking. The freedom of the saloon is one of the inalienable rights of a freeman. Some men—even some white men—will do anything under heaven for money. It doesn't matter what it is, nor how, nor who is hurt by it—money they must have, and money they will have. According to their catechism, the chief end of man is to make money. In the day of God somebody will have to give an awful account for the prostitution and degradation of the negro in all this country. He is here, and he ought to be lifted up, educated and saved.

The women were greatly moved over the importance of missionary work in this country. Missionary women are invariably temperance women, and temperance women missionary. The two things go together. Indeed, Christian work along any one line develops along all lines. Grace enlarges people; sin narrows them. The do-nothings are the care-nothings. If anyone will do the will, he soon comes to know the doctrine of God. Religious practice is the proof and most natural expression of religious principle.

Methodism is now in the ascendency in all this part of the bottom. We must hold what we have, and lay plans to take possession of this whole country in the name of Christ. This country needs strong men, and men of experience in her pulpits—men who know how to lay broad, deep plans. What we do now will tell in the future. The country is filling up rapidly with a good population. Here we should send our best men and do most of our home missionary work. There is no field in Mississippi so promising—none that will pay back such a large dividend on the labor and money expended. In many instances we have thought anything and anybody would do for the Mississippi bottom. This has been a mistake and our real weakness in the past. A majority of the white people here are intelligent, cultivated men and women, capable of appreciating and supporting the best, and they are not niggardly in the matter of support. There is a very great future before this valley, infinitely richer and larger than the valley of the Nile.

The better men and women here are deeply concerned for the negroes; and they are here by the hundreds of thousands. It is positively a sin and a shame that the Christian people of this fair land are doing so little—in a manner, nothing—for the elevation and salvation of these masses right here at our doors. They are on our farms and in our houses, and yet they are shamefully neglected. We have here a great opportunity. It is passing by unimproved. God will call us to account for this neglect. It is true that we set them up in a church of their own; and then fell back congratulating ourselves on having done some great thing, and having eased our consciences of a great burden. My own conscience is not going to be at rest until we have some well-defined system of evangelism efficiently worked and liberally supported among these freedmen. It must be done, or sin will lie at our door. Every hour of delay makes matters worse and greatly increases the difficulties to be overcome. Excuses are plentiful and plausible, but they vanish into thin air when one gets on his knees in his closet before God. We can not carry these excuses in prayer to the blood-stained mercy-seat. They look black and sinful when laid at the foot of the cross. They are utterly unworthy of us, of our Lord, and of the religion we profess. The sooner we throw them away and buckle on the armor of God and go at this work in good earnest, the better it will be for us and for all concerned. The obligations of this work rest upon every individual Christian—on you and on me. Shirking is sin. God help us.

The missionary meeting will, doubtless, be written up for you by a more competent hand, so I will leave that to another scribe.

Jackson, La.

The future is uncertain, but the past is unchangeable. When Horace said, "I have lived," he felt that the past of one's life is an indefeasible possession. I have lived, Mr. Editor, for one year in a town where no intoxicants are sold, except as medicines. Peace and order prevail where years ago, at least, one a year was killed in some violent conflict on the streets. This year we have seen only enough of the effects of whisky to make our people rejoice in their five-mile prohibitory act. One man came rushing into town the other day with the blue devils after him. He was fleeing from his brother who, it is said, had sold him the drink that had run him crazy, and then was trying to save him from self-destruction. They lived six miles from our town, and the sight of them made every sensible man say, Amen! to prohibition law and its good effects.

We have had a very orderly and studious set of young men at the college. The Young Men's Christian Association has been a power for good in the college and in the community. I doubt if a town could be found where all the social influences are less antagonistic to virtue or more helpful to good morals than they are in the quiet village of Jackson, La. It is well for Centenary College to be located among a people who are friends in every sense to Christian education.

W. L. C. H.

Notes.

The contributions for the relief of the sufferers from the Conemaugh disaster footed up, June 9, $3,600,000, and the fund was still growing at the rate of $360,000 a day.

About a year ago the Richmond Christian Advocate was offered on trial" for one dollar a year. Dr. Lafferty gives this account of the experiment:

Our brethren wished to stop all excuses of stinginess or ignorance, and urged that we send the paper on trial" a year for the nominal price of $1 to people who had not seen it. We have always been forward to make any reasonable effort to get a religious paper among our people. A full experiment has been made on the dollar trial trip. It is now withdrawn. We have done our part. Our preachers have found out who the people are that do not want religious reading at any price, and that the pretense of "too high" was only a dodge of duty.

The year is hardly half gone, yet it may be characterized as the year of unprecedented calamities. The Conemaugh disaster sent a shudder through the world, and before the extent of the destruction could be known the great fire in Seattle licked up somewhere between 15 and 30 millions of dollars. The ashes were still smouldering when the cable brought the news of a railroad disaster in Ireland, by which the hopes of a Sunday-school picnic were destroyed, and as many as 70 parents and children crushed to death. Hardly had this sad news been read before it flashed over the wires that the city of Luchow, in China, had been destroyed by fire, and ten thousand lives lost! Surely calamities come in groups.

There is no great calamity that does not show a background of relief somewhere. The terrible catastrophe at Johnstown waked up the latent charity of the land in a way which demonstrates sympathy with the sufferers, pouring itself out in mighty streams of benevolence. With all the badness of human nature there is seen, deep down in it, a genuine and heroic beneficence that springs up to alleviate sorrow and woe. There is hope for humanity yet. What an answer this generous giving to the Johnstown sufferers is to the selfish pessimism of the day! It proves that men are not indifferent to the condition of want and helplessness into which such calamities plunge thousands of their fellow-creatures. The cry of the stricken has opened hearts long closed, and the flow of money to aid the needy has been a double blessing all along its track.

The Presbyterians are stirred on the subject of revision of the Confession of Faith. The Northern General Assembly has sent down the matter of revision to the Presbyteries, and the question is opened to debate in the whole church. A writer in the Evangelist, of New York, says that the Confession has been revised by the English Presbyterian Church and the Free Presbyterian Church of Scotland, and that the Free Church of Scotland is preparing for revision, and a movement in the same direction has been set afoot in New Zealand. Thus he says: "Revision, like England's drum-beat, is circling the globe." In regard to this matter, the writer quoted above, who favors the revision, says: "It would meet the feeling of very many if the Westminster Confession were left intact, and a shorter and a simpler Confession adopted for common use. It would not be surprising if this were the outcome of it all."

The Samoan Conference, at Berlin, has completed its work, and the treaty between our government and Germany and England for the settlement of affairs in Samoa has been signed by all the members of the Conference. The terms of the treaty have not been published, the Americans making their adhesion conditional upon the ratification of it by the United States Senate. The statu quo will, therefore, be maintained in Samoa until December. In regard to the terms of treaty the dispatches say:

The draft guarantees an autonomous administration of the Islands under the joint control of Germany and America, England acting as arbitrator in the event of differences arising. The Samoans are to elect their own king and viceroy, and to be represented in a senate composed of the principal chiefs and chambers elected by the people. Samoa is to have the right of levying duties of every kind. The treaty stipulates that the Germans shall receive a money indemnity for their losses. A special court will be appointed to deal with the land question.

Personal and Otherwise.

The World's Sunday-school Convention meets in London, July 2-5. If you want to attend, you can have the round-trip, including hotel at the Midland Grand Hotel, London, for $160; good for thirty-one days. Address W. N. Hartshorn, 50 Bromfield St., Boston.

Our brother, Rev. A. D. Miller, and family, have been visited by a severe affliction in the loss of a son. Others of the family, including Bro. Miller, have also been sick, but, we trust, are better. Bro. Miller writes, "God is with us, and his grace sustains us."

Brethren should remember that only half of the church extension collection goes to the General Board, and that half should go by way of the Conference Board. Brethren should send their collections to the Conference treasurer.

Bro. Sawyer held interesting and edifying revival services during last week at his mission at 700 Annunciation street. Several persons professed conversion, and the audiences were large and attentive.

Rev. W. W. Williams writes that Rev. J. P. Commander, a superannuate of the North Mississippi Conference, died at his home, in Attala county, Miss., June 7. He had been preaching in Mississippi for forty years. "The memory of the just is blessed."

Dr. Anson West, of the North Alabama Conference, is engaged on a "History of Methodism in Alabama."

The Richmond Advocate says: "Rev. G. W. Carter preached his first sermon on Sunday night at the chapel in Ashland, from the text, 'Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?' to a very large congregation. It was a sermon of wonderful simplicity and power. He has lost none of his old-time acuteness in analysis or directness and pathos in enforcing truth."

One of our exchanges says there have been organized in the United States 822 life insurance companies, and of this number only 47 are alive and doing business to-day.

The Interior says, "High-churchism is a little fellow trying to make himself big by walking on stilts."

That thousand dollars that is to send our next missionary to Japan is lying idle somewhere. Brother, can't you join us on that ten-dollar proposition? Sister, won't you join and help us?

Central College, Missouri, has conferred the degree of Doctor Divinitatis upon Rev. S. Halsey Werlein, formerly of this city.

Rev. J. W. Malone, of North Mississippi Conference, has been honored by the Correspondence University, of Chicago, with the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Rev. R. M. Standifer, presiding elder of the Greenville district, North Mississippi, writes, June 15: "The district is moving on handsomely. There has been an increase of over twenty-five per cent. in the membership by profession of faith this year, besides many have joined by certificate. Prospects were never brighter for the Greenville district."

A Southern University for Girls has been projected by the citizens of Sheffield, Ala. Dr. Haygood has been enlisted in the cause. In a letter to Hon. W. L. Chambers, dated June 12, he says: "I can promise only this much: To try as hard in Alabama to 'serve my generation by the will of God,' as I have tried in Georgia." That means success to the institution, and we congratulate everybody, and especially the Southern girls, on this new outlook.

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

We are indebted to the Southern Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, Tenn., for copies of the new hymn book. These books are well bound, some of them in elegant style, and reflect credit on the taste and enterprise of the House. They range in price from twenty-five cents up to $2 50. The prices bring the book within reach of everybody, and we advise all readers of the ADVOCATE to secure the hymn book as soon as possible.

THE RELATION OF PASTOR AND PEOPLE. A sermon by Rev. T. A. Kerley, of the Tennessee Conference. Southern Methodist Publishing House, Nashville, Tenn. Price, ten cents.

This is a good theme well treated, and will do good wherever read.

OUR HYMNS AND THEIR AUTHORS. An Annotated Edition of the Hymn Book of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. By Rev. William F. Tillett, D. D., Professor of Systematic Theology in Vanderbilt University. Southern Methodist Publishing House, Nashville, Tenn.

Prof. Tillett has done a work of great value to all lovers of hymnology. All history is interesting, and the history of a hymn is no exception. It is of great service, in order to the understanding of a hymn, to know something of its author and the circumstances under which it was written. With patience Prof. Tillett has gone over the whole field covered by our new Hymn Book, and has given us the results in the rich and interesting notes appended to each hymn. These notes, we believe, will greatly assist our people to a proper appreciation of their new book and give an inspiration to their singing which they would not otherwise have. There is a valuable "Biographical Index of the Authors of the Hymns," in which the chief points in the life and character of the hymn writer are lucidly portrayed. There is also an "Index of Subjects," which will delight the soul of every preacher, for now, having selected his subject for preaching, the hymn can be readily found. Let every family be sure to procure one copy of the Annotated Hymn Book.

THE MAN OF GALILEE. By Dr. A. G. Haygood. Hunt and Eaton, New York. A. G. Haygood, Jr., Decatur, Ga. Price, eighty cents.

We have read all the books about Christ that we could get hold of, and we hesitate not to say that this is, to us, the most satisfactory of them all. It is the smallest in size of them all, and the greatest of all in matter. It is packed from opening to close with strong thought and argument. It seems to us the argument is so solidly built that there can be no escape from its conclusion, that the "Man of Galilee" is the "Son of the Living God." This is a chief among the few books of the day that is worthy of deep study.

PERIODICALS.

—Musical Herald is a monthly publication on musical subjects published from Franklin Square, Boston. Price, ten cents.

—Book-News, for June, is an exceedingly interesting number. It is a valuable periodical for all readers and lovers of books. Published by John Wanamaker, Philadelphia. Price, fifty cents a year, or five cents a number.

—The Shireal Messenger, for June, contains valuable reading for students of the heavenly bodies and their movements, and the laws governing the same. Northfield, Minn. Price, $2

—The Studio is a monthly journal devoted to the fine arts, and will be specially interesting to lovers of art. Studio Publishing Company, New York. Price, thirty cents.

Literary Notes.

Anson D. F. Randolph & Co. will publish immediately, by arrangement, "Unknown Switzerland," by Victor Tissot, translated by Mrs. Wilson. "The Imitation of Christ," by Thomas Kempis, now for the first time set forth in rhythmic sentences, according to the original intention of the author, with a preface by the translator and an introductory note by Canon Liddon, of St. Paul's.

The political prisoners at the mines of Kara, having considerable liberty and being allowed to live in their own cabins, are known as the "free command." In Mr. Kennan's Siberian paper in the forthcoming July Century he relates the story of a remarkable evening spent at a gathering of "politicals" in the cabin of Miss Armfeldt, one of their number.

Frederic Remington, the artist, who has several times shown his ability to write an interesting magazine paper as well as to illustrate one, will describe the Apaches and the Comanches in an article entitled "On the Indian Reservations," in the July Century. Among the dozen illustrations is a striking full-page picture of an Indian horse-race, "Coming over the Scratch"—seemingly sketched from just in front of the horses' heads. Hamilton W. Mabie, of the Christian Union, writes an open letter in the same number of the Century, entitled "Indians, and Indians," in which he takes a higher view of the possibilities of the red man than does Mr. Remington.

Mansfield Female College.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

THURSDAY NIGHT, JUNE 20.

Concert. Contest for Medal in Elocution. Contest for Medal in Music.

FRIDAY NIGHT, JUNE 21.

Exhibition of Primary Department.

SATURDAY NIGHT, JUNE 22.

Music, Tableaux, Recitations, Flag Drill.

SUNDAY, JUNE 23.

Commencement Sermon by Rev. W. L. C. Hunnicutt, D. D., President of Centenary College.

MONDAY, JUNE 24.

11 A. M.—Art Reception, Presentation of Medals. Night.—"The Bells," "The Spinning Wheel," Harmonic Gesture Drill, etc. Address to Elocution Class and Presentation of Medal, by Rev. A. D. McVoy, Jr., A. M.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25.

Alumnæ Exercises. Address, by Prof. Q. T. Bugg, of Shreveport; Original Poem, by Miss Addie McGrath, of Baton Rouge; Essay, by Mrs. Mattie Williams, of Shreveport. "Piano Recital" of Graduating Class in Music.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26.

Commencement Day. Graduating Exercises. Baccalaureate by President Rev. A. D. McVoy, Sr.

Excursion rates expected on the T. and P. R. R.

Notice.

Delegates and visitors to the Annual Convention of Woman's Missionary Society, to be held at Delhi, La., July 5-8, are requested to write to Miss Minnie Thompson, Cor. Sec., Delhi Auxiliary, so they may be provided with homes. Do not forget to take certificates from railroad agents wherever tickets are purchased to insure reduced fare returning.

E. J. FULLILOVE, President.

Tribute of Respect.

Whereas, Miss Anna Clara Chrisman, lately appointed missionary to Brazil by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, having left her home at Beauregard, Miss., on Wednesday, May 29, ultimo, for her new field of labor, and being overtaken by the disaster which befell Conemaugh Valley, Penn., on the following Friday, May 31, by which her life was sacrificed; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the sad and unexpected death of Miss Chrisman, the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, sustains a loss that can not be easily repaired; that it loses one of its brightest Christian characters, and the Brazil Mission, one who bade fair to be numbered among its most faithful, noble and energetic workers; while we of the Natchez Auxiliary, who so recently gazed upon her bright, happy face, humble ourselves before Almighty God, beseeching him to resign us to his will, which now seems so hard to understand, but which shall be made plain to us in the sweet hereafter.

Resolved, That we extend our sympathies to the Brazil Mission, and especially to Miss Mattie Watts, who looked forward to the coming of Miss Chrisman with bright anticipation of future work. May our heavenly Father prepare her to receive the sad news which awaits her, and soon send another helper!

Resolved, That our sympathies are due the Beauregard Auxiliary; that while with sorrow they bade farewell to their loved member, they cherished the hope of seeing her again and of hearing from her often. Our prayers go out for them that they may be more closely bound together as a band of Christian workers, and that if God should call another of their membership, she may cheerfully obey.

Resolved, That we extend to the mother, sister and aged grandparents our heartfelt sympathies in this hour of deep anguish and sorrow, which none but him who gave and hath taken away can understand. And we pray that he, whose great, loving nature sympathized with the widow and sisters of old, may so pour the balm of consolation into their hearts, that they shall be able to say, "The Lord doeth all things well; though he slay me, yet will I trust in him."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded the family of Miss Chrisman, and Miss Watts in Brazil, and a copy also be sent to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE for publication.

MRS. GEO. W. REMBERT,
MRS. ROBT. F. REED,
MRS. DRAKE GUICE,
Committee.

Free Scholarships

IN THE BIBLICAL DEPARTMENT OF VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

The Board of Trust of Vanderbilt University have established in connection with the Biblical Department ten free scholarships, yielding each one hundred dollars per annum, to be awarded annually to students pursuing the full theological course of study, and subject to the following conditions of award:

(1) The applicant must be a college graduate, and the application should be accompanied by the endorsement of the faculty of the college or university at which he has graduated, recommending him as a suitable person in character and scholarship to be admitted into the Biblical Department of the University, and to receive one of these scholarships.

(2) The applicant must give evidence that he needs the assistance sought to enable him to prosecute his studies in preparation for the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

(3) The scholarships for 1889-90 will be awarded by the theological faculty, not later than August 15, 1889, to those applicants who shall give the best evidence of high standing in their collegiate studies. As, therefore, they are to be awarded on merit of scholarship, it is desirable that the recommendations of the college faculties accompanying the applications should state the standing of the applicant in his college course.

(4) Worthy applicants who fail to receive a scholarship the first year may yet receive aid from the Ministerial Loan Fund of the Biblical Department, sufficient to meet the cost of board in Wesley Hall, and may, if their class standing justifies it, receive a free scholarship for their second (or middle) year in the theological course.

(5) Applications for scholarships for 1889-90 should be sent in to the dean of the Biblical Department by August 1, 1889. For catalogue and other information, address

PROF. W. F. TILLETT, Dean,
Nashville, Tenn.

Students of medicine would do well to send for the catalogue of the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

The Seashore Camp Meeting,

—ON THE—

GULF COAST, near BILOXI, MISS.,

Will Commence JULY 5, and Last Ten Days.

W. C. T. U. DAY is Tuesday, JULY 16th.

Reduced Railroad Rates have been secured. Grounds are beautiful, and everything ready for the large crowd coming from all directions.

For particulars as to board, renting tents, etc., address either of the following Trustees: W. J. HEARIN, Mobile, President; J. H. KELLER, N. O., Vice-President; P. WERLEIN, N. O., Treasurer; J. G. GRANT, N. O., Recording Secretary; D. L. MITCHEL, N. O., Financial Secretary; B. O. L. RAYNE, W. B. THOMSON, J. H. CAMPMAN, E. P. MACKIE, N. O., La.; A. C. DANNER, C. H. LINDSEY, W. OTIS, Mobile, Ala.; J. H. LAKIN, Montgomery, Ala.; DR. E. F. GRIFFIN, Moss Point, Miss.; J. P. CARTER, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Another Missionary to Japan.

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Shelmire	10 00

A Request for Prayers.

The presiding elders in charge of the Seashore Camp Meeting, realizing the importance of that meeting to a vast scope of our Southern country, and particularly to the Gulf Coast region, deem it proper and right thus publicly to request the prayers of all Christian people for the success of the meeting to be held July 5-15, next. Many persons attend this meeting who seldom hear the gospel preached elsewhere; some who are brought in contact with evangelical agencies nowhere else. The attendance this year promises to be unusually large. A baptism of the Holy Ghost upon the multitude at Seashore will be felt for good through more than three States. Brethren, pray for us!

A. J. LAMAR, P. E.,
Mobile District.
T. S. WEST, P. E.,
Seashore District.
CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.,
New Orleans District.

Help the Prisoner.

An organ in our chapel would be great assistance in our services. One man can not lead the singing of a large congregation of white and black men. I ask one contribution from Baptist, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday-schools to enable me to pay for the organ for which I have bargained. Please help me this much. If more money is received than is needed for the instrument, it will be used in buying Bibles and song books.

H. F. SPROLES, Chaplain.

I know Dr. Sproles well, tho earnest chaplain of the Mississippi Penitentiary. For five years I served in that capacity, I cordially endorse his modest plea.

CHAS. R. GALLOWAY.

JACKSON, MISS., JUNE 14, 1889.

Publisher's Department.

TALLULAH FALLS.

To lie, full length, along a grassy slope,
High up among the grand sky-kissing hills;
To drift in dreams of mingled joy and hope,
And drink pure air, is cure for countless ills.

"But when and where?" these questions then arise,
And soon a voice angelic sweetly calls:
"In torrid summer fly to balmier skies,
From sweltering cities, seek Tallulah Falls."

DAVES' TRAINING-SCHOOL.—Daves' Training-School, Lake Charles, La. Joel T. Daves, Walter W. Daves, Principals. Competent teachers supplied as necessity arises. Honest, real work in all departments. Discipline strict, but not harsh. Obedience and study conditions of membership. Pupils prepared for advanced college classes, or for practical duties of life. Pupils desiring to take music will have the advantages of Madame Mercier-Peavy's training, which has but few equals and no superiors. A full course of practical book-keeping without extra charge to regular pupils. To those taking book-keeping alone, the tuition is $5 per month. For Annual Announcement and full particulars address Principals.

An old parish clerk was courteously thanking a church dignitary for kindly taking, on emergency, a village service. "A worse preacher would have done us, sir," he said, "if we only knew where to find him."

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Mr. Hayseed (to wife, who is returned from church)—"What was the sermon about?" Mrs. Hayseed—"Su'thin' about Joseph goin' daun to Egypt to buy corn." Mr. Hayseed—"Did the preacher say what corn's wu'th daun there?"

CHANGES.—We have quite a number of orders to change the address of subscribers; some without signatures, and others who do not give the former address. Under these circumstances, change can not be made.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT
80 CAMP STREET.
Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.
FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK RODER, Vice-President. ED. CLAUSSEN, Cashier.
Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.
Directors—Phil. W. Diehlmann, Frank Roder, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Klumpp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Rirks, Fred Peters and Louis Leonhard.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN., the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,
R. L. SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.
Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As HEALTHFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, not salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad.
FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 10, 1889.
For full particulars send for Catalogues.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.
TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.
Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.
LEAHY & WEBER,
ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,
The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters
FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.
Dauphine Street. Two Blocks from Canal Street.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD
R. B. TODD & SON,
Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.
OFFICE, 199 GRAVIER ST.
Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,
Homeopathic Physician,
288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.
Cases treated by letter.

CLIFF HOUSE AND COTTAGES.
At Tallulah Falls,
THE NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH.
The Cliff House is the best equipped summer resort hotel in the Blue Ridge Mountains.
For descriptive pamphlet address
J. C. S. TIMBERLAKE, Manager,
Tallulah Falls, Ga.

WANTED!
A white woman to do general housework. For particulars address
REV. D. C. FOUST,
Winona, Miss.

DEGREES,
FIRST AND POST-GRADUATES,
Conferred without residence. Any one can secure this desirable end by pursuing a course of study by CORRESPONDENCE under eminent College Professors at slight cost. Information of Courses, Professors, etc., given in our UNION READING CIRCLE, a large 16-page literary journal, sample copy of which and application form for membership will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cts. in postage stamps. Address COR. UNIVERSITY, 147 THROOP ST., CHICAGO, ILL. N. B.—Situations to teach free to members and subscribers. Agents wanted.
When writing, mention this paper.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.
COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,
BUILDERS,
OFFICE: 42 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.
287 EIGHTH ST.,
Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Both building and repairing promptly attended to

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood,"
"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"
and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.
Mention this Paper.

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Mention this paper.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

Summer Homes by the Sounding Sea.
The sounding C on one of Ditson Company's famous GUITARS; BANJOS; MANDOLINS is always in unison with the restful pleasure of summer days in summer pleasant places. Don't go to a music-less house! Take with you one of our light, portable musical instruments!
Seasonable and most enjoyable music books are:
COLLEGE SONGS 50 cts., 150,000 sold.
COLLEGE SONGS for Banjo $1., Guitar ($1).
GOOD OLD SONGS WE USED TO SING ($1).
PRAISE IN SONG 35 cts.). New Gospel Songs.
TEMPERANCE RALLYING SONGS (35 cts.).
SONG HARMONY 60 cts.). Fine 4 part songs.
POPULAR SONG COLLECTION ($1), 37 good songs.
SING CLASSICS $1), 50 high-class songs.
SONG CLASSICS, ALTO VOICE ($1), 47 songs.
CLASSIC TENOR SONGS ($1) 36 songs.
CLASSIC BARITONE OR BASS SONGS ($1), 33 songs.
CHOICE VOCAL DUETS $1). The newest.
POPULAR DANCE MUSIC COLLECTION ($1).
POPULAR PIANO COLLECTION ($1), 27 pieces.
CLASSICAL PIANIST ($1., 32 pieces.
PIANO CLASSICS ($1). 41 pieces.
Also music in quantity and variety for all instruments. Send for catalogues, free.
Any Book or Piece Mailed for Retail Price!
Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.
C. H. DITSON & . 867 Broadway, New York.

WALL PAPER.
In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty.
WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES,
WIRE SCREEN AND WEATHER STRIPS,
UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.
Framing Neatly Done.
PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS,
RUSS MATS AND MATTINGS.
EDWARD HEATH,
Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,
General Insurance Agents
—FOR—
FIRE, RIVER, MARINE,
ACCIDENT and BONDING
COMPANIES.
Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.
Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.
64 BARONNE ST., N. O.
Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Crescent Insurance Co.
Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.
CASH CAPITAL.....$300,000
Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849.
Annual and Term Policies Issued on Desirable Fire Business.
W. R. LYMAN, President.
JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-Pres.
CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.
See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.
Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

PAINLESS EFFECTUAL
BEECHAM'S PILLS
THE GREAT ENGLISH MEDICINE WORTH A GUINEA A BOX

For Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain in the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after Meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c. THE FIRST DOSE WILL GIVE RELIEF IN TWENTY MINUTES. This is no fiction. Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be a Wonderful Medicine.—"Worth a guinea a box."

BEECHAM'S PILLS, taken as directed, will quickly restore females to complete health. For a

WEAK STOMACH; IMPAIRED DIGESTION; DISORDERED LIVER;

they ACT LIKE MAGIC:—a few doses will work wonders upon the Vital Organs; Strengthening the muscular System; restoring long-lost Complexion; bringing back the keen edge of appetite, and arousing with the ROSEBUD OF HEALTH the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, in all classes of society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is that BEECHAM'S PILLS HAVE THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY PATENT MEDICINE IN THE WORLD. Full directions with each Box.

Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.
Sold by Druggists generally. B. F. ALLEN & CO., 365 and 367 Canal St., New York, Sole Agents for the United States, who, (if your druggist does not keep them,)
WILL MAIL BEECHAM'S PILLS ON RECEIPT OF PRICE 25 CENTS A BOX.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)
Price, 80 Cents.
HUNT & EATON, 805 Broadway, New York;
CRANSTON & STOWE, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY
A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.
Mention this paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,
H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.
(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)
CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!
Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.
Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.
We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.
Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.
Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address
H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

ADAMS' HATS!
26 ST. CHARLES ST.

ESTABLISHED 1868.
A. A. WOODS. L. H. TOURSINE.
WALTER SCOTT. A. F. GODAT.
A. A. WOODS & CO.,
General Insurance Agency,
184 GRAVIER STREET,
OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.
Total Assets over $200,000,000.
Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.
Mention this paper.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.
No. 78 CAMP STREET.
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - - $413,850.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - - $459,369.50
Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.
LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.
Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y.
J. H. WOODS, JOS. BAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, NO. J. BARR, ANDREW STEWART, IAS. CHAFFE, J. B. LEVERT, E. BORLAND, J. BORN, F. STRINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON
LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.
Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,
14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000
Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.
TRUSTEES.—Robt Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. H. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, H. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.
New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company
OF NEW ORLEANS.
54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54
Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.
FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.
This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.
FINANCE COMMITTEE.
John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwahacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."
A. W. SKARDON & SON,
Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,
643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,
Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.
Particular attention paid to country orders.
No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

Artificial Limbs,
Trusses and Surgical Appliances Made to Order and Adjusted
—BY—
A. McDERMOTT,
200 - - - St. Charles Street - - - - - - 200
Bet. Julia and St. Joseph.

Our Young People.

UPSETTING THE WATER-PAIL.

BY M. E. S. HATHEWAY.

The patter of rain-drops was heard on the roof,
So the children were tbld under cover to stay;
And that was the reason that trollesome Fred
Was down in the kitchen that morning at play.

A train of misbances pursued his career—
First a burn, then a scratch, and a jam in the door;
Then into a big pail of water he fell,
Upsetting the same on the clean kitchen floor.

O, wild were the shrieks that arose on the air
From Fred in convulsions, and Bridget in wrath
At finding herself and her tidy domains
Disordered and splashed by this troublesome bath.

But an angel of peace in the shape of mamma
Descended from regions above; to the scene;
And out of the chaos soon Bridget emerged,
Her kitchen at rights, and her temper serene.

While Master Fred, clad in a suit of dry clothes,
With injuries bandaged, and terrors allayed,
For a few fleeting moments consented to be
A cherub of sweetness in beauty arrayed.

Just then, from the clouds hanging low overhead,
Came the rain in a downfall of swift, heavy showers,
That deluged the ground, turning paths into brooks,
Permeating the grasses and drowning the flowers.

As Fred, looking forth from a window beheld
The flood rushing past, and the garden soaked through,
He shouted aloud in a transport of glee:
"O, God has upset a big water-pail, too!"
—Independent.

MR. EDITOR: As you were so kind to publish my last letter, I thought I would write again. I have one brother and one sister. I am younger than either of them, and I have never had much to do till this year. I have had to act boy and girl both. I have had to help mamma about the house, and help papa in the field. My brother has been going to school in Crystal Springs, and my sister in Whitworth College. My papa is a farmer. I will answer Susie Havens' question: Moses was buried in a valley in the land of Moab, but no man knoweth of his sepulchre. I will ask the cousins a question: How old was Jehoram when he began to reign in Jerusalem, and how long did he reign?

The little cousins' friend,
GEORGE W. SISTRUNK, JR.
CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: Since learning to read I have become very fond of the children's department in your paper, and as I have never seen a letter from this place, I have concluded to write myself. I am nine years old, and, of course, attend day-school and Sunday-school. Our superintendent is Mr. J. M. Black. My teacher is Mrs. D. M. Birdsong. Our pastor is Bro. E. S. Jones, and is very much beloved. He has just closed a meeting in which numbers were converted and many joined the church. It was the best we have ever had at this place. I hope to go to Jackson this week with mother to hear Rev. Sam Jones preach. With many good wishes for you and your paper, I remain,

Your little friend,
LOUISE SHARKEY.
BOLTON, Mississippi.

Lifting the Hat.

Politeness costs nothing, and yet it does not come without an effort, and the best time to cultivate it is in early life. Of one form of politeness, lifting the hat, Harper's Young People says:

The lifted hat, for instance, is a sign of respect from one person to another, a brief way of saying, without words, "I hold you in honor, and am glad to do so." Only a boor keeps his hat on in the house, where, for one thing, he does not need its shelter from wind and weather, and where ladies have their abode. A gentleman always raises his hat, when he meets them, to the ladies whom he knows, and some of the most finished gentlemen of the old school, not content with a mere lifting, take their hats off, and stand bareheaded while speaking with women on the street or at the door of a house. But how are boys to learn the easy, graceful lifting of the hat—the instinctive homage of strength to weakness, of the gentleman to the lady? Only by practicing it from babyhood on.

"Max lifted his hat to a girl!" exclaimed Willie, who had come to New York from a town where boys of fifteen were not accustomed to pay such attention to their girl friends.

"Of course," said Max. "Every fellow does. What do you take me for?"

"And you bowed to your mother, as if you had not seen her a half dozen times to-day."

"Certainly," returned Max. "A fellow who didn't know enough to bow to his mother when he met her couldn't go with our fellows, let me tell you. Why, Will, we all do that."

And Willie who, at heart, was a mother-loving lad, needing only polish, resolved to copy his cousin.

Do not under-rate polish. A diamond in the rough may possess value, but a diamond after the cutter's tool has brought out its smoothness and beauty will command a much greater price in the market.

"I know that Stanley is forgetful of politeness," apologized a fond mother for a little son who habitually kept on his hat in the house, whistled at the dinner table, interrupted conversation, and strewed his possessions broadest over parlors and sitting-room. "But," she continued, "boys will be boys. He will do better when he is older."

Possibly. Yet the doing better then will be at the cost of much snubbing and sharp usage from the world, and politeness will never be the second nature to this boy that it is to one who is never allowed to omit a courtesy.

WHERE HE LEARNED IT.—He was a pretty little fellow, but it was his manners, not his looks, that attracted everybody—clerks in the stores, people in the horse cars, men, women and children. A four-year old who, if anybody said to him, "How do you do?" answered, "I am well, thank you;" and if he had a request to make, be it of friend or stranger, began it with "Please." And the beauty of it was that the "thanks" and "please" were so much a matter of course to the child that he never knew he was doing anything at all noticeable.

"How cunning it is," said a showy woman to his mother, as they sat at the public table of a hotel one day, "to hear that child thank the waiters, and say 'please' when he wants anything. I never saw anything so sweet. My children have to be constantly told, if I want them to thank people. How well you must have taught him that he never forgets."

"He has always been accustomed to it," said the mother. "We have always said 'please' to him when we wished him to do anything, and have thanked him. He knows no other way."

The showy woman looked as though she did not need any further explanation of the way in which his habits were formed.

Probably you do not.—Wide Awake.

A TRAITOROUS ROOSTER.—Here was a private soldier who would have made a good judge. He would have known how "to construe the law," as the phrase is, so as to get justice done.

Two men were cooking a fat fowl at their camp-fire, when a corporal sniffed the unaccustomed odor.

"Hullo, boys! where did you get that chicken?"

"Oh, we confiscated him for talking treason."

"Talking treason! What do mean? Chickens can't talk."

"No, but they can crow; and as sure as you live, we caught this rooster, this very afternoon, crowing with all his might for Jeff Davis."

The corporal passed on.

BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic on a weak stomach.

"Who is your family physician, Freddy?" asked Mrs. Hendricks of the Brown boy. "We got none," said the boy. "Pa's a homeopath, ma's an allopath, Sister Jane is a Christian scientist, grandpa and grandma buys all the quack medicines going, Uncle James believes in massage, and Brother Bill is a horse doctor. I tell you, sir, we're in a bad shape."

MANLY PURITY AND BEAUTY
CUTICURA REMEDIES CURE SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES FROM PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.
NO PEN CAN DO JUSTICE TO THE ESTEEM in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES are held by the thousands upon thousands whose lives have been made happy by the cure of agonizing, humiliating, itching, scaly, and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair.
CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are a positive cure for every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.
Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.
Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."
Pimples, black-heads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.
Rheumatism, Kidney Pains and Weakness speedily cured by CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster.

Household.

Aunt Susan's Suggestions to a Fretful Wife.

"Hester!" exclaimed Aunt Susan, ceasing her rocking and knitting, and sitting upright, "do you know what your husband will do when you are dead?"

"What do you mean?" was the startled reply.

"He will marry the sweetest-tempered girl he can find."

"O, auntie!" Hester began.

"Don't interrupt me until I've finished," said Aunt Susan, leaning back and taking up her knitting. "She may not be as good a housekeeper as you are; in fact, I think not; but she will be good natured."

"Why, auntie—"

"That isn't all," composedly continued Aunt Susan. "To-day your husband was half-way across the kitchen floor, bringing you the first ripe peaches, and all you did was to look on, and say: 'There, Will, just see your tracks on my clean floor! I won't have my floors all tracked up.' Some men would have thrown the peaches out of the window. To-day you screwed up your face when he kissed you, because his moustache was damp, and said, 'I never want you to kiss me again.' When he empties anything, you tell him not to spill it: when he lifts anything, you tell him not to break it. From morning until night your sharp voice is heard complaining and fault-finding. And last winter, when you were sick, you scolded him about his allowing the pump to freeze, and took no notice when he said, 'I was so anxious about you that I did not think of the pump.'"

"But, auntie—"

"Hearken, child. The strongest and most intelligent of them all care more for a woman's tenderness than for anything else in the world; and without this the cleverest and most perfect housekeeper is sure to lose her husband's affection in time. There may be a few more like Will—as gentle, as loving, as chivalrous, as forgetful of self, and so satisfied with loving that their affections will die a long, struggling death; but in most cases it takes but a few years of fretfulness and fault-finding to turn a husband's love into irritated indifference."

"But, auntie—"

"Yes; well, you are not dead yet, and that sweet-natured woman has not been found; so you have time to become so serene and sweet that your husband can never imagine that there is a better-tempered woman in existence."

THE CARPET WORM.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says: "Last year I noticed inquiries innumerable for protection against the buffalo moth or carpet worm. Although my neighbors have suffered from its invasion to the extent of ruined carpets, clothing, etc., I have never, during my twenty years of housekeeping, had a moth of any description, and attribute my immunity entirely to the use of turpentine. After each of my carpets is well swept, it is at once gone over with the following mixture: To three quarts of pure, cold water, add three tablespoonfuls of turpentine. In this thoroughly saturate a sponge, squeeze about two-thirds dry, and go over each breadth separately and in all the corners. As soon as the water becomes soiled, take a fresh supply. You will be surprised to see how beautifully it will clean your carpets, besides being one of the best disinfectants."

Can a mother be too devoted to her children? Yes. She can watch over their physical welfare so unremittingly as to injure her own health; her condition will then react upon her offspring, making them nervous and irritable, and she does not understand why. Scarcely allowing them out of her presence during their waking hours, her devotion blinds her to the imperative need of change, both for herself and them. Again, she may make herself a slave to a child's desire for amusement by never leaving it to its own resources. Or she may train it to become helpless and dependent by always picking up its things, under a mistaken idea that happiness consists in smooth paths for the feet. Sometimes the very highest maternal devotion may lie in the direction of neglecting the child for the purpose of taking care of one's self.

The Safest
AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Boughton, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

MASON & HAMLIN
The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. ORGANS $22 TO $900. One hundred styles from $22 to $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved PIANOS GRAND & UPRIGHT by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.
Pianos and organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

NEW SHEET MUSIC
SONGS.
SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Frederic Vesi. An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Tuneful lines, for Soprano or Alto. Price, 40c.
WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Bryant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price, 30c.
NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. D. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a melody that sings itself. Price, 30cts.
PIANO MUSIC.
GALATEA GAVOTTE. By BARCLAY WALKER. A bright and charming composition in the key of the well-known "Militaire." Price, 50c.
MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By FRANZ WALD. A stirring and excellent Military March of fourth grade of difficulty. Price, 60cts.
ALBUMBLATT. By LOUIS SCHEHLMANN. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the style of a nocturne. Price, 30cts.
, Any of the above, or any other sheet music will be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.
PUBLISHED BY
THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, O. And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Ellis Bros. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle sent prepaid.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit. Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an inebriate wreck. It never Fails. We Guarantee a complete cure in every instance. 48 page book free. GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

HAVE YOU GOT PILES
Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding and Protruding, yield at once to DR. BO-SAN-KO'S PILE REMEDY, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. Druggists or mail; trial size free. Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO
SUCCESSORS IN BLYMYER BELLS TO THE BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO
CATALOGUE WITH 1800 TESTIMONIALS
BELLS, CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM.

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bell's, CHIMES AND PEALS FOR CHURCHES, &c.
Send for Price and Catalogue. Address
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, &c. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CANCER and Tumors CURED; no knife; book free. Drs. OBATIONY & JUDD, No. 183 Elm St., Cincinnati.

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

PARKER—ZETT.—At the residence of the bride's father, in Rocky Springs, May 8, 1889, by Rev. W. W. Hurst, Mr. W. L. Parker and Miss Hallie L. Zett, all of Claiborne county, Miss.

POWERS—HURST.—At the parsonage, in Rocky Springs, Miss., May 12, 1889, the father of the bride officiating, Mr. Charles A. Powers and Miss Dora E. Hurst.

HUTCHINS—RITCHIE.—At the residence of the bride's father, in Claiborne county, Miss., May 12, 1889, by Rev. W. W. Hurst, Mr. Sam Hutchins, of Hinds county, to Miss Mollie Ritchie.

CORBIN—KINCHEN.—At the residence of the bride's parents in Springfield, La., June 5, 1889, by Rev. F. M. Keco, Mr. Henry D. Corbin, of Hammond, La., to Miss Alexine W. Kinchen.

CROOKS—HARR.—In Monroe, La., May 5, 1889, by Rev. C. T. Munholland, Mr. G. B. Crooks, of Trinity, La., to Mrs. Athalia Harr.

LACY—WIMBERLY.—At Roman Chapel, in Ouachita parish, La., May 17, 1889, by Rev. C. T. Munholland, Mr. E. A. Lacy to Miss Hattie Wimberly.

TERRY—MORELAND.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Minden, May 1, 1889, by Rev. H. O. Wilke, Dr. T. L. Terry, of Coushatta, to Miss Carrie Drew Moreland.

ROBERTSON—BRYANT.—In Melville Church, La., June 9, 1889, by Rev. C. R. Godfrey, Mr. Joseph Robertson to Miss Edd e Bryant, both of St. Landry parish, La.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

LITTLEJOHN.—Rev. WILLIAM LITTLEJOHN died in the parish of Assumption, after an illness of three weeks, at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Robert Martin, on the morning of May 5. He had been staying at Mr. Martin's for a year or two past. From the beginning of his last sickness he was confident that he would not recover. He was born in Halifax county, N. C., April 21, 1811. His father moved to Tennessee at an early day, and for years was noted as an exemplary Christian and a man of substance. His two sons, William and Wiley, moved to Louisiana in 1847, and were engaged in sugar planting on the Lafourche when I first knew them. Both were Methodists of the most hospitable type. Two such homes for the ministers of God I never knew. Both wives and children united in the welcome given to the circuit preacher and to all who represented the Savior. The fortunes of the war period put an end to these delightful homes. Parents and children retugeed to Texas, and they never returned to the plantations. They have children and grandchildren, who honor their parents in their lives, both in Texas, Tennessee, Alabama and Louisiana.

At an early part of his life Mr. William Littlejohn, after graduating at La Grange College, received license to preach. All who knew him thought him eminently prepared for the itinerant ministry. He was spiritual and able, both in speech and in prayer. He seemed admirably qualified for the high office of a pastor by the gentleness, purity and sympathy of his nature. To know him was to respect and to love him. He was firm in character, not shaken by any amount of opposition from advocating what he thought to be true and right. His general intelligence and wide acquaintance with the Methodist preachers and people of Tennessee made him an instructive and delightful talker to all his brethren. No one ever enjoyed a Quarterly Conference, protracted meeting, Annual Conference, General Conference, or took a deeper interest in the affairs of his church all over the connection. He was sincere, ingennous, a man of patient faith and prayer. His memory is very precious to me and all my family. He left behind him a blessing more valuable to his children than all earthly substance could possibly be. Such men soften life, and give grace and beauty to the atmosphere in all the circles where they move. He died poor, but oh! how rich in the faith of his Savior! He has entered into the rest that remains for the people of God. He lived to this end, and life with him has not been a failure.

J. C. KEENER.

WILLIS—Miss. LIZZIE WILLIS, daughter of Mr. Daniel and Mrs. Elizabeth Willis, was born in Claiborne county, Miss., November 20, 1832, and died at her home, near Togleside, on Wednesday, May 15, 1889, at 7:30 P. M.

Miss Lizzie united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in her early girlhood, in which she lived a pure, and consistent Christian life until her death. She was gentle, kind and amiable, and the community in which she lived has lost one of its brightest lights and the church of God its truest friend and best worker. She was first and last in all the good enterprises of our beloved Zion, and cordially co-operated with her pastor in every good word and work. She was, indeed, "an Israelite in whom there was no guile." For months before she died God's chastening rod had fallen upon her; but in all her sufferings she was never heard to murmur, and in the severest pains she manifested a strong confidence in the Redeemer of mankind, and passed under the rod with that meekness of spirit and submission of soul which characterizes the true Christian womanhood of our beloved Methodism. With a disposition eminently Christian, she won all hearts about her, in and out the church. Sister Lizzie delighted in all the services of the sanctuary, and was one of those disciples who prove their piety by their daily walk and conversation. The last few weeks of her life were marked with sufferings of the most intense character, and yet no murmur escaped her lips. But she expressed to the writer a cheerful willingness to die, and rejoiced in the blessed hope of meeting a father and mother, with other friends, who had preceded her to the home of the blest. She was ripe for the garner, having done and suffered the will of the Master. May the benedictions of our Father in heaven abide upon the sorrowing ones left behind? W. W. HURST.

WILKINSON—Mrs. SARAH E. WILKINSON died March 21, 1889. She married John K. Wilkinson, December 5, 1871, which union was happy until death separated them. She professed religion in early life, and led a useful Christian life until the end. She had a wholesome religious influence on the home circle and sowed godly seed whose fruits will follow. This marriage was blessed with eight children, six of whom survive the deceased. She leaves a family of almost helpless little children, the eldest of whom is only fifteen years old, and upon whom devolves the cares of her mother. Sister Wilkinson was loved by all who knew her. She has gone to her reward. God will care for the rest. C. H. OWEN.

CAGLE.—On the morning of May 11, 1889, the home of J. C. and H. G. Cagle, in Lawrence county, Miss., was caused to mourn the departure of their infant daughter, LUCY R. MINDA CAGLE, who has gone before them to the land of eternal happiness and rest, where she will await their coming. After a brief illness the cold hand of death laid its icy fingers upon her. May the Lord bless, comfort and strengthen the bereaved parents, and enable them to say, from the depths of their hearts, "Thy will be done!" W. H. LEWIS.

Echoes.

When God puts his imprimatur upon a man's ministry, it is blasphemous impudence for any other man to dispute the authority of God. The proofs of our apostleship are those which Christ gave to the Pharisees and St. Paul give to the bigots of Jerusalem—the cleansed hearts and the sanctified lives of saved men and women. Woe to those ministers of religion who can produce no better proof of their call to the ministry than the fact that a Bishop has ordained them! Woe to those churches that can produce no better justification of their existence than the comparatively insignificant fact that they have adopted an episcopal form of church government. Are sinners saved by those ministers? Are saints edified by those ministers? Then they are ministers of Christ. But if they have no "living seals" to their ministry, they are self-deluded impostors, even though every bishop under heaven has put his hands upon them. A living church is a church that bears living children. Methodism is a church because her converts are in every land. In ministers, and in churches, as in men, God abhors outward and visible signs unless they represent inward and spiritual realities.—London Methodist Times.

Ministers do not sufficiently understand men. They do not study them enough, that is for the purpose of reaching them. I wish they could sit in our office for a day and hear our men discussing the ways and means of reaching men, and not men in general, but particular individuals. They acquaint themselves with the personality of these individuals, their peculiarities, their hours of business and leisure, the time when they can be found alone, and the one way in which they can be approached. We start out with the idea that there is no demand for our goods, that we have to create this demand. Hence, when we are not received with a welcome we are not discouraged, but study and plan and push on until we succeed. When ministers get down to their work with the same amount of earnestness and determination to succeed, they will succeed. A general proclamation of the truth may tone up the atmosphere, provided a sufficient number of people hear it, but there must be personal work in order to save individuals.—Advance.

Certain great preachers whose pulpit efforts seem like spontaneous bursts of sacred eloquence, moving masses of people as the sea is moved by the tempest, have been repeating and thinking and praying over those discourses forty years. No one can devote too much study to a sermon. There is enough substance in one great gospel theme to occupy and interest a great soul for half a century, and then its wealth will not be all drawn out.—New York Christian Advocate.

The leading of a prayer meeting is a Christian task which calls for thorough preparation, and which should be entered upon with a deep sense of its importance. To spend ten minutes, selecting at random a few hymns and a passage of Scripture, is not the kind of preparation which issues happily. When we remember that the success of a prayer service not seldom turns upon the impulse given by the leader, his responsibility becomes all the more evident. Your naturest thought, your warmest Christian feeling, are demanded when you stand up to lead the thought and devotion of your fellow-believers.—Congregationalist.

"Mamma's Gittin Better."

There is gladness in the household,
The shadow fades away
That darkened all the sunshine
Of many a summer day.
"O, mamma's getting better,"
The happy children cry,
And the light of hope shines bright again
In the loving husband's eye.

In thousands of homes women are "sick unto death" with the terrible diseases so common to their sex, and it would seem as if all the happiness had gone out of life and the household in consequence. For when the wife and mother suffers all the family suffer with her. This ought not to be, and it need not be, for a never-failing remedy for woman's ailments is at hand. Many a home has been made happy because the shadow of disease has been banished from it by the potent power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the unfailing remedy for all weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women

$500 Reward offered for an incurable case of Catarrh by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy. 50 cents, by druggists

Scientific.

The Use of Water at Meals.

Opinions differ as to the effect of the free ingestion of water at meal times, but the view most generally received is probably that it dilutes the gastric juice and so retards digestion. Apart from the fact that a moderate delay in the process is by no means a disadvantage, as Sir William Roberts has shown in explanation of the popularity of tea and coffee, it is more than doubtful whether any such effect is in reality produced. When ingested during meals, water may be good by washing out the undigested food, and by exposing the undigested parts more thoroughly to the action of the digestive ferments. Pepsin is a catalyptic body, and a given quantity will work almost indefinitely provided the peptones are removed as they are formed. The good effects of water, drank freely before meals, has, however, another beneficial result—it washes away the mucus which is secreted by the mucus membrane during the intervals of repose, and favor peristalsis of the whole alimentary tract. The membrane thus cleansed is in a much better condition to receive food and convert it into soluble compounds. The accumulation of mucus is specially well marked in the morning, when the gastric walls are covered with a thick tenacious layer. Food entering the stomach at this time will become covered with this tenacious coating, which for a time protects it from the action of the gastric ferments, and so retards digestion. The tubular contracted stomach, with its puckered mucus lining and its viscid contents, a normal condition in the morning before breakfast, is not suitable to receive food. Exercise before partaking of a meal stimulates the circulation of the blood and facilitates the flows of blood through the vessels. A glass of water washes out the mucus, partially distends the stomach, wakes up peristalsis, and prepares the alimentary canal for the morning meal. Observation has shown that non-irritating liquids pass directly through the "tubular" stomach, and if food be present they only mix with it to a slight extent. According to Dr. Leaf, who had made this subject a special study, cold water should be given to persons who have sufficient vitality to react, and hot water to the others. In chronic gastric catarrh it is extremely beneficial to drink warm or hot water before meals, and salt is said in most cases to add to the good effect produced.

WONDERS OF THE CAMERA.—The peculiar rythmical effects which accompany discharges of powder and of nitro-glycerine compounds have been elaborately investigated by the aid of photography. It has always been suggested that careful photographs, taken of steel and timber just at the point of rupture under a breaking load, would conduce to our knowledge of the complicated subject of elasticity.

The lightning flash can be investigated. Dr. Koenig, in a recent communication to the Physical Society of Berlin, states that he has photographed a cannon ball which was moving at a rate of 1,200 feet per second. The ball was projected in front of a white screen and occupied one-fortieth of a second in its passage. Marey has photographed the motions of limping people, and thus given surgeons the materials for a study of lameness. It is said, moreover, that photography often reveals incipient eruptive diseases which are not visible to the eye. Photographs taken by flash-powders of the human eye, showing it dilated in the dark, give the oculist a new method of studying the enlarged pupil.—Prof. John Trowbridge, in Scribner's.

MIRAGE OF SOUND.—A curious acoustic phenomenon, sometimes observed at sea, has been termed by M. Fizeau the "mirage of sound," from its analogy to certain well-known phenomena of light. The sound waves are deflected upward to a very marked extent under the influence of strata of air of various temperatures, and to its effect are ascribed numerous collisions between vessels having powerful fog signals.

A medicine prepared for the general public should contain nothing hurtful in any dose. Such a medicine is Shallenberger's Antidote for Malaria; it destroys Malaria as water puts out fire, and is just as harmless. Sold by Druggists.

"Another batch of orders and testimonials for Wolff's Acme Blacking. When I deliver my mail to Wolff & Randolph my work is done."

One single delivery bringing one hundred and twenty-seven testimonials, sounds as though some people knew the worth of

Wolff's ACME Blacking

They are the people who use it right, READ DIRECTIONS, and follow them to the letter. Thank goodness there are enough of them to influence those who won't read or can't read.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

The Best Blacking for Men, Women and Children.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.

LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES

KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

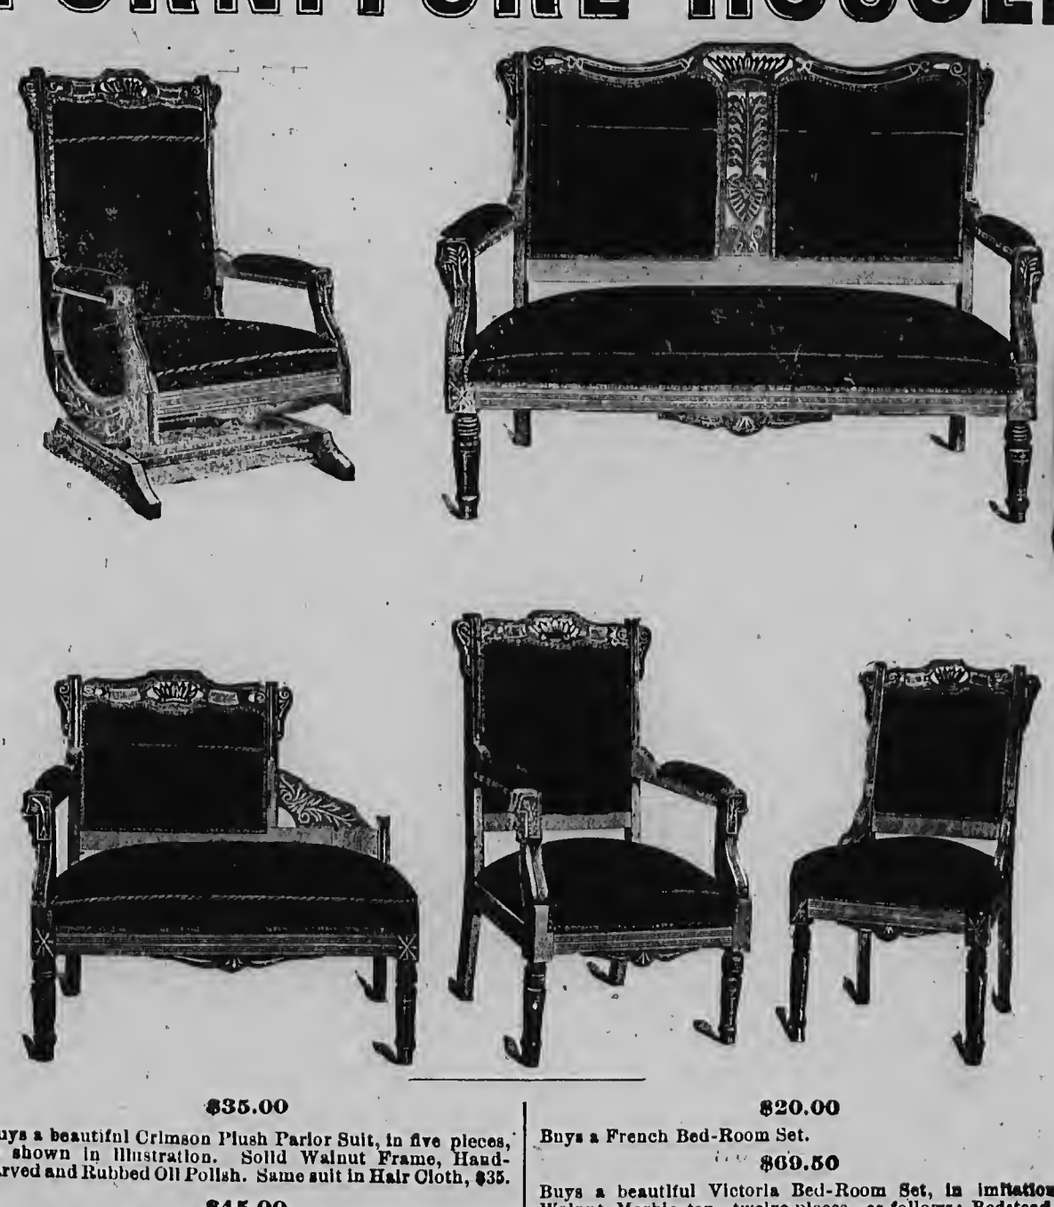
MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.

Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00

Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00

Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00

Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00

Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00

Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50

Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00

Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Testor, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00

Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00

Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.

CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.

Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.

☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

FULL WEIGHT PURE

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

P. P. P.

(Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)

CURES

RHEUMATISM

And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.

If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the Blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.

P. P. P. Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.

SCROFULA

Is an impurity in the blood, producing Lumps or swelling, causing Rotting Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.

BLOOD POISON

Cured in its worse form; sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases Scrofulous Ulcers broke out till the part was a mass of corruption; a bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.

Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.

DYSPEPSIA AND Nervous Prostration

Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE
A SURE CURE FOR CHILLS & FEVER
DUMB AGUE AND MALARIA.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

HIRES

25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS
DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING

ROOT BEER

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belts on large clips, Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers (either sex) make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Send to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered. Address BRUCE BENNY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The first decisive step toward putting Johnstown business men on their feet again was made on June 13, when about 200 merchants who had survived the flood, many of them without a dollar, were assured that they would be re-established in business on long credit. Both Pittsburg and Philadelphia wholesale dealers have offered Johnstown merchants this courtesy.

Gen. Stephen D. Lee, president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, who is a candidate for governor of Mississippi, made the opening speech in his canvass for the position at Columbus, on the thirteenth.

The June floods have worked disaster to the farmers of Southern Indiana, who have crops in the lowlands. The damage to all of the Southern Indiana and Illinois counties along White and Wabash rivers will amount to many thousands of dollars, and it is feared worse trouble may ensue.

A negro constable attempted to arrest a white man near Austin, Texas, on June 14. The offender declined to appear before a negro magistrate, and a general battle ensued, in which four white men and five negroes were killed, and several wounded.

Chippewa Indians are on the warpath in Minnesota. A Swedish laborer was killed by the redskins at Mille Lac. The trouble is due to encroachment on Indian lands by whites.

The Navy Department, on June 14, issued advertisements inviting proposals for the construction of two steel cruisers of 3,000 tons displacement under the authority conveyed by the appropriation act of September last.

An English syndicate, it is said, has made an offer to buy the Elgin Watch Factory for about $10,000,000. A person looked over the factory in its interest a few weeks ago.

The remains of Miss Clara Chrisman, of Mississippi, who departed three weeks ago as missionary in Brazilian fields, but lost her life in the Conemaugh flood, were brought home for burial on June 15.

Associated Press dispatches from New Jersey, Maryland, eastern Pennsylvania, New York and New England, as far as Maine, indicate extensive damage to property and some loss of life by storms accompanied by lightning on June 15.

The organizing committee of the new labor organization known as the Brotherhood of United Labor met in Chicago, last week, T. B. Barry presiding. It was reported that labor organizations representing about 7,000 members, had signified their intention of uniting with the new order.

Sam Jones has been preaching to immense crowds in Jackson and Wesson (Miss.) during the past week.

The San Francisco Evening Post states that $1,000,000 has been subscribed for the proposed cable between Honolulu and San Francisco, and that the work of laying the cable will be commenced within eighteen months.

The remains of Tennessee's first governor has been removed from the grave in Macon county, Ala., where they have rested for three-quarters of a century, to Knoxville, Tenn.

Thirty-four violators of the Sunday law were arrested in Cincinnati last Sunday.

A huge mountain of almost pure manganese of iron has been found together with almost unlimited veins of anthracite in Gunnison county, Col.

FOREIGN.

Russia, Germany and Austria have sent an identical note to the Swiss government advising it to deal more severely with anarchists and socialists.

The lord provost of Edinburgh has refused to confer the freedom of the city on Mr. Parnell on the occasion of the visit of the Irish leader in July. The senior magistrate present at the ceremony, will, therefore, officiate.

The Canadian order of Odd Fellows has voted down a motion to provide for the eligibility of colored men for membership in the order.

The steamer Alene from Kingston, Jamaica, arrived at New York, June 14, and brought intelligence substantiating the London cable reports of Hippolyte's victory and Legitime's defeat.

News has just been brought to the City of Mexico from Brazil which says that small-pox and yellow fever are raging in a virulent form. Not alone in Rio Janeiro, but through all the states with in 200 miles of that city. The death-rate for three days at Santos was 70 per cent., and people who could do so were leaving in droves.

The French Senate has forwarded to the public prosecutor a report on the case of General Boulanger. The Senate advises that proceedings be at once begun against General Boulanger.

As a result of a dispute between the Prussian government and the Vatican, there was no Germans among the cardinals recently appointed.

The American delegates to the Samoan Conference, in Berlin, are much complimented on the result of their labors.

The Temps says that Germany is treating with Belgium in regard to the laying of a cable from Ostend to Portland, Me., in order to render those countries independent of the English cable companies.

The Italian government has joined Russia and Germany in asking the Swiss authorities to maintain a stricter surveillance over foreigners in Switzerland.

The Economist makes a violent attack upon Mr. Gladstone for the speeches made by him on his western trip. It says they are utterly unworthy of his reputation and position; that he has intentionally substituted obscurity for clearness.

The Saxon Parliament has presented to the king a gift of $750,000 in behalf of the people as a token of love and loyalty.

The Russian army will soon be provided with breech-loading rifles which will carry a distance of 6,000 feet.

The Business Situation.

Trade has been unsettled by reason of heavy floods, which have checked the distribution of goods. The losses by the disaster can not yet be accurately estimated, but they are enormously large, and will fall chiefly on the railroad, coal, iron and lumber interests of this State, but damage has also been done in New York, West Virginia, Maryland and Virginia. The most reliable estimates of the loss range between $45,000,000 and $55,000,000. The large concerns which have suffered will simply be put to inconvenience, and there will be no great failures; but in some cases whole communities are beggared of their former property, and have little hope of the future. There will be some compensation of the losses in the demand for goods to repair the damage, but the wiping out of such a large amount of property is a calamity which it will take a long time to recover from. Bradstreet's reports show there was actually invested in capital in the seven towns of the Conemaugh Valley, $7,587,000, while in Williamsport $23,000,000 was so invested. The loss from destruction of Seattle by fire has probably been largely overestimated. The total amount of capital invested in that town, according to Bradstreet's reports, was $4,100,000, and though the loss is estimated at from $15,000,000 to $40,000,000, it is probable that the town could be rebuilt for from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000. The loss in Seattle falls on individuals rather than corporations. The total insurance on the destroyed property by companies represented in San Francisco is less than $2,000,000. Notwithstanding the interruption to business by the flood, there are signs of improvement in some branches. Some departments of the iron trade are better, and the demand for structural plates and tank iron has naturally increased largely. The trade in dry goods is generally reported as fair, but it is not up to expectations. In the speculative markets there has been a tendency to higher quotations, but the result has not been any marked advance. Wheat and flour are lower, corn, cotton, coffee and sugar a fraction higher. The stock market has been affected by absence of quotations, but on the reampution of the ticker service the cliques supported prices to offset the effect of the flood and the disasters. The Financial Chronicle has made up its usual report on the prospects of the cotton crop this year. It finds that the acreage is over 20,000,000, an increase of 2⅛ per cent. The planting season began about the same time as last year in North Carolina, Florida and Tennessee, but earlier in all the other States. On June 1 the crop was in a more advanced state than at that period last year. There has been drouth in the Atlantic States, which has been partially relieved by rain recently. In the Gulf States the prospects for a good crop are excellent. The nights have been rather too cool for full results in all parts of the South. Generally the prospects for a fair average crop are more promising than at this period last year.—Philadelphia Press.

As you like it. Gray and faded whiskers may be changed to their natural and even color—brown or black—by using Buckingham's Dye. Try it.

The London Times says:

The Times learns that the gist of the Samoan agreement is, that Malietoa shall be reinstated; that the control of affairs shall be left mainly to the Samoans; that questions touching the life or property of foreigners shall be subject to the decision of a resident judge, American, English or German, and that the importation of liquor and firearms shall be restricted.

The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of Hood's Sarsaparilla makes this medicine different from others and superior to them all in actual curative power. Sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Seashore	July 5
Hevlington (Crystal Springs)	Aug. 8
Toplsaw	Aug. 10
St. Tammany	Sept. 27

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

A. A. Woods & Co.

The attention of our numerous readers is called to the advertisement of A. A. Woods & Co., which has recently been changed from that of A. A. Woods, on account of the admission of three of his clerks to copartnership—Messrs. Walter Scott, L. H. Poursine, and A. F. Godat, all of whom are deserving young gentlemen, who have earned this well-deserved preferment by their close attention to business. Mr. A. F. Godat we desire to specially notice, as he is one of our own Methodist men, being a steward of Carondelet Street Methodist Church, of New Orleans. He has risen from office boy to this high position of partner in this leading insurance firm by fidelity to principle. Although young, his experience in the insurance business, coupled with reliability, led his late employer to offer him a partnership.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

GREENVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Australia	(Sun., 11 A. M.)	June 23
Concordia	(Sun., 4 P. M.)	23
Leland	(Wed.)	26
Brooklyn	(Sun.)	30
Clarksdale	(Tue.)	July 2
Lyon	(Wed.)	3
Friar's Point	(Thu. and Wed.)	4, 5
Helena	(Sun.)	7
Friendship	(Tue.)	9
Glen Allen	(Wed.)	10
Tunica	(Sun.)	14
New Salem	(Tue.)	16
Indianola	(Fri.)	19
Hollandale	(Sun.)	21
Bolivar	(Sun.)	28

R. M. STANGIER, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Columbus		June 21
Columbus circuit, at New Hope		22, 23
Tampico, at Pleasant Grove		29, 30
Macon		July 7, 8
Hebron, at Memphis		11
Shiloh, at Ridgeway		13, 14
Dist. Conf., at West Point		18-21
Crawford, at Trinity		27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel		31
Brooksville, at Eaprairie		Aug. 3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove		9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills		10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg		15
Chester, at South Tulon		17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch		31, Sept. 1
LaGrange		7, 8
Sturges		14, 15

Camp meeting at South Tulon on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—THIRD ROUND.

Winona circuit		July 6, 7
Winona station		10
Valden		13, 14
Kosciusko and Durant		17
Black Hawk		20, 21
West		25
Carrollton and Greenwood		27, 28
Richland		Aug. 1
Kosciusko circuit		3, 4
Newport		8
Ebenezer		10, 11
Weir		15
Stills		17, 18
Poplar Creek		22
Ethel		24, 25
Helzona		28
Lexington		30

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Coffeyville		June 22, 23
Pittsboro		29, 30
Athanta		July 2, 4
Banner		6, 7

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

JACKSON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Yazoo City		July 6, 7
Jackson and West Jackson		13, 14
Madison, at Livingston		20, 21
Sharon, at Madisonville		27, 28
Yazoo circuit, at Tranquil		Aug. 3, 4
Camden, at Shuck		10, 11
Benton, at Bowmun's		17, 18
Flora, at Remonia		24, 25
Silver Creek		31, Sept. 1
Edwards, at Brownsville		7, 8
Raymond		14, 15
Canton		21, 22
Mt. Olivet		28, 29
Spring Ridge	(Tue.)	Oct. 1

D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Shubuta, at S. Chapel		June 29, 30
Waynesboro and St. Line, at New Hope		July 6, 7
Clarke, at Manassas		13, 14
Enterprise and R., at Stonewall		20, 21
Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant		27, 28
Vossburg		Aug. 3, 4
Paulding, at Hopewell		10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel		17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill		24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh		31, Sept. 1
Meridian Station		3
Rimsville, at Wahalak		7, 8
Leaksville		14, 15
Union		21, 22
Lauderdale		28, 29
Spring Hill		Oct. 5, 6
De Kalb		12, 13
West End		19, 20

R. B. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Summit, at Summit		June 22, 23
District Conference, at McComb City		27-30
Gallman, at Terry		July 6, 7
Crystal Springs		13, 14
Wesson, at Beauregard		20, 21
Hazlehurst		27, 28
Providence, at New Hope		Aug. 3, 4
Topisaw, at Topisaw		10, 11
Franklinton, at Fishers		17, 18
Holmesville, at China Grove		24, 25
Scotland, at Galath		31, Sept. 1
Brookhaven		7, 8
Bowerton, at Pleasant Ridge		14, 15
New Hope, at Centenial		28, 29

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Vicksburg		June 22, 23
Fayette, at Ebenezer		28, 30
Port Gibson	(Mon.)	July 1
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh		8, 9
Bartonton, at Pisgah		13, 14
Martin, at Martin		20, 21
Utica, at Reeves	(Wed.)	24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel		27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove	(Thurs.)	Aug. 1
Natchez—Jefferson Street		3, 4
Augusta, Sunflower Chapel		10, 11

District Conference will be at Vicksburg, July 5-7, Bishop Galloway presiding.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Bethel, at Ocohay		June 22, 23
Mt. Carmel, at Good Hope		29, 30
Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs		July 3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting		5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town		13, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl		16
Augusta		20, 21
Whitlington		27, 28
Vancleve		Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zion		10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point		11, 12
Americus		16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell		24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Algiers		June 23
Morgan Street		23
Dryades Street		30
Carrollton and Parker's Chapel		30
Carondelet Street		July 7
Seashore Camp Meeting		14
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.		21
Rayne Memorial		28
Gretna and Scrapara		28
Craps Street		Aug. 4
Louisiana Avenue		11
Baton Rouge		17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Arbroth		20
Felicity Street		25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

A Cancer Remedy.—Referring to Drs. Gratigny & Bush, Cincinnati, O., the "Cancer Specialists," whose card appears in another part of this paper, we know they are reliable. A correspondent, J. Hilsinger, Blue Ash, Hamilton Co., O., writes, "My wife had cancer and was cured by Drs. Gratigny & Bush." He says he found them attentive, faithful and successful.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending June 18, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8½ c	— —
Ordinary	9	— —
Good ordinary	9½	— —
Low middling	10¼	— —
Middling	10⅝	— —
Good middling	11⅜	— —
Middling fair	11¾	— —
Fair	12¾	— —
Galveston middling	10¾	— —
Middle middling	10¾	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— —	7 15-16
Fully fair	— —	— —
Good fair	7 15-16	— —
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	6¾	8
Prime yellow	8 3-16	8⅝
Very white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	— —
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
SYRUP	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	3	3¼
Good	4⅛	4½
Fair	4	4⅛
Prime	4¾	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	1 00
Polish, ₱ ton	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy	4 80	4 90
Fancy	— —	4 35
Choice	— —	— —
Minnesota Patents	— —	6 00
Winter Wheat patents	5 15	5 25
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal	2 50	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 50	2 60
Hominy	— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, 1 bushel	— —	43
Yellow	— —	47
Mixed No. 2	— —	46½
OATS:
Western	— —	33½
Texas test-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
Per ton	17 00	72½
HAY:
Prime	16 00	17 00
Choice	— —	18 00
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess, Standard	— —	13 25
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	10½	11
Shoulders	— —	6¾
Sides, short rib	— —	7⅜
Sides, long clear	— —	7⅜
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	11½	11¾
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	5¾	5¾
Sides, short rib	— —	6½
Sides, long clear	— —	6⅝
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime	— —	19¾
Fair	— —	18¾
Common	— —	16½
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
Hyson	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	19	—
Western Dairy	13½	15
Common	— —	7
LARD:
Refined	— —	6¾
OILS:
Coal, bbls	16	— —
Coal, cases	— —	— —
Cotton seed, crude	13½	16
Cotton seed, refined	42	43
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	— —	— —
Chicago, ₱ bbl	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	1 25	— —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	1 40	1 60
Western	— —	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	— —	— —
Western	— —	2 00
BAGGING, TIES.
BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lbs, 1 yard	10¾	10½
Jute, 1¾ lbs, 1 yard	9½	9¾
Lane Mills (Upon Rate)	12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
Per lb	9½	10
TIES:
Per bundle	1 65	1 67
SUNDRIES.
POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	4 00	4 50
Young Chickens	1 25	3 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 25	2 00
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	11½	12
Southern	12½	13
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb	— —	— —
Louisiana	24	24½
Barry	22	23
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	11	15
Dry salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	— —	13 00
Meal	21 00	23 50
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	— —
Sulphuric acid	2	2½

From Rev. Dr. McAnally, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate.

"I have tried J. A. C. Maguire's Cundurango on myself and others, and it is my opinion that to produce a healthy and safe action on the Liver, Kidneys and secretions generally, there is not a better medicine known, and for persons of Bilious or Costive habits its action is most effective and salutary." D. R. McANALLY.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.

The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure, mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GARRATT, Dly. P. A.,
31 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

Athens Female College

Situated at Athens, Ala., on the L. and N. R. R.

A thorough, cheap school; full literary course. Art and Music. Stenography and Type-Writing are also thoroughly taught. The school is fully equipped. Healthy location. Send for catalogue.

REV. M. G. WILLIAMS, President.

J. H. BRINNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HUDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y.

HIWASSEE COLLEGE.

FOUNDED 1849.

Expenses Very Moderate.

Located amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R., from which conveyance any hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our postoffice is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

Capital Commercial College
Jackson, Miss.
Book-keeping taught as it is now in the South. Send for circular.
T. C. Rygall, President.

Centenary College
JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given to the health, morals and Biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.

One of the most celebrated Institutions of the South. The Thirty-Fourth Session will begin September 15, 1889, with a full corps of able and experienced faculty. Curriculum comprehensive. Instruction thorough. Advantages in Music unsurpassed, as in the best conservatories. Departments of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts under specialists.

Beautiful location; one of the healthiest of the South. The best climate in which to educate and the safest place for girls. Main building of brick, massive and commodious, with a large and well-shaded campus. Rooms large, well furnished, ventilated and warmed. Ample provision for table of the best the market affords. All necessary comfort secured. Expenses very low and the school very economical.

For particulars address

A. D. M'VOY, A. M., Pres.
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.

Elfinwood Select School.

The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 26. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1714.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

TERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are Authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

For the Advocate.

CLARA CHRISMAN,

A young missionary to Brazil, who was drowned in the Johnstown disaster.

BY REV. H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN.

Gifted, cultured, beautiful Clara,
Pride of all this Gulf-bound land,
Gave her young life to the Master—
To his work—head, heart and hand.

Clara, consecrated Clara,
Heard a voice we could not hear—
'Twas the Master's call to duty,
And she lent a listening ear.

And, with eyes made clear by loving,
Saw a hand we could not see—
'Twas the Master's pointing southward,
And she said, "Send me, send me!"

Then we gave her prayerful parting,
And she left us for the field,
O'er the sea, beyond the tropics,
Where are hurt hearts to be healed.

And we felt, "O what a healer
Will our gifted Clara be!"
And we dreamed of hearts made holy
Through her young life's ministry.

But our sweet dream was awakened
By a hail-revealed alarm;
Then it spoke: "Our Clara perished
In the wild wreck of the storm."

O, Our Father, we are silent,
Mute with wonder and with grief;
Why was Clara's blessed mission
Made by Providence so brief?

The shades are ever falling
O'er the shoreline of life's day.
Shall we know their mystic meaning,
When the clouds have passed away?

WINNSBORO, LA., COLLEGE.

Outline of a Sermon before the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Mississippi Conference, at Greenville, Miss., June 9, 1889.

BY REV. H. G. PORTER, OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Text: Matthew x, 5-7—"These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not. But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand."

God's ways are not our ways, and His thoughts are not our thoughts. In nothing is this more manifest than in the selection of His agents to carry on His work. He chooses the weak things of the world to confound the mighty, and He ordains strength out of the mouths of babes and sucklings.

The twelve apostles chosen by Christ were a disappointment to human expectation and human ambition. They were selected for what they were, what they were capable of being, under the training of our blessed Lord. Christ looked at their faith, their hearts, at what they were to be when fully developed for their work. Looked at superficially, according to our judgment and understanding, it would have been folly to have chosen a more unpromising corps to begin the great work of evangelizing the world; and yet they were selected by Him for the work.

For this time the twelve had been with Christ a year or more, witnessing His miracles and listening to His preaching. They had evidently made some progress in the way of preparation for their work, and yet they were very slow of heart in understanding fully the nature of Christ's mission to the world. At this distance we are surprised at the dullness of their apprehensions, and wonder how they could have been so obtuse when the Master spoke so plainly. When we come to realize fully our own dullness in divine things, we pity rather than condemn the immediate followers of our Lord.

The immediate and pressing needs of a world lying in wickedness and sin lay near the Master's heart. He was anxious to begin the great work of evangelizing men on a larger scale. His heart was with the people, with the masses. He loved men, and wanted them saved. He called the twelve together, and sent them forth on their first missionary tour. It may be well to consider this beginning of Christian missions.

Consider (1) the sphere assigned for the work: "Go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." They were prohibited from going into the way of the Gentiles, and specially commanded not to enter into any city of the Samaritans. Doubtless the reason for this limitation was found in the apostles, rather disciples, themselves. They were not yet ready to go among the Gentiles, and a mission to Samaria would have provoked jealousies and stirred old controversies, and might have led to blows and to bloodshed. The twelve were not yet rid of the passions and prejudices of the past. More than two years after this some of them were still hampered and hindered by prejudice and passion. In the case of Peter it required a miracle, and an ocular demonstration of Spirit baptism, to make him "perceive that God was not a respecter of persons." They were limited "to the lost sheep of the house of Israel" because they were not qualified for a larger sphere. This limitation was a divine commiseration of human weakness and narrowness. In some cases it takes a Pentecost, and more, to lift the cataract of prejudice from the eye of the understanding. Later on our Lord extended the sphere of operations to embrace "all nations," "all the world," and "every creature." This is our commission and our sphere. It is greatly to be feared, however, that many of us, like the twelve, find our prejudices in our way. Our range of vision is limited to the lost sheep of the house of our own color, kith and kin. We often sneer at the Chinaman, the Indian, and the negro. We count them all common and unclean, and would make God a respecter of persons like ourselves. Our commission is large. It embraces the world, men of every color and of every clime, and the divine pity may still be spread over our weakness and our blindness to duty. If it is not, sad and awful will be our account at the bar of God. Ye knew your duty; but, through prejudice, ye did it not.

Consider (2) the nature of the work: "Working miracles and preaching the kingdom of heaven at hand." The free gift of miracle-working power, in attestation of a divine commission, was full, and was to be fully and freely exercised. "Freely ye have received, freely give." Let it not be stinted or doled out. Almighty power can not be taxed. In the infinite resources of almightiness exercised by you, let the world see the infinite resources of divine sympathy and love that lie back of it all. "God is love." We, the successors of the twelve, may not open the eyes of the blind, nor unstop the ears of the deaf, nor unloose the tongues of the dumb, nor cast out devils; but we can build asylums for them, and care for them with a tenderness and sympathy that will exhibit more of the divine heart than the bare power of working miracles could ever do. "Greater works than these shall ye do." Freely we have received; oh, that we may freely give! Preach, "The kingdom of heaven at hand." This was an unpleasant message to the house of Israel. It was not what they wanted, what they longed for. They looked and longed for a kingdom of this world. They wanted their home, their country, their land, their nationality—the throne of David and the glory of Solomon. The twelve did not understand this. Like the rest, they looked for a kingdom of this world. Since poor, frail, mortal men are to be the messengers, it is well that the divine commission contains always the divine message. The sent of the Lord are told what to say, even though they do not understand it fully. This saves us from blunders. He preaches best who sticks closest to his commission and his text. The message we bear is not a pleasant one to the world. Men would rather hear something else; but the preacher dare not alter or amend the message. The gospel is "good news:" but men stagger at the conditions imposed—"repentance towards God and faith in Christ." If we deliver the message, our skirts are clear, whether men hear or forbear.

Consider (3) the results of this mission: A great stir and excitement was produced, a multitude collected, and the wise were offended. Faithful preaching and teaching, by men and women full of the fire and love of God, will always create a stir and excitement, and will collect a multitude. It always has been so—always will be so. Doubtless many came to see the miracles: many through curiosity, just as men come now. When the Lord lights a candle, he always puts it on a candlestick. He builds his cities on hills. The seasoning of his grace is pungent like good salt. The Holy Ghost generates a zeal that makes men and women flames of fire. We need more fire, that we may have more stir and excitement. The nature of the work is sure to produce these things. Christ "came not to send peace on the earth, but a sword." Our mission is one of aggression. We oppose sin and evil of every kind. We dare not act on the defensive. A church and ministry that are not aggressive are dead. The world will hate you and persecute you because you oppose its sinful practices. Be not soon disturbed in mind if men imprison you and bring you before kings and governors. The nature of your work will stir antagonisms and create opposition. The greater the contrast between the church and the world, the stronger the opposition will be. The spirit of opposition and persecution on the part of the world is a sure indication of fidelity and vitality on the part of the church. "Woe be unto you when all men shall speak well of you." "Blessed are ye when men shall persecute you." We need to lay ourselves out largely, fully, for God. The effort to spare ourselves and to save ourselves has been our curse and our shame. "If any man will lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, he shall find it." Let us, then, project ourselves full length—put all we have of body, mind, heart and soul—into this work of evangelization. He who counts his life dear unto himself, and is not willing to sacrifice life itself for Christ, is not worthy of this great mission. So, then, my beloved, be assured that our mission means war to the hilt, and it will be sure to bring opposition and excitement. The wise, so called, will be offended now just as they were then. A revival full of power and fire is certain to develop some wise man who would run all the religious emotions and expressions of the people in his own little moulds of propriety.

Consider (4) the instructions for carrying on the work. Go at once; don't wait. Men are perishing for the bread of life. Do not wait to provide money for your purses, nor two coats, but go just as you are. What an utter abandonment, this, of the fundamental principles of human forethought and forecast! Men wait to lay up much goods in store for the evil day. They want a commissariat, a magazine, and an unlimited bank account when they begin great enterprises; but our Master starts missionaries to the conquest of the world without even a change of raiment. They had to leave all in order to obey Christ. The divine Master meant to put them in an extremity where they would feel the need of relying wholly on God. An extremity of this kind is not without good effect upon the Christian ministry now. Comparatively few men have learned how to be rich and trustful at the same time. The abandonment of worldly hopes and the utter abnegation of self causes many rich men to turn sorrowfully away from Christ. They can not surrender the world for a crown of glory in heaven. At this juncture, and in this connection, how tender and how stimulating the words of our Lord: "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father." "Ye are of more value than many sparrows." Then give me my staff, my empty purse and my single coat, and let me on to the conquest of the world. The hacking and the hank of my father and my God are behind me. What infinite resources to draw from! Doubtless the blessed Master meant to lay this self-sacrificing, Christian ministry on the heart and conscience and purse of the Christian Church for the good of both. He intended the preacher to be dependent, that the church might have the honor and labor of love of supporting him. This is a part of your work, my sisters. A cup of cold water in the name of Christ will be sure of reward. What you do for a believer is done to the Lord himself. A missionary ministry is powerless for good—the good God designed it to do—without a missionary church behind it. The two are correlative in this great work of bringing the world to Christ. The work these women and mothers are doing will give us a generation or two hence an army of Christian missionaries backed and supported by a Christian constituency as large as the Christian Church. This preparatory work is largely the work of our Christian women. It is the great work they have before them now. Organize the children and raise up a trained army for the Lord. The Lord is tearing down the gates of walled cities faster than we are ready to enter in. Surely we need the wisdom of the serpent, combined with the harmlessness of the dove. If we only understood the day of visitation as we ought, what haste we would make to go at the work.

Consider (5) the return and report of the disciples. Christ modestly, but judiciously, compliments and commends their work. They had been efficient in their ministry. Our Lord was careful always to condemn the wrong and to commend the right. He cautions the disciples against being over-elated with their work—not to think too much of what they had done. Spiritual pride, or pride growing out of spiritual work or attainments, is exceedingly dangerous to piety. The best worker, the most efficient minister, needs to be constantly at the foot of the cross. Many a noted evangelist has foundered on the rock of pride. It is strange that one should grow vain over wholly extraneous gifts; but so it has been. The only place of safety is in the valley of humility. My sisters, you have done a great work for God, and I pray it may make you more humble. The Lord took his disciples apart into a desert place to rest, recuperate, and to cool down. This was well. They had been thronged by the multitudes, overheated by their work, and their heads were dizzy by the constant whirl of events. This immortal mission of love has been committed to mortal men. Rest is often as religious and often more necessary to the worker than work. The best work requires the workman to be at his best. My sisters, give the Lord your best. If necessary, rest. Sometimes God graciously lays a good workman down on a bed of sickness to give him rest and spiritual refreshment to qualify him for larger work. May the peace of God that passeth all understanding keep your minds and hearts in the knowledge and love of Christ!

Dr. Haygood to the Methodist Missionary Women of North Mississippi.

The following letter was written to the president of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Mississippi Conference:

My Dear Friend: The beginning of modern civilization was by the "riverside," near Philippi, the "chief city of Macedonia." There St. Paul met devout Lydia of Thyatira—a merchant woman dealing in purple dyes and goods. She, a working business woman, was the first convert to Christianity in Europe. She was brave-hearted, and, in the face of prejudice and possible ostracism, constrained Paul and his friend and helper, Silas, to be her guests. From that day woman's heart has in every country first received the seed of the kingdom. There were, we are sure, other women in Philippi worthy the companionship of gentle, yet great-hearted Lydia. In the church at Philippi were devout women, not a few, who were co-workers with the great apostle. To them he sent messages of affection and exhortation from his Roman prison. Their useful labors he recognized. Writing to the pastor of the church—and his words are to the pastors of our time—St. Paul says: "And I intreat thee also, true yoke-fellow, help those women which labored with me in the gospel." He ranks them with the great "Clement and others, his fellow-laborers, whose names are in the Book of Life."

These good women, it seems, were not always agreed. Very earnest people who think will, in the nature of things, differ in opinion; but Christian people who are well-bred will differ without bitterness or intolerance. Very suggestive is St. Paul's exhortation—it is more like a brother's appeal: "I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord."

As it seems to most thoughtful observers, more and more our times will afford opportunity for the exertion of woman's gracious influence in the church and in society. It would be sad, indeed, if it were not so: for fully three-fifths of the commandments in the church to-day are women.

When we come to think of women in relation to the work of missions, the first thing that impresses me is this: that so few have done so much. Not one in twelve is on the roll of the Woman's Missionary Societies; yet in eleven years the few women who constitute the woman's society in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, have done a work, in organization, in raising money, and, above all, in the mission field itself, that challenges admiration and confidence. If all did as well as the few, the women of our beloved church would achieve results that would surpass anything that our whole church, so far, has so much as thought of attempting. In this woman's work now the greatest need is the extension of the organization. There should be a society in every church, and every pastor should do his best to help the women organize helping societies.

Extend to your society the Christian regards of one who, from the first, has championed their cause to the best of his ability. Very truly,

A. G. HAYGOOD.

An Interesting Letter.

The following letter written to Miss Annie M. Barnes, of Duluth, Ga., will be of special interest to our readers:

ALTOONA, PA., June 14, 1889.

Miss Annie Maria Barnes, Duluth, Ga.—

My Dear Miss Barnes: I hasten to tell you what news I can learn of the sad fate of Miss Chrisman. Mr. C. A. Wood, of this city, a friend of mine, who is chief clerk to the superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad, has just shown me a statement of the buffet porter of the Pullman car in which she was, and the person probably who last saw her alive, which describes her, and refers to the ticket she had from New Orleans to New York. Mr. Wood referred me to J. W. Curry, Esq., an acquaintance of mine, and a citizen of this place, from whom I received the following full particulars concerning Miss Chrisman:

Mr. Curry was in Johnstown (Johnstown is thirty-eight miles west of Altoona, on main line of Pennsylvania railroad) soon after the flood, rendering all the aid possible to the sufferers; and on Thursday before last, June 6, I think he said, one of the workmen engaged in clearing away the debris collected at the stone railroad bridge in Johnstown, cut into a small-sized leather satchel, in which were a number of articles, including a Greek Testament, in which was found a slip of white paper, on which was written the following:

To Mrs. Isaac Hughes,
20 East 12th street, New York City.
Am on train No. 8.
A. CLARA CHRISMAN.

There was also a letter found from her uncle, Judge Chrisman. Mr. Curry telegraphed to both the parties, and diligently set to work to find the body.

Yesterday, June 13, the body was found in front of a drug store in Johnstown, two miles below the point where she left the train. The body was, of course, somewhat decomposed, and was identified by a ring on her finger, with the initials, "A. C. C.," engraved inside, and some writing, I believe, in her pocket that corresponded with the writing found in her leather hand-bag.

Mr. Curry deserves great credit for his special effort to find the body, it being very difficult on account of her being unknown to him. Her body was prepared for burial, put in a hermetically sealed casket, and sent to her mother at Beauregard, Miss. Two of her trunks are probably lost, while two others, sent by express, are safe in New York.

I saw at the residence of Mr. Curry, this afternoon, the satchel, now cut open on the side by a workman's axe, and I saw the slip of paper containing the address of Mrs. Hughes, and the ring just referred to, and several little articles, such as gold pencils, etc. Mr. Curry said he felt a special interest in finding her body, on account of her being a missionary. The satchel and contents are in possession of Mr. Curry, who will see that it reaches the right hands.

As I gazed on that satchel and its contents, her gold ring and pencil, and her handwriting so plain on the slip of paper, and thought of her sad fate, I felt grieved, indeed—felt as though I knew her through you; and yet she was a stranger! What better proof do we want than this, to show there is no North and no South, but all one people, deeply interested in the welfare of each other?

How fortunate it was that your friend, Miss Howell, went by another route! * * * * * *

I feel that I have written more than you care to read, and should have confined myself solely to answering your enquiries about Miss Chrisman. We can think of scarcely anything here but this great calamity in which she lost her life. We are so near the scene of the disaster; but, far or near, the feeling of horror seems to be the same.

Very truly, your friend,

WM. F. GABLE.

Week of Prayer.

Programme for the Week of Prayer and Self-denial, with Family Offerings for Missions, August 4-11, 1889.

Sunday, Aug. 4.—Sermons on the Relation of the Holy Spirit to Foreign Missions. Acts xiii, 1-3.

Monday, Aug. 5.—Prayer and offerings for China, our oldest, most difficult, and most important mission field.

Tuesday, Aug. 6. Prayer and offerings for Japan, our newest and most open field among the heathen.

Wednesday, Aug. 7.—Prayer and offerings for Brazil, where, among other consecrated laborers, the daughters of two of our Bishops are laboring to bring the other half of the American continent to a knowledge of Christ.

Thursday, Aug. 8.—Prayer and offerings for Mexico, where, at our very door, are ten million souls without the pure gospel.

Friday, Aug. 9.—Prayer and offerings to extend the work in the Indian Mission Conference, both among the half-civilized and the wild tribes of Indians, who look to our church so largely for the preaching of the gospel.

Saturday, Aug. 10.—Prayer and offerings for our Mexican Border, Cuban, and Western work, with the large unevangelized population in those fields.

Sunday, Aug. 11.—Sermons on Christ in the Home; or, Our Obligations as Families to the Gospel. Joshua xxiv, 15; or Acts xvi, 14, 15.

The offerings may be made at each service, or be set aside daily, and presented at the service on Sunday, the eleventh—"an offering from each family."

The Mission Board, at its recent annual meeting, adopted a resolution calling on the church to "observe a week of prayer, especially for missions, beginning on the first Sunday in August, and that the preachers be requested to preach a sermon on the subject of missions; also that a special family offering be requested from each family in the church."

The Bishops were requested to "appoint a committee, to consist of three of their number, to prepare a programme for the 'week of prayer.'" Bishop Hendrix, chairman of the committee, has sent us the programme, which we have given above.

We will furnish a supply of the programme in leaflet form to any preacher who will send us his address.

Also a supply of leaflets suited to the services of each day, for gratuitous distribution.

We hope to hear from every preacher in our connection.

I. G. JOHN, Sec.

Dancing in the Church.

The following, if correctly printed, is a resolution passed by the Woodville District Conference, Mississippi Conference, May 16:

It is the sense of this Conference that the practice of dancing among the members of the church is an evil antagonistic to the principles of our holy religion, and detrimental to the growth in grace of those who practice it, and we do solemnly disapprove and condemn said practice by our members.

Dancing, I think, should not be treated that way; and I am slow to believe that it contains fully the views of a majority of that Conference. I certainly would not have voted for the resolution, and am sorry to see it emanating from a Methodist Conference. The church, on such subjects, ought to keep silence, or say something with more tone. It is the sense of that Conference, not about dancing, generally, but that "the practice of dancing" by "the members of the church" is detrimental to the growth in grace.

There is no grace nor growth in grace involved in the subject at all. It is a plain, simple, violent outrage; a bold, square insult to God. "Our members" don't dance, either as a "practice," or occasionally; but hold the immodest indecency in abhorrence. Dancing people ought to know that they are not members of the church. And if Christians are true to their calling, they will cause them to know it. You might as well talk of immodest chastity as dancing church members.

H. A.

The financial condition of the United States government, as shown by the public debt statement of the Treasury Department on the first instant, is quite satisfactory. During the eleven months ending May 31, the total reduction of the public debt amounted to $72,682,105 45, with a cash balance in the treasury, June 1, of $629,189,888 72. The total public debt remaining unpaid, including interest to June 1, was $1,662,911,493 23. With the available funds in the treasury the net debt is less than a billion dollars.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1889.

GOD GIVES US MEN.

BY DR. HOLLAND.

Come now to us, O God! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions, and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.
For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their loud professions and their little deeds,
Mingle in selfish strife—lo! Freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps.

Temperance Work.

Some time ago in one of my classes we were studying forms, and were comparing the cube, cone, pyramid and sphere. When we came to the sphere, I asked for the number of sides. One little boy replied that it was all sides, little suspecting how near he came to giving the very definition that is set forth in the higher mathematics.

So we might say there are infinite phases to this temperance question; yet when we pass through it the plane of truth, we find it striking straight through the center. This temperance ball is not of the same dimensions in every part of our land. In some places it has been half buried in the stiff clay of indifference and prejudice. But its principle is as enduring as eternity, and can not long remain in ignominious rest. In other parts of the country it has been kept so continually on the roll that its movements have well-nigh distracted many individuals who constantly put barriers in its way, in the meantime telling people there is no harm in it; that it is not able to hurt anybody. This annoyance will be persistently continued until, instead of retarding and dodging it, they join the great army who are determined to keep it going. We want to roll it up the inclined plane of public opinion; then by its own momentum, and the force by which any good cause is drawn toward truth's center, it will go on and down into the very heart of humanity. But what meridian shall we touch to-day? Let it be that one whose high noon shall be told when the sunlight of intelligent thought shall mark the hour of success. There are small circles of opinion, injustice, misunderstanding, slander and prejudice, but their planes touch no vital point, and we will not follow them up.

I prefer to speak of the temperance work as belonging equally to man and woman, the responsibility equally heavy and binding upon both. Because woman has bitterly suffered from the great wrong of intemperance, it is fitting that she should use every influence of her life against it. Devoted to her home, dependent upon it for her own happiness, and the happiness of all who are dear to her, it becomes not only her right, but her duty to labor in the cause of home protection. Using the language of an eminent American: "Since drunkenness comes first and hardest upon woman; since it is to her what a swine is to a garden—rooting up every sweet blossom, and destroying every fruit, and making a wilderness of the garden of the Lord—I have a right to say to every young woman, 'By your look, by your work, and by your act, bear testimony and exert your influence against intemperance. If there is one thing that woman should stand for, it is temperance.'" That is true. Her influence is great, but I deny that she holds all the power in this reform. I deny that she should be left to do all the work because it is a good work. I protest that the field be not given over to her hands, for man holds yet the most powerful weapon to be wielded against this traffic—I mean the ballot. But it shall be woman's high privilege to aid in educating our people until they are ready, willing and eager to put this evil from among them by right of suffrage. Does it not rouse all that is manly and tender and chivalrous in manhood—this call from women and little children to help them strike down the injustice, the shame, the ignominy, the sorrow that continually threatens and curses them? And do they not care that their fellow-men are falling miserable victims to the deadly foe? Will they ask, as did Cain of old, "Am I my brother's keeper?" Nay, verily, our people are becoming enlightened, and many of our brothers have been laboring earnestly and long. We honor and trust them; but their number is far too small in proportion to the great need. Woman herself has not been wholly roused; but the mothers and wives and sisters of our land will one day see their whole duty, we believe. May the day not come too late for the joy of their own homes, which in their proud confidence they deem so safe! All great reforms move slowly, and meet resistance at every step; but they gain power in proportion to the righteousness of their cause, knowing, as their leaders do, that truth can not die. "Very often God's divinest agent of help is hindrance."

The W. C. T. U. has been called the best-drilled army the world ever saw. It comprises forty splendidly organized departments, and is trained to fight on any battle-ground, warring with every species of vice and oppression. You may understand the forty divisions better when you know their definition of temperance: "A moderate use of all good things. Total abstinence from the bad." The basis of all their effort is education. They continually give the invitation, "Come, let us reason together." With the white ribbon beating over 200,000 loyal hearts, the nations must come to a knowledge of the truth. Thirty years ago temperance people believed that law alone could regulate the liquor business. The masses were not ready for it, and the law failed. Then the other extreme was tried—moral suasion only. Eloquent, earnest men stirred the country time after time, and thousands promised reform and pledged against further use of the intoxicating cup. But the temptation was not removed, and many of these went back to their bondage of drink. The educative factor was left out, the nature of the passion was not exposed, and the traffic was plenty of fresh material from the boys and young men. Thus the reformers found their work continually undone. Terrible need will find its own remedy; and when we get people to thinking, when we get them to look for the truth and desire to find it, we may be sure they will find it and hold it as dear as their honor. And when they know the truth, they will work to advance its power. Our work to endure must be intelligent. We find it far easier to play around and hurrah for a principle than to work for it. But only faithful effort, earnest study, and patient continuance can accomplish what we hope for—nay, what we know must come. Many of the finest intellects, both of Europe and America, have focused their light and strength upon the question, and are proving by the laws of science and practical experience that alcohol is an unnatural product, a narcotic poison; never a food, always hurtful, and not needed anywhere in God's world.

We have not time for the arguments or the proofs here, but to any honest inquirer after truth we have only to say, "Seek, and ye shall find." Every statement made by the intelligent friends of this cause may be substantiated. Dealers do not want this matter investigated. They do not want the people to learn the tricks of their trade. Like the autocrats of the church of olden times, they would like to dictate to the people about all pertaining to their traffic. Our most complete armor of defense against the business is, knowledge concerning it. There is hardly an argument against the sale and drinking of intoxicants that has not already been used. We have appealed to common sense and good judgment thus: Money for liquor is worse than wasted. In the first place, it should have been spent for some necessity of life—for education or Christianity. In the second place, it deranges the mind, debases the soul, and destroys the body of the drinker. In the third place, it robs those dependent upon that individual of many pleasant and useful things they might have had in place of the liquor. In the fourth place, it brings sorrow and misfortune to those who should be protected by the consumer. Fifth, it defrauds the country of just that much capital and industry that are destroyed by the effects of the liquor drank. Again: We have tried to put ourselves in the place of the money lover and argue from his standpoint. Lay aside, if you will, every argument save those of a financial character. Let Christianity and religion and a future life touch the question nowhere. You may even take away all idea of patriotism and love of country, without which no citizen should dare to claim its protection; disregard the high principle of humanity; grant that our body politic is only a vast machine for money-making—not for the advancement of the race, not for the elevation of mankind, not for peace nor happiness nor home, but simply and solely to make money. Even then we should be supporting a system of vast inconsistency; we should be paying enormous sums for the privilege of making ourselves paupers; we should be receiving with greedy joy the blood-money of our fellow-beings, while we paid out many times that amount for State prisons, asylums and poor-houses to put them in when they could no longer add anything to our treasury of selfishness. As American citizens, do you like the picture? Is it not dark and hideous; but is it not true? Can you sit with folded hands and let such things be?

Again: We have plead with the church, but she has not yet risen in the strength of purity and put on the whole armor of God. She may not cast out this evil spirit until she is purified of those things that are continually bringing reproach on her name. We have petitioned our Legislatures again and again with miles of paper and thousands of names, but our honorable legislators wish to please their constituents. They have not the good of the country at heart; so they continue to make laws that are whisky-soaked and not water-tight. The legislation in favor of temperance that has been secured came by much persistent perseverance; and I have thought that those autocrats of government grant what is so untiringly asked of them not for righteousness' sake, but, like the rich man and widow of the Scriptures, "lest she weary me." We have plead with the high powers of our country to disgrace us no longer by fastening upon helpless heathen nations this burning curse, but thousands of gallons are shipped for every missionary that is sent to the benighted shores of Africa. It is a most grievous shame that the people of those countries so lately pagan should exercise a higher principle of humanity than free-born, civilized Americans. Madagascar's queen refused to accept revenue from spirits because the stuff destroyed her subjects, body and soul. The King of Siam petitioned to have protection withdrawn from those Americans who would sell liquor. A Hindoo said to an Englishman: "I do not like your people; the followers of Jesus Christ drink whisky."

India's curse has been English rum and opium, forced upon her millions of people. America is thus cursing Africa. And we an enlightened nation! If you deny or ignore your duty here as a Christian, have you none as a patriot, as a citizen? Not time for these things? Rather, have you time to neglect them? Can you afford to let them alone? A busy merchant was once summoned to appear in court. He sent in his line with the word that he could not come. The judge indignantly returned the money by an officer, commanding the citizen to report to him at once, or he would have him arrested. When the merchant appeared, the judge thus addressed him, "How dare you insult your country by refusing the service she requires of you?" Have we any citizens like that?

I wonder if even our bitterest enemies would be willing to see all temperance people at once eliminated from the world. Would it then be a very safe place even for liquor sellers? They are willing that we should stay here to adjust the equilibrium of things for them; but are dreadfully afraid of being overbalanced. How sad that we are at once their safety and their danger! It is true we are cranks, but, then, cranks are very good working machines, and they have a troublesome way of thinking. Galileo was a crank for saying the world moved; Columbus was a crank for saying it was round. Watt was exceedingly cranky when he harnessed steam, and Fulton was a most hopeless crank with that boat of his. You remember, only a few would risk their lives on the river with him; but when the steamer glided smoothly over the water, all the people on shore hurrahed and cheered him. So it will be in this cause. But when the hour of triumph comes, I want to be steering up stream and not shouting on the shore.

After all, it is a splendid thing, amidst warring opinions, to stand upon the progressive side, to speak great truths frankly, fearlessly, not compromising and spoiling them by apology for fear of giving offense. But to unite with these workers now means self-denial, endurance, sacrifice, faith.

"Then to side with truth is noble,
When we share her wretched crust,
Ere her cause bring fame and profit,
And it is prosperous to be just."

But, as we have said, our work is more educative than reformatory. We welcome every honest aid that may help us to put down the drink curse; but we know prevention to be far easier than cure. It is more human, more wise to teach boys and girls how to keep their bodies sound and pure, than, having left them unfortified, untaught, to seek their reformation when they fall. More sensible, is it not, to train childhood for usefulness than to give days and nights and fortunes to maintain numberless organizations, societies and institutions of charity for the purpose of relieving distress and misery that are direct products of the drink traffic? We know, too, that the chief pillar supporting this vast temple of dishonor is license. Teach the youth to see it, and they will pull it down! Teach them its vile iniquity, and it will not continue to disgrace the sunlight and pure air of America. The children have enlisted, and the Sun of Righteousness is bathing their white banners in glory. You may smile that we have so much faith in these noble young hearts; but wait—

"God's plans, like lilies pure and white, unfold;
We must not tear the close-shut leaves apart—
Time will reveal the calyxes of gold."

But is there not a beautiful pathos in the thought of innocent little ones putting out their young strength to clear the path of their future from temptation and wrong? Is there one manly or womanly heart in all our land that does not long to help them? Are your loved ones all so free from stain, so safe from evil that you may not be touched or persuaded by this plea from childhood? God's work will not fail because you withhold your hand from it; but the blood of innocence may be required at your hands. Oh, may it not always be asked of us: "Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread, and your labor for that which satisfieth not?"

We want boys for our country who have learned what a noble thing it is to be brave in the right, who do not believe that true manliness consists in having a great many bad habits; who are not ashamed to say that they have determined, God helping them, to keep the temple of their bodies fit for the indwelling of the Spirit of Christ; to keep their lips and hearts free from all that debases, building their lives into monuments of manly manhood. We want girls for our country who will never wear lightly the jewel of their womanhood; girls who demand of their brothers and gentlemen friends just that standard of purity demanded of them; who will not smile at the dissipations of young men, and countenance in them what they would not approve in their own brothers.

Not until purity, justice and truth are held aloft on one standard for the supreme and undivided law of man and woman, may we hope for the elevation of humanity, the true freedom of our country, the salvation of the world.

MARY RUSSELL.

HUMPHREYS, Mississippi.

From the Work.

RAYNE, LA.

MR. EDITOR: Recently we have been doing some work among the Creoles in the bounds of this circuit. Bro. J. S. Bailey's Sunday-school for the Creoles is in a prosperous condition; and on the first Sunday afternoon in this month I went down and preached for them, and nineteen children joined the church, some of whom were not Creoles. This week, accompanied by Bro. Bailey, I visited their homes; and when I met a family that could not all speak English, Bro. Bailey would interpret for me. Many of those Roman Catholics speak of joining the church with their children. My work is enlarging so rapidly that I very much need an assistant. If you find a good young man that would like to come out here and help me preach and sing the gospel, tell him to come on; we'll give work and plenty to eat. Will furnish him a pony to ride, and pay him a little pocket change. I am now preaching four times a week, and holding four prayer meetings a week, besides now and then an extra service. We have organized two missionary societies (W. F. M. S.), and have one or two others in contemplation. To date we have had fifty-two accessions to the church, including a few by letter. And tell our good Baptist brethren that we have baptized forty-six children, and more to follow."

This is largely a mission field—plenty material. We have mission schools in foreign fields; why not have one in South Louisiana? My heart is set on this mission work for the Creoles, and others. One Frenchman has invited me to preach a funeral sermon for a nice old friend of his that died about a year ago. He said, though he was not a church-man, yet he was charitable towards everybody, and had been dead long enough to need a good sermon; said there were a great many others buried there, and he thought it would do them good to go to the graveyard and preach for them. I shall take advantage of the occasion to preach to the living. Some of these Creoles can read, and nearly all understand English a little. If you will send me a dozen copies of the ADVOCATE, I will distribute among the reading ones, and ask them to subscribe. Pray for us. Yours in Christ.

R. M. BLOCKER.

WATERPROOF, LA.

MR. EDITOR: It gives me great pleasure to tell you we are still alive here and at work for the Lord. We are not discouraged, but hopeful. As long as the family continue to assemble around the breakfast, dinner and supper table, there need be no apprehensions of sickness among its various members. As long as the people regularly meet the pastor at the church, and gather about the Lord's table when it is spread, he has great reasons to believe all are enjoying spiritual health. By this figure I do not mean to say all or every member in my charge is a hearty, robust Christian. There are some who are almost anything else. But last Sunday, a week ago, I was much pleased to see so many come to the table spread in old Wesley Chapel. That was our quarterly meeting, and the presiding elder, Rev. J. D. Harper, was with us, and we "were all in the Spirit on the Lord's day." Nobody joined the church, because nobody was converted. I am opposed to taking unconverted persons into the church. What good does it do them? None it seems, while often they do the church a great deal of harm. I do wish every unconverted person in the church would either "quit their meanness" and do good, or else withdraw from it. I would rather have a congregation of a dozen godly men and women than hundreds of unrighteous, sin-loving, pleasure-seeking, so-called members of the church. Financially, we may say the second Quarterly Conference was a success. The presiding elder was paid up in full. And notwithstanding the weather's inclemency, a great many people met us, and were delighted with another of Bro. Harper's best sermons. He preached to us on missions, and it was a telling sermon. All were so interested that we could scarcely realize an hour and a half had elapsed during its delivery.

Those Wesley and Elizabeth people paid all their missionary assessment this year, Doctor, and they are glad of it. Another thing: We are working mightily to repair old Wesley this year. We need one hundred and fifty dollars to do the work. Of that amount we have raised seventy-five dollars, and have already begun work on the chapel. You know this was in the olden days a handsome building; and we are determined she shall put on her beautiful garments once more, and that right soon—even before December 12. We are getting on well anyhow at Wesley, and, in fact, all over the work.

We could not observe "Children's Day" on the third Sunday in May, but we did observe it, and with good results. Yesterday, June 16, was the day observed. The children gave three dollars and forty-five cents, and the grown folks six dollars and fifty-five, making just ten dollars. The children have a missionary society, and are raising money in that way, too, to aid in the extension of the Master's kingdom. May the Lord greatly bless these and all the dear children of the church, and give us pastors and all leaders and teachers grace and wisdom to train them to work for him!

JAMES E. RIDDLE.

JONESVILLE, LA.

MR. EDITOR: Rev. B. F. Lewis, of Natchez, commenced a meeting here Monday last, and continued until last night, when other engagements compelled him to close. Bad weather and muddy roads interfered considerably with the meeting, but steadily increasing congregations manifested the interest taken, and we now praise God for an outpouring of his gracious Spirit, as shown in the revival of our own members, of two (possibly more) conversions; eight accessions—all told—one being by letter; four adults baptized, eight children.

Yesterday we had a spiritual feast: preaching and communion in the morning, and preaching at night, at both of which services the Word was presented with intense earnestness and in such a manner as to carry conviction that God's promises are, Yea and Amen! In the evening a baptismal service was held, and afterwards Bro. Lewis showed that he understood what is meant by, "Feed my lambs." The little ones were held spellbound, and the compression of many a pair of little scarlet lips told that the pure little heart had resolved "to do just what papa and mamma said, and that right away;" and my prayer is that God will give these little ones strength to keep these vows. The "big children" received some plain talk as to their duties as parents. May God enable them to do it! Bro. Ashley, who was pastor in charge here last year, and whose labor in the Lord was not in vain, assisted us greatly. We thank God for his Holy Spirit. We thank him for hearing and answering our prayers, and we thank him that, by his grace, Bro. Lewis has been the instrument of causing his name to be glorified here; and we ask your readers to pray that our next onslaught here may be blessed of him who alone is worthy to be praised.

WALTER DUNSTAN, P. C.

JUNE 17, 1889.

CARROLLTON AND GREENWOOD, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: Our second Quarterly Conference convened at Greenwood, May 19 and 20. Dr. J. J. Wheat, our faithful and efficient presiding elder, was at his post, and delighted all by his preaching and the carefulness with which he looked after all the interests of the church. Our Quarterly Conference was a success in every way. We continued the meeting for two weeks, holding three services a day most of the time. Bro. E. G. Kilgore came in and did all the preaching after the third day to the close. Bro. Beville, a sweet singer, came with Bro. Kilgore to do the singing, but got sick and had to leave. This we regretted very much. There were eight accessions to our church, and the membership raised to a better life. Bro. Kilgore gave them "hot shot;" and judging from the smoke which was seen to rise, execution was done.

Plain preaching in the spirit of Christ is what the people need. There is too much "kid-glove" preaching for the good of the world. I do not mean for every or any man to try to be a Sam Jones, or even a Kilgore, but I simply mean for him to be natural. But whenever a man does this, you will hear some one say he is trying to ape Sam Jones. My experience is that when I have been the plainest and most pointed, I have done the most good.

Holy Spirit guides us in our work. We are getting on very well. We have received about thirty into the church since January 1, and expect to receive many more before December 1.

G. W. GOMON.

Kavanaugh College Commencement.

MR. EDITOR: Kavanaugh College closed its fifth session on June 11. The college continues to prosper, and is doing a thorough and excellent work. Rev. H. Walter Featherston, the able and careful president, stated that the work done during the term closing had been the best ever done by the college. The moral influence is fine. The results are such as we might expect from pious, efficient teachers, diligent, hard study, and bright, healthy students.

The commencement exercises—sermon, addresses, music, essays, recitations and declamations—were all highly complimentary to the college and all who took part in them.

Rev. James Atkinson Lewis and Miss Annie Olive Stevens were the only graduates. The degree of "A. B." was conferred upon them. Miss Flora C. Colquhoun had finished her course and prepared her essay; but, alas! human life, she died two weeks before commencement. Her chair was draped—draped in mourning. The president, after an impressive tribute to her memory, read her essay.

The patrons of the college are highly pleased, and the outlook for solid and satisfactory work very encouraging.

H. S. RAYNER, for Visit'g Com.

A Worthy Example.

MR. EDITOR: I want to call your attention, and that of your readers, to the following: Early in the spring one of my members approached me, saying, "Here is a thank-offering to God of $10 for the delightful rain which we had last night. You can apply it to any object you may choose." A few weeks later this was repeated. This was done both times without ostentation or show—no sounding of a trumpet. No one knew anything of it. It was done in secret. When asked for permission to publish it in our paper the reply was: "No, no; 'let not the left hand know what thy right hand doeth.'" Consent was given only on condition that the name be not disclosed.

Notice: He recognized the rain as a blessing from God, in grateful acknowledgment of which he presented to God a part of his substance. Beautiful! exhibiting a most worthy Christian spirit. Let this brother's example be generally followed, and God's blessings will rest upon us in great abundance.

W. W. TOMLINSON.

BOLIVAR, Mississippi.

Indian Mission.

MR. EDITOR: I have two more names to my Indian Mission proposition, to wit: Bro. J. P. Harvey, Beach, Miss., $1 per year, and Mrs. P. A. Johnston, Forest, Miss., $5 per year. Sister Johnston is the wife of our presiding elder (Brandon district), and is an earnest, faithful worker in the mission cause. This indicates what Bro. and Sister Johnston think of the Indian Mission, as a large number of Indians live in the bounds of his district. Probably three or four thousand, and he knows something about their condition and needs, and feels the necessity upon us to do something toward their salvation.

Now, brethren and sisters, send your name and amount at once. Let us roll up the amount necessary, and send the missionary to work.

A. D. MILLER.

CATO, Mississippi.

Sparks.

The man who has begun to live more seriously within begins to live more simply without.—Phillips Brooks.

Three things are known only in the following way—a hero in war, a friend in necessity, and a wise man in speech.—Arabic.

Free will is not the liberty to do whatever one likes, but the power of doing whatever one sees ought to be done, even in the very face of other wise overwhelming impulse. To do lies freedom, indeed.—Geo. McDonald.

Much of worldliness consists in a mutual and moral atmosphere; and the beauty of divine things, bringing to them their own especial joy, surrounds us with a supernatural atmosphere which assimilates our inward life to itself after a time.—Faber.

To live well in the quiet routine of life, to fill a little space because God wills it, to go on cheerfully with the round of little duties, little avocations, to smile for the joys of others when the heart is aching.....who does this works will follow him. He may not be a hero, but he is one of God's heroes.—Farrar.

We talk about the telescope of faith, but I think we want even more the microscope of watchful and prayerful love.—Havergal.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Hurlburt and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON I.—July 7.

SAMUEL CALLED OF GOD.

I. Sam. III, 1-14.

TIME.—B. C. 1150.

PLACE.—Shiloh (Place of Rest).

1. The child Samuel—Josephus says that Samuel's call to the prophetic office happened when he had just completed his twelfth year. This is remarkable in connection with Luke II, 42. Ministered—In such a way as was proper for a child, and in such services as he could perform, such as lighting the lamps and opening the doors of the tabernacle. Before Eli—Under his oversight and care. Word of the Lord—The Word of God announced by prophets. Was precious—In the time when Samuel served the Lord before Eli, both as a boy and a young man, the Word of the Lord had become dear—that is, rare, in Israel. No open vision—Literally, No divine communication was spread—that is, published abroad, made known. If perchance God revealed himself to plous individuals here and there, he gave them private revelations; but the persons thus honored were not thereby constituted public prophets, nor sent to publish their communications to the people. In the midst of such spiritual darkness Samuel arose as a luminary in Israel.

2. At that time—The words "at that time" (Heb. in that day) refer naturally to the period naturally designated those days in the first verse, when the Word of the Lord was rare. Eli was laid down in his place—Was laid down to repose in the court of the tabernacle, where were divers rooms for the uses of the priests. His eyes began to wax dim—Therefore, Samuel might well suppose that Eli called him to minister to him in some service or help by night; and he was probably sleeping near Eli for that purpose.

3. Ere the lamp of God went out—As was the custom in the great temple, so now the high-priest slept in one of the adjacent chambers, and the attendant priests in another. In the center, on the left of the entrance, stood the seven-branched candlestick, now mentioned for the last time; superseded during the reign of Solomon by the ten separate candlesticks, but revived after the captivity by the copy of the one candlestick with seven branches, as it is still seen on the arch of Titus. It was the only light of the tabernacle during the night, was solemnly lighted every evening, as in the devotions of the Eastern world, both Mussulman and Christian, and extinguished just before morning when the doors were opened. The statement that this light was not yet extinguished is equivalent to "before the morning dawn." The temple—It is probable that in the course of three hundred years since the establishment of the ark at Shiloh a permanent structure had grown up, replacing the ancient tent. By degrees it became known as "the house of the Lord," "the temple," and when the magnificent building of Solomon was erected, the name which had gradually been growing into use was formally applied to it. Samuel was laid down—The ark was placed in the holy of holies, which the high-priest alone might enter, and he but once a year. We must not understand, therefore, that Samuel slept in the holy of holies. His meaning is only that he slept in the tabernacle, in the building where the ark, but not in the same room with it.

4. The Lord called Samuel—In an audible voice. Probably by a voice from the ark in the holy of holies. He said, Here am I—Note Samuel's readiness to serve the aged priest, his spiritual father. Unacquainted with the visions of the Almighty, he took it to be only Eli's call which was by the call of God. Such mistakes make oftener than we think. God speaks by this Word, and we take it to be only the call of the minister; calls in his providences, and we look only to the instruments. His voice cries, and the impressions of it are soon lost; hearers lie down again and their convictions come to nothing, but here and there a man understands it to be his voice.

5. He ran unto Eli—In Samuel we observe a quick attention and unwearied diligence; he hears and runs at every call; he stays not to be twice called before he goes. He murmurs not, he argues not, he complains not, he delays not; at every call he rises out of his bed and runs. It is to such a zeal as this our Lord requires us to strive, for of such is the kingdom of heaven. He went and lay down—Thinking probably that he had been dreaming.

6. I called not, my son—At first, no doubt, he thought the call which Samuel had heard was nothing more than the impression of the youth, who had been fast asleep.

7. Samuel did not yet know the Lord—The first part of this verse is explained by the second. Samuel knew not the Lord in the way of receiving divine communications from him; for, as already stated, such communications were at that time rare. Neither was the word ... yet revealed—He knew the written word, and was acquainted with the mind of God in that, but he did not yet apprehend the way in which God reveals himself to his servants the prophets, especially by a still small voice.

8. And the Lord came, and stood—In verse 15 we learn that Samuel had a vision as well as heard a voice, and, therefore, it is most natural to understand the words came and stood as designating a visible appearance. So then for the first time Samuel stands with consciousness in the presence of the majesty of God, and immediately all the riddles of life here to be solved for him, and the meaning of his life to become clear.

9. Both the ears of every one that sinneth it shall tingle—More accurately, which whosoever heareth, both his ears shall tingle." This expressive phrase occurs again twice of the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar. The catastrophe that fell upon the house of Eli and Shiloh is alluded to in Psalm lxxviii, 60-64. All things which I have spoken—The message of God to Eli was very severe; but its severity was not so great as the sin which it rebuked; and the sin of Eli was the greater that God had already warned him against it, but in vain. When I begin, I will also make an end—It is intimated that it might, possibly, be some time before he would begin, but let them not call that forbearance an acquittance, nor that reprieve a pardon; for when at length he does begin he will make thorough work of it, and though he stay long he will strike home.

13. Forever—"Forever" signifies here, as in several other places of Scripture, for many successive generations. The priesthood taken away from Eli's descendants was never restored to them; but from the time of Solomon remained in the family of Eleazar.

14. Shall not be purged with sacrifice—The ordinary sins of the priests and people were purged by the appointed sacrifices. But the sin of the sons of Eli could not be so purged. The second prophecy, given through Samuel, reaffirms the punishment, emphasizes Eli's personal guilt, and declares the sentence on the priestly house to be irrevocable. Its object, then, would seem to be twofold: 1. To rouse Eli and his sons to repentance and quickening into spiritual life (see Eli's response in verse 18; whereas no answer of his to the first threat is recorded); 2. To accredit Samuel as a prophet by making him the bearer of a message that the whole nation would hear of, and to develop his spiritual-prophetic earnestness and faithfulness by bringing him into personal contact with the most serious events.

Missionary.

The Jesuit Missions.

A recent issue of the Etudes Religieuses has some interesting statistics of the number and distribution of the Jesuit missionaries abroad at the commencement of the present year. The numbers are those of the various orders of the priesthood; priests, coadjutors and "scolastiques," but in every case the number of priests is more than twice that of the other two orders put together. In the Balkan Peninsula there are 15 Jesuit missionaries; in Africa, and especially Egypt, Madagascar, and the Zambesi region, 223; in Asia, especially Armenia, Syria, certain parts of India, and parts of China, 630. In China alone the number is 195, all of French nationality. In Oceania, including the Philippines, the Malay Archipelago, Australia, and New Zealand, the number is 270; in America, including certain specified States of the Union, portions of Canada, British Honduras, Brazil, and Peru, 1,130; the total number of Jesuits scattered over the globe in purely missionary work being 2,377. These are of various nationalities, but the vast majority are French. In the distribution great attention is paid to nationality; thus in Illyri, Dalmatia, and Albany, they are all Venetians; in Constantinople and Syria, Sicilians; in Africa, Asia Minor, and China, French; while no French Jesuits are to be found in any part of the American continent. In the Bombay and Bengal Presidencies they are Germans and Belgians respectively; in the Philippines, Spanish; in the Malay Archipelago, Dutch; in Eastern Australia and New Zealand, Irish; in the United States, Germans, Neapolitans, and Piedmontese are found working in specified and distinct districts; those laboring among the Indians of Canada are Canadians; in the British West India Colonies they are English; in Central America, Spaniards, in South America, Italians, Spaniards, and Germans; the Italians and Germans having all Brazil to themselves doubtless because of the enormous Italian and German immigration to Brazil. It will be understood that the spheres of labor of the different orders, Jesuits, Lazarists, Franciscans, etc., are carefully laid down at Rome, no two orders, as a rule, working in the same region; these spheres once fixed, the distribution within them is left to the head of the particular order, whatever it might be. In an illimitable field like China all the orders are represented; but the districts of each are specified, and were re-arranged about eighteen months ago. The Jesuits have Kiangsu province and the southeastern part of Chili, the metropolitan province; they have 115 fathers in the former and 50 in the latter. In Africa, again they touch only on the east coast at certain points, and are represented in no other part of the continent; in India they have nothing to do with Madras, Ceylon, Central India, or the Northwest Provinces, and their work in the United States is exceedingly circumscribed. In such places as Japan, the Malay Peninsula, Siberia, Indo-China (Burmah, Tonquin, Siam, Annam), they are not found at all. The great centers of Jesuit missionary activity on the surface of the globe are the Zambesi, Syria (where there are 112 French Jesuits), the Philippine Archipelago, the Central States of the Union (here they are all German Jesuits), Central America and Cuba, Ecuador and Peru, Chili and Paraguay.

Christian Progress in Japan.

Japan is in an especial sense an American mission field. Of the twenty-six Protestant missionary societies which are laboring in that field twenty are American, including two Canada societies. The first missions in Japan were begun just thirty years ago. Missionaries of three American churches—the Presbyterian, the Reformed (Dutch), and the Protestant Episcopal—arrived in that country in 1859, and those of the American Baptist Union in the following year. These four churches carried on their missionary work there—and it seemed to be not very encouraging work—without help until 1869, when the American Board and the Church Missionary Society of England sent representatives to join them. Since then other societies have entered the field one after another, also having joined the list since 1880. The Unitarian missionary went out in 1887, just two years after the Society of Friends (orthodox) had sent their first missionaries. European societies have been slow to appreciate the claims of Japan as a mission field. They have missions in China and India, but they have left Japan for the most part to America. Only one Continental society has a mission in Japan, begun so recently as 1885. The Scotch Presbyterians, the English Baptists, and three Church of England societies, have missionaries in Japan; but of the 413 missionaries laboring in Japan at the close of 1888 no fewer than 386 were from United States and Canada. The number of missionaries in Japan in 1888 indicates an increase of 90 for the year. There are 219 organized churches, of which 92 are wholly and 157 partially self-supporting, an increase of 28; 25,514 members, a gain of 5,785; 9,698 scholars in day and boarding schools, a gain of 2,553; 287 theological students, and 142 native ministers. The increase of theological students was 71, and of native ministers 40. The growth of hospital practice may be inferred from the fact that the number of patients increased from 3,334 in 1887 to 17,279 in 1888. The contributions of native Christians for all purposes were 61,155 yen, an increase for the year of 22,883 yen. Independence is a marked characteristic of Japanese Christianity. The native Christians show a disposition to help themselves, think for themselves, and to have a church of their own. The nucleus of such a church already exists in what is called the United Church of Christ in Japan. The converts of seven societies, all Presbyterian in creed and system, have united to form this body, which has its ministry, eldership and judicatories, and is virtually independent. This body has 61 regularly organized churches, of which 28 are self-supporting, and 8,630 members. If the Congregational Churches which the American Board has established join this organization, as they are likely to do—the question being now before them for decision—two-thirds of all the native Protestant Christians in Japan will be under one name, creed, and government.—New York Times.

In the footsteps of such brave pioneer missionaries in Africa as Livingstone, Hannington and Gordon, are following equally heroic men and women to-day, who are counting not their lives dear unto themselves, in order that they may open the dark Continent to the Light of the world. Within two or three weeks a band of eight missionaries was speeded on its way by a large farewell meeting in Exeter Hall, London. Their destination is the great Balolo nation on the Upper Congo, a people numbering ten millions of souls, speaking one language, and spread over 800 miles of territory. Now they have only two Christian teachers; but the language has been reduced to writing, and a portion of the Scriptures translated. These new recruits go out under the auspices of Dr. Guinness' East London Institute, and will reenforce the Livingstone Inland Mission, which four years ago was transferred to the management of the American Baptist Missionary Union. The enterprise now becomes undenominational, and appeals strongly to those to whom hard work, rather than a large salary, is an attraction.

Temperance Notes.

A great many persons can not understand how it is, when there appears to be plenty of money in the country, that there is nevertheless so much suffering and so much complaint of hard times. It puts me in mind of a story I once read about a farmer and his hogs. He had a lot of hogs, of a good breed too, which he could not get fat. He gave them milk every day, and plenty of it, and yet, in spite of all, they got poorer continuously. He concluded those hogs had some new and strange disease. He wrote to an agricultural journal about them. A veterinary surgeon thought it a strange case, and determined to investigate. He went to look at the hogs; they were a sorry-looking set indeed. He climbed into the hog pen to investigate, and, lo! the mystery was solved—there was a large leak in the trough. If society wishes to exist and prosper, this leakage, the liquor traffic, must be stopped.—Samuel Schwarm.

Rhode Island voted on prohibition June 20. Miss Willard put the case in a nutshell when she said: "The entire plan of campaign of the amendment's foes in Rhode Island has the ear-marks of roguery. Note the chain of events—first, the repeal of the old restriction on the suffrage, a repeal admitting the irresponsible classes to the rights of suffrage; second, the legislative vote to resubmit; third, the time fixed for the election—only one day after the Pennsylvania result becomes known; fourth, the explicit postponement of the provisions of the secret ballot law, in order that the saloon men may stand close beside the ballot-boxes and see that the votes they pay for are put in.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood,"
"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"
and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.
Mention this Paper.

Tutt's Pills

stimulate the torpid liver, strengthen the digestive organs, regulate the bowels, and are unequaled as an anti-bilious medicine. In

Malarial Districts

their virtues are widely recognized, as they possess peculiar properties in freeing the system from that poison. This popular remedy rarely fails to effectually cure

Dyspepsia, Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness

and all disorders arising from a Torpid Liver and Bad Digestion.

A Proclamation!

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Fulton, Ark., says: "A year ago I had bilious fever; Tutt's Pills were so highly recommended that I used them. Never did medicine have a happier effect. After a practice of a quarter of a century, I proclaim them the best medicine ever used. I always prescribe them in my practice."

ANTI-BILIOUS

Sold Everywhere.
Office, 44 Murray St. New York
Tutt's Manual of Useful Receipts sent Free

PIANOS L&B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE 1 TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000
Worth of Pianos and Organs
Must be Closed Out by August 1.
New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new
In our repair factory.
MUST SELL:
Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices! Easy Terms! Write for Bargain Sheet.
LUDDEN & BATES
SAVANNAH, GA.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
BEECHAM'S PILLS
For Bilious and Nervous Disorders.
"Worth a Guinea a Box"—but sold for 25 cents,
BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

CLARK & MEADER,
—DEALERS IN—
FINE GROCERIES,
16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and
Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.
Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Card or Letter, Answered Promptly.

CARPETS
CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITIES.
Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.
Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.
All work is guaranteed.
Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works,
44 ST. PETER ST.
W. L. JARVIS.

BROWNE & JENKINS,
DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN
X WALL PAPER X
174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Write for prices. Samples sent to country free.

Frank Walker & Co.,
WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,
Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,
117 Tchoupitoulas St.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,
DEALER IN
WALL PAPERS,
Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.
263 - CAMP STREET - 263
Bet. Delord and Poydras. NEW ORLEANS.
Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.
B. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

A. Brousseau's Son,
23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,
CHINA MATTING,
CARPETS,
INGRAINS,
LACE CURTAINS,
WINDOW SHADES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.
Mention this paper.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER.
METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.
271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord,
NEW ORLEANS.
Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

PATENTS THOMAS P. SIMPSON, Washington, D. C. No atty's fee until Patent obtained. Write for Inventor's Guide.
Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

FROM
New Orleans to Cincinnati.
94 MILES THE SHORTEST.
TIME, 27 HOURS.
Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the
NORTH and EAST,
NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,
Without Transfer through the City.
Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.
MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.
Tickets for sale at all principal points South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 31 St. Charles street.
R. H. GARRETT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans
J. C. GAILEY, General Manager.
D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.
"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
And Through Cars for All Classes to
CHICAGO,
Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes
To St. Louis Without Change.
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis. Without Change.
The Shortest and Best Line
FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.
Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 4 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.
The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
Pullman Sleeping Cars
THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE
To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and
KANSAS CITY,
Where Close Connections Are Made In Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.
ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS
FROM NEW ORLEANS TO
Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.
TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.
J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—
Texas and Pacific
Railway Company.
SHORT LINE
—BETWEEN—
NEW ORLEANS,
TEXARKANA,
SHREVEPORT,
AND POINTS IN
Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.
Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.
For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address
B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas
JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

VULCAN
Fireproof Paint
IS INDORSED BY THE FIRE INSURANCE OFFICIALS OF NEW ORLEANS AND NEW YORK.
All Colors. Adapted to the finest as well as rough work. SHINGLE ROOFS MADE ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF and preserved from decay. Write for circulars.
H. R. GIFFNEY,
41 Union Street, New Orleans.
Persons writing Mr. H. R. Giffney concerning Vulcan Paint will please enclose him this advertisement.

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS
(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....9:00 am	No. 2.....6:00 pm
No. 3.....7:30 pm	No. 4.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:10 pm	No. 6.....4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 F'st Ex....7:00 am
No. 1 F'st Ex...7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast.....7:40 pm
No. 5 Coast.....3:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex...3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r. 4:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express. 7:00 pm	No. 54 California Express.....am
B. Rouge, local. 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local. 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local....7:20 pm
No. 17 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor. 11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.
(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1. Lim'd. 11:00 am	No. 2. Lim'd.....3:35 pm
No. 5. Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 3. Fast Line. 8:35 pm

P. AND E. EAST LA.
(Abita Springs.)
Daily Except Sundays.
Arrive.....8:30 am | Leave.....4:00 pm
Sunday Schedule.
Arrive.....7:25 pm | Leave.....7:30 am

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Mention this paper.

E. F. HYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.
J. C. MORRIS CO.
(LIMITED)
40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,
—Manufacturers and Dealers in—
WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.
Catalogues furnished on application. Mention this Paper.

WALL PAPER
In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty.
WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES,
WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS,
UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.
Framing Neatly Done.
PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS,
RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.
EDWARD HEATH,
Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

CARRIAGES,
Buggies, Phaetons,
Surreys, Carts,
HARNESS,
Baby Carriages.
R. P. RANDALL,
54 and 56 Baronne Street,
New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS.
CARRIAGES TO HIRE.
Funeral Parlor at Establishment.
213 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.
Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the so highly celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. C. J. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market sts. St. Louis, Mo.
Mention this paper.

New Spring Clothing.
WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1.50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at
WM. H. PIERSON'S.
Removed to 100 Canal Street,

H. D. McCOWN,
DEALER IN FINE CLOTHING
—AND—
Men's Furnishing Goods,
Headquarters for the Celebrated
McCOWN SHIRT.
Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats.
CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.
Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.
Discount to Preachers.

DRAINING MACHINES,
IRRIGATION PUMPS,
DREDGES.
Send for Circular, or call at Factory.
JOS. MENGE,
105 Tchoupitoulas St.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1889.

The Enemy's Tares.

He is "sowing beside all waters." We call attention to one field in which he is especially busy, and we ask every reader to read carefully.

The enemy of souls is scattering a mind-pollating and soul-destroying literature with a lavish hand. The land is literally being flooded with pernicious books and papers. Every town and hamlet, every community and neighborhood in this broad, beautiful land of ours is regularly and persistently visited by the emissaries of evil in the shape of some sort of reading matter. It comes by all ways and means, and in all shapes and sizes. In monthly installments, in weekly portions, in daily visits it comes. The dime novel, the two-bit romance, the dollar story paper, the costlier book, are vehicles on which this pernicious literature rides into our homes. It is poisoning the minds of the young, and pouring the deadly virus of infidelity into hearts where God ought to reign, and withering with the hot breath of hell the last hope of the aged. By means of the exciting, irreverent and godless romance the slimy trail of the serpent is fouling all the fountains of virtue and truth. This pernicious literature is producing everywhere restlessness at the restraints of law. The Decalogue is hooted at, and the Sabbath is ignored, and blatant infidelity stalks abroad under its protection.

This is no overdrawn picture! And the sad fact is, that more than one-half the church is asleep over this tremendous peril. What is needed is, to wake up to the real state of the case. The alarum which God sounds through the church today is, "Awake thou that sleepest!" What the church needs to do is, to go to work "with might and main," and money to counteract these dreadful influences. Let every man and woman turn out, and diligently sow the seeds of a pure literature—a literature which the "glorious gospel of the blessed God" will not be ashamed to take along with it as its coadjutor—a literature which the Holy Ghost can and will use for the purpose of advancing the kingdom of Heaven among us. In this great matter the ministers are to be the leaders. They ought to study out these things in their relations and bearings to the kingdom of Christ among men, and then show them to the people; and thus give them a view of their privileges and obligations in the matter. We ask you to read what is said in another column by an English writer on this subject, and then ponder and pray, and go to work to help spread a purer literature.

The Independent says:

The Legislature of Minnesota has passed a law that makes drunkenness ipso facto a crime, and punishes it by imprisonment or fine for the first two offenses, and by imprisonment for not less than sixty and not more than ninety days for every subsequent offense. The law makes the simple fact of drunkenness a penal offense, without any other unlawful act. The law assumes that drunkenness is not simply a disease, but an offense against public order.

We like that sort of law. If drunkenness is not a crime ipso facto, then it will be hard to give it a proper place. According to God's Word, it is a crime of deepest dye. We say, Well done for the Legislature of Minnesota!

Miss Annie Clara Chrisman.

Miss Clara Chrisman is dead. On her way to Brazil as a missionary, in the Conemaugh Valley, Pennsylvania, she was overtaken by a flood, in which she lost her life. Was not that a strange providence which permitted her death? Why should she start just when she did? Why take that particular train? Why should she not be saved with others who were saved? If she was to die so soon, why not be permitted to die at home, where loved ones could, at least, have the satisfaction of witnessing her death? Will not the faith of the church be weakened and missionary work be hindered as the result of her untimely death? All of these questions and numerous others are constantly being asked. We beg to answer them as follows: Greater good will be accomplished as the result of her death than would have been by her life. The apparently untimely and mysterious decease of the pure, cultured, self-sacrificing, consecrated, angelic young missionary will touch and move millions of hearts and quicken the missionary pulse of the whole church. If she thus sacrificed her life, what ought we to give? Or, rather, what should we not give? You gave but a dollar for missions last year; what was that in comparison with the noble young life given? Should you not make it ten times, a hundred times, a thousand times that amount this year, and continue to increase it every year as long as you live? Or should you not also give yourself or your daughter to take her place?

The work will not suffer as the result of her decease. God will raise up scores of others to take her place and to do the work which she would have done, and he will open the hearts of thousands to liberally support them, and thus carry on his work. No doubt, many already feel constrained to go, and many more have resolved to contribute more liberally. "God buries his workmen, and carries on his work."

The providence that permitted her death was not a strange one. Who can say that she had not as well have gone in that way as in any other way? Was there greater suffering in drowning than there would have been by dying of ordinary disease? Think of consumption, of rheumatism, of cancer, of leprosy. It is claimed that drowning produces one of the most pleasant sensations conceivable. So some have testified who have really experienced it and afterward been resuscitated. Drowning has been compared to quietly sinking down in green pastures with most delightful sensations. Strange providence, because untimely! Was not Stephen cut off at the beginning of his work? He had preached but one sermon, and, oh! what promise in that sermon. Is there anything more strange in the drowning of the young missionary than there was in the stoning to death of the youthful apostle? Bishop Coke, the great missionary apostle of Methodism, at his own expense fitted up a missionary ship, received a number of co-workers, and sailed for the East Indies to plant and cultivate a mission there, and hoping to reap a large harvest from it; but before landing he was found "stretched upon his cabin floor lifeless and cold." He sleeps beneath the Indian Ocean. How often do we see the youth, with heart pulsating with highest hope, just having graduated with honors, suddenly cut down in death? The young minister of the gospel, with consecration and talent and everything that promises a life of great usefulness, only lives long enough to show the church what her apparently irreparable loss is by his decease. The devoted wife and affectionate mother, whose place can not possibly be filled, in the prime of life, lies down in death. A young man, without God and without hope, takes his departure from home. The hearts of anxious parents, who are restless by day and sleepless by night, follow him; but, alas! horror of horrors! in an unsuspecting moment the ghastly remains of the reckless boy are brought in and presented to the shrieking, fainting parents. Their hearts naturally go out over earth and into worlds unknown, and cry: "Where is our boy?" And the wail is: "Oh! if he had only been prepared for death!"

Mother of the pure, angelic missionary spirit, immortalized on earth and glorified in heaven, rejoice! There was no strange providence in the death of our dear young Sister Clara Chrisman.

Go to the grave in all thy glorious prime,
In full activity of zeal and power;
A Christian can not die before his time;
The Lord's appointment is the servant's hour.

The change was better for her. By being taken then, she got to heaven fifty years sooner than if she had suffered and toiled and sorrowed out the alloted period of life. Is not heaven better than earth? Is not Paradise preferable to Brazil? Think of the contrast of fifty years in heaven with Christ and angels and saints, with harps and palms and crowns, and fifty years in the dark country of Brazil, with the necessary associations and surroundings. Is she not far better off than we who survive her and sorrow for her? All of the reward of a self-sacrificing, devoted, life-long missionary is hers. She was to all interests and purposes such a missionary. She had made the sacrifice, embraced the cross and enlisted for life; and God accepted the offering and bestowed the reward. This is exactly illustrated in Abraham offering Isaac. Was not God satisfied? Did not Abraham get the full reward? So, Miss Clara, accept thy missionary crown, brilliant with ten thousand gems—thine forever.

Go to the grave—no; take thy seat above;
Be thy pure spirit present with the Lord,
Where thou for faith and hope hast perfect love,
And open vision for the written Word.

B. S. RAYNER.

MAGNOLIA, Mississippi.

Sam Jones at Jackson.

MR. EDITOR: I suppose a few words concerning our Sam Jones' meeting will be of interest to your readers. The meeting was a decided success. It is unnecessary for me to speak of the crowds that gathered to hear the great evangelist. That has become newspaper-commonplace. Everybody knows that he is the greatest magnet of the age. Talmage and Spurgeon rolled into one, with Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison thrown in for lagniappe, would hardly draw the crowds that gather everywhere to hear Sam Jones. What has happened elsewhere occurred here. The great Nashville pavilion, with awnings attached, gave a seating capacity of about four thousand; yet this was entirely inadequate to the demands made upon it. In order to secure seats, the audience would begin to assemble two hours before the time for service. Generally hundreds, and sometimes thousands, would stand during the entire service. At a meeting for men only the tent was more than filled. As to the preaching, I will say nothing now, though I may speak of it at another time. "What are the results?" everybody asks. The numerical increase is large. I have already received forty-six members, and will receive next Sabbath twelve or fifteen more. Bro. Hopper, at West Jackson, has received twenty-one, and will get several others. The two Methodist Churches in Jackson will receive, at least, a hundred accessions as the result of the meeting. The other churches in the city will receive as many, or more. And most of the churches for many miles around will have their membership increased. From the most reliable data attainable, I estimate that, at least, five hundred persons will unite with the church outside the city of Jackson; and I would not be surprised if the number should reach a thousand. But the increase of membership is only one among many of the beneficial results of the meeting. There was a quickening of the Christian conscience and a toning up of church life that seems little short of a moral miracle. Personal animosities have been obliterated, feuds of long standing have been extinguished, family altars have been erected, and great numbers have signified their willingness to pray in public, or do any work which the church sees fit to impose upon them.

"What class of persons does Sam Jones reach?" is a question often asked. I answer, most emphatically, "All classes." Rich and poor, high and low, learned and unlearned—all yield to the power that goes with him. The banker and the bootblack, the State dignitary and the hod-carrier, and all intermediate classes, seem alike powerless to resist the great moral cyclone. If one class more generally than another yields to his power, it is that class generally spoken of as "hard cases"—the profligate, non-church-going crowd. Here in Jackson many of these ran up the white flag early in the battle, and many of them give promise of becoming earnest, consecrated Christians. A very remarkable fact is, that creeds and churches do not seem to be at all in his way. The straight-laced Presbyterian, the dyed-in-the wool Baptist, and the High Church Episcopalian fall into line as readily as the emotional Methodist. Those who before hearing him are bitterly prejudiced against him nearly always become enthusiastic in their admiration of him.

The capital of Mississippi has had such a shaking up as it never wituessed before. Eternity alone can reveal the far-reaching results of this great revival.

W. C. BLACK.

JACKSON, Mississippi.

Pernicious Literature.

From across the sea comes the following in the Methodist Times, of London, May 30. It makes some points in the discussion of a subject in which every reader of the ADVOCATE is interested. The flood of pernicious books and papers that is rolling over the land is alarming. The Conemaugh flood slew its thousands in an hour, but this flood is slaying its ten thousands by injecting a slow poison into the intellectual and spiritual life of the masses of the people. The bookstores and stalls and the railway trains are literally crowded with a literature whose influence is evil, only evil, and that continually. Can not something be done by the churches to stay this awful plague?

Here is what our English brother says on this subject:

The fact with which we have to cope is, that we are flooded with a mass of literature, not by confessedly great authors, not in any sense distinguished by genius, or ever likely to become classics—vile, leprous trash, the washings of the sewer, the foul products of certain French writers, which all decent Frenchmen repudiate and condemn as fully as we do. If these books were only circulated in the language in which they were written, there would be some protection. The harm would still be great, but it would be minimized. We should still see what a great authority once described as one of the saddest sights in English universities—the English graduate reclining on a couch reading "a scrofulous French novel printed in blunt type." But when such books are translated, attractively got up, and circulated at the lowest possible price, they travel everywhere, and are like a deadly disease sown at large among the unsuspecting and unthinking. The segregation of lepers is now a common precaution of civilization. Is there to be no segregation for moral leprosy—no effort to extirpate a disease of the imagination which is working deadly havoc among the youth of our country in every corner of the land?

I shall not soon forget the sensation with which I bought and examined a book of this class for the first time. I was entirely ignorant of its character. I was traveling on an English railway, and looked over one of Mr. W. H. Smith's stalls to find something to beguile the tedium of the journey. The book was attractively got up in paper covers, and was sold at one shilling. Its scenes were laid from beginning to end among the demi-monde of Paris. There was not a clean page in it. The grace of its literary style was simply an added peril, for it led one to read of things which were altogether shameful, and often frankly obscene in their undiluted coarseness. It was holiday-time. There were tens of thousands traveling, and this particular station was crowded with young people. What was to prevent them from buying the book in simple ignorance and curiosity as I did? There was absolutely nothing in the title-page to guard any young girl against the peril of the book. As I read, I could not help asking how many thousands had bought it, had read it, and had received a deposit of infamous knowledge, and an impulse to impure suggestion, which would never be wholly shaken off, and which in many instances would be incarnated in the vicious conduct of the life. Is it not time that parents recognized the existence of this pestilence—I was going to say, "that walketh in darkness"—that stalks abroad in the full noontide, and is poisoning the lives of their children? Is Mr. W. H. Smith aware that his railway stalls are thus made great seminaries of public corruption, centres for the wholesale infection of public morals?

There is in the churches of this country a great organization whose united opinion and action is quite sufficient to sweep away this evil. We must organize at once. Lord Aberdeen leads the way, and a wiser and nobler leader could not be desired. This question must no longer be left to casual interference or isolated individual action. The church is uttering its powerful protest against the opening of the French Exhibition on Sundays. Here is a far more serious evil. It is nothing less than the pollution of the homes and morals of young England by the importation of the vilest forms of French literature. It is a subject on which all Christians can unite. Archbishops, cardinals and wayside evangelists can here find common cause. Protests can and should be signed in every cathedral and preaching-place of the land. To protect the purity of a country's youth is a matter equally urgent to all statesmen, all patriots, and all parents throughout the length and breadth of the land.

A bloodless revolution has been accomplished in Venezuela. The self-made dictator, Guzman-Blanco, has been displaced and Dr. Rojas-Paul, "one of the ablest citizens of the republic," placed in the presidential chair. It seems that under Blanco, Venezuela has for twenty-five years been enjoying the delights of a military despotism. The dictator has ruled everything and everybody with the hard hand of a despot. The press has been muzzled, and the people generally ground under his heel. According to the New York Sun, this is now all changed, and Dr. Paul, who has occupied the presidency during Blanco's absence in Europe, has been created the real President, and things have taken an entirely new turn.

The Democrat-Star, of Scranton, Miss., has the following:

Rev. Ben Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church of this place, is now in his eightieth year, though he is strong and vigorous and does more work than any minister we ever knew of his age. He preaches every Sunday morning and night, is a good pastor for this section, and besides he cultivates a garden and chops his own wood. Every Wednesday night he has prayer meeting and generally does all the praying.

Notes.

Dr. Anderson, of the Florida Christian Advocate, hits the mark in this paragraph:

Powerlessness in the church has a cause, and it is the failure to use the resources already in hand. Too often ministers pray for power from on high when they neglect to put forth the power in their possession. They fail to improve their minds, to learn the best methods, to visit their people, to work for fresh interest, and to embrace all opportunities to do good.

Judge Rightor, of the civil district court, in this city, has rendered a decision declaring the American Cotton Oil Trust to be "guilty of usurping, intruding into and unlawfully holding and exercising the franchises and privileges of a corporation without being duly incorporated, and be forever excluded and disbarred from the said franchises and privileges within this State, and the said American Cotton Oil Trust be and is hereby declared to be an illegal and invalid association." So endeth another Trust!

A writer in the Contemporary Review states that when Mr. Bright had to make "a great speech" he brooded over it day after day. But he did not care to do all his preparation at his desk or in solitude. As arguments and illustrations occurred to him he liked to try their effect by talking them over with his friends; and when he was at home, if nobody else was within reach, he talked them over with his gardener. The speech took shape in conversation. Then he made the "notes" which he intended to use when the speech was delivered.—Ex.

One of our greatest preachers has a habit somewhat similar. You can almost always tell what he is going to preach about next by the drift of his conversation. We think it is a first-rate plan for some preachers.

This, from the editor of Zion's Herald, we think ought to be read by some of our preachers:

We are of the opinion that a majority of our worshipful congregations would say that the prayers of the clergy are too long. Dr. Burton, of Hartford, received the intimation that he had fallen into this habit. He was surprised. At first he did not believe it, but as a practical test employed a stenographer to give him an exact report of his ordinary prayer. He was astonished at the result. It was two or three times as long as he supposed. Immediately he forced himself to an abridgment, and rigidly continued the practice of brevity throughout the remainder of his remarkably successful ministry. The Pharisee was voluminous, the Publican brief and explicit.

Our Wesleyan brethren across the water are following along in the wake of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The Manchester District Committee has sent up a set of resolutions on church membership to the Annual Conference for its consideration. Among them we find the following:

In reference to persons who might duly be regarded as devout and godly members of our church, serving their Head, even Christ, and loyal to Methodism, but who have an insuperable diffidence in attending class, we record our judgment that such persons should be recognized as members of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, of full rank and status, and eligible for office amongst us.

Should the Conference take this view, the class meeting as a test of membership among the Wesleyans is gone.

The Sunday-school Times says:

There is no portion of the earth in which the Bible has been making more rapid progress, during the past ten years, as in the universities and colleges of the English-speaking world. More college students—more actually and more relatively—are now earnest believers in the Bible as God's Word, than in any former period of the world's history. And the most hopeful field of Christian effort at the present time is the college field.

And we are moved to ask the reader: Did you ever put any money in an endowment fund for a Christian college? As sure as the sun shines, the men and women who are being trained in our Christian colleges will be the instruments in the hands of God to overthrow the forces of sin! Won't you invest something in this grand enterprise, whose aim is to capture the world for Christ?

We desire to help the preachers all we can, so we append below a paragraph from the Advance, which contains the germ of, at least, one fine sermon:

The connection of the South Fork Fishing Club with the calamity at Johnstown is another illustration of the truth that the pleasure-seeking habit contains an element of cruelty. This club was cruelly indifferent to the welfare of the people in the valley below, not that they meant to be, or because they were a bad lot, but because there is an evil fellowship between cruelty and the love of pleasure, unless the latter is most carefully guarded. The Romans were among the most magnanimous of people in war, but seated in the vast amphitheater and looking down upon the bloody sports of the arena, they were heartlessly cruel. No people ever sacrificed more lives for mere pleasure. Paris is the gayest city in the world, the most devoted to pleasure seeking, and no city in modern times has so shocked the world with its atrocious deeds. But we leave the theme and its further elaboration to the ministers.

Personal and Otherwise.

The citizens of Raleigh, N. C., have made a bid for Trinity College, and, judging from an article in the Raleigh Christian Advocate, we think the college will be removed from Trinity to that city.

Dr. W. C. Black, of Jackson, Miss., writes, "Sam Jones has given me a vast amount of leg-work to do!"

Hartford Theological Seminary has opened its doors to women for the purpose of fitting them for positions as teachers, missionaries, etc. So says the Independent.

There are in Illinois 1,100,000 persons of school age, of which 800,000 are in the public schools and 100,000 in private schools. The State appropriates $12,000,000 annually for the support of the public schools.

Our thanks are hereby tendered to the Publishing House for a beautiful Turkey, gilt edition of Dr. Tillett's Annotated Hymn Book. The more we examine Dr. Tillett's work the better we like it.

This was the criticism—so the papers say—that a certain Scotch worthy made of the new minister: "Well, ye see, frae Monday to Saturday he's laveesible, and on Sabbath he's incomprehensible!"

Our brethren on the Pacific Coast are discussing the propriety of consolidating their two papers—the Pacific Methodist and the Los Angeles Advocate—and also of moving the place of publication. We hope they will succeed in the matter of consolidation.

We suggest to our brother of the Southwestern Methodist, that he "turn out" that choir and "raise his own tune," and he will be delighted to see how many of the "old timers" will join in and produce a gush of holy song that will "astonish the natives." "We speak that we do know and testify that we have seen."

We understand that the Y. M. C. A. of Memphis are canvassing for a new building to cost $150,000.

Sam Jones' Camp Meeting begins August 9. The preachers generally are invited. The committees are making preparations to entertain everybody.

A brother gives his experience thus: "I find that where families take a church paper, that I have less trouble in getting them to meet their financial and religious obligations." Just so!

Sam Jones has promised the Methodist Preachers' Meeting, in this city, to come here in January, 1890.

It has been the rule in this office, from the beginning, to publish no poetry in connection with obituaries. Writers of obituary notices will please bear this in mind.

A private letter from Rev. P. H. Dieffenwierth, of Clear Water, Fla., says that the result of the accident that happened to him in the winter is a stiff knee and a pair of crutches; otherwise his health is tolerably good.

The Brookhaven Leader says:

The contract to rebuild the Methodist parsonage was awarded to Mr. J. M. Tedford on Monday last. Work will commence at once and will be completed within sixty days. The plan is of modern style and it will be a pretty building.

The commencement exercises of the Tulane University were held last week. Thirty young men were graduated from the high school and ten from the college. The programme was an interesting one, and the young gentlemen acquitted themselves with great credit. The annual address was made by Dr. H. D. Bruns, of this city.

Correspondents will oblige us if they will address their communications to 112 Camp St., giving the editor's full name. There are several Dr. Carters here, and our mail will get mixed unless the full address is given.

We regret to learn of the death of the infant son of Prof. and Mrs. R. S. Ricketts, of Brookhaven, Miss. The parents have our heartfelt sympathy in this sore bereavement.

The publisher has laid upon our desk the new catalogue of Centenary College. It is well gotten up. The attendance last year was eighty. The number of graduates in all, 266. We hope all our friends will get their boys ready for Centenary next September.

Mrs. Addie Latimer, of Canton, Miss., died last week. She was an earnest, hopeful, working Christian, though by rheumatism had lost the use of every limb and had been an intense sufferer for twenty years.

Rev. J. H. Brunner, A. M., D. D., president of Hiwassee College, writes us that ninety-four preachers have gone out from the halls of that celebrated institution.

Notice.

The Meridian District Conference will convene at Vossburg, July 25-28, 9 A. M. Bishop Galloway will preside.

R. D. NORSWORTHY.

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. L. W. Wood writes from Slidell, La.: "Just closed a good meeting at Todd's School-house on Bayou Lacomb; two accessions and an improvement in spiritual life. Began meeting here Sunday night. Bro. S. J. Davies is doing good work for the Lord. Deep interest and fervent, prayerful work is shown. Large numbers are coming to Christ. Pray for us."

—Rev. W. Wimberly writes: "I wish to say, through the ADVOCATE, that I have bought and shipped lumber for Sister Jackson's house. I would publish the names and amount contributed, but most of those who contributed requested that I should not publish. Sister Jackson is very thankful."

—Rev. T. B. Holloman writes, June 18, 1889: "We buried Rev. A. B. Steward to-day in the family burying-ground near Madison station, Miss. His death was a shock to the community. He leaves two daughters and a son—all nearly grown—the children of his first marriage. He also leaves a wife and a little three-year-old girl. His wife is in very feeble health at this time, being almost bedridden. She is submissive to God in her present great bereavement. They live in the home of Bro. R. W. Steward, Madison, Miss."

—Rev. T. B. Holloman, writing from Canton, Miss., says: "Our second Quarterly Conference for the year was held to-night. Presiding elder on hand and large attendance of members. The reports, especially on the financial lines, were very good. During quarter the two missionary collections have been more than paid, and other moneys, aggregating nearly one thousand dollars, have been raised and expended. We are greatly encouraged with the work."

—A good sister writes from Starkville, Miss.: "We enjoy the weekly visits of the ADVOCATE, and especially your account of your Greenville visit, and Dr. Carradine's grand sermon that has run through your columns of late; and Bishop Keener's tribute to his brother Bishop was one of the most touchingly beautiful ones I ever read."

—Rev. J. L. Hoffpauir, P. C., writes from Ada circuit, La.: "Work still prosperous, everything encouraging, services well attended, protracted meetings deeply interesting, forty accessions within the past two weeks, many revived from a lukewarm state. Promise of much good from this to the end of Conference year."

—Rev. C. McDonald writes: "Rev. James Healey, formerly pastor of Pipkin Chapel station, has transferred to the Los Angeles Conference, and has been stationed at San Diego, Cal. Rev. W. E. Linfield is now pastor of Pipkin Chapel station."

—Rev. W. W. Dorman writes from Bolivar, Miss: "We have just closed a grand meeting which lasted two weeks. There were eight accesions to our church; some will join other churches; have received eleven during the year. The entire church is on higher ground. Our assessments are provided for, and we are preparing to build a new house to the Lord; will also repair the parsonage before Conference."

—Rev. D. G. W. Ellis writes from Madison station, Miss.: "I write briefly to give notice through the ADVOCATE of the death of Dr. H. E. Coker, which occurred at his home, near Livingston, Miss., June 18. We lose, by his death, one of the most important officials of Madison circuit. The family of the deceased has made choice of a former pastor to write his obituary, which, I suppose, will be furnished soon."

Periodicals.

—The July issue of the Missionary Review of the World is fully up to the high standard which it maintains. The contents is a marvel of fullness and variety. No less than eleven articles in the "Literature" Department, all of them timely and several of them of great interest. Then follows many pages of select Missionary Intelligence of rare interest, succeeded by Missionary Correspondence from all the leading fields of the world. Dr. Gracey's International Department, and Dr. Pierson's Monthly Concert are of absorbing interest. Then Editorial Notes are a marked feature, and several in this number are worthy of special attention. Organized Missionary Work follows. The substance of the annual reports of seventeen missionary societies is given. We know of no magazine that is so carefully and thoroughly edited in all its details, and that gives from month to month such a fund of informing and inspiring matter on missionary subjects. Published by Funk and Wagnalls, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York. $2 per year; 25 cents for single numbers. In clubs of ten, $1 50.

—The Gospel in All Lands, for June, is devoted to missionary work and prospects in the wonderful land of Africa. That country is now claiming a large share of the commercial and adventurous spirit of the world, and this number of the Gospel in all Lands gives a pretty good view of what the various churches are doing for the spread of the true religion among its millions of heathen population. Missionary Society, Methodist Episcopal Church, 805 Broadway, New York. Price, $1 50.

—The frontispiece of the Magazine of Art, for July, is a capital etching, by M. Daniel Mordant, of Rembrandt's famous painting, A Family Portrait. The opening article is by the distinguished English painter, George Frederick Watts, who, under the title, More Thoughts on Our Art of To-day, gives some capital advice to the art student. Claude Phillips has an interesting paper on The Plagiarisms of the Old Masters. Portraits of Alexander the Great are treated with pen and pencil, while the editor discusses Current Art. In the latter paper is a fine reproduction of John S. Sargent's portrait of George Henschel, the Baritone. The Aim and Tendencies of Caricature, by M. P. Jackson, is a paper well worthy of perusal, while the student will find much to consider in Old Arts and Modern Thoughts. F. G. Stevens gives a careful study of Savonarola, which is illustrated by the well-known Fra. Bartolommeo portrait. The notes are abundant and far-reaching. Cassell & Company, New York. Thirty-five cents a number; $3 50 a year, in advance.

Another Missionary to Japan.

Our fund to send another missionary to Japan is growing gradually. Why should it not grow faster? Have you sent your $10? Can't you spare that much to help the Lord's cause on this line? Won't you send it right away? Who next? The following have contributed up to going to press:

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Reneher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Shelmire	10 00
Mrs. H. G. Flowers	10 00
Another Subscriber	10 00
Mrs. E. W. Davidson	10 00

Scottsville Holiness Camp Meeting.

The annual Scottsville Holiness Camp Meeting, in connection with the Harrison circuit, Marshall district, East Texas Conference, will begin on Thursday, August 8, and continue ten days.

This camp is located eight miles east of Marshall, of easy access by rail. The plan of the meeting is self-sustaining. An eating-house on the ground for the accommodation of all. Ministers, workers and visitors from a distance will be freely entertained.

The object of this meeting is the conversion of sinners and the sanctification of believers. Holiness of heart as a definite experience, received by faith, subsequent to justification, as taught in Mr. Wesley's Plain Account and the standards of our Methodism, will be pressed upon believers. An earnest invitation is extended to all who attend. Come praying and expecting a blessing on your souls.

Bishop Key will be present.

J. W. LIVELY, P. C.
T. W. WINSTON,
Pres't B'd of Managers.
A. B. WASKON, Sec'y.

Attention, Sunday-School Workers!

The Mississippi State Sunday-School Convention will be held on July 23 and 24, next, at Starkville. The railroads will give the usual reduced rates.

Delegates from individual Sunday-schools and from country Sunday-school conventions will please send in their names promptly to S. B. Critz, chairman of the Committee on Entertainment, Lock Box 106, Starkville, Miss. By so doing, the delegates will greatly facilitate the arrangements for their entertainment and avoid inconvenience and confusion upon their arrival, as a large attendance is expected at the approaching convention.

The State papers will confer a great favor by inserting this notice in their next two issues.

BARNEY LIPSCOMB,
Local Mem. State Ex. Com.
JUNE 24, 1889.

Notice.

Delegates to Woman's Missionary Society, at Delhi, July 5-8, will be entitled to tickets as follows: V., S. and P. R. R. will give round-trip tickets at five cents per mile to Shreveport. The Q. and C. R. R. requires full fare going, with agent's certificate, and reduced fare returning. Visitors entitled to same rates.

E. J. FULLILOVE,
President W. M. S.

The July Century will contain an illustrated paper on "Inland Navigation of the United States," written by Mr. Charles Barnard, and covering the steamboat service of the country on river, lake, and coast. The new ferry-boat Bergen and the Sound steamer Puritan will be described, with a number of pictures. The decoration of these and other recently built boats furnishes an inspiring theme for a brief accompanying paper by Mrs. van Rensselaer on "The Advance in Steamboat Decoration."

Princeton College has conferred the degree of LL.D. upon President Harrison.

Students of medicine would do well to send for the catalogue of the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

The Seashore Camp Meeting,

ON THE

GULF COAST, near BILOXI, MISS.,

Will Commence JULY 5, and Last Ten Days.

W. C. T. U. DAY is Tuesday, JULY 16th.

Reduced Railroad Rates have been secured. Grounds are beautiful, and everything ready for the large crowd coming from all directions.

For particulars as to board, renting tents, etc., address either of the following Trustees: W. J. HEARIN, Mobile, President; J. H. KELLER, N. O., Vice-President; P. WERLEIN, N. O., Treasurer; J. G. GRANT, N. O., Recording Secretary; D. L. MITCHEL, N. O., Financial Secretary; B. O. L. RAYNE, W. B. THOMSON, J. H. CAMPMAN, E. P. MACKIE, N. O., La.; A. C. DANNER, C. H. LINDSEY, W. OTIS, Mobile, Ala.; J. H. LAKIN, Montgomery, Ala.; DR. E. F. GRIFFIN, Moss Point, Miss.; J. P. CARTER, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Publisher's Department.

DAVES' TRAINING-SCHOOL.—Daves' Training-School, Lake Charles, La. Joel T. Daves, Walter W. Daves, Principals. Competent teachers supplied as necessity arises. Honest, real work in all departments. Discipline strict, but not harsh. Obedience and study conditions of membership. Pupils prepared for advanced college classes, or for practical duties of life. Pupils desiring to take music will have the advantages of Madame Mercier-Peavy's training, which has but few equals and no superiors. A full course of practical book-keeping without extra charge to regular pupils. To those taking book-keeping alone, the tuition is $5 per month. For Annual Announcement and full particulars address Principals.

Teacher—"Correct the sentence: 'The liquor which the man bought was drank.'" Smart Boy—"The man which bought the liquor was drunk."

WANTED.—A graduate of the F. F. C. Institute, who has had experience in teaching, desires a position in a school or in a family. References will be furnished. Address T., Box 73, Jackson, La.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Effie—Mamma, why does the boat make that dreadful noise? Mamma—That is because she is just going to start. Effie—If I was as sorry as that, I wouldn't go.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,
Homeopathic Physician,
288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.
Cases treated by letter.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,
Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.
OFFICE, 109 GRAVIER ST.
Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,
BUILDERS,
OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.
287 EIGHTH ST.,
Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Both building and repairing promptly attended to.

WANTED!
A white woman to do general housework. For particulars address
REV. H. C. FOUST,
Winona, Miss.

CLIFF HOUSE AND COTTAGES,
At Tallulah Falls,
THE NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH.
The Cliff House is the best equipped summer resort hotel in the Blue Ridge Mountains.
For descriptive pamphlet address
J. C. S. TIMBERLAKE, Manager,
Tallulah Falls, Ga.

DEGREES,
FIRST AND POST-GRADUATES,
Conferred without residence. Any one can secure this desirable end by pursuing a course of study by CORRESPONDENCE under eminent College Professors at slight cost. Information of Courses, Professors, etc., given in our UNION READING CIRCLE, a large 16-page literary Journal, sample copy of which and application form for membership will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cts. in postage stamps. Address COR. UNIVERSITY, 147 THROOP ST., CHICAGO, ILL. N. B.—Situations to teach free to members and subscribers. Agents wanted.
When writing, mention this paper.

White Cliff Mineral Springs,
On Chilhowee Mountains.
3,000 Feet above sea level. Opens June 1. Good fare. Comfortable accommodations. Reasonable terms. Magnificent scenery. Pure atmosphere. For analysis, circulars and full information, address J. H. MAGILL,
Manager, White Cliff Springs,
Monroe County, Tenn

Elfinwood Select School.
The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.
Terms moderate.
Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT
80 CAMP STREET.
Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.
FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK RODER, Vice-President. ED. CLAESSEN, Cashier.
Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.
Directors—Phil. W. Diehlmann, Frank Roder, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Klumpp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Hicks, Fred. Peters and Louis Leonhard.

Nashville College FOR Young Ladies.
Privilege of Lectures, Museum, Apparatus, in Vanderbilt University. Three large buildings, faculty of 20; pupils 224 from 18 States. Highest advantages in Music, Art, Calisthenics, Health, Accessibility. Fully Equipped Gymnasium. Address Rev. Geo. W. F. Price, D.D., President, Nashville, Tenn.

Fairview Male and Female College, Binnsville, Kemper County, Miss.
LOCATION—Nine miles northeast of Scooba, which is on the M. and O. R. R.
Founded 1887. Enrolled, 1887, 117. Enrolled, 1888, 135. Expect to enroll 1889, 175.
BRANCHES TAUGHT—Usual English Course. Ancient and Modern Languages. Book-keeping. Music. BUILDINGS.—Cover 7,000 ft.; front, 150 ft. Separate double-story boarding-houses for boys and girls. BOARD.—For girls, $10 per calendar month (washing included); for boys, $8 per calendar month (washing excluded). TUITION.—Primary, $2; Freshman, $3; Sophomore, Junior and Senior, $4 per scholastic month. TOTAL COST.—For boys, board and washing, $80; for girls, board and washing, $90. Tuition according to class, $20 to $40. Five per cent off for cash in advance.
Work. Thorough. Discipline, firm. Location, healthful. Send for catalogue. School opens September 2nd
REV. W. W. MOORE, A. M., PRESIDENT.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN. the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,
R. L. SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.
Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As HEALTHFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, not salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad
FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 19, 1889.
For full particulars send for Catalogues.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.
Opens September 12th, 1889. One of the Most Thorough and Attractive Schools for Young Ladies in the Union. Full course. Able Faculty. Improved methods in teaching. Superior Art School. Conservatory Advantages in Music. Buildings with Modern improvements. Situation beautiful; climate unsurpassed. Endorsed by pupils and patrons in twenty States. Terms exceedingly low. Special inducements to persons at a distance. For the LOW TERMS and excellent advantages of this CELEBRATED VIRGINIA SCHOOL write for a catalogue to
WM. A. HARRIS, D. D., President,
Staunton, Virginia.
Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

J. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HUDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y
HIWASSEE COLLEGE.
FOUNDED 1849.
Expenses Very Moderate.
Located, amid hills and valleys and mountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R., from which conveyance any hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our post-office is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

Boston University.
Professors and Lecturers, 120. Students from nearly every Southern State. Literature, philosophy, science, law, medicine, theology. Circulars of departments free. Address the Registrar, 12 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.
Mention this paper.

Staunton Male Academy,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.
A Military Boarding School for Young Men and Boys. Unprecedented Success during past Session. HANDSOME ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE mailed on application to
WM. H. KABLE, A. M., PRINCIPAL,
Staunton, Va.

Minden Normal School
AND
Business College.
The Leading Normal School in the South.
Has more departments than any other similar institution in the land. To it has been added a Musical Conservatory. Music taught on any instrument. Location beautiful; climate delightful. We will be pleased to mail you a catalogue.
P. H. H. SHEARER, MINDEN, LA.

SCIENCE HILL.
An English and Classical School for Girls, Shelbyville, Ky. Founded March 25, 1825, by Mrs. Julia A. Tevis. The oldest School for women in the South. Teachers are graduates of the best Colleges: Fits for Wellesley. Accommodations first-class in every particular. Terms reasonable, and include all School expenses.
W. T. POYNTER, D. D.

Athens Female College
Situated at Athens, Ala., on the L. and N. R. R.
A thorough, cheap school; full literary course, Art and Music. Stenography and Type-Writing are also thoroughly taught. The school is fully equipped. Healthy location. Send for catalogue.
REV. M. G. WILLIAMS,
President.

Centenary College
JACKSON, LA.
Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.
Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.
For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.
One of the most celebrated institutions of the South. The Thirty-Fourth Session will begin September 19, 1888, with a full corps of able and experienced faculty. Curriculum comprehensive. Instruction thorough. Advantages in Music unsurpassed, as in the best conservatories. Departments of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts under specialists.
Beautiful location; one of the healthiest of the South. The best climate in which to educate and the safest place for girls. Main building of brick, massive and commodious, with a large and well-shaded campus. Rooms large, well furnished, ventilated and warmed. Ample provision for table of the best the market affords. All necessary comfort secured. Expenses very low and the school very economical.
For particulars address
A. D. M'VOY, A. M., Pres.
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.

TEACHERS, PROFESSORS and TUTORS supplied to Schools, Seminaries, Colleges and Families free of charge. We have a large normal student registration. Teachers, register early. Fee, small. Address, with stamp,
AMERICAN BUREAU OF EDUCATION,
Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn.

Capital Commercial College Jackson Miss
Book keeping taught as it is kept in the South. Send for circular to
S. C. Rigall President

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)

Price, 80 Cents.

HUNT & EATON, 805 Broadway, New York;
CRANSTON & STOWE, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY

A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.

Mention this paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.
Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.

We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South." Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Braiding and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address

H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

Mention this paper.

ADAMS' HATS!

26 ST. CHARLES ST.

ESTABLISHED 1808.

A. A. WOODS, WALTER SCOTT. L. H. FOURCHE, A. F. GUIDAT.

A. A. WOODS & CO.,

General Insurance Agency,

184 GRAVIER STREET,

OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.

Mention this paper.

W. R. LYMAN, President. JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-President. THOS. E. RICE, Secretary.

Crescent Insurance Com'y.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849.
Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

Cash Capital, - - - - - - - $300,000.

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849. ANNUAL and TERM POLICIES Issued on Desirable Fire Business.

☞ See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.

No. 78 CAMP STREET.

Cash Assets, December 31st, 1886, - - - - - $400,479.08
Cash Assets, December 31st, 1887, - - - - - $413,860.76
Cash Assets, December 31st, 1888, - - - - - $459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business,

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y

J. B. WOODS, JOS. BAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, JNO. BARR, ANDREW STEWART, CHAS. CHAFFE, E. BORLAND, J. BOHN, F. STHINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.

Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,

14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000

Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Robt Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vigurs, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.

New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company

OF NEW ORLEANS.

54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

John T. Moore, Jr., I. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,

The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters

FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.

Dauphine Street, Two Blocks from Canal Street.

Artificial Limbs,

Trusses and Surgical Appliances Made to Order and Adjusted

—BY—

A. McDERMOTT,

200 - - - ST. CHARLES STREET - - - - - 200

Bet. St. Joseph and Julia

Our Young People.

THE MOSQUE OF THE SULTAN HASSAN

BY CLINTON SCOLLARD.

By Arabian tomes we are told
He was just as a ruler and man:
The Caliph of Cairo the old,
The Sultan Hassan.

One day did he hear of the fame
Of a builder, and straightway he said:
"I will build me a mosque that my name
May outlive me when dead."

So he summoned this man to his throne
And issued his royal decree;
"Uprear me a temple of stone,
For the years that shall be;

"Uprear me a wonderful shrine
Where the faithful of Allah may bow;
And glorious meed shall be thine—
Here record I the vow."

Then the heart of the builder was light
As was ever the heart of a man;
And he toiled through the gloom of the night,
And he wrought him a plan—

A plan of a mosque that should blind
His name with the name of his lord,
So the slaves brought the marble they mined,
And they wrought in accord

Till the mosque as by magic upsprang
In its symmetry peerless and grand;
And the praise and the fame of it rang
Through the length of the land.

But the name of the builder was cried
Till the Caliph grew wroth at the sound;
"Am I naught?" he would mutter in pride:
"Am I less than a hound,

"And this chiefest of hipstarls so great
He eclipses the light of my throne?"
Thus the seeds of a pitiless hate
In his bosom were sown.

Now the mosque was complete. Without peer
Was the portal, majestic and tall;
The minarets tapering sheer
From the sweep of the wall.

In the court was a fountain that flowed,
And its pillars were cunningly scrolled;
And the Mambar was marble that glowed
With mosaics of gold.

"Call the builder!" said Sultan Hassan;
They ran at the word of their lord;
"My servant," he thought, as they ran,
"Shall now reap his reward."

At the steps of the throne knelt the one
Who had served like a slave at the soil;
Said the Caliph, "Thy task-work is done.
Here is meed for thy toil;

"Stretch thy hands! I would pay thee full well."
The builder obeyed in his trust;
Then a cimetar flashed, and they fell
Reeking red in the dust.

"No more," said the Caliph revered.
"I would have thee to build. I decree
It is honor enough, by my beard,
To have builded for me!"

By Arabian tomes we are told
He was just as a ruler and man!
The Caliph of Cairo the old,
The Sultan Hassan.

—N. Y. Independent.

Remedies for Ugly Girls.

A New York newspaper lately contained an account of a young girl in that city who, in attempting to give to her hair, which was of a dull hue, a golden lustre, burned the flesh of her head with a powerful acid, and injured her sight for life.

Another young woman, in New Orleans, following the directions of some flash society paper, in endeavoring to remove the moles upon her face, poisoned the flesh, and died in great agony.

The use of certain hair dyes, containing lead, in many instances has brought on affections of the brain.

A well-known American writer attributes an obstinate attack of typhoid fever, which left her an invalid for years, to her use of a popular anti-fat system of diet of violent exercise. She lost sixty pounds of flesh in a few weeks, but the sudden weakening of the tissues rendered her susceptible to the poison of typhoid, and unable to resist it.

How many of the girl readers of the Companion have pored eagerly over the "remedies" prescribed by unscrupulous writers, for ugly young women, and have been tempted to try the lotions, the severe protracted fastings, the bandages, medicines, or screws which are to remove their defects of large bones, leanness, fatness, pimples, moles, crooked eyes, or wide mouths?

In no case is it necessary, according to the advertisements, to seek the advice of a physician; yet most of the remedies suggested are of the most dangerous kind in unskillful hands, and likely to increase deformity and to produce ill health.

But putting aside the question of the utility of remedies to remove natural personal defects, an ugly girl should know that the surest way to keep her homely features or awkward figure in the remembrance of others is for her constantly to remember them herself. Self-consciousness is disagreeable in a beautiful woman; in an ugly one it is intolerable.

Are these girls with dull eyes and large noses, then, to give up all hope of pleasing their companions?

By no means.

A woman who, for many years, led the highest social life of Pennsylvania, had neither fortune nor a remarkable intellect. She was stout, red-haired, small-featured and freckled; but her voice was sweet and low, her heart big enough to take in all the world; her sympathies wide, her tact infinite. She was simple, genuine, and as unselfish as an innocent child.

The ugly girl who cultivates such charms as these needs no iron braces to compress her large joints, nor diet of acid fruits to remove her plump checks, to make her lovely and beloved.—Youth's Companion.

Both Ready.—In Mrs. Livermore's "Story of the War," there is a touching story which pathetically illustrates the fact that not unfrequently the crown of sorrow rests not upon the one who departs but on the one who stays. In a hospital in St. Louis, Mrs. Livermore discovered a young Union captain, who had endured two amputations of the arm. As the wound refused to heal, a third amputation was ordered, which the surgeon feared might prove fatal.

The patient, on learning the surgeon's fear, telegraphed to her who was to be his wife to come to him. She came, and by her desire they were married before the operation was performed.

The arm was removed at the shoulder, and for a day or two the man seemed likely to recover; then he sank rapidly. Mrs. Livermore entered the ward two hours before his death, and found the three days' bride ministering to her husband. Her tearless cheeks and her face shining with unnatural brightness showed that she had been lifted above the depression of her surroundings.

Mrs. Livermore and her companion were about to pass by the dying man and his wife when a look from the husband invited them to his bedside.

"You are ready to go?" asked the lady?"

The dying man looked at his young wife, who understanding him, answered: "Yes, we are both ready—he to go, and I to stay. When he enlisted, I gave him to God and the country. I expected this and am prepared for it."

The next morning she departed, taking with her the body of the beloved who had gone. The exaltation of her spirit upbore her.—Youth's Companion.

High Living.—The short and simple annals of the poor often have at once their pathetic and their ludicrous side. An old darkey, counting up his gains one day, remarked: "De 'stravagance ob my famerly am w'at keep me po'. Now dar am a watermillion w'at cos' me fi' cents, and dar haint a cent's worf ob nourishin' in de 'million. Ef my wife didn't hab dem 'stravagant notions, I done got rich long time ago!"

A good appetite is essential to good health, and loss of appetite indicates something wrong. Hood's Sarsaparilla creates and sharpens the appetite, assists the digestive organs and regulates the kidneys and liver. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla this season. Sold by druggists.

Mistook the Order.—"Yes," said an English general, "our Indian allies were helpful, although their lack of knowledge of the English language frequently gave rise to embarrassing situations. I remember particularly at the battle of Tippo-Tibati an alarm was sounded, and I gave the order 'To arms!' and every one of them mistook my meaning, and all took to their legs."

BEAUTY of Skin & Scalp RESTORED by the CUTICURA Remedies.

NOTHING IS KNOWN TO SCIENCE AT all comparable to the CUTICURA REMEDIES in their marvelous properties of cleansing, purifying and beautifying the skin, and in curing torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; RESOLVENT, $1; SOAP, 25c. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Dull Aches, Pains, and Weaknesses instantly relieved by the CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster. 25c.

LADIES Enamel your Ranges twice a year, tops once a week and you have the finest-polished stove in the world. For sale by all Grocers and Stove Dealers.

Household.

To Mothers.

If you say "No," mean "No." Unless you have a good reason for changing a given command, hold to it.

Take an interest in your children's amusements; mother's share in what pleases them is a great delight.

Remember that trifles to you are mountains to them; respect their feelings.

Keep up a standard of principles; your children are judges.

Be honest with them in small things, as well as in great. If you can not tell them what they wish to know, say so, rather than deceive them.

As long as it is possible, kiss the children good-night after they are in bed; they like it, and it keeps them very close.

Bear in mind you are largely responsible for your children's inherited characters, and be patient with them.

If you have lost a child, remember that for the one who is gone there is no more to do, but for those left, everything.

Make your boys and girls study physiology: when they are ill, try to make them comprehend why, how the complaint arose, and the remedy, so far as you know it.

Impress upon them from early infancy that their actions have results, and that they can not escape consequences, even by being sorry when they have done wrong.

Respect their little secrets; if they have concealments, fretting them will never make them tell, and time and patience will.

Allow them, as they grow older, to have opinions of their own: make them individuals, and not mere echoes.

Find out all their special tastes, and develop them, instead of spending time, money and patience in forcing them into studies which are entirely repugnant to them.

Mothers, whatever else you may teach your girls, do not neglect to instruct them in the mysteries of housekeeping. So shall you teach them in the way of making home happy.

Only a Grain of Sand.—A man who for years carried an old and cherished watch about him, one day called on its maker and told him it was no longer useful, for it would no longer keep time correctly.

"Let me examine it," said the maker, and taking a powerful glass, he looked carefully and steadily into the works, until he espied one grain of sand.

"I have it," he said: "I can get over your difficulty." About this moment, by some powerful but unseen power, the little grain, suspecting what was coming, cried out:

"Let me alone: I am but a little thing, and take up so little room, I can not possibly injure the watch. Twenty or thirty of us might do harm; but I can not, so let me alone."

The watchmaker replied: "You must come out, for you spoil my works, and all the more because so small, and but few people can see you."

Thus it is in the home. One cross feeling, one hasty word, one angry look, may mar and hinder the running of the perfect machinery. We may go alone, and with God set again the time-piece: but if we do not trust in his keeping power, how soon the old enemy is on hand to thrust in again the little grain which will impair the works and hinder the wheels, and present a false face to all who are around! Let us, then, look to our Savior as one who is able to "keep us from falling," and trust him as the God who will deliver from the temptation and keep the home watch running perfectly.—Selected.

The reason why God's name is so seldom in people's mouths is not that they reverence him, as they say, too much to talk of him, but because they do not think of him.—Chas. Kingsley.

The Best Testimonial

yet published for any blood medicine is the printed guarantee of the manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which warrants that wonderful medicine to benefit or cure in all cases of those diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be returned. It cures all diseases arising from torpid liver and impure blood and their names are legion. All Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous affections, Eruptions, Sores and Swellings, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas and kindred diseases, are among those in which the "Discovery" effected marvelous cures.

When everything else fails, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures. 50 cents, by druggists.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient with which, in the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Occana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills." —S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it but a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have repeatedly verified all the claims I have for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

Ayer's Pills,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

NEW SHEET MUSIC

SONGS.

SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Fredrick W. An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto. Price, 40c.

WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Bryant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price, 40c.

NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. P. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a chorus that sings itself. Price, 30cts.

PIANO MUSIC.

GALATEA GAVOTTE. By Barclay Walker. A bright and charming composition by the composer of the well-known "Militaire." Price, 40c.

MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By Frank Scott. A stirring and excellent Military March of moderate grade of difficulty. Price, 60cts.

ALBUMBLATT. By Louis Schlieder. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the style of a nocturne. Price, 30cts.

☞ Any of the above, or any other sheet music will be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.

PUBLISHED BY

THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, O. And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belts on large gins. Adjustable wood Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

BROWN'S FRENCH DRESSING

— FOR —

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S BOOTS AND SHOES.

Awarded highest honors at

Phila.,	1876	Melbourne,	1880
Berlin,	1877	Frankfort,	1881
Paris,	1878	Amsterdam,	1883
New Orleans,	1884-85

Paris Medal on every bottle.

Beware of Imitations.

For Gas — BAILEY'S — For Oil

COMPOUND high-spreading Silver-plated Corrugated Glass REFLECTORS, for lighting CHURCHES, Halls, etc. Handsome designs. Satisfaction guaranteed. Catalogue and price list free. BAILEY REFLECTOR CO. 118 Wood st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE PEOPLE SAY

Go where you will in this broad land TEMPLE'S RHEUMATIC SPECIFIC is recommended to relieve every case of Rheumatism, and permanently cure nine out of ten cases. Sold by druggists $1.00 per bottle. Compounded by Temple Medicine Co., Hamilton, O.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers (either sex) make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered. Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bells.
CHIMES AND PEALS for CHURCHES, etc.
Send for Price and Catalogue. Address
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

CRETH—ADAMS.—At the residence of the bride's brother, at Poplar Creek, Montgomery county, Miss., June 2, 1889, by Rev. R. C. Caldwell, Mr. J. W. Creth to Mrs. Nora T. Adams.

NEWSOM—MCCRACKEN.—At the church in Duncan, Miss., on Sunday, June 16, by Rev. J. A. Randolph, Rev. J. H. Newsom, of North Mississippi Conference, to Miss Lelia McCracken, of Duncan, Miss.

ROGUE—GIBBENS.—Near Baton Rouge, La., June 5, 1889, by Rev. J. A. Parker, Mr. Shep. Rogue and Miss Bessie Gibbens.

WADDILL—BURG.—In Baton Rouge, La., June 6, 1889, by Rev. J. A. Parker, Mr. Ben Waddill and Miss Eva Burg.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

BARTLETT—Mrs. LOUISA B. BARTLETT was born in Philadelphia, Pa., and for the last fifty years resided in New Orleans and Ocean Springs, Miss. She entered into rest May 1, 1889. About the year 1878 she purchased a summer residence at Ocean Springs, and since the death of her husband, William A. Bartlett, made it her permanent residence. While a member of Dr. Palmer's Church in New Orleans, on coming over to Ocean Springs in the summer she straightway sought out our place of worship and identified herself with the Methodists, teaching in the Sabbath-school and assisting in many ways. A stranger might have thought her to be a Methodist of the Methodists. Her attendance at Sunday-school and church was prompt, her zeal never abated; her attentive attitude as an auditor was an inspiration to the preacher. Her love for our mission in China was intense. For many years she was president of the Sunday-school Juvenile Missionary Society, "Louisa B. Bartlett," Chinese, educated by said society, perpetuates her name in China. She loved the pastor as a man of God; and when I was in charge there, secured a church library of some seventy-five valuable volumes for use of God's ministers of the Methodist Church. Her contributions for support of our ministers were generous. She organized in Ocean Springs a "Village Improvement Society," which stimulated many to plant trees, repair sidewalks and adorn homes. Noticing the poverty of the natives and their illiterate condition, she resolved upon establishing a free circulating library of useful books for the benefit of the community. In this she was most successful, securing by donations some 300 or more volumes, that remain as an enduring monument of her philanthropy. President of the Cemetery Society, she was prompt and active in beautifying the resting-place of our loved dead. The friend of the poor, ministering to the wants of the sick, her name now is "ointment poured forth." Lately, many Presbyterians moving into Ocean Springs, she felt that the time had come to build the Lord another place of worship. Straightway she went to work to this end, and lived to see a beautiful edifice erected and duly dedicated, and a minister of her own faith called to serve the little flock.

Her last illness was long and painful. Her lamp was found bright and burning, and robes white, so, when the Master called for her she had naught to do but enter into rest. "Being dead, she yet speaketh." Glory to God! we shall meet again.

R. H. HOWNER.

NETTLES—Mrs. SARAH EUGENIA NETTLES was born in Richland parish, La., October 17, 1861. Her maiden name was Morgan. She was married to Mr. John Nettles and moved to Morehouse parish, La., where she lived until the day of her death, which sad event occurred February 19, 1889.

Sister Nettles joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, while she was quite young, and remained a communicant at her altars, until death removed her from the church militant to the church triumphant. She was a sufferer for ten long months before death came, but she was always patient. She was not afraid of death; said she wanted to live for her little children if it was God's will; requested us to tell her father, who was absent, to meet her in heaven. She was so young to die, but was calm and resigned; was conscious to the last; knew when her pulse ceased to beat; said, "I am gone." When asked, "Are you afraid?—she said, "Oh, no; if it is God's will." She leaves a husband, two children, father and sisters to mourn her death. May God bless them, and may they meet beyond the river where the surges cease to roll!

T. S. K.

WILBORN—ANGIE AUGUSTUS, daughter of J. C. and Agnes Wilborn, was born near Lake City, Miss., December 11, 1888, and died March 15, 1889. A bright spirit jewel was lent to a frail body, that it might smile the beauty and glory of heaven into the hearts of fond parents; then an angel kissed its brow and gently wafted it home to God. Grieve not for your sweet lamb, for it is only one more golden link in the chain between your hearts and the throne of the Shepherd of our fold.

W. FORSYTH.

TAYLOR—Bro. GILBERT TAYLOR died at his residence in Jasper county, Miss., May 30, 1889. He was born in Green county, Miss., October 12, 1828; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, soon after he was grown; was married to Miss Nancy Craven, October 3, 1865, with whom he lived until his death. Bro. Taylor leaves a wife and three daughters to mourn his departure.

A. C. FLOWERS.

ESTESS—ELIZABETH ESTESS, (nee Barron) was born near Woodville, Wilkinson county, Miss., August 11, 1813; was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, under the ministry of Rev. Jesse Glass, in the year 1837, and lived a consistent Christian and member of same till her death, which occurred December 22, 1888. She was happily married to Elisha Estess, January 1, 1841, who is left to mourn her absence.

Sister Estess suffered a great deal for some time before her death, but was never heard to murmur. She said, more than once, her only trouble was the thought of leaving her lifetime companion alone in the world, and that when the Lord in his mercy saw proper to take her out of this world, she would be safely landed in the arms of her blessed Savior. May the God of grace give the husband such blessings as to help him to bear all his afflictions here, and meet his dear departed one in that land "wherein dwelleth righteousness."

M. L. BURTON.

O'BRIEN—Little ANNA, daughter of A. E. and M. C. O'Brien, was born September 23, 1883, and died June 4, 1889, at Terry, Miss. She was a child of very bright mind, and unusually pleasing manners. Around her seemed to center the affections of the entire family. God has seen fit to take the precious child to heaven. While it is hard to give the child up, it is pleasant to think of her as one of the number that sing around God's throne. She found pleasure in attending the church and Sunday-school; loved to talk of Jesus.—Now she has gone to be with him. May God sanctify the bereavement to the good of her parents and grandparents, so that some day they may all enjoy a sweet family reunion at the throne of God!

M. L. B.

Echoes.

The soul in its highest sense is a vast capacity for God. It is like a curious chamber added on the being, a chamber with elastic and contractile walls which can be expanded, with God and its guest, illimitably; but which, without God, shrinks and shrivels until every vestige of the divine is gone, and God's image is left without God's spirit. Nature has her revenge upon neglect as well as upon extravagance. Misuse with her is as mortal a sin as abuse.—Henry Drummond.

Not a blade of grass but has a story to tell, not a heart but has its romance, not a life which does not hide a secret which is either its thorn or its spur. Everywhere grief, hope, comedy, tragedy; even under the petrifaction of old age, as in the twisted forms of fossils, we may discover the agitations and tortures of youth. This thought is the magic wand of poets and preachers: it strips the scales from our fleshly eyes, and gives us a clear view into human life; it opens to the ear a world of unknown melodies, and makes us understand the thousand languages of nature.—Amiel.

It was not very long before I made two very useful discoveries—first, that all mankind were not solely employed in observing me, a belief that all young people have; and next, that shamming was of no use, that the world was very clear-sighted, and soon estimated a man at his just value. This cured me, and I determined to be natural and let the world find me out.—Sydney Smith.

God's grace flows into our souls as we let it flow on to others, and when we cut off the overflow our own conduits become foul and gorged. He who is always giving himself away will ever have a renewed life. Grace will do for his spiritual life what the agencies of the body do for it in replacing the wastes. That body is dead which has ceased to give itself out to make room for receiving new elements. And this is the philosophy of spiritual life. The miracle by which empty souls about us are to be filled with good, is made dependent on the obedience of Christ's servants, and without obedience he can work no miracles for us, for without our co-operation any miracle in our behalf would be our curse. The first question is, Where shall we begin? Where would a robin or a sparrow begin in the work of filling emptiness but in their own nests. The empty gaping mouths are filled before sunrise. What have we done to fill the empty souls of our own households? Has a word or a prayer been dropped into them?—Presbyterian.

The total values of our exports of beef, hog and dairy products during the five months which ended May 31, last, was $14,443,495, against $33,270,783 during the corresponding period of 1888. The total value of our exports of domestic breadstuffs during the eleven months which ended May 31, last, was $111,045,697, against $117,558,359 during the eleven months which ended May 31, 1888.

Where Simplicity Avails.

Before adding another line we wish to state that it is Compound Oxygen of which we would speak. Having thus admitted our purpose we call attention briefly to what the voice of experience has to say:

MARION, Va., August 27, 1886.

"I am happy to report my mother now in her seventy-fifth year, much improved in health since using the Compound Oxygen.

MRS. VIRGINIA B. HALLER.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 13, 1887.

"No one seems to appreciate the blessing of getting out more than I do. I also realize had it not been for the Compound Oxygen I would not have been here to enjoy this blessing.

LYDIA B. CHACE.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

The Eiffel Tower.

The Christian Advocate's editor-in-chief, Dr. J. M. Buckley, was at the inauguration of the Paris Exposition. He speaks in high terms of the display, and especially of the Eiffel Tower, as a great triumph of energy and engineering skill. He writes:

"The various engineers and artists who opposed it, and the general public who called the projector a 'barbarian,' or a monomaniac, with one accord acknowledge it to be graceful, practical, useful and ornamental. When the Centennial at Philadelphia was in course of preparation, it was suggested in the press that a tower of a thousand feet in height be built in the middle of the park which surrounded the palace, but the project was not carried out.

"When M. Eiffel decided to erect such a tower, the most extraordinary and difficult questions had to be settled. The highest buildings in the world up to this time in their order, are the Washington Monument, about five hundred and fifty-five feet; Cologne Cathedral, four hundred and twenty-one; Rouen Cathedral, four hundred and ninety-one; the Great Pyramid of Egypt, four hundred and seventy-eight; Strasburg Cathedral, four hundred and sixty-five; Vienna Cathedral, four hundred and fifty-two; St. Peter's at Rome, four hundred and thirty-five; St. Paul's (London), four hundred and four. It was decided that the highest of these could not be surpassed in stone, and, therefore, the employment of metal was determined upon. The feet of the Tower are formed of four piles, about three hundred and twenty-five feet from axis to axis. The first floor of the Tower is about two hundred and thirty feet high, and the gallery has a surface of forty-five thousand three hundred square feet, including the balconies, and the summit contains twenty-eight hundred square feet. The number of holes in the various pieces is seven million. Two million five hundred thousand rivets are employed in it. The second floor is three hundred and seventy-seven feet from the ground. The building weighs six thousand five hundred tons, and by a mathematical calculation it is proved that its overturning power would be three hundred and three thousand one hundred and thirteen tons, but its point of stability is three hundred and twenty-five thousand tons. The building has cost one million of dollars, and a more graceful structure does not exist on the globe. At a little distance it seems like lace-work. With its elevators and staircase, it is comparatively easily ascended.

"While we were in Paris a heavy thunder-storm arose, and the summit of the Tower was above the clouds, the workmen engaged there being in brilliant sunshine seeing the lightning below them.

"It is expected to be of great use in a scientific point of view, in meteorological observations, which on a building made of iron and of open work, will not be affected by the eddies in the air, caused by the great heat in masonry exposed to the sun. Fine opportunities for astronomical observations, and experiments in connection with falling bodies, and in case of war, optical telegraphy and opportunity offered for views of the movements of the enemy."

A NEW USE FOR THE TELEPHONE.—Wires have been placed in one of the Congregational Churches in Tunbridge Wells, England, and recently sixteen subscribers were connected with the church. These included doctors and apothecaries, clerks working in various parts of town, an invalid lady and some lazy club men who went into the thing presumably more from a spirit of experiment than devotion. Wires are being laid to Maidstone; and subscribers living there, in Rochester, in Stroud, and Chatham, will be able, without leaving their houses, to attend services in Tunbridge Wells, through the use of the telephone. —Christian Register.

Linnæus named the olive olea europæa, and considered it to have been indigenous to Europe and Africa; while other writers attribute its origin to Asia, whence it is supposed to have been brought to Attica, about 1556 B. C. by Cecrops, who also taught his subjects to cultivate it. Pliny says that the olive was not known in Italy, Spain or Africa, in the time of the first Tarquin.

Cincinnati, Oct. 10th, 1888.

Wolff & Randolph, Phila.—Gentlemen:—I used Acme Blacking about a year ago but became dissatisfied and quit. Two months ago I met a friend whose shoes were strikingly handsome, and asked him "What kind of blacking are you using?" "Wolff's Acme Blacking," he replied. Had you ever any trouble with it on account of its coating on the shoes?" "Not a particle! When I bought the first bottle three years ago I carefully read directions and followed them." "Directions? I never thought of that." I bought a bottle right then and there, took the wrapper off the neck of bottle, followed those directions and admit, "What a Fool I was." Acme Blacking is all you claim for it.

The Best Blacking for Men, Women and Children.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.

LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES

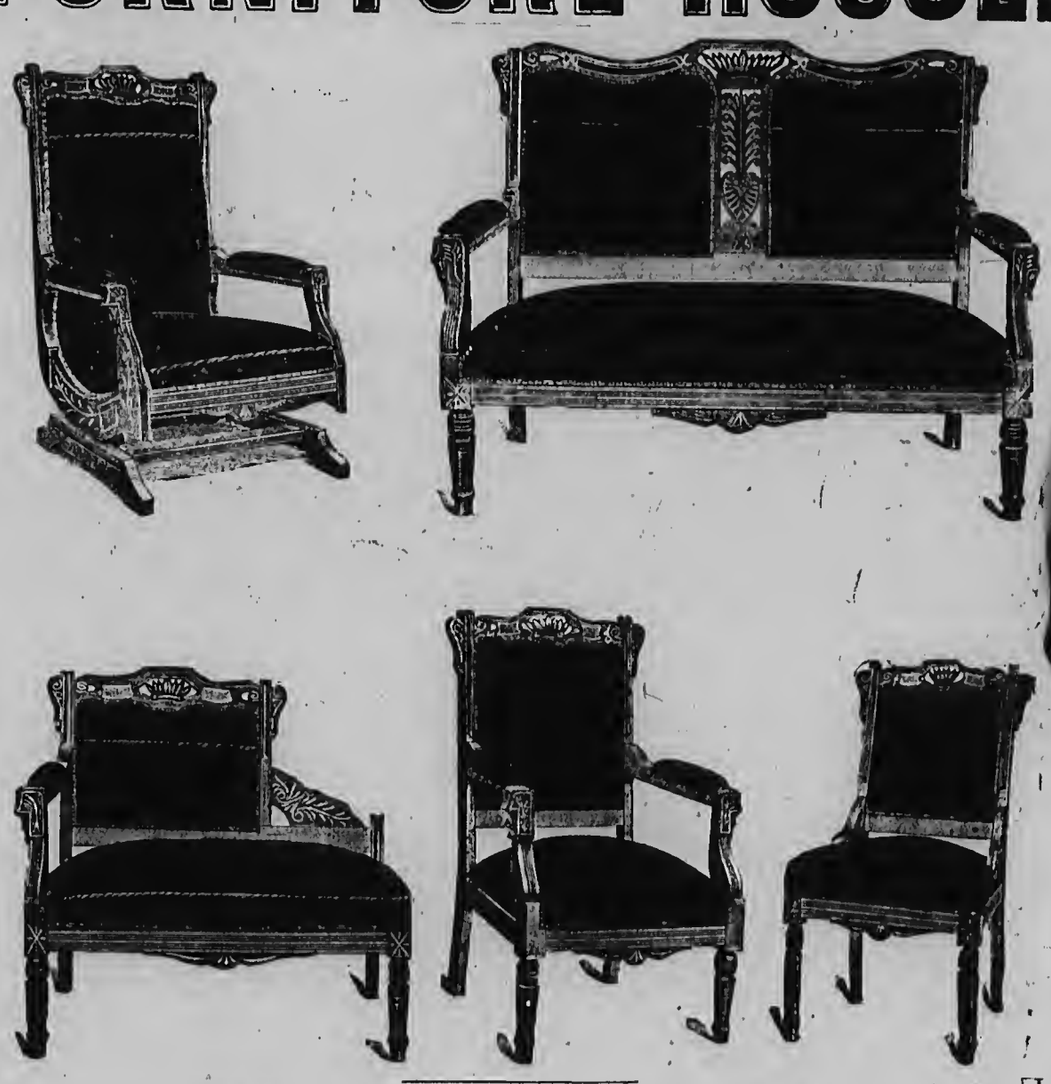
KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.
A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.
Music and Musical Instruments.
Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00
Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00
Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00
Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00
Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00
Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50
Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00
Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00
Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00
Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.
CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.
Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. C. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.
☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

FULL WEIGHT PURE
DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.
PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

$300 to $500 a month made by working for us. We guarantee energetic persons $300 a Year, with the opportunity of making 5 times that amount. Men who can furnish their own horses preferred. A few vacancies in towns and cities. Holloway & Co., 112 N. 6th St., St. Louis.

AGENTS WANTED, MEN OR WOMEN, To sell the Celebrated MISSOURI STEAM WASHER, Fits all Stoves. Washes by Hot Steam. No Rubbing. Terms Liberal. MISSOURI WASHER CO., St. Louis, Mo.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cutler Bros. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle sent prepaid

LA-CU-PI-A FOR THE BLOOD,

No blood remedy ever had for rule cures but few in dental record of success to compare made by LA-CU-PI-A. Scrofula sufferers given up to die have been restored by LA-CU-PI-A to health and vigor. Some of the worst Chronic Catarrh cases on record have been perfectly cured by it. In Chronic Rheumatism it has proved an infallible as a medicine can be. In RHEUMATISM ning of the Ears, Tumors, Chronic Ulcers and Constitutional Skin Diseases, it has proved a great curative agent. Read Dr. Record in Dr. Hartman's "Ills of Life," sent free by the Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio. All druggists sell it—$1 a bottle; 6 for $5. THE PERUNA MED. CO., Columbus, O.

P. P. P.
(Prickly Ash, Poke Root, and Potassium.)
CURES
RHEUMATISM
And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.
If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.
P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.

SCROFULA
Is an impurity in the blood, producing Lumps or Swelling, causing Running Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.

BLOOD POISON
Cured in its worse form; sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases Scrofulous Ulcers broke out till the party was a mass of corruption; a bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.
Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.

DYSPEPSIA
AND
Nervous Prostration
Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE
A SURE CURE FOR CHILLS & FEVER
DUMB AGUE AND MALARIA.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

HIRES
25c. HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING
ROOT BEER
The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.
Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.
C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The State University Board of Regents visited Galveston, on June 20, for the purpose of selecting a site for the medical branch of the State University, which is to be located there, and for which the recent Legislature appropriated $50,000.

The House and Senate of Connecticut, on June 20, passed, after amending it twelve times, a second secret ballot bill, and sent it to the governor.

Three Hungarians, who attempted to wreck a train on the Delaware and Hudson Gravity railroad, on the Mosaic Mountain, were arrested and lodged in jail at Scranton, Pa.

On June 21 two thousand men were at work on the wreckage at Johnstown, Pa. All the saloons were closed on that day by the authorities, and there was little or no trouble with the striking workmen.

Mrs. Hayes, the wife of ex-President Hayes, was stricken with apoplexy at her home in Fremont, O., on the twenty-first instant, and died on the twenty-fifth.

Gen. S. D. Lee, who, as a candidate for governor of Mississippi, began his canvass of that State several weeks ago, has surrendered his political aspirations and will retain his present positions as president of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. This action has been caused by an urgent request of the Board of Trustees of that institution, that he remain at his present post of duty.

The local physicians at Johnstown have all joined in the conclusion that not a soul less than 10,000 people were lost in the flood. On account of the general knowledge of the people possessed by the physicians the estimate is looked upon as reliable.

The Michigan House, on June 22, passed, after an earnest struggle, the Senate bill fixing railroad passenger fares at 2½ to 3 cents a mile, according to the earnings of the road.

It is believed that the President will immediately after July 1 begin the series of short stays at Deer Park which will constitute his summer vacation. The general plan is for President Harrison to leave the White House on Friday afternoon, travel to Deer Park and remain there Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays.

A fierce fire broke out in Johnstown, Pa., on the twenty-fourth, and twenty-five buildings were destroyed by the flames.

Mormon missionaries have been roughly handled at Pinesboro, Ill., and their meetings broken up.

Disastrous timber fires are raging west of Helena, on the northern Pacific railroad. Clark's Fork railroad bridge, 600 feet long, burned on June 24. Much delay is occasioned by the fire.

There was a bloody riot between Hungarians and colored men working at Jones Point, New York, June 23. Four Hungarians were shot. One is dead, another is dying.

FOREIGN.

A conference was held in Liverpool, June 20, of persons engaged in the American and English cotton trade. An agreement was entered into with the ship owners by which the ship owners agreed to accept the responsibility for cotton after its delivery on the quay for shipment.

One-half of the important city of Lachnin, in the province of Szechnen, China, was recently destroyed by fire. The conflagration raged four days. It is estimated that 1,200 persons were killed. Most of them were crushed in trying to escape from the narrow streets.

The Dissident Liberal Association of Midlothian, Mr. Gladstone's district, have decided not to run a candidate in opposition to Mr. Gladstone in the next parliamentary elections.

The military despotism that has existed in Venezuela for a quarter of a century is abolished, and there are constant demonstrations of gratification, in which all classes join with equal ardor. Gen. Guzman-Blanco, who has had control of the government of Venezuela since 1870, has been set aside, and Dr. Rojas-Paul, whom he had placed in the presidential chair during his absence in Paris, will continue in office in obedience to popular demand.

There was a long debate in the House of Commons on a motion by Mr. Ellis in favor of arbitration as a means of avoiding evictions in Ireland. Mr. Sexton and Mr. Balfour took part in the discussion. The motion was rejected by a vote of 248 to 178.

The Senate committee which has been inquiring into the charges against General Boulanger has nearly finished its work and forwarded all the documents laid before it to the public prosecutor.

The striking miners at Kladno, Bohemia, engaged in a riot on June 21. The gendarmes fired on the rioters and killed two of them and wounded twelve.

The Peace Congress opened in Paris, June 23. Mrs. Love and Mrs. Belva Lockwood were elected honorary members of the committee.

Russia has occupied Deer Island in Corea as a coaling and naval station. There is a Russian man-of-war there and nobody is allowed to land or leave without a permit from the admiral.

Rival meetings were held at Bezlers, France, June 23, by supporters of the government and friends of General Boulanger. After the meetings the two parties came into collision and had a hand-to-hand fight.

Quite a number of saloons were opened in Cincinnati last Sunday in consequence of so many thirsty Turners being in the city. The police said they had orders from the mayor to make no arrests unless there was disorder. The mayor is threatened with legal proceedings for suspending the Sunday law.

The Prince of Wales has sent to the lord mayor of London £100 toward a fund to be used for expenses of English patients who are treated by M. Pasteur at Paris.

Hall's Hair Renewer is free from alcohol and dyes that injure the skin. It is scientifically prepared, and will restore gray hair to its original color and vigor.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

ABERDEEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Okolona station	(Thurs.)..July	4
Shannon, at Pleasant Grove		6, 7
Richmond, at Palestine	(Wed.)..	10
Saltillo, at Shiloh		13, 11
Verona and Tupelo, at Tupelo		20, 21
Pontotoc, at Palestine		27, 28
Sparta, at Palestine	Aug.	3, 4
Houston and Wesley, at H.	(Thurs.)..	8
Buena Vista, at Asbury		10, 11
Okolona circuit, at Ebone Chapel		17, 18
Ebenezer, at Egypt	(Mon.)..	19
Fulton and Smithville, at Antioch		24, 25
Tremont, at Regan's Chapel	31, Sept.	1
Athens		7, 8
Prairie		14, 15
Aberdeen		21, 22

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Coldwater	July	6, 7
Senatobia		8
Como		13, 14
Sardis		20, 21
Batesville		27, 28
Courtland	Aug.	3, 4
Panola		10, 11
Pleasant Grove		17, 18
Lake View		24, 25
Mt. Vernon	31, Sept.	1
Arkabutla		7, 8
Chulahoma		14, 15
Cockrum		21, 22
Louisburg		27
Horn Lake		28, 29

S. M. THAMES, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Brooklyn	(Sun.).. June	30
Clarksdale	(Tue.).. July	2
Lyon	(Wed.)..	3
Friar's Point	(Thu. and Wed.)..	4, 5
Belen	(Sun.)..	7
Friendship	(Tue.)..	9
Glen Allen	(Wed.)..	10
Tunica	(Sun.)..	14
New Salem	(Tue.)..	16
Indianola	(Fri.)..	19
Hollandale	(Sun.)..	21
Bolivar	(Sun.)..	28

D. M. STANDIFER, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Tampico, at Pleasant Grove	June	29, 30
Macon	July	7, 8
Hebron, at Mamphis		11
Shuqualak, at Ridgeway		13, 14
Dist. Conf., at West Point		18-21
Crawford, at Trinity		27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel		31
Brooksville, at Exprairie	Aug.	3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove		9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills		10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg		15
Chester, at South Union		17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch	31, Sept.	1
LaGrange		7, 8
Sturges		14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—THIRD ROUND.

Winona circuit	July	6, 7
Winona station		10
Valdeu		13, 14
Kosciusko and Durant		17
Black Hawk		20, 21
West		25
Carrollton and Greenwood		27, 28
Richland	Aug.	1
Kosciusko circuit		3, 4
Newport		8
Ebenezer		10, 11
Weir		15
Sallis		17, 18
Poplar Creek		22
Ethel		24, 25
Bulzona		28
Lexington		30

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Fannin, at Union	June	29, 30
Brandon, at Brandon	30, July	1
Forest and Morton, at Wesley Chapel		4
Philadelphia, at Cook's Chapel		12
Neshoba, at Pleasant Grove		13, 14
Newton, at Decatur		20, 21
Hillsboro, at Oak Ridge		26
Shiloh, at Bethany		27
Lake, at High Hill	Aug.	5
Carthage, at Rocky Points		10, 11
Mt. Rose at Mt. Zion		17, 18
Strong River, at Clear Creek		19
Westville, at Westville		21
Trenton, at Independence		30
Walnut Grove, at Beach Springs	Sept.	7, 8
Marvin		14, 15

District Conference meets Thursday, nine A. M., August 1, at Shiloh Camp Ground. Bishop Galloway will preside. We insist that every member will be present. Let us have one full District Conference.

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Wilson, at Gayden	July	6, 7
Amite circuit, at Homochitto		9
Pipkin Chapel at Port Hudson		13, 14
Jackson, at Jackson		20, 21
Bayou Sara, at New Hope		27, 28
N. Wilkinson, at Mars Hill	Aug.	1
Percey's Creek		3, 4
Centerville, at Bethel		6
Sam Jones Camp Meeting		9-18
Clinton and Betheville		21, 25
St. Helena		29
Amite City, at Osyka	31, Sept.	1
East Feliciana		3
Woodville		7, 8
Livingston, at Palmetto		12
Springfield, at Wesley Chapel		14, 15
Naw River, at St. Amant		19
E. Baton Rouge, at Hay Ridge		21, 22

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Yazoo City	July	6, 7
Jackson and West Jackson		13, 14
Madison, at Livingston		20, 21
Sharon, at Madisonville		27, 28
Yazoo circuit, at Tranquil	Aug.	3, 4
Camden, at Shrock		10, 11
Benton, at Bowman's		17, 18
Flora, at Bentonia		24, 25
Silver Creek	31, Sept.	1
Edwards, at Brownsville		7, 8
Raymond		14, 15
Canton		21, 22
Mt. Olivat		28, 29
Spring Ridge	(Tue.).. Oct.	1

B. A. LITTLE, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Shubuta, at S. Chapel	June	29, 30
Waynesboro and St. Linc, at New Hope	July	6, 7
Clarke, at Manassas		13, 14
Enterprise and H., at Stonewall		20, 21
Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant		27, 28
Vossburg	Aug.	3, 4
Paulding, at Hopewell		10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel		17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill		24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh	31, Sept.	1
Meridian Station		3
Rhinsville, at Wahalak		7, 8
Leaksville		14, 15
Union		21, 22
Lauderdale		28, 29
Spring Hill	Oct.	5, 6
De Kalb		12, 13
West End		19, 20

R. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Fayette, at Ebenezer	June	29, 30
Port Gibson	(Mon.).. July	1
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh		8, 9
Bartonton, at Pisgah		13, 14
Martin, at Martin		20, 21
Utica, at Reeves	(Wed.)..	24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel		27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove	(Thurs.). Aug	1
Natchez—Jefferson Street		3, 4
Angalla, Sunflower Chapel		10, 11

District Conference will be at Vicksburg, July 5-7, Bishop Galloway presiding.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Mt. Carmel, at Good Hope	June	29, 30
Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs	July	3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting		5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town		18, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl		16
Augusta		20, 21
Whittington		27, 28
Vancleve	Aug.	3, 4
Scranton, at Elon		10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point		11, 12
Americus		16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell		24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

District Conference, at McComb City	June	27-30
Hallman, at Terry	July	6, 7
Crystal Springs		13, 14
Wesson, at Beauregard		20, 21
Hazlehurst		27, 28
Providence, at New Hope	Aug.	3, 4
Topisaw, at Topisaw		10, 11
Franklinton, at Fishers		17, 18
Holmesville, at China Grove		24, 25
Scotland, at Galatia	31, Sept.	1
Adams, at Ebenezer		3, 4
Brookhaven		7, 8
Bowerton, at Pleasant Ridge		14, 15
New Hope, at Centenial		28, 29

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

HOMER DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Homer, at Lisbon	July	6, 7
Haynesville, at White Hall		13, 14
Ringgold, at Liberty Chapel		20, 21
Minden, at Pine Grove		27, 28
Summerfield, at Summerfield	Aug.	3, 4
Farmerville, at Freeman's Chapel		10, 11
Downsville, at Camp Ground		17, 18
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel		24, 25
Arcadia	31, Sept.	1
Tulip, at Tulip		7, 8
Sparta, at Camp Ground		14, 15
Saline, at Antioch		21, 22
Ruston, at Douglas		28, 29
Indian Village, at Pine Grove	Oct.	5, 6
Coniseille, at Gansville		12, 13
Vienna, at Pine Grove		19, 20
Gibbsland		26, 27

ROBERT BANDLE, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Dryades Street	June	30
Carrollton and Parker's Chapel		30
Carondelet Street	July	7
Seashore Camp Meeting		14
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.		21
Rayne Memorial		28
Gretna and Scarpara		28
Craps Street	Aug.	4
Louisiana Avenue		11
Baton Rouge		17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Arbroth		20
Felicity Street		25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

Rheumatism.

To have rheumatic pains in one's ankles constantly for forty years is an affliction indeed. To have these pains extend to one's limbs and even heart is tenfold worse. But to have them all removed by Lacupla is an inestimable blessing. Yet this is precisely the experience of H. M. Abbey, of Newcomb, Mich. Lacupla only $1 a bottle.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Seashore	July	5
Henington (Crystal Springs)	Aug.	8
Sam Jones	Aug.	9
Topisaw	Aug.	10
St. Tammany	Sept.	27

FOR A DISORDERED LIVER try BEECHAM'S PILLS.

The next Florida orange crop, it is estimated, will reach 6,000,000 boxes, against 3,000,000 boxes for the season just closed. The press of that State is calling a halt in orange-planting enterprises. One of the papers remarks: "In ten years Florida will produce a box of oranges for every man, woman and child living in the United States, to say nothing of the quantities that will be produced in California, Louisiana and Mexico; then where will the prices be?"

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE, STAUNTON, VA.—We direct attention to the advertisement of this popular college. It is located in one of the healthiest climates in the world. It presents attractions rarely equaled, especially in music, art and ornamental branches. Its buildings are home-like, grounds attractive, scenery grand. This school enjoys a national reputation, and is attended by pupils from nineteen States. To all pupils it is a refined and happy home—teaching sound learning, graceful accomplishments and refined manners. Its graduates are its brightest ornaments, and are sought far and wide as teachers. It is endorsed by pupils and patrons in twenty States. For catalogue write to Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Harris, Staunton, Va.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

White Cliff Mineral Springs.

This charming summer resort is one of the most picturesque places this side of the Yosemite Valley, and White Cliff Hotel is a model of comfort, convenience and pleasure. It could not be otherwise while managed by our friend, J. H. Magill, Esq., for he has long been known to the traveling public as one of the best purveyors in the South.—The Athenian, Athens, Tenn.

West Brook, North Carolina, Sept. 6, 1885.
DR. A. T. SHALLENBERGER,
Rochester, Pa.: Dear Sir—The two boxes of Pills you sent me did everything you said they would. My son was the victim of Malaria, deep-set, by living in Florida two years, and the Antidote has done more than five hundred dollars' worth of other medicines could have done for him. I have had one of my neighbors try the medicine, and it cured him immediately. I now recommend it to every one suffering from Malaria.
Respectfully yours,
W. W. MONROE.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending June 26, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary		8½ @	—
Ordinary		8	— —
Good ordinary		9½	— —
Low middling		10¼	— —
Middling		10⅝	— —
Good middling		11⅜	— —
Middling fair		11⅞	— —
Fair		12⅝	— —
Galveston middling		10⅝	— —
Mobile middling		10⅝	— —
Memphis middling	10	11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime		— —	— —
Fully fair		— —	— —
Good fair		— —	— —
Common		— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds		7⅛	8⅛
Prime yellow		8¼	8⅝
Gray white		— —	— —
Choice white		— —	8⅝
Standard granulated		— —	— —
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy		— —	— —
Fair		— —	— —
Good common		— —	— —
SYRUP		— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2		2	2¼
Good		4⅜	4½
Fair		4	4¼
Prime		4¾	5
Rough, ₱ bbl		2 25	4 10
Polish, ₱ bbl		15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy		4 80	4 90
Fancy		— —	4 85
Choice		— —	— —
Minnesota Patents		— —	6 00
Whiter wheat patents		5 15	5 25
Minnesota bakers		5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal		2 40	— —
Cream meal		2 50	2 60
Grits		2 50	2 60
Hominy		— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, ₱ bushel		— —	49
Yellow		— —	47
Mixed No. 2		— —	46
OATS:
Western		— —	33
Texas first-grade		— —	— —
BRAN:
₱ cwt		70	72½
HAY:
Prime		16 00	17 00
Choice		— —	18 00
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess (Standard)		— —	18 00
Prime Mess		12 50	12 75
Rumps		12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast		10½	11
Shoulders		— —	6¼
Sides, short rib		— —	7⅜
Sides, long clear		— —	7¼
HAMS:
Sugar-cured		11¼	11¾
DRY SALT MEATS:
Shoulders		— —	5½
Sides, short rib		— —	6½
Sides, long clear		— —	6½
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime		— —	19½
Fair		— —	18½
Common		— —	16¼
TEAS:
Choice		40	80
Hc-No		— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery		19	— —
Western Dairy		13½	14
Common		— —	7
LARD:
Refined		— —	6¾
OILS:
Coal, bbls		10	— —
Coal, cases		15½	16
Cotton seed, crude		41	43
Lard, Extra No. 1		— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head		— —	— —
Chicago, ₱ 100		— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate		1 25	— —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana		1 30	1 40
Western		— —	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana		— —	— —
Western		— —	1 60
BALING STUFFS.
BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb. ₱ yard		10¼	10½
Jute, 1¾ lb. ₱ yard		9½	9¾
Lone Mills Cotton Bagging		12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb		9½	10
TIES:
₱ bundle		1 05	1 07
SUNDRIES.
POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western		4 25	4 50
Young Chickens		1 25	3 00
Chickens, Southern		2 75	3 00
Young		1 00	1 75
Turkeys, Southern		10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western		11	12
Southern		12½	13
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb		24	24½
Louisiana		22	23
Burry		11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb		3	— —
Dry salted		5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton		— —	13 00
Meal		20 50	— —
Pure ground bone		28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb		— —	2½
Sulphuric acid		2	— —

Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, &c.
From General Albert Sidney Johnston, the great Confederate General.
FT. BRIDGER, UTAH, Nov. 8, '57.
Messrs. J. & C. Maguire, St. Louis, Mo.
I have used the bottle of Maguire's Benne Plant handed me by Ass't Surgeon Dr. Kirtley Ryland, and found it a most efficacious remedy for Complaints of the bowels.
A. SIDNEY JOHNSTON.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.
The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.
A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address
R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

LOUISIANA
STEAM
SASH, BLIND AND DOOR
FACTORY,
299, 301, 303, 305, 307 Gravier Street,
NEW ORLEANS.
ROBERTS & CO., Proprietors.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Flooring and Ceiling, Newels, Balusters, etc., always on hand or made to order.
Orders promptly attended to.
Plantation Cabins a Specialty.
BRANCH OFFICE: No. 52 CARONDELET ST.
Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Summer Homes by the Sounding Sea.
The Sounding C on one of Ditson Company's famous GUITARS; BANJOS; MANDOLINS is always in unison with the restful pleasure of summer days in summer pleasant places. Don't go to a tasteless house! Take with you one of our light, portable musical instruments!
Seasonable and most enjoyable music books are
COLLEGE SONGS (50 cts.) 150,000 sold.
COLLEGE SONGS for Banjo ($1), Guitar ($1).
GOOD OLD SONGS WE USED TO SING ($1).
PRAISE IN SONG (40 cts.), New Gospel Songs.
TEMPERANCE RALLYING SONGS (25 cts.).
SONG HARMONY (60 cts.), Fine 4 part songs.
POPULAR SONG COLLECTION ($1), 57 good songs.
SONG CLASSICS ($1), 50 high-class songs.
SONG CLASSICS, ALTO VOICE ($1), 47 songs.
CLASSIC TENOR SONGS ($1) 36 songs.
CLASSIC BARITONE OR BASS SONGS ($1), 33 songs.
CHOICE VOCAL DUETS ($1). The newest.
POPULAR DANCE MUSIC COLLECTION ($1).
POPULAR PIANO COLLECTION ($1), 27 pieces.
CLASSICAL PIANIST ($1), 42 pieces.
PIANO CLASSICS ($1), 44 pieces.
Also music in quantity and variety for all instruments. Send for catalogues, free.
☞ Any Book or Piece Mailed for Retail Price.
Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.
C. H. DITSON & CO., 867 Broadway, New York.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM
F. D. VanValkenburgh,
106 Camp Street.
Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.
Orders by mail promptly filled.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,
General Insurance Agents
—FOR—
FIRE, RIVER, MARINE,
ACCIDENT and BONDING
—COMPANIES.
Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.
Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.
64 BARONNE ST., N. O.

Liverpool and London and Globe
INSURANCE COMPANY.
Largest Fire Office in the World.
Losses paid by Chicago Fire, 1871, $8,289,091.
Losses paid by Boston Fire, 1872, $1,449,739.
All Losses Paid in Cash without Discount as Soon as Adjusted.
Losses and all matters of business settled by officers and directors in New Orleans without reference to any other office, the same as with local companies.
Directors in New Orleans—NEWTON BUCKNER, Chairman; RODOLPH WOMBLE, JOHN W. LASOUISSE, A. DELVAILLE.
CLARENCE F. LOW, Ass't Res't Sec.
HENRY V. OGDEN, Resident Secretary.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 27. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1715.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.,
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

THE DIVINE CALL.

To-day, to-morrow, evermore,
Through cheerless nights without a star,
Not asking whither or how far,
Rejoicing though the way be sore,
Take up thy cross
And follow me!

Though some there be who scorn thy choice,
And tempting voices bid thee stay,
To-day, while it is called to-day,
If thou wilt hearken to my voice,
Take up thy cross
And follow me!

I can not promise wealth or ease,
Fame, pleasure, length of days, esteem;
These things are valuer than they seem.
If thou canst turn from all of these,
Take up thy cross
And follow me!

I promise only perfect peace,
Sweet peace, that lives through years of strife
Immortal hope, immortal life.
And rest when all these wanderings cease,
Take up thy cross
And follow me!

My yoke is easy; put it on!
My burden very light to bear.
Who shareth this my crown shall share—
On earth the cross, in heaven the crown.
Take up thy cross
And follow me! —The Quiver.

Bible Perfection.

BY REV. THOMAS B. WHITE.

"Now the God of peace ... make you perfect to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen." (Heb. xiii, 20, 21.) "And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power." (Col. ii, 10.) "Always laboring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God." (Col. iv, 12.) "But the God of all grace ... make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you." (1. Peter v, 10.) "That ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing." (James i, 4.) So we have Paul, Peter and James, whose combined testimony is the same.

"The Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God: walk before me, and be thou perfect." (Gen. xvii, 1.) "There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil." (Job i, 1.) Here is abundant testimony from the Old Testament to the same purport.

Now, to all this add the testimony of our Lord as embodied in the Sermon on the Mount, particularly the beatitudes, closing with that remarkable declaration—"Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect", (Matt. v, 48)—and we have an accumulation of evidence that ought to satisfy and convince every searcher after the truth concerning the doctrine and experience and practice of "perfect love." These Scriptures certainly teach a completeness and perfection of Christian character attainable and most desirable.

We are "made perfect." It is not innate, but a divine process. Whether this creation is immediate and instantaneous we need not be concerned. There is a time when this work is done and completed. To that time we must look, and for that, wait. We are taught to "leave the principles of the doctrine of Christ, and go on to perfection"—"press toward the mark of the prize of our high calling of God as it is in Christ Jesus." Being "made perfect" is surely the work of the Holy Spirit, who "will guide into all truth." The sovereignty of God comes in. The blessing of "perfect love," as an experience, may be delayed for a season, that the "trial of our faith, being more precious than gold tried in the fire, may be found unto praise and honor." This perfection within finds its complement in a perfection without—perfection in "every good work." Here is the legitimate result and fruit of true faith; indeed, that only which makes faith valuable and meritorious. "Show me thy faith by thy works." The routine of Christian duty and "good works" become a constant and unspeakable pleasure. Duty, not "doing alms to be seen of men;" duty, "not sounding a trumpet before thee" to have glory of men; duty, not from selfish motives, that my own happiness may be secured; but duty whose voice is: "I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy law is in my heart." Self-denying, cross-bearing duty, however it may cross the flesh, or mortify the pride of life! Contributing of our means, as God hath prospered us, in relieving the needy, as well as our prayers, sympathies, influence and counsels! Our tempers, disposition and spirit after the model of Christ! All, "every good work" according "to his will, working in us that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen." "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do, according to his good pleasure."

We come back to the sovereignty of God. "By grace are ye saved." Grace! sovereign grace! Free as the air and translucent as light! No supposed merit will avail. Indeed, we have not, nor can have, merit. Infinite merit in the blood of the "Lamb slain!" Glory to God!—the soul bounds up into this higher realm; holds converse with God! Infinite mercy and love reaches down and makes perfect, and in this sense alone the child of faith becomes a "partaker of the divine nature of our Lord Jesus Christ." And now, at the Bidding of the Master, "Be thou clean!" the filth, defilement, corruption and bondage of sin and fear and unbelief is removed, and we are made "every whit whole," and "rejoice in hope of the glory of God," and "stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free," and come into that Eden of "perfect love which casteth out fear," and our "peace is as a river, and our righteousness as the waves of the sea." This is no myth, no chimera of a crazed brain, no reverie of a wandering imagination—no, blessed be God!—but the "peace of God which passeth all understanding, keeping our hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God."

Now we are in the Elysian Fields of Beulah land. The Shepherd hath led us into the green pastures and beside the still waters." As to this blessing being separate or distinct from regeneration, I can not conceive of any of the works of grace in our hearts, from incipient conviction of sin and the throes of penitential grief, on through to the "song of Moses and the Lamb," as being separate and distinct. It is all a blessed, consecutive chain of golden links fastened to the throne of God. I think, brethren beloved, we get befogged and befuddled by trying to draw fine, hair-line distinctions in the system of infinite, eternal and sovereign grace and redemption, whereby rebellious and sin-defiled man is brought into affiliation with God; so the full-bent soul, with all its God-given powers, voices its inner sentiments by outward activity: "Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." Full consecration of all our redeemed powers to God! Placing our little all on his altar, "abiding," as the fruitful "branch," in Christ, the "living vine." So that—

> "Henceforth may no profane delight
> Divide my consecrated soul;
> Possess it thou, who hast the right,
> As Lord and Master of the whole."

O, there is so much in the Book about this "perfect love!" And certainly it is the doctrine of the verses recited, and is according to the whole tenor of Scripture teaching, that we can only "do his will" by being "made perfect." No service is full, complete and acceptable without this perfect character. Perfection is a relative term; perfect according to conditions, perfect and complete in its sphere. A perfect machine only can do perfect work. "Make you perfect in every good work to do his will." That is what we want, and for which our longing souls wait. That is what we must have in its order and time as a work of sovereign grace, and the one qualification for duty.

"Likewise reckon ye yourselves indeed dead unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Rom. vi, 11.) "For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sin, which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth death. But now we are delivered from the law (its condemnation), that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of the spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter." (Rom. vii, 5, 6.)

Thank God for such a boon! I will preach it as Pauline, Wesleyanic, as the Christ doctrine—the doctrine of the Exemplar, who did no guile, who was meek and lamb-like, and who said: "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect." I will preach it as the object of all gospel preaching: "that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus."

MANSFIELD, Louisiana.

Harrell Institute.

BY REV. J. L. FITRELL.

I am just returning from a visit to the far-off Indian Territory. The point of destination was Muskogee.

The occasion was commencement at Harrell Institute. I had been in the prairies of Mississippi and Alabama until I thought I knew what "prairie" meant; but a revelation awaited me, to go hundreds of miles and not a tree to be seen, except the occasional bush and sappling or occasionally an orchard. But, oh! the thousands of fine fat cattle that roamed over this large expanse!

But I want to tell your readers of the wonderful revelations to me as seen both in the school and people. After I had held prayer in the chapel—which, by the way, is too small for the necessities—I said to President Brewer and his noble, self-sacrificing, toiling wife, without whom he never could have brought this institution to so successful an issue, "Where are the Indian girls? I see so few." "Why," said they: "most of them you see are Indians, and some of them with lightest hair and complexions are nearly full-bloods." And then the conduct and manners of the students were quite a surprise, and then on investigation I learned that some of the most quiet, gentle ones had been here so short a time. "When they came," said some of the other girls, of whom I inquired, "they were as wild as they could be, would run off and hide; but Mrs. Brewer soon won their confidence and love, and now they are good students."

After the close, on the last night two Indian preachers from a distance—one a Creek, the other a Seminole—were induced to sing a few songs in their own language. Reader, you have, no doubt, been charmed by the singing of the negroes of the South; but if you want singing that will reach your soul—though not a word can you understand (yes, you can understand "Jesus")—you must hear these Indians sing. After they were through, one of them turned to the girls and told Bro. Brewer, through them, of some children he so much desired to send to school: and oh! how my heart yearned to be able to tell our people how that after Bro. and Sister B. had said "yes" for one and two and then three, they had to say "no," when he told of others: "for," said they, "our hearts are willing, but our means will not allow." They had told me they were carrying nine already and did not see how they could continue to do so any longer, as it was bringing them in debt. If our people could only see and hear how these children of the forest long for better training, surely they would open their hearts and purses and lend them a helping hand.

Reader, permit me to tell you how easily you can learn all about this Indian work. Bro. Brewer is the busiest man you ever saw. He not only manages and runs this Institute with its cares and its burden of anxiety, but he edits and publishes Our Brother in Red, a weekly religious paper devoted to the interests of this Indian Mission Conference. You would greatly help and encourage him as well as inform yourself by sending him $1, and let him send it to you for one year. I'm sure you will not regret it. Try it. No dollar will be better or more profitably spent. Also tell your neighbors about it.

But I haven't told you of the exercises. Sunday morning Dr. W. B. Palmore measured out for us a fine field of work for women, and a more attentive audience I don't think I ever saw—in fact, few audiences would have failed to show their watches, as the Doctor held us one and a half hours; but there was no sign of weariness, though the church was crowded.

At night your scribe preached the baccalaureate sermon. Although it was raining, the house was full.

Monday, at half-past nine to eleven o'clock, there was an exhibition by the primary department in charge of Miss Kate Warren, of St. Louis, and it would have done credit to the schools in the States.

The art display I don't think I have ever seen excelled in any of our schools. It was large and full. Miss Bessie Hobson, teacher.

Thursday was graduating exercises, and the essays of the four young ladies were "just splendid." And also at night the recitation by the eight contestants for the two prizes—a $15 Bible by Holloway & Co., of St. Louis, and a gold medal by friends in Muskogee. This got your scribe into trouble, for he was appointed one of the judges; and the contest was so close it was with much difficulty we could decide. I don't think I have ever heard a better display of elocution.

I must not fail to mention the fact that the music could not be excelled. So young a school, and then to think it is Miss Simpson's first experience; and with a class of so little previous advantages, it was wonderful. I must say the concert, Monday night, was very entertaining. Miss Wilson, of West Virginia; Miss Weir, of Mississippi, and Miss Duncan, of Indian Territory, as well as the above come in for their share of the praise due this institution. It is to be hoped our Woman's Board of Missions will see its way clear to enlarge the help afforded.

This institution and the Brother in Red are doing more for the establishment of our church in this country than can be imagined by those who are not here to see. I tell you, it would make a thrilling chapter in the history of Methodism and Christianity to give the experience of Bro. and Sister Brewer in this work. And I got my information from the citizens here as well as from them. Let them have your prayers and your help.

STONE, Alabama.

Joe Jones at Louisville, Miss.

The Rev. Joe J. Jones, brother of the inimitable Sam Jones, has been with us, and did a fine work for our town and vicinity. He dug down to the bed rock of Christianity, which had apparently never been discovered in the religion of this place before. The old and fossilized religion of "join the church and then do as you please" was attacked by him in full force, its strongholds broken down, the citadel captured, and those who would not surrender hewn down with the sword, tomahawk and hatchet. Wholly uncompromising in his attack upon "sin in the believers," he drove straight for the mark against lukewarmness, inconsistency and wickedness in the church. His work lay chiefly along this line. The number of conversions was not large, while backsliders in great numbers came up and renewed their pledges for a new and better life. Gambling and drunkenness received a blow from which we hope they may never recover; while social card-playing and drinking, dancing and the modern arm-clutch of boys and girls were totally demolished—torn up root and branch, and hurled out of existence. Fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, almost without an exception, pledged themselves to forbid and prohibit further indulgences in these modernized forms of sin.

At the closing service almost every hand was raised in token of the fact that a blessing had been received through this series of meetings. Of course, there were some who were not satisfied with everything. Some were carping at his hard sayings; others thought him too plain, and still others that called him vulgar; but all agree that he is a genius after his own order. With a great brain and a greater heart, I shall pronounce him a true and great man.

We will open a camp meeting at Sulphur Springs, twelve miles southeast of Ackerman, Miss., on Thursday, July 25, 1889, at which Bro. Joe Jones will be in attendance. We should be pleased to see your smiling face, Mr. Editor, on the camp ground, and hear the old-time ring of that trumpet voice of no uncertain sound. We propose running the camp meeting on the self-sustaining plan—i. e., everybody furnishes his own tent and provisions. We make this announcement because heretofore some of us have been burdened with boarding from fifty to one hundred people during the meeting, which is just a little too heavy. Of course, we will provide ample room and board for all preachers. Come, Mr. Editor, and pick up other big guns along the way, if you can.

F. P. SPENCER.

LOUISVILLE, Miss., June 26, 1889.

"What Is Consciousness?"

Above is the title to a very able and logical piece of metaphysics in the last number of the ADVOCATE. The writer has certainly learned to hold the mind closely to the train of thought, and appears to have thrown some doubt on the time-honored definition of consciousness, as that power of the mind by which it takes knowledge of its own acts. While such subjects are far from being popular, yet they lie at the foundation of human knowledge, and nothing should deter us from honest investigation. That the mind does take cognizance of its own operations must be true, or no psychology would be possible. How it does this, is the question. To be both subject and object at the same time, our writer thinks is demonstrably absurd. But he assumes the two operations as being simultaneous unnecessarily. How does a young lady play on a piano and talk to the young gentleman behind her at the same time? Is one of the questions discussed in Sir William Hamilton's Lectures on Metaphysics. The true answer is, that she does not do both literally at the same moment. The mind passes rapidly from the piano to the conversation, and back again—so rapidly that the intervals of time are not counted; but we know they must be there, all the same, for it is certain the mind can not think of but one thing at each moment. So it is in consciousness. The mind acts, or is acted upon, by some outward object—this is sense-perception; then it remembers or recalls or recognizes its own actions as an object of thought—this is consciousness. Thus by the rapid interplay of the faculty of recollection it passes from one to the other, from object to subject, so speedily that no note is made of time; and hence the act of the mind in the perception and the other act in consciousness appear to be simultaneous.

Hoping this explanation may solve the difficulty, I am, etc.,

F. M. GRACE.

Encouraging Words for Sunday-School Workers.

BY J. A. LEWIS, SUPERINTENDENT OF FRIENDSHIP SABBATH-SCHOOL.

(Extract from an Address delivered before the Aberdeen District Conference and Sunday-school Convention in Houston, Miss., on "The Extent of Parental Responsibility.")

The question was once asked, "When should the training of a child begin?" The answer was, "A hundred years before its birth;" and this is true. Nations, states and communities take their shape from their early settlers, and it takes great upheavals to change the shape and tone of society thus formed. If you were to travel from Lake Erie to the Rio Grande, and from the sunny slopes of the Atlantic to the "Golden Gate" of the Pacific, you would find every portion to possess some of the characteristics of its early settlers. If a community or a state will retain the customs, habits and principles of its early settlers, what will be the influence that we will exert over our children? We, having charge of them from the first dawn of reason to their maturity, will have a great influence. As this generation is taught, so will the next generation act. Our children are the web and woof of society and, if properly woven, Church and State will be safe.

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." Parents that spend all their time and talents to the cause of mammon spoil two generations—themselves to make the money, and their children to waste it. Parents with fertile brains and Christian hearts wield an influence over their children that will bloom long after they have passed away. A boy may wander to the western wilds and engage in the exciting scenes of frontier life, but time or distance can not efface the impressions made around the parental hearthstone. I have been superintending and teaching the senior class of a Sunday-school for over twenty years. Six members of my class have become preachers, and three exhorters; but we have not raised a single drunkard or gambler. A great many have grown up in our community that will never do much for the church or the world. It is hard to reach children without parental co-operation. Not a single member of my Sunday-school has ever been indicted for violating the laws of his country. In our Sunday-school there are over thirty who will pray in public, and not a single one will dance.

Finally, brethren, we hold the destiny of our children for time and eternity. Let us do our duty.

Another Missionary to Japan.

Our fund to send another missionary to Japan is growing gradually. Why should it not grow faster? Have you sent your $10? Can't you spare that much to help the Lord's cause on this line? Won't you send it right away? Who next? The following have contributed up to going to press:

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Shelmire	10 00
Mrs. H. G. Flowers	10 00
Another Subscriber	10 00
Mrs. E. W. Davidson	10 00
H. Jenkins	10 00
A brother, for his three sons	30 00

One Hundred Thousand for Fifteen Thousand.

"Several years ago a man living in this town drew a $15,000 prize in the Louisiana Lottery, and it has cost the citizens of the town about $100,000." So said the pastor of a church in a Texas town not long since. That was a pretty costly draw, but we have no idea that the proportion of cost and profit is at all exaggerated. The Lottery—we say the Lottery, because we believe there is no other State in the Union that allows the existence of such an institution—is not only a financial parasite upon the good people of Louisiana, but upon every other State in the Union. Though outlawed by this State, the tickets are being constantly advertised and sold, and Texas alone is being drained by it of hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. The Lottery is clearly a parasite and a vagrant upon the body politic. It is a clear case of consumption without production. It is the most specious and pernicious form of gambling. It appeals to one of the weakest points of human nature—the desire to get rich at the least possible cost. The allurement is the most fascinating, and the temptation the strongest possible. "For one dollar I may get a large sum of money; but if I lose only one dollar, a very small amount is lost." So the temptation presents itself, is accepted and repeated in many instances, until the last dollar is staked and lost upon the desperate effort to win. The managers are on the inside, and know how and when to place the infrequent prizes just so as to make the temptation strong enough to draw in the fated suckers. There can be no doubt about the evilness of the Lottery viewed from an economical standpoint, as all the States, save one, have outlawed it. No man can be a true and law-abiding citizen of Texas and patronize the Lottery. It is only by an evasion of the law that the people of this and other States are continually emptying their purses into the insatiable maw of that horrible beast.

So far, we have spoken of the Lottery as a financial parasite, but what shall we say of it as a destroyer of morality? There is no proportion between the financial and moral results of the Lottery. "A hundred thousand for fifteen thousand" may be a fit illustration of the monetary cost, but the cost to moral character can not be measured in dollars and cents. There are no prizes drawn in that respect. Moral debasement, ruin and death are the rewards paid out for the small sums of money paid in. There is no more pernicious, nor a more iniquitous institution, save, perhaps, the saloon. The thousands of dollars lost to the State are represented by thousands of moral wrecks and ruined homes. Then, under such circumstances, what should be done? Let all who have an interest in the welfare of human souls and our country, cry aloud and spare not; and let the officers strictly enforce the laws of the State.—Texas Christian Advocate.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1889.

AT CANA OF GALILEE.

BY L. F. FIELD.

Is this so hard to Thee who oft
Hast seen his great sea, sunbeam kissed
Yield royal dole of silver mist—
By his cloud-almoners aloft
Borne, and flung back in largess soft,
Till thousand rebeldis as they list
Feed grape and leaf and tendril's twist,
In lordly vineyard, lowly croft?
O fool! who seest unwondering
This greater marvel of the vine,
This miracle of shower and shine;
Yet doubtest of this lesser thing,
This only—that his word divine
Once turned water into wine.

—The Spectator.

The Second Blessing.

I see several brethren have been aroused somewhat to antagonize the doctrine of sanctification as a "second blessing." When we speak of sanctification we mean entire sanctification, or perfect love. Religion is holiness; but not every Christian has perfected holiness. Every Christian is sanctified; but, perhaps, not wholly sanctified. All true followers of Christ have love; but, maybe, not perfect love. When we speak of the second blessing, we mean that state of grace wherein our sanctification is made complete, our love perfect. We propose to bring out a number of noted names and systems, all of which teach the second blessing doctrine of entire sanctification.

1. The Wesleys, John and Charles. Writing to Mrs. Jane Barton, in 1774, Wesley says: "It is exceeding certain that God did give you the second blessing, properly so called. He delivered you from the root of bitterness, from Inbred sin as well as actual sin." (Works, vol. vii, p. 45.)

"Speak the second time, Be clean!
Take away my Inbred sin:
Every stumbling-block remove;
Cast it out by perfect love."—C. Wesley.

2. Watson. "Not only the time, but the manner, also, of our sanctification has been matter of controversy; some contending that all attainable degrees of it are acquired by the process of gradual mortification and the acquisition of holy habits; others alleging it to be instantaneous, and the fruit of an act of faith in the divine promises. * *

"That the regeneration which accompanies justification is a large approach to this state of perfected holiness; and that all dying to sin, and all growth in grace, advances us nearer to this point of entire sanctity, is so obvious, that on these points there can be no reasonable dispute. But they are not at all inconsistent with a more instantaneous work, when, the depth of our natural depravity being more painfully felt, we plead in faith the accomplishment of the promises of God. * * * To this faith shall the promises of entire sanctification be given." (Inst.)

"The apostles, in addressing the body of believers in the churches to whom they wrote their epistles, set before them, both in the prayers they offer in their behalf, and in the exhortations they administer, a still higher degree of deliverance from sin (Italics mine—L. F. P.) as well as a higher growth in Christian virtues." (Inst.)

3. The Methodist Church.

(a) New Hymn Book:

"Breathe, O breathe thy loving Spirit
Into every troubled breast!
Let us all in thee inherit,
Let us find that second rest."

(b) Discipline—Questions to preachers on entering the itinerancy: "Have you faith in Christ?—i. e., Are you a Christian? Are you going on to perfection? Do you expect to be made perfect in love in this life? Are you groaning after it?" (Dis., p. 88.) (1) They are converted; (2) may not yet have perfect love; (3) but they expect it in this life; (4) are earnestly seeking it—groaning after it. When their prayers prevail, and the answer comes to their hearts, the experience of entire sanctification, as a "second blessing," will be theirs. All Methodist preachers go through this mill, but some seem scarcely ground yet.

(c) History of Methodism (McTyeire's, pp. 300, 305).

D. Jarratt writes: "I have seen both men and women, who had long been happy in a sense of God's pardoning love, as much convicted on account of the remains of sin in their hearts, and as much distressed for a total deliverance from them, as I ever saw any for justification. And I have been present when they believed that God answered this prayer, and bestowed this blessing upon them. I have conversed with them several times since, and have found them thoroughly devoted to God. They all testify that they have received the gift instantaneously, and by simple faith. We have sundry witnesses to this perfect love who are above all suspicion." Jarratt was an Episcopalian. But now hear Bishop McTyeire's comment on his words: "This reads as if a Methodist had written it." (I italicize.)

Bishop McTyeire gives us the work among the Methodists: "About 1763 a deep wave of revival passed over the societies. The peculiar work of the Spirit seemed to be what St. Paul calls the 'perfecting of the saints.' Many were awakened and converted, but the work of sanctification engaged preachers and people in a special manner. Visiting Ireland in July, Wesley records: 'I found three or four and forty in Dublin who seemed to enjoy the pure love of God. At least forty of these had been set at liberty within four months. Some others who had received the same blessing had removed to other parts. A larger number had found remission of sins.' In September he was in the west of England, where he writes: 'The more I converse with the believers in Cornwall, the more I am convinced that they have sustained great loss for want of hearing the doctrine of Christian perfection clearly and strongly enforced.'" (Hist. Meth., p. 327.)

Here are the Wesleys, Watson, and the Methodist Church—in her hymn book, Discipline and history—all uniting on the doctrine of sanctification as an experience to be obtained before death and after conversion by faith in God. Among others will be found Jesus himself, and St. Paul.

L. L. PICKETT.

DAINGERFIELD, Texas.

North Mississippi Holiness Movement.

MR. EDITOR: At the earnest requests of some of the members of the congregation at Victoria, I was constrained to invite the Rev. J. J. Smith, a "holiness evangelist," to hold a meeting at this place (not, however, as I understand, before he had already been invited by others, which I would not dare to do, as a member of the church, without consultation with the pastor). He came in due time, and conducted a meeting of eight days' duration, after his own peculiar style and mode. During the meeting there were three conversions, and nine accessions to the church, six of them being by letter and from other denominations. There were also many professions of higher attainment in the divine life. I heard all but two of the sermons that Bro. Smith preached while here. His sermons at night were repentance and faith, generally with a conclusion of the second-blessing theory of sanctification. There were earnest and zealous appeals to the ungodly, and were blessed of the Lord, I trust, to the salvation of some. His sermons in the morning, however, were without exception devoted exclusively to the modern theory of holiness, or sanctification. I believe Bro. Smith is conscientious in what he believes, in what he says, and in what he does; and I would not say anything to the disparagement of his Christian character. But I must say that I believe his interpretations of Scripture, in some instances, are radically erroneous, and calculated to inculcate into the minds of many, who are not as familiar with the Word of God as they should be, wrong impressions concerning the doctrine of holiness, or sanctification, as taught by Christ, his apostles and the sainted founders of Methodism. For instance, he preaches a sermon from these words: "Have ye received the gift of the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" (Acts xix, 2.) From which he endeavors to prove that the converted or regenerate person has never received the gift of the Holy Ghost, and that only those who have received a second manifestation possess this gift. Mr. Editor, this is positively a perversion of Scripture. Those parties to whom this question was propounded had never been converted, as their answer unquestionably proves: "We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost." Their relation to Christ was the same as that of children before conversion who have been baptized in infancy. This is only an instance of many in which these modern holiness advocates contort out of meaning the plain teachings of the Bible concerning this high and holy attainment in the divine life, which we, as Methodists, hold dear, and which God forbid that I should ever retard its progress. They minify the regenerating influence of the Holy Spirit, and magnify out of reason the sanctifying power of the same.

The parties within the bounds of my own charge who enjoy this blessed experience are in the main staunch supporters of the church and its institutions. Many of them are foremost in every good word and work, but I candidly believe that seeds of error are being sown in the minds of the young by these imported teachers that it will take years to eradicate. "Early impressions are the most lasting." The position of pastors who do not make a public profession of this blessing is minified to the exaltation of the evangelist who does. They entertain the idea that the evangelist alone can have a revival; thus repudiating the Spirit's power when sought by the humblest follower of Christ. And other ideas are entertained that should be hurled in oblivion; and God speed the day through the instrumentality of his pure and blessed Word!

J. T. HOWELL, P. C.

VICTORIA, Mississippi.

Grenada Collegiate Institute.

The commencement exercises of this deservedly popular institution were varied and, in many respects, unusually attractive this year. Dr. W. C. Black, of Jackson, Miss., preached the commencement sermon on Sunday, June 16, in the Methodist Church, to a large and appreciative audience. The Doctor was in good trim, and his answer to Job's question—"If a man die, shall he live again?"—was satisfactory and complete. The preacher's presentation of his arguments was that of a master, and, without fulsome eulogy, we may say, to be able to preach such a sermon places the preacher in the front rank of pulpit thinkers. This is our verdict; and it is a calm one, based on facts. Rev. K. A. Jones, of Cold Water, president of the Board of Trust, preached with fine effect to a large congregation, at night, on "Religion." Bro. Thomas Cameron was expected to fill the pulpit at this hour, but was prevented by personal affliction. Bro. Jones is a typical Methodist preacher—ready to preach—and so he preached. Grenada's commencement Sabbath was rich and joyous in spiritual things.

Monday was largely given to the little folks. The work done in the primary department is well done. The little people acquitted themselves with credit. The essays of junior and senior classes were of a high order of merit. The written examinations of the young ladies in the academic and collegiate departments evinced close and painstaking study. The young lady bookkeepers of Grenada College will know how to keep their accounts, judging from their written papers.

Tuesday, the closing day, was an occasion of great interest. Two young ladies had completed the course of study, and are to be dismissed to other scenes and work. The valedictory was gracefully delivered by Miss Henrietta Sharp, daughter of my old friend, Dr. John Sharp, of Wall Hill, Miss. There are yet two bright girls who need a word of special commendation. One has read her essay in Latin; the other in German. These were worthy to receive a certificate of graduation—each in her special department—and, with the others, they are so honored. President Newell made an address to the graduating class which reflected credit to his head and heart. Such a speech will bear fruit. It was a wise speech; it was religious. The young ladies will not forget it; they will remember what a diploma means in the hands of a young lady, carried from a Christian school.

The exhibit made by the art department for the session was, in the judgment of judges, simply superb. To this scribe it looked pretty. The music, both vocal and instrumental, was of "a very high order." These last words might be used to characterize this school in all of its departments. From primary up to collegiate the motto is, "Do right;" and certainly the aim is thoroughness. Mrs. Newell is personally in charge of the boarding department, and that is to say everything is well organized and amply provisioned.

The North Mississippi Conference has a noble plant in the Grenada Collegiate Institute. This is a Christian school where our daughters can receive a sound Christian, literary training, and come back to us in love with the church of their fathers.

The fall session opens in September. The past session was in many respects the most pleasant and successful of the institute's history. We rejoice in its continued prosperity and wish it yet greater success.

I mention one item in which the institution honored itself: in conferring the degree of "M. E. L." on Miss Mollie Duval, of Sardis, Miss., now a teacher in the institute.

With the grand concert (most too elaborate) at night closed a delightful and profitable session of the Grenada Collegiate Institute.

T. W. DYE, for Committee.

Fannin's Patriarch.

My last letter from a dear one of Fannin, Miss., had been folded and lain away, but the following words from our Zion there still lingers in my heart: "I wish you knew our pastor, Bro. E. He is such a Christly man, and through his pious example and influence our church has made rapid strides, spiritually. I dread the Conference time which will turn the itinerant wheel and roll him away from us." And my spirit leaped the distance, and gave answer: "Fear not, little flock; it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. The Conference may change your shepherds by taking one good man away from you to give you another, but as long as your church—the earthly 'tent'—has its patriarch sitting in the 'open door' with his heavenward look, watching to call the passing angels in to bring blessings within your midst, be of good cheer; no change can much affect you." Though sixteen years have passed away since I worshiped with the "little flock" at Fannin, the memory of that pure, good man is fresh and uplifting still, and will ever be a source of strength and help to me. Since my earliest recollections he has been Sunday-school superintendent or Bible class teacher, and always one of the stewards and the pastor's true friend and counselor, and one of the lay delegates to every Conference. An accident in his early life left him lame, which circumstance only intensifies my patriarchal thought of him. Like Jacob, indeed, "he halted upon his thigh;" and like him, too, he is "a prince in Israel," "in power with God and with men, and hast prevailed." I never think of the dear old patriarch of Bible times—limping in and out among the Israelites of his day, bearing his physical weakness as an insignia of soul-strength—but that a tenderer thought doesn't come of our patriarch. The sound of the uneven steps that heralded his coming was gladly welcomed always, and we felt would bring a beaming Christian face and cheerful, strong word of counsel to us; and other hearts than mine—in Texas, Louisiana, Mexico, China, Japan and elsewhere—are turning gratefully to him that his trumpet from Zion's wall "gave no uncertain sound." His has always been such a loving ministry for our dear Master. The long hard day of his life-work "is far spent;" and I believe in my heart that when his life's sun sinks behind the western horizon, it will set 'mid a halo of glory and send the refulgent beams of patriarchal splendor back to us; and should I be among the number left to mourn the loss when he is "gathered home," I know I should ask, in sorrow and bewilderment, "What will our church at Fannin do now?"

S. H. P.

STARKVILLE, Mississippi.

"Country Stewards" Reviewed.

Bro. J. I. Hoffpauir, in his article of review, flies and flutters frantically into a defense of the "worthies" who have been and still are the presiding elders of this Alexandria district, and thereby shows, perhaps, more of his powerful wisdom in calculating than he at all designed. However, in his article he admits the main facts as stated by "Country Steward" about the presiding elder constituting himself the Board of Stewards, and, in effect, says, "Alas! it can not be that twelve stewards so widely scattered could organize into an efficient Board." Now, if this be true, and they can not be organized into a Board, let the Discipline be changed so as to read "Mass," instead of "Board," and let the entire Sixth Question of Quarterly Conference read: "What amount has the presiding elder estimated for the Mass of Stewards to pay the preachers in charge this year?" Stewards are elected by the Quarterly Conference and for the Quarterly Conference, to perform certain duties, and yet another, who is not a member of the Quarterly Conference, but who is placed as eyes for the Conference, seeing a deficiency in the hands, says to the hands, "I have no need of thee," and, as head, says to the feet, "I have no need of you." (1. Corinthians xii, 21.) Such charitable argument as this: "Oh, you live too far 'scattered' to organize. The presiding elder will attend to all your work for you (though he may live five times further from the work than any of them) when he comes; will always keep our stewards where they are, and doing just what they have always done. Trust the presiding elder to do his hard work and get his poor pay." I think this contrary to the teaching of St. Paul in regard to each member being trusted, respected and honored in his own place of office. Let the hard-worked presiding elder turn over to the steward his share of work and responsibility, and encourage him faithfully to perform the same, and let us see what will be the results. One thing, at least, is apparent—the presiding elder will have less to do.

Organize by all means. Organize and infuse with the spirit of life and progress all our members. Distance in this day of telegraphic, telephonic and mail facilities seems absurd, and to let him who is one of the greatest factors remain idle is actually a very grievous error.

Brethren—you who can—please urge this, or something better, and get the thing to running smoothly before I am put in; so that the pay will be more and the work less.

S. H. WHATLEY.

EOLA, Louisiana.

A Presiding Elder's Tour.

MR. EDITOR: I have just returned from an eleven days' trip through East Baton Rouge, Ascension and Livingston. I have held three Quarterly Conferences, preached ten sermons, made one Sunday-school address, baptized eleven adults and thirty-seven children. I saw over twenty persons join the church. At New River, Bros. Slagleterry and Norwood were holding a ten days' meeting, and I came in time to preach twice, and also baptized eight adults and nine children in one class. There were eighteen accessions, and a church was organized. This is a good start in this comparatively destitute section.

At French Settlement, in the Livingston circuit, I baptized four children, and received five applicants for church membership at a Sunday-school celebration. Here there is a fine opening for our church. Bro. Denson has received by certificate, form of Discipline, and six applicants thirty-four the past quarter. This work, already large, has so opened out, and the demand for preaching so great, that we need another preacher in this field. There is a wonderful work going on along the southern border of the district. There are four preachers along this line that are not ordained, and I feel that I must give a liberal share of my time to this part of the district, especially as this seems to be the hottest part of the battle. Good news comes, however, from various parts of the district. We are praying and working for a sweeping revival throughout the district. The people are generally eager to hear the gospel, and the preachers faithfully preaching the Word of Life.

We have had fine showers of rain for the last twelve days, and the crop prospect is improving rapidly.

If some efficient local preachers would move into East Baton Rouge, Ascension, Livingston and Tangipahoa parishes, La., they could do good work for the Lord in preaching, and do well for themselves beside. This country is rapidly developing, and some portions are very desirable. There is a strip of eighty miles in which there are only two ordained local preachers. Both of them are old, and can not be very active. There are openings, as elsewhere, to teach school, farm and various other business they could follow and put in a good deal of good work in the way of preaching. In some of the older parts of our Conference there are more local preachers than can be well utilized. Here we need them. I think one at Port Vincent would not be in twenty-five or thirty miles of any ordained Methodist preacher. Our people here want to marry and be baptized as well as other people. There is said to be Mississippi bottom land near our New River Church subject to homestead entry that would make a bale or more of cotton per acre. Fraternally,

C. M'DONALD.

Woman's Missionary Convention at Greenville, Miss.

MR. EDITOR: Owing to sickness since my return from Greenville, have not been able to write you about our Woman's Missionary Conference held there. I am aware that our much-beloved "Gilderoy" has written you about our meeting, but will not be satisfied unless a woman has her say about her work.

We reached Greenville on June 5, and were warmly welcomed by the kind sisters and brothers of that city. I have often read and heard of the generosity and hospitality of these good people, but can truly say, "The half has never yet been told." On the sixth the members of the Conference and people of city assembled at the Methodist Episcopal Church promptly at ten A. M. After Scripture reading and prayer by Sister T. B. Hargrove, the officers of the convention went into the pastor's study to arrange the programme, form committees, etc. The audience continued in prayer meeting till noon, during which time questions were solicited by Sister Hargrove bearing on our work. These were answered in the afternoon by various members. At night the address of welcome, by Mrs. Montgomery, of Greenville; response by Mrs. William Inge, of Corinth; and the annual address by our president, Mrs. C. N. Terry, of Sardis, were listened to with deep interest. Next two days were spent in business, which we accomplished with as much dispatch and system as the brethren could have done. So "they say." Our attendance of delegates was very good when we consider the distance and expense of the trip. There were thirty-one delegates and nine juvenile delegates. This department of our work is very encouraging to us: to see our daughters joining us in this grand work. As you are, perhaps, aware, Holly Springs Auxiliary was acknowledged the banner society, having raised more money for our cause in one year than any auxiliary has ever done in one Conference.

Our delegate to our Woman's Board of Missions, held at Little Rock, last May, pledged for our Conference, for expenses of outgoing missionaries, $500. When the auxiliaries were called on to redeem the pledge, $700 was raised in a few minutes. Of this, $135 was raised by our juvenile societies.

Our efficient, consecrated and much-loved president was made an honorary life member of our Conference, which requires $100. She has served us faithfully, but declined to serve longer. May our heavenly Father spare her to meet with us many years to advise and cheer us in our work. Sister T. B. Hargrove was elected as our president; other officers were re-elected.

Our meeting was one of the most spiritual and blessed meetings that has ever been my privilege to attend. Our Lord was with us, and we praise his name for sending us to Greenville. Next year we meet at West Point. May our Father watch over us, and spare us to meet there; and may we not only sow seed, but bring forth fruit for him at our meeting there.

Could write much more of this happy meeting, but will not trespass farther on your valuable space. Pray for us, brother, as hand-maidens of our blessed Savior, that we may bring in some sheaves for our Master this year. Your sister in Christ,

MRS. W. H. WALL,
Rec. Sec. W. M. S., No. Miss. Conf.

SAOPIS, Mississippi.

Woman's Missionary Convention at Natchez.

MR. EDITOR: I have been silent too long already in regard to the Woman's Missionary Convention, which assembled in Natchez on May 19. I had never seen a conference of women in session before, and was curious to see how they managed affairs. I had confidence in the women of our church, and was not disappointed.

On Sunday, May 19, Dr. Andrews delivered the anniversary sermon to a fine audience; and at eight P. M. the church was crowded with an audience curious to hear the opening exercises. After the opening exercises the address of welcome was delivered by Miss Susie Reed, of Natchez, and responded to by Miss Clara Harmon, of Meridian. These addresses were clothed in beautiful and well-chosen language, and made a good impression on the audience. The address of the president—so modest, so earnest and soul-inspiring, so full of love for souls, so imbued with the Spirit of the divine Master—captured the audience. The service from beginning to end was a success, and about $50 realized in the collection, which was an after-thought of some one, and not down on the program. Essays and address by Misses Fearnot, Jackson; Mary Andrews, of Meridian; Clara and Agnes Chrisman, of Beauregard. Miss Clara is our outgoing missionary to Brazil.

The people of Natchez were perfectly delighted with the ladies composing the conference, and it inspired us all with more zeal for the cause of missions. China, Japan, Brazil and Mexico seemed to be brought nearer and laid on our hearts anew.

When we remembered our Addie Gordon, Bettie Hughes, Mary McClelland, and then beheld among us the bright face of our outgoing missionary to Brazil, Miss Clara Chrisman, our sympathies were enlisted as never before. I think if there were any doubters as to the good of a Woman's Missionary Conference, they have gone from us, and never again will we hear it said; "The money ought not to be wasted in car fare," etc. The conference lessons were profitable to all. The dispatch of business was remarkable, the president and secretary winning golden opinions for themselves throughout the session. As Bishop Galloway would say: "The presence of the conference was a benediction and inspiration."

* * * * * *

Since the above was written, the sad news of the loss of Miss Chrisman, in the flood of the Conemaugh Valley, was received. How sad to us who loved her so; and yet how soon for her to enter the land of rest, and enjoy the reward of her consecration to his service! God accepted the sacrifice, and took her to himself without the long and arduous labor to which she had consecrated herself. Mysterious! do we say? Yes, to us; but by and by the unfolding of the plans of God will show that in goodness, mercy and love, he has done it well.

W. E. HALLARD.

Gansville, La.

MR. EDITOR: Seeing accounts in the ADVOCATE of the progress of other works, I thought, with your permission, I would let the readers of your valuable paper know that the old circuit known as Rochester circuit is reorganized into a work again, and is moving on under the blessing of God. We have five appointments now on this work, and a Sunday-school at each place. Congregations good, numbering from fifty to three hundred, while there seems to be a manifestation of good existing throughout the congregation; and our hearts are made to rejoice at times to see so many penitents at the altar for prayer, and we are looking forward for a revival in our midst.

Mr. Editor, we do hope these good people will come up in full with their collection.

D. T. PONDER.

Sparks.

God can afford to wait; why can not we, since we have him to fall back upon?—MacDonald.

If you do not wish for his kingdom, don't pray for it. But if you do, you must do more than pray for it; you must work for it.—Ruskin.

The most delicate, the most sensible of all pleasures consists in promoting the pleasures of others.—La Bruyere.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Lindsay and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON II.—July 14.

The Sorrowful Death of Eli.

I. Sam. iv, 1-18.

GOLDEN TEXT.—His sons made themselves vile, and he restrained them not.

TIME.—B. C. 1141. Samuel was now about forty years old. This was in the middle of the forty years' dominion which the Philistines had over the Israelites, mentioned in Judges xiii, 1.

PLACES.—Shiloh. Ebenezer (=stone of help). Aphek (= strength) the fortress.

1. The word of Samuel—Led by Jehovah's word as communicated through Samuel. Israel ... against the Philistines to battle—That is, Israel went out to battle in accordance with the word of Samuel, or by reason of his word.

2. Put themselves in array—When the battle was fought, the Israelites were defeated by the Philistines, and in battle-array four thousand men were smitten on the field—that is, not in flight.

3. When the people were come—The people means the army who returned discomfited to the Israelite camp, where the slaughter of four thousand of their comrades had taken place in the field. The elders of Israel said—This result was received by the "elders of Israel" in a light spirit, in so far as it was ascribed to the absence of that divine protection which would have rendered Israel victorious. Wherefore hath the Lord smitten us—As they had entered upon the war by the word and advice of Samuel, they were convinced that Jehovah had smitten them. Let us fetch the ark—This was a chest made of shittim or acacia wood, four feet in length, and two and one-third feet in breadth and depth. It was overlaid with gold within and without. The cover, which was edged with gold, was called the mercy-seat. Standing on this lid were the cherubim with outstretched wings. The ark was borne upon the shoulders by means of rods passing through two rings on each of the two sides. When transported, it was enveloped in the veil of the dismantled tabernacle, the curtain of badger skins, and the blue cloth (Numbers iv, 5, 6), and was, therefore, not seen. Its name is derived from its chief contents: "the covenant of Sinai," the two tables of stone on which was the Decalogue, written by the finger of God. From Hebrew xix, 4, we learn that it contained also "the pot of manna," and "Aaron's rod that budded." It was never seen save by the high-priest, thus symbolizing the invisible Jehovah. Who gave them authority to command the ark of God at their pleasure? Here was no consulting of the ark which they were about to fetch, no inquiry of Samuel whether they should fetch it, but a headstrong resolution of presumptuous elders to force God into the field, and to challenge success. Of the covenant of the Lord—They thus describe it in full, as implying that in virtue of the covenant God could not but give them the victory. That ... it may save us—Doubtless they had in mind Numbers x, 35.

4. So the people sent to Shiloh—This implies that Aphek was not many hours distant from Shiloh, since it would seem that the ark was brought into the camp next day. And the two sons of Eli ... were there with the ark—In sharpest contrast to this indication of God's lottiness and majesty stands the mention of the two priests, Hophni and Phinehas, whose worthlessness has been before set forth, and who represent the whole of the moral corruption and the sham religious life of the people.

5. All Israel shouted—This was probably the first time since the settlement of Israel in Canaan that the ark had been brought into the camp, and, therefore, the people, no doubt, anticipated from its presence a renewal of the marvelous victories gained by Israel under Moses and Joshua, and for that reason raised such a shout when it arrived.

6. The Philistines heard the noise of the shout—The Philistines' camp was so near that of the Israelites that they could hear the latter's shout of joy.

7. Were afraid—Being idolators, they were also superstitious.

8. These mighty Gods—These Philistines speak the language of polytheists, not knowing that the God of Israel is ONE LORD. Smote the Egyptians ... in the wilderness—Of which they had heard many strange accounts. With all the plagues—The Hebrew can not be so rendered. It should be "with every kind of plague," equivalent to with utter destruction. The allusion is only to the overthrow of Pharaoh's host in the wilderness—that is, the shores of the Red Sea.

9. That ye be not servants—Captives taken in war seem anciently to have been looked upon as justly liable to death, and hence to any treatment less dreadful than death. Their necks were trodden upon, in token of abject subjection.

10. The Philistines fought—With the desperation of despair, with the issue before them of to serve or to be served. Into his tent—That is, home. The use of the word tent is a relic of the nomad life in the wilderness.

11. The ark of God was taken—To the ignorant multitude it would, doubtless, seem as if, in gaining the ark, the Philistines had also secured the presence and aid of Jehovah, for this was the common idea in the ancient world. It was grievous for the tribes to have lost their God; but to find him in the hands of their enemies was a disaster of inexpressible magnitude. Hophni and Phinehas were slain—The death of these two men was the "sign" given by the man of God that the whole doom pronounced against Eli's house would be executed. The Psalmist's account of the catastrophe should be compared. (Psalm lxxviii, 56-64.) They were out of their place; what had they to do in the camp? When men leave the way of their duty they shut themselves out of God's protection.

12. There ran a man of Benjamin—There seem to have been always professional runners to act as messengers with armies in the field. The distance—about twenty miles—could easily be covered by one familiar with the region, as a Benjamite naturally would be, in the hours of daylight remaining after the battle. His clothes rent and with earth upon his head—Usual signs of calamity and grief.

13. A seat by the wayside—Rather, "upon his throne," the pontifical chair of state. This seat was probably set at the gate leading into the inner court of the tabernacle. Seated here, the high-priest would see all who came up to worship, and here he would expect to receive the first news of the return of the ark from the camp. Trembled for the ark of God—He had a foreboding of disaster. Perhaps the ark had been taken against his judgment, he yielding with characteristic weakness. Such a use of the ark, unless authorized by God himself, as in Joshua iii, 1-5, was little less than a temptation of God, as it put him, in the opinion of the people, under the necessity of giving them the victory in order to save the symbol so intimately associated with his honor. Cried out—With the loud oriental wail of mourning. To weep under such circumstances was not considered unmanly by any ancient people.

14. Eli heard the voice of the crying—Of the people congregated about the place. Came in hastily, and told Eli—The messenger coming from the south—the direction in which the battle was fought—came into the city first and when Eli, hearing the tumult, demanded the meaning of it, the man came in where the tabernacle stood and told the fatal news.

15. His eyes were dim—"His eyes stood," that is, were stiff, so that he could no more see. This is a description of the so-called black cataract which generally occurs at a very great age from paralysis of the optic nerves.

16. I fled to-day—Marking distinctly that the battle had taken place that very morning. What is there done—Exactly the same words (in the Hebrew) as II. Samuel i, 4. How went the matter? The turn of the whole narrative there is strikingly similar to this.

17. Israel is fled ... great slaughter ... Hophni and Phinehas are dead ... the ark of God is taken—The simple, direct, and yet climacteric way in which the messenger tells his tale of sorrow has attracted the notice of all critics. How few the words used to relate all the items of this thrilling message! How each successive statement rises in the announcement of a still severer loss!

18. He fell ... his neck brake ... he died—Eli's death, under a divine rebuke for his sins, has been a salutary warning to others, even to this present day. Yet, in the circumstances of it he testified his supreme regard to the honor of God and the interests of religion, above all personal and relative considerations, and, notwithstanding all his faults, he died in a lively exercise of love to God and his ordinances, and even by occasion of it.

Missionary.

The Book of Acts and the World's Evangelization.

BY PROF. A. W. PITZER.

The Book of Acts was written by a Gentile physician, who was the intimate associate of the special apostle to the Gentiles and his companion in the work of evangelization. It is not a record of disconnected facts and incidents in the lives of the apostles, but an accurate and scientific history of what Jesus continued to do after his ascension, through his spirit, his word and his servants. The principles and patterns of all missionary work, in all lands, among all peoples, until time shall be no more, are contained in this precious book; and as the church addresses herself more and more eagerly to the great and blessed work of preaching the gospel to every creature, she will also turn with ever-increasing delight to this noblest of all missionary records for guidance, for strength and for comfort.

Until our Lord shall return in bodily presence from the heavens, the elements of the missionary problem will never be essentially different from what they were when Luke prepared this record: A risen Lord on his Father's throne in glory; an omniscient and omnipresent Spirit; a living Word, written by men inspired by the Holy Ghost; living men and women, filled with the Spirit and thus endued with power to be witnesses for Christ; a lost race, without God and without hope either for this world or the next; the command of the King, "Go ye"; and the limit of labor—"Into all the world."

In this apostolic constitution and by-laws of the first missionary society there is a conspicuous absence of elaborate and intricate machinery, of minute rules and regulations for the guidance of the missionaries, or endowed colleges and seminaries for training ministers, of multiplied scholastic requirements before any one should preach the gospel—in fact, many things now thought to be indispensable were not, at that time, even so much as thought of.

And yet the old Roman Empire extended from north to south more than 1,500 miles, and from east to west more than 2,000 miles, and included Medes, Parthians, Syrians, Ethiopians, Egyptians, Cretes, Arabs, Greeks, and many other tribes and tongues of Europe. Christ was the Captain, the Word was the instrument, believers were the agents, power was to come from the Holy Ghost; the only waiting to be done by the missionaries was for him: he would endue them for their work, then they must start, and never stop until the gospel had been preached among all nations as God's witness.

Not the apostles only, but all disciples, were to go everywhere preaching the gospel. The duty of evangelizing the world was not laid upon a chosen few, with superb scholastic attainments, who could discuss gnosticism and polytheism with the scientists of that era; but every disciple who felt in his own soul the power of the Holy Ghost, was to go forth, and as the one supreme business of his life tell his fellow-men what he personally knew of Jesus of Nazareth; they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and went everywhere evangelizing.

We hear much in these days of new and difficult problems, and of new and special difficulties in the missionary work. But there are no new problems, and no special difficulties. The problems and difficulties that confront the missionary of to-day confronted the missionary of the apostolic age. Heathenism, polytheism, philosophical speculations, sacramentarianism, polygamy, drunkenness, licentiousness, prize-fights, theatres, party spirit, persecutions, unknown languages, different tribes, tongues, races, slavery—these were—in the world then, they are in the world now. The Book of Acts is a perfect Manual of Missions for all Christians, in all lands, among all peoples, through all ages, until the gospel has been preached to all nations as God's witness and the end shall come, and the Lord shall return.

The gospel proclaimed by apostolic Christians came in contact and conflict with every phase and form of human existence; in contact and conflict with Jewish bigotry, with Grecian idolatry, with Roman cruelty, with Cyprian licentiousness, with Ephesian magic, with Corinthian luxury, with Lystrian barbarism, with Sadducean skepticism, with Epicurian agnosticism—in contact with race prejudice, caste, polygamy, slavery, the drink traffic and the social evil; and the testimony of the humble witnesses, under the power of the Holy Ghost, was indeed the power of God unto salvation; and the men and women of all classes and conditions, of all races and tongues, turned from idolatry and vice to serve the living God and to wait for his son, Jesus Christ, from heaven. What problem or difficulty can meet the evangelists of to-day that did not meet the evangelists of the first Christian century? Within the pale of the church, then, there were mistakes of judgment, and sins in conduct; there were legalism and Antinomianism; excesses and excitements; false teachers and bad doctrine; dissentions and factions; backsliders and apostates; but in spite of all these evils, the work went on, believers were multiplied on every hand, churches were organized and Christ was honored.

After eighteen centuries, the church of this age finds itself engaged in the evangelization of the world; and we call this the era of universal missions, when many questions of urgent interest cry aloud for answer; the sphere and functions of Missionary Boards, the powers of the evangelist, the relation between the home and foreign churches, the status of heathen converts, churches and ministers, the erection and support of schools and colleges, female missionaries, medical missions, the use of creeds, denominational comity, increase of heathen populations, Mohammedanism and Buddhism. Whatever answers may be given to these questions, the fact remains that all the essential elements of the missionary problem are precisely the same to-day that they were in the apostolic age of the church. As regards evangelization, there is no new thing under the sun. In every perplexity and difficulty the disciple of Christ may turn with confident hope to his missionary Manual for light and guidance; he will not here search in vain for either principle or practice, for example or illustration.—Missionary Review.

Her Face Was Her Fortune.

She was as pretty as a picture and so animated and lively that it did one good to look at her. She was all this, but she is not now. Poor soul, the roses linger no more in her cheeks, the former luster of her eyes is gone. She is a woe-begone looking piece of humanity now. She has one of those troubles so common to women and needs Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It recuperates the wasted strength, puts the whole system right, restores the roses and the luster and makes the woman what she once was, bright, well and happy. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

For all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, take Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One a dose.

If there is a disease in our modern theology and our modern philosophy of life more conspicuous than another it is its indifference to sin. We lull it with anodynes. We call it anything but sin. We form our schemes of social improvement and material progress without any conviction of this deep plague spot of our nature. We hide it from ourselves until it breaks out in some scandalous form, and startles us with its intensity. We will drill men into morality; we will repress crime by education; we will empty our jails by philanthropic legislation; but the sin that dwelleth in us is too strong for human remedies, too rampant for the social reformer's pruning-hook.—Dean of Peterboro.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla
100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

If You Have no appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," or losing flesh, you will find
Tutt's Pills
the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach, build up the flagging energies as no other medicine will, and
CURE CONSTIPATION.
To enjoy health one should have regular evacuations every twenty four hours. The evils, mental and physical, resulting from
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION
are many and serious. For the cure of this common complaint Tutt's Liver Pills have gained a pre-eminently unparalleled
A TORPID LIVER
deranges the whole system and produces
Sick Headache,
Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.
There is no better remedy for these frequent diseases than Tutt's Pills, as a trial will prove. They should be found in every household. They are perfectly harmless, reliable, and can be taken without restraint of diet or occupation. Plain or sugar-coated. Sold everywhere. Price, 25c.
Office, 44 Murray Street, N.Y.

PIANOS B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE 1ST TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS
$25,000
Worth of Pianos and Organs
Must be Closed Out by August 1.
New, Nearly New, and Prime, Second-hand
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE
and made new in our repair factory.
MUST SELL!
Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices! Easy Terms!
Write for Bargain Sheet.
LUDDEN & BATES
SAVANNAH, GA.

CLARK & MEADER,
—DEALERS IN—
FINE GROCERIES,
16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and
Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.
Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS
CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITITIES.
Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.
Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.
All work is guaranteed.
Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works,
44 ST. PETER ST.
W. L. JARVIS.

WALL PAPER
in all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty.
WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES,
WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS.
UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.
Framing Neatly Done.
PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS,
RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.
EDWARD HEATH,
Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Frank Walker & Co.,
WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,
Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,
117 Tchoupitoulas St.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,
DEALER IN
WALL PAPERS,
Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.
263 - CAMP STREET - 263
Bet. Delord and Poeyfarre, NEW ORLEANS.
Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its branches.
W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

A. Brousseau's Son,
23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,
CHINA MATTING,
CARPETS,
INGRAINS,
LACE CURTAINS,
WINDOW SHADES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.
Mention this paper.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER.
METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the first Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand.
Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.
271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.
Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood,"
"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"
and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.
Mention this Paper.

FROM
New Orleans to Cincinnati.
94 MILES THE SHORTEST.
TIME, 27 HOURS.
Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the
NORTH and EAST,
NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,
Without Transfer through the City.
Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.
MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.
Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.
R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans
J. C. GAULT, General Manager.
D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.
"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
And Through Cars for All Classes to
CHICAGO,
Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes
To St. Louis Without Change.
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.
The Shortest and Best Line
FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.
Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 5 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.
The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
Pullman Sleeping Cars
THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE
To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and
KANSAS CITY,
Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.
ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS
FROM NEW ORLEANS TO
Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.
TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.
J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—
Texas and Pacific
Railway Company.
SHORT LINE
—BETWEEN—
NEW ORLEANS,
TEXARKANA,
SHREVEPORT,
AND POINTS IN
Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.
Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.
For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address
B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas
JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,
General Insurance Agents
—FOR—
FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING
COMPANIES.
Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.
Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.
64 BARONNE ST., N. O.
Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS
(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....8:00 am	No. 2.....4:00 pm
No. 3.....5:13 pm	No. 1.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:10 am	No. 6.....4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS

No. 3 Lim. Ex...7:05 am	No. 1 F'st Ex...7:00 am
No. 1 F'st Ex...7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast....3:40 pm
No. 5 Coast....9:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex..8:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r, 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r, 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express, 7:40 pm	No. 51 California Express, 4:05 am
B. Rouge, local, 10:25am	B. Rouge, local, 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local....7:20 pm
No. 17 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor..11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.
(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd, 11:55 am	No. 2, Lim'd....8:35 pm
No. 5, Fast Line, 6:30am	No. 6, Fast Line, 7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO.
(Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line, 6:30am	No. 6, Fast Line..8:35 pm

P. AND E. EAST LA.
(Alda Springs.)
Daily Except Sundays.

Arrive.....8:30 am	Leave.....4:00 pm
Arrive.....7:25 pm	Leave.....7:30 am

Sunday Schedule.

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Mention this paper.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.
J. C. MORRIS CO.
(LIMITED)
40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,
—Manufacturers and Dealers in—
WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Hemma, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Chucks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.
Catalogues furnished on application.
Mention this Paper.

CARRIAGES,
Buggies, Phaetons,
Surreys, Carts,
HARNESS,
Baby Carriages,
R. P. RANDALL,
54 and 56 Baronne Street,
New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS,
FUNERAL : DIRECTORS.
CARRIAGES TO HIRE.
Funeral Parlor at Establishment.
243 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.
Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the scrupulously celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.
Mention this paper.

New Spring Clothing.
WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at
WM. H. PIERSON'S.
Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,
DEALER IN FINE CLOTHING
—AND—
Men's Furnishing Goods.
Headquarters of the Celebrated
McCOWN SHIRT.
Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Ha
CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.
Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.
Discount to Preachers.

DRAINING MACHINES,
IRRIGATION PUMPS,
DREDGES.
Send for Circular, or call at Factory.
JOS. MENGE,
105 Tchoupitoulas

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bells,
CHIMES AND PEALS for CHURCHES, &c.
Send for Price and Catalogue. Address
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO
SUCCESSORS IN BLYMYER BELLS TO THE
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO
CATALOGUE WITH 1800 TESTIMONIALS.
BELLS, CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. O. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. A. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. H. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1889.

We have information direct that Bro. Peter James proposes to give $25,000 to Centenary, provided her friends raise a like amount. Now, let us see who are friends to Centenary. Where is the Louisiana man to match this Mississippi layman?

Briefs.

The Mid-Continent says of the plan of co-operation adopted by the Southern and Northern Presbyterian Churches:

In the plan of co-operation, now the law of both Southern and Northern Churches, a highly important principle is adopted. It is in the clause that relates to the churches. Presbyteries are advised to group weak churches of the two Assemblies under some acceptable minister of either body, allowing benevolent funds to be sent North or South, where each church may prefer. It is further recommended that where such churches are sufficiently near, and give consent, they "be consolidated and form one congregation with such Presbyterial connections as may be agreeable to the membership." The principle here recognized is certainly the right one and would prove highly effective, and in many cases saving, to feeble congregations.

The Cincinnati Commercial:

The States so fortunate as to be out of debt are Illinois, Wisconsin, Delaware, West Virginia and Colorado. West Virginia is prohibited by her Constitution from going into debt. California and Iowa have no debt to settle, though paying interest on a school fund. Kentucky is nearly free from debt. New York owes $7,000,000, Ohio and Minnesota less than $4,000,000, New Jersey and Kansas less than $2,000,000. Virginia is the most heavily burdened, having a funded debt of over $23,000,000, and an unfunded debt of over $8,000,000. Massachusetts carries the next heaviest debt, over $31,000,000. Next come Tennessee, $17,000,000; Pennsylvania, $15,000,000; North Carolina, $13,000,000; Louisiana, $12,000,000, and Maryland, $11,000,000. The total indebtedness of all the States is $220,000,000, which is less than one per cent. of their aggregate taxable property. The rate of taxation is heaviest in Nevada, Nebraska and Louisiana.

Between this time and May 30, 1890, the eleventh census of the United States will be taken. The first was completed in 1790 at a cost of $44,377, when the population was 3,929,214. The census of 1880 cost $5,862,750, and the population was something over 52,000,000. It is estimated that the population is now 65,000,000, and the probable cost of the census is estimated at $6,400,000. The country is to be divided into districts with about 175 supervisors, and 40,000 enumerators, and a large corps of special agents for the collection of statistics, etc. After the field work is done, it will take about 1,500 clerks to compile the results. The eleventh census will differ from the tenth in that there will be less of historical matter. The principle points of the present census are thus stated by the Inter-Ocean:

The law expressly provides that the only volumes that shall be prepared and published in connection with said census shall relate to population and social statistics relating thereto, the products of manufactories, mining and agriculture, mortality and vital statistics, valuation and public indebtedness, recorded indebtedness, and to statistics relating to railroad corporations, incorporated express, telegraph and insurance companies, a list of the names, organizations and length of service of surviving soldiers, sailors and marines, and the widows of soldiers, sailors and marines.

The Weekly Prayer Meeting.

This meeting began when Jesus left the earth and entered into his glory. It was honored of God by the baptism of the Holy Ghost on the day of Pentecost. It has been hallowed in the memory of the church as the weekly Bethel, with its ladder and its angels and its opened heavens and its visions of God. There is a beautiful fitness in the appointment of this service for the middle of the week. Distracted by the cares and wearied by the labors incident to every-day life, just as the mind begins to flag in its energies and the soul to grow sordid under the influence of worldly affairs, comes the weekly prayer meeting with its holy hour and its blessed privileges to recuperate the mind and encourage the soul in the struggle of life! What a wise provision is that which places in our reach the means by which we may recover our hope and strength before they are entirely gone!

In the prayer meeting souls are fed and nourished and grow. There many souls find a perpetual feast of good things, and they are made "strong in the Lord," and "mount up on wings as eagles." There, in communion with God, souls are lifted above the earth and its cares, and the smile of the Lord refreshes their worn spirits, and they "thank God and take courage." There, in communion with saints, sympathy and tenderness and love for one another are cultivated, and all feel that they are children of one Father, on their way to the family residence to join in celebrating the praises of that Savior who sought them in their wanderings and saved them from their sins.

The fact of the existence of such a means of grace lays responsibility upon every individual in reach of it. When a man says, "I can pray at home," that does not lift off the responsibility of attending the prayer meeting; for praying at home only meets the responsibility which attaches to home duties. For a man to say, "I don't like the method of conducting prayer meetings," does not lessen his obligation in the matter, because criticism of methods is not discharging the duty in this case; and, besides, the critical spirit is not apt to be the prayerful spirit. Absence from the prayer meeting, by whatever it is sought to be excused, adds to a man's responsibility. He fails to encourage others by his presence, and the example of his absence is in the wrong direction. His regular presence is one of the most satisfactory encouragements he can give his pastor and the faithful few who are striving to keep the fires perpetually burning upon God's altar. The example of his absence operates disastrously upon his own family and immediate friends, while it produces a leanness in his own soul that is frightful to contemplate. Regular attendance upon this means of grace is the only thing that will meet the responsibility of the case. Brother, God has instituted this service for your spiritual development and growth, and has placed it in reach of you; and if you do not use it, if you willingly neglect it, you thereby show a contempt for God's ordinance which will place you in a perilous position when "everyone of us shall give account of himself to God."

Unconverted Church Members.

SOME FACTS—A POSSIBLE EXPLANATION—A REMEDY.

One stubborn fact is, that all our churches embrace in their membership quite a percentage of unconverted members. Every pastor finds this out. Another fact is, that in nearly all our reports of revivals we note a large percentage of conversions among the members. It is often mentioned with special emphasis that so many church members were converted.

Not long ago a pastor in Mississippi reported, in the ADVOCATE, that "the church was converted" during the progress of a revival. We sometimes hear the lament from the highest authorities in the church over this fact of an unconverted membership. Now, there is something anomalous about this state of things. We do not hear of other churches claiming or admitting the fact of an unconverted membership. They often report as the fruit of their revivals numbers reclaimed. Backsliders have they, but not unconverted members. And are they not right, so far as theory is concerned? Is not the church a company of believers? Can we safely build the house by mixing in with the good material untempered mortar?

On the train recently with an intelligent and courteous minister of another church, he expressed surprise to me that we did not make conversion a test of fitness for church membership. I was a little startled at the thought, myself, but, in a moment, replied that I supposed no church is practically more rigid in its demand of moral fitness of its membership than ours. Still there remains the fact that we throw open the door to the unconverted. And this is a sufficient explanation of the presence of an unconverted membership.

But the fact that we thus open the door is one which itself needs explaining; and the explanation will, doubtless, point the remedy. Our theory is right, but our practice is wrong. The minister takes as his warrant for inviting the unconverted into the church the condition expressed in the General Rules: that of "a desire to flee from the wrath to come and be saved from their sins." He reinforces this condition by arguing that conversion may take place in the very act of joining; that it is a "step" in the right direction, and that it fortifies one's life against sinful indulgences—that is to say, an unconverted man in the church will be a spiritually healthier and better man than out of the church! This "condition" of the General Rules was for admission into Mr. Wesley's United Societies, not into the Methodist Church. The distinction which Mr. Wesley, himself, made between his societies and the church we should not fail to make. We should at once and forever banish from our minds all those disguises about joining the church in order to conversion, and as a refuge of moral safety. Furthermore, we have an over-haste in receiving persons into the church. Doing away with the probationary rule works us this harm. But we should still use the probationary method when advisable (and in most cases it is advisable), and keep applications in abeyance, if necessary, for six months, and never receive one till we are satisfied. Moreover, may not the next General Conference help us at this point?

J. W. MEDLOCK.

Letter from Japan.

MR. EDITOR: I have time only for a few lines to you. Been away on my work just three weeks. Returned three or four days since. Perfectly well most of the time, but became sick. I am thankful to say I am about myself again. Met with much to encourage me everywhere. In Najima baptized two adults and two children, and received eleven on probation. In Yowatahoma I baptized two persons and received some on probation. In that place the people are greatly moved by the Spirit of God, and some of the best families in the place begged me to come back to them as soon as I could. Open doors were given me, and willing hearts to receive God's Word. From that place I went to Todotsu, on the Inland Sea. At night we gathered into our rooms at the hotel some eight or ten persons who are studying the Bible. The next day took jinrickshas for the country about thirty miles distant. I had an invitation from a government official to come and help him in the temperance cause. He wrote me the people were ignorant of Christianity, and that he himself knew nothing of Christianity. I made the distance in six hours, and found I had got into one of the dark places of Japan, where the light of the gospel of our Lord and Savior had never penetrated. I had to begin at the very foundation of things. They had never heard of one true God, or of the creation of the world, or the creation of man, or of how sin entered into the world. It was all new to them. Every night and part of the day my rooms at the hotel were crowded with eager listeners and inquirers after truth. Many never saw the New Testament before, and never heard of the name of Jesus. But they all felt they were sinners; but they did not know how to get rid of their sins. I am thankful to say God opened the hearts and minds of many; and I gained many friends before leaving. They begged me to come back to them soon. Some of the women followed us out of the village. Eight or ten men followed us a mile, and two men, Mr. Takakura, the government official, and Mr. Morizane, a very wealthy man, went more than two miles with us, and all earnestly requesting us to return as soon as possible. Here is the Macedonian cry from a people who have hitherto been in the dark. Shall we refuse to send them the gospel?

Dear brothers and sisters of the home land, here are heathens in one of the dark places in Japan holding out their hands to Christian people for help. "Come over and help us," is the cry everywhere all over this land. Ask Bishop and Mrs. Wilson, and they will tell you the same thing. Help us now, brethren, without delay.

Ever your brother,

J. W. LAMBUTH.

KOBE, JAPAN, June 3, 1889.

Brookhaven District Conference.

The nineteenth session of the Brookhaven District Conference convened in the Methodist Church at McComb City, June 27; Rev. W. B. Lewis, P. E., in the chair. Rev. H. M. Ellis was elected secretary. All the preachers were present except Bro. J. H. Evans and J. M. Pugh. But six local preachers were in attendance out of a list of forty, and but eleven out of thirty lay delegates. This is to be deplored, notwithstanding the reports from the district show a marked improvement and a forward movement all along the lines, except in finances, which the committee attribute to want of system. We had occasion to report a like trouble from the Greenville district. When will our stewards learn that church finance must be conducted according to sound business principles?

Rev. L. T. Fitzhugh, D. D., president of Whitworth Female College, gave a most encouraging report of his school.

The Committee on Education reported on Kavanaugh College in the absence of its devoted and successful president, Rev. H. W. Featherstun. The report shows the college in a most prosperous condition, with a deep spiritual work among the pupils. The Conference gave its hearty endorsement to these two brethren and their colleges.

The Conference was edified by deeply spiritual services and preaching by several of God's servants.

Sister E. D. Jones, of Carlisle, Miss., presented the claims of the Woman's Department of Church Extension in a very earnest manner.

The work of the Conference was subdivided into that pertaining to the spiritual condition, missionary territory, Sunday-schools, and financial system. Each preacher in charge divided his report into these four classes, and a committee on each division was appointed to prepare from the preachers' reports condensed statements of the status of the entire district.

The committee's report on the spiritual condition evoked interesting discussion, and led to the adoption of the following resolutions concerning the Lord's Sacrament:

Resolved, That we devoutly thank God for this visible memorial of his death until he shall come again.

Resolved, That as a means of grace we have found its observance precious to our souls.

Resolved, That as to the manner of its observances, the elements of the sacrament and the frequency of its administration, we will be more observant of the disciplinary requirement and more mindful of this gracious privilege.

Resolved, That the presiding elder and pastors of the district be requested to preach upon this subject to each of their congregations.

The following was adopted:

Resolved, That we, as Christians, use our utmost influence to secure pious, Christian principals and teachers in both public and private schools within the bounds of our charges.

Bro. Singleton opened a discussion on the subject of a "Successful Pastorate."

Bro. Rayner's motion to adopt the revised hymn book in all the church services, including Sunday-schools, was carried.

Bro. R. S. Ricketts, of Whitworth College, the recording secretary of the Conference, filled his position efficiently.

Bro. J. G. Grant, publisher of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, was cordially welcomed, and forcibly presented the importance of increasing the circulation of this paper.

The delegates elected to the Annual Conference were: Bros. J. H. Thompsom, C. E. Hudson, L. T. Fitzhugh and H. M. Quinn; alternates—J. E. Curruth, B. D. Hennington, S. Hibbert and D. W. Wilkinson.

Hazlehurst was selected as the next place of meeting for the Conference.

The citizens of "McComb" fully maintained the reputation for hospitality Mississippi has long enjoyed; and the representative of this paper duly appreciates the favors extended to him.

Another Missionary to Brazil.

Miss Sallie M. Phillips, of Louisiana, has been accepted by the Woman's Board as a missionary to Brazil, in place of Miss Clara Chrisman. She will leave for her field of labor about the middle of the present month. Surely the missionary spirit is reviving. Miss Chrisman went to her strange and violent death while on her way to Brazil as a missionary, and the church was almost stunned by the terrible fact; and yet within less than sixty days another consecrated woman has taken her place and will soon be on her way to the same field. Surely the missionary spirit is reviving. We know Miss Phillips well. She was converted under our ministry. Her family is one of the best Methodist families in North Louisiana. She has been a successful teacher for quite a number of years. She is a pious, devoted, consecrated woman, and the Woman's Board have done well in securing her.

Five hundred of the new hymn books are on hand for the use of the Soashore Camp Meeting.

Notes.

Ex-Mayor Hewitt, of New York, says he tells his boys that the way to succeed is to "tell the truth and work hard." That is the best advice he can give them.

The Protestant Churches of the United States contribute annually $11,250,000 for foreign missions, and, according to Dion Boucicault, "more than $200,000,000 are paid every year by the American people for theatrical entertainment." For $1 given to convert the heathen, $18 are spent in amusement.

Says Prof. Hadley:

The speed of railroad trains is restricted within three theoretical limits: First, a physical limit of eighty miles an hour, beyond which it is found impossible for a train to hold the track; second, an operating limit of sixty miles an hour, beyond which practical experience has found that trains can not run without much damage to life; third, the commercial limit of thirty miles an hour, at which, all things considered, it is most economical to run a train.

"The idea," says the Chicago Times, "that the Sunday mail must be seen, is entirely a fallacy resulting from long habit. Nothing is gained in the end by this Sunday work. A business house does no more business by reason of it. A merchant adds nothing thereby to his year's profits. It is simply an inability to shake off the shop on Sunday. The government ought not to be expected to assist by what amounts to the persecution of employees in fostering this bad habit."

A brother writing privately to the editor of a District Conference says: "The woods are full of candidates for General Conference. One brother came expressly to electioneer for his choice!" Just imagine what Paul would have said to the man who wanted to electioneer for him to be sent to the council at Jerusalem! Electioneering in politics is base enough to disgust all decent people; but when it comes into the church of God, it sinks even below the baseness of politics! That brother ought to repent in sackcloth and ashes for thus soiling the escutcheon of Zion with the polluting methods of the political ring!

This will repay the study of any young writer or preacher. The Sunday-school Times says:

Many an author, or artist, or preacher, is a conspicuous failure in his maturity because he was not willing to be an inconspicuous toiler in his immaturity; because he was not ready to pay the cost of preparation for a work that should be worth exhibiting. There is wisdom in the counsel of one of the keenest of our satirical writers, when he says to the average young man of to-day: "I don't want to see you try to build a six-story house on a one-story foundation." It is not the question of the style of the superstructure, but of the character of the foundation, that decides the capability of the building to stand in all weather; and a good foundation always represents a corresponding cost.

The Evangelist, of New York, in an editorial on the "Revision of the Westminister Confession," holds forth in this language:

The Confession is entirely a human composition and, like all things human, subject to imperfection. It is too much to say of any science, or any system of philosophy or theology, put together by men, that it emerges at once full-orbed and complete. We see through a glass darkly, and often get but dim shadows instead of the infinite realities. It would be strange indeed if the Christian Church should not make progress in the course of centuries, whereby it should see some things more clearly, and be able to amend its former statements of truth. It is not a petrifaction, but a living body, the body of Christ himself, whose divine life flows through it from age to age. The test of life is growth. If there be in us any apprehension of divine truth, it will grow with more knowledge and larger Christian experience. And so, as we draw nearer to God, we shall know more of him, and be able to express our thoughts—humbly indeed and reverently—but in language more worthy of the greatest subject that can engage the human mind.

Speaking of the faults in the Confession, which some are seeking to remedy, the same editorial continues:

These relate chiefly to the doctrine of reprobation—a "hard doctrine," and one which needs to be stated with very great caution, lest we dishonor the grace of God in the salvation that is freely offered to men. Without going into the matter at length, it is enough to quote a couple of sentences:

"By the decree of God for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels are predestinated unto everlasting life, and others foreordained unto everlasting death.

"These angels and men, thus predestinated and foreordained, are particularly and unchangeably designed, and their number is so certain and definite that it can not be either increased or diminished."

This seems to us not only an unfortunate way of stating reprobation, but bad and mischievous in the highest degree. How does a man who reads this for the first time understand it? Why, simply that "if he is elected, he will be saved anyhow; and that, if he is not elected, he will be damned, do what he will"! A statement so framed as to be capable of such an interpretation is a trap to catch souls. Never did the wit of man devise a sentence more ingeniously contrived to confuse, bewilder and dishearten any poor sinner trying to find his way into the kingdom of God.

Personal and Otherwise.

Apropos of Dr. Haygood's scheme for a Southern University for Girls at Sheffield, Ala., we learn from the Alabama Christian Advocate that the Land Company at Sheffield donates sixty acres of land and $100,000 to start the movement, besides $25,000 to beautify the grounds under the direction of a skillful landscape gardener. That is a fine start, and we trust Dr. Haygood and his coadjutors will have the strong help of everybody.

The annual catalogue of Hiwassee College has been received. The college is in thorough working order, and, under the presidency of Dr. Brunner, is making full proof of its efficiency in educating our young men.

Bro. T. W. Dye and his wife, of Oxford, Miss., have the sympathy of the whole church in the sad bereavement in the accidental killing of their son, Blanton.

Another Rinehart's wife has been called to enter into the rest of the people of God. Mrs. Martha A. Manly, wife of Rev. M. C. Manly, of the Louisiana Conference, died in Algiers, La., June 29. A true Christian, a faithful wife, and a firm friend, she has gone to her reward.

Rev. A. D. Miller has lost another son, David Kavanaugh, in his sixteenth year. Surely our brother and sister are passing through the waters!

Rev. D. P. Bradford and wife have been called to mourn the death of their daughter, Mattie, aged nine years. May God comfort the bereaved parents!

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. J. A Bowen writes from Yazoo City, Miss., June 25: "The preachers and people of Yazoo City, led by Bro. Joe Jones, are in the midst of a glorious meeting. I never saw a better prospect at the fourth day in the meeting. All denominations unite in the work. Down by the riverside is the most pleasant and commodious place for the meeting. The large warehouse accommodates thousands who listen to the gospel. We look for hundreds of conversions. Pray for us."

—Rev. H. S. Johns writes from Washington, La., June 25: "We had part of the District Conference here. Bro. Daves, of Lake Charles, preached last Sunday at 11 A. M., and Rev. T. B. Carter, of Morgan City, at night. We had spiritual feasts at both services. I have two protracted meetings coming on now in the next two weeks. Pray for us. The prospect seems to be good. Come, Lord Jesus. Even so, amen!"

—Rev. W. L. C. Hunnicutt writes from Mansfield, La., June 25: "The prospects of Centenary are good and improving through all this region, and so are those of the ADVOCATE. I got $1,700 on endowment at Opelousas and talked for the ADVOCATE, and the brethren resolved to try to double their lists of subscribers in their several pastoral charges. Plenty of rain in this region. I go to Keachie today, and hope to get to Gibbsland later, and then to Shreveport."

—Rev. W. T. J. Sullivan writes from Oxford, Miss., June 25: "Our brother, T. W. Dye, and his family, are plunged in unutterable grief by the sudden death, to-day, at 6 P. M., of their twelve-year-old son, Blanton. A target gun in the hands of another boy accidentally exploded; the ball pierced little Blanton's head. May our heavenly Father minister to these bereaved hearts!"

—Rev. W. W. Cummack writes from Walnut Grove circuit, Mississippi Conference, June 24: "We have just finished a new church at Beech Springs. We had it dedicated last Sunday by Rev. Irvin Miller. The services were interesting and profitable. We are under lasting obligations to the Church Extension Board of our Conference for help in building this church. The people showed their appreciation of this help last Sunday by contributing to the Church Extension Fund the amount asked for."

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

ELI AND SIBYL JONES—THEIR LIFE AND WORK. By Rufus M. Jones. Porter & Coates, Philadelphia.

This is the story of two Friends, or Quakers, who early in life consecrated themselves to mission work and pursued it faithfully and successfully for many years in various parts of the world. They visited most of this country, Siberia, England, Ireland, Norway, Germany, Switzerland, France and the Holy Land. The story is well and pleasantly told.

PERIODICALS.

—Scribner's Magazine, for July, is almost entirely a fiction number. The Rock of Beranger, by T. R. Sullivan; The Governor, by G. A. Hibbard; The Two Mollies, by H. H. Boyesen, and The Master of Ballantrae, by Robert L. Stevenson, comprise the fiction. An article that ought to interest everybody is The Telegraph of To-Day, by Charles L. Buckingham. G. R. Tomson, Duneau C. Scott, and Richard Henry Stoddard contribute the poetry for this number. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York. Price, $3.

—The Evangelist Magazine is devoted to Sunday-school and Evangelistic Work and Christian Culture. One dollar per year. Rev. Rufus J. Clark, editor, Nashville, Tenn.

—Cassell's Family Magazine, for July, is full of interesting matter in the shape of stories, explanations, science, etc. Cassell & Co., New York. Price $1 50, or fifteen cents a number.

—Popular Science Monthly, for July. Amongst the many articles, we notice, What is Civil Liberty? by Prof. W. G. Sumner; A Study of Suicide, by C. W. Pilgrim, M. D.; Christianity and Agnosticism, by Rev. Dr. Henry Wace; Railway Maladjustments, by Benjamin Reece; Muscle and Mind, by Frances Emily White, M. D. Editor's Table, Literary Notices and Popular Miscellany. D. Appleton and Company, New York. Price, 35.

—Our Sunday-school periodicals for July are all bright and fresh and vigorous. These are the best Sunday-school papers for our readers. Send to Dr. Cunnyngham, Nashville, Tenn.

—The Treasury for Pastor and People, for July, keeps up its accustomed vigor. Sermons and Thoughts on Sermons, Mission Fields and Editorials, Sunday-school Cause and Prayer-Meeting Service, Questions of the Day, and Beautiful Thoughts, make up a fine number. E. B. Treat, publisher, New York. Price, $2 50; clergymen, $2.

—The Homiletic Magazine, for June, though late, is a valuable number for a preacher. It has Sermons, Theological Papers, Commentary and Practical Homiletics. E. B. Treat, New York. Price, $1 50.

—The Chautauquan, for July, is as full as can be of interesting matter on a great variety of interesting subjects. We know of nothing better than this monthly for clean, instructive reading. T. L. Flood, Meadville, Pa. Price, $1 50.

—St. Nicholas, for July, gives the young people enough racy prose and sparkling poetry to last them a whole month. If you don't read this magazine, you will certainly get behind. Century Company, N. Y. Price, $3.

—The Humboldt Publishing Company sends us, English, Past and Present, by Dean French. This is the cheapest edition of the good Dean's great work on Our English we have ever seen. It is issued in two parts. Price, fifteen cents each. Humboldt Publishing Company, 31 East Fourth St., New York.

PAMPHLETS.

—The Curry-Comb—a Treatise on Infant Baptism on a New Line—by Rev. J. H. Nichols. Southern Methodist Publishing House, Nashville Tenn. Price, ten cents.

Notice.

The Alexandria District Conference will convene at Bunkie, La., on Thursday, August 8, 1889.

B. F. ALEXANDER, P. E.

Publisher's Department.

DAVES' TRAINING-SCHOOL.—Daves' Training-School, Lake Charles, La. Joel T. Daves, Walter W. Daves, Principals. Competent teachers supplied as necessity arises. Honest, real work in all departments. Discipline strict, but not harsh. Obedience and study conditions of membership. Pupils prepared for advanced college classes, or for practical duties of life. Pupils desiring to take music will have the advantages of Madame Mercier-Peavy's training, which has but few equals and no superiors. A full course of practical book-keeping without extra charge to regular pupils. To those taking book-keeping alone, the tuition is $5 per month. For Annual Announcement and full particulars address Principals.

WANTED.—A graduate of the F. F. C. Institute, who has had experience in teaching, desires a position in a school or in a family. References will be furnished. Address T., Box 33, Jackson, La.

If you want a man to think you are smart, you have only to make him think you think he is smart.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

QUARTERLY STATEMENT
OF THE
NEW ORLEANS
Canal and Banking Co.

At New Orleans, in the State of Louisiana, at the Close of Business, on the 29th day of June, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Real estate	$	97,824 46
Invested in Louisiana consols and city bonds		228,500 00
Stocks		32,377 50
Loans on mortgage, maturing after 90 days	353,207 09
Loans and discounts maturing after ninety days	795,100 50
Loans and discounts maturing within ninety days	698,940 22	1,847,247 81
Suspended paper, val'd		12,573 76
Loans on demand	1,298,680 48
Sight exchange	208,019 34
Coin, currency and checks for Clearing House Exchanges	744,925 56	2,305,631 38
Total		$4,526,017 91

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$1,000,000 00
Surplus	250,000 00
Undivided profits	177,198 08
Dividends unpaid	43,718 42
Deposits subject to check	3,046,523 91
Circulation	8,582 50
Total	$4,526,017 91

I, the undersigned, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

EDWARD TOBY, Cashier.

STATE OF LOUISIANA, Parish of Orleans, City of New Orleans.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 1st day of July, 1889.

A. G. LA PICE, Notary Public.

Semi-Annual Statement
OF THE CONDITION OF THE
NEW ORLEANS
NATIONAL BANK,

At the Close of Business, Saturday, June 29, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Bills discounted		$1,122,601 00
Demand loans	$889,812 12
U. S. 4 per cent. bonds, par value	254,250 00
Premiums on same	48,306 13
$122,000 N. O. "Consolidated" 6 per ct. bonds
$68,000 N. O. 6 per ct. bonds issued to railroads
$19,000 N. O. 6 per ct. bonds issued to waterworks
$46,000 N. O. 6 per ct. consol. certificates
$36,000 N. O. ordinary 6 per ct. certificates	853,565 00
$564,000 Louisiana consol'd 4 per ct. bonds
$5,000 Canal and Claiborne St. R. R. Co. bonds
278 shares of Gollet Elu Co. stock
115 shares N.O., City & Lake R. R. Co. stock
8 shares Rapides Bank stock
Currency and checks on other banks	655,868 81
N. Y. sight exchange	419,915 41
Due from banks and bankers	50,158 83	2,982,696 33
5 per cent fund with U. S. Treasurer		2,250 00
Banking house	$88,116 53
Furniture and fixtures	7,500 00	95,616 53
Total		$4,572,568 86

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$200,000 00
Surplus fund	800,000 00
Undivided profits	$123,119 62
Less dividend payable July 1, 1889	20,000 00
Amount carried to surplus acc't	50,000 00	53,119 62 — 853,119 62
Circulation outstanding		34,500 00
Dividend payable July 1, 1889		20,000 00
Deposits		3,664,944 24
Total		$4,572,563 86

I certify the above to be a true and correct statement. WM. PALFREY, Cashier.

Correct—Attest: JOHN H. HANNA, ROBT. E. CRAIG, ROBT. MAXWELL, A. H. WHEELER.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
OF THE
Louisiana National Bank,
OF NEW ORLEANS.

At the close of business, June 29, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,023,425 83
United States bonds, par value		50,000 00
Louisiana State consols and premium bonds, market value		666,456 00
Stocks and other securities		109,950 00
Banking-house and other real estate		113,681 98
United States Treasurer	$ 2,250 00
Domestic exchange	328,995 19
Cash	919,891 51
Checks for Clearing-house	252,975 70
		1,504,113 10
Total		$4,418,667 21

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$500,000 00
Surplus fund	150,000 00
		$650,000
Net undivided profits (subject to dividend)		85,021 71
Circulation		45,000 00
Deposits subject to check		3,661,830 50
Balance due on reduction of capital stock		800 00
Dividends unpaid		885 00
Total		$4,443,607 21

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, a dividend of FIVE PER CENT. was declared from net earnings of past six months, payable on demand in New Orleans and at the banking-house of Winslow, Lanier & Co., New York.

R. M. WALMSLEY, President.
A. LURIA, Vice-President.
LEON F. JANIN, Cashier.

Semi-Annual Statement of the Union National Bank
OF NEW ORLEANS.

At close of business, June 29, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,209,386 72
U. S. bonds for circulation		50,000 00
Other stocks and bonds	$816,847 50
Premium on U. S. bonds	11,063 88
Real estate, furniture and fixtures	7,233 52
		335,114 85
Currency and coin	$167,827 65
Checks for clearing-house	178,197 37
		346,025 02
New York sight exchange	$310,462 09
Due from banks and bankers	26,915 01
		337,337 10
Five per cent. fund with treasurer		2,250 00
		$2,280,153 69

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$500,000 00
Surplus fund	100,000 00
Undivided profits	45,365 06
Dividend payable July 1	20,000 00
Dividends uncalled for	3,068 16
Individual deposits	$1,310,431 71
Due banks and foreign bankers	256,288 76
	1,566,720 47
Circulation	45,000 00
	$2,280,153 69

CARL KOHN, President.
AD. MEYER, Vice-President.
S. CHALARON, Cashier.

Whitworth Female College,
—AND—
Conservatory of Music and Art,
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

THE 30th annual session begins Sept. 13th, 1889. Every department in charge of the livest, most progressive teacher money will command. A Normal Department for the training of professional teachers has been added. The Conservatory of Music, established for the first time in connection with any Southern Female College, has proved a grand success. Number of pupils in Conservatory, 205. Number of pianos in constant use, 27. Entire number of matriculates, 243. Number of officers and teachers, 19. Number of boarders, 159. An increase of 65 over previous session. For catalogues and further information address,

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., Pres.
—or—
W. B. MURRAH, D. D., Vice-Pres.

The Seashore Camp Meeting,
—ON THE—
GULF COAST, near BILOXI, MISS.,
Will Commence JULY 5, and Last Ten Days.

W. C. T. U. DAY is Tuesday, JULY 16th.

Reduced Railroad Rates have been secured. Grounds are beautiful, and everything ready for the large crowd coming from all directions.

For particulars as to board, renting tents, etc., address either of the following Trustees: W. J. HEARIN, Mobile, President; J. H. KELLER, N. O., Vice-President; P. WERLEIN, N. O., Treasurer; J. G. GRANT, N. O., Recording Secretary; D. L. MITCHEL, N. O., Financial Secretary; B. O. L. RAYNE, W. B. THOMSON, J. H. CAMPMAN, E. P. MACKIE, N. O., La.; A. C. DANNER, C. H. LINDSEY, W. OTIS, Mobile, Ala.; J. H. LAKIN, Montgomery, Ala.; DR. E. F. GRIFFIN, Moss Point, Miss.; J. P. CARTER, Hattiesburg, Miss.

Centenary College
JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.

One of the most celebrated Institutions of the South. The Thirty-Fourth Session will begin September 19, 1888, with a full corps of able and experienced faculty. Curriculum comprehensive. Instruction thorough. Advantages in Music unsurpassed, as in the best conservatories. Departments of Fine Arts and Industrial Arts under specialists.

Beautiful location; one of the healthiest of the South. The best climate in which to educate and the safest place for girls. Main building of brick, massive and commodious, with a large and well-shaded campus. Rooms large, well furnished, ventilated and warmed. Ample provision for table of the best the market affords. All necessary comfort secured. Expenses very low and the school very economical.

For particulars address

A. D. M'VOY, A. M., Pres.
PROF. D. F. HUDDLE, Sec.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

Opens September 19th, 1889. One of the most thorough and attractive Schools for young ladies in the Union. Distinguished advantages in MUSIC, ART, ELOCUTION, &c. Climate unsurpassed. Pupils from nineteen States. Terms low. Special inducements to persons at a distance. For the great inducements of this Celebrated Virginia School, write for a Catalogue to WM. A. HARRIS, D. D., President. Staunton, Virginia.

Asheville Female College,
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Full College Course. Excellent Preparatory Department. Superior Facilities for Instrumental and Vocal Music. Painting, Drawing, Elocution, Languages and Literature. Buildings with the best modern improvements; heated by steam, lighted with gas, and water on every floor.

Asheville is known not only in America, but also in Europe, as a famed health resort. Over 50,000 visitors yearly.

The school reopens September 11. A "special" will leave Houston, Texas, and all intermediate points in time for the Fall Session.

For terms and Catalogue address
REV. S. N. BARKER, Pres't,
or PROF. BENJ. E. ATKINS, Sec.

J. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HUDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y

HIWASSEE COLLEGE.
FOUNDED 1849.

Expenses Very Moderate.

Located, amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R., from which conveyance any hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our post-office is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

Session begins October 1st, and continues nine months. Complete Courses and equipment for instruction in Letters and Science; in Law, Medicine, Pharmacy, Engineering and Agriculture. Expenses moderate. For Catalogues, apply to WM. M. THORNTON, Chairman of the Faculty.
P. O. University of Va., Va.

Wesleyan Female College,
MACON, GA.

FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL SESSION begins October 2d, 1889. Unsurpassed for health, safety, comfort and advantages in Literature, Music and Art. Special rates to clubs.
Address W. C. BASS, Pr

D. H. Holmes.

IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS.

32-inch. Organdy Lawns, 6½ c.
Scotch Ginghams, Linen finish, never been sold less than 20c., fast colors, now 10c.
Fine French Stripe Mulls, 35c. all season, now 15c.
Outing Cloths, 10c.
Balance of our Fine Scotch Ginghams, been sold all season from 35 to 50c., now 25c.
Printed Challies, 4 cents.
Fine Quality Printed Challies, 7c.
50,000 Standards Novels, 10c.
Fancy India Silk, 50 cents.
All Silk Surahs, 50 cents.
Gents Bathriggan Shirts and Drawers, 50 cents a suit.
Fine White Lawns, 5 cents.
Ladies' and Childrens' Ready-made White Lawn Dresses.
200 pieces Embroidered Flouncings at Half Price.
Special Bargains in every Department.

1556 Canal St.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,
Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.
Particular attention paid to country orders.
No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.
TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.
Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.
LEAHY & WEBER,
ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

D. MERCIER'S SONS,
The Renowned Clothiers and Hatters
FOR CHEAPNESS AND FAIR DEALING.
Dauphine Street, Two Blocks from Canal Street.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT
80 CAMP STREET.
Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.

FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK RODER, Vice-President. ED. CLAUSSEN, Cashier.

Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.
Directors—Phil. W. Dichmann, Frank Roder, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Klumpp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Ricks, Fred Peters and Louis Leonhard.

LOGAN FEMALE COLLEGE.

A Full College Course. Teachers Selected from the Best Colleges. Musical Conservatories and Schools of Art in the Country.

Buildings Large, Commodious, Comfortable. Grounds ample. Pure, soft Sulphur Water. Location, unsurpassed for health. Address,
A. G. MURPHY, President. Russellville, Ky.

Fairview Male and Female College, Binnsville, Kemper County, Miss.

LOCATION—Nine miles northeast of Scooba, which is on the M. and O. R. R.
Founded 1887. Enrolled, 1887, 117. Enrolled, 1888, 155. Expect to enroll 1889, 175.

BRANCHES TAUGHT.—Usual English Course. Ancient and Modern Languages. Book-keeping. Music. BUILDINGS.—Cover 7,000 ft.; front, 150 ft. Separate double-story boarding-houses for boys and girls. BOARD.—For girls, $10 per calendar month (washing included); for boys, $4 per calendar month (washing excluded). TUITION.—Primary, $2; Freshman, $3; Sophomore, Junior and Senior, $4 per scholastic month. TOTAL COST.—For boys, board and washing, $40; for girls, board and washing, $36. Tuition according to class, $20 to $40. Five per cent off for cash in advance.

Work, thorough. Discipline, firm. Location, healthful. Send for catalogue. School opens September 2nd.
REV. W. W. MOORE, A. M., PRESIDENT.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN. the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,
R. L. SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.

Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As HEALTHFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, not salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad.
FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 19, 1889.
For full particulars send for Catalogues.

Wall and Mooney's School,
Franklin, Williamson Co., Tenn.

S. V. WALL, W. D. MOONEY, A. M., } PRINCIPALS.

A TRAINING-SCHOOL OF HIGH GRADE.

Fits Boys for College. Especial attention paid to the Classics, English, German, and Mathematics.

The next term will open Tuesday, September 3, 1889, in a handsome house built by the citizens of Franklin, at a cost of $7,500. Send for a circular. W. D. MOONEY, Sec., Franklin, Tenn.

From the Professor of English in Vanderbilt University:

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 22, 1889.

For four or five years I have every year spent, at least, one day in the class-room of Messrs. Wall and Mooney's School. I have questioned their classes, and heard them recite in English, Mathematics, German, Greek and Latin; and I do not hesitate to call their work excellent. Better trained pupils it would be hard to find. The moral culture is equally good.
W. M. BASKERVILL.

Mention this paper.

Minden Normal School
—AND—
Business College.

The Leading Normal School in the South.

Has more departments than any other similar institution in the land. Each has been added a Musical Conservatory. Music taught on any instrument. Location beautiful; climate delightful. We will be pleased to mail you a catalogue.
P. H. H SHEARER, MINDEN, La.

Athens Female College

Situated at Athens, Ala., on the L. and N. R. R.

A thorough, cheap school; full literary course, Art and Music. Stenography and Type-Writing are also thoroughly taught. The school is fully equipped. Healthy location. Send for catalogue. REV. M. H. WILLIAMS, President.

Mention this paper.

PAINLESS EFFECTUAL
BEECHAM'S PILLS
THE GREAT ENGLISH MEDICINE
WORTH A GUINEA A BOX
For Weak Stomach—Impaired Digestion—Disordered Liver.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
PRICE 25 CENTS PER BOX.
Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.
B. F. ALLEN & CO., Sole Agents
For United States, 365 & 367 Canal St., New York.
Who (if your druggist does not keep them) will mail Beecham's Pills on receipt of price—but inquire first. (Please mention this paper.)

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)
Price, 80 Cents.
HUNT & EATON, 805 Broadway, New York;
CRANSTON & STOWE, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY
A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.
Mention this paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,
H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.
(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)
CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!
Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.
Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.
We build Steam Engines and Boilers—here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.
Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.
Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address
H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.
Mention this paper.

ADAMS' HATS!
26 ST. CHARLES ST.

ESTABLISHED 1808.
A. A. WOODS, WALTER SCOTT. L. H. FOURSINE, A. F. GODAT.
A. A. WOODS & CO.,
General Insurance Agency,
184 GRAVIER STREET,
OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS.
Total Assets over $200,000,000.
Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.
Mention this paper.

W. R. LYMAN, President. JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-President. CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.
Crescent Insurance Com'y.
Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849.
Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.
Cash Capital, - - - - - - $300,000.
Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849. ANNUAL and TERM POLICIES Issued on Desirable Fire Business.
See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.
No. 78 CAMP STREET.
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - - $413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - - $459,369.50
Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.
LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.
Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y
J. B. WOODS, JOS. BAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, JNO. J. BARR, ANDREW STEWART, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. B. LEVERT, E. BORLAND, J. BORN, F. STRINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.
Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,
14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - - $500,000
Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.
TRUSTEES.—Rob't Maxwell, Geo. W. Scott, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, H. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.
New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company
OF NEW ORLEANS.
54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54
Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.
FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.
This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.
ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.
FINANCE COMMITTEE.
John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

The Great Church LIGHT.
FRINK'S Patent Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Banks, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Cost circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl Street, N. Y.

Our Young People.

GOOD-MORNING AND GOOD-NIGHT.

Good-Morning peeped over her eastern gate,
To see if the children were up;
And laughed at a humblebee coming home late,
Who was caught in a hollyhock cup.
Good-Morning has eyes like the glint of the skies
When they're bright as the sun and the stars mixed together,
And her lips are so sweet and her steps are so fleet
She can dance like a thistledown, fly like a feather.
You "never have seen her?" Oh, me! Oh, me!
What a dull little sleepy-head you must be!

Good-Morning can sing like a brook or a bird;
She knows where the fairies all hide;
Some folk, hard of hearing, say they never have heard
Her sing, though they often have tried.
Good-Morning has hair made of sunshine so rare,
That elves tried to steal it to weave in the weather;
Which made her afraid, the bonny wee maid,
To swing on the gate many minutes together.
You "never have seen her?" Ah, me! Ah, me!
What a cross, lazy lie-abed you must be!

Good-Night is her neighbor, a dear little soul,
Who swings in a hammock, and not on a gate.
She half shuts her eyes with a great yawn, so droll,
It would make an owl laugh, I will venture to state.
Good-Night always brings the most wonderful things,
To hide in the children's beds, glittering and gleaming!
Such tales she can tell, and she tells them so well,
You could listen all night, and believe you were dreaming!
You "never have heard her?" Oh, me! Oh, me!
What a small, naughty wide-awake you must be!

Good-Night has a house full of beautiful toys,
That she keeps for the children—no grown-folks are there;
And she carries them off, the wee girlies and boys,
To her magical palace, and, oh, how they stare!
Good-Night never frowns when she sees the white gowns
Come trooping to beg for more stories—the dear!
But with kisses and smiles, the time she beguiles,
And bids them to come again soon—do you hear?
You "never have been there?" Ah, me! Ah, me!
What a very sad, grown-up young chick you must be!

—St. Nicholas.

The following letter from a school-girl to an erring cousin will be interesting reading for the boys:

Dear Cousin: I heard, through a friend, that you had stopped going to church and Sunday-school, and were going with wild, bad boys. You don't know how it hurt me. I don't want my cousin, that I think so much of, to throw himself away like that. Cousin, you know how much everyone thinks of you, but if you get to going with bad company it will lower you in the people's estimation and, worst of all, in God's estimation. For evil company will corrupt good manners. Cousin, I want you to promise me that you will not be caught with those bad boys again. And never, whatever you do, put your foot in a ball-room. And I want you to go to church and Sunday-school. I know it will be hard at first for you to give up your friends (if you call them friends) but it will be better for you to do so than ruin yourself. You may think now that it does not hurt you, but you will see in the long run whether it will hurt you or not. Now please take a cousin's advice and stop right now. Cousin ——, I don't want you to get mad with me for this, for I do it for your good. Your loving cousin,

* * *

MR. EDITOR: I am a little boy five years old. I am going to school, and love my teacher dearly. Her name is Mrs. Thomas. I haven't any pets, only my little two-year-old sister and a little kitten. My papa is going to Gainsville, in a few days, to get me a little Fido, as a little boy has promised me one. This is my papa's first year on a circuit. Mamma and I miss him very much. We don't have him with us now like we did when on the farm. I will answer James E. Henderson's question: It will be found in Ezra vii, 21. I will ask the little cousins a question: Where in the Bible will you find that Jesus and his disciples sang a hymn together? I will close by asking you to publish this, as I wish to surprise my papa and Uncle Charlie Goodenough, who is living in Ruston. I am the little boy that fell in the well, forty-four feet deep, and they got me out with the pot hooks. I will bid you good-bye. CONNIE PONDER.
GANSVILLE, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: As my last letter fell into the waste-basket, I thought I would write again. Sunday was Children's Day. We took up collection and got three dollars. I made my money myself. We had a picnic Saturday at the Methodist Church. Papa gave the children a talk, and we went out to dinner, and late in the evening papa took us to ride, which we enjoyed very much. We have a missionary society here. We have it every fourth Saturday. Our school was out on May 3. I was very glad: some of the girls cried. We have a nice Sunday-school. Mr. S. P. Hand is our superintendent. He is going off in a few weeks to spend the summer. We will miss him so much. Papa is our pastor this year. He has five appointments. I will answer Lula Henry's question: "Wealth" is found in Genesis xxxiv, 29. What judge of Isrnel had thirty sons? For four of the waste-basket, I will close, hoping to see this in print soon. Much love to the dear ADVOCATE.

EMMA PATTON.
BREWERSVILLE, Alabama.

A Jack-Knife in Congress.

The New York Star tells how Representative Enloe, who had for a long time been trying to get a bill through the House of Representatives at Washington, to pay back to Mr. P. E. Parker, of Memphis, $2,336 which he had paid as bondsman for a defaulter, whose bondsman had subsequently been released by act of Congress from liability in the case, finally succeeded in his undertaking.

Many times Mr. Enloe had attempted to have the bill considered, but he had never been able to catch the Speaker's eye. Meanwhile the bill had been passed on by the Senate. Mr. Enloe, however, succeeded in securing recognition from the Speaker pro tempore, Mr. M'Millan, and asked immediate consideration of the bill. Objection came from Mr. Hopkins, of Virginia, who demanded the regular order.

Mr. Enloe at this remarked that he was much interested in the passage of the bill, and had almost worn the soles off his boots in walking from his desk to a point on the floor from which he might catch the Speaker's eye.

"I have a good and sufficient reason," said he, impressively, "for my particular desire to have this bill passed. When I was a boy, the man whom this bill will benefit gave me my first pocket-knife."

This brought down the House. Every man then instantly thought of the pleasure derived from his first pocket-knife, and, amid the cries of "The bill ought to pass," and the general laughter, Mr. Hopkins withdrew his objection and the bill was passed. But for Mr. Enloe's remembrance of that knife it is doubtful if Mr. Parker would have ever got his money.

Curses and chickens are not the only things that come home to roost. A kind act done to a boy is not always forgotten, and may come back again in blessings and benefits long after it has been forgotten by the doer.

"It is a fact," that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Enough.

"Enough is as good as a feast." Yes, but who shall define "enough?"

"Oh, I am so fond of peaches!" said a child, with a sigh of repletion, after a bountiful repast of fruit.

"Well, Ethel," said her brother, dryly, "I'm glad that, for once, you've had enough peaches."

"Enough!" cried she, innocently, "not by any means. I've had all I can eat, but I haven't had enough!"—Exchange.

INFANTILE Skin & Scalp DISEASES cured by CUTICURA Remedies.
FOR CLEANSING, PURIFYING AND BEAUTIFYING the skin of children and infants and curing torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, the CUTICURA REMEDIES are infallible.
CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood diseases, from pimples to scrofula.
Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.
Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."
Baby's Skin and Scalp preserved and beautified by CUTICURA SOAP.
KIDNEY PAINS, Backache and Weakness cured by CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, an instantaneous pain-subduing plaster. 25c

Household.

KISS HER AND TELL HER SO.

BY LILLIE SHELDON.

You've a neat little wife at home, John,
As sweet as you'd wish to see;
As faithful and gentle-hearted,
As fond as wife can be;
A genuine, home-loving woman,
Not caring for fuss and show;
She's dearer to you than life, John;
Then kiss her and tell her so.

Your dinners are promptly served, John,
As, likewise, your breakfast and tea;
Your wardrobe is always in order,
With buttons where buttons should be.
Her house is a cozy home-nest, John,
A heaven of rest below;
You think she's a rare little treasure;
Then kiss her and tell her so.

She's a good wife and true to you, John,
Let fortune be foul or fair;
Of whatever comes to you, John,
She cheerfully bears her share;
You feel she's a brave, true helper,
And, perhaps, far more than you know
'Twill lighten her end of the load, John,
Just to kiss her and tell her so.

There's a cross-road somewhere in life, John,
Where a hand on a guiding stone
Will signal one "over the river,"
And the other must go on alone.
Should she reach the last milestone first, John,
'Twill be comfort amid your woe
To know that while loving her here, John,
You kissed her and told her so.

—Conklin's Dakotian.

Adjusting One's Mind.

"Aren't you tired?" said a young girl to her mother, as the mother kept on hour after hour at a piece of work.

"It isn't time to be tired yet," replied the mother. "When the work is done I shall be tired, I suppose; but I haven't time to think about it yet." And she kept on with even pace till the task was done.

Probably her physical ability was no greater than that of many a woman who hires her heavy work done because she thinks she isn't able to do it, when, if necessity compelled, and she were willing to make a virtue of necessity, she would find her strength equal to her day. As a general rule, what we think we can do we find we can do, and that Napoleon wasn't so far out of the way when he said: "Impossible is a word found only in the dictionary of fools."

A young lady who can shop for hours a day, and days in succession, can, if she adjusts her mind to it, put the same mental and muscular impulse into sweeping, ironing, dish-washing, with no more fatigue in the one case than in the other. While going through the dull routine she can enliven her thoughts and emotions with singing, repeating poetry, recalling historical scenes, composing stories, if she has a gift that way. A large part of Uncle Tom's Cabin was thought out while the gifted authoress was engaged in sweeping, washing dishes, and caring for her family.

A dreaded task loses much, if not all, its terrors when we stand face to face with it, and "taking it by the horns," so to speak, map out a vigorous campaign and carry it vigorously into execution. Adjusting our minds to it is usually the hardest part of the whole thing. In this sense Solomon spoke wisely when he said: "He that ruleth his own spirit is greater than he that taketh a city."

If we could always have time to make up our minds for what comes, life would be easier than it is; but when a new set of circumstances and requirements are sprung on us in a day, as often happens, it is not infrequently difficult to meet the emergency in the best manner. The best we can do is to accept with unquestioning submission the allotments of divine Providence and wait till our duty is made clear to us, as it will be, little by little, if we are patient and trustful. We must live "day by day," and if we do thus live "daily bread" sufficient for our needs will surely be given us.—New York Christian Advocate.

Mrs. Spurgeon has helped her husband in a thousand ways, but by means of what she calls her Book Fund she has assisted and encouraged thousands of poor ministers. We learn from the little booklet which Mrs. Spurgeon has just issued (Passmore and Alabaster), that 7,913 volumes were distributed by means of the fund last year to 133 Baptists, 105 Independents, 142 Methodists, 141 clergymen, 12 Presbyterians, 45 missionaries, 3 Waldensians, and 1 Swedenborgian. During thirteen years Mrs. Spurgeon has distributed 110,104 volumes, the public having supplied either the money or the books, and Mrs Spurgeon, though an invalid, having devoted her whole time and energy to the enterprise.

People Wonder
WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.
Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and rayne near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an Improvement
in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."
"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.
"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla." After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

MASON & HAMLIN
The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of their unequalled excellence, their ORGANS at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. One hundred styles, from $22 to $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues free.
Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the highest excellence achieved GRAND & UPRIGHT by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but they claim superiority. This they attribute solely to a remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "Mason & Hamlin PIANO STRINGS," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.
Pianos and organs sold for cash or easy payments, also rented.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

NEW SHEET MUSIC
SONGS.
SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Frederic Pease. An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto. Price, 30cts.
WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Bryant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price, 30cts.
NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. G. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a refrain that clings itself. Price, 30cts.
PIANO MUSIC.
GALATEA GAVOTTE. By BARCLAY WALKER. A bright and charming composition by the author of the well-known "Milkmaid." Price, 40cts.
MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By FRANZ WALLACH. A stirring and excellent Military March of low grade of difficulty. Price, 60cts.
ALBUMBLATT. By LOUIS SCHEHLMANN. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the style of a nocturne. Price, 30cts.
Any of the above, or any other sheet music will be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.
PUBLISHED BY
THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cabot Bros & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle sent prepaid.

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD
HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA
for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belt and Breast Cleaning Adjustable Steel Beards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars
A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

HAVE YOU GOT PILES
Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding and Protruding, yield at once to DR. BO-SAN-KO'S PILE REMEDY, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs the tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. Druggists or mail; free sample free. Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers can make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered. Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.
It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It never Fails. We Guarantee a complete cure in every instance. 48 page book free. GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

EDWARDS—HART.—At Wesley Chapel, in Yazoo county, Miss., June 2, 1889, by Rev. T. B. Selleman, Mr. E. L. Edwards and Miss Josie Hart, all of Yazoo county, Miss.

MOORE—FOX.—At the residence of the bride's mother, June 10, 1889, by Rev. Isaac Ingebles, Mr. John P. Moore, of Louisiana to Miss Fannie Fox, of Rankin county, Miss.

FRY—ZACHARY.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. I. E. Zachary, near Robertsville, La., June 12, 1889, by Rev. H. J. Boltz, Mr. Alfred Fry to Miss Carrie Zachary, all of Natchitoches parish, La.

SCRUGGS—HOOPER.—At the residence of Mrs. L. C. Phillips, in Concordia parish, La., June 3, 1889, by Rev. W. E. Ballard, Dr. Marion L. Scruggs and Miss Albertina Hooper.

BORN—BROCKLETT.—At the residence of the R. Southal of Union Point, Concordia parish, June 20, 1889, by Rev. W. E. Ballard, Mr. Henry L. Born and Miss Dorothea Brocklett, all of Concordia parish, La.

CROUCH—RYELS.—At the residence of the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ryels, Hollandale, Miss., June 1, 1889, by Rev. J. H. Shumaker, Mr. John Crouch to Miss Lucy Ryels.

CALHOUN—COY.—In West Monroe, La., June 20, 1889, by Rev. C. T. Mandolland, Mr. T. Calhoun to Mrs. S. A. Coy.

EPPELSHEIMER—MURPHY.—At Felicity Street Church, June 25, 1889, by Rev. John T. Gaylord, Mr. Clarence H. Eppelsheimer, of Kansas City, Mo., and Miss Laura J. Murphy, of New Orleans, La.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

WHYTE.—Died, at Meridian, Miss., HENRY A. WHYTE, son of W. J. and Josephine Whyte, after forty days of excruciating suffering, of typhoid pneumonia, on April 8, 1889. He was born in DeSoto parish, La., July 11, 1861, but spent his early youth in Alabama. He came to Mississippi in April, 1884, where he remained till God bid him separate alike from all the pleasures and vexations of life to try the realities of the world beyond. On June 6, 1888, Mr. Whyte was married to Miss E. Lou Evans, of Harrison county, Miss., with whom he was only spared to enjoy ten brief months of happy domestic life. He was a true and devoted husband, an affectionate son, brother and friend. During the first part of his illness, on being questioned as to his spiritual condition, he said to his anxious and loving wife that he was not prepared to die; but God, in his great love and wisdom, stayed the hand of death that his soul might rejoice in the consciousness of a safe and peaceful voyage over the cold Jordan. His bereaved loved ones have more than mere outward indications in which to be content; for, several days before his death, he made them rejoice by his divine revelation of his thorough preparation to meet his God.

While it is a bitter dispensation that separates loved ones forever on earth, yet God can not relax his demands. Husband and wife, parent and child, brother and sister, worldly gratulation and applause of men must all give place to him; and he, in his great love, will make the crown more valuable than the cross is terrible. May the bereaved family be happy in the faith that "all things work together for good to those who love the Lord;" and when he sees fit to disappoint their hopes and blast their cherished plans, may they have grace to yield to his power and adore his great name! W. J. EVANS.

GOLDOLD.—ROWAN P. GOLDOLD departed this life in Summit, Miss., June 7, 1889, aged thirty years, eight months and nine days. He joined the Methodist Church in Summit, in 1880, under the pastorate of Rev. W. W. Hopper. He left a devoted wife, an aged mother, two brothers and two sisters, and other loving kindred to mourn their loss. But their loss is his eternal gain. He said to the writer, his pastor, a few hours before he died, "How good it is to be ready for this." He had occasional attacks of the disease that caused his death for several years. A short while previous to his death, he seemed to be impressed that if those attacks continued, that he would die. He became more interested about his spiritual welfare. He was one of my stewards, and interested himself in the temporal wants of his pastor. He said, "Don't ask for credit, but come to me," etc. We miss him. He was a useful, progressive, liberal citizen, honored and loved; was postmaster here at the time of his death. His remains were followed to the cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and weeping relatives. Good-bye, dear friend and brother, till we all meet again at the resurrection. GEO. BANCROFT.

JAGERS.—Rev. JAMES E. JAGERS died at his residence in Benton, Yazoo county, Miss., June 10, 1889. He was the son of Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Margaret R. Jagers, late of Zion Hill, Miss. He was born at Zion Hill, Smith county, Miss., September 23, 1860; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when a boy; was married to Miss Elizabeth J., daughter of Rev. H. P. and Mrs. Rebecca A. Lewis, of Mississippi Conference, October 15, 1879. He was licensed to preach in November, 1881, and ordained deacon at Vicksburg, December, 1885, by Bishop Hargrove. Possessed of a clear and cultured mind, thoroughly acquainted with the doctrines of our holy religion, and having liberal gifts and natural endowment, all sanctified by the Spirit's graces and gifts, he, though young, was already a good preacher. He had been elected principal of the Benton High School for a second session when his health began seriously to decline. But he continued to teach until some time in March, when, by throat trouble and nervous prostration, he was forced to give up his school, much to the regret of his patrons and pupils, with whom he enjoyed the warmest friendship, and by whom he was held in high esteem as a teacher, friend and Christian minister. All that medical skill and affectionate nursing could do were done to arrest the progress of the disease and prolong his valuable life. But death claimed him. At the still hour of 1:30 o'clock A. M., June 10, he passed away, peacefully and calmly resigning his spirit to the God who gave it. He was rational to the last moment. Just as the spirit was taking its departure he turned to his loving and heart-stricken wife, and said, "Good-bye." We commend his wife and four little children to the prayers of the church. R. S. WOODWARD.

CLARK.—BENJAMIN FURMAN CLARK born November 11, 1807; was married to Miss Frances S. Rogillio, April 19, 1841 or '42, professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the ministry of Rev. T. K. Faunt LeRoy, about 1879, and died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. J. C. Sevier, in the city of Baton Rouge, on March 27, 1889. From the time of his conversion to the moment of his death, the life of Bro. Clark was consistent with his profession. Paralysis being the cause of his death, he was not permitted to talk to his family and friends, but daily, for weeks, the writer visited him, read the Scriptures, sang and prayed with him, into all of which he mentally entered, as was evident from various tokens which he gave us. His trust was never the least shaken nor his confidence marred by his sufferings. He died in the midst of friends, who bore his remains to the last resting-place for mortals, near his home in Avoyelles parish. His end was a beautiful rounding of a long life, full of good deeds and honest dealings; the chief regret of which was his having so long delayed to enter his Master's service. Though late, he came in time secure his penny, and now he "rests from his labors," and beckons his loved ones to follow on. The woman of his love—the companion of his long life—still lingers on the shores of time, quietly waiting the reunion to which she will be welcomed in that "home of the soul." May God call all the children to that same quiet waiting! J. A. PARKER.

HEARD.—Little LEMUEL JACKSON, son of Mr. George W. and Mrs. Frances A. Heard, died on June 11, 1889, aged three years, six months and twenty-four days. The deceased was a bright and happy child, whose intellectuality and loveliness went far beyond his years. He found a warm welcome in the hearts of everyone who knew him. But alas! his earthly loveliness has faded as the gentle dews from heaven and the fragrance of the early morning flowers; but it has faded for a time, only to bloom and brighten in eternity. H.

Echoes.

"Crowding out" is often practicable where "rooting out," is not. It is, at the best, a tedious and uncertain process by which the gardener roots out the weeds from the vegetable-patch or the green sward. But it is, in many a case, a sure and effectual process by which the weeds crowd out the grass and the vegetables. The less we dig and pull at our evil habits and low desires, the less danger there will be of breaking the stem short off, and leaving the root to spring again. The weed's way is nature's way, and it is the surer way. Let a good desire take root in the heart, a noble thought in the mind, a useful work in the hand; then there will be so much the less room for evil to spring up and to spread.—Sunday-school Times.

Speaking to the students in the Divinity School of Yale College, Phillips Brooks said: "I can not help bearing witness to the joy of the life which you anticipate. There is no career that can compare with it for a moment in the rich and satisfying relations into which it brings a man with his fellow-men, in the deep and interesting insight which it gives him into human nature, and in the chance of the best culture for his own character. Its delight never grows old, its interest never wanes, its stimulus is never exhausted. It is different to a man at each period of his life, but if he is the minister he ought to be, there is no age, from the earliest age, when he is his people's brother, to the late day when he is like a father to the children on whom he looks down from the pulpit, in which the ministry has not some fresh charm and chance of usefulness to offer to the man whose heart is in it."

In Harmony with Nature.

When we adjust effort to capability we usually succeed, for the highest good comes from acting in harmony with nature. How is this principle embodied in Compound Oxygen?

1st. It is composed of nature's simples in salutary adjustment, Oxygen with Nitrogen, to which the vitality of positive magnetization is added.

2d. It is administered, not for the purpose of usurping nature's prerogatives, but to encourage and then preserve her kindly moods.

Here are cases in point.

STILLWATER, N. Y., May 31, 1887.

"I feel very thankful that my attention was ever called to Compound Oxygen. E. H. SMITH.

ATTLEBORO, MASS., May 28, 1887.

"Those suffering from catarrh will find Compound Oxygen the most wonderful remedy of the age. That's a fact, for we are using it!"—Attleboro Advertiser.

PLUMVILLE, PA., April 25, 1887.

"I am an earnest advocate of Compound Oxygen treatment and have recommended it to my afflicted friends." EMMA L. DAVIS.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

The Microbe of the Magnet.

With all the paraphernalia of the modern physical and electrical laboratory, the instruments of precision that will handle a millioneth of an inch as readily as a laborer his pick or shovel; with all the evolution going on through generations of scientists, and the almost incessant wresting of secrets from the bosom of nature, we doubt if science is any closer to the isolation or attenuation of the microbe of the magnet. It is absurd to suppose that a primary energy is impressed upon a piece of hardened steel once for all. The transfer of that energy into actual work would quickly destroy the magnetic power; yet such destruction not only does not take place, but the very exercise of the power strengthens the magnet. A horse-shoe of steel can be magnetized in ten seconds by the current of a few amperers from a battery, a ridiculously small amount of energy all told, and such magnet can lift many pounds of iron in contact. But without contact, it may lift and hold a pound of iron easily. It will hold that pound for an eternity, and every second of that time without end the magnet is expending energy, until it foots up an almost inconceivable total of actual power. Not alone that, but the magnet of one pound lifting power to-day may and will be stronger to-morrow. Where does all this really tremendous amount of energy come from? By what inscrutable process does the mere magnetization of a bar of steel make of it a machine for the transformation of energy? Not a reactionary or storage device which, like a steel spring, honestly gives back approximately all it has received; but a perpetual transforming or converting machine. There is a hidden process going on of some kind, energy is going into the magnet all the time it is doing work—energy in some form. Where does it come from, gravity? atmosphere? solar rays? earth currents? Who can say? It is a great problem worthy of a lifetime of indefatigable research. It is a microbe, and it will be discovered, and the discovery will make electricity the queen of nature's forces and steam will become a dim vision of the dark ages of the past.—The Electrical Review.

STATISTICS OF GENERAL INTEREST.—A German statistician says: There are, at present, 3,064 languages spoken by the inhabitants of our globe, whose religious convictions are divided between 1,000 different confessions of faith. The number of males is nearly equal to that of the females. The average duration of life is 33 years. One-fourth of the population of the earth dies before attaining the seventeenth year. Of 1,000 persons only one reaches the age of 100 years, and not more than six that of sixty-five years. The entire population of the globe is upward of 1,200,000,000, of whom 35,244,000 die every year, 96,480 every day, 4,020 every hour, 67 every minute, and 1 and a fraction every second. On the other hand, the births amount to 36,792,000 every year, 100,800 every day, 4,200 every hour, 70 every minute, and 1 and a fraction every second. Married people live longer than the unmarried, the temperate and industrious longer than the gluttons and idle, and civilized nations longer than the uncivilized. Tall persons enjoy a greater longevity than small ones. Women have a more favorable chance of life before reaching their fiftieth year than men, but a less favorable one after that period. The proportion of married persons to single ones is as 75 to 1,000. Persons born in the spring have a more robust constitution than those born at other seasons. Births and deaths occur more frequently at night than in the day time. Only one-fourth of the male inhabitants of the globe grow up to carry arms or perform military service. —Paris American Register.

Leather belts run with grain side to the pulley will drive 30 per cent. more than if run with flesh side.

Physicians are justified in denouncing proprietary medicines which claim to cure everything. A medicine, for instance, that will cure rheumatism in one person, will not necessarily cure it in another, for the condition causing it may be different; but Malaria is always Malaria, and Shallenborger's Antidote will destroy it in the system in every case. If you are suffering from Malaria you will know it, and this medicine will certainly cure you. Sold by Druggists.

HABITUAL GROWLER

Some people complain because

Wolff's ACME Blacking

which pleased them so much in the beginning, accumulated on the shoe. Have they EVERREADY DIRECTIONS (wrapped conspicuously around the neck of every bottle) which tells them how to prevent it? Shall we say it is useless to appeal to their intelligence, and call them "Habitual Growlers?"

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

Follow directions, and your complaints will turn to praise. Sold by all Dealers.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.

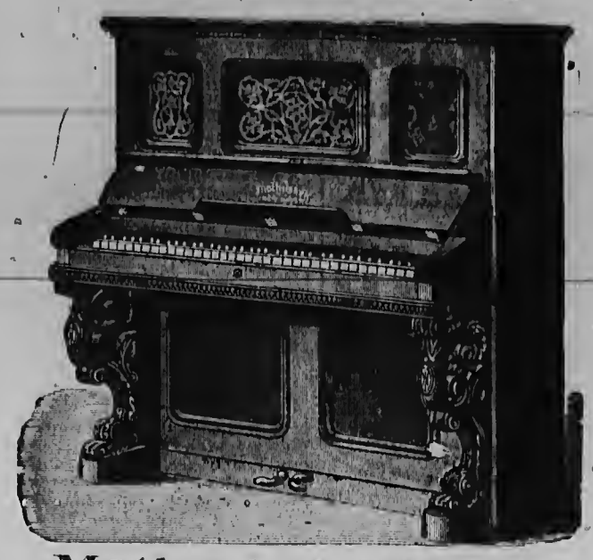
LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES

KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.



Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

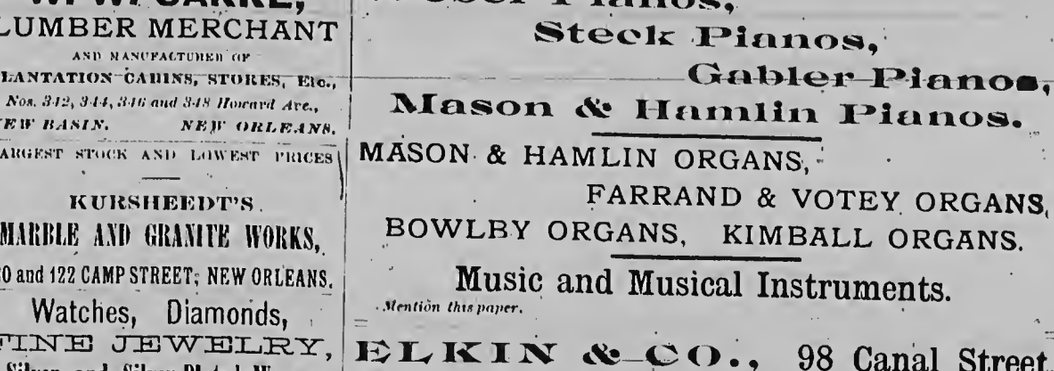
MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.

Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00
Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00
Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00
Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00
Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00
Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$60.50
Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00
Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

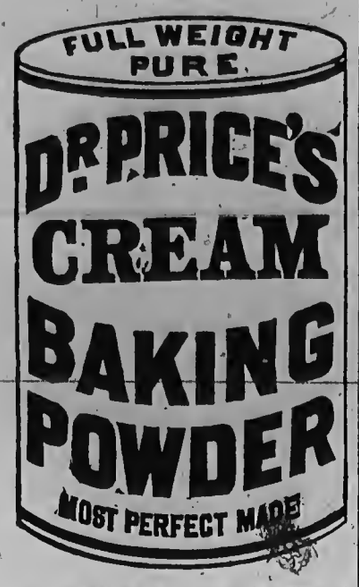
$10.00
Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00
Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.
CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets,
Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.
☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.



Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,
Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.
OFFICE, 199 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,
BUILDERS,
OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. Hours: 12 to 1 P. M.
287 EIGHTH ST.,
Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Both building and repairing promptly attended to. Mention this Paper.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties
Mention this paper.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM
F. D. VanValkenburgh,
106 Camp Street.
Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.
Orders by mail promptly filled.

BROWNE & JENKINS,
DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN
WALL PAPER
174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Write for prices. Samples sent to country free. Mention this Paper.

P. P. P.
(Prickly Ash, Poke Root, and Potassium.)
CURES
RHEUMATISM
And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.
If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.
P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.
SCROFULA
Is an impurity in the blood, producing Lumps or Swelling, causing Running Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.
BLOOD POISON
Cured in its worst form; sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases scrofulous Ulcers broke out, till the party was a mass of corruption; 6 bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.
Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tetiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.
Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration.
Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The Texas Spring Palace closed, on June 27, with a total paid attendance of over 100,000 people during the past four weeks of the exhibition. The proportion of visitors from outside the State is most gratifying. New England registered 309 visitors, and every State and most of the Territories in the Union were represented.

By a sweeping general order, issued on June 27, Secretary Tracy directed an entire reorganization of the business methods of the navy department.

Complaint has been made that the government has contracted for the purchase of 550,000 enameled bricks, made in England, for use in the construction of the Congressional Library building.

Fred Douglass has been appointed United States minister to Hayti by the President.

The situation at Johnstown is growing brighter every day. The spirits of the people are more buoyant and they are beginning to feel like returning to work. Eighty thousand dollars in cash arrived on June 28 to pay the men in the various departments.

A cloud-burst occurred over Akron, Ohio, on June 28, and 2 inches of water fell in an hour. The cellars of several business blocks were badly flooded and considerable damage done to property.

The largest deal ever made in the history of the petroleum trade was consummated in New York City, last week. The executive and advisory boards of the Producers' Protective Association turned over to the Standard Oil Company the 3,500,000 barrels of pool oil that has been an object of so much interest in the trade for several months.

Gen. Simon Cameron, of Pennsylvania, ex-Senator, was buried on June 29, at Harrisonburg.

The final act of the Michigan Legislature, on June 28, was to pass a general election law. It is a modification of the Australian system. All tickets are to be of uniform size, color and texture. In front of the polling place a railing is to be placed with an exit and entrance gate keeper. Only one voter is to be allowed within the railing at a time. One or more booths are to be provided at each precinct for the voter to prepare his ballot in secrecy.

Three hundred students, on June 30, attended the Moody Conference of college students, at Northfield, Mass., which will last until July 10. Sessions will be held morning and evening. The afternoons will be devoted to athletics.

Twenty-five saloon-keepers were arrested at Cincinnati, on June 30, for violating the Sunday law. It was the most quiet day since the Law and Order League first took in hand the matter of enforcing the law.

The Tradesman, of July 1, publishes a statement showing the industrial situation in the South, as exhibited by the number of new industries established during the last three months. It shows that during the last quarter 1,021 new industries have been established, against 690 in the previous quarter. There were 1,710 new enterprises begun during the first six months of 1889, against 1,290 for the corresponding period of the previous year, showing that the South is going ahead at a more rapid rate than ever before.

FOREIGN.

M. Eiffel, on June 27, formally presented the visiting American engineers to the prefect of the Seine. The prefect in replying to speeches of appreciation, complimented his guests, and said their presence would tighten the bonds of a friendship which had existed for a century, and which was founded upon equal aspirations after democratic progress.

The Clyde seamen and firemen, who have been on a strike some time, resumed work on the masters' terms.

The London Standard's Rome correspondent says that the Pope will decline to interfere in the matter of the complaint of some Irish bishops against the harsh treatment of land leaguers in prison, on the ground that it is their own fault, they having disobeyed the decree against boycotting.

A dispatch from the City of Mexico says that two colored emigration commissioners from Texas have arrived there to consult with government officials in regard to procuring land for a large colony of colored cotton raisers from Texas.

The Cologne Gazette, referring to Turkey's rejection of Russia's overtures for a convention to insure Turkish neutrality, in case of war, dwells on the expediency of Turkey joining the triple alliance, which it says is a further check on Russian aggressive schemes.

A serious affray took place between the people of Cork (Ireland) and the police. The trouble was occasioned by the holding of a nationalist meeting, which had been forbidden. The result was that William O'Brien, M. P., and other speakers were arrested. After the arrest of Mr. O'Brien the crowd stoned the police.

Thirty-six buildings with a large quantity of machinery were destroyed by fire at Luneburg, Germany, on June 30. The roof of the St. Nicholas Church was also destroyed. The fire broke out in a cooperage workshop. The loss is 12,000,000 marks. Six hundred workmen are thrown out of employment.

The Bank of London, Mexico and South America, which is a branch of the institution of the same name in London, has been reorganized in the City of Mexico, and will begin business as a purely Mexican institution, with a capital of $1,500,000. Mexican capitalists took $500,000 of the capital stock and the remainder was subscribed in London.

From Most Rev. Bishop Ryan, of Philadelphia.

I can testify to the efficacy of J. & C. Maguire's Cundurango, it having been my favorite medicine for several years past. I believe it to be the best Anti-Bilious Cathartic and Corrector of Liver, Blood and Kidney derangements that can be taken, and its general use in families would no doubt avert attacks of sickness.

P. J. RYAN.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

ABERDEEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Okolona station	(Thurs.)	July 1
Shannon, at Pleasant Grove		6, 7
Richmond, at Palestine	(Wed.)	10
Saltillo, at Shiloh		13, 14
Verona and Tupelo, at Tupelo		20, 21
Pontotoc, at Palestine		27, 28
Sparta, at Palestine		Aug. 3, 4
Houston and Wesley, at H.	(Thurs.)	8
Buena Vista, at Asbury		10, 11
Okolona circuit at Boone Chapel		17, 18
Ebenezer, at Egypt	(Mon.)	19
Hilton and Smithville, at Antioch		24, 25
Tremont, at Riggan's Chapel		31, Sept. 1
Athens		7, 8
Prairie		14, 15
Aberdeen		21, 22

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Coldwater		July 6, 7
Senatobia		8
Como		13, 14
Sardis		20, 21
Batesville		27, 28
Courtland		3, 4
Panola		10, 11
Pleasant Grove		17, 18
Lake View		24, 25
Mt. Vernon		31, Sept. 1
Arkalautla		7, 8
Chulahoma		14, 15
Cockrum		21, 22
Louisburg		27
Horn Lake		28, 29

S. M. THAMES, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Friar's Point	(Thu. and Wed.)	July 4, 5
Belen	(Sun.)	7
Friendship	(Tue.)	9
Glen Allen	(Wed.)	10
Tunica	(Sun.)	14
New Salem	(Tue.)	16
Indianola	(Fri.)	19
Hollandale	(Sun.)	21
Bolivar	(Sun.)	28

R. M. STANDIFER, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Macon		July 7, 8
Helron, at Memphis		11
Shumalak, at Ridgeway		13, 14
Dist. Conf., at West Point		18-21
Crawford, at Trinity		27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel		31
Brooksville, at Expraire		Aug. 3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove		9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills		10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg		15
Chester, at South Union		17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch		31, Sept. 1
Lafrange		7, 8
Sturges		14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—THIRD ROUND.

Winona circuit		July 6, 7
Winona station		10
Valden		13, 14
Koschusko and Durant		17
Black Hawk		20, 21
West		25
Carrollton and Greenwood		27, 28
Richland		Aug. 1
Koschusko circuit		3, 4
Newport		8
Ebenezer		10, 11
Weir		15
Sallis		17, 18
Poplar Creek		22
Ethel		24, 25
Helzona		28
Lexington		30

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Holly Springs station		July 6, 7
Early Grove, at Early Grove		13, 14
Myrtle, at Friendship		20, 21
Hickory Flat, at Shelby Creek		27, 28
Red Banks cir. and Mt. Pleasant cir.	at Bailey's C. G.	Aug. 3, 4
Byhalia, at Emory		10, 11
Olive Branch, at Oak Grove		17, 18
Pine Mountain, at Lebanon		24, 25
Waterford, at Marvin		31, Sept. 1
Ashland, at Salem		7, 8
Shawnee, at Harmony		14, 15

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Forest and Morton, at Wesley Chapel		July 4
Philadelphia, at Cook's Chapel		12
Neshoba, at Pleasant Grove		13, 14
Newton, at Decatur		20, 21
Hillsboro, at Oak Ridge		26
Shiloh, at Bethany		31
Lake, at High Hill		Aug. 3
Carthage, at Rocky Points		10, 11
Mt. Rose, at Mt. Zion		17, 18
Strong River, at Clear Creek		19
Westville, at Westville		21
Trenton, at Independence		30
Walnut Grove, at Beech Springs		Sept. 7, 8
Marvin		14, 15

District Conference meets Thursday, nine A. M., August 1, at Shiloh Camp Ground. Bishop Galloway will preside. We insist that every member will be present. Let us have one full District Conference.

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Wilson, at Gayden		July 6, 7
Amite circuit, at Homochitto		9
Pipkin Chapel at Port Hudson		13, 14
Jackson, at Jackson		20, 21
Bayou Sara, at New Hope		27, 28
N. Wilkinson, at Mars Hill		Aug. 1
Percy's Creek		3, 4
Centerville, at Bethel		6
Sam Jones Camp Meeting		9-18
Clinton and Beloeville		24, 25
St. Helena		29
Amite City, at Osyka		31, Sept. 1
East Feliciana		3
Woodville		7, 8
Livingston, at Palmetto		12
Springfield, at Wesley Chapel		14, 15
New River, at St. Amant		19
E. Baton Rouge, at Bay Ridge		21, 22

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Yazoo City		July 6, 7
Jackson and West Jackson		13, 14
Madison, at Livingston		20, 21
Sharon, at Madisonville		27, 28
Yazoo circuit, at Tranquil		Aug. 3, 4
Camden, at Shrock		10, 11
Benton, at Bowman's		17, 18
Flora, at Bentonia		24, 25
Silver Creek		31, Sept. 1
Edwards, at Brownsville		7, 8
Raymond		14, 15
Canton		21, 22
Mt. Olivet		28, 29
Spring Ridge	(Tue.)	Oct. 1

D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Waynesboro and St. Line, at New Hope		July 6, 7
Clarke, at Manassas		13, 14
Enterprise and H., at Stonewall		20, 21
Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant		27, 28
Vossburg		Aug. 3, 4
Bantding, at Hopewell		10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel		17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill		24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh		31, Sept. 1
Meridian Station		3
Illusaville, at Wahallak		7, 8
Leaksville		14, 15
Union		21, 22
Lauderdale		28, 29
Spring Hill		Oct. 5, 6
De Kalb		12, 13
West End		19, 20

R. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Rocky Springs, at Shiloh		July 8, 9
Hurtonton, at Pisgah		13, 14
Martin, at Martin		20, 21
Utica, at Reeves	(Wed.)	24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel		27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove	(Thurs.)	Aug 1
Natchez—Jefferson Street		3, 4
Anguilla, Sunflower Chapel		10, 11

District Conference will be at Vicksburg, July 5-7, Bishop Galloway presiding.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Dist. Conf., at Ocean Springs		July 3, 4
Seashore Camp Meeting		5-15
Pearlington, at Log Town		13, 14
West Pearl, at West Pearl		16
Augusta		20, 21
Whittington		27, 28
Vancleve		Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zion		10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point		11, 12
Americus		16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell		24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Gallman, at Terry		July 6, 7
Crystal Springs		13, 14
Wesson, at Beauregard		20, 21
Hazlehurst		27, 28
Providence, at New Hope		Aug. 3, 4
Topisaw, at Topisaw		10, 11
Franklinton, at Fishers		17, 18
Hohenseville, at China Grove		24, 25
Scotland, at Galatia		31, Sept. 1
Adams, at Ebenezer		3, 4
Brookhaven		7, 8
Bowerton, at Pleasant Ridge		14, 15
New Hope, at Centenial		28, 29

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Lafayette		July 6, 7
Washington		13, 14
New Iberia		20, 21
Grand Chenier		27, 28
Franklin		Aug. 3, 4
Morgan City		10, 11
Opelousas		17, 18
Abbeville		24, 25
Lake Charles		Sept. 1
Edgerly		6, 7
Crowley		13, 11
Saline mission		20, 21

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

HOMER DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Homer, at Lisbon		July 6, 7
Haynesville, at White Hall		13, 14
Ringgold, at Liberty Chapel		20, 21
Minden, at Pine Grove		27, 28
Summerfield, at Summerfield		Aug. 3, 4
Farmerville, at Freeman's Chapel		10, 11
Downsville, at Camp Ground		17, 18
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel		24, 25
Arcadia		31, Sept. 1
Tulip, at Tulip		7, 8
Sparta, at Camp Ground		14, 15
Saline, at Antioch		21, 22
Ruston, at Douglas		28, 29
Indian Village, at Pine Grove		Oct. 5, 6
Conlsville, at Gansville		12, 13
Vienna, at Pine Grove		19, 20
Ilhisland		26, 27

ROBERT RANDLE, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Carondelet Street		July 7
Seashore Camp Meeting		14
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.		21
Rayne Memorial		28
Gretna and Soraparu		28
Craps Street		Aug. 4
Louisiana Avenue		11
Baton Rouge		17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Ardroth		20
Felicity Street		25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

Bald heads are too many when they may be covered with a luxuriant growth of hair by using the best of all restorers, Hall's Hair Renewer.

CAMP MEETING.

The Downsville Camp Meeting will begin on Friday night before the third Sabbath in August. The camp ground is situated twelve miles north of Chondrant Station, V., S. and P. R. R., and one mile northeast of Downsville, La. Mail hack runs daily from station, passing near camp ground. All ministers invited.

R. S. COLIER, P. C.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Seashore	July 5
Sulphur Springs	July 25
Henington (Crystal Springs)	Aug. 8
Sam Jones	Aug. 9
Topisaw	Aug. 10
Downsville	Aug. 16
St. Tammany	Sept. 27

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure bilious and nervous ills.

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.

The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

Students of medicine would do well to send for the catalogue of the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending July 2, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8¾ @	— —
Ordinary	8⅞	— —
Good ordinary	9⅜	— —
Low middling	10⅛	— —
Middling	10⅞	— —
Good middling	11⅜	— —
Middling fair	11⅝	— —
Fair	12¾	— —
Galveston middling	10⅞	— —
Middle middling	10¾	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— —	— —
Fully fair	— —	— —
Good fair	— —	— —
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	— —	3⅝
Prime yellow	— —	— —
Gray white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	3¾
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
SYRUP	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	2	2¼
Good	4⅜	4½
Fair	4	4⅛
Prime	4¾	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	4 35
Polish, ₱ ton	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Fancy	4 80	4 90
Fancy	— —	4 85
Choice	— —	— —
Minnesota Patents	— —	6 00
Winter wheat patents	5 15	5 25
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal	2 40	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 65	2 75
Hominy	— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, ₱ bushel	— —	43
Yellow	— —	46
Mixed No. 2	— —	45½
OATS:
Western	— —	35
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
₱ cwt	72½	75
HAY:
Prime	14 00	15 00
Choice	17 00	17 50
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess Standard	— —	13 25
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	9½	11
Shoulders	— —	6¼
Sides, short rib	— —	7⅜
Sides, long clear	— —	7¼
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	11¾	12½
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	— —	5½
Sides, short rib	— —	6½
Sides, long clear	— —	6½
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime	— —	19
Fair	— —	18
Common	— —	15¾
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
Re-No	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	19	— —
Western Dairy	13½	14
Common	— —	7
LARD:
Refined	— —	6¾
OILS:
Coal, bbls	10	— —
Coal, cases	15½	16
Cotton seed, crude	41	43
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	— —	— —
Chicago, ₱ 100	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	1 25	— —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	1 50	1 60
Western	— —	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	— —	1 60
Western	— —	1 50
BALING STUFFS.
BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb, ₱ yard	10¾	10½
Jute, 1¾ lb, ₱ yard	9½	9¾
Lane Mills Cotton Bagging	12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb	9½	10
TIES:
₱ bundle	1 65	1 67
SPIRITS.
PORTWAY:
Old Reds, Western	4 00	4 25
Young Chickens	1 25	3 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 00	1 75
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	11	11½
Southern	12	12½
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb	24	24½
Louisiana	22	23
Bury	11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	3	— —
Dry salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	— —	15 00
Meal	20 50	— —
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	2½
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

Elfinwood Select School.

The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Erwin H. Fay, A. M.

DEGREES,
FIRST AND POST-GRADUATES,
Conferred without residence. Any one can secure this desirable end by pursuing a course of study by CORRESPONDENCE under eminent College Professors at slight cost. Information of Courses, Professors, etc., given in our UNION READING CIRCLE, a large 16-page literary form for membership will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cts. in postage stamps. Address COR. UNIVERSITY, 147 THROOP ST., CHICAGO, ILL. N. B.—Situations to teach free to members and subscribers. Agents wanted.

When writing, mention this paper.

Staunton Male Academy,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.
A Military Boarding School for Young Men and Boys. Unprecedented success during past Session. HANDSOME ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE mailed on application to
WM. H. KABLE, A. M., PRINCIPAL,
Staunton, Va

SCIENCE HILL.
An English and Classical School for Girls, Shelbyville, Ky. Founded March 25, 1825, by Mrs. Julia A. Tevis. The oldest School for women in the South. Teachers are graduates of the best Colleges. Fits for Wellesley. Accommodations first-class in every particular. Terms reasonable, and include all school expenses.
W. T. POYNTER, D. D.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,
Homeopathic Physician,
288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.
Cases treated by letter.

WANTED!
A white woman to do general housework for particulars address
REV. D. C. FORST,
Wilmot, Miss.

A GOOD PLACE for a MUSIC TEACHER
is alongside of the counter of a DITSON COMPANY MUSIC STORE. A few hours of a summer tour may be profitably spent in examining our exceptionally good new publications, and selecting for the fall campaign.
From our 64-page list of books (which please ask for), we name a few books out of many.
Examine for Singing and Chorus Choirs.
Song Harmony. (60 cts., $6 doz. Emerson.
Royal Singer. (60 cts., $6 doz.) Emerson.
American Male Choir. ($1, or $9 doz. Tenney.
Jehovah's Praise. ($1, or $9 doz.) Emerson.
Concert Selections. ($1, or $9 doz.) Emerson.
Or our excellent Cantatas:
Dairy Maid's Supper. (20 cts., $1.80 doz.) Lewis.
Rainbow Festival. (20 cts., $1.80 doz.) Lewis.
Examine our superior School Music Books.
Song Manual, Book 1. (30 cts., $3 doz.) Emerson.
Song Manual, Book 2. (40 cts., $4.20 doz.) Emerson.
Song Manual, Book 3. (50 cts., $4.80 doz.) Emerson.
United Voices. (50 cts., $4.80 doz. Emerson.
Kindergarico and Primary Songs. (30 cts., $3 doz.)
Examine our new Piano Collections.
Popular Piano Collection. ($1.) 27 pieces.
Popular Dance Music Collection. ($1.)
And many others. Also,
Popular Song Collection. ($1.) 37 Songs.
Song Classics. (Sop. $1.) (Alto $1.) 50 Songs.
Classic Tenor Songs. ($1.) Baritone Songs ($1.)
Any book mailed for retail price.
Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.
C. H. DITSON & CO., 867 Broadway, New York.

HIRES
25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING
ROOT BEER
The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.
Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.
C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

BLADON SPRINGS
CHOCTAW COUNTY, ALABAMA.
W. A. TURNER, Manager.
—THE—
FIRST WATERING PLACE IN THE SOUTH.
12 Hours by Steamboat from Mobile, on the Bigbee River. Daily communication during Winter Season.
Large Hotel and Pleasant Cottages. 300 Guests can be accommodated. The Cottages are neatly plastered and provided with good fire-places, making them warm and "home-like."
H. WARD, Agent (Successor to D. F. Cantin & Co.), Druggist, Mobile. ISAACSON, SEINS & CO., Agents (Grocers), Canal St., New Orleans. Bladon Water on tap and for sale by EUGENE MAY, Cor. Canal and Charles Sts., New Orleans, La.

CLIFF HOUSE AND COTTAGES.
At Tallulah Falls,
THE NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH.
The Cliff House is the best equipped summer resort hotel in the Blue Ridge Mountains.
For descriptive pamphlet address
J. C. S. TIMBERLAKE, Manager,
Tallulah Falls, Ga.

White Cliff Mineral Springs,
On Chilhowee Mountains.
3,000 Feet above sea level. Open June 1. Good fare. Comfortable accommodations. Reasonable terms. Magnificent scenery. Pure atmosphere. For analysis, circulars and full information, address J. H. MAGILL,
Manager, White Cliff Springs,
Monroe County, Tenn.

Capital Commercial College
Carson Miss
Book keeping taught as it is done in the South in Grammar
& Public Schools

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 28. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1716.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. C. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERANCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERANCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

SLEEP AND DEATH.

Gentle Sleep, who oft has cradled me
In weary hours,
Last laid thy still palm on my heated brow,
And bound thereon, when I was sad as now,
The silent poppy flowers!

Thou canst not aid me here; but there is one,
Brother of thine,
Who holds a medicine that will ease all pain;
Tell him, I pray thee, straightway, I would fain
Be eased of mine.

Blessings on thee,
Thou guardian angel to the lost child, Time,
All sorrowing hearts
Beat thanks to thee, but look with longing eye
To where thy brother's kinder ministry
The lax cord parts.

Paler than thou,
Fairer and far more beautiful is he,
And on his brow
Sits the high calm that warrants all redress;
Abiding home to hearts all shelterless
Will he allow.

Go, gentle Sleep,
Tell him the woes of time come thick and fast;
Tell him we lie
Within the shadow of the ebon gate
And for the music of its opening wait,
Longing to die.

Woman's Missionary Society—Reflections—Greenville District—Preachers—Their Work.

Recently while present at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, of the North Mississippi Conference, listening to the discussions of those godly women as to their methods and manner of accomplishing their work for "woman," I could but be impressed with the intensity with which it was cultivating religious and spiritual life at home, and of how it was touching and cultivating, with its prayers of faith and monied help, our most distant fields of missionary work abroad. My reflections began to give shape to the thought that for these ages the church had made the mistake of not bringing women to the front in converting the world to God. Surely it was not good for man to be alone, whether in his primitive state in the Eden planted of God, or in his fallen and depraved estate. She was needed as his "helpmeet" in dressing and caring for the garden of paradise. Certainly man needs her none the less in taking care of and dressing the church of God. The orderly zeal and deep spiritual tone which pervaded this assembly made it clear that these women were in the right place and engaged in the right work. Especially is this so when the pulsations from these centres are felt in the remotest life of the church. The man has done but little to bring the woman forward to this position. He has as often been found resisting this advancement as helping her forward. The sacred impulses of her own have prompted the callings to a higher and more useful life; have led her on to take positions which for long centuries were deemed indelicate for her to occupy. The man whose soul is in the Master's cause, whose heart is so near the heart of the church, who feels its every throb, can but recognize in this movement, in every miss, maid and madam in their definite relations to these peculiar states of life, a helpmeet in the work of saving souls. It seems plain to me that the man needs more training for this joint co-operation in the Lord's work than the woman. Pending these reflections, the question was raised in the meeting as to whether boys should be admitted to full membership in the juvenile societies or not. The judgment of some of the leading characters was that he should not. They said, "Let him be but an honorary member"—nothing more. I felt the impulse of my soul to arise and urge that these juvenile societies was the school in which the boys and girls may be taught to work together, from which another generation would present the joint work of man and woman for Christ and his church, unrecorded of any other age in the history of the church.

The meeting to which I have reference was held in the city of Greenville, which position is rather isolated from like workers in this cause, the outlying country around having but few auxiliary societies in anything like working order. Some difficulties heretofore presented to the success of this work are being removed by the increased facilities of travel, opening up easier communication between communities. The emergency of the work, as is now being presented, suggests missionary work along this line by woman.

Methodists have occupied this territory for more than half a century, and have held the ground against fearful odds and painful discouragements. Since the country has been largely opened up, and its social advantages vastly improved, these men have had some hints from "the church," and from those of the proper "faith and order," to stand aside. They will take charge of this interest now; but these successors to the early pioneers have, like them, grown to the position, and can not let go without a painful shock. The preachers of the district fully appreciate the intensifying interests and growing responsibilities of the country. However, if the appointing power sees proper, according to a suggestion in a recent communication from "Gilderoy," send the best preaching talent here. I am sure the last man of the district will yield to this happy order of itinerant succession.

J. D. NEWSOM.

Commencement of Mansfield Female College.

Commencement here this year was a great occasion. The exercises began Thursday night with a general concert, in which every music pupil took part, in order to show how each had progressed. The evidence of marked improvement in each pupil gave the patrons of the institution great satisfaction. Friday night the exhibition of the primary department was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. Saturday night the display was very entertaining, the great feature being the flag-drill. In the music contest the Ferguson medal was awarded to Miss Bessie McVoy, as the most proficient pupil in music. On Sunday morning Rev. W. L. C. Hunnicutt, D. D., president of Centenary College, delivered a very forcible and practical sermon on the doctrines, necessity and usefulness of the church. President Hunnicutt preached also at night on Christian Education. Monday morning brought the art reception, and a large concourse of people gathered in the beautifully decorated hall to witness the finest display of art this institution probably has ever produced in all its past history. It was a surprise to learn that this extensive display of art was all the production of eight or nine months. The paintings of the Misses Trosper, McVoy and Bogan were greatly admired. The drawings, pastel and crayon work of the Misses Green, Cunningham, Pickles and Littlejohn attracted great attention. The committee awarded the medal for painting to Miss Irma McVoy, and that for crayon drawing to Miss Annie Green, of Lake Charles. The elocution contest followed, and was a display of great excellence. The contest was very close, and the committee, composed of Profs. Hatcher and Cole, and Mr. C. Foster, of Shreveport, awarded the Sutherlin medal to Miss Josie Ferguson, of Alexandria, and the Committee medal to Miss Irma McVoy, the two being equally rated by the committee.

Monday night, the Harmonic Gesture Drill was a prominent feature; the wonderfully fine tableaux representing religious subjects, the recitations and music, made a charming evening.

Tuesday was the Alumnæ Day. Original poem, subject, "His Picture," by Miss Addie McGrath, of Baton Rouge. An essay on "Men of Action versus Men of Thought," was ably written and distinctly read by Mrs. Mattie Williams, of Shreveport. Prof. Q. T. Bugg, of Shreveport, addressed the alumnæ. This address, on "What Women Can and Can Not Do," was unique and remarkably successful. He kept his audience in fine humor, laughing and applauding, until he took his seat amid a shower of flowers.

On Tuesday night came the piano recital of the graduates in music. After a thorough display of their attainments, Miss Willie Ricks, Miss Josie Ferguson and Miss Bessie McVoy received their diplomas.

Wednesday, June 26, was Commencement Day, and such an audience as is seen only on such occasions greeted the graduates. Miss Mary Lou. Allen, subject, "Above Rubies;" Miss Lizzie Alexander, subject, "Ring Out the False, Ring in the True;" Miss Elise Baynard, subject, "Life from Death;" and Miss Bessie McVoy, subject, "Keys Suggest Treasure." These essays were well written, and clearly and forcibly read, and were rewarded, as usual, with a profusion of flowers. The annual address was delivered by the Hon. E. W. Sutherlin, on three subjects: "Evolution," the "Southern Question," and "Higher Education for Women." It was an able address, full of useful and practical thought, and delivered with deliberation and force. The recitation of Rev. A. D. McVoy, Jr., displayed marked powers of elocution in the rendition of "McClaine's Child." His address to the class in elocution, on the previous evening, was very beautiful and attractive, and was greatly enjoyed and appreciated. Miss Willie Ricks, Miss Elise Baynard, Miss Josie Ferguson, Miss Bessie McVoy, Miss Lucia Moore, Miss Mamie Cockerham, Miss Lizzie Alexander, received certificates of proficiency in theory of music. The Alumnæ medal was awarded to Miss Lizzie Pitts for best scholarship, attendance and deportment. Miss Bessie McVoy was marked equal to her; but, having received the Music medal, withdrew and gave the medal to Miss Pitts. Miss Julia Cunningham, Miss Mamie Cockerham, Miss Adelaide Pickles, Miss Lura Blocker, deserved honorable mention as first-honor girls. Miss Jessie Bussey, Miss Ruble Roach, also deserved mention for scholarship. The baccalaureate, by President McVoy, and his stately and graceful style in graduating the young ladies, received great praise. The editor of the DeSoto Democrat offered a one-hundred-dollar gold watch and chain for the best vocal pupil next year, the announcement of which brought great applause from the audience.

The Board of Managers resolved to thoroughly repair, improve and enlarge the buildings, and authorized President McVoy, in connection with the presiding elders of the Louisiana Conference, to raise money for the same.

It was the remark of all who were familiar with previous commencements here, that this one, closing June 26, was not only a grand success, but eclipsed previous occasions of the kind, and made everybody realize that the institution was on a boom. The large number of visitors, some of them with daughters to educate, were very favorably impressed with the results of the work done here this year. The prospect for the next session is so flattering that an enlargement is necessary to meet the expected increase. The present administration has won the confidence of patrons and friends of the institution, and large expectations are aroused in regard to next session. The popular faculty will all be retained, and increased to meet the growing demand. The institution now takes rank as the most important institution for the education of girls in the Southwest.

VISITOR.

MANSFIELD, LA., July 4, 1889.

Some Information Wanted.

I have read Dr. Carradine on the lottery, and heartily indorse every word of it. I have also read Dr. Abbey's occasional articles on the same subject with much interest, but he has left me a little muddled on some things, and I want information.

In his article published in the Nashville Advocate, of December 8, 1888, in reference to his trip to Biloxi, Miss., he says: "The curiosity of the city is, that the Episcopal Church—a handsome building in the central part of town—was built and is regularly supported by the Louisiana Lottery of New Orleans." It appears to me that this language is conclusive, and conveys the idea, as the whole of Dr. Abbey's article does, that this church was built and is supported by the Louisiana Lottery in its corporate capacity. I so understood it at the time it appeared, as did several others with whom I talked about it; and I suppose every Methodist in the connection who read the article must have heaved a sigh of indignation at such a church. But in a later article, in the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, in reply to Bishop Thompson, Dr. Abbey says, in substance (I can not quote the exact language), that the church was built and is mainly supported by the owner of the Louisiana Lottery, and plainly intimates that what is done by the owner of a corporation, as an individual, is the act of the corporation itself. I have never so understood it, and I know the civil law does not so interpret it. This last statement by the Doctor gave it an entirely different appearance, and sprung a question of no little intricacy to myself and others, and one, in my mind, of some importance. It must be understood that neither Dr. Abbey nor anyone else is more opposed to the lottery than I am, and I don't want to be misunderstood: but the question his last article sprung, that gives me the trouble, is this: Is it wrong to receive money for church purposes from an individual who, as a member of a corporation or individually, makes his money—part of it, at least—by unjust means? Take an example: Pastor of station at A wishes to build a new church, and takes up a collection for the same. Mr. B. is in the congregation. He is known to be a bad character. He offers to give ten dollars. Shall Bro. A. refuse to accept the offer because of the probability that Mr. B. made the money by unjust means? Of course, if it is offered with the least intimation of its being hush money, there is no question about it; but the case in question is far different. Some of the most liberal men of my knowledge make most of their money by unjust means, and do not deny it. For example, saloon keeping and horse racing. They have no regard for or confidence in the realities of religion: but, to use their language, "consider it a very good thing for women and children," and are, therefore, willing to contribute liberally to the support of the church and ministry. If I understand Dr. Abbey correctly, he holds that it is wrong to receive money from such characters. I have not so understood, and I want information.

GEO. T. ASHLEY.

FLOWERY MO'SD, Louisiana.

Shreveport District Conference.

The Shreveport District Conference convened June 26, at the pleasant little town of Keachie, where, under the careful attention and studious efforts of Bro. Harp, pastor, preparation had been made for its reception. At 9:30, therefore, on the morning of the first day, the presiding elder took the chair and called the Conference to order, the writer was elected secretary, and the work of the twenty-third session began and progressed from day to day with harmony and good feeling, so that all pronounced it one of the most pleasant sessions yet held.

The attendance was not full, either of clerical or lay members; and right here, Mr. Editor, I would ask, Is not the lay representation too large? Shreveport district elects of delegates ninety-seven; then there are a number of local preachers, which altogether makes a larger body than the Annual Conference itself—too much for any small town to comfortably entertain.

The reports from the various charges showed advancement all along the line, save in the matter of finances; but these, of course, will make a better showing toward the end of the year.

We had with us Dr. Hunnicutt, of Centenary College, who, both in his preaching and addresses before the Conference, made a very favorable impression, and put in some good "licks," indeed, for his college, as the results in endowment notes clearly exhibit; for, after the collection, the figures show $8,400 for that institution.

President A. D. McVoy, of Mansfield Female College, was on hand also, and, in his usual affable manner, laid before the people the cause of "our own college," and left us with pleasant smiles and recollections, with something over two hundred dollars on the amount necessary to the large repairs and improvements in that estimable institution.

The Woman's Missionary Society was not by any means forgotten or overlooked. Sister Fullilove made a short and pointed talk, which will most surely bear fruit on this line in days to come. Reports from the preachers, where these societies are most active, show best results in all their collections.

Brethren, let us organize everywhere! The spirit of missions is the spirit of the Master.

The interests of the ADVOCATE were looked after and kept before the people.

W. F. HENDERSON.

"What Is Consciousness?"

In the ADVOCATE, of June 20, appears an article from the Rev. R. M. Davis, of the North Mississippi Conference, on the above interrogation. He asks the question, and puts forth an extensive effort in telling us what it is not, without answering by telling what it is. I do not propose to answer the question, but simply call attention to two errors in the article.

1. He denies that consciousness comprehends all the mental phenomena. If his denial be true, then it sets aside the accepted thought of the past century on this subject. In his article he labors to explain an inexplainable thing. The reason for this is found in the fact that consciousness is the basis of all knowledge. Hence as to how impressions and ideas, embodying knowledge, passes through the mind to the conscience, and at one and the same time, knowing and known, is, indeed, inexplicable.

2. The second error into which Bro. Davis falls is, that he treats consciousness as a special faculty. This error he has fallen into by overlooking the fact that consciousness and knowledge involve each other. Hence the reason why he states in his article that "to know that we know" is fallacious. Sir William Hamilton says that "an act of knowledge may be expressed by the formula, I know; an act of consciousness by the formula, I know that I know; but, as it is impossible for us to know without, at the same time, knowing that we know, so it is impossible to know that we know without our actually knowing." That is, "the one merely explicitly expressing what the other implicitly contains." No, there is no fallacy, Bro. Davis, in saying that when we know, we must know that we know; when we feel, we must know that we feel; when we desire, we must know that we desire. Now, then, the knowledge, the feeling, the desire, he will admit, are possible only under the condition of being known, and being known by the subject. For if we did not know that we knew, we would not know, and so on through all the mental phenomena. But I have said more than I intended.

H. L. VAUGHN.

Mansfield Female College.

The Board of Managers of this college, after thorough examination of its affairs and the management of the present administration, find that great success has attended the operations of the past session, more pupils enrolled, scholarship advanced, a higher standard maintained, the full confidence of the people gained, and marked progress achieved in all departments; therefore, they are prepared unanimously to endorse the administration as efficient, wise and judicious, and to recommend the college to the patronage of the Southwest as fully equipped to do efficient work in all departments. The Board, finding also that the prospects of the college are more encouraging than they have been for years, and that the accommodations are insufficient for the greatly enlarged patronage expected, and also to facilitate the operations of the school, deem it necessary to extensively enlarge and repair the present buildings. They have, therefore, authorized by resolution, the president, Rev. A. D. McVoy, and the presiding elders of the Louisiana Conference, to proceed at once to collect funds for the above purpose. President McVoy has already commenced to gather funds, and, with the aid of the presiding elder of the Shreveport district, has collected from the good people of Keachie $220, on June 30, and, besides, $1,000 more was promised on the occasion.

The Board received a communication from the editor of the DeSoto Democrat (Mr. J. E. Hewitt), offering a $100 gold watch and chain to the best vocal pupil during the next session, which offer the Board gladly accepted, thanking the generous donor for the same. This, together with the numerous other prizes offered by patrons throughout the State, clearly demonstrates the confidence the people are beginning to have in the merit, success and progress of the college. The Board, therefore, with great satisfaction endorse the valuable work done here, and realize the fact that they have a president in whom they have great confidence, as a man in the right place, under whose efficient efforts we believe the college is bound to achieve the largest success in the near future.

The impressions made by one of the grandest commencements that this institution has ever had, assure us that we may look for greater prosperity and large accessions for the next session. President A. D. McVoy informs us that during and since commencement he has received a number of applications from new pupils for the next session. We congratulate the people of Louisiana and the Southwest that they have now an institution of which they may justly feel proud, and which affords enlarged facilities for the education of their daughters. We take pleasure in commending President McVoy to the confidence and consideration of the people of Louisiana in his efforts to raise the funds required to secure patronage and promote the interest of the college. Respectfully,

A. F. JACKSON,
Sec'y of the Board.

College Location, etc.

In the ADVOCATE, of June 20, Dr. Abbey takes me to task for saying, "As to health, Winona has no superior in the State;" and then asks, "How does he know?" I would modestly ask Dr. Abbey, How does he know? Did he ever live in Winona? He can form no idea of the healthfulness of this section until he comes and lives here awhile. I suppose the Gulf coast is a healthy place, especially adapted for certain ailments; but, according to the health record, I still hold Winona has no superior in the State. Dr. Abbey says a man who has not lived on the coast a year or two does not know what good health is. "We have as healthy and fine-looking people here as can be found in the State. I quote from Dr. B. F. Ward, president of our Board of Health. He says he has been practicing medicine here for twenty-four years. "Our white population is estimated at 1,800. Last year there were thirteen deaths in town, or 7¼ to the thousand, which is a very low rate of mortality, much below the general average of towns and cities in the United States. Compare the following statistics of the death-rate per thousand:

Winona,	per 1,000,	deaths,	7¼
New Orleans,	"	"	17
Hot Springs, Ark.,	"	"	12
Nashville, Tenn.,	"	"	12
Louisville, Ky.,	"	"	16
Raleigh, N. C.,	"	"	11
Boston, Mass.,	"	"	23

Seventy-four towns in California show 14 per thousand. The general average is from 15 to 20 per thousand. But the remarkable feature about our death-rate for last year is the very small number that could be attributed to any local cause. Of the thirteen deaths, three were from consumption, one from cancer, one chronic disease of the liver of several years' standing, one of old age, one young infant whose mother died of consumption, two teething babes, and one delicate lady with disease of stomach and bowels, the result of chronic dyspepsia. Of the others, one died of pneumonia in both lungs, one of congestion, and one of typho-malarial fever. Thus it will be noticed that not more than three of these could be considered amenable to treatment, while none could be charged to a local cause."

Now, let Dr. Abbey bring up the figures to break the force of this evidence in Winona's favor. How much will Dr. Abbey pledge if the two Conferences locate the college on the coast?

T. W. LEWIS.

P. S.—The question of accessibility is settled in favor of Winona.

T. W. L.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1889.

WEBS AND LIES.

BY REV. JOSEPH COOK.

Whisky spiders, great and greedy,
Weave their webs from sea to sea.
They grow fat, and men grow needy,
Shall our robbers rulers be?

"Sweep the webs away!" the nation,
In its wrath and wisdom, cries;
Say the fools, with hesitation,
No! but educate the flies!"

We'd both, twin wings, who slumber;
Let the schools fill out their spheres,
Let the church sound seven thunders,
But the webs must disappear!

Up! the webs are full of slaughter;
Sweep away the spiders' lair.
Up! wife, husband, son and daughter!
Make the vexed earth clean and fair!

Homer District Conference.

This body of ministers and laymen convened in Gibsland, La., June 26, Rev. Robert Randle, P. E., in the chair. Gibsland is a growing town on the V., S. and P. R. R., about forty miles east from Shreveport. It is beautifully situated on the little hills and in the smiling valleys, and seems to be reaching out north and south, as well as east and west, for the trade of the surrounding country. A fine-looking hotel, a neat church, and an imposing college building, are not the least of its attractive features. The Conference was well attended by both ministers and laymen. Indeed, we believe this is as large a District Conference as we have attended. On the taking of one rising vote, we counted forty-three on one side and seventeen on the other, which we think will do well for a District Conference. The business was well on the way to completion when we arrived on Friday morning. The presiding elder was very careful to elicit all the facts connected with church work from each preacher as he made his report. This gives each member of the Conference a view of the work in its various stages, as it is carried forward by the pastors.

Judging from the aggregate of the reports, we came to the conclusion that the work was not only well in hand, but had been prosecuted with vigor and faithfulness during the year. Several protracted meetings have been held with much success. The brethren in this district have always believed in the efficacy of camp meetings, and every year have wielded them with great power. None of these have yet been held. The Sunday-school work received prayerful attention, but there remains yet much of the land to be possessed by this agency for furthering the good cause of the Lord. Why it is that our people are not more earnestly and heartily at work on this line is one of the unaccountable things! The finances, as usual, were behind, though not as far behind as usual, and the promise is that they will catch up nearly everywhere on the district by the time the Annual Conference meets in Baton Rouge.

The prayer meeting before the morning session was a season of spiritual refreshment, which qualified all for better work during the day. The preaching was most excellent, and the effect on the audience was edifying to Christians and convincing to sinners. Several of the brethren read good reports on special subjects, and one brother made as fine a talk on the duties of stewards as anybody could make, and we are under the impression that it will bear fruit abundantly hereafter. One brother exploded a bomb right in the midst of the Conference. He seemed to have done it deliberately, and then calmly sat down and watched the results. He introduced a resolution that "the members of this District Conference discourage, by precept and example, the use of tobacco by our young people." Quite a spicy talk, pro and con, sprang up and threatened to continue indefinitely, when some parliamentarian moved to lay on the table, and it was tabled by 43 to 17 votes. The smokers and chewers may as well prepare to do like "Capt. Scott's coon." The inevitable is bound to come!

In one very important matter this district takes the lead of all in Louisiana. This Conference perfected the arrangement by which it has come into possession of Gibsland College, and the name has been changed to Homer District Collegiate Institute. It is to be simply a high school for boys and girls under the control of the District Conference, and is to be made a feeder to Centenary and Mansfield Female College. They have now a building and grounds for this purpose worth $3,400, with only a small debt upon it, which the district is abundantly able to pay. We think this is one of the best moves that has been made. Dr. Hunnicutt arrived on Saturday morning and delighted and edified the Conference with one of his strong, educational speeches, and added $1,500 in six per cent. notes to the endowment of Centenary College. From June 20 to June 29 Dr. Hunnicutt secured over $11,000 for this purpose.

The ADVOCATE is in high favor with the Methodism of Homer district, and, we think, will go up yet higher before the year closes. The brethren seem to have received some encouragement from our visit, which we trust will spring them to greater effort in the future.

The hospitality of Gibsland was not taxed at all. It was as spontaneous and inexhaustible as a flowing fountain. It was our privilege to be under the care of that prince of hosts, R. Parvin, and his estimable wife, and never had we a more hearty welcome or more royal entertainment. The greatest pleasure was to meet brethren by whose side in former days we have gone through many campaigns in the Lord's battles, and helped each other to victory over the Lord's foes. What a time the old veterans will have when they shall sit down together in the New Jerusalem and recount the conflicts of this earthly warfare!

EDITOR.

Jackson District Conference.

The District Conference of the Jackson district, met in Canton, June 21-23. Bishop Galloway was with us throughout the session. Though there was no appearance of haste, the business of the Conference was all disposed of by an early hour Saturday evening. There was a general expression of satisfaction at his manner and spirit of ruling in all things. The attendance was very small, not one-half of the members being present. Two works were entirely unrepresented, and others represented by the pastors only. The additions to the church have been few, and the finances were reported as rather behind for the season of the year. The Bishop did not think the reports very flattering, and gave us good, wholesome advice for the future.

On Friday night Dr. Black and Bishop Galloway delivered lectures on the college movement, and a collection of nearly $1,500 was secured. We had preaching twice daily, all of which was good to edifying. The Bishop preached to a packed house at eleven on Sunday. All were highly pleased and greatly moved by his stirring words of wisdom and eloquence. He was raised in Canton, and all his people are proud of him, and delight to do him honor.

I did not get the names of the delegates to the Annual Conference. The Conference voted to hold its next session in West Jackson.

Fraternally, T. B. HOLLOMAN.

CANTON, Mississippi.

Opelousas District Conference.

MR. EDITOR: At the request of the presiding elder and the secretary, I send brief notes from our district meeting, which convened in Opelousas, June 20-24, with Rev. S. S. Keener, our worthy presiding elder, in the chair, and Rev. A. E. Clay, our excellent secretary, to write up our doings. Business went on rapidly, yet smoothly and religiously. Sometimes all business was suspended to let a brother shout himself off for awhile; but, mainly, talks were short and to the point. Dr. W. L. C. Hunnicutt, president of Centenary College, came in on us with his benedictions and prayers, but left us with some $1,700 in notes for our grand old Centenary. The Doctor is a clever talker, isn't he? Rev. F. D. Van Valkenburgh dawned upon us with some good books, and quite a supply of Dr. Carradine's sermon on the "Louisiana State Lottery." By the way, we passed a good resolution respecting our utter contempt for that lottery, and I should give you a copy of same if I had it; but Bro. Clay will send it to you. Very few laymen were on hand, but all the pastors, except Bro. Wall, of Calcasieu mission, were at their post. I was a little surprised at not seeing our missionary ladies represented. Not a one put in her appearance, and the Woman's Missionary Society scarcely mentioned. Who is to blame? We should have had the pleasure and honor of the presence of their district secretary, but she failed to reach us either in presence or by epistle. But I learned that one of our presiding elders had something to do with that. Well, after all, I reckon those presiding elders have as much right to a wife—and a good one—as anybody else. And nobody made a speech on temperance! Oh, how we miss Bro. Pipes! I think the W. C. T. U. should have visited us. But we had about as much as we could get through with in three days. The pastoral reports showed advance in all the departments of church work. Methods of finance were fully discussed, and we all came away better prepared to help our stewards in adjusting their difficult duties, and with some well-defined plans for raising our Conference collections, etc. What a pity that all the stewards do not attend our District Conferences! One of our brethren came up from an alligator country; and on reporting his finances a little short, the president asked him why he neglected to call around when the alligator hides were put on the market. It sounded a little funny to a man coming from North Louisiana, and Dr. Hunnicutt said it was a little new to him; but it is business down here.

The following brethren were elected delegates to the next session of the Annual Conference: Dr. E. N. Cushman, N. T. Blacksheer, O. M. Mayo and Capt. J. N. Pharr.

Patterson ville was selected as the place for the next meeting.

The preaching was fair and spiritual. On Sunday afternoon the Lord greatly blessed us in love-feast. It was a glorious time. The pastor, Bro. Isbell, did well in providing excellent homes for us, and we came away feeling thankful in our hearts for the nice and cheerful kindness extended to God's servants by the good people of Opelousas. I should not forget to mention that tithing resolutions were passed in reference to our appreciation of our institutions of learning—Mansfield and Centenary—and same to Mrs. Hayes' school of Opelousas, which is in a flourishing condition. The ADVOCATE was not forgotten.

May the Lord greatly bless his cause in this country!

Yours in Christ,

R. M. BLOCKER.

RAYNE, Louisiana.

East Mississippi Female College.

The East Mississippi Female College, located at Meridian, has had a most successful session. Its boarding capacity has been filled to its limit; some applicants having been declined. President Saunders has proved himself to be an admirable administrator of an institution for young ladies. His accomplished wife furnishes in her daily deportment an exceptional model for her pupils, and possesses the rare combination of thorough culture with aptness to teach and with a faculty of inspiring a love of study. The other members of the faculty have had long experience and success each in her department.

The Visiting Committee appointed by the Conference went through the institution, observed critically its management and heard the examination of the classes. Their report is favorable in every particular. To study diligently and to preserve a lady-like deportment is the rule in this college, and the pupils obey without questioning.

The commencement exercises begun with an evening of the Stratford Literary Society, consisting of mottoes, recitations and tableaux—all selected from Shakespeare. The entertainment was most unique, reflecting credit upon the author of the programme and upon the young ladies who executed it.

The art exhibition was held on Monday night. The stage was appropriately decorated by a display of the paintings and drawings of the pupils in this department. The effect was most agreeable, and the closer inspection which was afforded the audience at the close disclosed the excellent taste and the creditable proficiency of the youthful artists. Albert Bozeman, Esq., a young attorney of Meridian, made an address altogether in keeping with the surroundings—brief, pointed, pithy.

On Wednesday night was held the annual concert. Music held sway. Solos, duets, trios, with instrument and voice, showed that the instructors were well up in their line, and that the instructed had made good use of their privileges. The interspersing of several humorous pieces, sung and acted, relieved the entertainment from the monotony of music only, and made it fresh and interesting to the end.

On Thursday morning the award of certificates of distinction and proficiency was made. President Saunders narrated in an interesting way his methods of rewards. Prizes were not offered to one only of a class, thus disappointing and discouraging all the rest; but distinction was bestowed upon everyone who attained to a certain grade. These awards were not made public, thus fostering pride in the successful and humiliation in the unfortunate; but the certificates were distributed quietly by the teachers, as the young ladies sat in their places. Rev. Mr. Toy, professor of Oriental Languages in Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., made a pleasant, practical address to the school. Mr. Toy is son-in-law to President Saunders, and timed his visit for the commencement exercises.

Thursday night was devoted to the graduating exercises. Only one young lady received the honors; a large class, who would have graduated this year, having consented to remain a year longer that the curriculum might be extended. Miss Johnnie Buss, of Alabama, received a diploma admitting her to the degree of Mistress of Arts. Her graceful bearing, and the dexterous discussion of the subject of her thesis—"When the Half Gods Go, the Gods Appear"—showed that her degree was worthily won. Rev. Mr. Huntley, of the Mississippi Conference, followed with an address which was pronounced by many to be chaste, appropriate and interesting.

The trustees of this institution have become convinced by the experiences of this session that the grounds and buildings are altogether too contracted to meet the demands of the future, and they have taken steps for enlargement. May they be successful!

C. G. ANDREWS.
For the Visiting Committee.

From the Work.

ABBEVILLE CIRCUIT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: We were appointed to this charge at last Conference by Bishop Hargrove, and, leaving the Crescent City on December 25, we traveled by railroad, fish tug, stage-coach and wheel-barrow, by the use of all which we found ourselves, on Saturday before the third Sunday in January, safely domiciled in our new home and ready to report for duty on the following morning, which we did. We preached our first sermon to a small audience from the text, "Where Art Thou?" This text, Mr. Editor, was a little "searching" in its tendency, and by following it up we bless God that we have not only been able to find the lukewarm professor, but, in a protracted meeting held last month, we found the backslider and the time-hardened sinner.

We were assisted in our meeting by Revs. H. S. Johns, of Washington; S. H. Whatley, of Eola, and J. W. Medlock, of New Iberia—all of said brethren rendering most efficient services. We had forty-eight accessions during the meeting, about half of which number were gloriously converted; and many were the shouts heard in the camps of Israel, as they, kneeling at the precious old Methodist altar (where so many have been converted), would find their loving Savior—to whom be all the glory!

We have two churches on this charge, at both of which we hold services every Sabbath. Sunday-school and prayer meeting are regularly held at each of these appointments, and we have another Sunday-school known as the Hope Mill. All of these institutions of the church are very much revived and are now in a healthy condition. There have been forty-four baptisms during the year—twenty-six of which were infants. My presiding elder baptized twenty-two of this number, which he said was the largest class of infants he had ever baptized at once.

We have taken about one-half of our Conference claims up to date. The pastor's salary is about one-quarter paid. This people take care of their preacher, and this preacher has learned to love his people very much. Children's Day was observed in one of our churches, contributions amounting to six dollars. We feel that God has wonderfully blessed our labors thus far, and we pray (and ask the prayers of the brethren) that God may continue his Spirit among us, that grander results may yet be accomplished.

Yours in Christ. J. E. DENSON.

ABBEVILLE CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: We are advancing on all lines on this circuit. Three prayer meetings and four Sunday-schools have been organized on the charge during the present year. Congregations have steadily increased all the while. The "decks" have been cleared on all the collections ordered by Conference, in cash and good subscription.

Our church at Abbeville has been repaired; the aisles and altar carpeted; the grounds sodded with Bermuda grass, and enclosed with beautiful palings, which are now being painted. The church will soon receive a new coat of paint. These and other improvements have been and are being accomplished, for the most part, through the enterprise of our noble ladies. We will soon have a library for our Sunday-school at Abbeville also. We are expecting a revival all over the circuit in answer to our prayers.

J. M. HUGGIN.

FAISONIA, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: We are here on Jones Bayou, Sunflower county, Miss. We have just read "Gilderoy's" article on the swamp. We are glad to have him come over here in the Delta, and to learn that he was pleased with some things he saw and heard. He is right about the kind of preachers we need down here. The devil is very aggressive here, but no more so than everywhere else. And we are glad to say that we have been blessed since we were united with the Conference with the very best men in the North Mississippi Conference; and with the leadership of our beloved presiding elder and his co-laborers we are going to take this bottom for God. Victory has rung out on all lines so far this year.

This pastoral charge is in good condition. Our pastor is doing a fine work for us this year. We have had seventy-seven accessions to our charge. We are building two new churches, and have five Sunday-schools—all using our own literature. We are selling New Salem Church. We have 200 students that attend our Sunday-schools. I will say to Bro. Futrell that we will send up the largest report of any charge in this district at the next Annual Conference. Our pastor has made 100 pastoral visits, and preached three times every Sunday, except two, this quarter. We have fine prospects in this Delta now for a good crop. And we are trying to have the same interest in spiritual things as in material. The Rev. O. L. Savage is our pastor this year, and is carrying on the good work begun by his worthy predecessors.

There is a great deal to be done in this country. And we are gratified to see the wisdom of the church in giving us men who are consecrated to the work. Methodism has a grand field in this bottom; and now is the time for us to plant our church. The command is, to "go into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." And this command is to the whole church, members as well as to ministers. And we are "doing what we can" to advance the Master's cause. Our revival has been going on all the year; but we will have a special series of meetings the third Sunday in July. Pray for us. Come up, Mr. Editor, and be with us. Yours, etc.,

C. F. CARTER.

COVINGTON CIRCUIT.

MR. EDITOR: Our third Quarterly Conference was held at Mandeville, on June 1 and 2, with Dr. T. S. West presiding, and representatives from three of my churches in attendance. Glad to say, had good reports to bring up, and Bro. West has now a warm place in the hearts of the Mandevillians, who had not met him before.

Since the second Sunday of this month we have been engaged in a determined onslaught against Satan's kingdom, beginning operations on Bayou Lacombe, at "Todd's Schoolhouse." I was under some disadvantage there, as I failed to obtain the ministerial help promised; but the Lord was with us, and I continued the services until Friday night, which resulted in the conversion of three, and two accessions to the church.

On the third Sunday we changed our base to Slidell, preaching that night to a good congregation. Monday morning Bro. S. J. Davies came to my assistance, and until Friday night poured hot gospel bombs of truth into the enemy's camp, resulting in the conversion of fifteen or twenty, and three accessions.

Sunday night, last, was my regular appointment here, and, as a protracted meeting had never been held here, I decided to protract and organize a church here. Bro. G. R. Ellis assisted me until yesterday morning, when Bro. Davies arrived. O, what a meeting this is! Nine accessions so far, and a complete capture of the town. The good Catholic priest left yesterday morning in disgust, as a "mob of Methodist preachers had come to take the place, and so many of his people gone to hear them." The homes of all, regardless of creed, are thrown open to us, and God is with us. Meeting closed Friday night, resulting in fourteen accessions, eleven of whom were converts from Catholicism.

Our St. Tammany Camp Meeting begins September 27.

L. W. WOOD, P. C.

JUNE 27, 1889.

BELZONA CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: The second Quarterly Conference of this charge was held June 22 and 23. Dr. J. J. Wheat was with us, and preached two splendid sermons, exposing sin and holding up Christ. Owing to much rain and high water, we did not have a good attendance of the official members. We took a collection on Sunday at eleven o'clock, and it amounted to $10 in cash and subscription.

Since I came in this charge we have ceiled one church, and raised money and bought an organ for another, and we are painting one at this time. Our congregations seem to be growing in size and interest. We are moving up a little in this work.

My predecessor seems to think that I slammed him some time ago by saying our people needed more and better preaching. I do not want my brother to feel slammed by that. I did not think of such a thing as slamming him or anyone else—that is, if I understand what he means by "slam." I just meant to give all young men some encouragement along that line. I do not think anyone should kick before they are spurred at. I do not want my brother to think that I am bragging on myself. I feel my littleness as much as anyone. W. H. SANDERS, P. C.

MEADVILLE CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: I send you a condensed report of our work for the last few months, showing that we are alive and improving. Really, Meadville circuit would keep a preacher busy if he had no energy about him trying to keep up with the ever-changing phases of their spiritual conditions. We have observed Children's Day at Meadville, Nebo, Oak Grove and Cool Springs with invariable success and increasing interest. Old folks, young folks, children, and even the candidates for county offices, enjoyed themselves to their heart's content. We had scarcely a ripple to mar the enjoyment of the occasions. We had recitations by the little folks, speeches by the earnest workers in the Sunday-school, a short sermon by the pastor, and the ever-present collection, not to say anything of the first-class dinners. Our collections amounted to $16 10 for needy Sunday-schools. We have received, in cash and good subscriptions, about half of our Conference collections, and are hopeful that we will meet our assessments in full. If our crop prospect continues as good as at present. Here in Meadville we have a good Sunday-school, a live prayer meeting. (A young lady visiting us from Brookhaven encouraged us very much by stating that we had a better attendance and better singing than they had in their little city.) We have, in addition to this, a lodge of Good Templars, lately organized, with about thirty members, wide-awake and full of zeal.

What more shall we say? Shall we tell of the ups and downs, and kicks and frowns of our enemies, the luke-warmness of some of our so-called friends, of some double-faced traitors in the camp? No; we leave them in the hands of the Lord, and go forward as best we may, praying for their conversion and hoping for success.

Very truly,

H. BRADFORD, P. C.

NATCHITOCHES, LA.

MR. EDITOR: Our good people, though very reluctant to give Miss Sallie M. Phillips up even for the great foreign missionary work, are joyous over the good news which arrived this morning from Nashville, to the effect that she had been accepted by the Board of Foreign Missions, and appointed to the field formerly assigned to Miss Clara Chrisman, who so recently fell a victim to the Johnstown flood. God is honoring and carrying on the great missionary work; ever and anon the good, the true, the loyal are taken from the busy scenes of the familiar walks of life, and suddenly transported to the better world; and in their foot-prints soon step others called of God to do their part of his work. "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord."

Miss Phillips is now in Homer, La., where she will remain until July 9, when she leaves for New York City, where she expects to sail on July 17 for Paricicaba, Brazil. May all of our prayers follow her!

Methodism here, Mr. Editor, is not on the wane. Our church building is being improved and beautified by our indefatigable, earnest, Christian ladies, who are continually suggesting and carrying out some well-ordered plan. Our congregations remain good during the summer months. Our Sunday-school is in good working order, and prayer meetings well attended—all of which is indicative of new zeal and interest in the work of the Lord. A. D. M'VOY, JR., P. C.

JOE JONES AT YAZOO CITY.

MR. EDITOR: Such a religious movement has never been known in Yazoo City as we, under the blessings of God, are now enjoying. About fifty have joined the different churches, and the reaping seems only to have begun. Scores and hundreds are daily asking for prayers. The subject of conversation everywhere, and by all classes, is "the great revival." The citizens' new warehouse, where the services are held on the banks of the Yazoo river, could not have been better constructed had it been built for the purpose. From 1,000 to 3,000 people are in attendance, and we have never been crowded. We expect, at least, 5,000 on Sunday (to-morrow). Bro. Bowen and others have been with us several days. "Joe" Jones, with his incisive, two-edged blade, and Bowen, with his persuasive eloquence and gospel balm, wound and heal as they go. The probable results of this meeting are great. Its possible results are beyond all estimate.

As "Joe" Jones is not so well known in this State and Louisiana as his brother "Sam," I will write more, at length, of him and this meeting later on. I have something to say. Brethren, pray for me, that I may be sufficient for the enlarged work, by so much new material being placed in my hands. R. S. WOODWARD.

JUNE 29, 1889.

REVIVAL IN WINONA.

MR. EDITOR: We have just closed a great revival in Winona. The number of conversions can not be estimated. Some think, at least, seventy-five were converted. Twenty-six joined the various churches, and others will join. We received twenty-three of the number. From the girl of twelve to the man of forty—old hardened sinners, young, tender sinners—were reached. The universal remark is, "We never saw the like before." All denominations took part. I am under special obligations to Dr. J. W. Price and Revs. J. E. Thomas, W. S. Lagrone, D. C. Foust, H. C. Morehead and R. C. Morehead for valuable services rendered; also to Rev. A. V. Rowe and Dr. Zealy, of the Baptist Church, for faithful service; also to the band of faithful men and women who stood by us and helped us in every emergency. Above all, to God, whose smiles were upon us all the while. New family altars were erected, old differences were settled. Nearly $500 has been raised to improve the parsonage and buy a bell for the church. The fact is, the church received untold benefits from the meeting. Price's forcible sermons stampeded the enemy, and Thomas' earnest appeals captured the wounded ones. T. W. LEWIS.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Hurlburt and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON III.—July 21,

SAMUEL THE REFORMER.

1. Sam. vii, 1-12.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Cease to do evil; learn to do well.—Isa. i. 16, 17.

TIME.—B. C. 1120.

PLACE.—Mizpeh (the watch-tower).

1. Men of Kirjath-jearim—That is, city of woods. It was the nearest large city to Beth-shemesh on the way to Shiloh, to which, perhaps, they supposed that the ark ought to return, that the ark remained at Kirjah-jearim till it was removed thence by David to Jerusalem. Sanctified Eleazar his son—The expression sanctified is the same as is applied in 1. Chronicles xv, 12, to the Levites, whom David bid, "Sanctify yourselves, both ye and your brethren, that ye may bring up the ark of the Lord of Israel."

2. Lamented after the Lord—They were afflicted with feelings of remorse for their apostasy, and yearned for reconciliation with the Lord, and then Samuel stirred their hearts to repentance. The phrase, to lament after God, is taken from human affairs, where one person follows another with earnest solicitations and complaints, until he at length assents. We have an example of this in the Syrophenician woman in Matthew xv.

3. Unto all the house of Israel—Going, as it should seem, from place to place, an itinerant preacher (for we find not that they were gathered together till verse 5), and wherever he came, this was his exhortation. If ye do return—The succeeding address of Samuel, "if ye return" (properly, "if ye are returning," "are in a state of conversion"), and the mention of the sincere penitence of the people (verse 6) presupposes a very deep sorrow and suffering, in which the foreign Philistine rule was felt to be a judgment of God. Strange gods and Ashtaroth—Ashtaroth (Greek Astarte) was the corresponding female deity, worshiped in Babylonia under the name Ishtar as the goddess of battles and victories, war-spoils being dedicated to her. Her symbol was the Asherah (rendered "grove" in Judges iii. 7, and frequently), probably a wooden column or image resembling the sacred tree of the Assyrians. The Baal worship, which began in the wilderness when the Israelites "joined themselves to Baal-Peor" the god of Moab, seems never to have been thoroughly eradicated during the period of the Judges. Prepare your hearts—Or, direct your hearts; having alienated your hearts from your idols, turn them to God. He will deliver you out of the hand—These words plainly imply a Philistine yoke, as the chastisement of their idolatry, of which no details are here given.

4. Baalim and Ashtaroth—Male and female deities of several of the neighboring nations, especially the Zidonians. Israel repeatedly fell into the worship of these idol gods.

5. All Israel—All who can come. They would be men chiefly: the women and children not being required to attend such great assemblies, and being kept at home, for the most part, by circumstances.

6. Drew water and poured it out before the Lord—Kitto thinks that this act was the confirmation of an oath, a solemn vow, and tells us that such is an Oriental method of confirming an oath or a promise. Poured out water in confirmation of the vow they were about to make, which was declared as irrevocable as the spilling of water upon the ground. Drawing water and pouring it out before Jehovah was a symbolical act, which has been thus correctly explained by the Chaldee, on the whole: "They poured out their heart like water in penitence before the Lord." This is evident from the figurative expressions, "poured out like water," in Psalms xxii, 15, and "pour out thy heart like water," in Samuel ii, 19, which are used to denote inward dissolution, through pain, misery and distress. Samuel judged the children of Israel—The functions which Samuel executed there as judge were twofold, civil and military. As civil judge, he did exactly what Moses did, as described in Exodus xviii, 13-16, "judged between one and another, and made them know the statutes of God and his laws;" as military judge, he did what Othniel, Ehud, Barak and Gideon had done before him, organized and marshaled the people for effectual resistance to their oppressors, and led them out to victory.

7. The lords of the Philistines went up—This implies a united invasion by the whole Philistine force. They were afraid—The following description of the behavior of the children of Israel and the conduct of Samuel, there being no hint of arming against the Philistines, or of an attempt by Israel to make a military movement against the advancing foe, shows clearly that the Israelites were not in readiness for such an attack, and had no military preparations.

8. Cease not to cry unto the Lord—The literal rendering, as in the margin, is, Be not silent from us from crying. The idea is of a person, say a king or judge, who, when entreated to grant some favor, turns away from the suppliant in stern silence. The second from has the force of a negative: "So as not to cry." The exact meaning of our passage may be thus expressed: Reject not our prayer, but cry unto the Lord our God. Their trust now is in Samuel's prayers, not in the presence of the ark. Not the arms of Israel put the Philistines to flight, but the prayers of Samuel.

9. A sucking lamb—Samuel selected a young lamb for the burnt-offering, as being the most suitable to represent the nation that had wakened to new life through its conversion to the Lord, and was, as it were, new born. For the burnt-offering represented the man who consecrated therein his life and labor to the Lord. Offered it for a burnt-offering wholly—The idea of the whole offering is here especially again expressed because the resolution to devote themselves to the Lord fully and undividedly, a devotion conditioned on the whole-hearted conversion and the purpose to serve the Lord alone, is expressed by the presentation of the burnt-offering. The Lord heard him—It should be, "And the Lord answered him," which both brings out the reference of Psalm xcix, 6, to this verse more distinctly, and also enables us to understand that the answer was not simply the granting the asked-for deliverance, but the great thunder which "was the voice of the Lord," the same voice with which the Lord answered Moses, to which allusion is made in Psalm xcix, 6, 8.

10. As Samuel was offering—This verse explains more in detail the brief statement in the preceding verse, and shows how and when the answer was given. Thundered with a great thunder—Thunder and rain at the time of the year when the assembly at Mizpeh was held are very rare. It was wheat harvest (1. Samuel ii. 17), that is, the end of May or the beginning of June, when the latter rains have ended. The thunder which alarmed the Philistines and threw them into confusion was the answer of God to Samuel's crying unto the Lord. The thunder was, no doubt, attended with lightning, which probably, as Josephus says, flashed in their faces and struck their weapons out of their hands. He adds that there was a great earthquake, which caused great gaps in the earth, into which they fell.

11. Beth-car—"House of a lamb," or "house of pasture." This place is nowhere else mentioned. It seems to have stood on a hill overhanging the road from the Philistine territory to Mizpeh and close to Ebenezer.

12. Samuel took a stone and set it—a memorial set up between Mizpeh and Shen (in Hebrew with the definite article)—"the tooth," probably some conspicuous "toothl" or spire of rock. The exact place is unknown, but "exactly at the spot where twenty years before they had obtained their great victory, the Philistines were totally routed."

Missionary.

India.

The missionary topics specially assigned for April are India, in the foreign field, and woman's work at home. In studying the situation in India, through the facts set forth in church papers and magazines and consular reports, a true balance can be struck between the hopes of the missionary workers and the unfriendly comments of those who talk about "a missionary failure." For in India, easier than anywhere else, these critics think they can locate the alleged failure. We have not found it yet, and we are perfectly confident that a full survey of the field will result in a general verdict of "not here," except in the imagination of the scoffers. It is interesting to know that just at this time, in the great city of Bombay, which is the Chicago of India, an enterprise is making a beginning in which thousands of the women of America are concerned. It almost seems as if the home mission topic of "women's work" had reached over into foreign ground and was taking root there, never to be torn up. We need but to mention the name of the Pundita Ramabai, to excite the interest of American ladies, who have made it a habit to read the papers. Ramabai's visit to this country last year, and her gathering of funds for the founding of a home for Indian child-widows, will be recalled readily. That home has just been established in Bombay—not in Poona, where it was first intended to open it. It was to be opened in March, according to the last issue of the Bombay Standard received at this office. In this school young girls, both "widows" and unmarried, are to be taught the English language and English ideas; also how to be self-supporting, so they may work for their living and be independent, as so many English and American girls are. Religious instruction will not be forced on any girl, but will be given to all who are willing to receive it. The subordination of religious training has caused misgiving and regret, in this country as well as in England and India. The Standard, speaking as a pronounced advocate of missions, puts the case thus:

"If the home succeed in drawing many refugees, it will also afford an experiment of the effect of Christian management without direct religious instruction. There are some who think that personal intercourse with a teacher or guardian, of true religious convictions and exemplary Christian life, may be as effective as compulsory instruction where it is unwillingly submitted to. The present experiment may help to show what can be done by philanthropic Christians, without adopting the methods or pursuing primarily the objects of the missionary."

Under the circumstances, the immediate success of the enterprise is declared to be impossible; but the hope is indulged that, in spite of the inevitable native opposition on both social and religious grounds, it will lead eventually to a radical change in the Hindu ideas and customs with regard to girls. The condition of Indian girls is lamentable, whether viewed from an intellectual, social or spiritual standpoint. Whatever will lead to their betterment in one way, ought to result in advance in all ways.—Interior.

The United Church in Japan.

Whatever missions there had been in Japan previous to the present generation were most effectually stamped out by persecution before the opening of the present century. The present work dates only from 1859.

Then, two societies, the Dutch Reformed, and the Presbyterian, had sent laborers there. But they were not allowed to preach. And the law of the land imposed the death penalty on any native who should profess the name of Christ. So that it was not until the year 1872 that any of the Japanese were baptized, and then only nine, and these secretly.

Seventeen years have passed. In these seventeen years the number of missionaries has grown from about a dozen to more than 120. We have just received the annual report of the United Church of Japan, which includes the work of the Dutch Reformed, Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and German Reformed Churches, and of the Woman's Missionary Society of America. The report does not give the figures from any Congregational, or Baptist, or Methodist missions. And yet it shows that in the year 1887 there were in this church 6,859 members!

The usual ratio of additions to our churches at home is from five to seven per cent. But in Japan there were, last year, 1,937 conversions, and 1,937 adult baptisms, an increase of not quite thirty per cent. And the number of members in this one church at the present time is 8,690.

In these churches of Presbyterian persuasion nearly nine thousand members have been gathered in seventeen years! And among other results is the grand fact that already there are thirty-six ordained native ministers, sixty-one churches, and eighty-one out stations! Verily, what hath God wrought!—Observer.

Mississippi Prohibitionists.

The State Prohibition Convention, in session last week at Jackson, Miss., in which twenty-three counties were represented, did some good work. A committee was appointed to draft a bill amending the local option law and present it to the Legislature, and obviate the difficulty arising from the recent decision of the Supreme Court in a case from Panola county, where local option prevails, wherein it was decided that an order taken for whisky and the money therefor collected in the county was not a violation of the local option law, when the whisky was delivered to the express company consigned to the buyer in Memphis, said delivery being the completion of the sale.

The convention adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the prohibitionists of Mississippi, reaffirm our opposition to the liquor traffic in all its branches, under high or low license, or under no license, and that in the irrepressible conflict between the saloon, with its kindred and attendant vices, on the one side, and the home and the church and the school on the other side, we unqualifiedly pledge all the powers of our enfranchised manhood to the side of our homes, our churches and our schools.

2. That in our warfare upon the liquor traffic we should constantly educate the people to accept and act on principle rather than on supposed temporary experience.

3. That we consider it unwise and unpatriotic to raise revenue for schools or any other purpose out of an article that has filled the land with mourning and prostrated the highest hope of the country, and that no people have the moral right to license sin in order to obtain the elements of an education.

4. That we are solemnly convinced that what is morally wrong can never be politically right or expedient, and that the present license laws of Mississippi, forming a partnership between the State and the saloonists of the State, are a league with death, a sin against God and a crime against the unoffending citizen; therefore we urge upon the Legislature the placing of the liquor traffic under the ban of the law, along with gambling and other kindred vices, by passing a prohibitory law against the sale of intoxicating liquors in the State of Mississippi.

5. That believing in the permanency prohibition, the highest results under it must rest largely upon an intelligent knowledge by the people of the injurious effects of alcohol and alcholic liquors as a beverage, we reaffirm our position in favor of the passage by the next Legislature of a law requiring scientific temperance instruction in all the public schools of the State.

6. That while we disavow any purpose to form a separate party organization, we urge upon prohibitionists throughout the State to co-operate in every county and precinct of the State in the support and election of such candidates to the Legislature as are known to be friendly to our reform.

Judge Cowan offered a resolution, which was adopted, appointing a committee of eleven to attend the next session of the Legislature, and stay with it till it passes the law prohibiting the sale of liquor in Mississippi or until it adjourns.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

BROWNE & JENKINS,
DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN
WALL PAPER
174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Write for prices. Samples sent to country free.
Mention this Paper.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.
COSTLEY & RANDOLPH,
BUILDERS,
OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.
287 EIGHTH ST.,
Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Both building and repairing promptly attended to.

If You Have
an appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," or losing flesh, you will find
Tutt's Pills
the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach, build up the flagging energies as no other medicine will, and
CURE CONSTIPATION.
To enjoy health one should have regular evacuations every twenty four hours. The evils, mental and physical, resulting from
HABITUAL CONSTIPATION
are many and serious. For the cure of this common trouble, Tutt's Liver Pills have gained a popularity unparalleled.
A TORPID LIVER
deranges the whole system and produces
Sick Headache,
Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.
There is no better remedy for these frequent diseases than Tutt's Pills, as a trial will prove. They should be found in every household. They are perfectly harmless, reliable, and can be taken without restraint of diet or occupation. Plain or sugar-coated. Sold everywhere. Price, 25c.
Office, 44 Murray Street, N.Y.

PIANOS L&B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE 1 TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS
$25,000
Worth of Pianos and Organs
Must be Closed Out by August 1.
New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand
TAKEN IN EXCHANGE
and made new in our repair factory.
MUST SELL!
Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices. Easy Terms. Write for Bargain Sheet.
LUDDEN & BATES
SAVANNAH, GA.

CLARK & MEADER,
—DEALERS IN—
FINE GROCERIES,
16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and
Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.
Mention this paper.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.
CARPETS
CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITIES.
Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.
Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.
All work is guaranteed.
Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works,
44 ST. PETER ST.
W. L. JARVIS.

WALL PAPER
in all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty.
WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES,
WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS,
UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.
Framing Neatly Done.
PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS,
RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS.
EDWARD HEATH,
Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST.,
NEW ORLEANS.

Frank Walker & Co.,
WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,
Rollers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,
117 Tchoupitoulas St.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,
DEALER IN
WALL PAPERS,
Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.
263 - CAMP STREET - 263
Cor. Delord and Poydras, NEW ORLEANS.
Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its Branches.
W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

A. Brousseau's Son,
23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,
CHINA MATTING,
CARPETS,
INGRAINS,
LACE CURTAINS,
WINDOW SHADES,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER.
METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.
971 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord,
NEW ORLEANS.
Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

AGENTS WANTED!
LADIES OR GENTLEMEN,
TO INTRODUCE
"Christian Womanhood,"
"Life and Times of Bishop Pierce,"
and other good books. Apply at once to
F. D. VANVALKENBURGH,
106 Camp St., New Orleans.
Mention this paper.

Queen & Crescent ROUTE

FROM
New Orleans to Cincinnati.
94 MILES THE SHORTEST.
TIME, 27 HOURS.
Entire Trains through without change, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the
NORTH and EAST,
NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,
Without Transfer through the City.
Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.
MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.
Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.
R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans
J. C. GAULT, General Manager, Cincinnati, O.
D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.
"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS
And Through Cars for All Classes to
CHICAGO,
Connecting with all Buffet and Hlding Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes
To St. Louis Without Change.
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.
The Shortest and Best Line
FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.
Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 6 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.
The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.
THE ONLY LINE
—RUNNING—
Pullman Sleeping Cars
THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE
To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and
KANSAS CITY,
Where Close Connections Are Made to Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.
ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS
FROM NEW ORLEANS TO
Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.
TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.
J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—
Texas and Pacific
Railway Company.
SHORT LINE
—BETWEEN—
NEW ORLEANS,
TEXARKANA,
SHREVEPORT,
AND POINTS IN
Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.
Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.
For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address
B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas
JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,
General Insurance Agents
—FOR—
FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING
COMPANIES.
Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.
Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.
64 BARONNE ST., N. O.
Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS
(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....9:00 am	No. 2.....4:00 pm
No. 3.....5:15 pm	No. 4.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:10 am	No. 6.....4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 F'st Ex...7:00 am
No. 1 F'st Ex...7:20 pm	No. 6 Coast...3:10 pm
No. 5 Coast...3:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex...3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r, 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r, 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 Californ'a Express, 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express, 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local, 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local, 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local....7:20 pm
No. 17 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor..11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.
(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd..11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd.....3:35 pm
No. 5, Fast Line..6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line..7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO.
(Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line..6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line..3:35 pm

P. AND P. EAST LA.
(Abita Springs.)
Daily Except Sundays.

Arrive.....8:30 am	Leave.....4:00 pm

Sunday Schedule.

Arrive.....7:25 pm	Leave.....7:30 am

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.
J. C. MORRIS CO.,
(LIMITED)
40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,
—Manufacturers and Dealers in—
WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.
Catalogues furnished on application.

CARRIAGES,
Buggies, Phaetons,
Surreys, Carts,
HARNESS,
Baby Carriages,
R. P. RANDALL,
54 and 56 Baronne Street,
New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS,
FUNERAL : DIRECTORS.
CARRIAGES TO HIRE.
Funeral Parlor at Establishment.
243 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.
Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in uncorrupted territory. Send on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agts. 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.
Mention this paper.

New Spring Clothing.
WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. O. B. Prince Albert Diagonal Suits. Scarfs, Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at
WM. H. PIERSON'S.
Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,
DEALER IN FINE CLOTHING
—AND—
Men's Furnishing Goods.
Headquarters of the Celebrated
McCOWN SHIRT.
Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats
CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.
Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.
10 Discount to Preachers.

DRAINING MACHINES,
IRRIGATION PUMPS,
DREDGES.
Send for Circular, or call at Factory.
JOS. MENGE,
105 Tchoupitoulas

THE PEOPLE SAY
Go where you will in this broad land TEMPLE'S RHEUMATIC SPECIFIC is recommended to relieve every case of Rheumatism, and permanently cure nine out of ten cases. Sold by druggists $1.25 per bottle. Compounded by Temple Medicine Co., Hamilton, O.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers (either sex) make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered.
Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

AGENTS WANTED, MEN OR WOMEN, To sell the Celebrated MISSOURI STEAM WASHER. Fits all Stoves. Washes by Hot Steam. No Rubbing. Terms Liberal.
MISSOURI WASHER CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. O. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1889.

Vicksburg District Conference.

This body convened in the city of Vicksburg, July 4. The attendance of ministers was pretty fair, but the laymen did not make a large show. Bishop Galloway was present, and conducted the proceedings of the Conference with great tact and ability. The preachers reported very fully upon the various phases of the work, and from these reports we concluded that in most places and on most lines progress is being made in the Lord's cause. The spiritual condition of the church is good, and in many places growing better. The people are attending the preaching of the Word and the social meetings of the church, and living in an earnest use of the means of grace. The power of the Lord to heal has been manifested on many of the circuits, and many sinners have been brought into the kingdom of Christ. Some new churches have been built, and some old ones repaired, and titles to property have been carefully looked after. Sunday-schools, new and old, seem to be flourishing, teachers generally faithful, children interested in Bible instruction, and superintendents working and guiding their schools with much success. The financial reports of the preachers indicate a want of system in the management of this part of the work. It is unfortunate that so little system obtains in that line of work where it is so much needed. The preachers' salaries are very much behind, and, so far, the general collections are too much in arrears. The preacher who delays making effort to take his collections until the latter part of the year adopts a policy that will almost always result in small collections.

A gratifying fact is found in the revival of interest in our educational work. Our preachers and people are awaking to the importance and very necessity of education by the church if we would hold our own with other denominations and with the State in this matter. There seems to be a general revival all over Mississippi and Louisiana on this subject. The matter was brought before the public of Vicksburg by the District Conference arranging for and holding a grand mass meeting on the subject, on Friday evening, in the Methodist Church. A good audience showed the interest in the subject. After religious services by the presiding elder, Rev. E. H. Mounger, president of Port Gibson Female College, read a carefully prepared and scholarly essay on the subject, which was listened to with great interest, and which made a deep impression upon the audience. Dr. Hunnicutt followed with an address on Christian education, taking and enforcing with vigor of thought and aptness of illustration the position that Christian people, whatever else they may educate their children in, are bound by the express command of God to educate them in the religion of the Bible. Bishop Galloway spoke earnestly and forcibly to the point, that whoever educates the young governs the country, and that the church must do this work or fail in her mission. He presented the cause of the new Mississippi College hereafter to be established, and secured several subscriptions to the same. Altogether the exercises of the evening were interesting and inspiring, and we will be disappointed if the church people in Vicksburg do not show a much greater interest in Christian education in the future than they have done in the past.

Several essays were read and addresses made by different brethren on important subjects during the progress of the session, which contributed to make the occasion one of much interest.

The following persons were elected delegates to the Annual Conference: T. A. Holloman, W. D. Brown, W. G. Paxton, W. A. Gunning.

The Deification of Brute Force.

We give our readers the benefit of part of an editorial that appeared in the Picayune, last Monday morning, on the prize fight which has been the subject of newspaper articles and private talk for weeks. It is a sad comment on our civilization that such a disgrace is possible among our people. Those in authority are to be commended for the efforts made to prevent such a brutal and barbarous exhibition of physical strength and training. Are we returning to the shameful practices of heathenism in its lowest form? The Picayune says:

For days the city of New Orleans has been a focus of extreme public interest, and a scene of intense popular excitement. It is a Mecca to which thousands of devoted, if not devout, pilgrims have been hastening from all quarters of the continent, and a center from which has radiated news that has been eagerly read in every city and town in the country.

It ought to be a humiliating fact that the cause of all this anxious interest was nothing more than a proposed game of fisticuffs, a mere slugging match between two athletes, but that is enough to cause a great deal of commotion, and that has proved sufficiently potent to produce the state of things just described.

We do not by any means desire to underrate athletic sports. We do not particularly object to a match to test the qualities of two champions in the fistic art. A pair of black eyes and a bloody nose are not especially brands of crime any more than solid muscle and expertness in boxing are evidences of moral depravity. On the contrary, we believe that a proper development of the physical constitution is a worthy part of a wise education. The only thing in the entire matter to which we object is the intense and overpowering interest in a show of brute force that has seized on the people far and wide.

Instead of regarding this matter just as they would any other spectacle or public exhibition, the people of all the American cities have wrought themselves into a frenzy of excitement over the proposed meeting of two boxers. Before they arrived in this city these men were the theme of universal speculation and inquiry. After they had arrived here the interest and curiosity developed into a wild worship, the one who was distinguished for his brutal and ignoble characteristics being the principal deity. Day and night his devotees stood in the streets before his house gazing at the blank walls which inclosed their divinity, while every leading newspaper in the United States reported in detail his daily movements with the minuteness and complaisance that a European court journal would give to the acts of a reigning sovereign.

That it may be seen that this worship of brute force is not peculiar to the people of this city, it will only be necessary to state that our hotels and public houses are filled with the leading men of the principal States of the Union, who have traveled thousands of miles to take part in this apotheosis of animality, while every prominent public journal in the Union has from one to half a score of its staff correspondents present to report the details of this symposium of sluggers.

It is this deification of animal endowments that is culpable. It is the actual erecting of a mere sport, the pastime of a moment, into a business so absorbing and important that everything else is to be cast aside for it. It is the public declaration by press and people that a man whose trade is to bung the eyes and mash the noses of his fellows is more to be admired and emulated than is the best and noblest specimen of our race. It is a practical demonstration that no mental or moral qualities or achievements can bring to a man anything like the praise or the profit that can be got from the animal endowments and characteristics of the professional bruiser. It is a general acknowledgment of the fact that a prize fighter is chief in honor and in the admiration of what may be called the leading members of society.

Truly the brutality which is the highest expression of modern Boston culture has reached a stage that borders on deification. It is the disgrace of the age.

Aberdeen District Conference.

The District Conference of Aberdeen district, North Mississippi Conference, closed a most profitable and enjoyable session at Houston, on Sunday night, last, June 30. A Sunday-school Conference was held on Thursday preceding. This was separate from, though in connection with, the District Conference. The day was taken up in the discussion of Sunday-school matters. The attendance was good; much interest was manifested by the members of the Conference, the brethren taking the parts previously assigned them, and entering heartily into the discussion of the subjects proposed. The Sunday-school cause appears to be growing in interest and making progress throughout our territory.

The District Conference proper was organized Friday morning. The Bishop not having arrived, Rev. Amos Kendall, our presiding elder, occupied the chair, presiding with easy grace, and holding the Conference well in hand, "as if to the manner born." The various departments of work, as represented by the pastors and other members of the Conference, evinced life and vigor. The outlook of the church all over the district is bright and hopeful. The signs are cheering. We shall look for a large return for the Master at the close of the year. Bishop Galloway, who has attended a number of District Conferences in Mississippi, expressed much gratification at the prospects of Methodism throughout the State.

The Conference emphasized the importance of the Word, and, besides the night services, adjourned every day at eleven for preaching. Bro. J. A. Whitehurst was appointed to preach on Wednesday night. As I did not reach the seat of the Conference until Thursday morning, I did not have the pleasure of hearing Bro. Whitehurst. He is a good preacher, and the sweet singer of the district. Others, in the order of their names, occupied the pulpit, and preached to good and attentive congregations: W. T. Shell, T. C. Wier, W. W. Wollard, J. A. Barnes and D. L. Mitchel, business manager of the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE. We all did our best under the circumstances. Saturday night Bishop Galloway delivered an address on Christian education, and called for subscriptions to the projected Methodist Male College in Mississippi. Between twelve and thirteen hundred dollars were subscribed. We rejoice at the prospect of a college in Mississippi in the near future for the education of males, and under the control of the two Conferences. The Bishop was in fine trim for work. His talks, addresses and eloquent, earnest sermon on the Sabbath were listened to with great pleasure by the Conference and the audience at large. Rev. D. L. Mitchel, of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, represented our Conference organ so successfully as to carry away with him the names of forty-three new subscribers. The love-feast, Sunday afternoon, led by Bro. Mitchel, was a season of refreshing and gladness. Many stood up for Jesus and testified joyfully. Such a love-feast the Bishop, I believe it was, said he had rarely, if ever, seen. May its gracious influence, as well as its memory, long remain in our hearts! Rev. G. W. Bachman, the efficient and laborious book agent of our Conference, was with us, representing the publications of our church. He is doing a great work; and the work is growing in his hands. The people buy many more books now, he reports, than when he began the work several years ago. Bro. Bachman preached on Sunday night on the nature of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The communion followed, administered by Bro. Kendall. It was a most impressive and delightful service, participated in by a large number of Christians, and witnessed by a large and serious congregation. The citizens of Houston entertained the Conference with a generous and cordial hospitality. Thus closed one of the most pleasant and profitable District Conferences that it has been our privilege to attend.

T. C. WIER.

Letter from California.

MR. EDITOR: Summer is upon us now, and many of the citizens of our town are preparing to flee to mountain, desert or beach. Some have already gone. This looks almost unnecessary to us, since our nights and days are delightfully cool and pleasant, and we stand in dread of no epidemic. We are told that it is never too warm or too cold here for comfort. It does not rain, though clouds sometimes rise and obscure the sun in the forenoon. The late arrival from the East remarks, "Surely it will rain to-day." But he is invariably disappointed. It has not rained here for a long time. Do you ask if the dust does not choke us? No. It does not seem more dusty here than in Mississippi—me judice. It is surprising how moist the ground is just under the surface. Corn that has never had rain or irrigation is higher than a tall man's head, and is just as fresh and green as Mississippi swamp corn that has had its full quota of showers. Considering the no-rain question, we find the school-boy East enjoys one advantage over the California boy—in that he does have a holiday now and then, thanks to the rain.

The longer we stay here, the more are we convinced that this is a country of contradictions. Some of our papers and people have taken exceptions at what is reported of Sam Jones in his sermon—"California and Californians." The extracts I saw were taken from the Atlanta Constitution. Many persons do take cold here readily. The climate is not like any other, and one has to get acclimated no matter where he goes. A stranger riding out often thinks he is going down when, in reality, he is ascending, and vice versa. The water seems to be running up in certain places when the opposite is found to be true by actual measurement. We think, however, if Sam Jones had come to Santa Ana, he would not have written back home that all the fine fruit had been shipped East just before his arrival in California. Our friends and neighbors here supplied us on our arrival with a great abundance and variety of the finest and most luscious of canned fruits. We now have fresh fruits to be had in abundance at low figures, such as peaches, cherries, apricots, cranberries and strawberries.

Rev. James Healey, a transfer from the Mississippi Conference, with his family, were our guests on their arrival here. Owing to the change of time of our Conference from spring to fall, we had no Bishop on hand to fix his appointment; but our vigilant and efficient presiding elder, Rev. R. H. Parker, took him in hand, and assigned him to San Diego.

Rev. H. M. Dubose, another Mississippian, is at Trinity, Los Angeles, doing a fine work, and making a fine impression, we are told.

During the recent District Conference, held in this place, it was our pleasure to meet Rev. Abram Adams, a brother of our lamented Dr. T. A. S. Adams, of the North Mississippi Conference. He is a faithful, consecrated man. We met also Bro. J. B. Johnson, at the same time, a Mississippian, now of San Bernandino station.

The name of Dr. Adams suggests a story I have heard; and as I have never seen it in print, will give it to the readers of the ADVOCATE, with your permission. It is said that a man in Attalla county, Mississippi, wanted to sell his pony, which the crowd seemed to think was rather a poor specimen of horse-flesh. After repeated effort and failure to make a sale, the owner gave vent to a short speech, addressing the crowd near him. He finished by indignantly exclaiming that the people of Attalla could appreciate his horse no more than they could Dr. Adams' "Enscotidion," and were only capable of appreciating such things as Waterbury watches and "Gilderoy's" stories! I do not vouch for the story, but give it as it came to me.

It seems only a few days since we read that Miss Clara Chrisman had been accepted, and would soon sail as a missionary to Brazil. Then we read Bishop Galloway's letter to Bro. Mellen, bidding Miss Chrisman a farewell, and in loving tenderness invoking the Father's blessing upon the dear young girl, and upon the loved ones she was to leave. And the terrible news came that her mission is ended, and she has gone home. Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved family.

At the recent session of the Woman's Missionary Society of this Conference, money was raised to send Mrs. Campbell (a missionary from Los Angeles) an organ. So the good work goes on.

We may become so weaned in time as not to need it, but at present the weekly visit of the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE is a necessity to us.

We could write longer, but forbear out of regard to you and the ADVOCATE readers.

Yours truly,

MRS. A. C. OATES.

SANTA ANA, California.

The Louisiana Lottery.

Dr. Richard Abbey gives, in the Nashville Advocate, an account of a movement in New Orleans for the organization of an anti-lottery society. This movement has been too long delayed, but better late than never. Mormonism, the open saloon and the Louisiana Lottery are the main blots on the escutcheon of America. The lottery is charged with defrauding the State out of large amounts of taxes, estimated at from $600,000 to $2,500,000. The lottery has given large charities, but it is asserted that they amount to less than one-fourth of the amount out of which the State has been defrauded. The company has grown into enormous proportions. It has had a powerful grasp upon public sentiment, enabling it to stifle law and pervert justice. It has given itself respectability in many eyes by impudent charities for religious and benevolent ends.

The anti-society should be organized by all means; the people should be enlightened in regard to this great gambling hell and swindling machine; and the good people of the nation should arise in their might and put down this great abuse.

All or most of the States have statutes against gambling in its various forms, but here is a gigantic gambling scheme, sustained and licensed by law, winked at and tolerated by men in high places, lauded and advertised by the newspapers, patronized by open sinners and hypocritical church members. It is a disgrace to Louisiana; a shame to the American people. —Southern Christian Advocate.

The Lord in the Camp.

MR. EDITOR: The services of the Seashore Camp Meeting were opened on Friday evening by a sermon from the presiding elder of the Mobile district—Dr. Lamar. His theme—"The Willingness of the Holy Spirit to Own and Bless Our Efforts"—has furnished the key-note to the endeavors of God's people. Intense spirituality prevails. No sentimental superficialty; no vainglory in counting and giving number of parties blessed. The managers of the meeting—Drs. Evans, West and Lamar—are determined not to grieve the Holy Spirit by the introduction of questionable devices. They long for souls—souls washed in the blood of the Lamb—souls born of the Spirit. The preaching has been excellent, a positive gospel presented, leaving application and a possible castigation to conscience. Strange that certain preachers endeavor to do what conscience only can do successfully! Speak of particular sermons? That would be unbrotherly discrimination. Only this: All the preachers who filled the pulpit seemed to enjoy the unction of the Holy One.

The attendance on the grounds is excellent—as good, if not better, than during any of the former meetings. A hundred Tennesseans arrived on Saturday. True, a few are content with the enjoyment of the rare beauties and comforts which nature so lavishly bestowed; but most of the attendants desire more than sea-breezes and salt-water baths: they are anxious to witness the operations of the wind of the Lord, breathing upon "the slain," restoring the "dry bones" to animation. It is, indeed, good to be here.

Yours in the Lord,

JEAN PAUL.

Notes.

See how our fund for another missionary to Japan is growing. The NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE has sent one missionary to that important field, and we expect to send another. It takes only a thousand dollars, and we are confident that one hundred ADVOCATE readers will send the $10 apiece. Won't you send and help us?

The following resolution, introduced by Rev. J. W. Medlock, and seconded by Dr. D. W. Foster, was passed by the Opelousas District Conference:

Whereas, The Louisiana State Lottery Company is a disgrace to our State, a demoralizer of our people and a general corrupter of our institutions; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we heartily endorse any publication, or the use of other means, looking to the creation of a determined public sentiment against it, and pledge our co-operation in all proper efforts looking to the defeat of its continued existence.

The Richmond Christian Advocate says:

There is still a prejudice against a preacher who has won by hard service and stinting economy or by inheritance a rooftree for the children. Folks who would not give the orphan of an itinerant a dime to keep him from an almshouse grumble that their minister is "worldly"—in fact, owns a lot at some college where the children may get an education if rendered fatherless. There are men who give the daylight to the church and the night to toil with pen for a distant press to leave a small store of savings for their little ones. What comes to the purse from this source is hid for fear some stingy saint who sings with closed eyes as the basket goes around will demand its expenditure for his benefit.

The Baton Rouge Collegiate Institute, so long and favorably known in Louisiana and Mississippi, under the management of Prof. W. H. N. Magruder, has closed its career of usefulness and honorable work. At the last commencement the Professor announced that the exercises closed the life of the institution. It makes us feel as if a great star had dropped out of the educational heavens, to read that Prof. Magruder will no longer teach. His whole life has been spent in that work, and his withdrawal from it creates a blank in the corps of Louisiana's teachers that no one can fill. We agree with the Baton Rouge Advocate in the following sentiment:

With the whole community we rejoice that we are still to have Dr. Magruder to counsel and encourage, and act too, for he is still hale and hearty, despite years. Of him it may be truly said he is seventy-four years young. He was wrong, however, in his announcement that the Collegiate Institute was dead. It can never die, so long as the principles shall live which its distinguished founder has so worthily taught.

Personal and Otherwise.

Dr. Hunnicutt secured at the Opelousas District Conference $1,700 for Centenary. This is additional to some $7,000 or $8,000 secured previously. At the Shreveport District Conference he secured $8,400, with the promise of more. At the Homer District Conference he secured $1,500. He is very much encouraged, and so are all the friends of the college.

Dr. David Leith, of Trenton, Tenn., in a private note, says that the Sam Jones Camp Meeting at that place will be held August 20-27, inclusive. Sam Jones has promised to be there at that time.

Rev. T. H. B. Anderson is writing some strong articles in the Los Angeles Advocate in favor of a Bishop residing on the Pacific coast.

The Board of Trustees of the Florida Conference College, at Leesburg, have elected as president of that institution, Rev. T. W. Moore, D. D.

Our old friend, Dr. M. B. Chapman, of Hannibal, Mo., has charge of the Foreign Missionary Conference of the Missouri Chautauqua Assembly. The Assembly convenes July 17, at Pertle Springs, Warrensburg, Mo.

Two godly women have lately passed the flood: Mrs. A. M. Pierce, widow of Bishop Pierce, and Mrs. J. J. Cotrell. The Father is welcoming his children home.

Prof. J. J. Tigert, of Vanderbilt University, gladdened our office with a sunny presence last week. He was en route to Georgetown, Texas, to attend the Chautauqua Assembly and deliver addresses. He expects to spend several days at Seashore Camp Meeting on his return.

The third annual meeting of the Mississippi State Sunday-school Convention is to be held at Starkville, July 23-27. An extensive program has been prepared.

Rev. Joe Jones, the brother of Sam Jones, is to be at the Sam Jones Camp Meeting, near Gloster, Miss., August 9.

The annual catalogue of the Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Ga., is before us. This oldest of all the female colleges is still holding on its course at the head of the column. It has been graduating girls since 1840. It has turned out 1,166 A. B.'s and A. M.'s.

A brother caused a smile to ripple over the faces of the Conference when he remarked that he thought a part of his circuit should be raised to a session!

Another brother reported that not a family in his circuit was in the habit of holding family worship! Of course, religion is not at the flood-tide of that work!

We hear that some of our young preachers are imitating Sam Jones. We simply say to all such, "Don't do it unless you are convinced that you have Sam Jones' genius."

Bishop Wilson was on the train on the Norfolk and Western road, in the disaster last week, and received serious injuries. His body was badly bruised, and he received a cut in the left side and on the left wrist. He is at home at last accounts. We trust nothing serious will result to the bishop.

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. J. A. Bowen writes from Yazoo City, Miss., June 29: "Bro Joe Jones is capturing this city for Christ. Thousands hear him; scores are being converted. Bro. R. S. Woodward, the pastor, deserves great credit for the preparations for the meeting. He is assisted by the pastor of other churches."

—Rev. D. P. Bradford writes from Jackson, La., July 6: "In the providence of God we have been called to pass through afflictions recently. On June 13 my wife was taken sick. The next Wednesday attending physicians thought the end was near. With illness and resignation she assured me that she was ready to meet the 'messenger.' It was not God's pleasure, however, to take her then. She grew some better, and then relapsed, and is now very low, though we hope nature will yet triumph over disease. Many earnest prayers have gone up to God in her behalf. On June 25, our dear little Mattie (nearly nine years of age) was taken with the same disease (flux) that prostrated my wife, which soon terminated in congestion; and in two days we closed her eyes in death. We have had warm friends in our sadness. The Odd Fellows wore first to anticipate our wants. Other friends in this community, besides those of my circuit—Bayou Sara—have given practical evidences of sympathy. God only knows what is yet in store for us; but believe his grace will sustain us. I ask the prayers of my brethren."

—Rev. T. W. Lewis writes from Winona, Miss., July 1: "Our meeting at Winona just closed; seventy-five conversions, at least, in and out of the church; twenty-four accessions to our church; and five to other churches."

—Rev. E. G. Kilgore, writing from Coffeeville, Miss., July 1, says: "I have just returned from a glorious revival at Marianna, Ark., said to have been one of the very best meetings in the history of the place. Praise the Lord! Bro. Scruggs is now in a meeting at this place, assisted by Bro. Morehead. The outlook is good. My wife is sick at this writing. Pray for us."

—Rev. H. P. Gibbs, P. C., writes from Dublin, Miss., June 28: "There is living near Dublin, Coahoma county, Miss., an old colored man born in North Carolina in 1777, and is now 112 years old. He can walk and talk—in fact, is possessed with all his faculties, and yet they say this is an unhealthy country. The old man has just found Jesus, who, he says, is precious to his soul. I have had the privilege of praying with this aged man, accompanied with our worthy presiding elder. He awaits his Master's call."

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

PLAIN TALKS WITH YOUNG HOME-MAKERS. By F. McCready Harris (Hope Ledyard). Cassell & Co., New York, George E. Wharton, 5 Carondelet St., New Orleans. These are "plain talks" about everything connected with the home, and will prove interesting and instructive to all readers who have homes.

ALLURING ABSURDITIES. FALLACIES OF HENRY GEORGE. By M. W. Meagher. The American News Company, New York. Price, twenty-five cents.

EPITAPHS, ORIGINAL AND SELECTED. By J. S. Clark. Published by John P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky. Price, twenty-five cents.

PERIODICALS.

—The Gospel in All Lands, for July, is devoted principally to Malaysia. This is a valuable missionary periodical, published by the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at 805 Broadway, New York, for $1 50.

—Wide Awake, for the current month, will make the eyes of all the young people sparkle. The reading is good and the pictures are exquisite. D. Lothrop Company, Boston. $2 40.

The July Century is simply superb. There is matter of the finest quality for every class of readers; and what else could they desire? Century Company, New York. Price, $4.

—The stately Forum holds forth a fine prospect for July readers. Bishop Potter, Edward Everett Hale, Senator Morrill, W. S. Lilly, Dr. Austin Flint, George J. Romanes, Prof. W. J. McGee, Jennie C. Croly, and one or two more cater to the public palate. Forum Publishing Company, New York. Price, $5.

—The Quarterly Review, for July, will prove of great interest to its readers. Dr. Abbey, Brunner, Tigert, Simmons and Price contribute to this number. Dr. Abbey philosophizes on the Atonement; Dr. Tigert, on Theism and the Standards; Dr. Simmons, on Christ in the Old and New Testament, and Dr. Price, on The Body, the Symbol of the Soul. Dr. Harrison, the editor, gives an exhaustive article on The Doctrinal Standards of Methodism. Our people ought surely to know now what the standards are. Publishing House, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Nashville, Tenn. Price, $2 50.

—Our Little Ones, for July, is just the thing for the "wee ones" during the heat of the present month. Russell Publishing Company, Boston. Price, $1 50.

—The Educational Exchange is a new periodical in the interests of education, published by Southern School Exchange, Birmingham, Ala. Price, ten cents; or $1 per annum.

—Medical Classics is full of charming and profitable reading. Solid sense and valuable information are presented in a sprightly and pleasing way. Edited by Ferdinand Seeger, A. M., M. D. Send for a copy. Address Medical Classics, 38 Murray street, New York. Price, ten cents per copy.

Teachers! Teachers!!

A number of ladies and gentlemen educated, wholly or in part, in Iuka Normal Institute, desire positions for next year. They are mature men and women. Many were experienced teachers before they entered the Normal. Next school year begins September 2.

Write to H. A. Dean, Principal, Iuka, Miss.

Notice.

To the Preachers of the Brandon District, Mississippi Conference:

DEAR BRETHREN: You will please ascertain and let me know, at your earliest convenience, who of your delegated and local preachers will attend the District Conference, to convene at Shiloh Church, six miles southwest of Pelahatchie station, V., and M. R. R., August 1-4, inclusive. And I wish to request all that can do so to come by private conveyance, as the church is in the country, and it will be necessary to go from one-half to five miles around.

I also wish to request all that attend to come praying for the baptism of the Holy Ghost, as I am anxious for a gracious revival during the District Conference. Brethren, pray for it.

Mr. Editor, may we look for you? Please come, if possible.

A. D. MILLER.

CATH, Miss., June 26, 1889.

P. S.—Bishop Galloway will preside. A. D. M.

Use Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer and your thin gray locks will thicken up and be restored to their youthful color, vigor, and beauty.

Another Missionary to Japan.

Our fund to send another missionary to Japan is growing gradually. Why should it not grow faster? Have you sent your $10? Can't you spare that much to help the Lord's cause on this line? Won't you send it right away? Who next? The following have contributed up to going to press:

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Shelmire	10 00
Mrs. H. G. Flowers	10 00
Another Subscriber	10 00
Mrs. E. W. Davidson	10 00
H. Jenkins	10 00
A brother, for his three sons	30 00
Isaiah Tucker	10 00

Notice.

The following is the programme of the Sunday-school Conference, Meridian district, for Saturday, July 27, 1889:

Song. Prayer.

Bible Reading. Ten Bible Rules for Successful Teaching, conducted by L. P. Brown.

Song. "More and Better Work"—Rev. C. G. Andrews, D. D.

Promise Service. "The Work Before Us—Pleasures, Difficulties, Methods, Wants"—Revs. J. W. Chambers, J. P. Drake.

Praise Service. Benediction.

E. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

Students of medicine would do well to send for the catalogue of the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

BEECHAM'S PILLS cure sick-headache.

Publisher's Department.

DAVES' TRAINING-SCHOOL.—Daves' Training-School, Lake Charles, La. Joel T. Daves, Walter W. Daves, Principals. Competent teachers supplied as necessity arises. Honest, real work in all departments. Discipline strict, but not harsh. Obedience and study conditions of membership. Pupils prepared for advanced college classes, or for practical duties of life. Pupils desiring to take music will have the advantages of Madame Mercier-Peavy's training, which has but few equals and no superiors. A full course of practical book-keeping without extra charge to regular pupils. To those taking book-keeping alone, the tuition is $5 per month. For Annual Announcement and full particulars address Principals.

Author—You return everything I offer. What can I send you that will be acceptable? Editor—A year's subscription.

WANTED.—A graduate of the F. F. C. Institute, who has had experience in teaching, desires a position in a school or in a family. References will be furnished. Address P. O. Box 73, Jackson, La.

"How long do mosquitoes live?" asks a correspondent. That depends a good deal on the kind of fellow they light on.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND AND DOOR FACTORY,

299, 301, 303, 305, 307 Gravier Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

ROBERTS & CO., Proprietors.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Flooring and Ceiling, Newels, Balusters, etc., always on hand, or made to order.

Orders promptly attended to.

Plantation Cabins a Specialty.

BRANCH OFFICE: No. 52 CARONDELET ST. Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

W. C. SHEPARD,

94 CAMP STREET.

BEAUTIFUL

China Dinner and Tea Sets.

BEAUTIFUL

Semi-China Dinner and Tea Sets.

BEAUTIFUL CHAMBER SETS.
PLATED WARE, all kinds.
WOOD WARE, all kinds.
TIN WARE, all kinds.
GLASS WARE, all kinds.

House Furnishing Store, Cheap as the Cheapest

ALL THE NOVELTIES OF THE DAY.

Wringers and Curtain Stretchers.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT

—OF THE—

Louisiana National Bank,

OF NEW ORLEANS,

At the close of business, June 29, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,020,125 83
United States bonds, par value		50,000 00
Louisiana State consols and premium bonds, market value		606,456 04
Stocks and other securities		109,950 00
Banking-house and other real estate		113,651 98
United States Treasurer,	$ 2,250 00
Domestic exchange	328,695 19
Cash	919,894 51
Checks for Clearing-house	252,373 70
		1,503,213 40
Total		$4,443,397 25

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$500,000 00
Surplus fund	150,000 00
		$650,000
Net undivided profits (subject to dividend)		85,091 71
Circulation		45,000 00
Deposits subject to check		3,661,830 50
Balance due on reduction of capital stock		800 00
Dividends unpaid		885 00
Total		$4,443,397 21

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, a dividend of FIVE PER CENT. was declared from net earnings of past six months, payable on demand in New Orleans and at the banking-house of Winslow, Lanier & Co., New York.

R. M. WALMSLEY, President.
A. LURIA, Vice-President.
LEON F. JANIN, Cashier.

Centenary College

JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE,

STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

Opens September 19th, 1889. One of the Most Thorough and Attractive Schools for Young Ladies in the Union. Full course. Able Faculty. Improved methods in teaching. Superior Art School. Conservatory Advantages in Music. Buildings with Modern Improvements. Situation beautiful; climate unsurpassed. Endorsed by pupils and patrons in twenty States. Terms exceedingly low. Special inducements to persons at a distance. For the LOW TERMS and excellent advantages of this CELEBRATED VIRGINIA SCHOOL, write for a catalogue to

WM. A. HARRIS, D. D., President,
Staunton, Virginia

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

Boston University.

Professors and Lecturers, 120. Students from nearly every Southern State. Literature, philosophy, science, law, medicine, theology. Circulars of departments free. Address the Registrar, 12 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.

Mention this paper.

DEGREES,

FIRST AND POST-GRADUATES,

Conferred without residence. Any one can secure this desirable end by pursuing a course of study by CORRESPONDENCE under eminent College Professors at slight cost. Information of Courses, Professors, etc., given in our UNION READING CIRCLE, a large 16-page literary Journal, sample copy of which and application form for membership will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cts. in postage stamps. Address COR. UNIVERSITY, 147 THROOP ST., CHICAGO, ILL. N. B.—Situations to teach free to members and subscribers. Agents wanted.

When writing, mention this paper.

Staunton Male Academy,

STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

A Military Boarding School for Young Men and Boys. Unprecedented Success during past Session. HANDSOME ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE mailed on application to

WM. H. KABLE, A. M., PRINCIPAL,
Staunton, Va.

Elfinwood Select School.

The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

Athens Female College

Situated at Athens, Ala., on the L. and N. R. R.

A thorough, cheap school; full literary course, Art and Music. Stenography and Type-Writing are also thoroughly taught. The school is fully equipped. Healthy location. Send for catalogue.

REV. M. G. WILLIAMS,
President.

TEACHERS, PROFESSORS and TUTORS supplied to Schools, Seminaries, Colleges and Families free of charge. We have a large normal student registration. Teachers, register early. Fee, small. Address, with stamp.

AMERICAN BUREAU OF EDUCATION,
Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn.

D. H. Holmes.

IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS.

32-inch. Organdy Lawns, 6½ c.

Scotch Ginghams, Linen finish, never been sold less than 25c., fast colors, now 10c.

Fine French Stripe Muslins, 35c. all season, now 15c.

Outing Cloths, 10c.

Balance of our Fine Scotch Ginghams, been sold all season from 35 to 50c., now 25c.

Printed Challies, 4 cents.

Fine Quality Printed Challies, 7c.

50,000 Standards Novels, 10c.

Fancy India Silk, 50 cents.

All Silk Surahs, 50 cents.

Gents Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, 50 cents a suit.

Fine White Lawns, 5 cents.

Ladies' and Childrens' ready-made White Lawn Dresses.

200 pieces Embroidered Flouncings at Half Price.

Special Bargains in every Department.

1556 Canal St.

LOGAN FEMALE COLLEGE.

A Full College Course. Teachers Selected from the Best Colleges, Musical Conservatories and Schools of Art in the Country.

Buildings Large, Commodious, Comfortable. Grounds ample. Pure, soft Sulphur Water. Location unsurpassed for health. Address,

A. G. MURPHY, President, Russellville, Ky.

Fairview Male and Female College, Binnsville, Kemper County, Miss.

LOCATION—Nine miles northeast of Scooba, which is on the M. and O. R. R.

Founded 1887. Enrolled, 1887, 117. Enrolled, 1888, 135. Expect to enroll 1889, 176.

BRANCHES TAUGHT.—Usual English Course, Ancient and Modern Languages, Book-keeping, Music. BUILDINGS.—Cover 7,000 ft.; front, 150 ft. Separate double-story boarding-houses for boys and girls. BOARD.—For girls, $10 per calendar month (washing included); for boys, $9 per calendar month (washing excluded). TUITION.—Primary, $2; Freshman, $3; Sophomore, Junior and Senior, $4 per scholastic month. TOTAL COST.—For boys, board and washing, $80; for girls, board and washing, $90. Tuition according to class, $20 to $40. Five per cent off for cash in advance.

Work, thorough. Discipline, firm. Location, healthful. Send for catalogue. School opens September 2nd.

REV. W. W. MOORE, A. M., PRESIDENT.

No intoxicating spirits sold in this county, or within twenty-seven miles of LINDEN, TENN. the site of the

Southern : Normal : College,

R. L. SUTTON, Principal and Proprietor.

Situated on the surveys of the Tennessee Midland and Ohio Valley Railroads. FREE from malaria and yellow fever. As HEALTHFUL location as Tennessee affords. ELEVEN Departments. A FULL Faculty, carefully selected, with COMPETENCY, not salaries, as the basis. FREE CONVEYANCE from Railroad.

FALL TERM OPENS AUGUST 19, 1889.

For full particulars send for Catalogues.

Nashville College FOR Young Ladies.

Privilege of Lectures, Museum, Apparatus, in Vanderbilt University. Three large buildings. Faculty of 20; pupils 326 from 18 States. Highest advantages in Music, Art, Calisthenics, Health, Accessibility. Fully Equipped Gymnasium. Address

Rev. Geo. W. F. Price, D.D., President, Nashville, Tenn.

E. A. SEMINARY,

FOR BOTH SEXES.

At ARCADIA, La., on the V., S. and P. R. R.

No local cause for sickness. Full corps of efficient teachers. Instruction thorough and discipline rigid. English, Classical and Elective Courses. Music, Art, French and Elocution. Military and Calisthenics Drill. Tuition and fees reasonable. Seventh Academic Session begins September 2. For fuller information address

R. A. SMITH, PRINCIPAL,
Arcadia, La.

Roanoke College,

SALEM, VA.

Healthful mountain climate. Choice of Courses for Degrees; business department; special attention to English; French and German spoken; library 17,000 volumes; good morals; 5 churches; no bar-rooms. $150 to $175 for nine months (including fees, board, etc.). Students from 16 States, Ind. Ter. and Japan. 37th year begins Sept. 18th. Illustrated catalogue free.

Address PROF. PAINTER, Sec.

Wall and Mooney's School,

Franklin, Williamson Co., Tenn.

S. V. WALL,
W. D. MOONEY, A. M., PRINCIPALS.

A TRAINING-SCHOOL OF HIGH GRADE.

Fits Boys for College. Especial attention paid to the Classics, English, German, and Mathematics.

The next term will open Tuesday, September 3, 1889, in a handsome house built by the citizens of Franklin, at a cost of $7,500. Send for a circular. W. D. MOONEY, Sec.,
Franklin, Tenn.

From the Professor of English in Vanderbilt University:

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 22, 1889.

For four or five years I have every year spent, at least, one day in the class-room of Messrs. Wall and Mooney's School. I have questioned their classes, and heard them recite in English, Mathematics, German, Greek and Latin; and I do not hesitate to call their work excellent. Better trained pupils it would be hard to find. The moral culture is equally good.

W. M. BASKERVILL.

Asheville Female College,

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Full College Course. Excellent Preparatory Department. Superior Facilities for Instrumental and Vocal Music. Painting, Drawing, Elocution, Languages and Literature. Buildings with the best modern improvements; heated by steam, lighted with gas, and water on every floor.

Asheville is known not only in America, but also in Europe, as a famed health resort. Over 50,000 visitors yearly.

The school reopens September 11. A "special" will leave Houston, Texas, and all intermediate points in time for the Fall Session.

For terms and Catalogue address

REV. S. N. HARKER, Pres't,
or PROF. BENJ. E. ATKINS, Sec.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

Session begins October 1st, and continues nine months. Complete Courses and equipment for instruction in Letters and Science; in Law, Medicine, Pharmacy, Engineering and Agriculture. Expenses moderate. For Catalogues, apply to WM. M. THORNTON,
Chairman of the Faculty.

P. O. University of Va., Va.

SCIENCE HILL.

An English and Classical School for Girls, Shelbyville, Ky. Founded March 25, 1825, by Mrs. Julia A. Tevis. The oldest School for women in the South. Teachers are graduates of the best Colleges. Fits for Wellesley. Accommodations first-class in every particular. Terms reasonable, and include all School expenses.

W. T. POYNTER, D. D.

Huntsville Female College,

HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA.

FORTIETH SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, September 4, 1889. Buildings greatly enlarged and improved. Healthy, well furnished. 20 Officers and Teachers. All departments of Female Education thoroughly taught, including Bookkeeping, Stenography and Type-writing. A Christian home for pupils. For Catalogue, etc., apply to

REV. A. H. JONES, D. D., LL.D., President.

Minden Normal School

—AND—

Business College.

The Leading Normal School in the South

Has more departments than any other similar institution in the land. To it has been added a Musical Conservatory. Music taught on any instrument. Location beautiful; climate delightful. We will be pleased to mail you a catalogue.

P. H. H. SHEARER, MINDEN, La.

Whitworth Female College,

—AND—

Conservatory of Music and Art,

BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

THE 30th annual session begins Sept. 19th, 1889. Every department in charge of the livest, most progressive teacher money will command. A Normal Department for the training of professional teachers has been added. The Conservatory of Music, established for the first time in connection with any Southern Female College, has proved a grand success. Number of pupils in Conservatory, 205. Number of pianos in constant use, 27. Entire number of matriculates, 243. Number of officers and teachers, 19. Number of boarders, 159. An increase of 65 over previous session. For catalogues and further information address,

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., Pres.
—or—
W. B. MURRAH, D. D., Vice-Pres.

J. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. RUDDLESTON, A.M., Sec'y

HIWASSEE COLLEGE.

FOUNDED 1849.

Expenses Very Moderate.

Located, amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R., from which conveyance and hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our postoffice is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

Wesleyan Female College,

MACON, GA.

FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL SESSION begins October 2d, 1889. Unsurpassed for health, safety, comfort and advantages in Literature, Music and Art. Special rates to clubs.

Address W. C. BASS, Pres.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)

Price, 80 Cents.

HUNT & EATON, 805 BROADWAY, NEW YORK:
CRANSTON & STOWE, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY

A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.

Mention this paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.

(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.
Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.

We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Streand's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address

H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

Mention this paper.

ADAMS' HATS!

26 ST. CHARLES ST.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

80 CAMP STREET.

Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.

FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK ROHER, Vice-President. ED. CLAUSSEN, Cashier.

Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.

Directors—Phil. W. Dichmann, Frank Roher, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Klumpp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Ricks, Fred Peters and Louis Leonhard.

ESTABLISHED 1808.

A. A. WOODS, WALTER SCOTT. L. H. POURSINE, A. F. GODAT.

A. A. WOODS & CO.,

General Insurance Agency,

184 GRAVIER STREET,

OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.

Mention this paper.

W. R. LYMAN, President. JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-President. CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

Crescent Insurance Com'y.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849.
Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

Cash Capital, - - - - - - $300,000.

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849. POLICIES issued on Desirable Fire Business. ANNUAL and TERM

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.

No. 78 CAMP STREET.

CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - - $413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - - $459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y.

J. B. WOODS, JOS. RAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, JNO. J. BARR, ANDREW STEWART, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. B. LEVERT, E. BORLAND, J. BORN, F. STRINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. R. FROST, Sec'y.

Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,

14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000

Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Rob't Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Cockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Nixues, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Ehrer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.

New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company

OF NEW ORLEANS.

54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Einst, T. J. Woodward.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

Our Young People.

INFATUATION.

Who can tell what the baby says
As he chatters, and laughs, and crows,
And tosses his head with its tasseled fez,
And plays with his small pink toes?

What is he trying so hard to tell
As he talks in his earnest way?
Come, put your ear close, and listen well—
What does the baby say?

All day long the bright little elf,
With his cheek like a full-blown rose,
Chatters, and laughs, and talks to himself
In a language that no one knows.

Does he speak in Turkish, to match his fez,
Or the language of Hindostan?
Who can tell what the baby says?
Well, his mother thinks she can.

MR. EDITOR: As you were so kind as to print my first, I will come again. I think it so kind of you to leave your door ajar that we little people may step into your sanctum and speak a few words through the columns of your good paper. We read several papers, but the dear ADVOCATE is always the first one read. Mr. Editor, I am going to talk for your paper and try and get you two or three subscribers. Our preacher, Bro. Banks, is up and doing. He has been talking of holding a protracted meeting at Union Star; if so, I think he will get some members. Our Sunday-school is largely attended. Mamma says I must not write too long a letter for fear of trespassing on valuable space. So good-by, Mr. Editor.

C. R. SIGLER.

SUGARTOWN, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: As I have never written to your excellent paper, I thought I would write. I am a little girl eleven years old. I have been going to school, but our school is out now. I studied reading, writing, spelling, geography, grammar and arithmetic. We live near the little village of Sparta. My papa is a farmer. I have three little pet chickens. I go to Sunday-school. Papa is superintendent. We have preaching twice a month. Bro. W. D. Bass is our pastor. We like him very much. Well, as this is my first letter, and as I don't want its destination to be that dreadful waste-basket, I will close by asking the little cousins, How long did the children of Israel remain in bondage?

Your little friend,

ANNIE HARRELL.

SPARTA, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: We are two little Methodist girls. We have been wanting to write to the ADVOCATE, but were afraid of the waste-basket, until mamma told us you are a Methodist preacher. Now, we will not wait any longer, for we know how you love the little girls. We go to Sunday-school nearly every Sunday. Our superintendent is our cousin, George Neasom. We like him ever so much. When we write again we will tell you what kind, sweet teachers we have. We will not tire you this time. Please publish our letter as soon as you can, as we want our dear grandma to see it. She thinks we are so sweet and smart.

BESSIE FREEMAN,
DAISY FREEMAN.

LIVINGSTON, Louisiana

MR. EDITOR: I never see a letter from here, and will write one. Our preacher is Mr. Evans. We all love him. We have a large Sunday-school, and will have a protracted meeting in July. We had Children's Day last Sunday, and collected three dollars and a half. I have a mite-box Miss Maggie Ellis gave me, and I am working for Jesus. Papa teaches a class in Sunday-school. Papa will get me a piano next winter. I love to read the letters in the ADVOCATE. My brother, Magee, gets the Youth's Companion, and I read the stories in it. We are having nice showers now, and the crops look fine.

Your little friend,

MARY EDITH OTT.

MT. HERMON, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: I am a little girl nine years old. My school is out, and I am staying with my grandma. My Aunt Addie takes your nice paper, and I like to read the little letters. We live at Rassum, on the L., N. O. and T. railroad. Papa has a store there. I have been going to school to Miss Lillie, and I like her ever so much. My uncle, Dr. Devenport, is our Sunday-school superintendent. We have preaching twice a month in our church. Bro. Brown is our pastor this year. Mr. Editor, please publish this letter; I want to surprise papa and mamma.

Your little friend.

BLISS DEVENPORT.

MR. EDITOR: This is my first attempt to write to your valuable paper. Father has been taking the ADVOCATE for many years. He still takes it and three others. We have a very good Sabbath-school every Sabbath; preaching once a month. Rev. J. W. Smith is our pastor. I have no pets. My little sister has four pet goslings. They are very bad; they go off to the corn field and eat the corn. She calls them Frowsy, Browsy, Dumplin and Criply. Why don't more of the girls and boys write to the ADVOCATE? I will ask the cousins a question: How many wives did King Solomon have? Wishing success to the ADVOCATE, I will close.

Your friend,

EMMA L. POLK.

HACKNEYVILLE, Alabama.

A Little Errand for God.

Helen stood on the doorstep with a very tiny basket in her hand, when her father drove up, and said: "I am glad you are all ready to go out, dear; I came to take you to Mrs. Lee's park to see the new deer."

"Oh thank you, papa; but I can't go just this time. The deer will keep, and we can go to-morrow. I have a very particular errand to do now," said the little girl.

"What is it, dear?" asked the father.

"O, it is to carry this somewhere;" and she held up the small basket.

Her father smiled, and asked: "Who is the errand for, dear?"

"For my own self, papa; but—O no: I guess not—it's a little errand for God, papa."

"Well, I will not hinder you, my little dear," said the good father tenderly. "Can I help you any?"

"No, sir. I was going to carry my big orange, that I saved from the dessert, to old Peter."

"Is old Peter sick?"

"No, I hope not; but he never has anything nice, and he's good and thankful. Big folks give him only cold meat and broken bread; and I thought an orange would look so beautiful and make him so happy! Don't you think poor well folks ought to be comforted sometimes as well as the poor sick folks, papa?"

"Yes, my dear; and I think we too often forget them until sickness or starvation comes. You are right; this is a little errand for God. Get into the buggy, and I will drive you to old Peter's, and wait till you have done the errand, and then show you the deer. Have you a pin, Helen?"

"Yes, papa; here is one."

"Well, here is a five-dollar bill for you to fix on the skin of the orange. This will pay old Peter's rent for four weeks, and perhaps, this will be a little errand for God, too," said the gentleman.

Little Helen, who had taught a wise man a wise lesson, looked very happy as her fingers fixed the fresh bill on the orange.—Domestic Journal.

"Mamma, what is color-blind?" asked little Nell. "Inability to tell one color from another, my dear." "Then I guess the man that made my geography is color-blind, because he's got Greenland down painted yellow."—New York Methodist.

Boils and Pimples and other affections arising from impure blood may appear at this season, when the blood is heated. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes the cause of these troubles by purifying, vitalizing, and enriching the blood, and at the same time it gives strength to the whole system.

Little Joe was telling about a bunch he had discovered on the cow's leg. "How large is it?" asked his father. "Well," said Joe, reflectively, "about as large as a good sized small 'tater."

How to Cure Skin & Scalp DISEASES with the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

THE MOST DISTRESSING FORMS OF SKIN and scalp diseases, with loss of hair, from infancy to old age, are speedily, economically and permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, when all other remedies and methods fail.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Relief in one minute, for all pains and weaknesses, in CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster. 25c

Household.

MOLDING THE CLAY.

Within their tiny hands my children hold
A ball of yielding clay,
And as they cry some dainty form to mold
I hear them softly say:
"What shall we make? an apple or a vase?
Some marbles, or a fan?"
One little boy, a smile upon his face,
Says, "I shall make a man."

Straightway, with lengthened face, he at his task,
Begins, and 'neath the hands,
Unskillful, weak, and yet too proud to ask
For aid, a form expands.
Crude, and yet not too poor to show the mien,
Hid in the maker's thought—
How different yet, if some skilled artisan
The ball of clay had wrought.

. . . . . .

To-day within my hands my children lie,
I shape them as I will,
And seek for aid from Him that is on high,
That he may with his skill
Teach my weak, willing hands to rightly mold
The clay that I have sought,
That in true forms of beauty may unfold
The Maker's highest thought.

—Transcript.

Mothers, Speak Low.

I know some houses, well built and handsomely furnished, where it is not pleasant to be even a visitor. Sharp, angry tones resound through them from morning till night, and the influence is as contagious as measles, and much more to be dreaded in a household. The children catch it, and it lasts for life—an incurable disease. A friend has such a neighbor within hearing of her house when doors and windows are open, and even Poll Parrott has caught the tone, and delights in screaming and scolding, until she has been sent into the country to improve her habits. Children catch cross tones quicker than parrots. Where the mother sets the example you will scarcely hear a pleasant word among the children in their plays with each other. Yet the discipline of such a family is always weak and irregular. The children expect just so much scolding before they do anything they are bid, while in many a home, where the low, firm tone of the mother, or a decided look of her steady eye is law, the children never think of disobedience either in or out of her sight.

Oh! mothers, it is worth a great deal to cultivate that "excellent thing in a woman," a low, sweet voice. If you are ever so much tried by the mischievous or willful pranks of the little ones, speak low. It will be a great help to you to even try to be patient and cheerful, if you can not wholly succeed. Anger makes you wretched, and your children also. Impatient, angry tones never did the heart good, but plenty of evil. You can not have the excuse for them that they lighten your burdens; they make them only ten times heavier. For your own, as well as your children's sake, learn to speak low. They will remember that tone when your head is under the willows. So, too, would they remember a harsh and angry voice. Which legacy will you leave your children?—The Kindergarten.

MAKING CAMPHOR.—Camphor is made in Japan in this way. After a tree is felled to the earth it is cut into chips, which are laid in a tub or large iron pot partially filled with water, and placed over a slow fire. Through holes in the bottom of the tub steam slowly rises, and heating the chips generates oil and camphor. Of course, the tub with the chips has a closely fitting cover. From this cover a bamboo pipe leads to a succession of other tubs with bamboo connections, and the last of these tubs is divided into two compartments, one above the other, the dividing floor being perforated with small holes to allow the water and oil to pass to the lower compartment. The upper compartment is supplied with a straw layer, which catches and holds the camphor in crystal in deposit as it passes to the cooling process. The camphor is then separated from the straw, packed in wooden tubs and is ready for market. This oil is used by the natives for illuminating and other purposes.—Exchange.

Periodic Headache and Neuralgia; cold hands and feet, and a general derangement of the system, including impaired digestion, with torpor of the liver etc., are, in certain localities, invariably caused by Malaria in the system in quantity too small to produce regular chills. Many persons suffer in this way and take purgatives and other medicines to their injury, when a few doses of Shallenberger's Antidote for Malaria would cure them at once. Sold by druggists.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

IS the "Ideal" Hair-dressing. It restores the color to gray hair; promotes a fresh and vigorous growth; prevents the formation of dandruff; makes the hair soft and silken, and imparts a delicate but lasting perfume.

"Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best in the world."—T. Munday, Silurian Grove, Ky.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a number of years, and it has always given me satisfaction. It is an excellent dressing, prevents the hair from turning gray, insures its vigorous growth, and keeps the scalp white and clean."—Mary A. Jackson, Salem, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in promoting the growth of the hair, and think it unrivaled. For restoring the hair to its original color, and for arresting it, it cannot be surpassed."—Mrs. George La Fever, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. It restores promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowers, Editor "Enquirer," McArthur, Ohio.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past two years, and found it all it is represented to be. It restores the natural color to gray hair, causes the hair to grow freely, and keeps it soft and pliant."—Mrs. M. V. Dart, Lodi, N. Y.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

NEW SHEET MUSIC

SONGS.

SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Frederic W. An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto. Price,

WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Brvant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price,

NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. G. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a melody that sings itself. Price, 30cts.

PIANO MUSIC.

GALATEA GAVOTTE. By BARCLAY WALKER. A bright and charming composition by the composer of the well-known "Militaire." Price,

MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By FRANZ WAGNER. A stirring and excellent Military March of medium grade of difficulty. Price, 60cts.

ALBUMBLATT. By LOUIS SCHEHLMANN. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the style of a nocturne. Price, 30cts.

Any of the above, or any other sheet music, will be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.

PUBLISHED BY

THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

BROWN'S FRENCH DRESSING

FOR LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S BOOTS AND SHOES.

Awarded highest honors at

Philadelphia, 1876 | Melbourne, 1880
Berlin, 1877 | Frankfort, 1881
Paris, 1878 | Amsterdam, 1883
New Orleans, 1884-85.

Paris Medal on every bottle.

Beware of Imitations.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

(THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.)

Cure BILIOUS and Nervous ILLS.

25cts. a Box.

OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cutler Bros. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle is received

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

for Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belts on large Gins. Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

For Gas BAILEY'S COMPOUND light-spreading Silver-plated Corrugated Glass REFLECTORS. A wonderful invention for lighting CHURCHES, Halls, etc. Handsome designs. Satisfaction guaranteed. Catalogue and price list free. BAILEY REFLECTOR CO. 118 Wood st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

McShane Bell Foundry

Finest Grade of Bells.

CHIMES AND PEALS for CHURCHES, etc. Send for Price and Catalogue. Address H. McSHANE & CO., Baltimore, Md. Mention this paper.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

ABORS—FUQUA.—At the home of the bride's mother, Alexandria, La., June 20, 1889, Rev. B. F. White, Mr. Wilford A. Nabors, of Deefield, La., and Miss Robena V. Fuqua.

MS—JONES.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Greenville, Miss., Tuesday, July 2, 1889, Rev. William H. Sims, Mr. Robert H. Sims to Miss Pattie C. Jones, both of Greenville, Miss.

LOANE—FLESHMAN.—At the residence of Willie Fleshman, in Big Cane, La., on June 26th, 1889, by Rev. C. R. Godfrey, Mr. C. F. Sloane to Miss Alice A. Fleshman, both of St. Landry Parish.

EST—MURPHY.—In the Methodist Church, Australia, Miss., April 17, 1889, by Rev. T. Y. Ramsey, Jr., Mr. J. C. West to Miss Belle Murphy.

ENNEDY—TAYLOR.—At Lake Charles La., May 7, 1889, by Rev. T. Y. Ramsey, Jr., Mr. J. J. Kennedy, of Memphis, Tenn., to Miss Lee Taylor, of Bolivar county, Miss.

REINO—FELICE.—At Masonton, Miss., June 24, 1889, by Rev. T. Y. Ramsey, Jr., Mr. Lorenzo Loraino to Miss Victorie Alexandra Felice.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines or words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, 5 cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

KERS—Died at Ponchatoula, La., June 3, at 9:30 P. M., 1889, WILLIAM AKERS, aged eighty years and seven months.

Mr. Akers was wide and favorably known throughout Louisiana. Aside from his church relations, he attained high rank in the Masonic fraternity and other benevolent institutions, and was ever a leading spirit among them. The cause of temperance found in him a strong and earnest advocate, and its societies a true and faithful member. Next to religion it was nearest to his heart, and he rejoiced in its progress. For many years he acted as justice of the peace with honor to himself and the good of all who appealed to him for justice. But it is in his church relations with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, we are most interested. His conversion was sound, clear and powerful. His heart was stamped with the divine seal of the Holy Spirit, which no change in his after life could obliterate. He never doubted his conversion; it was the anchor of his hope when he seemed to be all but lost; and when the clouds passed away it was with all the brilliancy of that morning when he for the first time felt the love of Jesus. He served his church as class leader, steward, delegate to District Conferences, and was, at the time of his death, recording steward of Springfield charge. Some months before he was injured by accident, breaking, perhaps, an arm and one knee, from which he never fully recovered; but he bore his sufferings like a "soldier of the cross," and died in peace.

J. BOYES.

BOGARD—Mrs. NANCY BOGARD died June 4, 1889, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Fudge, in Mary Valley, Miss.

Sister Bogard was born in Maury county, Tenn., April 16, 1803. Her life had been almost wholly devoted to the service of the heavenly Master. As far back as the oldest of her acquaintances could remember she was a member of the Methodist Church, having experienced the saving power of the gospel. Sister Bogard was an earnest and efficient worker in the Master's vineyard, ever exemplifying in her life the power and principles of the religion that she professed; sweet-spirited and cheerful under all circumstances. Her husband, J. J. Bogard, and ten children, preceded her to the better country. What a reunion there has been! Seven sons and two daughters are still living. Sister Bogard was not only resigned to the Master's will during her last illness, but, in view of approaching dissolution, was triumphant. Death had no sting; the grave no victory. She had prayed to be relieved from physical suffering while passing through the valley and the shadow of death. And her prayer seems to have been answered, as she passed away like one going to sleep. As of old did, she "fell asleep in Jesus." May the religion that sustained this mother in Israel so long support and sustain the bereaved ones, that they meet her in that country where there will be no sorrow!

J. M. HUGGIN.

HESTER—ARCHABELL HESTER was born in the State of Alabama, where he moved with his parents to the State of Mississippi while a boy, and lived in Neshoba county for a number of years, when he moved to Holmes county, and settled near Acona, where he became a member of the Methodist Church in his eighteenth year. He died at his home, May 5, 1889. The following briefly outlines the life of no ordinary man.

As husband and father, he was kind and affectionate, always putting forth the greatest effort to make home pleasant and comfortable; as a neighbor, he allowed no one to be more generous and obliging than himself, consequently everyone who knew him loved him; as a citizen, he was true as steel, always ou the side of right whore moral questions were involved; as a Christian, he was pure, never swerving from the right. He loved his church and always did all he could to advance the cause of Christ. The church was made poorer by his death. He was only a few days, during which time he spoke freely of death and talked about it as if he was going on a pleasant journey. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn their loss, but their loss is his gain. We commend them to a loving Father who doeth all things well.

HIS PASTOR.

ONEAL.—Mrs. SALLIE ONEAL (nee Squyres) was married to Mr. W. A. Oneal, August 25, 1821. About fifty-five years ago she united with the Primitive Baptist Church. About thirty years since she joined the Presbyterian Church, and remained true and faithful till June 10, 1889, when she went to join the church above, where Christians of all denominations are one in Christ Jesus. She was stricken with paralysis nearly two years before her death, and for many weary months was as helpless as a babe. For the last eight weeks of her life she subsisted on coffee alone, with what little cream and sugar was contained in the same. Sister Oneal was resigned to the will of God at all times, and expressed a perfect willingness to depart and be with Christ. She was the mother of thirteen children; twelve of them are left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother. She was tenderly nursed by two affectionate daughters all through her protracted sickness, and they feel so lonely now that she is gone, but are comforted with the thought of seeing her again in her eternal home.

J. E. WYNN.

MONCRIEF—Mrs. ELIZABETH A. MONCRIEF was born February 25, 1814; was married to Josiah Monerief, November 1, 1867, and died June 12, 1889, near Simsboro, Lincoln parish, La. She leaves a husband and five children, who feel sadly this dispensation of providence.

Sister Monerief professed religion and joined the Methodist Church when quite a girl. Her depth of piety and consistency of life, as well as her usefulness as a worker in the Sabbath-school and the church, speak volumes for the genuineness of her conversion and faithfulness to her church vows. As a wife and mother she seemed indispensable to the family; kind, affectionate, thoughtful and untiring in her efforts to serve them for this life and help them on to the better life. The church, as well, has sustained a great loss. God bless the bereaved!

JNO. A. MILLER.

HANDY—Mrs. SELINA HANDY was born near Milledgeville, Ga., in 1830. Her father, Mr. Henry Glover, moved from Georgia to Louisiana in 1840, and settled in Union Parish. She was married to Samuel Handy in 1849, and died in Bastrop, June 15, 1889. For many years before her death she was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and lived a consistent Christian life. She was for a long time the victim of that fell destroyer, consumption, and though her sufferings were severe, she bore them patiently. She desired to live longer for the benefit of others, especially the grandchildren who lived with her; but when the fatal hour drew near she expressed entire submission to the will of God, and so peacefully breathed her last in the midst of relatives and friends. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord!"

J. M. B.

CHRISMAN.—The following resolutions were adopted by the Wesson Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society, Mississippi Conference:

Whereas, In the appalling Conemaugh disaster, our well-beloved sister and fellow-worker, Miss ANNA CLARA CHRISMAN, was taken from us, and our mortal eyes shall never again behold her, our ears hear the well-known voice, or our hands feel her gentle, cordial grasp; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Miss Clara Chrisman, one of our first members, not only has this society sustained an irreparable loss, but the whole church, and especially the cause of foreign missions, have been deprived of a zealous, efficient laborer, a devout, consecrated Christian woman, one whose superior could not be found in warmth of heart, strength of mind and purity of soul.

Resolved, Nevertheless, we bow in submission to the divine will, and, while we mingle our tears with those of the loved ones in the Beauregard home, we feel the sweet consolation of our Christian religion that gives us hope and assurance of meeting our dear ones hereafter.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt thanks to all who were instrumental in finding and forwarding the body of our precious sister, that her remains might be laid at rest beside those of her father and other loved ones.

Resolved, That to the mother and sister, the venerable grandparents, and to all other members of her family, we tender loving sympathy and prayers. Their loss is ours and all the churches'. No nobler life ended in the Conemaugh Valley that awful day.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, Woman's Missionary Advocate, and a copy be handed to the family of our deceased sister.

MRS. ELEANOR P. SELLEN,
For Committee.

Encouraging.

Here is encouragement for those afflicted with that terrible scourge—Nervous Prostration.

BUNKER HILL, IND., March 11, 1888.

"I feel that I can not say too much in praise of the Compound Oxygen Treatment."

MRS. FLORENCE BLUE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 11, 1884.

"I began the use of Compound Oxygen and have much reason to be grateful for it."

REV. CHAS. W. CUSHING.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., Nov. 28, 1887.

"I am indebted to you beyond all other Compound Oxygon purchasers."

BENJAMIN J. EAMAN.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 4, 1888, No. 331 Decatur st.

"I was induced by a friend to try your Compound Oxygen Treatment. The result was marvelous. I will always recommend Compound Oxygen as the greatest vitalizing agent known, for I certainly find that it has prolonged my life."

MRS. E. H. HENDERSON.

As you are aware, we publish a brochure of 200 pages, containing the full history of Compound Oxygen, and a record of cures in many interesting cases. It will be sent free of charge to any one addressing DRS. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

The Favorite Times for Suicide.

Statistics show that the months in which the fewest suicides occur are October and November, while the greatest number occur in April, May and June. July and September also have a goodly share, the latter possessing a peculiar fascination for women. This refutes the old idea that suicides occur most frequently in damp and gloomy weather, for the months just mentioned as being the most prolific are certainly those in which the skies look brightest and the earth is fairest. Another remarkable fact in this connection is that the progressive increase and decrease in the number of suicides coincide with the lengthening and the shortening of the days, and, as M. Guerry has shown, not only the seasons of the year, but the days of the month and of the week, and even the hours of the day exert an influence, the constancy of which can not be mistaken. As a result of his elaborate research he found that the greatest number of suicides among men occurred during the first ten days of the month, and from Monday to Thursday of the week. This is accounted for by remembering that the majority of workingmen receive their wages either on the first of the month or the last of the week, and that "payday" is often followed by dissipation, debauchery, and remorse. Oettingen completed this interesting observation by showing that the larger number of suicides among women take place during the last half of the week, when they are most apt to feel the effects of man's prodigality and wrong-doing. In regard to the hours of the day, we know, from Brierre de Boismont's examination of 1,993 cases of suicide in Paris, that the maximum number occurred between 6 A. M. and noon and thereafter regularly declined, reaching the minimum at the hour before sunrise.—Popular Science Monthly for July.

BUILDING FROM THE ROOF DOWN.—A visitor to Japan tells of the peculiar methods of construction employed in that country: "Speaking of house building, the Japanese begin their work at the top. The roof goes on first and then they begin to build the walls and to construct the interior. One of the greatest curiosities to me in Tokio is a new hotel which is being built. It is to be on the foreign style and is to have four stories. It will be the greatest hotel in Japan. It covers about an acre of ground. As yet not a stone of the foundation has been laid, but the roof is already up and this stands on a great four-story skeleton of scaffolding awaiting the building of the rest of the structure. This scaffolding is made of long poles from the size and thickness of a campaign flag-staff down to the size of a bamboo fishing rod, and the whole is tied together with ropes. Imagine an acre of scaffolding of this nature upholding a heavy roof, and the whole made up of sticks and ordinary rope. There are, I was told at the office, 7,000 poles in the skeleton, and 2,000 men had been at work for months in making it."—Building

HALF A CENTURY OF INVENTIONS.—Those of us not yet fifty years of age have probably lived in the most important and intellectually progressive period of human history. Within this half-century the following inventions and discoveries have been among the number: Ocean steamships, street railways, telegraph lines, ocean cables, telephones, phonograph, photography and a score of new methods of picture making, aniline colors, kerosene oil, electric lights, steam fire engines, chemical fire extinguishers, anæsthetics and painless surgery; gun cotton, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, giant powder; aluminum, magnesium, and other new metals; eletro-plating, spectrum analysis and spectroscope; audiphone, pneumatic tubes, electric motor, electric railway, electric bells, typewriter, cheap postal system, steam heating, steam and hydraulic elevators, vestibule cars, cantilever bridges. These are only a part. All positive knowledge of the physical constitution of planetary and stellar worlds have been attained within this period.—Homiletic Review.

THE women can not say enough of Pe-ru-na. It is "just the thing" for their peculiar troubles.

LA-CU-PI-A Is a wonderful boon to those suffering with Syphilis in any stage.

YES, MY DEAR,
BREAD IS THE STAFF OF LIFE

and yet one can eat too much of it.
People can also use too much blacking and they become the abusers of

Wolff's ACME Blacking

An overload of bread may not injure you, but will make you very uncomfortable until your stomach is relieved; so will an overhauling of Acme Blacking not injure your shoes, but make them look unsightly 'till you have cleaned them.) To prevent abuse, read and follow directions.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.
The Best Blacking for Men, Women and Children.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.
LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES

KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.
Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.

$35.00
Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in Illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00
Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00
Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00
Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00
Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$60.50
Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00
Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00
Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00
Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.
CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.
Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.
☞Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

FULL WEIGHT PURE
DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.
PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,
Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.
OFFICE, 109 GRAVIER ST.
Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM
F. D. VanValkenburgh,
106 Camp Street.
Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.
Orders by mail promptly filled.
Mention this Paper.

$300 to $500 a month made by working for us. We guarantee energetic persons $500 a Year, with the opportunity of making 6 times that amount. Men who can furnish their own horses preferred. A few vacancies in towns and cities. Holloway & Co., 112 N. 6th St., St. Louis.

Pe-ru-na and La-cu-pi-a Can Handle Catarrh.
Catarrh is a very common ailment. In its lighter forms it does not give much trouble. In its severer phases it is most serious and dangerous. It is the breeder of a great many serious diseases. The way to treat it is never to allow it to get deep-seated. If taken at the start Pe-ru-na is bound to cure it completely. LA-CU-PI-A If, however, it develops into a scrofulous form, get a bottle of LA-CU-PI-A at once. For proofs of the success of these two medicines in all forms of Catarrh send to the Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for Dr. Hartman's "Ills of Life," free of charge. PE-RU-NA and LA-CU-PI-A are sold by all druggists. Manufact'd by THE PERUNA MED. CO., Columbus, O.

P. P. P.
(Prickly Ash, Poke Root, and Potassium.)
CURES
RHEUMATISM
And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.
If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.
P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.
SCROFULA
Is an impurity in the blood, producing Lumps or Swelling, causing Running Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.
BLOOD POISON
Cured in its worse form: sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases Scrofulous Ulcers broke out till the party was a mass of corruption; a bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.
Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.
Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration.
Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists, Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE
A SURE CURE FOR CHILLS & FEVER
DUMB AGUE AND MALARIA.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists, Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

ABBOTT'S EAST INDIAN CORN PAINT
REMOVES CORNS, BUNIONS AND WARTS, SPEEDILY AND WITHOUT PAIN

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

Georgia's new million-dollar Capitol was formally presented by the Capitol Commission to the State, on July 4.

President Harrison, on July 4, addressed the people at Woodstock, Conn. He congratulated them on the happy and prosperous condition of the country.

The Republicans are alarmed. They are realizing the fact that the members of the lower House from the new States will increase the quorum, and, instead of the Republicans having, by the new States coming in, a clean majority of seven, they will only have two, less than the majority is now.

A number of prominent Irish-Americans held a private meeting at Chicago, on July 4, to discuss the possibility of organizing an Irish-American republic to advance the interests of Ireland and the Irish race, and a colonization association was formally organized. It is the intention of the projectors of the association to organize a land syndicate composed of influential and wealthy Irishmen and send representatives to Canada, Chili, Peru and Mexico.

Hadjen Hassan Ghouly Kahn, the Persian minister to Washington, will shortly leave this country for Europe. In an interview, on July 5, he said he would not come back, and that he had been driven out of the country by the unkind and ungenerous things which had been written about him and his people in the American newspapers.

At the second annual commencement of the Women's Medical College, of Cincinnati, six young women were graduated. Four were from Ohio, one from Pennsylvania and one from Kentucky.

Fifteen hundred street employees of Duluth, Minn., who went on a strike, became unruly on July 5, and attacked the police with stones and clubs, compelling them to fire. Two strikers were instantly killed. At least thirty-five men are badly wounded, some, it is feared, fatally. Five strikers were arrested, all being ringleaders.

Mr. Geo. O. Jones, chairman of the National Greenback party, has issued an invitation requesting all persons who desire to aid in reorganizing the National Greenback party to meet in their respective States and congressional districts on or before Sept. 4 next, and appoint one delegate and one alternate to attend the National Greenback Convention called to meet at Cincinnati on Sept 26.

Bakersfield, Cal., was nearly consumed by fire on July 7. Every business house in the town is burned. Including forty dwellings, involving a loss of $1,500,000.

An immigration company has been organized, composed of some of the prominent colored men of Kansas which will have agents in all the prominent cities of the South. They expect to have 100,000 colored people in Oklahoma by next spring.

FOREIGN.

The Pope has sent a copy of his recent allocution to each of the powers, asking whether or not they would intercede themselves in his profession. His decision as to his future action depends upon the nature of the replies received.

The governor of Tripoli has issued a decree abolishing the slave trade, and forbidding any one to engage in it under pain of severe penalties.

General Boulanger attended a garden party given by the Prince of Wales at Marlborough House, on July 4. Queen Victoria and the Shah were present.

At the closing session of the World's Sunday-school Convention, in London, on July 5, Mr. Jacobs moved the convention be held in America in 1893, the decision as to the exact date and location to be left to the general committee. The motion was adopted.

Numerous fissures have suddenly appeared in the earth near Matanzas, Cuba, and have caused great alarm among the inhabitants of the vicinity. Some of the fissures are 600 feet long, 21 feet wide and 20 feet deep.

A dispatch from Brussels to the London Times says England and Germany have initiated an African Conference there. The Congo State, Belgium, France and Italy approve the proposals.

The Mexican press is making fierce attacks upon the schemes to settle colored emigrants from the United States in Mexico, and asks the government to be patriotic and not to countenance it.

An exchange of communications has resulted in an identical policy being adopted by the Austrian and Italian governments to compel Switzerland to comply with the demands of Bismarck for a revision of the laws affecting refugees.

It is stated that the indictment against the Boulangists advises the arraignment of General Boulanger, Count Dillon and M. Rochefort before the high court of justice for conspiring against the safety of the state.

The Catholic News has received the following cablegram from its Roman correspondent: The Pope has received almost 60,000 telegrams expressing sympathy for him in relation to the Bruno affair. He has ordered his private secretary, Monsignor Angeli, to collect them in a volume and present a copy to all the Bishops of the Catholic world, as well as to all the Cabinets of Europe.

Your House on Fire.
Not the house of wood, or brick, or stone, in which you live, but your bodily tenement may be in terrible danger from smouldering fire which you make no effort to quench. The great danger from impure blood is that it debilitates the system, and the digestive organs grow weak and inactive. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the best kidney and liver invigorators, with the best alteratives and tonics, all from the vegetable kingdom, carefully and understandingly prepared in a concentrated form. It purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and tones up the system, giving the whole body vitality, and effectually guarding it against the attacks of disease.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Rossville	July 13, 14
Iuka station	20, 21
Iuka circuit	27, 28
Harmony circuit	Aug. 3, 4
Corinth circuit	10, 11
Kossuth circuit	17, 18
New Albany circuit	24, 25
Marietta circuit	31, Sept. 1
Blackland circuit	2
Ripley and New Albany station	7, 8
Gumtown circuit	14, 15
Pleasant Ridge circuit	17
Ripley circuit	21, 22
Juneshuro circuit	28, 29

J. B. STONE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Abbeville	July 13, 14
Water Valley circuit	20
Oxford	21
Charleston	27, 28
Minter City	(Fri.)..Aug. 2
Sunny Side	3, 4
Grenada station	11, 12
Water Valley station	18, 19
Chapel Hill	24, 25
Carrollton	31, Sept. 1
Pittsboro	7, 8
Coffeeville	(Thur.).. 12
Tocopola	14, 15
Grenada circuit	21, 22
Atlanta	28, 29
Old Town	(Tue.)..Oct. 1
Pittsboro	(Thur.).. 3
Banner	5, 6

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Saltillo, at Shiloh	July 13, 14
Verona and Tupelo, at Tupelo	20, 21
Pontotoc, at Palesthne	27, 28
Sparta, at Palestine	Aug. 3, 4
Houston and Wesley, at H. (Thurs.)..	8
Buena Vista, at Asbury	10, 11
Okolona circuit at Bonne Chapel	17, 18
Ebenezer, at Egypt	(Mon.).. 19
Fulton and Smithville, at Antioch	24, 25
Tremont, at Riggan's Chapel	31, Sept. 1
Athens	7, 8
Prairie	14, 15
Aberdeen	21, 22

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Hebron, at Memphis	July 11
Shuqualak, at Ridgeway	13, 14
Dist. Conf., at West Point	18-21
Crawford, at Trinity	27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel	31
Brooksville, at Exprairie	Aug. 3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove	9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills	10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg	15
Chester, at South Union	17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch	31, Sept. 1
LaGrange	7, 8
Sturges	14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.
W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Early Grove, at Early Grove	July 13, 14
Myrtle, at Friendship	20, 21
Hickory Flat, at Shelby Creek	27, 28
Red Banks cir. and Mt. Pleasant cir., at Bailey's C. G.	Aug. 3, 4
Hyhalla, at Emory	10, 11
Olive Branch, at Oak Grove	17, 18
Pine Mountain, at Lebanon	24, 25
Waterford, at Marvin	31, Sept. 1
Ashland, at Salem	7, 8
Shawnee, at Harmony	14, 15

J. W. BONNOLL, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Philadelphia, at Cook's Chapel	July 12
Neshoba, at Pleasant Grove	13, 14
Newton, at Decatur	20, 21
Hillsboro, at Oak Ridge	26
Shiloh, at Shiloh Camp Ground	Aug. 3, 4
Lake, at High Hill	5
Carthage, at Rocky Points	10, 11
Mt. Rose, at Mt. Zion	17, 18
Strong River, at Clear Creek	19
Westville, at Westville	21
Trenton, at Trenton Camp Ground	31, Sept. 1
Walnut Grove, at Beech Springs	7, 8
Marvin	14, 15

District Conference meets Thursday, nine A. M., August 1, at Shiloh Camp Ground. Bishop Galloway will preside. We insist that every member will be present. Let us have one full District Conference.

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Clarke, at Manassas	July 13, 14
Enterprise and H., at Stonewall	20, 21
Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant	27, 28
Vossburg	Aug. 3, 4
Paulding, at Hopewell	10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel	17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill	24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh	31, Sept. 1
Meridian Station	3
Blunsville, at Wahallak	7, 8
Leaksville	14, 15
Union	21, 22
Lauderdale	28, 29
Spring Hill	Oct. 5, 6
De Kalb	12, 13
West End	19, 20

H. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Burtonton, at Pisgah	July 13, 14
Martin, at Martin	20, 21
Utica, at Reeves	(Wed.).. 24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel	27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove	(Thurs.). Aug 1
Natchez—Jefferson Street	3, 4
Anguilla, Sunflower Chapel	10, 11
Sunflower, at Fish Lake	(Tue.).. 13
Roxie, at Hamburg	17, 18
Warren, at Wesley Chapel	21
Meadville, at Cool Springs	24, 25
South Warren, at Asbury	31, Sept. 1
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	7, 8
Mayersville, at Beulah	14, 15
S. Vicksburg and Bovina, at Bovina	21, 22
Vicksburg	28, 29

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Pipkin Chapel at Port Hudson	July 13, 14
Jackson, at Jackson	20, 21
Bayou Sara, at New Hope	27, 28
N. Wilkinson, at Mars Hill	Aug. 1
Percy's Creek	3, 4
Centerville, at Bethel	5
Sam Jones Camp Meeting	9-18
Clinton and Betorville	24, 25
St. Helena	29
Amite City, at Osyka	31, Sept. 1
East Feliciana	3
Woodville	7, 8
Livingston, at Palmetto	12
Springfield, at Wesley Chapel	14, 15
New River, at St. Amant	19
E. Baton Rouge, at Bay Ridge	21, 22

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.—THIRD ROUND.

Grand Cane, at Bell Bower	July 13, 14
Caddo, at Greenwood	20, 21
Shreveport	27, 28
Sabine, at Red Land	Aug. 1
Pleasant Hill, at Marthaville	3, 4
Mansfield	7
DeSoto, at Bethel	10, 11
Natchitoches, at Robeline	16
Bellwood, at Oak Grove	17, 18
South Bossier, at Doyline	24, 25
Valley circuit, at Blocker's Chapel	31, Sept. 1
North Bossier, at Concord	2
Mooringsport, at Pine Hill	7, 8
Many, at New Hope	14, 15
Anacoco, at Holly Grove	17
Conahatta, at East Point	21, 22
Wesley, at Holly Springs	25
Red River	28, 29

J. B. CASSITY, P. E.

ROMER DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Haynesville, at White Hall	July 13, 14
Ringgold, at Liberty Chapel	20, 21
Minden, at Pine Grove	27, 28
Summerfield, at Summerfield	Aug. 3, 4
Farmerville, at Freeman's Chapel	10, 11
Downsville, at Camp Ground	17, 18
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	24, 25
Arcadia	31, Sept. 1
Tulip, at Tulip	7, 8
Sparta, at Camp Ground	14, 15
Saline, at Antioch	21, 22
Ruston, at Douglas	28, 29
Indian Village, at Pine Grove	Oct. 5, 6
Coulsville, at Gansville	12, 13
Vienna, at Pine Grove	19, 20
Gibsland	26, 27

ROBERT HANDLE, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Big Cane and Melville, at Big Cane	Aug. 3, 4
Evergreen, at Rinkle	10, 11
District Conference, at Rinkle	8 11
Lecompte and Boyce, at Lecompte	17, 18
Black river, at Larto	21, 25
Villalia and Troy, at Young's	Sept. 1
Centreville, at Front Creek	7, 8
Columbia, at Parnassus	14, 15
Simsport, at Bayou Jacques	21, 22
Alexandria, at Lemothe's	28, 29
Montgomery, at St. Maurice	Oct. 5, 6
Ada	12, 13
Sugar Town, at Dry Creek	19, 20
Spring Creek, at Science Hill	26, 27

H. P. ALEXANDER, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Delhi, at Winnsboro	(Fri.)..July 12
Oakley, at Bonne Prairie	13, 14
Monroe	(Wed.)... 17
West Monroe, at Faulk's Chapel	20, 21
Lind Grove, at Bonidee	27, 28
Bastrop, at DeSiard	Aug. 3, 4
Oak Ridge, at Good Hope	10, 11
Waterproof, at Jordan	17, 18
Lake Providence, at Lake Providence	27, 28
Richland, at Girard	31, Sept. 1

J. D. HARPER, P. E.

DEFLOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Washington	July 13, 14
New Iberia	20, 21
Grand Chenier	27, 28
Franklin	Aug. 3, 4
Morgan City	10, 11
Opelousas	17, 18
Abbeville	24, 25
Lake Charles	Sept. 4
Edgerly	6, 7
Crowley	13, 14
Sabine mission	20, 21

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Seashore Camp Meeting	July 14
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.	21
Rayne Memorial	28
Gretna and Scarparn	28
Camp Street	Aug. 4
Louisiana Avenue	11
Baton Rouge	17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Arbrothe	20
Felicity Street	25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.
The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Hoimbird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.
Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

Roanoke College.
The location is unsurpassed for healthfulness, and the moral town of Salem has five churches and no barrooms. For the advantages offered Roanoke is certainly an economical institution. The Catalogue, with the illustrations, and the Roanoke Collegian, for July, will be sent free on application to the president or secretary of the faculty, Salem, Va.

CAMP MEETINGS.

The camp meeting at Oak Grove, Floyd circuit, will begin August 14, and last eleven days. Anyone desiring information concerning accommodations, etc., will address me at Floyd, or Rev. T. H. Reneau, Oak Grove, La. Everybody invited, especially all the preachers.

ROBT. P. HOWELL, P. C.

The Brownsville Camp Meeting will begin on Friday night before the third Sabbath in August. The camp ground is situated twelve miles north of Choudrant Station, V. S. and P. R. R., and one mile northeast of Downsville, La. Mail hack runs daily from station, passing near camp ground. All ministers invited.

H. S. COGIER, P. C.

Dr. Davis' Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar has made a name and record in the past fifty years that is enviable. Thousands of people having tried it for coughs, colds, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis and consumption know its value, and would not be without it. Why? Because it cures where other remedies fail. We recommend it for children subject to croup and whooping-cough. It will give relief and cause speedy cure. The medical profession recognize it, and physicians frequently prescribe it for lung troubles. These facts have pushed Davis' Wild Cherry and Tar to the front rank. It is the best remedy for coughs, colds, all throat and lung affections, and no family should be without it. One dollar bottles hold two and a half times as much as a 50c. bottle.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Seashore	July 5
Sulphur Springs	July 25
Heniagton (Crystal Springs)	Aug. 8
Sam Jones	Aug. 9
Topisaw	Aug. 10
Downsville	Aug. 16
St. Tammany	Sept. 27

No Cure, No Pay.
It is a pretty severe test of any doctor's skill when the payment of his fee is made conditional upon his curing his patient. Yet after having, for many years, observed the thousands of marvelous cures effected in liver, blood and lung diseases, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, its manufacturers feel warranted in selling it, as they are now doing, through all druggists, the world over, under a certificate of positive guarantee that it will either benefit or cure in every case of disease for which they recommend it, if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. Torpid liver, or "biliousness," impure blood, skin eruptions, scrofulous sores and swellings, consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), all yield to this wonderful medicine. It is both tonic or strength-restoring, and alterative or blood-cleansing.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh positively cured by Dr. Sage's Remedy. 50 cents, by druggists.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending July 8, 1889.)

COTTON.
Low ordinary	8⅛ @	— —
Ordinary	8⅞	— —
Good ordinary	9⅜	— —
Low middling	10⅛	— —
Middling	10⅝	— —
Good middling	11⅜	— —
Middling fair	11¾	— —
Fair	12⅛	— —
Galveston middling	10⅞	— —
Mobile middling	10¾	— —
Memphis middling	10 11-16	— —
SUGAR.
OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— —	— —
Fully fair	— —	— —
Good fair	— —	— —
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	— —	8½
Prime yellow	— —	— —
Low white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	9¼
MOLASSES.
OPEN KETTLE:
Choice	— —	— —
Fair	— —	— —
Good common	— —	— —
SYRUP	— —	— —
RICE.
No. 2	2	2¼
Good	4⅜	4½
Fair	4	4¼
Prime	4¾	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	4 10
Polish, ₱ ton	15 00	16 00
FLOUR.
Extra Choice	4 80	4 90
Fancy	— —	4 35
Choice	— —	— —
Minnesota Patents	— —	6 00
Winter wheat patents	5 15	5 25
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50
CORN PRODUCTS.
Corn meal	2 40	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 65	2 75
Hominy	— —	2 75
GRAIN, ETC.
CORN:
White, ₱ bushel	— —	48
Yellow	— —	46
Mixed No. 2	45	45½
OATS:
Western	— —	33½
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
₱ cwt	72½	75
HAY:
Prime	14 00	15 00
Choice	17 00	17 50
PROVISIONS.
PORK:
Mess, Standard	— —	13 25
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	9½	11
Shoulders	— —	6¼
Sides, short rib	7½	7⅜
Sides, long clear	7⅛	7¼
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	11¾	12½
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	— —	5½
Sides, short rib	— —	6½
Sides, long clear	— —	6½
GROCERIES.
COFFEE:
Prime	— —	19
Fair	— —	18
Common	— —	15¾
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
Hyson	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	18½	19
Western Dairy	13½	14
Common	— —	7
LARD:
Refined	6½	6⅝
OILS:
Cond. bbls	10	— —
Cond. cases	15½	16
Cotton seed, crude	41	43
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70
VEGETABLES.
CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	1 50	1 75
Chicago, ₱ bbl	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	— —	— —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	1 50	— —
Western	1 35	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	1 50	1 55
Western	— —	— —
BAGGING STUFFS.
BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb, ₱ yard	16¾	16½
Jute, 1¾ lb, ₱ yard	9½	9¾
Lone Mills Cotton Bagging	12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb	9½	10
TIES:
₱ bundle	1 05	1 07½
SUNDRIES.
POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	4 00	4 25
Young Chickens	1 25	3 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 00	1 75
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	11	11½
Southern	12	12½
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb	24	24½
Louisiana	22	23
Berry	11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	3	— —
Dry Salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	10 00	13 00
Meal	20 50	— —
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	2½
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders. The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.
A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Summer Tours.
Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address
R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

Prevent Attacks of Fever.
We ask but a glance at this, and it will pay any sufferer from liver complaint, enlarged spleen or ague cake, bilious affections of any kind, deranged secretions, prostration from dissipation, constipation, dropsy, or any affections where liver, bowels, blood and stomach are involved. A guaranteed cure for all this class of diseases is offered in J. & C. Maguire's Cundurango. Doctors are astonished and invalids delighted.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,
Homeopathic Physician,
288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.
Cases treated by letter.

WANTED!
A white woman to do general housework; particulars address
REV. H. C. FOUST
Winona, Miss.

Liverpool and London and Globe
INSURANCE COMPANY.
Largest Fire Office in the World.
Losses paid by Chicago Fire, 1871, $3,239,881.
Losses Paid by Boston Fire, 1872, $1,675,000.
All Losses Paid in Cash without Discount as soon as Adjusted.
Losses and all matters of business settled by officers and directors in New Orleans without reference to any other office, the same as with local companies.
Directors in New Orleans—NEWTON BOOTH, Chairman; RODOLPH WOESTE, JOHN W. LA SOUSSE, A. HELVAILLE.
CLARENCE F. LOW, Ass't Resident Secretary.
HENRY V. OGDEN, Resident Secretary.

A GOOD PLACE for a MUSIC TEACHER is alongside of the counter of a BIG BOOK AND PIANO MUSIC STORE. A few hours of summer leisure may be profitably spent in examining our exceptionally good new publications, and selecting for the fall campaign.
From our 64-page list of books (which you can ask for), we name a few books out of many.
Examine for Singing and Chorus Choirs
Song Harmony, (30 cts., $3 doz. Express.)
Royal Singer, (40 cts., $4 doz. Express.)
American Male Choir, ($1, or $9 doz. Express.)
Jehovah's Praise, ($1, or $9 doz. Express.)
Concert Selections, ($1, or $9 doz. Express.)
Or our excellent Cantatas:
Daily Maid's Supper, (40 cts., $4 doz.) Lewis.
Rainbow Festival, (20 cts., $1.80 doz.) Tenney.
Examine our superior School Music Books
Song Manual, Book 1, (40 cts., $4 doz.) Emerson.
Song Manual, Book 2, (40 cts., $4 doz.) Emerson.
Song Manual, Book 3, (40 cts., $4 doz.) Emerson.
United Voices, (50 cts., $5 doz. Express.)
Kindergarten and Primary Songs, ($3 doz.)
Examine our new Piano Collections.
Popular Piano Collection, ($1.) (Boards.)
Popular Dance Music Collection, ($1.)
And many others. Also
Popular Song Collection, ($1.) (All of songs.)
Song Classics, (Cap, $1.) (Boards, $2.)
Classic Tenor Songs, ($1.) Each of these ($1.)
Any book mailed for retail price.
Oliver Ditson Company, Boston.
C. H. DITSON & CO., 867 Broadway, New York.
Mention this paper.

BLADON SPRINGS
CHOCTAW COUNTY, ALABAMA.
W. A. TURNER, Manager.
THE
FIRST WATERING PLACE IN THE SOUTH
12 Hours by Steamboat from Mobile, on the Tombigbee River. Daily communication during Winter Season.
Large Hotel and Pleasant Cottages, which can be accommodated. The Cottages are now plastered and provided with good fireplaces, making them warm and "home-like."
H. WARD, Agent (Successor to D. F. Caskie & Co.), Druggist, Mobile. ISAACSON, SIXTY & CO., Agents (Grocers), Canal St., New Orleans. The Bladon Water on tap and for sale by EUGENE MAY, Cor. Canal and Charles Sts., New Orleans, La.
Mention this paper.

CLIFF HOUSE AND COTTAGES,
At Tallulah Falls, Ga.
THE NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH.
The Cliff House is the best equipped summer resort hotel in the Blue Ridge Mountains.
For descriptive pamphlet address
J. C. S. TIMBERLAKE, Manager,
Tallulah Falls, Ga.

White Cliff Mineral Springs
On Chilhowee Mountains.
3,000 Feet above sea level. Open June 1st. Good fare. Comfortable accommodations. Reasonable terms. Magnificent scenery. Pure atmosphere. For analysis, circulars and full information, address J. H. MAHLE, Manager, White Cliff Springs, Monroe County, Tenn.

Capital Commercial College
Has been taught in Cities and not on the Seats of Learning
P. C. Duval, President

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 29. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1717.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION. - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

COMMISSIONED.

BY ELIZABETH P. POPE.

It is sweet to feel the breath of God
Through our sails of thought, and wait
Then oh,
A rich-freighted ship,
With blessings for those eager souls
Wait upon the shores of time for them!

It is hard to put the songs of heaven
Words, those forms of earth-baked clay
Which we mold the manna sent from God
Hungry souls who starve for bread of life.

Like disciples in the olden time,
Some of us is granted privilege
Like the bread the Master breaks himself,
Give to famished ones, who wait
Scattered groups on the green earth.

To be wise, and graciously divide
The crumbs unto the chosen ones,
Some go hungry through our grudging gifts,
Never taste to see the Lord is good.

Christian Education.

BY REV. E. H. MOUNGER.

For Christians all education should be Christian education. This proposition is so plain that it needs only to be stated in order to be accepted. Our religion we hold to be absolute and final. The gospel of Christ admits no error, since it is the truth from heaven, the revelation of the one way of salvation. Everyone, therefore, who has a clear apprehension of what that gospel is must be convinced of the importance of teaching it, and of forming character according to its spirit and principles. Hence the necessity for the establishment of Christian schools, where every early and tender influence may contribute to the training of the heart and mind after the most sacred model. Pure homes, consecrated to Christ, where—

"Joy, like morning dew, distills,
And all the air is love,"

and are everlastingly bright as the years and places that God has chosen and blessed for the training of immortal spirits for the lifetime of heaven. For the home to be destitute of Christian example and influence is not only to shadow the beauty and glory of childhood, but oftentimes to fatally mar and vitiate the moral character of the whole after life. We can not afford to fail to make use of those golden years, when a smile may impress the immortal spirit, or a word may inspire it forever. Scarcely less important is the Christian school. The ultimate aim of education is character, and this consists primarily in the direction and strengthening of the will. How often has knowledge been held up as a savior—mere intellectual culture! Only educate, it is said, and the world will be pure and wise and happy. But how paltry and pitiful is the idea! Only the shallowest, most illogical minds can so think. We all, knowledge is the regulation of the will, the forming of the character. No one doubts that man was made to know. The eye is not more evidently constructed to see than the heart is to learn. But from the fact that knowledge is one of the elements of man's destination, it does not follow that knowledge is itself this destination. The fact is, that knowledge is too narrow a function to embrace the whole man, to monopolize his power. The intellect, there exist within us a moral and feeling, of which the cultivation can not be neglected without warping our development and marring our personality. There is something that raises man higher than intellect does, and this is his responsibility to law, his obligation as a moral being. The capacity to know what duty is, and to perform or neglect it, is the grandest feature of human life. Wherefore the absolute worth, the absolute dignity of a human being, consists in the fact that he is amenable to the law of duty, and it follows that the highest culture is the culture of the will and the feelings. The difficulty of conduct does not lie in knowing what is right to do, but in doing it when known. Intellectual culture does not touch the conscience. It provides no motives to overcome the weakness of the will, and with wider knowledge it brings also wider temptations. Like a leaf whirled upon a wintry torrent, some men are, not because of ignorance, but because of feebleness of will; that will which should have been strengthened by culture and exercise. No learning is worth much which does not make men better able to do their duty, and more willing to do it. I have always had the highest respect for those old Persians who, Gibbon says, taught their sons to ride, to shoot with the bow, and to tell the truth. Certainly it is shamelessly illogical to affirm that there is any causal tie between mental activity and civic virtues, or between illiteracy and vice. If the culture of the mind or of the heart be regarded the less, let it not be the latter. Therefore, the young man who goes out from school with an inspiration, which he has caught there, for lofty virtues and noble actions; who has ermine truth and knightly honor; who loves his country; who has right views of life, that it is not thought and feeling simply, but action and endurance; who has sound, old-fashioned views about paying debts; who is courteous to all, wearing, without abuse, the grand old name of gentleman; who has the manliness to breast the blows of circumstance and stand four-square to all the winds—he goes out better equipped than any other for happiness, for usefulness, and for the honor of those who have trained him. Let a girl go forth from school with reverence for God; with, as Wordsworth says,

"Benignity and home-bred sense, Ripening in perfect innocence;"

with faith in the invisible and the eternal, "true to the kindred points of heaven and home;" with a right view of life, and a steady, calm courage to meet it all; with a desire for knowledge and a love for all that is true, and she will have a greater power to secure the affections of all manly hearts, and to gain the highest happiness, than if her mind had stored up all the treasures of a cyclopedia. Along this line the school finds its noblest work, the crown and flower of all its culture. This is the justification; this constitutes the perpetual demand for the Christian school. To accomplish this result three things are necessary.

1. The Word of God must be made the basis of instruction. This claim is founded, not upon its literary superiority, or on the unapproached excellency and beauty of its truths, but on its authority as the Word of God. In all moral questions we want a final court of appeal. It is to be found nowhere except in the Bible. "Here is firm rock; all is sea beside." Without this guide the mind and conscience wander "in endless mazes lost." Everything else is only human opinion, shifting like the colors on the clouds, varying as human taste and culture vary. That Word is the same yesterday, to-day, and forever. There prophets and apostles yet counsel, and he, who spake as never man spake, still judges and decrees, and from his eternal throne rules the consciences of men.

2. A true philosophy must be inculcated. Consciously or unconsciously, every man's life is regulated by a philosophy, formulated or unformulated. If his philosophy be pure and high, his life will be noble; if it be false and contracted, his life will be gross and earthly. The characters that are developed in any institution of learning depend largely upon the ideals that are set before the pupils. The mind must be accustomed to look upon, and the heart to venerate "whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; and if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, to think on these things." The highest ideals must be presented, and always there must be taught the difference between spirit and matter, and the immense importance of living in the spirit. It is vital that there be a right estimate of the value and dignity of human nature. Wherefore the doctrine of materialism in all its forms is to be reprobated. We are compelled every day to witness much of the practical effects of materialism as it subordinates everything to the acquisition of wealth; as it makes a coarse utilitarianism the measure of values; as it transforms society into a mad contest for selfish and transient pleasure, thus dwarfing life into the smallest dimensions. But it is when the doctrine is formulated into a creed, when it is coined into phrases and becomes current, when it has its forms and symbols, and sits regnant in the schools, then it is most to be dreaded. Then it is, indeed, the angel of pestilence dropping the seeds of death from its black wings wherever it sweeps. It denies the distinction between spirit and matter, or the existence of spirit altogether. It holds that thought is only a secretion or modification of the brain, and that the rapture of love and the pathos of grief are only currents of electricity along the tissues of the body. It heart-stifles all that is generous, and, like the desert winds, breathes wasting and death over all that is brave and true. It styles hope a delusion, and laughs at heroism as a blunder. It makes life itself only a Mazeppa ride through the world.

"Behind, all dark and dread;
Before, all night and fear."

To save the rising generation from this pernicious falsehood, there must be constantly kept before them the great truth contained in the question of the Master: "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

3. But most important of all these must be the living teacher. Personality is in all quarters the most potential factor. No world-moving system has ever been propagated by the silent page. The life and speech of our blessed Lord went along with his great sacrifice. Even if behind the book which you read there is a personality, firm as adamant, untainted by selfishness, so that each noble thought is the utterance of a noble soul, the words come to you as words of power. Religion is contagious. We see at once, then, the need for teachers whose lives exemplify the grace of the gospel, and whose hearts are filled with love for the souls under their care. There must be not less intellectual culture and ability, but more of genuine piety and zeal. Text-books may be faultless, the Bible may be interpreted in the school, morning and evening prayer and song may go up; but without active, diffusive piety in the teachers the result will be as barren as the foam of the sea. Worldly-minded and indifferent teachers will surely counteract all good influences. Right here is the cause of the almost failure in these higher matters in the case of so many of our church institutions. To have Conference sanction and patronage, to have a Christian label, is not enough. A tree is known by its fruits. Alas! that the distinctively denominational school should ever be a less fertile nursery of piety than the State institution! The teacher should be the model and illustration to the pupil in things physical, mental and spiritual. The worldly-minded teacher, the avaricious teacher, the teacher that does not love the house of God and the cause of Christ, has no place in our church schools, and is really obstructive of the great work for which these schools were ordained.

(The foregoing paper was read by President Mounger at the mass meeting held in the Methodist Church, in Vicksburg, Friday evening, July 5, and was listened to with profound attention.—EDITOR.)

Letter from the Church Extension Office.

MR. EDITOR: I send you by this day's mail a copy of our Seventh Annual Report and map. These embrace an account of our work done during the year ending March 31, 1889.

It will be observed that we have advanced in every line of our operations; collected more money, paid out more, helped more churches and parsonages, and made larger appropriations for the ensuing year than at any previous time.

Since the meeting in April, our collections and disbursements have been much larger than during the corresponding period of previous years. We have paid out from this office within ten dollars of $20,000 for churches and parsonages, in loans and donations, since April 1, last. What has been done by the Conference Boards during the quarter just ended, we have no means of knowing, as they report to us only once a year, and that at the time of their Annual Conference sessions.

You will observe by a reference to the abstract on the back of the map that the cash capital of our loan funds was, at the end of last year, over $53,000. To this we have since added from collections enough to make a total of $55,869 56, nearly every dollar of which is now in the hands of churches and at work. Not a copper of it would have been in our treasury to-day if the proper papers had been executed and sent on.

From the $25,000 of assets belonging to our loan funds, we hope to realize during the year enough to make the total cash capital of all these funds fully $75,000. There is every promise of steady growth in these funds.

Our present need, however, is more money for donations. This is a sad want. We were asked at the annual meeting for three times as much as we felt authorized to appropriate; and for what was appropriated there has been such a clamor as we have never heard before.

Thus far we have not been able to do much in the way of paying off donations; and unless the preachers bestir themselves and look promptly and persistently after their church extension collections, we can not possibly meet the demands upon us. We need every dollar assessed on every Conference in the church. With it we can make a record far in advance of any previous year; without it our work will be crippled, and grievous disappointments are in store for churches all over the land.

Let no preacher fail to collect, if possible, his entire assessment, and to do so at the earliest practicable hour, and remit the proceeds to his Conference treasurer without delay.

We helped during last year seventeen more churches and parsonages than one for each day in the year. Does not an organization, which is accomplishing such results, deserve to be sustained and endorsed by the church at large?

Give us, brethren, your sympathy, prayers, and help.

DAVID MORTON, Sec'y.

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 9, 1889.

Support and Advancement of the Gospel.

If the people are fully convinced, as they can be by proper instruction, that it is their duty to contribute, at least, one-tenth of their income to the support and advancement of the gospel, with its heaven-born influences—and that it is not only their duty, but they could not possibly make a better investment—they would certainly contribute more liberally for that all-important purpose. They would naturally do so; for everybody desires to be "well off," and all are seeking for paying investments. And it can be proven satisfactorily from the sacred Scriptures that investments made thus with the Lord will pay better than anywhere else. If that would be a low motive with which to begin to actuate people to promote the gospel, it (the gospel) in return would elevate the people to higher planes. From which they could have nobler aims and be influenced further on by loftier aspirations to better things still. The gospel is intended to benefit mankind—those who send it as well as those to whom it may be sent.

Evidently one reason, and, perhaps, the main one, why people do not contribute more largely for the advancement of the gospel of Christ, is a lack of fuller information and better understanding on that subject, which is not sufficiently set forth among their other duties, and explained and impressed upon their minds and hearts, as they need be. That is a duty, and a very important one; and why not teach and stress it as well as others? Teach the people their whole duty—that one included.

Would it not be a capital idea for the church to call for prize essays on the all-important subject of the support and advancement of the gospel of Christ? Appoint a suitable committee to examine the essays and select the best to be published for circulation, and to be "read, at least, once a year, with the General Rules." By that means the very best presentation of the subject would be brought before the whole people to instruct and convince them of their duty, and actuate them to contribute liberally to the spread of the kingdom of Christ over the whole world, to bless it with all its beneficent institutions. If it be made the duty of each minister to present the subject "once a year, at least" (but he be left to do so in his own manner), all the people would not be equally instructed. Let the very best talents in the church put forth their very best efforts to present the subject in the very best manner, to accomplish the very best good possible. D. W. FOSTER.

PLAISANCE, Louisiana.

Mississippi Methodist College.

The liberal responses, wherever this cause has been presented, show that the need of a Methodist College for boys in the State of Mississippi is felt, and our people are determined to endow, build and equip such an institution. The first $100,000 will soon have been subscribed, with more to follow.

The towns desiring to have the college located in their midst are now asked to send in their bids to Maj. R. W. Millsaps, chairman of the Joint Committee, Jackson, Miss. Let the bids show number of acres of lands and estimated value; what buildings, if any, and character, and how much money to provide additional buildings.

A Mississippi Methodist College for Mississippi boys, is now the watchword—a college which will be the pride of Mississippi Methodism, as well as an honor to our great State. Everything will be ready for submission to the Annual Conferences next December—plans, donations, etc. Maj. Millsaps pitched the tune, and the chorus will be rousing. "There's music in the air!" T. L. MELLEN.

The College Again.

Not only do we want $500,000 to put with Maj. R. W. Millsaps' liberal subscription, but we want to get as large an endowment fund as possible, so that the college may begin its career with every guarantee of success. Besides, we want to put the tuition down so low as to make it nominal. We want a college where the poor boy will have an equal chance with the rich boy to get a liberal education. To accomplish this, the Joint Committee want all the preachers in the two Conferences to preach on the subject of "Christian and Denominational Education," and do all in their power to get all our friends thoroughly interested in the good work. Sound the cry, brethren, from the Tennessee line to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the Alabama line to the mighty Mississippi! Let it be known that no subscription, however small, is rejected, and none, however large, is refused. From the $5 subscription of the child to the $25,000 professorship endowment, all offerings will be accepted. And just such subscriptions are coming in, with more to follow. A Mississippi Methodist College for Mississippi boys is an assured fact. The movement which took shape last winter is rapidly crystallizing. Soon it will be solid. T. L. M.

Port Gibson Female College.

This delightful and practical school closed a very prosperous and satisfactory session June 18, 1889. The exercises were well attended, and the visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased.

We call attention to the following facts concerning this institution of learning:

1. The president, principal and teachers of the college are of the best class. President Mounger is widely known as a teacher of high repute. As a Christian gentleman, a scholar and teacher, he is the admiration of all who know him. Modest as a refined woman, strong in his convictions of right, his personal influence is great.

Miss Compton has shown that she is competent to manage her department. In her character she combines firmness, kindness, and practicability.

2. The construction of the building, the delightful campus, and the home-like appearance of everything, make the college a desirable place for young ladies. An abundance of wholesome food is supplied, and every effort is put forth for the comfort of the students.

3. Thorough work in the school-room, and development of noble traits of womanhood, are the constant aim of the teachers. A distinguished lawyer said he knew no school which was sending out more useful and competent teachers. Only one visit from a doctor during the ten months. The young ladies have had the best of health. We can sincerely and heartily recommend this school to the public.

Our stay was pleasant, and we are under many obligations for special attention from Rev. John A. B. Jones and wife, and from the officers of the college. The enjoyment of the college exercises was enhanced by a sermon of strength and power from Dr. W. E. Ballard.

Now, let the Board of Stewards give President Mounger a month's leave of absence, so that he can canvass for his school, and we predict wonderful results. I. W. COOPER,
For Committee.

Is It True?

A recent issue of the ADVOCATE contained a rather sharp editorial note founded on what seemed to be correct information as to certain conduct of members of the late Opelousas District Conference. The said note informs the public that the editor of the ADVOCATE had received a private letter, stating that at the Conference "the woods were full" of candidates for election to the General Conference, and that a brother had come there from another district for the express purpose of canvassing for his favorite.

Now, as a matter of course, I do not know just what the brother of the private correspondence knew concerning the matter; but I can speak for myself, and I am sure that I also speak for several other brethren who were in attendance. I neither saw nor heard of a single candidate at the Conference. I am inclined to think that if they were there, they stayed in the "woods," or else disguised the fact wonderfully well. I have since heard from three other brethren who agree in this statement. The "visiting brother" came to me near the close of the Conference, regretfully saying he had been so charged, and protested that he had no such intention in coming.

I am sorry, Mr. Editor, to feel the necessity of writing this letter, but the publication of your note demands that it should be given to the public.

J. W. MEDLOCK.

NEW IBERIA, Louisiana.

(How Bro. Medlock could get out of our note the idea that it referred to the "conduct of certain members of the late Opelousas District Conference," is a mystery to us. We called no names and mentioned no places, and there have been fifteen District Conferences held in the ADVOCATE'S territory within the past sixty days!—EDITOR.)

"The Man of Galilee"—A Great Book.

MR. EDITOR: Through the kindness of the author—my friend, Dr. A. G. Haygood—I have just read his last book, "The Man of Galilee." I unite with you in its hearty commendation. Always fresh and forceful, the author excels himself in this vigorous volume. Its chief merit—the real test of all authorship—is suggestiveness. He awakens thought, opens inviting fields, and gives one a relish for exploration. The book is helpful to higher apprehensions of the character, mission and influence of "The Man of Galilee." I hereby acknowledge to the author myself a grateful debtor for this admirable volume, and hope it may be widely read. Fraternally,

CHAS. B. GALLOWAY.

JACKSON, Miss., July 11, 1889.

The known and estimated gain in spindles in the New England States from January 1, 1888, to June 30, 1889, in round numbers, is 1,500,000; with a total spindle capacity of 10,500,000, the net gain for New England, including Massachusetts, should be a trifle over 14 per cent. For Massachusetts alone, 13½ per cent.; for Middle States, 9 per cent.; for Southern States, 50 per cent.; for Western States and Territories, 13½ per cent.; British America, 3 per cent. —Boston Journal of Commerce.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1889.

LIFE'S TAPESTRY

BY DORA GREENSWELL.

Too long have I, methought, with tearful eye
Pored o'er the tangled work of mine, and mused
Above each stitch awry and thread confused:
Now will I think on what the years gone by
I heard of them that weave rare tapestry
At royal looms; and how they constant use
To work on the rough side, and still peruse
The pictured pattern set all we them high.
So will I set my copy high above,
And gaze and gaze till on my soul it grows
Its gracious impress; till some line of love
Transfer-relation my extra-faintly glows:
Not look too much on warp and woof, provide
He whom I work for sees their fairer side.

From our Special Correspondent

AT SEA.

TUESDAY, June 18, 1889.
ON BOARD STR. "SEGUIA"
Lat., 42°; Long., 49°.

DEAR DOCTOR: The surroundings are considerably changed since I left you. We are at present riding grandly, as well as "shakingly" as this chirography shows, on the "briny billows," about 700 miles south of New Foundland. Our vessel has run 500 miles south of the regular course in order to escape fog and icebergs. It seems a German steamer ran square into an iceberg last week, and our captain is profiting by their experience.

We spent a very pleasant visit in New York City. Wife is captivated with the place, and desirous of spending three months there, "by way of experiment." The products of a world are obtainable in New York. We had read so much and looked at so many cuts of the Statue of Liberty, that it did not produce the "effect" upon us one would expect. As we viewed it from the Battery, and again as we passed it on board the steamer, we unanimously agreed that it looked "diminutive in the midst of so much magnitude." But of Brooklyn Bridge the effect was different. We never tired of gazing upon it and admiring its grandeur as to its construction, and appreciating the purpose for which it was designed. To see the continuous stream of travel over it by foot-way, carriage-way, trattle-way and cable-car-way, one is forced to wonder how it was possible to have remained so long without such an "highway." Its strength impresses one, and leads one on to think of the "highway that shall be for the redeemed to walk in." The "grand" attraction every afternoon continues to be "a visit to Central Park, via Fifth Avenue entrance." The number of teams driven by uniformed coachmen leads one to wonder how much of an income will permit such display. They have, to a considerable extent, the cruel custom of abridging the tails of their handsome horses, which gives them an awkward appearance to the uninitiated; "but then it's the style, you know." The Menagerie is as interesting and entertaining as ambition to excel can make it. Everything about you impresses the visitor with the conviction that wealth predominates, and a determination to attract the eye prevails. Improvements are constantly being made with an unstinted hand. Perhaps a "public spirit" obtains here which is foreign to a city we wot of on the bank of a turbid river, about 100 miles from the Mexican Gulf. Their elevated railroad system is a wonder to behold, and employ for expeditious travel from one end of this great city to the other. No delays from blockaded streets or "passing processions;" one is carried whizzing from station to station, about six squares apart, with momentary stops to "hustle" passengers in and out "with a rush." Their surface railroads are extensively patronized also. Cars are not run three to six squares apart, but frequently two to one square. Conductors help you on board, collect your fare, ring to stop the car for you at point designated and assist you to alight. What a contrast with a system we are acquainted with! Two stout horses pull these cars instead of one poor worn-out mule. Instead of cobble-stone pavements a fine and durable Belgian one predominates. Of course, an immense population of "money getters" demands every facility for rapid transit, and capital is at hand to supply it. A large and well-equipped police force is accessible for every emergency. A stranger can ask directions to any desired point of one of these, with perfect confidence of intelligent answers. No one need get lost.

Our steamer is palatial in all its appointments; large and strong. Her length is 516 feet; tonnage said to be 8,500. We have 350 cabin passengers, beside many intermediate and steerage, and a crew of 200—"a floating world" of about 1,000 souls. Politeness characterizes every member of the crew, and the assured experienced seamanship of her officers tends greatly to relieve the fears of the timid of again reaching terra firma, "when the winds do blow and the waves roll high." The fare and accommodations are considerably "English," and require patience and intelligence to become accustomed to. The spirit of American independence is not catered to; one is constantly placed under forced obligations for services rendered, even to obtaining a glass of ice water. There is a "steward" for almost every want one may experience on shipboard, and at the end of the trip a "fee" is looked for by each. The sea-sick passengers are at their mercy as they lie in their berths or recline in their steamer-chairs on deck. Thanks to a kind Providence, we have not had to succumb to this disagreeable malady. We have been able to fill our seats at the table thus far. Wife is as much in raptures with the ocean waves, as they roll and foam, as she was with the mountains we saw on our trip to New York. She undertook this portion of her trip with much misgiving, but is now contented and pleased while riding on mid-ocean. We were 1,100 miles from Sandy Hook at twelve o'clock to-day. It is now eight P. M., and the atmosphere is much cooler. While "you all" are sweltering in New Orleans under a hot summer sun, we are forced to wear thick clothes and overcoats. We miss our clear, blue southern skies; have'n't seen any since leaving home.

Expect to reach Liverpool on Sunday night, June 23. Unless something transpires to alter our plans, we will remain in London until July 9; then run up to Edinburgh for a day; thence to Glasgow and Liverpool, when we will sail for New York on July 13. This will extend our trip in Europe a week longer than first anticipated. We should be back in New York, according to this program, on the morning of July 21. It is hardly probable that we will reach New Orleans before August 6, as we wish to remain in New York a week; then visit Niagara Falls and Chicago on our way home.

Thought of you all last Sunday, while the Doctor conducted services in the salon, at 10:30 A. M., in the presence of a majority of the passengers. Sang two hymns; the last one, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The entire service lasted about forty-five minutes. Accept our best wishes. E. T. M.

Robbing God.

In responding to "Subscriber's" proposition, I thought that I would write a few lines for our valuable paper, if you can give it space therein.

By referring to the Book of Malachi, chapter three, beginning with the eighth verse, and ending with the eighteenth verse, will be found something very interesting to us, as a nation and as a church. There is a question asked and answered: "Will a man rob God? yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings." He asks us to bring in the tithes into his house, and prove him if he will not be true to his word. Listen! "If I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Brethren, do you not want this blessing? Let's hear what else he has to say: "And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruit of your ground, neither shall your vine (we have the cotton stalks) cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts."

I believe what the Lord has said, that when we, as a nation or church, do our duty, he will bless our land, our crops, that they will not fail, blast and shed in the field; yea, he will bless all our interests everywhere. It does look like a shame that a great Christian nation, a big Methodist Church with its hundreds of thousands of professed Christians, can not fill every open door which the Lord makes among the heathen with a teacher, with the Word of God, that those poor people might be led to our great Savior and be saved from their sins here and from that awful hell in eternity! Reader, hast thou faith in God—the Christian's God? If so, manifest it to the church and to the world. The apostle puts it thus: "Show me your faith without your works, and I will show you my faith by my works." Which are you going to show up?

Mr. Editor, please find herein inclosed $10 to send and maintain a missionary in Japan. Bro. "Subscriber," Dr. Lambuth, if I mistake not, asks for three missionaries, and we are trying to send one. Do you think that that is going to satisfy all these many well-dressed and happy-looking Methodists? Brother, I live in what is called piny woods, where the cotton, corn and other crops will not make but little in comparison with what it puts on with all our help, fertilizing and putting in our best land. Its casts its fruit in the field before its season. Oh, if we would do our duty and save this waste! But the trees in the woods and bushes on the roadside, where the clay is as red and poor as you or I ever saw, are growing, and look as green and flourishing as our crops do with all their help. Why is this? Some will say that it was so intended, while others will say that the substance which the bushes and trees draw from the earth is not what the cotton, corn and other crops need. I say to such people to read the ninth verse of the third chapter of Malachi: "Ye are cursed with a curse, for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation."

The good Lord gives us some good crop years, and we make plenty; and then he gives us bad years, and we make but little. Why is this? Read the ninth verse again. God gives us good years and bad years, trying to prove to us that he has the power to make all of our years good if we would bring in the tithes into his house that he might have meats in his house to preach his Word to all men.

I would like to say to "Subscriber," while he has done well, that I think that it is our duty, as a church, to send not only one, but the three needed missionaries. By reading Malachi xxxv. 21, 22, anyone may see how God's people did in those days. They made offerings of their bracelets and rings. We Methodists can supply every mission without bracelets and rings; but if we can not, we ought to pull them off, for God says, Honor me with your substance, and I will honor you. ISAIAH TUCKER.

GLOSTER, Mississippi.

Who Will Fail?

Is every pastor preparing for the week of prayer? That little company in Jerusalem continued "with one accord in prayer and supplication;" and how wonderfully they were answered on the day of Pentecost! If every pastor in the Southern Methodist Church will with his people unite during the week of prayer in earnest supplication in behalf of our foreign missions, who can measure the answer that will descend on the church at home and in the foreign field? Will not every pastor prepare his people to observe the week of prayer?

We have sent each one a copy of the program that preparation may be made for this solemn service. We have also sent each one a copy of the Annual Report. It contains a brief account of each of our missions that may be of value in preparing for the service of each day. We have also sent to each one a sample of the leaflets now on hand. Others will soon be ready. We will be glad to send to each preacher who will furnish his address, as many leaflets as he may wish to distribute among his people both before and during the week of prayer.

I. G. JOHN.

Letter from Mexico.

MR. EDITOR: After four long months of severe illness, I am able to sit up, and in a few days will be around on crutches. How thankful I feel to be able to get about again, even if I must travel thus. God has not forsaken us during these months of trial, and I have no disposition to murmur at the severe discipline which he thought necessary to fit us for usefulness. Our progress in the study of the language, of course, came to a full stop, and I must begin with my a, b, c, again, having forgotten all I learned. We have learned much of the disposition of the Mexican while we were so afflicted, and my interest in them and desire to work for them has greatly increased. I never saw a more affectionate and sympathetic people. And those who know Christ as their Savior have the most childlike faith. My sick-bed has been a bower of prayer. Everyone who came to see me prayed before they left, in their own language, and not understood by me; yet it comforted me greatly. Many seem to feel that I now belong to them, having been raised up through the influence of their prayers. We had many tokens of their affection, which touched our hearts. And it does seem that the trials through which we have passed has opened the way for Mr. Weems to the hearts of this people, as nothing else could have done. So, after all, the time which many may regard as lost, may have been the most favorable to advance Mr. Weems in the confidence and love of the people.

The death of my dear friend and sister, Miss Clara Chrisman, was a great blow to me. She wrote me just before she started on that fatal journey, saying she had prayed for me constantly, and was assured I would get well. She wrote such a sweet letter, saying: "The longer I live the more beautiful appears our blessed Christian religion, and the wonder is, that everybody is not a Christian, and that we all are not more devoted! If St. Paul, with his experience, could say, 'Godliness is profitable,' etc., surely we ought to be able to grasp the idea. My heart is so full of joy and sadness this morning; but, oh! my life falls so far short of the measure." I know this precious young heroine was fully prepared and ready to meet her Lord. While we sorrow because she has left us, her sweet voice is singing praises to our God in the "home of the blest." Knowing how hard it was for her loved ones at home to give her up, their sorrowing faces were ever before me, awake or asleep; fever came, and no rest could I find from my troubled thoughts, until I had a sweet dream of her and her mother. The latter said to me: "Don't be so distressed about me. At first I thought it would kill me; but now I feel resigned, and am satisfied. God knew best." Though only a dream, it comforted me greatly. We are forcibly reminded by the death of our young missionary, to be always ready for the Master's call. The Evangel, in mentioning the tragic death of our friend, says: "God teaches by afflictions and trials. Let our faith fail not, but let us tarry long in humility and prayer at the mercy-seat, until we learn the lesson which he would teach us by this bereavement."

MRS. S. G. WEEMS.

Avenida Rabberas No. 11,
CITY OF MEXICO.

Seashore District Conference.

The Seashore District Conference, for the current year 1889, met at Ocean Springs, T. S. West, P. E., in chair. The reports from the different charges were very satisfactory indeed. Collections ordered by the Conference being taken up, and some in full already. The Conference expressed itself earnestly against the Louisiana State Lottery, as will be seen from Dr. Abbey's article in this paper, which was endorsed and adopted by the Conference. It was an exceedingly pleasant session. There was not a jar. We had the good fortune of having Mrs. Jones, secretary Woman's Department of Church Extension for Mississippi, with us; and she gave an earnest exhortation in behalf of the enterprise which she represents.

The following were elected delegates to the Annual Conference: H. J. Harris, J. E. Smith, G. W. Walker, H. Ware.

Four trustees for Seashore Camp Ground were elected—Dr. E. F. Griffin, Moss Point, Miss.; J. P. Carter, Hattiesburg, Miss.; G. H. Walker, Handsboro, Miss.; J. A. Lewis, Meridian, Miss.

Next session will be held at Pearlington, Miss. G. H. GALLOWAY,
Secretary.

The following paper, prepared by Dr. Abbey, was passed by the Conference:

The geographical, commercial and social relation of this district, and especially the Coast portion of it to New Orleans, with its usual mass of city wickedness, as well as our more local anti-Christianity, calls, as we think, for a plain expression of belief by this Conference on the subjects following:

First. The Louisiana Lottery. To say nothing of the views of professedly Christian people, the lottery form of gambling is held by the legal and commercial world generally as an object of loathing and disgust, a fugitive and a vagabond upon the earth, fraught with the elements of social ruin, and is by nearly all the legislatures and criminal courts in Europe and America long since kicked out of the precincts of social and commercial decency. It is the especial enemy of the poor and the unsuspecting. Its work among us is large and baleful, and the countenance given to it by some church members is alarming. It is wholly in the keeping of bad men, bad women and bad citizens for bad purposes. It is the opus of this region of country. We forewarn every person to keep away from the lottery as you would avoid the fang of the serpent in any other form.

Second. Intoxicant drinks. This, though not so universally condemned by all classes as the lottery, is, nevertheless, its full accomplice in crime and its leader in moral and social ruin. It is too late in the history of whisky reform to characterize the whisky man in terms. An unblushing parasite, a dealer in children's sufferings and woman's anguish, let him and his business be avoided as the common enemy of his race. Let all good people hope, pray and work for his final overthrow and utter ruin.

Thirdly. On the subject of common amusements, generally considered sinful: such as Sabbath-breaking, dancing, theater-going, betting, card-playing or gambling of any sort, we warn all people against them as dangerous and hostile to Christianity. To say that under some circumstances they are not necessarily destructive of Christian character is no argument at all. They tend to final destruction. That which is doubtful is sinful; and deliberate sin is a plain, square insult to God.

We declare and publish these things for the benefit of the church and the world, and pray they may be practically heeded.

East Mississippi Female College.

To the friends, patrons and those wishing to become patrons of East Mississippi Female College, of Meridian, Miss., I wish to say that Rev. R. M. Saunders, its president, was busily engaged since the close of the last session preparing his catalogue until June 28, when, while endeavoring to take a book from a very large bookcase, the case fell over on him and seriously injured him, breaking his collar-bone. I am glad to say he is rapidly recovering, and will be in the field in the interests of his college by the middle of August. He had intended to spend the month of July in canvassing and distributing catalogues, but by his misfortune will not be able to begin this work till in August. The catalogue will be ready for distribution in a few weeks. Persons desiring information about the college can obtain the same by addressing Rev. R. M. Saunders, at Meridian, Miss. The number of boarding pupils will be necessarily limited in consequence of lack of room; hence those who desire to enter their daughters should make arrangements as early as possible. The prospects for a large attendance is very bright. A full, competent faculty, and the best management, ensures the best of instruction.

R. D. NORSWORTHY.

From the Work.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.

MR. EDITOR: Having finished up my second round of Quarterly Conferences, I have reached the half-way station on my year's work. Rest? No! Six months' work must be pressed into the next five months; thirty-six Quarterly Conferences must be held inside of twenty weeks. These appointments are scattered over eight parishes, nearly all of them to be reached by private conveyance. The brethren are pressing me to assist them in protracted and camp meetings. When I think of the work that is before me, together with the hot summer's sun, and clouds of dust that must be encountered and endured, I confess it makes me take a long breath, which is mingled with a sigh for relief; but I will trust in God, press forward, and do all I can, hoping the time will soon come when the districts of the Louisiana Conference will be reduced to such proportions as will enable the presiding elders to do not less work, but better work. I think an effort will be made in this direction at our next Annual Conference. Let presiding elders and others who feel interested think about it.

Our District Conference has just closed. Reports show but little progress compared with the reports of last year at this time. We have had some stirring revivals in the district, and others, doubtless, will follow. This, so far, has been a hard year on the preachers on account of the scarcity of money; yet few, if any, have faltered in the least. All look joyous and hopeful; and, no doubt, God helping us, everything will come up right on the "home-stretch." Dr. Hunnicutt was with us at the District Conference; raised eight thousand four hundred dollars in endowment notes for Centenary College, then hastened away on joyful wing to the Homer District Conference. We also raised two hundred and twenty dollars, cash subscription, for Mansfield College. We need, at least, ten thousand dollars for this college—must have it, not to pay debts (the college don't owe a dollar); not to pay the faculty (this institution is self-sustaining)—we need more room. Let every Methodist in the Conference contribute something, and say, You shall have it. J. B. CASSITY.

MANSFIELD, Louisiana.

GLOSTER, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: Will you please correct a false impression that grew out of a notice in your paper that everybody would be cared for at the Sam Jones Camp Meeting. This is a mistake. We only will take care of all preachers free; and, Bro. Carter, I am glad you are coming, and would be glad to see as many preachers as can come. But everybody else will be required to pay their own expenses. There will be ample hotel accommodations, and board can be had from seventy-five cents to $1 50 per day for meals. The Rev. Jos. A. Jones, brother to the great Sam P. Jones, will be with us for seven days, and we are praying and working for a sweeping revival, and we hope all preachers and Christians will come praying for a glorious presence from the Lord. Bro. I. W. Cooper has been with us at Gloster, and has very much endeared himself to all the people of Gloster, of all denominations. He is a faithful preacher, and as he stands on the walls of Zion, he fails not to preach the gospel without any coloring in it. The church has been greatly strengthened and put in better working trim, and sinners awakened, and a great many publicly promised to establish family altars. And at the services last evening, for men only, he preached from Galatians v. 7, 8; and after Bro. Cooper's discourse, which was a power, every man in the house but five came forward and gave the preacher their hand, that they would lead a different and a better life. A grand work for the Lord is going on all over this part of his moral vineyard. Pray for us. Your brother.

J. R. WHITTINGTON, Ass't P. C.

SUGARTOWN, LA.

MR. EDITOR: The Lord is still blessing us by adding to the church. Good feeling still exists. Protracted meetings will soon commence, from which we expect the best results. Our second quarterly meeting embraced the third Sunday in June, which was a time of refreshing to me. Preachers get hungry for preaching as well as anybody else, and such was the case with this preacher; but the two sermons preached by the presiding elder certainly met the demand. On the fifth Sunday, and the Saturday before, I assisted Bro. Hill, of Spring Creek circuit, at his East Bay appointment, which meeting resulted in one accession to the church.

In the neighborhood of my Dry Creek appointment there has been a great deal of malarial fever during the month of June. The death of Bro. George Heard's little boy, of about three years of age, who was a favorite in the family, was a painful providence. The fever seems to be giving way, and I hope that good health will soon prevail again. H. M. BANKS.

NOTES FROM OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss.

MR. EDITOR: The gem of our seashore towns, Ocean Springs, was honored with the presence of the late session of the Seashore District Conference, July 3 called together quite a large representation of ministers and laymen, and, not being honored with the presence of a Bishop, Rev. T. S. West, P. E., graced the chair with all the dignity, urbanity and wisdom of a veteran Bishop. The session was the shortest and most pleasant of any I ever attended. Most excellent sermons were delivered by Revs. Ellis, B. Jones, R. Abbey, and Bro. Woods. In Abbey's sermon on the institution, nature and use of the Lord's Supper, was a masterly exposition of the subject, and will prove of lasting benefit. The administration of the Sacrament, at the close of the sermon, was a fitting sequel. The hospitality of Ocean Springs was more than equal to the demand, and this means much to all familiar with the crowded state in the summer.

The friends of Rev. Jos. Nicholson will be glad to learn that his widow yet lives here, and enjoys moderate health.

The improvement of Ocean Springs is manifest in increased population, new residences and stores. The people of the Arctic States are seeking the sunshine of our Sunny South in the winter, and Ocean Springs has attracted, by her many advantages of climate, good soil, balmy air, medicinal waters and Protestant community, a goodly share of enterprising citizens from various Northern States. No more desirable location on our coast can be found for all who wish to spend the summer months. Just now the soil and climate of Ocean Springs is revealing its capacity to produce fruit. I have seen LeConte pear trees with limbs bending to the earth under their burden. The Shannon Bros. have a large orchard heavy laden with peaches, grapes, plums, with all kind of vegetables, abound here.

The people are not happy just now in President Harrison's choice for postmaster; but this won't last always.

R. B. DOWNER.

CLEVELAND, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: I have seen several pieces in your valuable paper written by the preachers of the Greenville district; so I thought that I would send you a few lines for publication to let you and the readers of the ADVOCATE, who may be concerned, know how we are getting along. We have two magnificent churches at Cleveland and Shelby—the last named just completed, and is a beautiful little church edifice, as pretty as I ever saw in the country. At Cleveland we have a very nice church, more costly than the church at Shelby; but it is a great deal larger, and is a much larger town than Shelby. But both of these churches would be a credit to any town or country. At Shaw's we have no church as yet, but we have three men who say they will give five hundred dollars apiece, and their wives get from the balance of the people five hundred dollars, making in all two thousand. So you see that we will have a nice church at Shaw's.

The spiritual condition of the charge is as good as any appointment in the Delta no older than ours; congregations large and attentive, and a kinder people I have never met. Finances well up. Collections will all come up in full. Yours truly,

W. T. BARNETT.

KOSCIUSKO AND DURANT STATION,
NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: We have just closed a glorious meeting at Durant. We continued fourteen days, with a growing interest and increasing congregations to the last service. The work depended was principally in the church; and while there are many visible results eternity alone will reveal the good which has been accomplished. Five persons were received into the church on profession of faith. We had valuable assistance from Rev. T. Y. Ramsey, superannuated member of our Conference, who resides at that place; also Revs. G. W. Brown and G. W. Gordon. Thanks to these brethren and glory be to God. We are expecting God's blessing on every interest of the entire charge during the year.

HESLEP R. TUCKER.

WATERFORD, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: We are moving on smoothly on Waterford circuit. Our Children's Day was a success; so said the brethren. We had a central meeting for the entire circuit, which met at Pleasant Grove Church. All of our schools were represented. We carried out the published program in the main. The collection was good, amounting to $9 60. Our Sunday-schools are all doing well; well supplied with our own literature. Since our holiness meeting at Waterford (during which twelve or fifteen professed the blessing of "perfect love") our prayer meetings are doing much better at that place.

W. M. ADAMS.

The opportunity and ability to repent is one of the highest privileges that God has granted to man.—Peabody.

Missionary.

TO THE GIVER SHALL BE GIVEN.

BY THEODORE GOODE SOUDER.

Where the waters sob and murmur,
Where the ocean beats its breast,
Did one wander, sad and lonely,
Thinking soon to find his rest.

But the ocean's solemn music
Had not power to raise the ban
Of the hideous, mystic burden
Birth first gave to fallen man.

Tho' he wandered where the billows
Lashed in fury by the gale,
Sought in vain to daunt his spirit,
Sought in vain to make it quail.

For the captain's son was pacing
Down the wastes of Shingley beach:
And the waters oft had threatened
On the deck where they might reach.

Still he found not, in his seeking,
What the soul most dearly sought:
'Twas not o'er the waters breaking,
'Twas not where it might be bought.

Then he turned him in his musing,
Sought the teeming haunts again;
Turned where fellow-men were toiling,
Staggering 'neath their load of pain.

Turned he quick, his soul upbraiding:
As the truth dashed over him then,
"What, O soul, is gained in wailing,
Why not help thy fellow-men?"

At that moment flowed his treasure
With the thing that he had sought:
And in giving, found the Giver
Of the peace no man hath bought.

Texts and Themes.

Daniel xii. 3: "And they that be wise shall radiate brightness as the expanse, and they that convert many to righteousness as the stars forever," etc.

Babylon's clear skies stimulated Daniel's fellow teachers to study astronomy and led to the worship of the stars. To them the firmament was deity, and its radiance the splendor of the Supreme.

Our Lord applies these words from Daniel. Compare Matthew xiii. 43.

The first clause refers to the expanse of day; the second to the glory by night. Thus sunlight and starlight are used as illustrations of the glory and reward of teaching truth and converting souls.

Sunlight is diffused and reflected and so becomes a revelation. The wise teacher diffuses and reflects the light of God, and so reveals truth and God to men. Starlight has grades of glory—and so converters of souls differ in the measures of their service and reward.

This text thus suggests the glory of teaching and turning souls. We are taught here, and in Psalm li. 13, the wise lesson.

Teaching first: instruction is the basis of all evangelization and conversion. God calls every believer to be a teacher and converter.

Success hangs on the Message, the Books and the Man. We confine ourselves to the Message.

The gospel, and nothing less and nothing else. The central theme: Christ Crucified." All preaching starts from and returns to that. It is a narrow theme, but a "swivel gun" may be swung in any direction, and directed to every practical issue of life.

A full gospel: "All Scripture is profitable." The most successful ministers and missionaries have preached the whole counsel of God, especially the eight fundamental truths: The Inspired Word. Man's Depravity. Christ the Only Savior. Justification by Faith. The New Birth. Personal holiness. God's Hatred of Sin. Future punishment. These are first principles of the doctrine of Christ. (Heb. vi. 1, 2, to vi. 2.) There are two edges to the sword of the Spirit—that of law and that of grace; and the one piercing point in which the two edges meet. The gospel must be a sword opening up the hidden part, then a mirror to show us our inner self.

An aggressive gospel. The true teacher or teacher is not one who stands on the defensive. In a game, the moment one is on the defensive the game is against him. So in war. Skillful strategy demands that the general keep the enemy busy defending himself. God never meant we should be using spades and throwing up intrenchments. Let us leave apologetics and energetically carry the war into the enemies' territory.

Accumulative gospel. True preaching is a pyramid—the basis laid firm, broad, square; then stone upon stone, layer upon layer, all converging to the climax. Unity and continuity of impression are thus conserved.—Missionary Review.

Missionary Investments.

The great question regarding investments is, "Will they pay reasonable returns?" Foreign missions is an investment. For every dollar put into it we get generous returns. Any one can see the truth of this statement by a little observation. The Norwegian is the highest Scandinavian immigrant population, but we have scarcely a Norwegian Baptist Church in the United States, and only a very few Norwegian Baptists. This may be explained by the fact that we never had a missionary in Norway, nor sent a dollar to evangelize that country. On the other hand, in Sweden we have spent a few thousand dollars, and resulting therefrom, we have in our own country several hundred churches, with thousands of members, gathered into associations and conferences.

The payment for missionary investment is seen in a still more marked degree among the Danes. We have not only a few hundred dollars yearly in Denmark. We have, in return, several Baptist conventions of Danes, embracing hundreds of churches, and several thousands of communicants in the United States. For the moderate amount of money invested in Germany we have here a large number of the best staunch and liberal German Baptists. Our first success in mission work among the Chinese on the coast came from mission work in China.

In the same line of thought James Russell Lowell well says of those ridiculous of the benefits accruing from foreign missions: "When skepticism has turned its attention to human society and found a place on this planet ten miles square, where a decent man can live in decency, comfort and security, supporting and educating his children, unspoiled and unpolluted, manhood respected, womanhood honored, and human life held in due regard—when skeptics can find such a place ten miles square on this globe, where the gospel of Christ has not gone and cleared the way and laid the foundations, and made decency and security possible, it will then be in order for the skeptical literati to move thither and then ventilate their views." Foreign missions do pay, and a potent and economical way to reach the foreign element in our own country is to send it to them in their home lands. —Standard, Baptist.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Hurlburt and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON IV.—July 28.

ISRAEL ASKING FOR A KING.

1. Sam. viii. 4-20.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Nevertheless the people refused to obey the voice of Samuel; and they said, Nay; but we will have a king over us.—1. Sam. viii. 19.

TIME.—B. C. 1095.

PLACE.—Ramah (a high place, a height).

4. All the elders—Thus the whole nation is in motion against the existing condition of things: it appears before Samuel officially and formally in the body of its representatives. The elders were not identical with the heads of tribes, but are distinguished from these. They always appear as the representative of the people, so much so that elders and people are occasionally used as equivalent terms. Their authority extended to all matters which concerned the public welfare; nor did the people question their acts even when they disapproved of them: hence it is inferred that they were appointed by a free popular election.

5. Said unto him—The elders presented the matter very skillfully to Samuel, implying verse 5 that they would be quite content if they could always have him for their ruler, or be sure that he would have a worthy successor. Thou art old, and thy sons walk not—This fact or judgment alone is given, and Samuel is not, like Eli, charged with the blame of his sons' misconduct. Make us a king—No one thought of displacing him, and no one but he could secure for the king the necessary authority and hearty acceptance. Like all the nations—Their sin consisted in an eager desire to be "like all other nations," who had earthly kings; whereas they ought to have deemed it a high privilege to be unlike other nations, in that they had been separated from all other people, and chosen from out of other nations to be a peculiar treasure. Perhaps their heathen neighbors had taunted them as being a nation without a king, and, therefore, they aspired to rival these nations in the appearance of worldly power and grandeur.

6. Displeased Samuel—Besides the natural aversion which he felt to being thrust aside after so many years of faithful and laborious [illegible] the natural prejudice which he would feel, at his age, against [illegible] of government, he doubtless saw how much of the evil heart of unbelief there was in the desire to have a visible king for their leader, instead of trusting to the invisible Lord who had hitherto led them. Samuel prayed—A characteristic act. He does not let his own personal feeling decide, but endeavors to learn what is the will of God in the matter. We do not know what we ought to think about this thing and that, and we want to be told what we should think about it.

7. Not rejected thee, but ... me—These words are the key to the whole history of the Hebrew monarchy. In their hearts they did not consult God about the matter, but took it into their own hands: they had an outward form of submission to him; but, in fact, they were rebelliously intent to have their own desire, without regard to his. By degrees two thoughts calmed him. The first was a feeling of identification with God's cause. ... The other element of consolation was the divine sympathy.

9. Now therefore hearken—The therefore of the Auth. Ver. might be rendered "so," or "yet," or "but," and must not be understood as implying that the ingratitude of the people was reason for complying with their request. The drift of the answer is this: Do what the people ask, set a king over them; let not your own wounded feelings interfere to prevent your complying with what is in itself desirable and good. Yet, at the same time, point out to them the inconveniences of the kingdom which they desire. The manner of the king—The powers and privileges which a king will think it his right to exercise. A king who would rule over his people with arbitrary and absolute power.

10. And Samuel told all the words of the Lord—Here are presented the main features of an absolute monarchy; but observe, they are set forth as the possible manner of judgment of the king himself, not as divine or God-given rights which every king must claim.

11. Some shall run before his chariots—See note on Lesson II., verse 12.

12. To ear his ground—Literally, to plow his plowing. "To ear" is an old English word, now obsolete, for "to plow."

18. Ye shall cry out in that day—By this dark picture of regal prerogative Samuel hopes that the people will withdraw their request for a king like those of other nations. This was exactly fulfilled in the revolt of the ten tribes from Rehoboam, which was caused by the grievous burdens to which they had been subject. The Lord will not hear you—You will be constrained to abide by your present choice of consequences.

PRACTICAL THOUGHTS.

The objection to the old age of Samuel indicated a dangerous want of respect and esteem for the wisdom and experience which none but the old can possess.

The want of integrity in the sons of Samuel was made the ground for an attempt to frustrate the purpose of God as to the government of his people.

Temperance Notes.

Dr. Bombaugh, an experienced medical examiner, claims that out of every hundred heavy beer drinkers not more than five pass the age of fifty-three.

Mrs. Mary A. Woodbridge says that in Cincinnati, where the liquor traffic is taxed, not licensed, about 50,000 school-children are not recorded in the school lists.

A $5,000 building, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Peters, of Manistee, Mich., is to be erected next year at Bay View, Mich., for the use of the W. C. T. U. school of methods and members of the union.

Dr. H. S. Tanner, the famous faster, challenges any half-dozen of the lingest giants of wine and beer to meet him in a fasting contest in which neither side shall be allowed to taste food; they to have all the liquor they want; ite to drink only water, the fast to continue till the one or the last of the six yields the contest.

Hon. Richard Trevillick, a leader among the Knights of Labor, considers intemperance the curse of organized labor. He says: "The labor question will never be settled until the liquor question is. If the money spent for liquor every year was turned into the labor channels for two years there would not be an idle man in America, and there would not be enough workmen to produce what is needed.

The Woman's Prohibition League of Brooklyn has made a commotion. The ladies found out that in many cases in the Brooklyn public schools the authorities were neglecting to have the compulsory scientific temperance lessons taught, and that the beer dinners of many children at home render them unfit for the afternoon school work. The ladies called the mayor's attention to the matter, for which they are being loudly denounced by the whisky papers.

An English journal puts the liquor problem in this form: Twenty-five snakes running through the streets—that's free whisky. Twenty-five snakes gathered into a box, in which twenty-five holes are made by authority of the court—that is low license. Ten of the holes are closed, and the snakes all get out through the other fifteen—that is high license. Drive all the snakes over to the next village—that is local option. Kill all the snakes—that is prohibition.

After the late fire in Seattle prohibition reigned for several days. Most of the dives and saloons were burned, and the mayor prohibited the rest from reopening. Thousands of lemonade stands sprang up and many men began to appreciate temperance drinks. A new beverage, strawberry lemonade, had a great sale and was pronounced by many, even drinkers, to be better than beer. Temporary prohibition worked so well that a petition was presented, signed by more than a thousand leading citizens, asking that all saloons in the city be kept closed for three months in the interests of rapid rebuilding.

Marriage

is but the stepping-stone to those divine institutions, the family and the home, which constitute the very foundation on which our nation rests; and upon the health and strength of the wife, and mother, depend the sunshine and enjoyment of the home and the prosperity of the family. Thousands of wives, and thousands of single ladies, drag out a weary existence in consequence of perplexing "female disorders," in total ignorance of the fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, prolapsus, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation, ulceration, and kindred ailments. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. All druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets—cleanse and regulate the stomach, bowels and system generally. One a dose; purely vegetable.

The spheres of Duty is infinite. It exists in every station of life. We have it not in our choice to be rich or poor, to be happy or unhappy; but it becomes us to do the duty that everywhere surrounds us. Obedience to duty, at all costs and risks, is the very essence of the highest civilized life. Great deeds must be worked for, hoped for, died for, now as in the past.—S. Smiles.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH, BUILDERS,

OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.

287 EIGHTH ST., Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Both building and repairing promptly attended to.

SAFE INVESTMENT
FARRAND & VOTEY
ORGANS
DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

If You Have an appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," or losing flesh, you will find

Tutt's Pills

the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach, build up the flagging energies as no other medicine will, and

CURE CONSTIPATION.

To enjoy health one should have regular evacuations every twenty four hours. The evils, mental and physical, resulting from

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION

are many and serious. For the cure of this common trouble, Tutt's Liver Pills have gained a popularity unparalleled.

A TORPID LIVER

deranges the whole system and produces

Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.

There is no better remedy for these frequent diseases than Tutt's Pills, as a trial will prove. They should be found in every household. They are perfectly harmless, reliable, and can be taken without restraint of diet or occupation. Plain or sugar-coated. Sold everywhere. Price, 25c.

Office, 44 Murray Street, N. Y.

PIANOS L&B.S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000 Worth of Pianos and Organs Must be Closed Out by August 1.

New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new in our repair factory.

MUST SELL! Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices! Easy Terms! Write for Bargain Sheet.

LUDDEN & BATES SAVANNAH, GA.

CLARK & MEADER,

—DEALERS IN—

FINE GROCERIES,

16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS

CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITITIES.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JARVIS. Mention this Paper.

WALL PAPER

in all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty.

WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES, WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS. UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.

Framing Neatly Done.

PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS, RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS

EDWARD HEATH,

Telephone 614. No. 116 CAMP ST. NEW ORLEANS.

Frank Walker & Co.,

WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses,

117 Tchoupitoulas St., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN,

DEALER IN

WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Curtains, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

263 - CAMP STREET - 263

Bet. Delord and Poeyfarre. NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all its branches.

W. W. HAWKINS, Manager. Mention this Paper.

A. Brousseau's Son,

23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING, CARPETS, INGRAINS; LACE CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand. Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

AGENTS WANTED! LADIES OR GENTLEMEN, TO INTRODUCE "Christian Womanhood," "Life and Times of Bishop Pierce," and other good books. Apply at once to F. D. VANVALKENBURGH, 106 Camp St., New Orleans.

FROM

New Orleans to Cincinnati.

94 MILES THE SHORTEST.

TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST,

NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer through the City.

Luxurious Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.

R. H. BARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans
J. C. GAULT, General Manager.
D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

"GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS

And Through Cars for All Classes to

CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Hunting Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes.

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG,

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 6 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE

—RUNNING—

Pullman Sleeping Cars

THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE

To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and

KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS

FROM NEW ORLEANS TO

Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.

TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE—

Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

SHORT LINE

—BETWEEN—

NEW ORLEANS, TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT,

AND POINTS IN

Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

R. W. McCULLOUGH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas
JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

Marshall J. Smith & Co.,

General Insurance Agents

—FOR—

FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING

COMPANIES.

Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.

64 BARONNE ST., N. O.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS
(Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....9:00 am	No. 2.....4:00 pm
No. 3.....6:01 pm	No. 4.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:10 am	No. 6.....4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 F'st Ex...7:00 am
No. 1 F'st Ex...7:20 pm	No. 6 Cin'ti...3:40 pm
No. 5 Cin'ti....9:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex..3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

No. 1 Passen'r 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r, 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express, 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express, 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local. 10:25 am	B. Rouge, local, 3:50 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local....7:20 pm
No. 15 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor..11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE.
(New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd..11:00 am	No. 2. Lim'd....3:35 pm
No. 3. Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6. Fast Line..7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO.
(Via Meridian.)

No. 1. Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6. Fast Line..3:25 pm

T. AND P. EAST LA.
(Abita Springs.)
Daily Except Sundays.
Arrive.....8:30 am | Leave.....4:00 pm
Sunday Schedule.
Arrive.....7:25 pm | Leave.....7:30 am

W. C. SHEPARD,

94 CAMP STREET.

HEADQUARTERS FOR

China Dinner and Tea Sets.

BEAUTIFUL CHAMBER SETS, PLATED WARE, all kinds, WOOD WARE, all kinds, TIN WARE, all kinds, GLASS WARE, all kinds.

House Furnishing Store, Cheap as the Cheapest.

ALL THE NOVELTIES OF THE DAY.

Wringers and Curtain Stretchers.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO.,

(LIMITED)

40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in—

WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Corks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application.

CARRIAGES, Buggies, Phaetons, Surreys, Carts, HARNESS, Baby Carriages, R. P. RANDALL. 54 and 56 Baronne Street, New Orleans.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS,

FUNERAL : DIRECTORS.

CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor at Establishment.

243 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to industries. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market St., St. Louis, Mo.

Mention this paper.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Dingonal Suits. Scarfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Ha

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

Discount to Preachers.

DRAINING MACHINES, IRRIGATION PUMPS, DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory.

JOS. MENGE, 106 Tchoupitoulas

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. R. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1889.

Briefs.

When we remember the invitation which the little Episcopal Church sent out a few months ago to all the sects to come over and join them, there is an enjoyable pertinency in this story taken from the Southern Churchman, of July 4:

A few years ago one of our clergy visited Palestine and went to Mt. Gerizim, where he found all the Samaritans, numbering just one hundred and fifty-three, who were assembled to celebrate on their holy mountain the Passover. Of course, he asked questions—would not have been a Yankee if he had kept his mouth shut. So (he says) "I asked their leader what was their belief, and he replied that they believed only in the Samaritan Pentateuch, and rejected all the other Scriptures, Old and New Testament. I said, 'What, then, will become of the other 1,399,999,847 of mankind?' 'Lost,' he said, 'unless they believe as we do.' I told him that was a hard lot for them. He said it was so much the worse for them, and that they must come over to the 153, if they would be saved!"

Rapid transit and transportation is the order of the day. The inventive genius of the age seems to be putting forth all its energies in the direction of increasing the speed of public conveyances. The steamer that consumes more than six days in crossing the Atlantic is too slow. The railway train that don't make 40 or 50 miles an hour is voted pokey. To meet this growing desire for quicker communication, a company has been incorporated in Baltimore to construct electric railways to carry the mails and packages from the great centers at the rate of three miles in a minute. The company has already experimented with successful results. It proposes to build roads extending from Baltimore to the large cities in all directions. The motor car will be eighteen feet long and two and one-half feet square. The track will be a twenty-four-inch guage, and built on the surface of the ground. There can be no doubt of the immense practical results if the new mail service is successfully introduced.

There is a motion before one of the New York courts to dissolve the famous Oneida Community. This community was established in 1834 by John H. Noyes at Oneida, N. Y. The founder was ordained to the ministry after a collegiate course at Dartmouth College. In 1833 he founded a sect called the Perfectionists, and drew up the first plan of the society which afterward became the Oneida Community. He and his followers claimed to possess a peculiar phase of religious experience, having for its basis spiritual intercourse with God, which Noyes taught may proceed so far, even in this life, as to destroy all selfishness and so make an end of sin. Two communities were founded, one at Oneida and the other at Wallingport, Conn. A home was established at Oneida, the members engaged in agricultural pursuits and manufactures. In 1884 the community owned property to the value of over $500,000. The practice of free love has been abolished and married couples now form a part of the society. It was in this community that Guiteau, the assassin of Garfield, and his father lived for a time.

In area Chicago has become the largest city in the Union, by incorporating with it some populous suburbs. It has now an area of 174 square miles and a population of 1,100,000.

The Uses of Preaching.

The teaching of the Scripture is, that souls are to be instructed and saved by preaching. The Psalmist says: "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul." Our Savior prayed: "Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth." The Apostle Paul asks these pertinent questions: "How shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?" Preaching is for the instruction of saints as well as for the salvation of sinners. The public proclamations of the Word of Truth sustain and nourish the soul. During the week "the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches and the lusts of other things enter in and choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful," hence the spiritual nature needs the regular recurrence of public preaching. Our daily experience and the cries of our souls corroborate the great truth of Scripture—that "man can not live by bread alone." Bread is for the body's sustenance and invigoration. The spirit also needs sustenance; and preaching is one of the many varieties of spiritual food. True gospel preaching is a rich and full store-house, whence every week we may draw large supplies for our spiritual nourishment. The goodness of God in this arrangement we too often underestimate. He sees what are the needs of our spiritual natures, and has so arranged the church ordinances as to make ample provision for our supply "according to his riches of grace in Christ Jesus."

This feature of God's dealing toward us lays upon us the obligation to make a diligent use of the preaching for our own personal benefit. We are under special obligation to attend the preaching service. It won't do for a man to say: "I can read a better sermon at home than I hear at church." While that may be true, it is equally true that reading sermons at home does not discharge the obligation to hear preaching from the warm heart of God's messenger. The living speaker—with soul on fire with God's love, and lips touched with a live coal from God's altar, and mind enlightened by truth fresh from the teaching of the Holy Ghost—gives views of doctrine and fact and precept and obligation and privilege which no book can give. To put the published sermon in place of the living preacher is to condemn as useless God's whole plan of the Christian ministry. "How shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard, and how shall they hear without a preacher?" To stay away from the preaching service when there is no insuperable barrier in the way shows a weak apprehension of the responsibility God has placed upon us by putting such service in reach of us. No mortal, erring man can afford to dally with responsibility in such a manner, for it is the most onerous and fearful thing with which we have to do.

The regular attendance upon the preaching service brings direct blessings upon our own soul, and, by way of example, is a great blessing to others. Our souls become hungry for the "bread of life;" and if we do not frequent the places where that bread is dealt out by God's servants, we stint our spiritual natures, benumb our spiritual instincts, dwarf our spiritual capacities and deaden our spiritual activities. Are we not responsible for this stinting, benumbing, dwarfing, deadening process? Our souls die for want of proper food when we neglect the preaching service; and we are to blame for that death. Then the example of regular attendance is a most potent means of help to others, especially those of our own households. The consistent conduct of parents and guardians is an argument for religion which can not be answered by anybody; and attendance upon the church services is a most important element in consistent Christian conduct. Consistency is itself the most powerful preaching of the truth, so that while we are careful to put ourselves in position to be preached to, we ourselves are preaching the best of sermons. Brother, what think you of these things?

Preachers' Homes.

In the Brookhaven district, Mississippi Conference, every pastoral charge, fifteen in number, has a parsonage except two, viz: New Hope and Topisaw; and there is promise of one at an early day on the Topisaw circuit. Several of these homes are neat, commodious and comfortable, and do honor to the charges that have built them. One of the best parsonages on the district is at Caseyville, on the Scotland circuit. It has been built within the last few years to take the place of an indifferent house badly located, in which several of their former pastors found shelter for their loved ones. While the present cozy preacher's home was being constructed, there were some who declined to help on the plea that the old parsonage was good enough—as good a house as they had, etc. One aged brother, who was putting his money and energy into the enterprise with a liberal hand, said, "I want my preacher to have a better home than I have, because he has many hardships to bear and sacrifices to make from which I am exempted." It goes without saying that this man will one day occupy "a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." And this brother's wife boarded the pastor and his wife while the new parsonage was being built at a moderate price, and then put all the money, and more, into parsonage furniture. So the house is nicely furnished. Apropos to the above remark quoted, I have said, and will continue to say, first, that no well-instructed and conscientious Christian can afford to live in a better house than he worships in; and, secondly, that his conscience ought to be ill at ease if he lives in more comfort than does his pastor. I have said every charge, but the two mentioned above, has a parsonage. At Brookhaven the parsonage was destroyed by fire some months ago, but they are rebuilding, and the glory of the latter house will be greater than that of the former. At McComb City a very elegant home for the pastor is approaching completion—the first they have had—and will be occupied by the first of August. At Hazlehurst they are preparing to take down the old house, which is very inferior, and build an elegant parsonage, which will be a comfort to the pastor and an honor to the church. At the beginning of this year the country charges were ahead of the towns in their parsonages, but, as the above indicates, some of the towns are catching up with the circuits in their provisions for the home comfort of their pastors. At the late District Conference a plan was projected for the building of a district parsonage, or, rather, the plan proposed early in the year by the district stewards and trustees was modified and adopted by the Conference. This is much needed, and we sincerely hope to see the enterprise succeed. It is a fact that a presiding elder needs a home as badly as a pastor in charge. I have endured some of the inconvenience and discomfort of living in a hired house this year, and long for a home.

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

A Louisiana Trip.

MR. EDITOR: It may seem a little strange that a Mississippian should write of a trip into Louisiana as a novelty, yet all of Louisiana lying five miles beyond the Mississippi river was, until recently, as much an unseen land to me as the region of the Alps or of the Ganges.

Leaving New Orleans on June 14, and passing over the rich alluvial lands and by the growing towns of Morgan City, Jeanerette, New Iberia, Lafayette, and others, with fields of sugar cane and corn stretching far as the eye can reach, the shades of evening overtook me at the famous old town of Opelousas, in the colluvial region of St. Landry. I say "colluvial," since these rolling plains and high-raised ridges must have been deposited by powerfully conflicting currents. The population is largely French, and Catholicism is prevalent; yet Protestantism is active, and Methodism lives and grows hopefully.

A commencement sermon for the Female Institute, which is successfully conducted by Mrs. Hayes, sister of the Whites, of the Louisiana Conference; a talk to the children in the afternoon, and a sermon at night, occupied me on Sunday. A few pleasant visits to friends in the country round brought me up to the District Conference on Thursday. Bro. Keener is the courageous leader of a vigorous band of preachers, old and young, well organized for conflict against whatever is not according to the truth as it is in Jesus. These brethren, with the help of a few of the laity, gladly contributed $1,700 in endowment notes for Centenary College.

Leaving on Friday in a shower of rain, which was greatly needed (as stock had been perishing for water, and corn was dying), the hour for evening worship found me with Bro. B. F. White and some of his flock in the church at Alexandria. They listened well. On Saturday night Mansfield was reached, where I was to preach the commencement sermon for Mansfield Female College. The church was crowded on Sunday with attentive listeners. Two days were spent in witnessing some of the closing exercises of the college, which were attended by large and appreciative audiences. The buildings of the college are handsomely located, the trustees are men of enterprise, and President McVoy, sustained by them, has had success, and has brightening prospects for the future.

A daylight start on Wednesday with Presiding Elder Cassity, who drives no common horses, enabled us to reach Keatchi, twenty miles distant, in ample time for the opening of the District Conference at nine o'clock. This presiding elder is of the heroic sort, and works things thoroughly every way. The attendance was large, and the interests of Centenary reached somewhat of a boom, and the collection ran up to $8,500.

Leaving these brethren on Friday evening, and spending the night in Shreveport, I was enabled to reach Gibbsland in time to see a large Conference just closing its work. One lay delegate, on the first ballot, received 32 out of 34 votes cast. Here the brethren, having a mind to do something for Centenary, gave me ample time, though I came at the eleventh hour; and the presiding elder, Bro. Randle, thoroughly alive to the interests of Christian education, encouraged them to give until $1,500 were subscribed. The brethren here would have done even more, but that they are taking in charge a somewhat costly enterprise in Gibbsland High School, which ought to become a feeder to Centenary.

Returning to Shreveport, and filling Bro. Scruggs' pulpit, Sunday night, I was enabled to take a glance on Monday at the growing city. Finding that a considerable arrearage is still to be paid on our handsome new church building in this place, I left the brethren in grateful remembrance and happy expectation of what they almost promised to do for Centenary in the future.

On my way to Vicksburg I took in Ruston and Monroe, spending a night most pleasantly in each. The former, where I found some recent graduates of Centenary, gave me notes for three hundred dollars. At Vicksburg two colleges were represented at once, with the most instructively meager results for both.

From my entire trip I learn:

1. That Louisiana is able and willing to do her part in sustaining Centenary College.

2. That her alumni everywhere are hearty supporters of Centenary College.

3. That the preachers in Louisiana prove their faith in Centenary College by subscribing to the endowment and working for the college; and the laity do not hold back.

While I was thus laboring to raise $12,000 in Louisiana, the Lord put it into the heart of Bro. Peter James, of Mississippi, to make the liberal offer of more than double this amount for the endowment of Centenary College, which we take as an assurance that Mississippi is not going to fail in her duty to the grand old college.

1889 W. L. C. H.

The Seashore Camp Meeting.

We spent three pleasant and profitable days last week at the Seashore Camp Meeting. It did not appear to us that the crowd was as large as usual, though some persons seemed to think that there was no diminution from the number in attendance in former years. We are sure that the congregations assembled under the tabernacle were not as large as we have seen. We think a good many people go for no other purpose than to have the best time possible outside of the religious sphere.

The preaching that we heard was excellent. We were informed by those competent to judge in such matters that the preaching this season was equal to that of any former season. Solid gospel truth was presented in plain terms to the audiences, and enforced and sent home to the conscience by stirring exhortations. The results, however, seemed to be meager. It was a difficult matter to persuade sinners to the altar. While we were there, there were not one dozen at the altar at one time. This we know is far below the results of other efforts. Of course, we have no means of determining how many converts there were. Some said there were not more than a dozen; others said there were, at least, fifty. A few only joined the church.

The new hymn book was used exclusively, and its eminent fitness for a camp meeting was thoroughly demonstrated. The unauthorized ditty is gone from our revival meetings. Such hymns as, "Come, ye sinners, poor and needy," and "Come, humble sinner, in whose breast," came to the front again, and were sung with an enthusiasm born of the sacred memories which cluster around those grand invitation hymns. Our brethren need not be afraid to try the new book in all their revival meetings. It will answer every demand made upon it.

The best part of the religious services was the experience meeting which followed the eight o'clock morning sermon. This was a time of great interest, and the communion of saints was realized in all the sweetness of so precious a relation. The meetings have always been the peculiar glory of Methodism and the chief source of her wonderful power; and we hope to see them grow into more universal favor.

The improvements on the grounds increase year by year. Several new cottages have been built during the past year, and several more, we understand, are projected. The managers are guiding the affairs of the association with prudence and wisdom, and, we doubt not, the Seashore Camp Meeting will continue to be a place of as great religious power in the future as it has been during the past eighteen years.

Notes.

Apropos of choirs and their ways, a writer in the Evangelist says that, on the occasion of the forty-third anniversary of his pastorate over the same church, the choir presented him with ten volumes of the Expositor's Bible "as an expression of their respect and affection and of their appreciation of the kind feeling I had always cherished for them." The wonder to us is, that so few people ever think to present the pastor with a good book. And, then, it can be so easily done, too! Try it, and see how easy it is.

The Western Christian Advocate (Cincinnati) says:

There are indications that the lottery business in Louisiana is to be suppressed. Visitors to New Orleans have been impressed by displays of lottery tickets and advertisements in the stores of that city, and we have been told that thousands of people buy lottery tickets as regularly as they purchase the weekly supply of groceries and meat. The business is a parasite that sucks the life-blood out of the people, and the city of New Orleans and the State of Louisiana are to be congratulated on the proposed destruction of the dreadful scourge.

The Christian Neighbor says:

Would not the publishing of a chapter from the Bible every week in the newspapers tend to neutralize the unhealthy food which some publishers spread before their readers? By omitting the book, chapter and verse, the selection might be accepted as good by many readers and do them much good than if credited to some of the holy men who wrote the sacred volume. Such weekly publication might occasionally give something not too familiar to some editors and publishers. In fact the editorial life so tends to draw the mind away from the Word of God to the words of men, that even editors of religious journals may need to have their pure minds stirred up "by way of remembrance."

Those young ministers, and old ones too, who are trying to learn to act and talk like some celebrated evangelist ought to be very careful lest they run against that "barbed wire" St. James has stretched: "If any man among you seem to be religious and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain." If you will stick to the Bible phraseology you will not be guilty of extravagant language. We do not believe the Holy Spirit selects unchaste language for any man. Put the bridle on the tongue, especially in the pulpit!

Two weeks ago we published the fact that Bro. Peter James, of Mississippi, proposed to give $25,000 to Centenary College, provided the friends of Centenary would raise a like sum. Here is an opportunity that ought to be seized on immediately. Here is a man standing in front of the rear building of Centenary College with $25,000 in his hand, and saying to the friends of the college: "If you will raise this money, put up a like amount, and the $50,000 shall be turned over to the trustees." Where are Centenary friends? Will you let this $25,000 slip through your fingers? All hands to work now, and Centenary will soon be endowed!

We desire always to help, as far as we may be able, our young ministers in their glorious work. We believe in a minister doing his own thinking in his own way. But there are helps that even the most original of men can not ignore without loss. The minister of to-day has come upon an inheritance, in this respect, of almost infinite wealth. The studies and researches of studious and earnest predecessors have placed in his reach an opulence of thought and suggestion well nigh exhaustless. While we could recommend many books to our young ministers that would be very valuable aids in their preaching, we take the liberty to say that just at this particular time we are sure that no book will do them more good or better equip them for a successful fight against the forces of evil, in the particular attitude in which those forces stand to-day, than Dr. Haygood's "Man of Galilee." If you have any young men or women in your church instructed with the fashionable infidelity of the day, there is no better care for them than the "Man of Galilee." Try it and be convinced.

Personal and Otherwise.

Miss Willard recommends to all local unions of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to hold memorial services for Mrs. Lucy Webb Hayes, on July 28.

Gov. Lee, of Virginia, has been tendered the superintendency of Virginia Military Institute, and, it is said, will accept when his term of office as governor expires, January 1, 1890.

Dr. Haygood gave us a call, last week, en route to Texas. The Doctor gave us an hour of talk such as we delight to hear. He speaks hopefully of his great project in Alabama, and we wish him all the success that is attainable.

We are indebted to Dr. Jones for a catalogue of his flourishing school at Huntsville, Ala. There were in attendance the past session 267 pupils.

The Meridian District Conference meets at Vossburg, Miss., July 25-28. The Sunday-school Conference in connection therewith will be held Saturday, the twenty-seventh.

Read what Presiding Elder Lewis says of parsonages on the Brookhaven district. Can any other district show as many preachers' homes? We hope that the district parsonage spoken of will soon be built. Bro. Lewis is worthy of a good parsonage, and none will appreciate it more than he and his family.

Fred Douglass, though seventy-two years old, has been appointed minister to Hayti. Is there anything of the "eternal fitness of things" in that?

Before the war, the largest crop of cotton was 5,300,000 bales. It is estimated that last year's crop will reach 7,300,000 bales.

Four years ago the gold product of South Africa was less than half a million dollars; last year it reached $4,531,000.

Ex-President T. D. Woolsey, of Yale University, died recently, aged eighty-eight years. He became president of Yale in 1846.

Maria Mitchel, late professor of astronomy in Vassar College, died June 28, in her ninety-first year. She was one of the most distinguished astronomers of her day. The degree of LL.D. was conferred on her by both Columbia and Dartmouth Colleges.

The Congregationalist, last week, published the names of sixty-one persons who had been doctored with "D. D.," and fifty-two who had been doctored with "LL.D.," principally by Eastern colleges.

Dr. Arthur T. Pierson has resigned the pastorate of Bethany Church, Philadelphia, to take charge of the training-school for missionaries and evangelists in Boston.

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. J. J. Lovett, writing from Satartia, Miss., July 12, says: "The Lord has done a great work for us, whereof we are glad. We have just closed a very successful meeting at this place; eleven accessions and as many or more conversions. Bros. Huntley, Powell and Holloman assisted and did very efficient work. We had high-tide last night."

—Rev. J. M. Wyatt writes as follows: "We have had a successful meeting. The membership of the church blessed. About fifteen sinners converted. Nine persons joined our church on profession of faith. Bro. J. D. Cameron did the most of the preaching. We are thankful to God for his rich blessings. Bro. J. F. Evans, P. E., has been down with rheumatism six weeks. He expects to go to Hot Springs, Ark., next week. His preachers in the Grenada district will cheerfully measure up to their duties while he is absent. Pray for him. His suffering has been intense. The Methodist College in Mississippi, for boys and young men, to my mind, by all means, should be located at Winona. Winona will bid well for it. It is a nice town every way. A larger patronage will be secured for it there than at any other place. It is the most convenient point there is to both Conferences. Let all of our Methodist people talk, push, pull, pray and give for the college; then put it at Winona."

—Rev. R. M. Blocker, writing from Rayne, La., July 15, 1889, says: "The Lord has sent me Rev. William Schuhle, one of our Vanderbilt boys, who will assist me some months with my large circuit. He preached his first sermon Saturday. I believe he will make a preacher. Large crowds are attending our revival meeting at Rayne, and the spirit of God is moving this people. Pray for us."

—Rev. C. McDonald writes: "Mrs. D. P. Bradford is still sick, and very ill'le, if any, hope of her recovery. Bro. Bradford and his friends have been faithful to the afflicted one in constant care by day and by night for thirty-four days. God bless them in their distress."

[Since the above was printed, we have news of Sister Bradford's death.]

—Rev. Walter Dunstan writes from Perth, Jefferson county, Miss.: "Serious throat and lung troubles have compelled me to take a vacation. Won't you please insert a notice in your next issue, stating that my address for the present will be Perth, Jefferson county, Miss. I trust soon to be strong enough to resume the Master's work."

—Rev. H. S. Johns, writes from Washington, La.: "We held a protracted meeting to commence last week at Waxia. Bro. Denson, of Abbeville, came up and assisted me. There were thirteen accessions to the church, and church pretty well revived. Praise God! The meeting at Bethel rained out, but we expect to try again soon. Collections are a little behind, but we are hopeful."

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

SIGNS OF PROMISE. SERMONS PREACHED IN PLYMOUTH PULPIT, Brooklyn, 1887-9. By Lyman Abbott. Fords, Howard and Hulbert, New York.

Here are eighteen sermons on various subjects of interest. Dr. Abbott has long been before the public as a preacher, a commentator and the editor of the Christian Union. In these sermons he, no doubt, gives his maturest thought on the subjects discussed. Whether we agree with him or not, his utterances will be found interesting and entertaining.

PERIODICALS.

—Vick's Illustrated Monthly, for July, has interesting articles on Science Applied to Agriculture, How the Water Lilies Came, and some others. James Vick, Rochester, N. Y. Price, $1 25.

—Musical Herald is good this month. Our musical friends will enjoy this number. Franklin Square, Boston. Price, ten cents.

—The Kindergarten, for July, has a table of good things for all who are interested in that line of things. Alice B. Stockham and Co., Chicago. Price, $2.

—Book News, for July, is an interesting number of this valuable monthly, giving the freshest news in regard to authors and books. John Wanamaker, Philadelphia. Price, fifty cents a year.

—The Missionary Reporter, for July, comes to us in a new form—a magazine of thirty-two pages. We like the change. It is full of good missionary matter. J. D. Barbee, agent, Nashville, Tenn. Price, fifty cents a year.

—The Methodist Magazine and Family Repository, for July, contains some good reading. Shaw and Son, 78 La Salle St., Chicago. Price, $1 50 a year.

—The July Book-Buyer has a portrait and sketch of Maud Howe, besides literary notes and topics and notices of new books. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York. Price, ten cents.

—The Home-Maker, for this month, is packed with all sorts of good things about the home. Home-Maker Company, New York. Price, twenty cents.

Literary Notes.

—Probably the highest price ever paid for a book was £11,000, given by the German government for a missal formerly given by Pope Leo X. to King Henry VIII. of England, along with a parchment conferring on that sovereign the right of assuming the title of "Defender of the Faith," borne ever since by English kings. It was sold at auction some years ago. The book which secured the highest offer was a Hebrew Bible in the possession of the Vatican. In 1512 the Hebrews of Venice proposed to Pope Julius II. to buy the Bible and to pay for it its weight in gold. It was so heavy that it required two men to carry it. Indeed, it weighed 325 pounds, thus representing a value of half a million of francs (£20,000). Though being much pressed for money, in order to keep up the Holy League against King Louis XII. of France, Julius II. declined to part with the volume.

—Miss Amelia B. Edwards, possibly the most scholarly English woman living, will sail for the United States in the coming autumn and will give a number of lectures on Egyptian explorations, arts, industries, etc., as well as on Graeco-Egyptian art.

—This month the firm of Longmans Green & Co. issue in New York the first number of The New Review, another English monthly, started by Mr. Archibald Grove, a young Oxford man, which in the nature of its articles and reputation of its contributors is intended to rival the Nineteenth Century, while a low price will put it within reach of a wider public. Three Americans—Lady Randolph Churchill, Mr. Henry George and Mr. Henry James—are among the contributors to the first number.

—The Duke of Argyll, whose books, among them "The Reign of Law," will be recalled, has just written a new work entitled, "What is Truth?" in which the question is considered from a scientific as well as religious standpoint.

—How peculiar are often the careers of books is shown in the news which comes from abroad that Andrew Carnegie's "Triumphant Democracy" is "stirring the reading public of Europe, and extracts from it are being printed in all the leading newspapers of the Old World." Mr. Carnegie's book was published here three years ago by the Scribners, who have sold nearly 20,000 copies of the book in this country alone.

—As a stirring introduction to the Explorer Stanley's probable book on the Dark Continent, Messrs. Scribner & Welford have imported J. R. Werner's Congo experiences, "A Visit to Stanley's Rear-Guard and River Life on the Congo." The work makes a handsome volume with numerous illustrations.

Students of medicine would do well to send for the catalogue of the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

Episcopal Visitation, 1889-'90.

Conference.	Date.	Place.	Bishop.
Denver	July 21.	Allamgueriqui, N. M.	Granbery
Brazil Mis.	July —.	Rio de Janeiro	Granbery
Montana	Aug. 11.	Stevensville, Mon.	Granbery
Western	Aug. 28.	Atchison, Kan.	Granbery
Columbia	Aug. 28.	Dallas, Or.	Hargrove
W. Vir.	Sept. 4.	Catlett-burg, Ky.	Wilson
Japan Mis.	Sept. 4.	—, Japan	Wilson
Kentucky	Sept. 11.	Paris, Ky.	Wilson
Missouri	Sept. 11.	Palmyra, Mo.	Granbery
Pacific	Sept. 18.	Fresno, Cal.	Hargrove
Illinois	Sept. 18.	Casey, Ill.	Wilson
St. Louis	Sept. 18.	Salem, Mo.	Duncan
Louisville	Sept. 25.	Morganfield, Ky.	Keener
China Mis.	Oct. 2.	Shelhow, China	Wilson
Los Angeles	Oct. 2.	San Bern'dino Ca.	Hargrove
S. W. Miss'ri	Oct. 2.	Marshall, Mo.	Granbery
Holston	Oct. 2.	Morristown, Tenn.	Wilson
Indian Mis.	Oct. 2.	Atoka, Ind. Ter.	Hendrix
Tennessee	Oct. 9.	Murfr'esboro, Ten.	Keener
Mex. B'rder.	Oct. 16.	San Antonio, Tex.	Galloway
W. Texas	Oct. 23.	Seguin, Tex.	Key
Cent. Mex.	Oct. 30.	Guadalajara, Mex.	Galloway
N. W. Texas	Nov. 6.	Bellon, Tex.	Key
Virginia	Nov. 13.	Richmond, Va.	Wilson
Germany Mis.	Nov. 13.	Cuero, Tex.	Galloway
Memphis	Nov. 13.	Fulton, Ky.	Hendrix
N. Texas	Nov. 20.	Greenville, Tex.	Key
Arkansas	Nov. 20.	Conway, Ark.	Hendrix
N. Alabama	Nov. 20.	Huntsville, Ala.	Duncan
S. Carolina	Nov. 20.	Camden, S. C.	Keener
N. Carolina	Nov. 27.	Greensboro, N. C.	Hargrove
N. Georgia	Nov. 27.	Cedar Town, Ga.	Keener
N. Miss.	Dec. 4.	Holly Springs, Miss.	Galloway
Texas	Dec. 4.	LaGrange, Tex.	Key
Little Rock	Dec. 4.	Pine Bluff, Ark.	Hendrix
Alabama	Dec. 4.	Greenville, Ala.	Duncan
S. Georgia	Dec. 11.	Americus, Ga.	Hargrove
White River	Dec. 11.	Searcy, Ark.	Hendrix
Louisiana	Dec. 12.	Baton Rouge, La.	Duncan
Mississippi	Dec. 18.	Cryst'l Spr'gs, Miss.	Galloway
East Tex.	Dec. 18.	Rusk, Tex.	Key
Florida	Jan. 8.	Gainsville, Fla.	Keener
Baltimore	Mar. 12.	Baltimore, Md.	Duncan

Another Missionary to Japan.

Our fund to send another missionary to Japan is growing gradually. Why should it not grow faster? Have you sent your $10? Can't you spare that much to help the Lord's cause on this line? Won't you send it right away? Who next? The following have contributed up to going to press:

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Sheimire	10. 00
Mrs. H. G. Flowers	10 00
Another Subscriber	10 00
Mrs. E. W. Davidson	10 00
H. Jenkins	10 00
A brother, for his three sons	30 00
Isaiah Tucker	10 00
A Sister	5 00

We call attention to the advertisement of University School, Petersburg, Va., in another column. The twenty-fifth annual session of this school for boys begins the first Monday in October. For catalogue address W. Gordon McCabe, head master.

A Thorough Education.

The LaGrange Female College, LaGrange, Ga., has, under the capable management of the well-known president, Rufus W. Smith, and Euler B. Smith, sec., shown a large increase in its enrollment during the past few years, which is due to the unsurpassed advantages offered to students in all departments of literature, music, art, etc. Parents desiring a thorough education for their daughters should write promptly for catalogue giving full particulars.

Publisher's Department.

DAVES' TRAINING-SCHOOL.—Daves' Training-School, Lake Charles, La. Joel T. Daves, Walter W. Daves, Principals. Competent teachers supplied as necessity arises. Honest, real work in all departments. Discipline strict, but not harsh. Obedience and study conditions of membership. Pupils prepared for advanced college classes, or for practical duties of life. Pupils desiring to take music will have the advantages of Madame Mercier-Peevy's training, which has but few equals and no superiors. A full course of practical book-keeping without extra charge to regular pupils. To those taking book-keeping alone, the tuition is $5 per month. For Annual Announcement and full particulars address Principals.

Parent—What is the difference between the regular and irregular Greek verbs? Tommy—You get twice as many lickings learning the irregular ones.

WANTED.—A graduate of the F. F. V. Institute, who has had experience in teaching, desires a position in a school or in a family. References will be furnished. Address T., Box 73, Jackson, La.

Oculist (examining patient's eye)—Yes, there is a foreign substance on the retina. Patient—That may be three, sorr; for I came from Oireland only last wake, sorr.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,

Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.

OFFICE, 199 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

BROWNE & JENKINS,

DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN

WALL PAPER

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free.

WANTED!

A white woman to do general housework. For particulars address

REV. D. C. FOUST,

Winona, Miss.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

Centenary College

JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

Wall and Mooney's School,

Franklin, Williamson Co., Tenn.

S. V. WALL, W. D. MOONEY, A. M., } PRINCIPALS.

A TRAINING-SCHOOL OF HIGH GRADE.

Fits Boys for College. Especial attention paid to the Classics, English, German, and Mathematics.

The next term will open Tuesday, September 3, 1889, in a handsome house built by the citizens of Franklin, at a cost of $7,500. Send for a circular. W. D. MOONEY, Sec., Franklin, Tenn.

From the Professor of English in Vanderbilt University:

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 22, 1889.

For four or five years I have every year spent, at least, one day in the class-room of Messrs. Wall and Mooney's School. I have questioned their classes, and heard them recite in English, Mathematics, German, Greek and Latin; and I do not hesitate to call their work excellent. Better trained pupils it would be hard to find. The moral culture is equally good.

W. M. BASKERVILL.

A. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HEDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y

HIWASSEE COLLEGE.

FOUNDED 1849.

Expenses Very Moderate.

Located, amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R., from which conveyance any hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our post-office is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.

E. A. SEMINARY,

FOR BOTH SEXES.

At ARCADIA, La., on the L., N. and P. R. R.

No local cause for sickness. Full corps of efficient teachers. Instruction thorough and discipline right. English, Classical and Elective Courses. Music, Art, French and Elocution. Military and Calisthenics Drill. Tuition and fees reasonable. Seventh Academic Session begins September 2. For fuller information address

R. A. SMITH, Principal, Arcadia, La.

Roanoke College,

SALEM, VA.

Healthful mountain climate. Choice of Courses for Degrees; business department; special attention to English; French and German spoken; library 17,000 volumes; good morals; 5 churches; no bar-rooms. $150 to $193 for nine months (including fees, board, etc.). Students from 16 States, Ind. Ter. and Japan. 37th year begins Sept. 18th. Illustrated catalogue free.

Address PROF. PAINTER, Sec.

DEGREES,

FIRST AND POST-GRADUATES.

Conferred without residence. Any one can secure this desirable end by pursuing a course of study by CORRESPONDENCE under eminent College Professors at slight cost. Information of Courses, Professors, etc., given in our UNION READING CIRCLE, a large bi-page literary journal; sample copy of which and application form for membership will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cts. in postage stamps. Address COR. UNIVERSITY, 147 THROOP ST., CHICAGO, ILL. N. B.—Situations to teach free to members and subscribers. Agents wanted.

Elfinwood Select School.

The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

Athens Female College

Situated at Athens, Ala., on the L. and N. R. R.

A thorough, cheap school; full literary course, Art and Music. Stenography and Type-Writing are also thoroughly taught. The school is fully equipped. Healthy location. Send for catalogue. REV. M. G. WILLIAMS, President.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE,

STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

Opens September 19th, 1889. One of the most thorough and attractive Schools for young ladies in the Union. Distinguished advantages in MUSIC, ART, ELOCUTION, &c. Climate unsurpassed. Pupils from nineteen States. Terms low. Special inducements to persons at a distance. For the great inducements of this Celebrated Virginia School, write for a Catalogue to WM. A. HARRIS, D. D., President, Staunton, Virginia.

Staunton Male Academy,

STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

A Military Boarding School for Young Men and Boys. Unprecedented Success during past Session. HANDSOME ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE mailed on application to WM. H. KABLE, A. M., PRINCIPAL, Staunton, Va.

SCIENCE HILL.

An English and Classical School for Girls, Shelbyville, Ky. Founded March 25, 1825, by Mrs. Julia A. Tevis. The oldest School for women in the South. Teachers are graduates of the best Colleges. Fits for Wellesley. Accommodations first-class in every particular. Terms reasonable, and include all School expenses.

W. T. POYNTER, D. D.

D. H. Holmes.

IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS.

42-inch. Organdy Lawns, 8½ c.
Scotch Ginghams, Linen finish, never been sold less than 20c., fast colors, now 10c.
Fine French Stripe Mulls, 35c. all season, now 15c.
Outing Cloths, 10c.
Balance of our Fine Scotch Ginghams, been sold all season from 35 to 50c., now 25c.
Printed Challies, 4 cents.
Fine Quality Printed Challies, 7c.
50,000 Standards Novels, 10c.
Fancy India Silk, 50 cents.
All Silk Surahs, 50 cents.
Gents Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, 50 cents a suit.
Fine White Lawns, 5 cents.
Ladies' and Childrens' ready-made White Lawn Dresses.
200 pieces Embroidered Flouncings at Half Price.
Special Bargains in every Department.

1556 and St.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)

Price, 80 Cents.

HUNT & EATON, 805 BROADWAY, NEW YORK;
CRANSTON & STOWE, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY

A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.

Mention this paper.

LOGAN FEMALE COLLEGE.

A Full College Course. Teachers Selected from the Best Colleges, Musical Conservatories and Schools of Art in the Country.

Buildings Large, Commodious, Comfortable. Grounds ample. Pure, soft Sulphur Water. Location, unsurpassed for health. Address,

A. G. MURPHY, President, Russellville, Ky.

Fairview Male and Female College, Binnsville, Kemper County, Miss.

LOCATION—Nine miles northeast of Scooba, which is on the M. and O. R. R.

Founded 1887. Enrolled, 1887, 117. Enrolled, 1888, 135. Expect to enroll 1889, 175.

BRANCHES TAUGHT.—Usual English Course. Ancient and Modern Languages. Book-keeping. Music. BUILDINGS.—Cover 7,000 ft.; front, 45 ft. Separate double-story dwelling-houses for boys and girls. BOARD.—For girls, $10 per calendar month (washing included); for boys, $8 per calendar month (washing excluded). TUITION.—Primary, $2; Freshman, $3; Sophomore, Junior and Senior, $4 per scholastic month. TOTAL COST.—For boys, board and washing, $80; for girls, board and washing, $90. Tuition according to class, $20 to $40. Five per cent off for cash in advance.

Work, thorough. Discipline, firm. Location, healthful. Send for catalogue. School opens September 2nd. REV. W. W. MOORE, A. M., PRESIDENT.

GRENADA COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

PROPERTY OF THE

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

DEVOTED TO

FEMALE EDUCATION.

The EIGHTH Session of this prosperous Institution begins

SEPTEMBER 10, 1889.

Its history and present condition warrant us in assuring parents and guardians, that Grenada Collegiate Institute affords the best advantages for Industrial, Literary and Religious culture. The discipline is firm. The Boarding Department is home-like and comfortable. The health is fine. Expenses are moderate. The Institute embraces Eight Departments. Full Corps of experienced and Competent Teachers. For Catalogue and any particulars address the President,

REV. T. J. NEWELL, A. M.,
R. P. LAKE, Secy of Board Trustees. Grenada, Miss.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL Petersburg, Va.

The 25th Annual Session of this School for Boys begins the first Monday in October. Thorough preparations for University of Virginia. Leading Engineering School and United States Military and Naval Academies. Highly recommended by faculty of University of Virginia; full staff of instructors; situation healthful. Early application advised, as number of boarders is strictly limited. For catalogue address

W. GORDON McCABE, Head Master.

State Normal School,

Natchitoches, La.

THOS. D. BOYD, President.

Reopens October 1, 1889.

Faculty of ten able instructors give full Normal Course and thorough review of Common School branches. Persons holding diplomas of first-class Colleges and High Schools may graduate in one year. Diploma of State Normal school entitles holder to First Grade Teacher's Certificate for four years after graduation. Tuition free. Total expense per session of eight months about $110.

Whitworth Female College,

—AND—

Conservatory of Music and Art,

BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

THE 30th annual session begins Sept. 19th, 1889. Every department in charge of the livest, most progressive teacher money will command. A Normal Department for the training of professional teachers has been added. The Conservatory of Music, established for the first time in connection with any Southern Female College, has proved a grand success. Number of pupils in Conservatory, 205. Number of pianos in constant use, 27. Entire number of matriculates, 243. Number of officers and teachers, 19. Number of boarders, 159. An increase of 65 over previous session. For catalogues and further information address,

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., Pres.
—OR—
W. B. MURRAH, D. D., Vice-Pres.

Wesleyan Female College,

MACON, GA.

FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL SESSION begins October 2d, 1889. Unsurpassed for health, safety, comfort and advantages in Literature, Music and Art. Special rates to clubs.

Address W. C. BASS, Pres.

LAGRANGE FEMALE COLLEGE,

LAGRANGE, GEORGIA.

Thorough teachers, modern methods, complete courses, text books, reasonable rates. Music and Art advantages unsurpassed. Voice culture a specialty. Book keeping and short hand free. Send for catalogue giving particulars. 15th Session begins Sep. 18, 1889.

Growth:	1886.	1887.	1887-8
Enrolled	100	126	179
Boarders	40	62	86
Music Pupils	68	72	127

EULER B. SMITH, Sec. RUFUS W. SMITH, Pres.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

Over 50 Professors and 600 Students last year.

SEVEN DISTINCT DEPARTMENTS.

Academic. Literature, Science, Philosophy. Fees, $50.
Theological. Free tuition and free room in Wesley Hall.
Law. Four Professors. New buildings. Fees, $100.
Medical. Hospital accommodations for clinics. Fees, $70.
Dental. Full faculty, excellent equipment, new building. $70.
Pharmaceutical. Full Course of Instruction. Fees, $105.
Engineering. Courses in Civil, Mechanical, Mining Engineering, and Manual Technology. Two buildings. Fees, $75.

For catalogue, address Wm. Williams, Nashville, Tenn.

Capital Commercial College Jackson, Miss. Book keeping taught as it is kept in the South. Send for circular. L. A. Wyatt, President.

Huntsville Female College,

HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA.

FORTIETH SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, September 4, 1889. Buildings greatly enlarged and improved. Healthy, well furnished. 20 Officers and Teachers. All departments of Female Education thoroughly taught, including Bookkeeping, Stenography and Type-writing. A Christian home for pupils. For Catalogue, etc., address

REV. A. R. JONES, D. D., LL.D., President.

Asheville Female College,

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Full College Course. Excellent Preparatory Department. Superior facilities for Instrumental and Vocal Music, Painting, Drawing, Elocution, Languages and Literature. Buildings with the best modern improvements; heated by steam, lighted with gas, and water on every floor.

Asheville is known not only in America, but also in Europe, as a famed health resort. Over 60,000 visitors yearly.

The school reopens September 11. A "special" will leave Houston, Texas, and all intermediate points in time for the Fall Session.

For terms and Catalogue address

REV. S. N. BARKER, Pres't,
or PROF. RESD. E. ATKINS, Sec.

Minden Normal School

—AND—

Business College.

The Leading Normal School in the South.

Has more departments than any other similar institution in the land. To it has been added a Musical Conservatory. Music taught on any instrument. Location beautiful; climate delightful. We will be pleased to mail you a catalogue.

P. B. H. SHEARER, MINDEN, La.

Mention this Paper.

PAINLESS EFFECTUAL

BEECHAM'S PILLS

THE GREAT ENGLISH MEDICINE — WORTH A GUINEA A BOX

For Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain in the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness, and Swelling after Meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Scurvy, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c. THE FIRST DOSE WILL GIVE RELIEF IN TWENTY MINUTES. This is no fiction. Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be a Wonderful Medicine.—"Worth a guinea a box."

BEECHAM'S PILLS, taken as directed, will quickly restore females to complete health. For a

WEAK STOMACH; IMPAIRED DIGESTION; DISORDERED LIVER;

they ACT LIKE MAGIC:—a few doses will work wonders upon the Vital Organs; Strengthening the muscular System; restoring long-lost Complexion; bringing back the keen edge of appetite, and arousing with the ROSEBUD OF HEALTH the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, in all classes of society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is that BEECHAM'S PILLS HAVE THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY PATENT MEDICINE IN THE WORLD. Full directions with each Box.

Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.

Sold by Druggists generally. B. F. ALLEN & CO., 365 and 367 Canal St., New York, Sole Agents for the United States, who, (if your druggist does not keep them,)

WILL MAIL BEECHAM'S PILLS ON RECEIPT OF PRICE 25 CENTS A BOX.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.

(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATH STS., NEW ORLEANS.

Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.

We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Draining and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address

H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

Mention this paper.

ADAMS' HATS!

26 ST. CHARLES ST.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

80 CAMP STREET.

Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.

FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK ROHER, Vice-President. ED. CLAUSSEN, Cashier.

Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.

Directors—Phil. W. Diehmann, Frank Roder, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Klumpp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Ricks, Fred Peters and Louis Leonhard.

ESTABLISHED 1868.

A. A. WOODS, WALTER SCOTT. L. H. POURSINE, A. F. GODAT.

A. A. WOODS & CO.,

General Insurance Agency,

184 GRAVIER STREET,

OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.

Mention this paper.

W. R. LYMAN, President. JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-President. CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

Crescent Insurance Com'y.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849.
Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

Cash Capital, - - - - - $300.000.

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849. ANNUAL and TERM POLICIES issued on Desirable Fire Business.

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.

No. 78 CAMP STREET.

CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - $413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - $459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y

J. B. WOODS, JOS. BAYLE, JNO. BARKLEY, JNO. J. BARR, ANDREW STEWART, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. B. LEVERT, E. BORLAND, J. BORN, F. STRINGER, W. T. HARDIE, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.

Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,

14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000

Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Rob't Maxwell, Geo. W. Sentell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Ter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Elmer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, A. M. Delavallade.

New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company

OF NEW ORLEANS.

54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT McGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS,

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and Invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.

Our Young People.

"NO ROOM IN THE INN."
Luke ii., 7.)

BY A. L. SKILTON.

No beautiful chamber,
No soft cradle bed,
No place but a manger,
Nowhere for his head:
No praises of gladness,
No thought of their sin,
No glory but sadness—
"No room in the inn."

No sweet conversation,
No seeking his part,
No humiliation,
No place in the heart:
No thought of the Savior,
No sorrow for sin,
No prayer for his favor—
"No room in the inn."

No one to receive him,
No welcome while here,
No balm to relieve him,
No staff but a spear:
No seeking his treasure,
No weeping for sin,
No doing his pleasure—
"No room in the inn."

MR. EDITOR: During vacation I thought I would write a letter to the ADVOCATE, as it has been some time since I have written one. I have been going to the Union Church Academy School. The school closed June 14. I am glad to see the close, for the weather is getting so warm. I expect to go again next year. Since I came home I go to Sunday-school every Sunday and preaching three times a month. I go to hear the Baptist once and the Methodist twice. We live one mile from our church. Our new church is not completed yet. It is two hundred yards from the Baptist Church, and our schoolhouse is between them. We will have preaching in the schoolhouse until our church is finished. I go to prayer meeting every Saturday night. We have a good meeting. I have not missed but three Saturday nights in two years. I was at prayer meeting last Saturday night and heard one of my Sunday-school mates, who heard Mr. Sam Jones preach in Wesson, give in his experience for the first time. It was this: that he had been a cold church member for two years; that he had done nothing for the cause of Christ: but from this time on he intended to serve the Lord. He said that Sam Jones showed him the way to heaven and God. This made all of us very happy. His mother shouted and praised the Lord, saying, "God bless my boy and Sam Jones!" She said she would always love the name of Sam Jones. She thanked God that he heard him. This boy was Walter Butler, of Newport. Pray that some more of our old church members will hear Mr. Jones. Rev. T. F. Newsom, our little preacher, will teach our summer school. I will close, hoping to see this in print. I am,

Yours sincerely,

MAGGIE MOORE.

NEWPORT, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: As we did not see our last letter in print, we will write again. We like to read your paper very much, but like the children's column best. We are good friends, and love to write to any good paper. We have a good Sunday-school here. There are many children which attend. We are members of the Bible class. We are having a great deal of rain here now. Think it would be better for the crops if it would quit for a while. We are going to have a camp meeting here on the third Sunday of August. We would be glad to have any of our friends to attend. We are little girls in our teens. We help our mammas to cook, and are a great deal of help to them. We can sew, crochet, knit, and are a help to them in this respect. We will close, hoping our little friends success.

SALLIE BUCK,
DAISY LESTER,

CHESTER, Mississippi.

MR. EDITOR: I never wrote to your paper but once before, and I found it in print, and I am encouraged to write again. I am a little girl just eleven years old. I have been going to school some this year. I study reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography and grammar. While my little cousins are cheerful, my heart is sad because of the death of my little uncle, some older than me, whose sad death was caused by the biting of a little thunder snake. He died nine hours after he was bitten. His place is vacant among his companions, at church, and at the Sunday-school; but the saddest of all is, his place is vacant at home. I will close by asking the cousins, Where in the Bible is the word "coffin" found? I am, Your little friend,

IRIS GRIFFING.

VETO, Mississippi.

Choosing a Trade.

First of all make sure of what you will be best fitted for in the long run. Remember that some kind of work may be in demand now and in a few years the demand may die out. Don't choose a trade of this sort if you can help it. You may spend years learning to make something by hand, and as soon as you have learned, a machine may be invented that will make it better, and thus throw you out of employment, unless you have learned a great deal about the whole business connected with your work.

Again, think of where you want to begin. Don't learn a trade that is overrun with workmen in your own State, unless you are willing to go to another state to work. In New York State there is a machinist to every 500 of population; while in Texas, Georgia and Alabama there is only one machinist to over 2,000 people. Iowa has 12,000 carpenters and joiners; while Georgia has less than 5,000.

Choose what you can, and what you have a taste for. If you are a weakling, don't try to be a blacksmith; don't try to be a painter, if you are color-blind. If you are fond of reading, that is a good reason to become a printer, provided there is no other good reason against it. If you have a natural mechanical turn and inventive genius, you may make a good machinist. Resolve to make yourself a thorough master of your trade and all the machinery and tools used in and about it. Then don't be afraid of learning too much. You will be a better painter for being able to handle the saw; a better joiner for knowing how to use a brush; a better machinist by acquiring the use of the pencil.

Be willing to plod and work hard for a time, for the sake of learning your business thoroughly. If you start as a carpenter, have in mind to become a builder; if you start as a machinest, expect to become a manufacturer; if you begin as a typesetter, aim at becoming a printer and publisher. Or, if you are willing to be always a workman employed by some one else, make up your mind to become so very expert in your line as to command a high price.—Anon.

A RIGHT START.—A young man was recently graduated from a scientific school. His home had been a religious one. He was a member of a Christian church, and had pious parents, brothers and sisters. His family was one in Christ.

On graduating he determined upon a Western life among the mines. Full of courage and hope, he started on his long journey to strike out for himself in a new world.

The home prayers followed him. As he went he fell in company with older men. They liked him for his frank manners and his manly independence. As they journeyed together they stopped for a Sabbath in a border town. On the morning of the Sabbath one of his fellow-travelers said to him, "Come, let us be off for a drive and the sights."

"No," said the young man, "I am going to church. I have been brought up to keep the Sabbath, and I have promised my mother to keep on in that way."

His road acquaintance looked at him for a moment, and, then slapping him on the shoulder, said, "Right, my boy; I began in that way: I wish I had kept on. Young man, you will do. Stick to your bringing up and your mother's words and you will win."

MANLY PURITY AND BEAUTY

CUTICURA REMEDIES CURE SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES FROM PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

NO PEN CAN DO JUSTICE TO THE ESTEEM in which the CUTICURA REMEDIES are held by the thousands upon thousands whose lives have been made happy by the cure of agonizing, humiliating, itching, scaly, and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are a positive cure for every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Pimples, black-heads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Rheumatism, Kidney Pains and Weakness speedily cured by CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster.

Household.

GOOD BREEDING.—Subtle, fragrant, indescribable, but all pervading, is that lovely thing we call good breeding. As subtle and as indescribable, but by no means fragrant, is its unsavory opposite. Keenly conscious of the absence of the former, but unable to exactly specify and define when present, we know and feel, but can not anylyze nor tabulate—save in cases of exceptional sweetness and refinement, when we can touch the exact notion and repeat the commanding word which governed all. So it is with ill breeding. We can scarcely say where it was unless the misdemeanor was as deep as a well and as wide as a church door; but there it was and we felt and knew whether we were able to define it or not. No one can describe discord nor harmony. So with the mystery of good breeding—the subtle harmony and passing flavor of true politeness. It is heard in an intonation—an inflection—in the choice of one word over another seemingly its twin, but with just that difference of application, rather than meaning, which creates the essence of good breeding.

IRRITABILITY AND STRENGTH.—It is a fact, scientific and physiological, as well as practical, that an exhausted nervous force makes an irritable temper. Many a mother who can not understand why she is so easily irritated by the child she loves would find the explanation in the fact that she was losing too much sleep in ornamenting that child's clothes. Many a husband who surprises his wife by the harshness of his temper would find an explanation in the fact that he was making too heavy drafts on his nervous strength in efforts to get rapidly rich. Many boys and girls surprise their friends by irritability of temper, when the whole trouble is that they are making too heavy drafts on their nervous strength in studying all day, and trying to have a "good time" half the night. Quietness is the evidence of strength; nervousness, haste, irritability, the evidence of weakness.—New Era.

WAITING ON THE TABLE.—With a large family, and a long dining-table, waiting on a dozen hungry people is no light task. A device which relieves the united head of the family very considerably and enables the rest to eat in peace is the following: Two of the boys, ten and twelve, are detailed in turn to wait on the table, for which service they receive a small specified sum. The one who waits has his rations reserved and kept warm, and eats when his service is over. He answers to various names: "waiter," "garcon," "kellner," and there is no little merriment at his expense, but in which he joins as heartily as the rest. This device enables the family to be together at meal time without the presence of servants, and has been tried with great success.—Exchange.

While children do not suffer from heat as much as grown people, yet they need to be kept from over-exertion during these summer days. A mother's ingenuity is often taxed to invent quiet games and amusements to lure the little folks away from too violent play; but at this season nature herself is lavish with help. She flings wide open her treasure house of tree, and flower, and rock, and bird and insect life, and with a little help even quite young children will delight in rummaging among her riches. A pocket microscope will afford almost endless entertainment, and at the same time help lay the foundation for a genuine love of scientific pursuits. Arranging different kinds of leaves of trees, and learning their names, will occupy children day after day, besides giving them valuable training in habits of observation. Never mind if the house do become littered with their miscellaneous collections of specimens, so long as little minds and bodies are actively engaged in right ways, and souls are getting right impressions.

G. M. SCOTT, of Okolona, Miss., wrote to Dr. Shallenberger:

"Your Antidote for Malaria is certainly the best thing for chills and fever that has ever been sold in the South. I have been selling it for twelve years, and know it to be the best medicine I have ever dealt in. It is perfectly harmless, and a sure cure in every case." Sold by druggists.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th Street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and did it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this wonderful medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Woodland, Texas.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

MASON & HAMLIN

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. One hundred styles from $22 to $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues free.

ORGANS $22 TO $900.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved GRAND & UPRIGHT by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

PIANOS

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians, and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and organs sold for cash or easy payments, also rented.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOSTON. NEW YORK. CHICAGO.

Best cure for colds, coughs, consumption is the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cutler Bros. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle sent prepaid

GULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

for Light Draft, Real Simple and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Belts on large Gins, Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

A. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It never Fails. We Guarantee a complete cure in every instance. 48 page book free. GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

Established 1857. The GREAT CHURCH LIGHT

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors for Gas or Oil, give the most powerful, softest, cheapest & Best light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Banks, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. Get circular and estimate. Don't be deceived by cheap imitations.

I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl St., N. Y.

HAVE YOU GOT PILES

Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, causing intense itching when warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding and Protruding, yield at once to DR. BO-SAN-KO'S PILE REMEDY, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Plqua, O

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers either sex make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered. Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

McShane Bell Foundry
Finest Grade of Bells, &c.
CHIMES AND PEALS for CHURCHES, &c.
Send for Price and Catalogue. Address
H. McSHANE & CO.,
Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO
SUCCESSORS TO BLYMYER BELLS TO THE
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO
CATALOGUE WITH 1800 TESTIMONIALS.
BELLS CHURCH, SCHOOL FIRE ALARM

Christian Advocate.

Marriages.

...GINS—CAMPBELL.—At the residence ... bride's father, J. L. Campbell, June 26, ... Rev. D. C. Foust, Prof. T. B. Loggins, of ... Pennsylvania, Penn., to Miss Addie Campbell, of ... Miss.

...ER—MATTINGLY.—At the residence of ... father, in Jackson, La., July 1, 1889, ... McDonald, Mr. Frank Derr, of Wil... and Miss Burrie Mattingly.

...GREENE—PICKLES.—At the residence of ... J. E. Pickles, Rapides parish, La., July 3, ... by Rev. B. F. White, assisted by Rev. S. ... Whallet, Rev. George E. Greene to Miss ... phine Pickles.

...ERSON—CHEEVERS.—At the residence ... the bride's parents, in Natchez, Miss., July 3, ... by Rev. B. F. Lewis, Mr. John P. Ander... and Miss Susie Cheevers, both of Natchez, Miss.

...FROTH—RICHARDSON.—At Jackson, Miss., ... 29, 1889, by Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., Mr. ... Froth and Mrs. M. M. Richardson, all of Wes... Miss.

...ROSE—WAUDLAW.—At the residence of ... bride's father, Mr. Berry Wardlaw, April 11, ... by Rev. B. A. Davis, Mr. Benjamin Pearce ... Rose to Miss L. Elizabeth Wardlaw, all of ... Bienville parish, La.

...HOE—BARNES.—At the residence of Mr. S. ... Neal, in Bienville parish, July 7, 1889, by Rev. ... A. Davis, of Louisiana Conference, Mr. John ... Hyde to Miss Nannie B. Barnes, of McComb ... Miss.

...FARMER—MILLER.—At the residence of ... bride's father, Mr. F. Miller, in Marshal ... Miss., June 23, 1889, by Rev. W. M. ... Adams, Mr. J. C. H. Farmer, of Adams station, ... Tennessee, and Miss Jennie E. Miller, ... Hill, Miss.

...PRIEST—WEBBER.—At the Methodist ... age, 471 Dryades street, July 5, 1889, by ... J. Davies, Mr. Jesse Deppriest to Miss ... I. Webber, all of Slidell, La.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, six cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

JOYCE—E. H. JOYCE was born in Carroll county, Miss., June 16, 1859, and died at his home, in Valden, Miss., May 28, 1889. He had no recollection when he did not try to do right, and from a child he was so kind and manly that he won the love and sympathy of all. At the age of twelve years he was happily converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at a camp meeting held at Black Hawk, Miss., July, 1871. The vows of the church were regarded by him as the most solemn and binding and he kept them faithfully, always responding to her calls by giving of his means, his time and his talents. Young as he was, he had served the church here as Sunday-school superintendent, secretary and steward; two of these places he held at the time of his death, having the love and confidence of every one, young and old. He was a power for good. He had a feeble body, but a strong will and a faith that conquered. A more consistent and upright Christian life is seldom seen. His influence will long be felt here for good. His afflictions were long and painful, but he was patient and loving to the end and ready for the Master's call. He was happily married to Luella C. Shields, of Brandon, Miss. In them two more congenial spirits seldom meet; their lives blending just as two streams meet and mingle together. His death was a shock from which she never recovered. Lingering about three weeks, her spirit took its flight to join him in the home of the blessed.

She was born in Brandon, Miss., June 13, 1857, and died June 21, 1889. She was converted and joined the Presbyterian Church in early childhood. Her piety and faithfulness abounded to the praise of the Master she loved and served. Her life was a benediction to her family and the world. She had an untold wealth of affection, and was one of those genial, sunny natures that carried good cheer and sunshine everywhere she went. Her words were so kind, her deeds so loving, her voice so musical and inspiring, that it was almost impossible to feel gloomy in her presence. The announcement of her death was a shock to this community, and many were the tears shed by those who knew her.

The funeral services were conducted by the writer, and their bodies laid side by side in the Valden cemetery to await the resurrection morn. Weep not, aged parents, brothers and sisters, for loved ones gone before. Patiently wait and trust him who guided them home. He has room for you and will come again.

W. S. LAGRONE.

JONES—Rev. AARON L. P. JONES, of Marion circuit, died February 4, 1889; born in Abbeville district, S. C., October 23, 1812; moved and settled in DeKalb county, Ga., about 1830, where he was twice married. First, to Miss Elizabeth Jones, December 5, 1833, by whom he had one child. His second marriage was to Miss Harriet L. Terry, August 13, 1840, who survives him, and by whom he had ten children. The child by his first marriage and four by his second are dead.

Bro. Jones joined the Methodist Church at the age of fifteen, and was licensed to exhort in 1840. In 1843 he moved and settled in Green county, Ala. In 1850 he moved to Lauderdale county, Miss., where he died full of faith and the Holy Ghost. He was licensed to preach by S. H. Cox, June, 1867; ordained deacon by Bishop Kavanaugh at Meridian, December 17, 1871. Bro. Jones was greatly afflicted the last few years of his life; confined most of the time, for five years, to his room. He bore all of his affliction with much patience. He expressed himself as being ready and willing to go. His neighbors said, "He was a good man."

L. P. MEADOR.

MILLER—The shades of death gathered around MARVIN C. ALFORD MILLER, son of Rev. A. D. Miller, of the Mississippi Conference, on May 31, 1889, at Cato, Miss., closing his short earthly existence. He was born at Fannin, Rankin county, Miss., October 2, 1881. His death was effected by that tormenting disease, dysentery. Not having lived four-fifths of the brief period of a decade, consequently, comparatively speaking, he had experienced but little of the troubles of this world. Before he could be fully denominated a contender with the flesh, world and the devil, God took him to himself, where perpetual peace reigns. What a comfort, therefore, should accrue to his parents. May God send his blessed Spirit to their hearts to abide with them in all of his cheering, enlightening and sustaining functions.

ISAAC L. PEEBLES.

MILLER—Ere twelve days had elapsed, after Marvin's death, his brother David experienced that darkness, that obscures vision, and that benumbing sensation that seizes the body while dying.

DAVID KAVANAUGH MILLER, son of Rev. A. D. Miller, of the Mississippi Conference, was born in Neshoba county, Miss., December 8, 1873, and died at Cato, Rankin county, Miss., June 11, 1889, being in his sixteenth year. In August 2, 1881, he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Trenton, Miss. On September 9, of the same year, he was happily converted at Trenton Camp Meeting. He loved his church and was true to the same until his departure. His father enjoined upon him early to alternate with him in conducting family devotion. He was quite obedient to his parents, holding them next to God in his affections. Although he was advancing towards the middle of his teens, he did not allow his love and respect for his parents to decrease in the least. He died with dysentery, and, of course, during his illness, he suffered much; but, thanks to God for the testimony that we have of his being at ease forever! May God's blessings rest upon and remain with all of his surviving loved ones, and enable, especially his parents, to say, "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken; away blessed be the name of the Lord." (Job i, 21.)

ISAAC L. PEEBLES.

WILLIAMS—Bro. H. S. WILLIAMS was born in Mobile county, Ala., September 14, 1810; married to Mrs. ~~[illegible]~~ E. Sullivan, June 6, 1865, with whom he lived until April 19, 1872, when God saw fit to call her from this stage of action; was married again, October 10, 1872, to Mrs. Martha Nelson, who, with his eight children, survive him. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, nearly a year after his first marriage, and continued in that connection until called upon to join the church triumphant, on the evening of June 13, 1889, near Vernal, Greene county, Miss.

Bro. D. S. Williams has passed away, and the church has lost a zealous worker, an efficient steward; the preachers, a true friend; the family, a loving husband and father, and the community a good and leading man. He belonged to the Masonic fraternity, and was buried by that order, June 15, 1889, to await the resurrection morn.

WALTON P. MEADOR.

GERALD—JOSEPH ELLIS, son of H. T. and E. F. Gerald, was born July 14, 1887, and entered through the gates of the eternal city, May 15, 1889. He was a bright and lovely little gem, but he has gone from the family circle. It is broken; but there is another tie to heaven and those waiting for papa, mamma, sister, brothers and grandma, too. We may all meet little Ellis when we pass through to that bright shore where parting is no more.

W. J. GERALD.

The world's annual production of salt is approximately 7,200,000 tons, of which the British Empire produces 2,200,000 tons; North America, 1,000,000 tons; the continent of Europe 3,000,000 tons, and Asia and Africa 1,000,000 tons. The consumption ranges from 8½ pounds per capita in Switzerland to 50 pounds in the United States.

The Unfamiliar.

Without especial reason, except that it is unfamiliar, we are all disposed to avoid good that comes in unusual guise; and it matters not that it is unusual good.

Nevertheless this is natural: it is right to be careful and conservative. It saves a great deal of trouble. In the end, the endorsement of careful people, which is sure to come if the merits of the case demand it, is all the more valuable.

Such, at least, are our views after twenty years' experience with Compound Oxygen.

What could be more hearty than the following:

CHICAGO, ILL., April 24, 1884.

"You ask my opinion of Compound Oxygen; perseveringly and continuously used, it will work wonders.—Chicago Inter Ocean."

WILLIAM PENN NIXON.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 30, 1885.

"Compound Oxygen has greatly benefited me. Under God, it has given me new life."

REV. JOHN C. BREAKER.

FLEMINGTON, N. Y., Oct. 31, 1885.

"I regard Compound Oxygen as nature's strong right hand for repairing bodily waste and damage."

REV. J. C. SUNDERLIN.

ALMA, NEB., Feb. 13, 1888.

"I do unhesitatingly say that Compound Oxygen will cure catarrh."

HON. H. C. GRIFFITH.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 13, 1888.

"I am satisfied that the Compound Oxygen is an excellent remedy."

DR. O. A. DARBY,
President of Columbia Female College.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

Scientific.

Brain-Workers.

The Medical Age says that the most frequent fault of the brain-worker is excessive application to work. "The most intense and fatiguing of toils is pursued almost uninterruptedly; food is neglected, and the claims of exercise and sleep are but imperfectly admitted. Two hours' exercise in the open air, daily, is probably a minimum, and might prudently be exceeded. The brain-worker must live sparingly rather than luxuriantly, he must prefer the lighter classes of food to the heavier, and he must be very prudent in the use of alcohol." Tobacco and tea are apt to be favorites with him, and their immoderate use may require to be guarded against. It is a nice question whether he needs more or less sleep than other men. Many men of genius are light sleepers, probably in some cases a misfortune, but there seems some ground for the notion that more than a moderate indulgence in sleep is unfavorable to successful mental effort." A commentator upon the above remarks says that he can not fully agree with them. Mental effort, he says, and the Cincinnati Medical News agrees with him, causes waste of tissue elements quite as much as bodily exertion, and this demands a full supply of food. What with dyspepsia and absence of appetite, the results of deficient exercise, and the influence of preconceived ideas as to the use or disuse of special articles of food, the brain-worker is very apt to receive too little nutriment to make up for the waste. Especially is this the case when he, unconsciously, perhaps, replaces food by the use of tobacco, tea, alcohol, or opium. Some advise to go supperless to bed. This most medical authorities of the day think is a wrong notion. It is a fruitful source of insomnia and neurasthenia. The brain becomes exhausted by its evening work, and demands rest and refreshment of its wasted tissues, not by indigestible salads and "fried abominations," but by some nutritious, easily digested and assimilated articles. A bowl of stale bread and milk, of rice, or some other farinaceous food, with milk or hot soup, would be more to the purpose. Any of these would insure a sound night's sleep from which the man would awaken refreshed.—Scientific American.

Presentiments.

From an article by Rev. J. M. Buckley, in the July Century, on "Presentiments, Visions, and Apparitions," we quote the following: "Since that experience, in many voyages I have made it an object to inquire of travelers and others concerning presentiments and have found that they are very common, occasionally fulfilled, generally not so; and that it is the tendency with practically all persons who have had one presentiment come true to force themselves into all, and to become tyrants over those dependent upon them or those traveling with them. It is to be frankly admitted that, no matter how vivid the supposed presentiment might be, its non-fulfillment would not demonstrate that there are no presentiments which must have originated external to the mind of the subject; but having been led by my experience to induce many persons to defy such feelings without a single instance of reported evil results, it confirms strongly the hypothesis of their subjective origin.

"That presentiments are governed by no moral principle in the character of the subjects to which they are applied, the persons who receive them, the occasions upon which they are given, and their effects, is apparent. The most immoral have claimed to have them, have communicated them to others, and they have sometimes been fulfilled by events from which the persons having them have derived great personal advantages. The best of men have had presentiments, but the great majority of good people have not; and the greatest calamities which have befallen most persons have come without any warning whatsoever, except such as could be inferred from existing situations. Experience, foresight, and guidance by ordinary sagacity have been all that mankind have had to rely upon; and to be governed only by these, combating or disregarding presentiments, impressions, and powerful impulses for which no foundation can be found in the nature of things, is the only safe and stable rule."

BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic on a weak stomach.

and I've come to stay with you. Some few have abused me because they would not heed my plea to READ DIRECTIONS.

But the majority of you have been kind and attentive ready to,

LISTEN

AND LEARN,

and for their sake I forgive the inconsiderate few, and repeat

"I'LL STAY WITH YOU."

AND YOU, ONE AND ALL, WILL STAND BY

Wolff's ACME Blacking

the most perfect Blacking for men, women and children, of this enlightened century.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philada.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN. NEW ORLEANS.
LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES

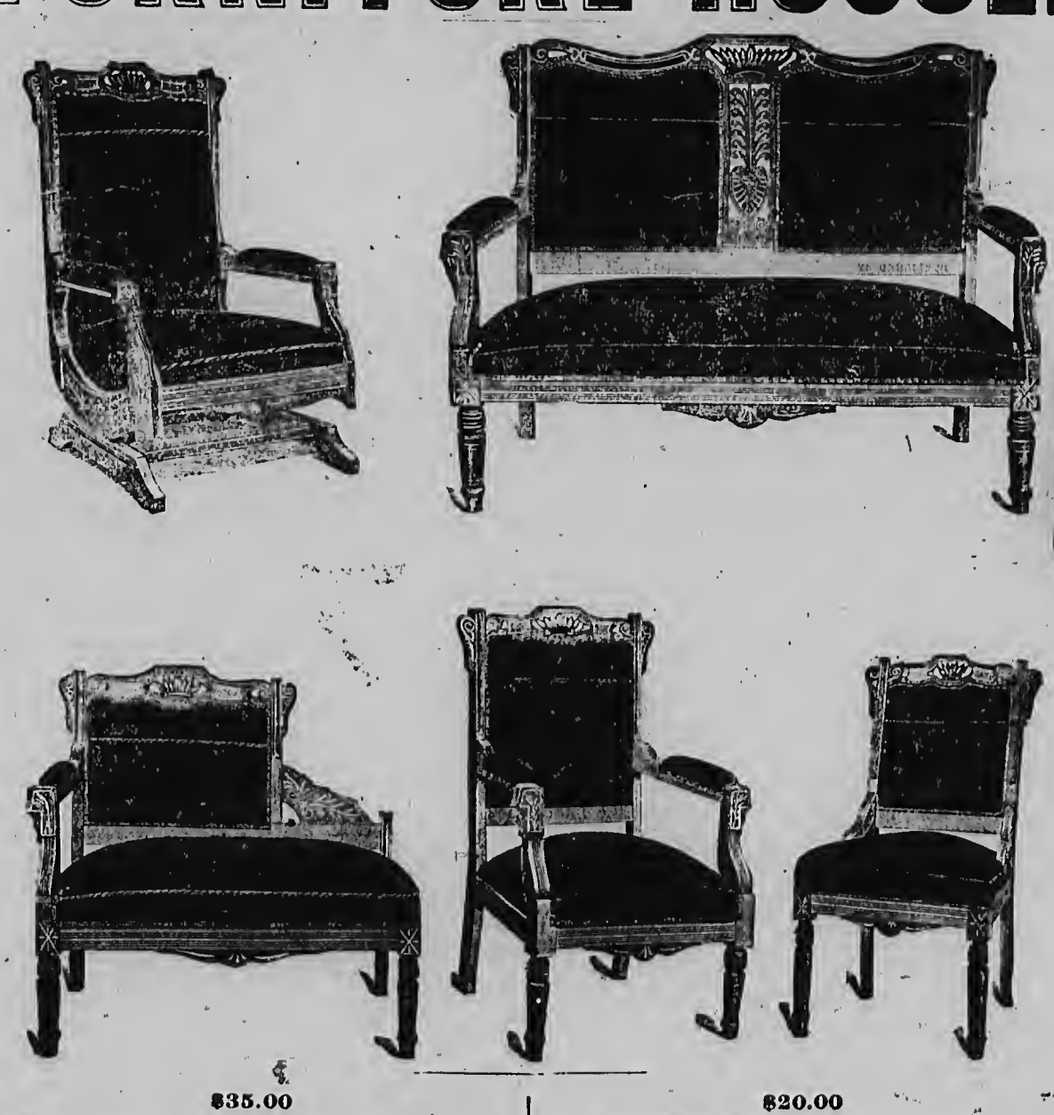
KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.
A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.
Music and Musical Instruments.
Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street.
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENES
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE.



$35.00

Buys a beautiful Crimson Plush Parlor Suit, in five pieces, as shown in illustration. Solid Walnut Frame, Hand-carved and Rubbed Oil Polish. Same suit in Hair Cloth, $35.

$45.00

Buys the same suit in five pieces, covered in Silk Plush, all one color, in either of the following: Crimson, Old Gold, Olive, Peacock Blue or Maroon; or the same set made up in all the above colors.

$55.00

Buys the suit in ten pieces, including the five pieces here shown, one more Sofa and four Parlor Chairs covered in plush.

$65.00

Buys the same set—ten pieces—covered in Silk Plush—all one color, or five different colors.

Plush Rockers, Reception Chairs, Reed and Rattan Rockers, Fancy Tables in Walnut, Mahogany, Oak and Cherry.

$20.00

Buys a French Bed-Room Set.

$69.50

Buys a beautiful Victoria Bed-Room Set, in imitation Walnut, Marble-top—twelve pieces—as follows: Bedstead, Dresser, Washstand, Armoir, four Cane-seat Chairs, one Cane-seat Rocker, one Towel Rack, one Spring, and one Centre Table.

$95.00

Buys a magnificent Black Walnut Bed-Room Set, Marble-Top, Satin Tester, brass rods—twelve pieces as above.

$19.00

Buys a Dining-Room Set, including Sideboard, Extension Table, and six Cane-seat Chairs.

$22.00

Buys a Kitchen Set, including a first-class Stove with Utensils, Kitchen Safe, Kitchen Table, four Kitchen Chairs.

Office and Library Furniture in large variety.

CARPETS—Ingrain, Brussels and Velvets.

Rugs, Portiere and Lace Curtains in all styles and at all prices.

☞ Figures talk; and if you doubt, call and inspect the goods. Everything else proportionately cheap. Stock complete with the latest designs and fresh from the best factories. Call and examine, and I guarantee polite attention, reliable goods, fair dealing and bottom prices at the Cheapest FURNITURE HOUSE in NEW ORLEANS.

J. G. GRANT, 50 and 52 Baronne Street.

☞ Send for Illustrated Catalogue.

Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
Wholesale : Grocers,
Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET,
(Formerly New Levee.)
NEW ORLEANS.
Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM
F. D. VanValkenburgh,
106 Camp Street.
Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.
Orders by mail promptly filled.

NEW SHEET MUSIC
SONGS.
SHE STOOD AMONG THE LILIES. By Frederick Vinal. An exceptionally fine song of only ordinary difficulty. Two editions, for Soprano or Alto. Price, 40c.
WHERE THE OX-EYED DAISIES GROW. By Virginia Bryant. A pretty and pleasing Waltz Song. Price, 50c
NO MORE PARTING, NORAH DARLING. By A. G. Henderson. A pleasing song, not difficult, and with a melody that sings itself. Price, 30cts.
PIANO MUSIC.
GALATEA GAVOTTE. By BARCLAY WALKER. A bright and charming composition by the composer of the well-known "Militaire." Price, 35cts.
MARCH OF TRIUMPH. By FRANZ WALD. A stirring and excellent Military March of fourth grade of difficulty. Price, 60cts.
ALBUMBLATT. By LOUIS SCHEILMANN. A pretty little "piece" somewhat in the style of a nocturne. Price, 30cts.
. Any of the above, or any other sheet music will be sent postpaid on receipt of retail price.
PUBLISHED BY
THE JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, O.
And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

P. P. P.
(Prickly Ash, Poke Root, and Potassium.)
CURES
RHEUMATISM
And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.
If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.
P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.
SCROFULA
Is an impurity in the blood, producing Lumps or Swelling, causing Running Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.
BLOOD POISON
Cured in its worse form; sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases Scrofulous Ulcers broke out till the party was a mass of corruption; a bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.
Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.
Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration.
Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists,
Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

For sale by J. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The State endowment of $8,000 to Atlanta University for colored people, which was discontinued last year because white pupils were taught there, comes to the front again on the appeal of President Horace Bumstead. Dr. Bumstead thought a settlement of the question of mixed education could be reached if the State would modify its position. The modification suggested was that the State should consent to the education at the Atlanta University of the children of its white professors and "the children of its white people from the North as should desire to patronize the institution."

The celebrated G. A. R. circular against the railroads has been formulated, and will be sent out broadcast through official channels. It recites the efforts made to secure the customary rate of one cent per mile to the convention at Milwaukee, and the refusal of the railroads to comply therewith, and calls on all members of the organization, except the duly elected delegates or ex-officio members, to remain at home.

Tuscola, Ill., is in a state of excitement over the workings of a religious combination known as the "Pentecost Band," which has been holding meetings for six weeks past and creating much disturbance. Last week the entire band, consisting of five persons, was placed under arrest for holding boisterous meetings until two o'clock at night, but their trial was continued.

After fifteen months of contention with members of the union, the employers of Indianapolis stone cutters have at last acceded to the demand for recognition of eight hours as a day's work. The persistent agitation by the union brought the contractors to terms.

Judge Foster, of the United States court for the district of Kansas, has rendered a decision to the effect that no official of Oklahoma has legal authority to arrest or imprison offenders of the law, inasmuch as that country is under the jurisdiction of no court.

Chicago and New York Orangemen celebrated the 12th of July by parades, picnics and games.

Brother Vincent, the superior general of the Naverian Brotherhood and provincial of the order in England, has arrived in New York City. Brother Vincent has been superior general of the order for twenty-eight years. The purpose of his present visit is to view the work of the brotherhood during the half-century.

A cloudburst near Baltimore, on July 13, did considerable damage. Several persons were drowned.

The granite for the new congressional library building at Washington will be cut at Concord, N. H. It is estimated that it will require 800 to 1,000 men four years to complete the work.

In New York the hot weather has made the death rate for the past week the heaviest of the year, aggregating 1,187 against 906 for the previous week.

Some credit is given to the report that Secretary Blaine will vacate his Cabinet position on account of ill-health and go abroad. The rumor that John Kasson would succeed him lacks confirmation. There is no doubt that Mr. Blaine's health is impaired. He is now at Bar Harbor.

The town of Princeton, in Butler country, Ohio, and about seven miles from Hamilton, was blown away by a terrific wind storm that swept through that section on July 14.

In Kansas City, Mo., on July 14, by order of the police commissioners, over thirty arrests were made under the State or Downing law, which not only prohibits the sale of liquor on Sundays, but makes it obligatory upon the trial judge to order the license of every person convicted to be revoked.

FOREIGN.

It is reported that Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Morley have approved of the Tenants' Defense League. Mr. Parnell will be president of the League. The main object is to raise a fund for the purpose of giving legal assistance to tenants against combining landlords.

The Osservatore Romano says that should the Pope be forced to exile himself from Rome, he will not ask sovereignty from any power, but will request temporary hospitality, as he will certainly return to Rome.

The Russian government has totally suppressed the Lutheran Church in Russia.

The strike among the Liverpool sailors has collapsed, the men accepting the terms offered by their employers.

The reply of the Swiss Bundesrath was received at the German foreign office. Though civil in tone, it is none the less defiant. It does not recede a step from the position previously taken by Switzerland, and is throughout a vindication of the rights of refugees and of Swiss action toward German police agents.

The Journal des Debats says General Boulanger, besides being indicted for a felony against the state, is charged with embezzling 252,000 francs. The same paper says the procureur general reserves the right to prosecute General Boulanger for other peculations after the latter's trial in the Senate.

The Otis Steel Company of Cleveland, Ohio, has been formed into an English company, with a capital of £900,000. The new company has issued shares, which have been offered to the public, through the trustees and insurance corporation.

The London Standard's Rome correspondent says: The Italian cardinals oppose the suggestion of several foreign cardinals that the election of an American cardinal as Pope would tend to solve the Roman question.

Boulangists attempted a demonstration in Paris, on July 14, and were dispersed by the police, who made many arrests.

Sixty thousand lives are reported lost in a tornado in the Chang Ping and Ping Yuen districts, China, on July 2.

"Weak and weary," describes the condition of many people debilitated by the warm weather, by disease or overwork. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed to build up and strengthen the body, purify and quicken the sluggish blood and restore the lost appetite.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Iuka station	July	20, 21
Iuka circuit		27, 28
Harmony circuit	Aug.	3, 4
Corinth circuit		10, 11
Kossuth circuit		17, 18
New Albany circuit		24, 25
Marietta circuit	31,	Sept. 1
Blackland circuit		2
Ripley and New Albany station		7, 8
Guntown circuit		14, 15
Pleasant Ridge circuit		17
Ripley circuit		21, 22
Jonesboro circuit		28, 29

J. B. STONE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Water Valley circuit	July	20
Oxford		21
Charleston		27, 28
Minter City	(Fri.).. Aug.	2
Sunny Side		3, 4
Grenada station		11, 12
Water Valley station		18, 19
Chapel Hill		24, 25
Carrollton	31,	Sept. 1
Tillatoba		7, 8
Coffeeville	(Thur.)..	12
Tuscopola		14, 15
Grenada circuit		21, 22
Atlanta		28, 29
Old Town	(Tue.).. Oct.	1
Pleasant Grove	(Thur.)..	3
Banner		5, 6

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Verona and Tupelo, at Tupelo	July	20, 21
Pontotoc, at Palestine		27, 28
Sparta, at Palestine	Aug.	3, 4
Houston and Wesley, at H. (Thurs.)..		8
Buena Vista, at Asbury		10, 11
Okolona circuit at Bhone Chapel		17, 18
Ebenezer, at Egypt	(Mon.)..	19
Fulton and Smithville, at Antioch		24, 25
Tremont, at Biggan's Chapel	31,	Sept. 1
Athens		7, 8
Prairie		14, 15
Aberdeen		21, 22

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Dist. Conf., at West Point	July	18-21
Crawford, at Trinity		27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel		31
Brooksville, at Exprairie	Aug.	3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove		9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills		10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg		15
Chester, at South Union		17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch	31,	Sept. 1
Lalbrange		7, 8
Sturges		14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DISTRICT—THIRD ROUND.

Black Hawk	July	20, 21
West		25
Carrollton and Greenwood		27, 28
Richland	Aug.	1
Kosciusko circuit		3, 4
Newport		8
Ebenezer		10, 11
Weir		15
Sallis		17, 18
Poplar Creek		22
Ethel		24, 25
Belzoni		28
Lexington		30

J. J. WHEAT, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Sardis	July	20, 21
Batesville		27, 28
Courtland	Aug.	3, 4
Panola		10, 11
Pleasant Grove		17, 18
Lake View		24, 25
Mt. Vernon	31,	Sept. 1
Arkalutla		7, 8
Chulahoma		14, 15
Cockrum		21, 22
Louisburg		27
Horn Lake		28, 29

S. M. THAMES, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Tunica	(Sun.).. July	14
New Salem	(Tue.)..	16
Indianola	(Fri.)..	19
Hollandale	(Sun.)..	21
Hullvar	(Sun.)..	28

R. M. STANDIFER, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Myrtle, at Friendship	July	20, 21
Hickory Flat, at Shelby Creek		27, 28
Bell Banks cir. and Mt. Pleasant cir., at Bailey's C. G.	Aug.	3, 4
Byhalia, at Emory		10, 11
Olive Branch, at Oak Grove		17, 18
Pine Mountain, at Lebanon		24, 25
Waterford, at Marvin	31,	Sept. 1
Ashland, at Salem		7, 8
Shawnee, at Harmony		14, 15

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Newton, at Decatur	July	20, 21
Hillsboro, at Oak Ridge		26
Shiloh, at Shiloh Camp Ground	Aug.	3, 4
Lake, at High Hill		7
Carthage, at Rocky Point		10, 11
Mt. Rose, at Mt. Zion		17, 18
Strong River, at Clear Creek		19
Westville, at Westville		21
Trenton, at Trenton Camp Ground	31,	Sept. 1
Walnut Grove, at Beech Springs		7, 8
Marvin		14, 15

District Conference meets Thursday, nine A. M., August 1, at Shiloh Camp Ground. Bishop Galloway will preside. We insist that every member will be present. Let us have one full District Conference.

F. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Enterprise and H., at Stonewall	July	20, 21
Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant		27, 28
Vossburg	Aug.	3, 4
Paulding, at Hopewell		10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel		17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill		24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh	31,	Sept. 1
Meridian Station		3
Blunsville, at Wahallak		7, 8
Leakaville		14, 15
Union		21, 22
Lauderdale		28, 29
Spring Hill	Oct.	5, 6
De Kalb		12, 13
West End		19, 20

R. B. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Mardis, at Martin	July	20, 21
Utica, at Reeves	(Wed.)..	24
Natchez—Wesley Chapel		27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove	(Thurs.). Aug	1
Natchez—Jefferson Street		3, 4
Anguilla, Sunflower Chapel		10, 11
Sunflower, at Fish Lake	(Tue.)..	13
Roxie, at Hamburg		17, 18
Warren, at Wesley Chapel		21
Mealville, at Cool Springs		24, 25
South Warren, at Asbury	31,	Sept. 1
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork		7, 8
Mayersville, at Beulah		14, 15
S. Vicksburg and Bovina, at Bovina		21, 22
Vicksburg		28, 29

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson, at Jackson	July	20, 21
Bayou Sara, at New Hope		27, 28
N. Wilkinson, at Mars Hill	Aug.	1
Percey's Creek		3, 4
Centerville, at Bethel		6
Sam Jones Camp Meeting		9-18
Clinton and Betoeville		24, 25
St. Helena		29
Amite City, at Osyka	31,	Sept. 1
East Feliciana		3
Woodville		7, 8
Livingston, at Palmetto		12
Springfield, at Wesley Chapel		14, 15
New River, at St. Amant		19
E. Baton Rouge, at Bay Ridge		21, 22

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Madison, at Livingston	July	20, 21
Sharon, at Madisonville		27, 28
Yazoo circuit, at Tranquil	Aug.	3, 4
Camden, at Shuck		10, 11
Benton, at Bowman's		17, 18
Flora, at Bentonia		24, 25
Silver Creek	31,	Sept. 1
Edwards, at Brownsville		7, 8
Raymond		14, 15
Canton		21, 22
Mt. Olivet		28, 29
Spring Ridge	(Tue.).. Oct.	1

D. A. LITTLE, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Wesson, at Beauregard	July	20, 21
Hazlehurst		27, 28
Providence, at New Hope	Aug.	3, 4
Topisaw		10, 11
Franklinton, at Fishers		17, 18
Holmesville, at China Grove		21, 25
Scotland, at Gitatia	31,	Sept. 1
Adams, at Ebenezer		3, 4
Brookhaven		7, 8
Bowerton, at Pleasant Ridge		14, 15
New Hope, at Centennial		28, 29

W. B. LEWIS, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Augusta	July	20, 21
Whitrington		27, 28
Vancleve	Aug.	3, 4
Scranton, at Zion		10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point		11, 12
Americus		16, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell		24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.—THIRD ROUND.

Caddo, at Greenwood	July	20, 21
Shreveport		27, 28
Sabine, at Red Land	Aug.	1
Pleasant Hill, at Marthaville		3, 4
Mansfield		7
DeSoto, at Bethel		10, 11
Natchitoches, at Robeline		16
Bellwood, at Oak Grove		17, 18
South Bossier, at Doyline		21, 25
Valley circuit, at Hooker's Chapel	31,	Sept. 1
North Bossier, at Concord		2
Mooringsport, at Pine Hill		7, 8
Many, at New Hope		14, 15
Anacoco, at Holly Grove		17
Coushatta, at East Point		21, 22
Wesley, at Holly Springs		25
Red River		28, 29

J. B. CASSITY, P. E.

HOMER DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Ringgold, at Liberty Chapel	July	20, 21
Minden, at Pine Grove		27, 28
Summerfield, at Summerfield	Aug.	3, 4
Farmerville, at Freeman's Chapel		10, 11
Downsville, at Camp Ground		17, 18
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel		24, 25
Arcadia	31,	Sept. 1
Tulip, at Tulip		7, 8
Sparta, at Camp Ground		14, 15
Saline, at Antioch		21, 22
Ruston, at Douglas		28, 29
Indian Village, at Pine Grove	Oct.	5, 6
Louisville, at Gansville		12, 13
Vienna, at Pine Grove		19, 20
Gibbsland		26, 27

ROBERT HANDLE, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Big Cane and Melville, at Big Cane	Aug.	3, 4
Evergreen, at Rankin		10, 11
District Conference, at Rankin		8-11
Lecompte and Boyce, at Lecompte		17, 18
Black river, at Larto		21, 25
Vidalia and Troy, at Young's	Sept.	1
Centreville, at Trout Creek		7, 8
Columbia, at Parnassus		14, 15
Simsport, at Bayou Jacques		21, 22
Alexandria, at Lemothe's		28, 29
Montgomery, at St. Maurice	Oct.	5, 6
Ada		12, 13
Sugar Town, at Dry Creek		19, 20
Spring Creek, at Silver Hill		26, 27

B. F. ALEXANDER, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

West Monroe, at Faulk's Chapel	July	20, 21
Lind Grove, at Bonilee		27, 28
Rastrop, at DeSiard	Aug.	3, 4
Oak Ridge, at Good Hope		10, 11
Waterproof, at Jordan		17, 18
Lake Providence, at Lake Providence		27, 28
Richland, at Gilbert	31,	Sept. 1

J. D. HARPER, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

New Iberia	July	20, 21
Grand Chenier		27, 28
Franklin	Aug.	3, 4
Morgan City		10, 11
Opelousas		17, 18
Abbeville		24, 25
Lake Charles	Sept.	1
Edgerly		6, 7
Crowley		13, 14
Sabine mission		20, 21

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Plaquemine and Donaldsonville, at D.	July	21
Bayne Memorial		28
Gretna and Scarpano		28
Craps Street	Aug.	4
Louisiana Avenue		11
Baton Rouge		17, 18
Grosse Tete, at Arbroth		20
Felicity Street		25

CHAS. F. EVANS, P. E.

Presto! Change! Gray and faded beards made to assume their original color by applying Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers. It never fails to satisfy.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meet'gs.	Begins.
Sulphur Springs	July 25
Henlington (Crystal Springs)	Aug. 8
Sam Jones	Aug. 9
Topisaw	Aug. 10
Downsville	Aug. 16
China Grove	Aug. 23
St. Tammany	Sept. 27

Mr. P. D. Delacroix, Cypremart P. O., La., Nov. 30, 1888, says: "Three years ago an agent representing Dr. Davis' Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar came into my store. Being busy, was unable to give him any time. Before leaving he gave me a sample bottle of Davis' Wild Cherry and Tar, asking me to give it to anyone suffering with a cough or cold. Several days afterward I caught a heavy cold. Remembering the sample, thought I would try it. Six teaspoonfuls cured me. Ordered a supply at once, and have sold it with satisfaction to all. It acts like magic on all my family, and I would not be without it. I take pleasure in recommending it at all times." The dollar bottles hold two and a half times as much as the $.50c. bottles.

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $14 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R.R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kennesaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

(For Week Ending July 16, 1889.)

COTTON.

Low ordinary	8⅜ @ — —
Ordinary	8⅞ — —
Good ordinary	9⅜ — —
Low middling	10⅛ — —
Middling	11 — —
Good middling	11⅛ — —
Middling fair	11¾ — —
Fair	12¾ — —
Galveston middling	10⅞ — —
Middle middling	10¾ — —
Memphis middling	10 11-16 — —

SUGAR.

OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— —	— —
Fully fair	— —	— —
Good fair	— —	— —
Common	— —	— —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	— —	8¾
Prime yellow	— —	— —
Gray white	— —	— —
Choice white	— —	— —
Standard granulated	— —	9⅜

MOLASSES.

OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— —	— —
Fair	17	19
Good common	— —	— —
SYRUP	— —	— —

RICE.

No. 2	2	2⅛
Good	4⅛	4½
Fair	4	4⅛
Prime	4⅛	5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25	4 10
Polish, ₱ ton	15 00	16 00

FLOUR.

Extra Fancy	4 50	4 60
Fancy	4 00	4 25
Choice	— —	3 50
Minnesota Patents	— —	6 00
Winter wheat patents	5 15	5 25
Minnesota bakers	5 25	5 50

CORN PRODUCTS.

Corn meal	2 40	— —
Cream meal	2 50	2 60
Grits	2 65	2 75
Hominy	— —	2 75

GRAIN, ETC.

CORN:
White, ₱ bushel	— —	48
Yellow	— —	46
Mixed No. 2	45	45½
OATS:
Western	—	35½
Texas rust-proof	— —	— —
BRAN:
₱ ton	72½	75
HAY:
Prime	14 00	15 00
Choice	17 00	17 50

PROVISIONS.

PORK:
Mess Standard	12 50	12 62½
Prime Mess	12 50	12 75
Rumps	12 00	12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	9½	11
Shoulders	— —	6¾
Sides, short rib	7½	7⅝
Sides, long clear	7⅛	7¼
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	11¾	12½
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	— —	6⅝
Sides, short rib	— —	6½
Sides, long clear	— —	6½

GROCERIES.

COFFEE:
Prime	— —	18½
Fair	— —	19
Common	— —	15¾
TEAS:
Choice	40	80
He-No	— —	55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	18	— —
Western Dairy	13	14
Common	— —	7
LARD:
Refined	6½	6¾
OILS:
Coal, bbls	10	— —
Coal, cases	15½	16
Cotton seed, crude	41	43
Lard, Extra No. 1	— —	70

VEGETABLES.

CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	1 00	1 25
Chicago, ₱ bbl	— —	— —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	— —	— —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	1 50	— —
Western	1 35	— —
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	1 50	1 65
Western	— —	— —

BALING STUFFS.

BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb, ₱ yard	10¾	10½
Jute, 1¾ lb, ₱ yard	9½	9¾
Lane Mills Cotton Bagging	12½	— —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb	9½	10
TIES:
₱ bundle	1 05	1 07

SUNDRIES.

POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	3 75	4 00
Young Chickens	1 25	3 00
Chickens, Southern	2 75	3 00
Young	1 00	1 75
Turkeys, Southern	10 00	12 00
EGGS:
Western	11	11½
Southern	12	12½
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb	24	24½
Louisiana	22	23
Burry	11	15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green salted, ₱ lb	3	— —
Dry salted	5	— —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	10 00	13 00
Meal	20 50	— —
Pure ground bone	28 00	30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— —	2½
Sulphuric acid	2	— —

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders.

The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GARRATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

From Rev. Dr. McAnally, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate.

"I have tried J. & C. Maguire's Cundurango on myself and others, and it is my opinion that to produce a healthy and safe action on the Liver, Kidneys and secretions generally, there is not a louse or Cosfire habits its action is most effective and salutary."

D. R. MCANALLY.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe,
Homeopathic Physician,
288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.
Cases treated by letter.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT
—OF THE—
Louisiana National Bank,
OF NEW ORLEANS.
At the close of business, June 29, 1889.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,320,625 05
United States bonds, par value		50,000 00
Louisiana State consols and premium bonds, market value		609,450 00
Stocks and other securities		140,930 00
Banking-house and other real estate		110,651 58
United States Treasurer	2,250 00
Domestic exchange	328,205 19
Cash	949,894 51
Checks for Clearing-house	252,973 70
		1,531,123 40
Total		$4,441,907 21

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$500,000 00
Surplus fund	150,000 00
		$650,000 00
Net undivided profits (subject to dividend)		85,081 71
Circulation		187,500 00
Deposits subject to check		3,661,825 50
Balance due on reduction of capital stock		850 00
Dividends unpaid		855 00
Total		$4,441,907 21

At a meeting of the Board of Directors a dividend of FIVE PER CENT. was declared from net earnings of past six months, payable on demand in New Orleans and at the banking-house of Winslow, Lanier & Co., New York.

R. M. WALMSLEY, President.
A. LURIA, Vice-President.
LEON F. JANIN, Cashier.

BLADON SPRINGS
CHOCTAW COUNTY, ALABAMA.
W. A. TURNER, Manager.
—THE—
FIRST WATERING PLACE IN THE SOUTH.
12 Hours by Steamboat from Mobile, on the Bigbee River. Daily communication during Winter Season.
Large Hotel and Pleasant Cottages, so guests can be accommodated. The Cottages are neatly plastered and provided with good fireplaces making them warm and "home-like."
R. WARD, Agent (Successor to O. F. Castlen & Co.), Druggist, Mobile. ISAACSON, SEINAS & CO., Agents (Grocers), Canal St., New Orleans. Bar Bladon Water on tap and for sale by EUGENE MAY, Cor. Canal and Chartres Sts., New Orleans, La.
Mention this paper.

CLIFF HOUSE AND COTTAGES,
At Tallulah Falls,
THE NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH.
The Cliff House is the best equipped summer resort hotel in the Blue Ridge Mountains.
For descriptive pamphlet address
J. C. S. TIMBERLAKE, Manager,
Tallulah Falls, Ga.
When writing, mention this paper.

White Cliff Mineral Springs,
On Chilhowee Mountains.
3,000 Feet above sea level. Open June 1. Good fare. Comfortable accommodations. Reasonable terms. Magnificent scenery. Pure atmosphere. For analysis, circulars and full information, address J. H. MAGILL,
Manager, White Cliff Springs,
Monroe County, Tenn.

SPENCERIAN
STEEL PENS
Are the Best,
IN THE ESSENTIAL QUALITIES OF Durability, Evenness

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 30. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1718.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. C. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. B. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

"GOOD-BY—GOD BLESS YOU!"

BY EUGENE FIELD.

I like the Anglo-Saxon speech
With its direct revealings—
It takes a hold and seems to reach
Way down into your feelings;
That some folk deem it rude, I know,
And, therefore, they abuse it;
But I have never found it so—
Before all else I choose it.

I don't object that men should air
The Gallic they have paid for—
With "au revoir," "adieu, ma chere"—
For that's what French was made for.
But when a crony takes your hand
At parting to address you,
He drops all foreign lingo and
He says, "Good-by—God bless you!"

This seems to me a sacred phrase
With reverence impassioned—
A thing come down from righteous days,
Quaintly but nobly fashioned;
It well becomes an honest face;
A voice that's round and cheerful;
It slays the sturdy in his pace
And soothes the weak and fearful.

Into the porches of the ears
It steals with subtle unction,
And in your heart of hearts appears
To work its gracious function;
And all day long with pleasing song
It lingers to caress you;
I'm sure no human heart goes wrong
That's told "Good-by—God bless you!"

I love the word—perhaps, because,
When I was leaving mother,
Standing at last in solemn pause
We looked at one another,
And I—I saw in mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me—
A love eternal as the skies,
Whatever fate befell me;

She put her arms about my neck
And soothed the pain of leaving,
And, though her heart was like to break,
She spoke no word of grieving.
She let no tear bedim her eye,
For fear that might distress me,
But, kissing me, she said good-by,
And asked our God to bless me.

—Chicago News.

Letter from Abroad.

BY REV. J. S. OAKLEY.

MR. EDITOR: Having been appointed to represent the State of Mississippi in the World's Sunday-school Convention, I embarked on the Anchor Line Circassia, New York, for Glasgow, June 15. After a delightful voyage we reached the Irish coast on the morning of the twenty-fifth. We cast anchor in the Foyle, and put off a number of passengers for Londonderry. I have made several visits to Ireland, and each succeeding visit I am more and more impressed with the grandeur of the scenery. To the admirers of the beautiful and picturesque, probably no country in the world possesses greater attractions. From the Giant's Causeway, in the north, to the unrivalled Lakes of Killarney, in the south, the "Green Isle" abounds with the most sublime scenery, while the sweet melodies of the ancient bards blend with and lend an additional charm to almost every locality.

The romantic land of France, the classic shores of Italy, the storied hills of Scotland and the rural scenery of England receive their share of attention, while Ireland remains comparatively unknown.

A young American, returning from foreign travel, was asked how he liked the ruins of Pompeii. "Not much," he replied, "they are so dreadfully out of repair." The same remark applies to Ireland. Her castles and many of her churches and palaces are in ruins. Her social system is all out of shape, and I am sure your readers will agree with me when I say that, politically, Ireland is "dreadfully out of repair."

Shortly after leaving the Foyle we passed the Giant's Causeway—one of the finest basaltic formations in the world. In the entire causeway, it is computed, there are 40,000 pillars. These are fantastically arranged in groups which have received such names as the "Giant's chair," his "organ," "loom," "bagpipes," etc. On one side of the Causeway we see the ruins of Dunluce Castle, and on the other the fashionable little watering-place of Portrush, the birthplace of Dr. Adam Clark.

As we approach the Clyde, we see "Ailsa Craig," or, as it is commonly called, "Paddy's Mile-stone." This is an immense rock, rising like a mountain from the sea. It is 1,114 feet high and about three miles in circumference. Upon one part of the rock is an old castle, supposed to have been built by the pirates from Denmark, who at one time infested the Frith of Clyde. Had this rock a tongue it might reveal to us the secrets it has kept so long—of deeds performed before Scotland had a history or scholars penned the story of her kings.

As we approach the shores of Scotland the eye rests on Cumbrae and Lesser Cumbrae, where in the olden time, according to tradition, dwelt two giants, who had but one hammer, which they used in turn, throwing it across the Clyde from one to the other, and where in later times dwelt the clergyman who was in the habit of praying for "Cumbrae, Lesser Cumbrae and the adjoining islands of Great Britain and Ireland."

Greenock, where we await for the tide, is celebrated as the birthplace of James Watt, the inventor of the steam engine. We see Dumbarton Castle, Ben Lomond, visit the birthplaces of Robert Bruce and Robert Pollock.

This being my third visit to Glasgow, I did not remain long in the city. On my way down to Sheffield, we passed through Gretna Green, Carlisle and Leeds.

Shortly after my arrival at Sheffield, the Rev. Thomas Allen, Chairman of the Sheffield district, called upon me, and we discussed the appointment of a fraternal delegate from the British Conference to the next General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The English Conference meets in this city, in three weeks, and Mr. Allen will ask for the appointment of a delegate. Several prominent brethren are anxious to come.

I reserve for a future letter an account of the Sunday-school Convention, a visit to Woodhouse Grove School, to Bedford and various objects of interest in London and other places.

I return to my beloved Mississippi, per City of Rome, next Wednesday.

SHEFFIELD, England, July 5, 1889.

Texas Notes.

BY REV. B. W. WILLIAMS.

The usual number of protracted and camp meetings are now being held in this part of the moral vineyard. Many precious souls are being turned from their sins, saved from unbelief, and brought to know Christ by heartfelt experience. A number of pastoral charges in the cities have lately had sweeping revivals. At Brownwood, Bro. "Abe" Mulkey, in conjunction with the pastor, Rev. J. R. Nelson, held a meeting of seventeen days' duration, at which a large number were saved, and over sixty gave their names for membership. At Grandview there were over one hundred conversions, fifty-two additions to our church, and twelve to the Cumberland Presbyterians. At Dublin there were 120 souls saved, and a District Conference held along with the revival. At Campbell there were a large number of conversions and reclamations, and other good results.

The Annual Convention of the Christian ("Campbellite") Church in Texas was held at Fort Worth a short time since. About three hundred delegates were in attendance. A large sum of money was raised, during the session, for the missionary work, and for other purposes. Several leading preachers of the denomination from abroad were in attendance, and some able discourses were delivered. Taylor was selected as the place of the next annual meeting, which is to be held June 21, 1890. The "Disciples" claim a membership of 50,000 in Texas, and are laboring aggressively in many parts of the State. Of course, I can not accept their theology; but I admire their zeal and activity in religious, educational, and benevolent enterprises. They also take advanced ground on temperance and prohibition.

The inimitable Talmage has recently been in Texas at the invitation of the State Exposition. He preached in Fort Worth, June 23, and thousands flocked to hear him. His subject was, "The Mightiest Weapon is the Gospel." He used for his text: "There is none like that; give it me." (1 Samuel xxi, 9.) I quote a single paragraph as a specimen of his sermon:

> Worldly philosophy said: "What an absurd story about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. If the world had stopped an instant, the whole universe would have been out of gear." "Stop," said Christian philosophy, "not quite so quick." The world has two motions—one on its own axis, and the other around the sun. It was not necessary in making them stand still that both motions should be stopped—only the one turning the world on its own axis. There was no reason why the halting of the earth should have jarred and disarranged the whole universe. Joshua right and God right; infidelity wrong every time. I knew it would be wrong. I thank God that the time has come when Christians need not be scared at any scientific exploration. The fact is that religion and science have struck hand in eternal friendship, and the deeper down geology can dig, and the higher up astronomy can soar, all the better for us. The armies of the Lord Jesus Christ have stormed the observatories of the world's science, and from the highest towers have flung out the banner of the cross, and Christianity to-night from the observatories of Albany and Washington stretches out its hand toward the opposing scientific weapon, crying: "There is none like that; give it me."

The State Teachers' Association of Texas met at Galveston, June 25–27. Many of the leading brain cultivators of the State were in attendance. Among them were strong and brainy men, and bright and beautiful women. The annual address of President J. T. Hand was scholarly, suggestive, happily conceived, and clearly and forcibly presented. A number of important educational topics were discussed in carefully prepared addresses by various prominent educators. It is believed that much good was accomplished in arousing enthusiasm, imparting information, and giving additional strength and efficiency to our public school teachers. Texas educators are laboring continuously to better qualify themselves for their duties, and to improve and perfect our educational system.

Recently there have been very heavy rains in this section, resulting in great damage to some of our people. Many of the farmers had not threshed or stacked their small grain, and some of it was spoiled or greatly injured by the humidity of the weather. The railroad track between this city and Fort Worth was torn up in two or three places by the flood, thereby hindering the passage of trains for several days. At the latter place, and in the vicinity, the damage was estimated at $1,250,000. The iron bridge on the T. and P. railway, near the city, was carried away by the rush of waters. Until it could be repaired, trains had to be sent around by Cleburne, on the Santa Fe railroad. At Dallas the rainfall was heavy, and the Trinity river continued to rise steadily until it was higher, it is said, than it has been for more than twenty years.

Bishop Key has now been in Texas at work for some two months. He appears to grow in favor with God and with the people continually. He has written a letter to the Texas Advocate, in which he deplores the lack of suitable church buildings, and the smallness of our membership in some of the cities. He urges the building of houses of worship without copartnership with others. He also "jogs the memory" of our people about the week of prayer and self-denial for missions. Hear him:

> And now, while writing, allow me, a month in advance, to call attention to the week of self-denial and prayer for missions, beginning August 3. The church at home and abroad look to this concert of prayer and fasting and giving by all our people with great desire. It will prove the test and measure of our concern for the salvation of the lost. Not long ago the "Salvation Army," the poorest people on earth, needing a sum of money to carry the gospel into a new field, determined to make it or save it by a week's fasting. The whole membership united and reduced their living to the lowest point of expense, and gave the amount saved to their mission. It summed up $40,000.

Precisely this is the purpose and meaning of our week of fasting and prayer. The assessment levied by the Board of Missions is the smallest amount on which we can maintain our present forces in the field. If we expand at all, it must be by the enlarged liberality of the church; and this week of fasting furnishes the opportunity. What inspiration in the thought! A church of more than a million members called to prayer and fasting for a week, and the result of it all—the praying and the saving and the giving—turned over to Christ for the conversion of the world! Who would not gladly live on bread and water for a week, if thereby one immortal soul can be saved?

I appeal to all our pastors. Preach and talk a great deal on this subject. Begin now! and thereby get your people ready for the service before August 3. Everything depends on the pastor's enthusiasm. Our former efforts of this kind have made known the zealous and the indifferent leaders. Our people will respond to faithful appeals. Not much can be expected otherwise.

I beg my brethren in Texas to arrange for a daily service in each church and congregation. Appoint suitable persons to conduct these services. If you have not preachers, then use efficient laymen. Urge every member to enter into this service, and make a contribution. We number near 125,000 members in our Texas Church. The savings of a week, real, hearty fasting, by these alone, would double the contributions of the whole connection last year. Shall we have it?

I commend his words to the thoughtful consideration of our people everywhere.

WEATHERFORD, Texas.

Lottery Churches and Lottery Money Again.

BY R. ABBEY, D. D.

I am called upon by Mr. George T. Ashley, of Flowery Mound, La., in this ADVOCATE, of July 11, to give information—rather, to explain what I have previously written—touching a certain church in Biloxi, Miss., said to have been built and supported mainly by the Louisiana Lottery. Mr. Ashley considers that my first statement in the Christian Advocate, of Nashville, of December 8, 1888, that this money was furnished by the Lottery, is materially changed—indeed, nullified—by my subsequent explanation that it was furnished by the owner of the Lottery; for he considers it legitimate for a gambler to give money to a church, no matter how dishonestly he may have obtained it.

There is far less difference than might be supposed between Mr. Ashley and myself on this point. He asks: "Is it wrong to receive money for church purposes from an individual who, as a member of a corporation or individually, makes his money—part of it, at least—by unjust means?"

That question, so stated, is not susceptible of a categorical answer. It depends entirely on the circumstances. It may be legitimate—it may be criminal. When money changes hands, it is under a contract, expressed or implied. The money itself, having no ear-mark, does not give character to this contract. For instance:

A preacher approached a well-known loose fellow: "See here, Jim, I'm making up some money for the church; give us something." Jim pulls out a bank-note. "There, I won that last night playing cards." "Thank you, sir; the devil has had it long enough. We'll put it to a better use." That I hold legitimate.

Per contra: This actually occurred in New Orleans, as I have it from the highest authority, but do not remember the details well enough to repeat them. It was well known that the Methodists were trying to raise a considerable sum, perhaps to build a church, or something of the sort. A well-known lottery man, alluding to the enterprise, said to one of our most prominent ministers: "We would like to furnish you a few thousand, as much as you want," or words to that effect. The offer was spurned with indignation. Does not Mr. Ashley see the difference? The former was a gift of good money, by a gambler, with no implied or reserved understanding that the preacher would keep silence or say a good word for gambling or gamblers. The latter was the offer of good money as a bribe, well understood, though, of course, not stated in terms. It was not stated that this offer was made "by the Louisiana Lottery in its corporate capacity." Who cares a straw for that? These Louisiana corruptionists are not fools, however villainous and deep-seated may be their knavery. It is not the money that is tainted with crime, but the well-implied criminal remuneration either in words, wink, or silence. To accept the offer would clearly imply a promise of church support to the Lottery.

One of our Bishops can go to one of these Lottery men to-day, and get a million for missions and another million for building churches. And the Lottery will rejoice in the opportunity of so securing the patronage of our great, widespread church. The Lottery will gladly say, "How many millions do you want?" Or, in other and plainer words, we can put our church into the lottery business. This is exactly what was done at Biloxi.

What is a bribe? Look in the dictionary: "A price, reward, gift, or favor bestowed or promised, with a view to pervert the judgment or corrupt the conduct of a judge, witness, or other person." Now examine that definition carefully. Bribes are always exactly of this character. The chief briber said to the Savior: "All these things will I give thee if thou wilt fall down and worship me." A bribe is also significantly called in the books, hush-money.

Who does not know that this Lottery lives, moves, and has its being solely and exclusively in bribery? Bribery is a high crime. An American writer says of it: "In general, the same here as in England, and always a crime difficult to prove and more difficult to punish." Of course, it never sails under its own flag. There are always two crimes in bribery: the party who offers, and the one that accepts. They are equally guilty, and always deserve the penitentiary, as well themselves as their aiders and abettors.

Mr. Ashley says, that, according to the civil law, the individual acts of a member of a corporation do not bind the corporation. Who did not know that? But that does not prove that the funds of a corporation can not be used for corrupt and criminal purposes. Bribes are never offered openly, but always covertly, stealthily, and under the name of friendship and fair dealing.

So I consider that my first notice of this lottery-built church and subsequent explanation are perfectly coincident. The only material question is, Did lottery money build the church?—and was that well known? Exactly how the money was paid, whether entered on the books in New Orleans, what kind of money was used, whether in one payment or forty, are matters too trifling to talk about. At that time Charley Howard, who furnished the money, was the entire owner of the Lottery. Or, at most, other ownership was insignificant. And before this Lottery made Howard rich, he was well known to be extremely poor. All this I have proved, and no man has denied it, except on the pitiful supposition that I have not proved that the money was entered on the books in New Orleans. Bishop Thompson denies it in terms, albeit he was then living in England, as I understand. His committee of forty-five, appointed to hunt me out, composed of church people, Catholics, saloon keepers and "unknown" persons, deny it by stating what was physically impossible for them to know anything about. So I think it is in order for Mr. Ashley to "heave a sigh of indignation at such a church." A lottery-supported church is a lottery-supporting church. Bribes are reciprocal. And so I understand that that pulpit has kept faith with its co-criminal. How could it turn against its benefactor and denounce crime?

It is a new doctrine of Mr. Ashley, not before promulgated, as I remember, that the funds of a corporation can not be used in fraud. Then how could they be used in legitimate benevolence? Has he forgotten the Tweed and Sweeny New York briberies of 1872? Didn't they make the city funds move lively? This New Orleans bribery is on a much larger scale, more skillfully planned, and with far better legislative protection. Big frauds are most generally supported by money belonging to corporations.

I have answered Mr. Ashley's inquiries, I hope, with sufficient fullness and to his satisfaction, as well as to that of the readers of this ADVOCATE.

GULF VIEW, Mississippi.

As well might we expect vegetation to spring from the earth without the sunshine (or the dew, as the Christian to unfold his graces and advance in his course without patient, persevering, ardent prayer.—Abbott.

A Presiding Elder in Trouble.

MR. EDITOR: Here I lie flat on my back, writing "upwards." I like things with an upward tendency, but not writing above. Thanks to the man who invented the pencil, for the ink will not go up the pen. It is a fluid, and its tendency is downward. I like things of an upward tendency—that is, if they point in the right direction. I like for young folks to aim high—not in dancing, frolicking and "tomfoolery," but in sober thought and usefulness.

When I was a barefoot boy, and kept the mills "stumped" off my toes, my father would say: "John, you hold your head too high; look where you go." Good advice: "Look where you go." But somehow I saved my toes, with the exception of one or two crooked ones. My feet are large enough (I like a good, unbroken foundation), and one of them is rather large for comfort. It looks like the leg has run into the foot, for the leg is about one-fourth smaller than when I came to keel, and the foot about that much larger. Wife is troubled to find a sock in town large enough, and thinks she will have to make one to order.

Did you ever have a genuine case of sciatica? If not, it is useless for me to undertake to make you understand the painfulness of the disease. Pain!—that does not express the suffering; sharp, keen, blunt, pulling, pushing, cutting, twisting, excruciating, until the tears flow down the cheeks, with a call for help. Then comes the chloroform on brown paper held tightly to the place until it burns like live coals of fire; hot poultice, mustard, fly blister, and everything that can be thought of to give relief. Then comes the doctor, calls for warm water, works a little while with a white powder, places it into a sharp-pointed instrument, inserts that into the leg, waits a few minutes, and says: "Do you feel any easier?" Yes, either the pain is blunted, or that part of man that feels pain has become less sensible. I have been here about seven weeks; some four or five weeks since I walked a step. The kind people of Water Valley have proposed to help me to Hot Springs, Ark., and I expected to go this week; but the doctor has vetoed the resolution for the present, and I am still here. I have been greatly troubled in not being able to fill my appointments; but the preachers in the district have been very kind to help each other where they could do so. We have a noble band of preachers in this district; good, true, and attentive to their work; good Christian men of one work. I think I may safely say they have all received the "second blessing"—yea, innumerable blessings. Convicted, converted, regenerated, sanctified, consecrated men, reaching forth, pressing forward to higher attainments of Christian purity and usefulness. Several of these brethren have visited me in my sickness, and others have written expressing their sympathy.

The promise of the district has been very hopeful, and I still trust we will be able to make a fine report at the close of the year. I hope to be able in a few weeks to be at work. Work! I hear some men say, "I have so much hard work to do." What a blessing it is to have something to do, and a will to do it! A good will makes work easy.

I trust that that brother in the district, who is able to give $25,000 to endow a chair in the anticipated male college, will do so; and that not a brick will be moulded until $200,000, as an endowment, have been secured.

J. F. EVANS.

WATER VALLEY, Mississippi.

Higher criticism ought to be very modest. It is a criticism from very vague data. It is a criticism, not of the text, but of the mind and purpose, time and circumstances, methods and authority of the sacred writers. In such a criticism the subjective is ever tempted to take the lead, and the imaginative to create the facts. Invention and ingenuity take the place of sound judgment by reason of ignorance of the factors that produced the result. In such a field theorists spring up like mushrooms, and instead of modestly proposing a theory, they dogmatize with contemptuous sneers at all conservative scholars as ignoramuses. The higher criticism, which at the very best is but surmising (sometimes, doubtless, with convincing probability), is conducted as if it were an exact science, and the dicta of its apostles to be accepted as the plainest truth of the multiplication table.—Dr. Howard Crosby.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1889.

STRENGTH.

BY WALTER TAYLOR FIELD.

Be strong to-day; the world needs men
Of nerve and muscle, heart and brain.
To war for Truth and conquer Wrong.
The fight is on; the foes combine;
The order passes down the line.
"Quit you like men; be strong."

Be strong; the world hath also need
Of feet to ache and hearts to bleed,
Burdens there are to bear along.
But, though the end we may not see,
'Tis not the meanest destiny
To bear and to be strong.

Be strong, but not in self. Go whence
The breathings of Omnipotence
Shall sweep the nerve-strings full and long.
And from their impulse shall arise
Those deep, celestial harmonies
That comfort and make strong.

And Patience, too, must come, to rest
Within thy striving, throbbing breast
That thinks to-morrow all too long.
Thus filling out in breadth and length
The perfect character—for strength
Unbridled is not strong.

Yes, right must win, since God is just;
Our hardest lesson is to trust,
But his great plan still moves along.
To-day is but the chrysalis
That holds to-morrow; heeding this,
Be patient and be strong.

Each hath his mission. It is he
My lot to toil, but not to see
The fruits which to my toil belong.
I know One whose all-seeing eye
My humblest task shall glorify.
And he shall make me strong.

Riches.

Line upon line, precept upon precept, have been written upon the duties of the rich man. Much fanaticism has been shown in rebuking, as well as much sin in envying him: indeed, these two are often seen together. The "go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you" has been thundered out sometimes indiscriminately, though it was written against those only whose riches were corrupted and the rust of whose riches shall be a witness against them, etc. It is exceedingly dangerous to be rich, but certainly not a sin. Every man is expected, by industrious habits, to provide for himself and his family. This may have reference not only to the comfort, but the cultivation of those dependent upon him. There can be no standard but an enlightened conscience, by which we may measure the amount a man may possess. There is no condition of social life (with which wealth is so intimately connected) to which a man is required to conform. There is no limit to the amount of scientific or æsthetic culture to which a man may aspire for himself or his children. In the providence of God the gifts of fortune happen variously to us all. If a man has not fraudulently acquired his goods, Christian jurisprudence and customs secure him in their possession more thoroughly than has ever been known under other systems. Men are born rich. Sometimes without expecting it they inherit riches. With but little effort and small investment in our wonderful country immense wealth is honestly gained. No one objects to this. There never was a time when Christian men had more wealth than now. A characteristic of the age is the amassment of colossal fortunes; and the men of the church have their share. There never was a time when individual man felt so secure from covetous authority backed by armies bent on pillage. It, therefore, has become unusually important and incumbent upon the church to have enlightened and scriptural views with reference to the millions owned by her in this age, and in the hands of individual man. The Protestantism of this age depends upon the voluntary offerings of the individual. It does not countenance a priestcraft which, if it can not make merchandise of the soul when alive, feel quite secure of its money in the hands of confiding heirs, who must deliver a suffering ancestor from purgatorial fires.

Money is as essential for the church as for any other enterprise, and the proper use of it is one of the most vital themes the pen can touch. That Christian men have been mistaken and the world misled often on this subject can not be doubted. Rich men have been kept out of the church, the hand of industry has been stayed and economy forgotten by false impressions and doctrines on the subject of money-getting and having. The gospel certainly recognizes a man's right to all he honestly gets, and forbids that we should rob him or even covet his possessions. It holds, however, that man is only a steward for God, and must consecrate all that he has to him. John Wesley's sermon on the "Use of Money" is a remarkably concise and scriptural treatise. Its general divisions are: (1) Get all you can. (2) Save all you can. (3) Give all you can. While it might be modified a little to suit the age, it would be impossible to find more truth in a nutshell on this important subject. God leaves every man to be his own judge, forbids priestcraft to make merchandise of his goods, rejoices that man possesses the earth; but he will require of him an answer for his stewardship. The fully rounded character is he who may have money without loving it; who knows how to lay it all at the feet of Jesus; who with all his treasures, whether they consist of honors, fame, influence or material things, assumes a proper attitude to God, and, with grateful acknowledgment of his stewardship, lays up treasures in heaven; who can withdraw his affections from that which perisheth, and which a thief may steal, and thus become rich toward God. T. W. BROWN.

Brookhaven District Conference.

MR. EDITOR: As many interested in our District Conference, at McComb City, think it one of somewhat unusual interest and success, they would be pleased to have you publish some notes in addition to those which appeared in this paper of July 4; also that some mistakes be corrected, such as were liable to be made by anyone unacquainted with the work of the Conference. That this Conference was one of unusual interest and success is not to be denied; and when such can be said of a District Conference, it is well to seek the cause of such results, which, in this case, I think are not hard to find. One, if not the chief cause of success, was the interest begotten in it long before it convened. Some time before, the presiding elder had seen many, if not all, its members, and so enlisted their interest and co-operation as to cause us to expect nothing less than a good and useful time. In the second place, this "talking up" the Conference secured a good attendance—much better than at any other Conference which I have noted in this State, and by far better than your correspondent gave us credit for in the report mentioned in the foregoing. By that we only had eleven delegates, while we had twenty, and maybe more, out of the thirty elected. By that we had only six local preachers, while we had eleven, besides two superannuates and one supernumerary and two college men. Each pastor was present, save one, and he, being sick, sent in his written report. The school men referred to were Rev. H. Walter Featherstun, of Kavanaugh College, and President Fitzhugh, of Whitworth—not "Rev." "D. D.," as reported by your correspondent; though well worthy of its equivalent in his profession. Another element of interest was the method adopted for reporting our charges, which was, to me, novel, unique, and certainly worthy of consideration, if not general adoption. It was secured by our presiding elder from Bishop Hargrove. It consists of four leaves; each leaf representing one department of church work.

1. The spiritual condition of the church.
2. Sunday-school interests.
3. The financial condition.
4. The missionary ground.

To get a correct idea of the inner working of this method, allow me to copy the leaf on the spiritual condition of the church, which will serve at the same time as an index of the whole:

DISTRICT CONFERENCE REPORT.

For ..... Charge.

Spiritual State of Church, Attendance, etc.

1. Preaching Places.....No....
2. Houses of Worship.....No....
3. Members of Church.....No....
4. Accessions by Certificate since Dist. Conference.....No....
5. Accessions by Vows since Dist. Conf. No....
6. Infants Baptized since Dist. Conf...No....
7. Sunday-schools.....No....
8. Prayer Meetings.....No....
9. Class Meetings.....No....
10. Family Altars.....No....
11. Church Papers taken.....No....
12. Members who lead in Public Prayer.No....
13. Average attendance at—

	Members	All Classes
(1) Preaching
(2) Prayer Meeting
(3) Sunday-school
(4) Class Meeting
(5) Love-feast
(6) Lord's Supper

14. Are the Social Meetings Spiritual?...Ans....
15. Is there a Young Men's Prayer Meeting?.....Ans....
16. Is the Congregational Singing good? Ans....
17. What Hymn Book is used?.....Ans....
18. Is Giving general, cheerful and liberal?.....Ans....

.....Pastor.

A moment's glance will show that this plan developed facts, which give a better idea of the spiritual condition of the church than any other system could do. Mere opinion depends upon the temperament of the pastor, his definition of terms and his surroundings, but facts—such as these—enable us to form a very good idea of the condition of a church. As soon as a pastor read this first leaf, he tore it off and handed it to the chairman of the committee on this department of church work, and so on until each preacher had answered this question, when the next question was taken up and disposed of in like manner.

Thus the business was disposed of with such interest and dispatch that by Friday morning the committees were ready to offer and the Conference to receive reports, giving us two days to discuss these and other matters of interest to the district and church at large.

Another cause of interest and success was the discussions on special subjects. By previous and private arrangement, many, if not all, members had been prepared to lead in the discussion of some subject, with a ten or fifteen minutes' talk. In this all were urged to take a part: the laymen to criticise the preachers, and the preachers the laymen. Some of the subjects were, "Pastoral visiting," "Duties of stewards," "The Lord's Supper," "Education," "Missions," "Preparing and delivering a sermon," etc.

Certainly much good was accomplished in this way. Light was turned on dark places, wrong practices false views were seen to be such, which would have continued unnoticed and unconverted but for agitation. Much good work, plans and notions were discovered, which otherwise would have remained unknown. It was, indeed, a Conference. Amid it all, no words were more convincing, more earnest and welcome than the admonitions and appeals of our beloved Bro. Gram, of this ADVOCATE; while at proper time he most appropriately and earnestly urged the claims of the paper, yet all could see he was no one-idea man; that there was a deep, broad, intelligent zeal for all church work. A stranger would have been apt to have made the same mistake in regard to him that was made concerning President Fitzhugh—i. e.: dubbed him "Rev." and "D. D." Would that our churches were full of such laymen!

As to the financial condition of the district, I fear your reporter made a false impression. While the facts show our general collections paid up only one-third, yet we are not behind any previous year in this; and when we go beyond the general collections, we will find a very decided improvement. In the building of parsonages alone there will be no less than fifty thousand dollars expended this year.

A healthy spiritual tone pervaded the Conference throughout, the preaching being good, earnest and searching. The choir remained with the Conference during the business hours, and the deliberations were interspersed with good music and the sweet songs of Zion.

Many important points are omitted in this report for want of space, and because of their being well and correctly reported by a former correspondent. Yours, H. R. SINGLETON.

The New College.

For the last two or three months the columns of the ADVOCATE have been filled with many interesting letters from the brethren, suggesting their various homes as suitable locations for the new Methodist College that is to be, and suggesting the various "advantages" possessed by such. Some have the superior "advantage of being" only six miles from ——— Station, on the ——— and ——— railroad. Others offer "a highly moral community, long noted for their intelligence and sobriety," etc.

Now, I do not propose to disparage in any measure any advantageous circumstances possessed by any location, but I do propose to tell you some solid reasons why Natchez should be considered by the committee which locates the new college. I believe these reasons might be made as numerous as were candidates for the gubernatorial nominations a few weeks ago.

A gentleman said to me, a few weeks ago, that Natchez would pay more hard money for it than any city in the State, and would probably give it a better local patronage than anywhere else. Natchez is accessible from all points in this State, and also from Louisiana; besides being the terminus of the Little J. (which is now the property of the L., N. O. and T. road, and will speedily be made a standard gauge). We will soon have the Natchez and Ft. Scott road, which will bring us into close connection with the richest part of the great Mississippi Bottom across the river. Other roads are projected from different points. Already the Natchez and Red River road gives us access to that part of Louisiana known as the "Black river country," one of the most beautiful countries the eye of man ever beheld. Then the great Mississippi flows just under the Bluff, about 200 or more feet below the city. It is the greatest national highway in the world. On its waters float the palatial sidewheel steamers, and the elegant little sternwheelers, plying between this and other points on the river—from Cincinnati to New Orleans, and St. Louis to New Orleans, and Vicksburg to Natchez, making trips as regularly as clock-work. While not so numerous as formerly, still there are enough to insure safe, cheap and comfortable transportation at all times—some in and out every day, usually from two to five. So, as to accessibility, Natchez stands second to none.

As to beauty of scenery, Natchez has no superior. Even visitors from the North pronounce it one of the most beautiful cities in the United States. The city is lighted with electricity, and has just completed a system of waterworks.

Now, the objection that Natchez is not the center of the State I will show to be a positive advantage. The committee appointed, for various reasons, located all the State schools in the northern and eastern part of the State. The University at Oxford, A. and M. at Starkville, I. I. and C. at Columbus, with the excellent Normals at Lexington, Iuka, Buena Vista, Daleville and several other places, and the Baptist College at Clinton, give ample educational facilities to the northern and eastern portion. Besides this, each drawing its portion of the patronage must necessarily weaken the local attendance. No college being near here, will give it the strongest local help, an advantage possessed by no other place yet nominated.

The health record is second only to Hartford, Conn.

In view of all these things, I think Natchez ought to be visited and considered in the locations of the new college. W. E. BALLARD.

NATCHEZ, Mississippi.

Colportage in Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: Will you please allow me to say a few things with regard to the necessity of denominational colportage work in our State? I have been traveling a great deal in Western Louisiana as a colporteur of the American Bible Society, and I believe that I can offer a few suggestions which may, at least, serve to throw some light upon the importance of such work.

In the first place, we want some traveling colporteurs, whose duty is to go out upon the highways, amid the swamps, in the backwoods, and wherever a human habitation is found, and carry to those people our literature. There are multiplied thousands of Methodists in our land who do not take the ADVOCATE, or read one page of Methodist literature, from the simple fact that the claims of our church organ and our church literature have never been presented to them. Again, there are thousands of persons who have been led to embrace certain religious errors through the preaching and literature of other denominations, who, if supplied with proper books and tracts, would lay aside their erroneous opinions and receive the pure religion as found in our Methodism. I will refer to one instance which occurred a few days since, in Colfax, as illustrative of the above fact. A young man raised in a Methodist family came in possession of a tract written by W. B. Wood, on the mode and subject of baptism. This trashy little tract served to upset his mind, and gave him considerable anxiety. Bro. Bruce, the assistant preacher of Ada circuit, heard of his dilemma, and sent him the "Grub Ax" and the "Ecclesiastical Pump." He carefully read these little tracts, and now he is a confirmed believer in the practices and usages of Methodism. This man Wood is making an extensive canvass of Grant and Rapides parishes, and doing all within his power and influence to circulate his filthy production. Bro. Hoffpauir is, to a great extent, counteracting his work. What we want is colporteurs to occupy the field, go from house to house, and devote their time to the distribution of our literature. The circuit rider can not do this. His time will not allow. A colporteur for Louisiana, stationed on Camp street, New Orleans, advertising his books in the papers, will not, can not fill the bill. The people can get them just as well at the Publishing House in Nashville.

In the southern portion of Bro. McDonald's district is a field where such a work is badly needed. Will not some local preacher who reads these lines enter upon this good work voluntarily? Go, brother; God will bless you.

E. M. TABOR.

"The Good Fight."

America and part of Europe have been convulsed over a fight between two men, the brutal details of which is enough to make a pessimist of Daniel, if he were again on earth, though he was assured by God himself that he "should stand in his lot at the end of days," whatever fate awaited the balance of mankind. It makes the soul sick to contemplate the waste of time, talent and money, to say nothing of evil influences that will follow in the wake of this all-absorbing topic and its culmination.

It was a sad awakening to be told that among the "madding crowd" that went out to see, there were some members of the church of Christ. If so, how was Christ crucified afresh! Much is said and written of this enlightened age, but one can not help thinking that all the enlightenment had suddenly gone out, and the darkness of barbarism had come in, while this late excitement was at its zenith. This is a survival of the lowest, a revival of the basest; a spectacle to make an angel weep, if that were possible.

While dismissing from the mind this dark side of human depravity, it were well with us if we would seek profit by the thought of the good fight that we must each take part in if we expect to finish our course with joy. By the light of the law we see the evil. This is the foe that we must vanquish. The delight we take in the law of God makes the law of sin in the members all seem darker, and so the conflict goes on. Then what can we do but fight? But as the Lord God "divided the light from the darkness," so will he give us strength to fight the good fight, until the effulgent light shall dispel all the darkness. When grace is stronger than nature, the division is complete. Though sometimes we launch our bark in the morning with a determination to breast the billows, in spite of the storms or breakers ahead, we often find at night, when we would cast out the anchor of hope, that there are stains upon the bulwarks that show that we have "sailed through bloody seas."

When St. Paul was ready to be offered up, he told Timothy he had fought "the good fight," had kept the faith—the faith that he would wear the crown when the fight was finished. If we could become so holy that we could find no "sin in our members," to fight the wars would cease, and we could wear the crown here, and not care to go "up higher."

Some time ago Dr. West, our much appreciated presiding elder, delivered a lecture at our church, on "Man, the Struggler." By many interesting and exhaustive statements, facts and fine points, he held his audience spell-bound, and proved that if life was anything, it was a struggle from the cradle to the grave. He showed them, by citing facts that were conclusive, that even in amusements the most delight was felt in those that displayed strife and contest, by the majority of mankind. This, he said, was only human nature, and pointed out the different and varied tastes according to the intellectual attainments of different persons and peoples. He very happily illustrated his subject by relating the story of the terrific struggle between "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde," giving the pith of Robert L. Stevenson's book in a few graphic sentences that brought down the house. So we see that "Man, the Struggler," has not only to struggle and fight for an existence, and with his fellow-strugglers, but has also to struggle with himself, and often, in the bitterness of his anguish, wails out: "O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" If we are fighting in this "good fight," God shall deliver us, though we "die in the field of battle." John Bunyan's aphorism, "That which is last, lasts forever," comes to us with comforting comfort.

"When the last fight is over, how happy we will be, We'll cross over Jordan and sound the jubilee."

MRS. L. CRARY SADLER.

Letter from a Superannuate's Wife.

MR. EDITOR: I send you an article I cut out of the St. Louis Advocate, and ask you to be so kind as to publish the same in the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE. I am the wife of an old, superannuated preacher, and for three years retired we have received one hundred and eighty-two dollars. When my husband retired from the pastorate we had no money, neither fifty dollars' worth of property. My object in writing to you is to ask some questions through the ADVOCATE. First: how much more does it take to support a pastor than a superannuated preacher, other things being equal. For instance, our pastor lives in a parsonage, a better house than we could get for eight dollars a month. Then he gets marriage fees, and when he buys supplies for his family, or a suit of clothes for himself, he gets them at cost; reduced fare on the railroads, and many other things. At least, we did once, but not now. The second question is: I am told that all civilized governments and institutions retire their worn-out servants on full pay, except the Methodist Church. Is that so? We are not complaining. For thirty-five years we had a good life. While my husband was never a great preacher, he was a useful one, and we got good average appointments—circuits, stations and districts—and how I did enjoy going to the Conferences, camp and protracted meetings!

A SUPERANNUATE'S WIFE.

College Location.

MR. EDITOR: I see many persons are suggesting many places as locations for the proposed Methodist Mississippi College. How would Jackson, La., do? It already has a fine plant. A fine, healthy location; a community which, on a recent visit there, made me feel nearer heaven than any place I had ever been at. And it has a record and a history, far in advance of any point within the bounds of the two Mississippi Conferences, as an educational center. There are also associations surrounding it, which will rally to its support very many good men; and, by selecting this plan and establishing the college there, will very certainly secure an endowment, in amount sufficient to meet Major Millsaps' liberal proposition. Who is the next man that will join me on Jackson, La.? I do not make this suggestion in behalf of Centenary, but I think Centenary's record and momentum would give the new, proposed institution a magnificent start off, and the two Conferences will have done something which would very much resemble a grandly magnanimous act.

Yours kindly, PETER JAMES.

BILOXI, Mississippi.

Church Politics.

MR. EDITOR: I was surprised and shocked when reading a note in the last ADVOCATE, on electioneering in the church of God, and I have tried not to see what are the real facts disclosed. Yet they stand apparent—somebody must go, and somebody wants to go. Then why not your private correspondent, whose escharotic vigilance guards the "escutcheon," esprit de corps, of the church, and espies the infraction from afar? This smacks of intention! Whence this jealousy? I am of the opinion that your epenetic private correspondent should don the ephod. S. H. WHATLEY.

EOLA, La.

From the Work.

FAISONIA AND NEW SALEM, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MR. EDITOR: We are glad to report progress on this work. I secured the services of Rev. Joe Jones at one place, and doubled the membership of that congregation. His style is pointed, and sometimes pathetic. His wit was like the water that bubbles up in the spring—perfectly natural. Many prayers follow him from my church at Faisonia. The people all turned out en masse. And it was a success. May the Lord increase his tribe!

Twenty-six accessions to our church. We have had eighty-five accessions to this charge this year.

We were also fortunate in securing the services of Rev. R. H. B. Gladney, of the Indianola charge, at another meeting. His work was efficient. His preaching was clear and strong. We had about twenty-five accessions at Poplar Ridge during the meeting. All seemed to be greatly blessed. Every male member of that church holds family prayer, I believe.

This has been a red-letter year for Methodism in the Delta. We are reaping the fruits of the labors of our fathers. "The common people hear the gospel gladly."

This country is rapidly developing. The L., N. O. and T. R. R. is doing an enormous amount of transportation. Also the Georgia Pacific Railway is now completed to Greenville, Miss. And this fine country will be the dumping-ground of the world. The church is lifting the banner of the Lord Jesus, and "the Word of the Lord is having full course, and being glorified even as it is with you."

We hear the shout of victory all along the lines. The church is as loyal here as anywhere I have ever preached. The great need is a godly life: the spiritual enthronement of God in the hearts of all the people. The devil is very aggressive in this country. He finds plenty of agents to carry on his work. And men of means, as well as intellect, are actually doing his will. We must take this country for God.

Yours in the love of Christ.

O. L. SAVAGE, P. C.

THE WORK IN ASCENSION.

MR. EDITOR: Seeing so many calls for postal card reports, I send you this. You can do as you like; and I suppose it will find its way to the waste-basket as usual.

We preached sixteen sermons on New River in Ascension, and the same number at Big Swamp School-house, in same parish, ten miles away. Results: A Methodist Church at New River organized, with eighteen converted members, and more to follow; and ten to the Baptist Church. Another Methodist Church organized at Big Swamp School-house, with twenty-two members—all converted—and more to follow; and ten to the Baptist Church. To God be the praise!

Bro. McDonald, presiding elder, preached us two good sermons at the first place, and assisted Bro. Singletery to organize. Bro. Parker, from Baton Rouge, preached us two good sermons at Big Swamp School-house, and baptized, and organized the church there. Bro. Singletery, a local preacher living at Port Vincent, will supply these two babies with the bread and milk of eternal life.

By the way, these people put their faith and works together, and replenished the preacher's depleted pocket-book. This made us feel good. About thirty family altars erected, and some members who will pray in public.

N. B. NORWOOD.

CLINTON, Louisiana.

Sparks.

A man may be doing much who is successfully overcoming adverse influences.—Spurgeon.

The humblest occupation has in it materials of discipline for the highest heaven.—Robertson.

God is a shower to the heart burned up with grief; God is a sun to the face deinged with tears.—Joseph Rowe.

I would give nothing for that man's religion, whose very dog and cat are not the better for it.—Rowland Hill.

Nature has written a letter of credit upon some men's faces, which is honored almost wherever presented.—Thackeray.

Honor is like an island, rugged and without a landing-place; we can never more re-enter when we are once outside of it.—Boileau.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Hurlburt and Simpson's Lesson Commentary. Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON V.—August 4.

SAUL CHOSEN OF THE LORD.

I. Sam. ix, 15-27.

GOLDEN TEXT.—By me kings reign, and princes decree justice.—Prov. viii, 15.

TIME.—B. C. 1095.

PLACE.—Mizpeh, in the tribe of Benjamin.

15. Told Samuel in his ear—Literally, had uncovered the ear of Samuel. To open anyone's ear, equivalent to reveal something to him.

16. Out of the hand of the Philistines—This verse, as well as chapter vii, 13, shows that the Philistines continually harassed Israel by attempts to regain their lost dominion over them. I have looked upon my people—"I have looked upon the misery of my people." God's looking was not a quiet, inactive looking on, but an energetic look, which brought help in trouble.

17. And when Samuel saw Saul—This verse follows immediately on verse 14, verses 15 and 16 being parenthetic. The Lord said unto him—At the moment when Samuel saw Saul he received by divine revelation the inward assurance that this man was the king chosen by God. Shall reign over my people—Literally, shall restrain. The word "bind, restrain" characterizes his government as a sharp and strict one, as a coercere imperio.

18. In the gate—Rather, "in the midst of the gate," the same phrase as in verse 14. But if Saul and his servant were already in the midst of the city, one does not see how Samuel could meet them in the midst of the gate, which must mean the city gate. It seems very probable, then, that the reading of the Septuagint, in the midst of the city, is the true meaning. In Hebrew the words for "gate" and "city" are very similar. The seer's house—The house where he abides while in the city: the place he temporarily makes his home. See how mean a figure Samuel made, though so great a man: he took no state, had not any attendants, no ensigns of honor carried before him, nor any distinguishing habit, no, not when he went to church, but appeared in all respects so much a common person that Saul, though he was told he should meet him, never suspected that it was he, but as if he looked more like a porter than a prophet, asked him the way to the seer's house.

19. Go up before me—Letting a person go in front was a sign of great esteem. Unto the high place—The high place was in the highest part of the city. Like the "house of the god Berith," it was probably the citadel of Ramah. There was connected with the altar a room large enough for thirty persons to dine. Samuel was to offer the periodical public sacrifices at the public "high place" that day—probably the day of the new moon—and preside at the usual feast on the remains of the victims, in a circle of invited guests. Will tell thee all that is in thine heart does not mean "all that thou hast upon thy heart," that is, all that troubles thee, for Samuel relieved him of all anxiety about the asses at once by telling him that they were found; but simply the thoughts of thy heart generally. Samuel would make them known to him to prove to him that he was a prophet.

20. All the desire of Israel—Not all that Israel desires, but all that Israel possesses that is precious and worth desiring. The antithesis here is between the asses and every desirable thing.

21. Am not I a Benjamite—Notwithstanding the indefinite character of the words, they hold up such glorious things as in prospect for Saul that he replied in amazement.

22. Into the parlor—This is not a happy rendering. This word is the same which is constantly applied to chambers or cells attached to the temple, as, for example, I. Chron. ix, 26, and is here used by analogy for the hall or cell attached to the chapel, or the high place, in which the sacrificial feast was wont to be held.

23. The cook—The slaughterer. He who had the whole charge of the preparation, not only of the cooking, but also of the butchering. The portion which I gave thee—He presented him with the best dish, which, having had notice from heaven the day before of his coming, he had designed for him, and ordered the cook to reserve for him, when he gave orders for inviting the guests and making preparations for them.

24. The shoulder, and that which was upon it—Such of the fat upon the flesh as was not intended for the altar. Samuel orders the reserve piece of the meat, as the best, to be set before them. Kept for thee—Samuel mentions this to give Saul, his guest, to understand that he had foreseen his coming in a supernatural way.

25. Upon the top of the house—The flat roofs of the East were used as places of retirement for private conversation.

26. Called Saul to the top of the house—Not to the top, but "on the top." The bed on which Saul slept was on the top of the house. It was very common in the East to provide extra sleeping accommodation by placing a tent or awning on the house-top. Samuel awoke Saul at the spring of the day, as he slept on the house-top, by calling him, saying, "Up," etc.

27. Going down to the end of the city—As a mark of honor Samuel accompanies Saul. Bid the servant pass on—For he did not wish Saul's anointing to be yet made public. May show thee the word of God—Up to this time he had said nothing to him of his choice as king. The declaration, "I will show thee," is not to be understood as the actual fulfillment of that word, but as the introduction and announcement of its content. The whole ninth chapter sets forth the preparation of Saul for this communication and anointing, which were at first meant for him alone, and confirmed to him his call to be king of Israel.

MRS. CHRISTIAN ZELLE, Carondelet, Mo., is one of hundreds who have tried their family physicians in vain and were finally cured only by the use of La-cu-pi-a. La-cu-pi-a cured her of a forty-three-year Chronic Ulcer on the leg.

Missionary.

Texts and Themes for Missionary Sermons.

The following is old, but worth preservation:

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

Unbelief. There are so many heathen, and so much opposition to the gospel, the world can never be converted.

THE LORD. "The God of heaven shall set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed: but it shall break in pieces and consume all other kingdoms, and it shall stand forever." Read Dan. ii: 44, 45. Psalms ii: 8, and lxxii: 8. Isa. ii: 2, 4.

Unbelief. The heathen will be saved without the gospel.

St. Peter. "There is none other name [but Jesus] under heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved." Acts iv: 12.

St. John. "He that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." John iii: 36.

JESUS CHRIST. "He that believeth not shall be damned." Mark xvi: 16.

Unbelief. The gospel makes the heathen no better.

Facts. Eighteen hundred years ago, except the Jews, there were none but heathen; what nations are now better have been made so by the gospel.

GO, PREACH THE GOSPEL TO EVERY CREATURE.

Scruple. But all have not gifts to preach.

St. Paul. "Having then gifts, differing according to the grace that is given to us; whether MINISTRY, let us wait on our ministering—be that GIVETH, let him do it with simplicity. For as we have many members in one body, and all the members have not the same office; so we, being many, are one body in Christ." See Rom. xii: 14-18. I. Cor. xii: 14-22. Read I. Cor. ix: 7, 13. Rom. x: 15.

Trifth. God hath made all nations of one blood. Every man is one member of a body of 1,500,000,000, 800,000,000 of whom are perishing, through ignorance of the gospel and the way of life.

Inquirer. As one member of this family, what ought I to do?

JESUS CHRIST. Have the same care for your fellow-men, as the members of the body for every part. Place yourself in their condition, then in yours. "Whatsoever ye would that they should do to you, do you even so to them."

Perplexing. I have a family and friends to provide for—so many calls, I can not attend to the wants of the heathen.

Benevolence. Yourself in their condition, would you have them thus treat you? Render to all their dues. Provide for every part.

False Philosophy. By giving much to send the gospel abroad, I shall rob myself and children, and come to want.

THE LORD. "There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth: and there is that withholdeth more than his meet, but it tendeth to poverty."

"The liberal soul shall be made fat, and he that watered shall be watered also himself." Prov. xi: 24, 25.

Selfishness. But I ought to lay up something beforehand, for myself first.

JESUS CHRIST. "He that trusteth in his riches shall fall." Prov. xi: 28. "Seek first [to promote] the kingdom of God, and his righteousness." Matt. vi: 33. "Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth."

Worldly Prudence. But if I lay not up something against time of need, who will take care of me, when old and infirm?

JESUS CHRIST. "Take no thought for your life," etc.—"Shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?" "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Read Matt. vi: 19-34.

Miser. Then you forbid me to provide for my family? "He that provideth not for his own is worse than an infidel."

Experience. Is the best way "to provide" for your own, to "rob" God and your fellow-men? Read Mal. iii: 8-10. The very way "to provide" a curse. "There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches." Prov. xiii: 7. See also II. Cor. viii: 9.

Avarice. I am not able to do much. If I had as much as some men I shouldn't value giving.

St. Paul. "If there be first a willing mind it is accepted according to that a man hath." 2 Cor. viii: 12.

Ignorance. I would give, but I know not what becomes of my money.

Public prints. Read and understand.

Pride. I am ashamed to give so little as I feel able. I must do more, or it won't be thought anything.

THE LORD. "The pride of thy heart hath deceived thee." Obad. iii. See the widow's two mites. Luke xxi: 1-4.

Self-Indulgence. But why banter and urge a man so? What the "great hurry" of sending the gospel to the heathen.

Mercy. Heathen die as fast as Christians; 15,000,000 sink into the grave every year, and go, without the gospel, to the judgement unprepared.

Zeal. "What thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." Ecc. ix: 10.

GO YE INTO ALL THE WORLD AND PREACH THE GOSPEL.

—Missionary Review.

Temperance.

A Bill of Indictments against King Alcohol.

1. King Alcohol is not a native born; is not an adopted citizen; is not a creature of God; has no right to live.

2. He has under his employment 545,624 men engaged in the manufacture and sale of liquid fire.

3. He destroys more than 40,000,000 bushels of grain annually. This would make 600,000,000 four-pound loaves of bread. This would pave a street thirty feet wide from Boston to Chicago. It would take one man with a wagon holding five hundred loaves, working ten hours per day, one hundred and sixty-four years to haul these a distance of six squares. This includes only the official returns of the traffic.

4. He involves the United States in an annual outlay of not less than $1,500,000,000. This is thirteen times more than the cost of all ministers, all the churches, and all the public schools of the whole country. About forty-three dollars to each man, woman and child of the nation yearly.

5. He has under his training not less than 6,000,000 of our fellow-citizens continually. Not less than 600,000 of these are drunkards, and getting ready for the grave.

6. He is guilty of robbery in many ways, and under various circumstances. He robs men of they money, their character, their senses, their health and their souls. He robs women of their husband's love, of the means of even an ordinary living, the children of clothing and bread.

7. He is guilty of murder in the first degree. He has been killing for many, many years, at least, 70,000 of our citizens annually.

8. He sends more than 100,000 children to almshouses each revolving year, to be a public charge to the nation of $10,000,000, of which our own beloved Pennsylvania pays $1,000,000.

9. He causes more than 80 per cent of all the crime committed in the entire country.

10. He has invaded the kingdom of God, carrying disgrace and death into the holy sanctuary of the Most High, cutting down both in the pulpit and pew.

11. He has corrupted the politics of the country so completely, that he controls largely the destinies of the masses and holds a rod of iron over the old political parties, so that both of them agree to legalize his work, if he will help them in their elections.

12. For more than a hundred years efforts have been made to restrict and regulate his conduct, but the record of facts shows that his path has been strewn with darkness and death every hour and every moment. Every eight minutes he sends a victim into eternity. He is worse than a viper, more difficult to regulate than a cyclone or Asiatic cholera.—Union Signal.

NOTES.

The criminal statistics of prohibition Iowa for 1887 report just one vagrant.

It is rumored that the saloon keepers of Finley, Ohio, where the Sunday closing law is well enforced, have formed a secret league to have all common labor prohibited on the Sabbath.

A prominent physician states that out of 623 moderate and immoderate drinkers with whom he has conversed, 161 acquired the desire for wine and other alcoholic poisons by their use in articles of diet.

Absolute prohibition still prevails in Oklahoma. The beneficence of the law is unquestioned. A man at Guthrie voiced the general sentiment when he said: "Prohibition is our salvation; without it there would be a murder every day."

In a time of profound peace, we are sacrificing every eighteen months through the liquor traffic the cost of the Civil War, $2,800,000,000, and for what? To reduce freemen to a worse slavery than that from which the negro was delivered.—The Issue.

A New Departure

from ordinary business methods is made by the manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in guaranteeing this world-famed remedy to cure all diseases arising from derangements of the liver or stomach, and indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness or "liver complaint," or from impure blood, as boils, blotches, pimples, eruptions, scalp disease, salt-rheum, scrofulous sores and swellings and kindred ailments. Money paid for "Discovery" promptly returned if, on fair trial, it don't cure.

Don't hawk, hawk, blow, spit, and disgust everybody with your offensive breath, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and end it.

The Province of Quebec, Canada, has just gained another victory for prohibition, Drummond county having sustained the Scott act. This is the second time Quebec has rolled back the tide of repeal this year. In both victorious counties, Richmond and Drummond, the W. C. T. U. did splendid service.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the fact that Merit Wins. It is the best blood purifier and actually accomplishes all that is claimed for it. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

M. L. COSTLEY. J. F. RANDOLPH.

COSTLEY & RANDOLPH, BUILDERS,

OFFICE: 62 Carondelet St. HOURS: 12 to 1 P. M.

287 EIGHTH ST., Between St. Charles and Prytania Streets, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Both building and repairing promptly attended to.

BROWNE & JENKINS, DESIGNERS AND DECORATORS IN WALL PAPER

174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Write for prices. Samples sent to country free. Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

If You Have no appetite, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sick Headache, "all run down," or losing flesh, you will find Tutt's Pills the remedy you need. They tone up the weak stomach, build up the flagging energies as no other medicine will, and

CURE CONSTIPATION.

To enjoy health one should have regular evacuations every twenty four hours. The evils, mental and physical, resulting from

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION

are many and serious. For the cure of this common trouble, Tutt's Liver Pills have gained a popularity unparalleled.

A TORPID LIVER

deranges the whole system and produces

Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.

There is no better remedy for these frequent diseases than Tutt's Pills, as a trial will prove. They should be found in every household. They are perfectly harmless, reliable, and can be taken without restraint of diet or occupation. Plain or sugar-coated. Sold everywhere. Price, 25c.

Office, 44 Murray Street, N. Y.

PIANOS L&B S.M.H. 5TH ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE JUNE 1 TO AUG. 1889 ORGANS

$25,000 Worth of Pianos and Organs Must be Closed Out by August 1.

New, Nearly New, and Prime Second-hand TAKEN IN EXCHANGE and made new in our repair factory.

MUST SELL! Can't hold them. No room. Cash Prices! Easy Terms! Write for Bargain Sheet.

LUDDEN & BATES SAVANNAH, GA.

CLARK & MEADER, —DEALERS IN— FINE GROCERIES,

16 and 18 CARONDELET ST., and Cor. ST. CHARLES and NAPOLEON Avenues, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Catalogues sent on application, showing a most complete assortment of Fancy and Staple Groceries. In asking for quotations, please state about the quality desired of each item, as a guide. Our prices will be found reasonable for the quality of goods furnished.

Card or Letter Answered Promptly.

CARPETS CLEANED OF ALL IMPURITITIES.

Have your work done in any kind of weather or any time of the year.

Over four thousand carpets and two thousand pounds of feathers, cleaned in our city, are standing testimonials as to the thorough and satisfactory way work has been done.

All work is guaranteed.

Star Carpet Cleaning and Renovating Works, 44 ST. PETER ST.

W. L. JARVIS.

Mention this paper.

WALL PAPER

In all grades. FINE DECORATIONS a specialty. WINDOW SHADES AND CORNICES, WIRE SCREENS AND WEATHER STRIPS. UPHOLSTERER'S GOODS.

Framing Neatly Done.

PICTURE AND ROOM MOULDINGS, RUGS, MATS AND MATTINGS

EDWARD HEATH, Telephone 674. No. 116 CAMP ST. NEW ORLEANS.

Frank Walker & Co., WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS,

Boilers, Engines, Cotton Gins and Presses, 117 Tchoupitoulas St., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Mrs. T. J. BROWN, DEALER IN WALL PAPERS,

Window Shades, Hollands, Cornices, Cornice Poles, Room Mouldings, Etc.

263 - CAMP STREET - 263

Bet. Delord and Poeylarre, NEW ORLEANS.

Samples mailed on application. Particular attention given to Paper Hanging in all Its Branches.

W. W. HAWKINS, Manager.

Mention this Paper.

A. Brousseau's Son, 23 and 25 CHARTRES ST.,

CHINA MATTING, CARPETS, INGRAINS, LACE CURTAINS, WINDOW SHADES, UPHOLSTERY GOODS.

T. W. BOTHICK, UNDERTAKER.

METALLIC CASES and CASKETS of the Best Manufacture, Ornamental Cases and Caskets of every variety and design constantly on hand.

Carriages and Tally-ho's for weddings and all occasions.

271 CAMP STREET, bet. Calliope and Delord, NEW ORLEANS.

Funeral attended to in person by the proprietor, and he hopes, by strict attention, to obtain a share of public patronage.

AGENTS WANTED! LADIES OR GENTLEMEN, TO INTRODUCE "Christian Womanhood," "Life and Times of Bishop Pierce," and other good books. Apply at once to F. D. VANVALKENBURGH, 106 Camp St., New Orleans.

FROM New Orleans to Cincinnati. 94 MILES THE SHORTEST. TIME, 27 HOURS.

Entire Trains through without changes, Rounding the base of Lookout Mountain, and over the famous High Bridge of Kentucky, and into the Central Union Depot where connection is made for the

NORTH and EAST, NEW ENGLAND CITIES AND CANADA,

Without Transfer through the City.

Luxurious Main Bonbnir Buffet Sleeping Cars on all Through Trains.

MERIDIAN, BIRMINGHAM, CHATTANOOGA, LEXINGTON, LOUISVILLE, CINCINNATI.

Tickets on sale at all principal offices South and West. In New Orleans at Queen and Crescent Depot, Press street and Levee, and No. 34 St. Charles street.

R. H. GARRATT, Div. Pass. Agt., New Orleans

A. C. GAULT, General Manager.

D. G. EDWARDS, Gen. Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. "GREAT JACKSON ROUTE."

THE ONLY LINE —RUNNING— PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPERS And Through Cars for All Classes to CHICAGO,

Connecting with all Buffet and Dining Car Lines East, and the ONLY LINE Running Through Cars for All Classes

To St. Louis Without Change.

THE ONLY LINE —RUNNING— A Double Daily Train Service to St. Louis, with Through Sleepers to Memphis, Without Change.

The Shortest and Best Line FROM NEW ORLEANS TO VICKSBURG.

Through Pullman Palace Sleeping and Chair Cars leaving New Orleans every evening at 6 P. M., running through to Jackson, Miss.

The Shortest and Most Direct Route to MEMPHIS.

THE ONLY LINE —RUNNING— Pullman Sleeping Cars THROUGH WITHOUT CHANGE To SPRINGFIELD, MO., FORT SCOTT and KANSAS CITY,

Where Close Connections Are Made in Union Depot for OMAHA, DENVER, and All Points WEST.

ONLY ONE CHANGE OF CARS FROM NEW ORLEANS TO Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York.

TICKET OFFICE: Cor. Canal and Carondelet Sts.

J. W. COLEMAN, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., N. O.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.

—THE— Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

SHORT LINE —BETWEEN— NEW ORLEANS, TEXARKANA, SHREVEPORT, AND POINTS IN Texas, Colorado, Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Pullman Palace Buffet Cars, ST. LOUIS to EL PASO, and NEW ORLEANS to FORT WORTH, without change.

For tickets, rates, or any information apply to any ticket agent, or address

B. W. McCULLOCH, G. P. and T. A., Dallas, Texas

JOHN A. GRANT, Gen'l Man'r.

T. J. McMAHON & SONS, FUNERAL : DIRECTORS. CARRIAGES TO HIRE.

Funeral Parlor at Establishment.

243 MAGAZINE ST., Cor. Delord, and 380 MAGAZINE, Bet. Thalia & Melpomene Sts.

Telephone No. 158. New Orleans, La.

CARRIAGES, Buggies, Phaetons, Surreys, Carts, HARNESS, Baby Carriages, R. P. RANDALL, 54 and 56 Baronne Street, New Orleans.

Do the ADVOCATE a service, and mention it when you reply to advertisements.

RAILROAD SCHEDULES.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ORLEANS & TEXAS (Mississippi Valley Railroad.)

Arrive.	Leave.
No. 1.....9:00 am	No. 2.....4:00 pm
No. 3.....5:13 pm	No. 4.....8:05 am
No. 5.....10:10 am	No. 6.....4:10 pm

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE.

No. 3 Lim. Ex. 7:55 am	No. 4 Fast Ex...7:00 am
No. 1 Fast Ex...7:20 pm	No. 5 Coast....8:40 pm
No. 5 Coast....9:05 am	No. 2 Lim. Ex..3:30 pm

ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

No. 1 Passen'r. 11:00 pm	No. 2 Passen'r. 9:15 am
No. 3 Chic. and N. O. Lim....7:30 am	No. 4 St. Louis and Chic. Ex. 5:30 pm

TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

No. 52 California Express. 7:00 pm	No. 51 California Express. 8:00 am
B. Rouge, local 10:45 am	B. Rouge, local 4:30 pm

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.—MORGAN LINE.

No. 19 Califor. 3:25 pm	No. 18 Local....7:20 pm
No. 17 Local....6:55 am	No. 20 Califor..11:00 am

QUEEN AND CRESCENT ROUTE. (New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad.)

No. 1, Lim'd..11:00 am	No. 2, Lim'd.....3:35 pm
No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line..7:15 am

MOBILE AND OHIO. (Via Meridian.)

No. 5, Fast Line. 6:30 am	No. 6, Fast Line..3:35 pm

P. AND E. EAST L4. (Abita Springs.) Daily Except Sundays.

Arrive.....8:30 am | Leave.....4:00 pm

Sunday Schedule.

Arrive.....7:25 pm | Leave.....7:30 am

SCHMIDT & ZIEGLER, WHOLESALE GROCERS,

Nos. 49, 51, 53 and 55 SOUTH PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO., Wholesale : Grocers,

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 PETERS STREET. (Formerly New Levee.) NEW ORLEANS.

Coffee, Sugar, Molasses and Rice—Our Specialties

W. C. SHEPARD, 94 CAMP STREET.

BEAUTIFUL China Dinner and Tea Sets.

BEAUTIFUL Semi-China Dinner and Tea Sets.

BEAUTIFUL CHAMBER SETS. PLATED WARE, all kinds. WOOD WARE, all kinds. TIN WARE, all kinds. GLASS WARE, all kinds.

House Furnishing Store, Cheap as the Cheapest

ALL THE NOVELTIES OF THE DAY.

Wringers and Curtain Stretchers.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas.

J. C. MORRIS CO., (LIMITED) 40, 42 and 44 Tchoupitoulas Street,

—Manufacturers and Dealers in— WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, PAPER, ROPE, Twine, Brooms, Ammunition, Axle Grease, Baseball Goods, Blacking, Blue, Cages, Cheese Safes, Clocks, Lamps, Cooks, Demijohns, Bottles, Flasks, Perfumery, Fishing Tackle, Hardware, Lanterns and Globes, Stationery, Oyster Tongs, Tinware, Table Glassware, Well Buckets, Whips, etc.

Catalogues furnished on application.

We herewith present you the valuable notice that we sell the so highly celebrated Eldredge and Diamond Machines extremely cheap at retail in unoccupied territory. Sent on trial if desired. Special inducements and protection to good dealers. Liberal discount to ministers. Singer Machines cheap. Circulars and information free. J. C. GEITZ, Gen. West. Agt., 1317 and 1319 North Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

Mention this paper.

Marshall J. Smith & Co., General Insurance Agents —FOR— FIRE, RIVER, MARINE, ACCIDENT and BONDING COMPANIES.

Representing the OLDEST and LARGEST Fire Companies both in England and America.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Business Entrusted to Us.

64 BARONNE ST., N. O.

Liverpool and London and Globe INSURANCE COMPANY.

Largest Fire Office in the World.

Losses paid by Chicago Fire, 1871, $3,239,091. Losses Paid by Boston Fire, 1872, $1,429,729.

All Losses Paid in Cash without Discount as Soon as Adjusted.

Losses and all matters of business settled by officers and directors in New Orleans without reference to any other office, the same as with local companies.

Directors in New Orleans—NEWTON BUCKNER, Chairman; RODOLPH WOERTZ, JOHN W. LASOUISSE, A. DELVAILLE.

CLARENCE F. LOW, Ass't Res't Sec. HENRY V. OGDEN, Resident Secretary.

DRAINING MACHINES, IRRIGATION PUMPS, DREDGES.

Send for Circular, or call at Factory. JOS. MENGE, 105 Tchoupitoulas

Christian Advocate.

ORGAN OF THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.

CORRESPONDING EDITORS:
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.
REV. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, D. D.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1889.

Briefs.

Charles W. Sanders, who began the publication of spellers, definers and readers for the school-children a half a century ago, died recently in New York City. It is said that thirteen millions of his readers were sold between 1838 and 1860, and that his publishers paid him about $30,000 a year. He was 84 years old.

This, from an excellent article in the Richmond Christian Advocate, we ask all our preachers to read carefully:

Let our preachers, especially in town (but not these exclusively by any means), give us some broad, deep doctrinal preaching occasionally. Not the sectarian talk which is usually called "doctrinal preaching." Not discussions of baptism, ordination, predestination, etc; but subjects, plentiful in the New Testament, which involve the fundamentals of Christianity—such as Inspiration, Atonement, Divinity of Christ, Regeneration and Justification, Eternal Judgment, Immortality, and the like. Select some of these special lines, as deemed most desirable, and do not give too much of it. But if well done, it will be like a Livingston plough in a field of ox-eye daisies: it will turn the roots of error up to the sunlight and bury their green leaves and fine flowers.

A writer in the Wesleyan expresses himself thus in reference to electing delegates to the General Conference:

The question is not, "Who would like to go?" nor, "Who would not blushingly decline!" nor, "Who would fill the places with equal dignity?" nor, "Who is the equal of whom in piety and legislative ability?" but, Who are the men? Who will represent us best, and who will legislate for the whole church best? These are the questions that should be asked by every voter, and answered on his conscience. If the true answer to these questions sends again those who have gone for years, let them go. If it would send only a number of them, and some new one or ones, let it be so. If this would leave the old ones all out, and elect a new delegation entire, let it be done. No one should be left out because he has gone for twenty, thirty, or even fifty years. No one should go just because he has never gone.

Mr. Peter James proposes to give $25,000 to Centenary College, provided other friends will raise a like amount. Louisiana must not be outdone in this matter by Mississippi. Our rich men are beginning to turn their eyes and purses toward our colleges, and a good turn it is.—Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Louisiana don't intend to be outdone by Mississippi, nor Georgia either. Mr. James is a Mississippian, and an alumnus of Centenary College. He came out of the war without a dollar. He has been an industrious and thoughtful and prudent manager of his resources, and withal a consistent and continuous and liberal giver to the cause of Christ. He loves the cause of Christian education, and has shown that love by his gifts to individuals to help them to obtain it, and now comes forward with the gift of $25,000 to Centenary College, believing that his money will do more good there than anywhere else. That gift is, in some sense, the expression of his faith in the future of the institution! The friends of the college are now invited to accept the gift by placing a like amount alongside of it; which we think will be done.

At the last report there were 326,835 pensioners from the Civil War!

The Week of Prayer.

The Mission Board, at its last annual meeting, adopted a resolution calling on the church to "observe a Week of Prayer, especially for missions, beginning on the first Sunday in August, and that the preachers be requested to preach a sermon on the subject of missions; also that a special family offering be requested from each family in the church." The Bishops were requested to "appoint a committee, to consist of three of their number, to prepare a programme for the Week of Prayer."

Next Sunday the Week of Prayer, designated by the Board of Missions in the above resolution, begins. The programme prepared by the Bishops is as follows:

Sunday, August 4.—Sermons on the Relation of the Holy Spirit to Foreign Missions. (Acts xiii, 1-3.)

August 5.—Prayer and offerings for China, our oldest, most difficult and most important mission field.

August 6.—Prayer and offerings for Japan, our newest and most open field among the heathen.

August 7.—Prayer and offerings for Brazil, where, among other consecrated laborers, the daughters of two of our Bishops are laboring to bring the other half of the American continent to a knowledge of Christ.

August 8.—Prayer and offerings for Mexico, where, at our very door, are ten million souls without the pure gospel.

August 9.—Prayer and offerings to extend the work in the Indian Mission Conference, both among the half-civilized and the wild tribes of Indians, who look to our church so largely for the preaching of the gospel.

August 10.—Prayer and offerings for our Mexican Border, Cuban, and Western work, with the large unevangelized population in those fields.

August 11.—Sermons on Christ in the Home; or, Our Obligations as Families to the Gospel. (Joshua xxiv, 15; or, Acts xvi, 14, 15.)

The offerings may be made at each service, or be set aside daily, and presented at the service on Sunday, the eleventh—"an offering from each family."

If our preachers will follow this programme, and give our people all the information they can on mission work generally, and our special work in the countries named in the programme, there will be given a larger impulse in the direction of missions than we have ever had. It is to be a week of prayer for missions. Bishop Keener said, in the Board of Missions, that a week of prayer was needed to give our church a missionary conscience. Ah! when the heathen, by their cries for help, begin to clamber up on our consciences, and weight us down to the very borders of the pit, we shall feel something of the burden that pressed upon our Lord when in his prayer he said: "And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in me and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." A week of prayer! If it is properly kept, what may we not expect? We may expect a degree of consecration in the church before unknown. We may expect an uprising in favor of mission work that will astonish the most credulous. We may expect offerings for God which will overflow the treasury of the church. We may expect a new start toward the evangelizatton of the world. We may expect the glory of God to fill the sanctuaries, and his love to flame anew in the souls of his children. Let us all do our most earnest praying and our most cheerful giving, and thus prove ourselves obedient sons and daughters of a good heavenly Father.

Don't forget the "family offering" spoken of in the resolution of the Board. Let every family in the church "offer" something on this occasion.

Social Church Duties.

There is too much, of what may be called, individualism in our modern church-life. Seemingly few people are aware of the fact that "joining the church" turns the current of life into an entirely new channel. The man who joins the church changes all his relations. He comes into new relations with the church and with the world. His attitude towards both is completely changed. We might, indeed, say that he has reversed his position in regard to each. His new relations necessarily impose new obligations, and the new obligations show themselves in a new set of duties. Having connected himself with the church, he is necessarily connected with every member, and has a duty to perform to every member; hence arises social church duties which no one can ignore without loss. "No man liveth to himself." It is an imperative duty to cultivate these social relations, for out of this cultivation are to come the fruits of progress. The time has gone by, if there ever was such a time, when people might shut themselves up in their homes or in cloisters and live Christian lives. Such a sentimental religion as that does not suit this age of work. Christ says to every one of us: "Go work today in my vineyard;" and there is work all around us to be done; and will an earnest Christian shut himself up in his individualism and ignore the social relations which bind him to every member of the church, and turn a deaf ear to the calls for help that sound on every side?

"The church is an association formed for a certain purpose, and having within itself the means by use of which that purpose may be effected." All church work, then, is associated work, and the progress of all associated work depends upon the sympathy for one another which the workers cherish and exercise. The prosperity of any enterprise hinges upon the sympathy which each one engaged in it has for every other one engaged in it. In sympathy there is union—union of will, union of purpose, union of power; and in union there is strength. The old story of the father teaching his sons, by the illustration of a bundle of sticks, the weakness of division and the strength of union, was simply a lesson to cultivate sympathy for one another. Unsympathetic people are weak people! Unsympathetic churches are weak churches! Sympathy is not only the bond which binds Christians together, but its manifestation is the clear evidence to the world that they are the disciples of Christ. "By this," said the Savior to his disciples, "shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye love one another."

Every thoughtful pastor, every thoughtful worker in the Lord's vineyard, sees that it is the lack of sympathy between the workers that is one of the greatest hindrances to the progress of the Lord's cause. Throughout the church there is realized the need of developing social power, and putting that power to work to promote the cause of Christ. It is well to exercise ourselves in prayer and praise and meditation on the being and perfections of God, but it is also well to remember that "these are no more the whole of religion than the roots of a tree are the whole tree." The two great commandments can never be separated. "If a man love not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" Prayer and praise and meditation that do not result in love and sympathy for others are transformed into the positive evidences of a want of love to God. One writer says: "God and his children are so intimately related that our relation to the one determines our relation to the other, and what we do to the one determines our conduct to the other." We show our love to God, then, when we show a genuine love for one another; and when we work to help others, we are working for God. "Inasmuch as ye did it to the least of these, ye did it unto me," are the words of Jesus. So the member who ignores the social church relations, and fails in the duties arising from them, wrongs others as well as himself, and exhibits a religion essentially defective at a vital point. After all that has been said and written, the truth is: "Whatever the believer may be in the next world, there is nothing plainer in the Word of God than that his religion in this life is to attest itself mainly in his relations with his fellow-men." Hence the importance of cultivating the social church relations and meeting the duties growing out of them. There is too little sociability among members of the same church. They don't know each other; they can't understand each other, and it becomes impossible for them to work in harmony. This may, in part, be the result of the hurry of business life, but the church has made some provision for her members to cultivate sociability, in that she has organized what are distinctly known as her social meetings. In these meetings we find the antidote to individualism; and if we use them well and wisely, many of the hindrances to church work will be taken away.

Woman's Work.

MR. EDITOR: I attended the Woman's Missionary Convention, at Delhi, La., from July 5 to 8, inclusive. There was an improved attendance on any previous meeting. Mrs. E. J. Fullilove, president; Mrs. C. J. Foster, corresponding secretary, and Miss Lizzie Paxon, recording secretary, were in their places. The business of the convention was conducted, from the beginning to the end, with ease and grace; and all in the interest of the mission work. It was done mainly by means of committees. The first day, after the usual preliminaries of opening and organizing, committees were appointed on the different interests of the work. At night there was an address of welcome by Miss Thompson, and an appropriate response by—I do not remember who. The second day was taken up in hearing reports from the various committees, and in soliciting information as to the condition of the work throughout the State. The subject was pretty thoroughly sifted as to the ways and means of working, and as to the result of the year's labor. Saturday night the president and corresponding secretary made their annual addresses. I was not present to hear them, but heard of them from competent judges as being an inspiration to the subject of missions, and worthy of these gifted women who delivered them. Sabbath morning Rev. J. D. Harper preached a sermon adapted to the occasion, which was well received. Sabbath evening an enthusiastic meeting was held for the children, which resulted in the organizing a juvenile society of twenty-three members. Sabbath night a memorial service was held in memory of Miss Chrisman. It was an occasion of inspiration for the cause, and a collection of twenty-five dollars was taken up for the benefit of Miss Sallie Phillips, their outgoing missionary, who has been accepted by the Board and sent to Brazil. Monday other reports were made and discussed, and appropriate resolutions were adopted. Then the election for officers was held, which resulted in the re-election of the old Board, perhaps with one exception. The long-meter Doxology—"Praise God, from whom all blessings flow"—was sung with animation, and the benediction was pronounced by the writer. Then, as in an Annual Conference, there was a hearty handshaking, with a "Good-by" which was meant and felt, with the addition of a general kissing.

There was this marked difference in the working of the woman's convention and that of men. Here there was no ambition for position, and no heated discussions upon matters of little importance; but all was done in profound harmony, each esteeming others more worthy than themselves. In the election of officers, though by ballot (with two exceptions), every vote was cast for the same person. It was apparent that their one object was to advance the interest of the church and to promote the cause of Christ. Baton Rouge was chosen as the place of holding their next annual convention, which will include the second Sabbath in July, 1890. Bro. Armstrong, the preacher in charge, was pronounced in his convictions that the meeting of the woman's convention in Delhi was a benediction to his church and people.

J. P.

JULY, 1889.

P. S.—The president, with some of the officers of the convention, stopped by the way at Monroe, Ruston and Arcadia, and held extra meetings in order to encourage these auxiliaries and to confirm them in their work.

J. P.

Corinth District, North Mississippi Conference.

The Corinth District Conference was held at Booneville, Miss., July 12-14. Rev. J. B. Stone, P. E., opened the Conference, Friday morning, with religious service. Every pastor and many local preachers and laymen were present. Committees were appointed, and some of the charges reported in the first session. Rev. S. C. Stone, of the Little Rock Conference, preached at eleven o'clock, and the first service closed with a shout and general handshaking. Bishop Galloway was present at the opening of the afternoon session and until the end.

The work of the district shows to be hopeful. Finances fully up to any previous year. Spiritual state better than it has ever been. Our preachers preach to large congregations. The Sunday-schools are large. Church papers are poorly circulated in country charges, but there is improvement. There are many signs of growth. Our preachers are reaching out and preaching many times outside their regular work, in order to cover all the ground in the district. A number of the charges reported revivals and conversions. T. L. Foster, J. H. Mitchell and J. W. Bell, of the district, preached. Bishop Galloway preached Sunday morning and night to crowded houses. He spoke Saturday night on the educational interests of our church, and raised $1,373 30 for the endowment of a Mississippi Male College, to be under the auspices of our church. A layman said next day that no one but Bishop Galloway could have raised $500.

The Conference was a great religious feast. The hospitality of Booneville abounded.

W. G. C. Gresham, L. W. Worsham, J. Y. Murray and J. B. Saunders were elected delegates to the Annual Conference; W. A. Robinson and T. J. Kinningham, alternates. The next session will be held at Ripley.

Rev. G. W. Bachman, Conference colporteur and Sunday-school agent, was in attendance.

JNO. W. BELL, Sec.

IUKA, Mississippi.

Notes.

It is all talk about getting ahead of a Connecticut Yankee. The thing can't be done. Witness the following: Mr. Whittier is said to have lent a work of Plato to a Connecticut farmer, who returned it, saying: "I like him first-rate. I see he's got hold of some of my ideas."

During our visit to the Columbus District Conference we heard many expressions from preachers and Sunday-school teachers and laymen and lay-women to induce us to believe that our paper is steadily growing in favor. "We thank God and take courage."

The Texas Advocate has this:

Some of the Vanderbilt alumni, who live in Nashville, are amusing sensible people by criticising the management of the university. They ought to take a course in the university of common sense; as the scarcity of that article is very manifest from the course they are pursuing.

We know a man who persists in saying that common sense is the most uncommon sort of sense; still we think a little of this uncommon common sense is a good prescription for the above case.

The Southern Churchman says:

We see in the secular papers that the Louisiana Lottery Company offers to assume the State debt of $12,000,000 for the extension of their charter fifty years. One may imagine the amount of money this company amasses year by year to be able to make such a proposition. Surely Louisiana will not permit this demoralizing business to proceed, depraving not only its own citizens, but those in all the States who deal with it.

What help are "those in all the States" going to give us in this fight against the continuance of the lottery?

Writing paper is cheap, ink is cheap, pens are cheap. We beseech our correspondents not to write on narrow-lined paper with a blunt blue pencil. Don't attempt to squeeze in a forgotten sentence between crowded lines. Don't spit on your finger and rub out a word and write another on the damp spot. Give us clear, clean, broad manuscript in black ink. We have to throw away communications in justice to the printer. N. B.—Don't insert a business item in the midst of an article for the paper. "Do people do such things?" "Yes, every week."

We might have said that, but we didn't. The Richmond Advocate said it last week, and we agree to it.

Don't forget to make preparations for the week of prayer and self-denial, so that when it comes everybody will be ready for it. It begins August 4, and we have just time enough to make proper preparations. Let every preacher endeavor to have some sort of service at every appointment on his work. If local preachers can not be procured for places where the pastor can not be present, engage laymen to hold services. Exhort the people everywhere to self-denial to help forward the Lord's cause. Let there be a united effort to do more than has ever been done in the way of praying and giving for missions.

Remember that the collections taken in the Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences last year for education paid the tuition of twenty-six young preachers and preachers' sons at Centenary College last session. If that is not a good collection, what is? That money has been invested where the church and society will feel its influence for years to come! We know one man, who, besides keeping his own sons at school, paid the board and tuition of several others at Centenary. That man knows the value of money, and the value of an educated boy, and the inestimable value of putting money in a boy's mind in the shape of education. "Go thou, and do likewise."

The Pittsburg Christian Advocate has this about Bro. Carradine's Lottery sermon:

The NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE is publishing a series of strong articles condemnatory of the Louisiana State Lottery. We can not but indorse any movement which will tend to discredit this giant swindling concern. Within the past week one of the most trusted young men in this city, one of heretofore unblemished reputation, was found to be a heavy defaulter. When investigated he confessed that he had been playing in the Louisiana Lottery for two years or more. As a State, Pennsylvania, which so stultified itself at the late election, can not give much advice to Louisiana, but the good people of each can say God-speed to the good people of the other in their fight with evil.

We heartily adopt the following from the Richmond Christian Advocate:

Do you wish to quicken the interest of your people in all church work? Then circulate the Advocate.

Would you have large and attentive congregations? Then circulate the Advocate.

Do you desire your salary to be paid promptly and in full? Then circulate the Advocate.

Are you anxious to raise the entire assessment on your charge for all the benevolences of the church? Then circulate the Advocate.

Would you have a congregation of intelligent and working Methodists? Then circulate the Advocate.

Do you wish to see souls converted and large accessions to your church membership? Then circulate the Advocate.

Are you anxious to preserve a clear consolence with regard to the fulfillment of acknowledged obligation? Then circulate the Advocate.

Personal and Otherwise.

That was a sensible woman who, ting the invention of a ballot-box st can not be stuffed, exclaimed: Now, if some one will invent a voter at can not be stuffed with beer, brag, bribery, we shall have made a long ide toward better goverument!"

Gen. Fisk received more than twice many votes as John Quincy Adams d when he was elected president in 24, and yet the General lacked a ood deal of election. We are a wonerfully growing people.

Of this year's graduating class at rinceton thirty-two will, it is said, ecome lawyers, twenty-one ministers, fourteen doctors, twelve business en, and two newspaper men.

A good sister, wife of a presiding der, in a letter to the editor, has is encouraging sentence: "Allow e to say that I enjoy the ADVOCATE d speak of it to my friends very en, especially to those who do not e it." If more of our sisters would rsue that policy in regard to the per, it would help greatly.

The United Presbyterian Assembly ve sent down an overture to the esbyteries to the effect that no one o uses tobacco shall be licensed to each or ordained a ruling elder.

n this heated term, when the rmometer is high and everything boiling point, take care not to forget to inquire if you don't owe this e something on subscription!

ueen Victoria has reigned fifty-ee years. Henry III. reigned fifty- years, and George III. nearly sixty ars!

e brethren were so clever in supying copy during our absence that, want of space, the account of the lumbus District Conference goes er to next week.

The maintenance of Central Park, New York City, costs $400,000 a r.

A man in Brooklyn has been fined for violating the law prohibiting sale of cigarettes to children. We ght to have that law here.

That subscription for the Japan ssionary is steadily growing, but as rapidly as the necessities of the e demand! Won't you help us by ing that $10 that is lying idle? that idle money to work for the d's cause, won't you?

We owe an apology to the Joint mittee on the new Mississippi ege. A notice of the meeting of committee last Tuesday, was to this office for publication and handed to the printer for last k's issue, but in the multitude of ices it was overlooked and did not ear. We beg the indulgence of committee, and promise that such ing shall not occur again.

We are indebted to Mrs. M. M. ges, of Opelousas, for a fine picture her school, the Opelousas Female titute. The school has just closed successful session, and the prospects the future are flattering. Mrs. ges has won an enviable reputaon as a teacher, and her school is thy of patronage.

Emory College has conferred the ree of "D. D." upon Rev. W. D. kland, editor of the Southern Christian Advocate. Well done, Emory! rthy Kirkland!

We are indebted to President Mounger for the catalogue of Port Gibson male College. Last session was a y successful one in this favorite sissippi college for girls. President Mounger is a Centenary graduate, one of the most scholarly men in Mississippi Conference, and his ege is a fine place to educate girls.

Dr. John, our missionary secretary, Nashville, will supply you with any antity of missionary leaflets to distribute among your people, and their tribution will awaken your congations on a vital subject and your liences will grow larger, your rers more attentive, your givers e plentiful, your collections will rease, and your own salary will be ured! Try it, brother preacher.

Before the next ADVOCATE reaches , we will be in the midst of the ek of prayer. Are you ready? e you made preparations for prayand giving? The Lord Jesus left to come to earth on a mission; ll we not deny ourselves to conte the great cause he inaugurated?

Rev. Dennis Spurrier died of heart ease in Mammoth Cave, July 18, P. M. He had just been married was on his bridal tour. As the y crossed the bottomless pit he and never moved afterward. Mr. rrier was a member of the Louisne Conference, Methodist Episcopal rch, South, and was quite well wn throughout Southern Kenky, where he filled many importcharges during his ministerial eer.

Bro. Henry H. Ahrens, who acted organist for the recent Seashore p Meeting, well deserves the se he i- receiving for his efficient ice in leading the music. His e, skill and modesty were appiated.

During the late revival at the Carondelet Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of New Orleans, five young men were called to preach. Four have recently been licensed by the Quarterly Conference of that church, viz: Bros. Nicolas E. Joyner, Hubert M. Knickerbocker, Charles Russell and J. B. Austin. Bro. Richard L. Schroder was licensed by the Quarterly Conference of the Moreau Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The last-named young preacher officiated for Bro. Henry H. Ahrens at Gretna Church, on Sunday, July 14, while Bros. Joyner and Knickerbocker occupied the pulpit of the Dryades Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, last Sunday. All these young men give promise of usefulness and success in the Master's work.

Bishop Galloway has appointed Rev. J. A. Randolph, preacher in charge at Holly Springs, in place of Rev. G. S. Inge, who has removed to Portland, Me.

The financial secretary of the Seashore Camp Ground Association informs us that the last debt of the company is paid, and funds to run six months more are in sight. What a relief that is. Let everybody rejoice.

Rev. J. W. Boswell, assistant editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, has been doctored by Hendrix College. Good!

The Arkansas Methodist says:

Dr. H. R. Withers has written a book entitled, "Behold the Lamb of God; or, The Two Testaments," which will be ready for delivery by the first of August. The price is one dollar. Printed by the Southern Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, Tenn. To any one sending one dollar to him at Hamburg, Ark., with their name and postoffice, Dr. Withers will forward the book at once.

Postal Card Reports.

—Rev. Ben M. Drake writes from Daleville, Miss., July 15: "On Thursday, July 4, Dr. C. G. Andrews dedicated for us, at Daleville, Miss., a neat and tasteful church. The sermon was spiritual, and the occasion one of interest. The building of this church is due to the liberality and effort of the leading members of the church here."

—Rev. G. W. Gordon, writing from Carrollton, Miss., says: "Yesterday (Sunday) was a good day in Carrollton. We had "Children's Day," as we did not observe it the third Sunday in May. Congregation was large, and the collection first-rate, and everything passed off nicely."

—Rev. J. J. Kelly writes from Funny Louis, La.: "I have just closed a meeting at Gelvin's Creek Church, in which the good Lord blessed many dear souls. Seven accessions, three professed conversion, and twenty children baptized. Revs. E. W. Yancy, R. M. Walker and S. Roberts assisted me in the meeting. Have another protracted meeting announced for the third Sabbath. This being my first year in the itinerancy, I have many lessons to learn, many obstacles to surmount; but, considering the number of Sabbath-schools and prayer meetings on the work, I think prospects encouraging."

Another Missionary to Japan.

Our fund to send another missionary to Japan is growing gradually. Why should it not grow faster? Have you sent your $10? Can't you spare that much to help the Lord's cause on this line? Won't you send it right away? Who next? The following have contributed up to going to press:

A Subscriber	$10 00
A Preacher's Wife (Miss.)	10 00
Peter James	10 00
J. G. Grant	10 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher	10 00
A Lay Brother	10 00
John A. Lewis	10 00
Mrs. M. K. Shelmire	10 00
Mrs. H. G. Flowers	10 00
Another Subscriber	10 00
Mrs. E. W. Davidson	10 00
H. Jenkins	10 00
A brother, for his three sons	30 00
Isaiah Tucker	10 00
A Sister	5 00

Bro. Van Valkenburgh requests us to state that he is filling orders for "The New Hymn Book," as rapidly as he can. Look for a big nd. from him in our next issue.

FOR A DISORDERED LIVER try BEECHAM'S PILLS.

Publisher's Department.

WANTED.—A graduate of the F. F. C. Institute, who has had experience in teaching, desires a position in a school or in a family. References will be furnished. Address T., Box 73, Jackson, La.

Teacher to Pupil—Johnnie, what is a demagogue? Johnnie—A demagogue is a vessel that holds wine, gin, whisky, or any other liquor.

Next to your subscription the greatest favor you can extend the ADVOCATE, in a business point, is to mention the paper in writing to advertisers.

Business Notices.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. 25c. a bottle.

ROBT. B. TODD, Ex-Justice Supreme Court Louisiana. DAVID TODD.

R. B. TODD & SON,
Attorneys and Counselors-at-Law.
OFFICE, 199 GRAVIER ST.

Will practice in Federal and State Courts. Claims throughout the State will be promptly attended to.

WANTED!

A white woman to do general housework. For particulars address

REV. D. C. FOUST,
Winona, Miss.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE
Female Institute,
JACKSON, TENN.

The forty-fifth year of this popular school opens September 4 1889, fully equipped to give thorough training in literary courses and special branches.

Location healthy. Buildings improved. Grounds beautified. An attractive home. Terms very low.

Send for catalogue.

A. W. JONES, H. D., President.

Port Gibson Female College,
Port Gibson, Mississippi.

Rev. E. H. Mounger, A. M., President.

Opens Sept. 17, 1889; Closes June 19, 1890.

A home school for girls located on the L., N. O. and T. R. R. (Mississippi Valley Route), one hour's run below Vicksburg, and seven hour's above New Orleans, in the hill country of the State. Fine advantages in Music and Art. Under the control of the Mississippi Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, South. For catalogue and terms apply to the president, or to

MRS. M. E. COMPTON,
Lady Principal.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT
TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA.

[Formerly, 1847-1884, the University of La.]
Its advantages for practical instruction, and especially in the diseases of the Southwest, are unequaled, as the law secures it superabundant materials from the great Charity Hospital with its 700 beds, and 20,000 patients annually. Students have no hospital fees to pay, and special instruction is daily given at the bedside of the sick, as in no other institution. For catalogues or information, address

Prof. S. E. CHAILLE, M. D., Dean,
P. O. Drawer 261, New Orleans, La.

RUTGERS FEMALE COLLEGE.
54-56 W. 55th Street, N. Y. City.

51st year Opens Sept. 25. Special, Elective and full Collegiate course. Rev. G. W. SAMSON, LL.D., Pres. Preparatory and boarding departments, connected with the College, open Sept. 25.

Send for circular.

Whitworth Female College,
—AND—
Conservatory of Music and Art,
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

THE 30th annual session begins Sept. 19th, 1889. Every department in charge of the livest, most progressive teacher money will command. A Normal Department for the training of professional teachers has been added. The Conservatory of Music, established for the first time in connection with any Southern Female College, has proved a grand success. Number of pupils in Conservatory, 205. Number of pianos in constant use, 27. Entire number of matriculates, 243. Number of officers and teachers, 19. Number of boarders, 159. An increase of 65 over previous session. For catalogues and further information address,

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., Pres.
—or—
W. B. MURRAH, D. D., Vice-Pres.

State Normal School,
Natchitoches, La.
THOS. D. HOYD, President.

Reopens October 1, 1889.

Faculty of ten able instructors give full Normal Course and thorough review of Common School branches. Persons holding diplomas of first-class Colleges and High Schools may graduate in one year. Diploma of State Normal School entitles holder to First Grade Teacher's Certificate for four years after graduation. Tuition free. Total expense per session of eight months about $110.

Athens Female College

Situated at Athens, Ala., on the L. and N. R. R.

A thorough, cheap school; full literary course, Art and Music. Stenography and Type-Writing are also thoroughly taught. The school is fully equipped. Healthy location. Send for catalogue.

REV. M. G. WILLIAMS,
President.

Minden Normal School
—AND—
Business College.
The Leading Normal School in the South

Has more departments than any other similar institution in the land. To it has been added a Musical Conservatory. Music taught on any instrument. Location beautiful; climate delightful. We will be pleased to mail you a catalogue.

P. B. H. SEARER, MINDEN, La.

Wesleyan Female College,
MACON, GA.

FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL SESSION begins October 2d, 1889. Unsurpassed for health, safety, comfort and advantages in Literature, Music and Art. Special rates to clubs.

Address W. G. BASS, Pres.

SCIENCE HILL.

An English and Classical School for Girls, Shelbyville, Ky. Founded March 25, 1825, by Mrs. Julia A. Tevis. The oldest School for women in the South. Teachers are graduates of the best Colleges. Fits for Wellesley. Accommodations first-class in every particular. Terms reasonable, and include all School expenses.

W. T. POYNTER, D. D.

Capital Commercial College Jackson Miss Book keeping taught as it is now in the South Send for circular Free H C Rygall President

Centenary College
JACKSON, LA.

Jackson, La., is near Ethel, on the Valley R. R., 113 miles north of New Orleans. The location is beautiful and healthful, the buildings are elegant and ample, and the Faculty is complete and able. The sale of intoxicating drinks is forbidden by law within five miles of the College. Its endowment fund is being rapidly increased, and the college is expected to enter upon a new career of prosperity.

Special attention will be given to the health, morals and biblical instruction of the students.

For terms, Catalogue, or other information apply to Prof. G. H. Wiley Jackson, La., or to W. L. C. Hunnicutt, President.

Wall and Mooney's School,
Franklin, Williamson Co., Tenn.

S. V. WALL,
W. D. MOONEY, A. M., } PRINCIPALS.

A TRAINING-SCHOOL OF HIGH GRADE.

Fits boys for College. Especial attention paid to the Classics, English, German, and Mathematics.

The next term will open Tuesday, September 3, 1889, in a handsome house built by the citizens of Franklin, at a cost of $7,500. Send for a circular.

W. D. MOONEY, Sec.,
Franklin, Tenn.

From the Professor of English in Vanderbilt University:

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 22, 1889.

For four or five years I have every year spent, at least, one day in the class-room of Messrs. Wall and Mooney's School. I have questioned their classes, and heard them recite in English, Mathematics, German, Greek and Latin; and I do not hesitate to call their work excellent. Better trained pupils it would be hard to find. The moral culture is equally good.

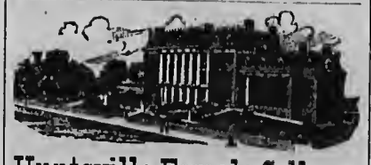
W. M. BASKERVILL.

J. H. BRUNNER, A. M., D. D., Pres't.
G. W. HUDDLESTON, A. M., Sec'y

HIWASSEE COLLEGE.
FOUNDED 1849.

Expenses Very Moderate.

Located, amid hills and valleys and fountains, 7 miles from Sweetwater Station, E. Tenn., Va. and Ga. R. R., from which conveyance any hour. Fall Term opens Sept. 2. Patronage from a dozen States. Send for Catalogue. Our postoffice is HIWASSEE COLLEGE, Monroe Co., E. Tenn. For boys and young men there is no better place. Full Faculty, thorough instruction, good results.



Huntsville Female College,
HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA.

FORTIETH SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, September 4, 1889. Buildings greatly enlarged and improved. Healthy, well furnished. 20 Officers and Teachers. All departments of Female Education thoroughly taught, including Bookkeeping, Stenography and Type-writing. A Christian home for pupils. For Catalogue, etc., apply to

REV. A. H. JONES, D. D., LL.D., President

Asheville Female College,
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Full College Course. Excellent Preparatory Department. Superior Facilities for Instrumental and Vocal Music. Painting, Drawing, Elocution, Languages and Literature. Buildings with the best modern improvements; heated by steam, lighted with gas, and water on every floor.

Asheville is known not only in America, but also in Europe, as a famed health resort. Over 60,000 visitors yearly.

The school reopens September 11. A "special" will leave Houston, Texas, and all intermediate points in time for the Fall Session.

For terms and Catalogue address

REV. S. N. HARKER, Pres't,
or PROF. BENJ. E. ATKINS, Sec.

E. A. SEMINARY,
FOR BOTH SEXES.

At ARCADIA, LA., on the V., S. and P. R. R.

No local cause for sickness. Full corps of efficient teachers. Instruction thorough and discipline rigid. English, Classical and Elective Courses. Music, Art, French and Elocution. Military and Calisthenics Drill. Tuition and fees reasonable. Seventh Academic Session begins September 2. For fuller information address

R. A. SMITH, PRINCIPAL,
Arcadia, La.

Roanoke College,
SALEM, VA.

Healthful mountain climate. Choice of Courses for Degrees; business department; special attention to English; French and German spoken; library 17,000 volumes; good morals; 5 churches; no bar-rooms. $150 to $195 for nine months (including fees, board, etc.). Students from 16 States, Ind. Ter. and Japan. 37th year begins Sept. 18th. Illustrated catalogue free.

Address PROF. PAINTER, Sec.

WESLEYAN FEMALE INSTITUTE,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

Opens September 19th, 1889. One of the Most Thorough and Attractive Schools for Young Ladies in the Union. Full course. Able Faculty. Improved methods in teaching. Superior Art School. Conservatory Advantages in Music. Buildings with Modern Improvements. Situation beautiful; climate unsurpassed. Endorsed by pupils and patrons in twenty States. Terms exceedingly low. Special inducements to persons at a distance. For the LOW TERMS and excellent advantages of this CELEBRATED VIRGINIA SCHOOL write for a catalogue to

WM. A. HARRIS, D. D., President,
Staunton, Virginia

Staunton Male Academy,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

A Military Boarding School for Young Men and Boys. Unprecedented Success during past Session. HANDSOME ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE mailed on application to

WM. H. KABLE, A. M., PRINCIPAL,
Staunton, Va.

TEACHERS, PROFESSORS and TUTORS supplied to Schools, Seminaries, Colleges and Families free of charge. We have a large normal student registration. Teachers, register early. Fee, small. Address, with stamp,

AMERICAN BUREAU OF EDUCATION,
Cole Building, Nashville, Tenn.

D. H. Holmes.

IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS.

32-inch. Organdy Lawns, 6½ c.
Scotch Ginghams, Linen finish, never been sold less than 20c., fast colors, now 10c.
Fine French Stripe Mulls, 35c. all season, now 15c.
Outing Cloths, 10c.
Balance of our Fine Scotch Ginghams, been sold all season from 35 to 50c., now 25c.
Printed Challies, 4 cents.
Fine Quality Printed Challies, 7c.
50,000 Standards Novels, 10c.
Fancy India Silk, 50 cents.
All Silk Surahs, 50 cents.
Gents Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, 50 cents a suit.
Fine White Lawns, 5 cents.
Ladies' and Childrens' ready-made White Lawn Dresses.
200 pieces Embroidered Flouncings at Half Price.
Special Bargains in every Department.

155 Canal St.

Send Your Sons and Daughters to the Mississippi : Normal : College,

Houston, Chickasaw Co., Miss.

Enrollment, 416. Fifteen Teachers Employed.
Eighth Annual Session Will Open September 3, 1889.

Superior advantages given in this, the cheapest and largest Normal in the South.

The new, commodious and pleasant College buildings include an elegant Hall, 60x90 ft., fitted with a stage having $200 worth of scenery. It is also supplied with convenient dressing-rooms and excellent footlights.

Locality healthful. Boarding facilities ample. Water good. Social and religious influences are of the highest order.

EXPENSES.

Primary and Preparatory Course,	per month	$ 2 00
Teacher's and Junior Scientific,	"	3 00
Classic and Senior Scientific,	"	4 00
Surveying and Engineering,	"	4 00
Telegraphy, Type-writing, Phonography,	"	3 00
Instrumental Music and Art,	"	3 00
Vocal Music in class,	"	1 00
Commercial Course (completed) for		25 00
Board per month (including washing)		7 to 8

No extra charge for Elocution, Modern Languages, Penmanship, Calisthenics and Military Drill.

E. L. Sherwood, A. M., who is well known as a superior instructor, is now a copartner with the former principals—J. T. Garrett and H. B. Abernethy.

For further particulars address H. B. ABERNETHY, President, HOUSTON, MISS.

LOGAN FEMALE COLLEGE.

A Full College Course. Teachers Selected from the Best Colleges, Musical Conservatories and Schools of Art in the Country.

Buildings Large, Commodious, Comfortable. Grounds ample. Pure, soft Sulphur Water. Location unsurpassed for health. Address,

A. G. MURRAY, President, Russellville, Ky.

Fairview Male and Female College, Binnsville, Kemper County, Miss.

LOCATION—Nine miles northeast of Scooba, which is on the M. and O. R. R.

Founded 1887. Enrolled, 1887, 117. Enrolled, 1888, 155. Expect to enroll 1889, 175.

BRANCHES TAUGHT.—Usual English Course. Ancient and Modern Languages. Book-keeping. Music. BUILDINGS.—Cover 7,000 ft.; front, 150 ft. Separate double-story boarding-houses for boys and girls. BOARD.—For girls, $10 per calendar month (washing included); for boys, $8 per calendar month (washing excluded). TUITION.—Primary, $2; Freshman, $3; Sophomore, Junior and Senior, $4 per scholastic month. TOTAL COST.—For boys, board and washing, $80; for girls, board and washing, $90. Tuition according to class, $20 to $40. Five per cent off for cash in advance.

Work, thorough. Discipline, firm. Location, healthful. Send for catalogue. School opens September 2nd.

REV. W. W. MOORE, A. M., PRESIDENT.

North Texas Female College and Conservatory of Music,
SHERMAN, TEXAS.

SESSION 1889-'90 WILL BEGIN SEPTEMBER 4.

Location unsurpassed for health; buildings thoroughly repaired and newly furnished. The health, comfort and decorum of pupils receive the president's constant care. Board of Instructors earnest, progressive, thorough; three college-bred professors of large experience, and ten accomplished ladies who have had the best educational advantages—some in Europe as well as in America. Prof. E. F. Powell, well known as an educator in Mississippi and Louisiana, is at the head of the literary department. The handsome Conservatory building is ready, and will be furnished with twelve new pianos, and other instruments. The Music Director, Prof. Eckhardt, a graduate of the Leipsic Conservatory, will be assisted by Prof. Monte Pickens, Mrs. Heit and others, who have achieved success as music teachers. Terms reasonable.

MRS. L. A. KIDD, PRESIDENT.

Nashville College FOR Young Ladies.

Privilege of Lectures, Museum, Apparatus, in Vanderbilt University. Three large buildings. Faculty of 20; pupils 320 from 18 States. Highest advantages in Music, Art, Calisthenics, Health, Accessibility. Fully Equipped Gymnasium. Address Rev. Geo. W. F. Price, D.D., President, Nashville, Tenn.

GRENADA COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.
PROPERTY OF THE
NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
DEVOTED TO
FEMALE EDUCATION.

The EIGHTH Session of this prosperous Institution begins

SEPTEMBER 10, 1889.

ITS history and present condition warrant us in assuring parents and guardians, that Grenada Collegiate Institute affords the best advantages for Industrial, Literary and Religious culture. The discipline is firm. The Boarding Department is home-like and comfortable. The health is fine. Expenses are moderate. The Institute embraces Eight Departments. Full Corps of experienced and Competent Teachers. For Catalogue and any particulars address the President,

REV. T. J. NEWELL, A. M.,
R. P. LAKE, Grenada, Miss.
Sec'y of Board Trustees.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL
Petersburg, Va.

The 25th Annual Session of this School for Boys begins the first Monday in October. Thorough preparations for University of Virginia. Leading Engineering School and United States Military and Naval Academies.; highly recommended by faculty of University of Virginia; full staff of instructors; situation healthful. Early application advised, as number of boarders is strictly limited. For catalogue address

W. GORDON McCABE, Head Master.

Boston University.

Professors and Lecturers, 120. Students from nearly every Southern State. Literature, philosophy, science, law, medicine, theology. Circulars of departments free. Address the Registrar, 12 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.

Elfinwood Select School.

The undersigned proposes to open, January 1st, 1889, a Select School for young ladies at his residence, near Gayden, on the L., N. O. and T. R'y, in the parish of East Feliciana, limited to twelve pupils. Every advantage will be afforded that can be found in the first girls' Colleges in the land. All persons desiring their daughters thoroughly educated will do well to make early application to me at Gayden, La.

Terms moderate.

Edwin H. Fay, A. M.

MARTHA WASHINGTON COLLEGE,
ABINGDON, VA.

A painful home for school girls. "Set in eight acres of paradise." For thirty years celebrated among the best schools on the continent. Unsurpassed for home comforts, scholastic advantages, hygienic, social and religious environments. Conservatory advantages in Music. Religious culture of pupils a specialty. For catalogue and full information, address,

Rev. D. S. HERRON, A.M., D.D., Pres., Abingdon, Va.

LAGRANGE FEMALE COLLEGE,
LAGRANGE, GEORGIA.

Thorough teachers, modern methods, complete courses, best books, reasonable rates. Music and Art advantages unsurpassed. Voice culture a specialty. Book-keeping and sight-singing free. Send for catalogue giving particulars. 45th session begins Sep. 18, 1889.

Growth:	1885-6.	1886-7.	1887-8
Enrolled	101	146	179
Boarders	40	62	84
Music Pupils	58	73	127

EULEB B SMITH, Sec. RUFUS W. SMITH, Pres.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

Over 50 Professors and 600 Students last year.
SEVEN DISTINCT DEPARTMENTS.
Academic. Literature, Science, Philosophy. Fees, $65.
Theological. Free tuition and free room in Wesley Hall.
Law. Four Professors. New buildings. Fees, $100.
Medical. Hospital accommodations for clinics. Fees, $95.
Dental. Full faculty, excellent equipment, new building. $95.
Pharmaceutical. Full Course of Instruction. Fees, $115.
Engineering. Courses in Civil, Mechanical, Mining Engineering, and Manual Technology. Two buildings. Fees, $65.
For catalogue, address Wm. Williams, Nashville, Tenn.

Our Young People.

BE HONEST AND TRUE.

Be honest and true,
O eyes that are blue!
In all that you say
And all that you do,
If evil you'd shun,
And good you'd pursue,
If friends you'd have many,
And foes you'd have few,
Be honest and true
In all that you say
And all that you do,
O eyes that are blue!

Be honest and true,
O eyes that are gray!
In all that you do
And all that you say
At home or abroad,
At work or at play,
As you laugh with your friend,
Or run by the way,
Be honest and true,
By night and by day,
In all that you do
And all that you say,
O eyes that are gray!

Be honest and true,
O eyes that are brown!
On sincerity smile;
On falsity frown;
All goodness exalt,
All meanness put down,
As you muse by the fire,
Or roam through the town,
Remember that honor
Is manhood's chief crown;
And wear it as yours,
O eyes that are brown!

Be honest and true,
O eyes of each hue!
Brown, black, gray, and blue,
In all that you say
And all that you do,
O eyes in which mothers
Look down with delight,
That sparkle with joy
At things good and bright,
Do never a thing
You would hide from the sight!
Stand up for the right
Like a chivalrous knight;
For the conqueror still,
When the battle is through,
Is he who has ever
Been loyal and true,
Make the victory sure,
O eyes of each hue!

—Juvenile Gems.

Edith's First Errand.

BY ALICE MAY NICHOLS.

"I wonder where Walter is," said Mrs. Dacre. "It is almost supper-time, and I want him to go to the dairy for some cream."

"O mamma! let me go," cried Edith.

"I am afraid you are too small to go alone and carry the pitcher," said mamma, stroking the yellow curls.

"No, mamma; I've been with Walter lots of times, and I'll be ever so careful, and not spill a drop."

The dairy was only at the other end of the block, and it was not yet six o'clock; so mamma decided to let her go, and Edith started off bravely, with the money chinking in the pitcher, while mamma stood on the steps and watched the bright little head until she saw it safely in at the dairy door.

"Why, this is Dr. Dacre's little girl!" said the man. "Where's your brother?"

"He's gone. Mamma wants a pint of cream, and I'm going to take it to her."

"Well, that's nice. Won't you have a drink of milk before you start back?"

"Oh, no! I can't. It's almost supper-time, and I told mamma I'd come right back."

The dairyman came to the door, and waited until she was down the steps and on the pavement before he gave her the pitcher. It was not heavy, but it was so large that the cream would not spill if it should splash a little. Edith carried it very carefully with both hands, and walked slowly. Mamma looked a long way off, standing on the steps, and she felt very serious as she made her way along; but the other people must have known what an important errand she was on, for they took care not to run against her.

She was almost home, only four doors away, and was thinking that, perhaps, mamma would let her go every night if she did not spill any, when something brushed up against her so suddenly and so hard that she almost dropped the pitcher.

It was only a collie dog who wanted a drink. He was too polite to push over a little girl; so, when she backed up against the lamp-post, he sat down in front of her, wagging his tail with all his might, and looking straight into her face, as much as to say, "You know what I want. Please hand it over, and we won't have any trouble."

Now, Edith was more afraid of a dog than anything else in the world, but she was not going to lose the cream. She looked at the home steps, but mamma had been called in for a minute, and there was nobody passing just then. "Go 'way," she said to the dog; but he began such a big wag at the end of his tail that it went all through him, and came out in a whine. And he put his head down and opened his mouth very wide. He looked like the wolf in "Red Riding-Hood." Maybe he would eat her up, cream and all. And she held the pitcher harder than ever.

Just then a boy came along.

"Don't be afraid!" he said. "That's my dog, and he won't hurt you. He only wants the milk. Trick, you bad dog, come away!" Trick looked at the pitcher, then he looked at his little master; then he winked.

"I'll take you home," said the boy; and he offered to carry the cream, but Edith would not let that go out of her hands. But she was glad to have him walk with her, and keep the dog on the other side of him, until they came to her house.

"And I never spilled a drop, mamma," she said as she gave up the pitcher.

"That's a nice little girl, Trick," said the boy as he walked off. "Don't you ever frighten her again." And Trick looked at him very hard, and then he winked. Trick knew that Edith was a girl that could be trusted.

—Sunday-School Times.

MR. EDITOR: Will you please let a little six-year-old girl write to your corner? I never have written to your paper, but I thought I would write. We have a little Sunday-school at Davis Spring, but I do not get to go every Sunday. Our little baby sister died June 19. She was sick four weeks. Our preacher is Rev. W. B. Williams. We all like him very much. I like to read the cousins letters very much. I will close with the best wishes to the dear old ADVOCATE., I remain,

Your little friend,

CALLIE HAMMETT.

CAMPTI, Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR: As I have never written to your valuable paper, I thought I would write. I am a little girl eleven years old. I think it would be nice to see something printed from this place. Our Sunday-school is closed now on account of measles. Mr. John Craft is our superintendent. Miss Victory Thornton is my teacher, and I like her very much. Bro. Flowers is our preacher. We dearly love him. Mr. Burnet is our every-day teacher; but I can't go for fear of taking the measles. I will close by asking, Who was it that made iron swim?

I. I. MILLER.

MR. EDITOR: As I have never written to the dear old ADVOCATE, I will write my first letter this morning. I am a little girl nine years old. I have been going to school, but it is out now, and I am glad to have a rest. The president of our college was Prof. A. D. McVoy, and our teachers Mrs. Irby and Miss Padelford. We have a very dear pastor that preaches to us every Sunday. Our Sunday-school superintendent is Bro. Scales. We all like him very much. I will close now for fear my letter will reach the waste-basket.

Your little friend,

WILLIE MAY CASSITY.

MANSFIELD, Louisiana.

The record of cures accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla can never be completely written. The peculiar curative powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are successful when everything else has failed. If your blood is impure, your digestion out of order, try Hood's Sarsaparilla

Each one of us is bound to make the little circle in which he lives better and happier; each of us is bound to see that out of that small circle the widest good may flow; each of us may have fixed in his mind the thought that out of a single household may flow influences that shall stimulate the whole commonwealth and the whole civilized world.—Dean Stanley.

BEAUTY of Skin & Scalp RESTORED by the CUTICURA Remedies.

NOTHING IS KNOWN TO SCIENCE AT all comparable to the CUTICURA REMEDIES in their marvelous properties of cleansing, purifying and beautifying the skin, and in curing torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, prepared from it, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, cure every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; RESOLVENT, $1; SOAP, 25c. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

Dull Aches, Pains, and Weaknesses instantly relieved by the CUTICURA ANTI-PAIN PLASTER, the only pain-killing plaster. 25c.

Household.

What Is in Your House?

When the long-buried city of Pompeii began to be uncovered, men were introduced into the very scenes of its home and business-life in the days of its glory. The houses were opened to view, and the pictures and utensils and statuary and architecture, and hundreds of things, disclosed the character and habits of the life of the people. And the stranger now visiting the unburied city and walking the streets and going into the houses and shops and forums and temples and theatres that were crowded with a busy, active, pleasure-seeking population, can see for himself just how they lived and what was the nature of their pursuits. And it is a deeply impressive lesson to meditate upon; how, after lying for eighteen centuries in the grave, these things have been disclosed to us, and especially how, among the freshest of the things preserved are numerous evidences of the sensual and vicious pleasures in which the people indulged. The very works of art which ministered to their vices now rise from their graves to testify against them. What was done in their houses is now brought to the light of day.

Suppose now that our home-life could be put into some permanent forms, and then our houses should be buried by a similar catastrophe, and at the end of eighteen centuries be brought to light. What would they disclose to the curious investigators of that day? If, at the great judgment, when the world has risen from the grave, there shall be a revelation of all secrets and an exact picture of our homes as they are at present, what shall they see as they gaze upon it? what does God see there now?

Let it be remembered that every member of a family has an influence on the home-life, and, therefore, a responsibility for the character of the family. Our houses are what you and I make them. Parents and children, husband and wife, brothers and sisters, master and servants, mistress and maid—each and all make up the family life. Each bears part in the daily influences which go to make the home. Let it be repeated: Our houses are what we make them. And so it comes to this: What does God see in our hearts? Is the spirit of Jesus there?—Dr. J. Fewsmith.

NERVOUS CHILDREN.—Never scold or make fun of them. They suffer enough without your threats or sarcasm. Don't let them know you see their awkwardness when in company, nor their grimaces when alone. A case was reported by the Boston Globe, of a boy ten years old who, on being vexed, and often without any apparent provocation, will clench his hands and make the most frightful contortions of the muscles of his face and head, till his poor mother fears he is idiotic. By no means. He is the brightest boy in his class at school, but he is of a highly nervous temperament, and has not been taught to control the little wires, so to speak, on which he is strung. This is no single case. There are thousands of children who give way to their nerves in similar fashion. Never whip them. A prominent physician in this city says the man or woman who whips a nervous child should for every blow given receive five. It is our duty to encourage and help them. Be patient with them. They are the making of our future successful men and women, for they will work hard at whatever they undertake. Brace up your own nerves first, and then be indulgent toward your over-nervous children.

A very judicious mother, who had brought up a large family of children, all of whom are now responsible and useful members of society, remarked that it was her practice to obey her children for the first year of their life, but ever after she expected them to obey her.—J. S. C. Abbott.

He who loves, knows. He who knows, loves. St. John is an example of the first; St. Paul of the second.—Chas. Kingsley.

We value everything in this world by comparison. Water and air have no intrinsic value, and yet Jay Gould, if famishing in the desert, would give all his wealth for a pint of the former, and think it cheap; hence, life and health are the standard of all values. If your system is full of Malaria you will be very miserable; a few doses of Shallenberger's Antidote will make you well and happy. Is one dollar a high price to pay?

WET WEATHER WISDOM

1st Lady.—Have you bought a new pair of Rubbers?

2d Lady.—Why, no! These are the old ones—dressed with

Wolff's ACME Blacking

It makes them look like new; and my shoes, also dressed with it, hold their polish under the rubber, even should the snow creep in. It saves the leather and waterproofs it; and my husband says it is just as good for HARNESS as for Shoes.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

W. W. CARRE,
LUMBER MERCHANT
AND MANUFACTURER OF
PLANTATION CABINS, STORES, Etc.,
Nos. 342, 344, 346 and 348 Howard Ave.,
NEW BASIN, NEW ORLEANS.
LARGEST STOCK AND LOWEST PRICES

KURSHEEDT'S
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS,
120 and 122 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Watches, Diamonds,
FINE JEWELRY,
Silver and Silver-Plated Ware,
SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.
Send for Catalogue.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
(Established 1817)
119 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN
135 CANAL ST., New Orleans, La.

Mathushek Pianos,
Weber Pianos,
Steck Pianos,
Gabler Pianos,
Mason & Hamlin Pianos.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS,
FARRAND & VOTEY ORGANS,
BOWLBY ORGANS, KIMBALL ORGANS.

Music and Musical Instruments.

Mention this paper.

ELKIN & CO., 98 Canal Street
FRESH IMPORTATION OF JOINTLESS, DAMASK AND EXTRA QUALITY
CHINA MATTINGS.
Full Line of Bordered Center Rugs and Carpets. OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS and CORTICENE
CURTAINS.
New Styles of Rich SILK, SWISS, COLBERT and NOTTINGHAM.
Window Shades, Cornices and Curtain Poles. All Varieties of CARPETS at Reduced Prices
Mention this paper.

GRANT'S
FURNITURE HOUSE

I offer for sale a very large, complete, and carefully selected stock of Furniture and House-furnishing Goods, embracing every style, from the cheapest to the most expensive. Being located at 50 and 52 Baronne Street, where rent and other expenses are low, and spending no money on outside show of any kind, I am prepared to give my customers the benefit of the saving thus effected, and to sell them good, reliable Furniture for less money than they have ever paid before. Large Illustrated Catalogue will be mailed free on application, and correspondence fully and promptly answered.

Parlor Suits.

I make a specialty of Parlor Furniture, carrying one of the largest stocks of these goods in the South, and have all the latest and most artistic designs in Cherry, Mahogany, and Walnut. I can furnish these in any of the following coverings: Domestic and Imported Silk Plush, Crushed Plush, Brocatelle, French Velours, English Tapestry, Mohair, Petit Point, or Hair Cloth. Prices for complete suits, from $35 to $400. Odd pieces—such as Sofas, Divans, Rockers, Corner and Reception Chairs—as cheap in proportion as the complete suits.

Bedroom Suits.

An immense assortment to select from, in Antique Oak, Natural and Dark Cherry, Natural and Dark Mahogany and Walnut, with every style and design fully represented, and at all prices, from $20 to $650. Children's Beds, in endless variety, in French, Victoria, and High Post. All styles of Children's Cribs in Imitation Walnut, Genuine Walnut, Cherry, and Wicker. A very fine line of Folding Beds just received from factory, very neat in appearance and very desirable where saving of space is an object.

Pulpit Sets.

I can furnish complete Pulpit Sets, as follows; Set No. 1, consisting of one Pulpit, one large Cane-seat Chair, two small Cane-seat Chairs, and one Wood-top Table, $15.50. No. 2—One Pulpit, one large Cane-seat Chair with arms, two small Cane-seat Chairs, and one Communion Table, wood-top, $23.50. No. 3—One Pulpit, one large Cane-seat Arm-chair, two small Cane-seat Arm-chairs, and one Marble-top Communion Table, $38.50. No. 4—One Pulpit, one large Arm-chair in plush, two small Chairs in plush, and one Marble-top Communion Table, $42.50; or No. 5, consisting of one Pulpit, one large Chair in plush, two smaller Chairs in Plush, one Marble-top Table, and one Stand, for $80. Any of the pieces of above sets sold separately and at equally low prices.

Very large and varied stock of Dining-room, Library, Hall and Kitchen Furniture. Reclining Chairs and Invalids' Roller Chairs at all prices. Fresh assortment of Reed and Rattan Lounges, Chairs and Rockers just received. Side and Corner Medicine Cabinets, Brackets, Easels, What-nots, Music Stands, Fancy Tables, Ladies' and Office Desks, and Office Chairs. Mirrors, all sizes, from 20 cts. to $150 each. Matting, in endless variety, from 10c to 50c per yard. Shades and Lace Curtains at all prices. Carpets all grades, colors and patterns, and a special line for Pulpits and Altars.

J. G. GRANT,
50 and 52 Baronne Street, - - - New Orleans, La.

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

Excellent

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hanel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Ayer's Pills,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

ACT LIKE MAGIC

ON A WEAK STOMACH.

25cts. a Box.

OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

NEW MUSIC BOOKS

MISSIONARY TRIUMPH By S. M. Brown and J. M. Hunt. A splendid collection of original and selected hymns and tunes adapted especially to Mission work. The only book of the kind ever prepared. Songs for every department of Missionary work. Price, 35 cts. post-paid.

ONWARD SELECTIONS A very fine compilation of the choicest Four Male Voices. music arranged for Voices. The selections have been made from works of Brahms, Abt, Muller, Speidel, Smart, Mozart, Meinz, etc., etc. Convenient Pocket Size. 35 cts. postpaid.

LATEST ANNUAL No. 3. By J. R. Murray. A collection of Songs and Responses especially prepared for use in the Sunday-Services of the Sunday-school. 5 cts. postpaid.

ORGAN VOLUNTARIES. By W. F. Smith. Containing Service Tunes, Offertories, Postludes, Marches, Minuets, Gavottes, Etc., arranged in a masterly manner for Cabinet Reed Organs. Handsomely printed and bound. Price, $1.50 postpaid.

PUBLISHED BY

JOHN CHURCH CO. Cincinnati, O. And 19 East 16th St., New York City.

For Sale by all Book and Music Dealers.

Send for catalogue of Everett Piano, FREE.

"Best cure for colds, cough, consumption" the old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam." Cutler Bro. & Co., Boston. For $1 a large bottle just prepaid

BULLETT'S MAGNOLIA GIN

The FOREMOST STANDARD COTTON GIN OF THE WORLD

HIGHEST AWARD GOLD MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

Light Draft, Best Sample and General Utility, at the World's Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, over all competitors. All late improvements—Double Brush Reels on large Gins, Adjustable Seed Boards, etc., have been added. Every Gin actually TESTED with COTTON before shipment. Address for further particulars

E. Baldwin & Co., Lim., New Orleans, La.

WE WANT a few more reliable agents to introduce our ELECTRIC BELTS. The best remedy known for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Female Diseases. Good active workers (either sex) make from $100 to $150 per month. Best chance for energetic agents ever offered. Every Belt guaranteed. Sent to any address on receipt of $5. Full particulars for 2-cent stamp. No postals answered. Address BRUCE HENRY, Ridge Farm, Ill.

AGENTS WANTED, MEN OR WOMEN. To sell the (Celebrated MISSOURI STEAM WASHER. It will Wash Sheets, Washes by Hot Steam. No Rubbing. Terms Liberal. MISSOURI WASHER CO., St. Louis, Mo.

THE PEOPLE SAY

when you will in this bread and TEMPLE'S RHEUMATIC SPECIFIC is recommended to cure every case of Rheumatism, and permanently nine out of ten cases. Sold by druggists $1.25 bottle. Compounded by Temple Medicine Co., Hamilton, O.

BAILEY'S Compound light-spreading Silver-plated Corrugated Glass REFLECTORS. For Oil

A wonderful invention for lighting CHURCHES, Halls, etc. Handsome designs. Satisfaction guaranteed. Catalogue and price list free. BAILEY REFLECTOR CO., 118 Wood st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

McShane Bell Foundry

Finest Grade of Bells. CHIMES AND PEALS for CHURCHES, &c. Send for Price and Catalogue. Address H. McSHANE & CO., Mention this paper. Baltimore, Md.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

CANCER and Tumors CURED; no knife book free. Drs. GRATIGNY & BUSH No. 158 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

Marriages.

PAGE—CLEVELAND—At Felicity Street Church, by Rev. John T. Sawyer, on Monday, July 15, 1889, Mr. John Page and Mrs. Florinda Shaney Cleveland.

DAVIS—CORE.—At the Methodist Parsonage, in Amite City, La., July 11, 1889, by Rev. F. M. Keen, Mr. William Davis to Mrs. Caroline Core, all of Tickfaw, La.

WARE—MASSINGALE—At the Methodist Church, in Quitman, Miss., June 20, 1889, by Rev. J. P. Drake, Mr. C. B. Ware, of Anniston, Ala., to Miss Sallie Massingale, of Quitman.

BROWN—HALL.—At the residence of the bride's father, Melville, La., July 15, 1889, by Rev. C. R. Godfrey, Mrs. Z. J. Brown to Miss Annie Hall, both of St. Landry parish, La.

BROWN—THOMASON.—At the residence of Mrs. M. F. Faulkner, Melville, La., July 15, 1889, by Rev. C. R. Godfrey, Mrs. C. S. Brown to Miss Sallie V. Thomason, both of St. Landry parish, La.

CLAUGHTON—TOWNSEND—At the residence of the bride, in East Baton Rouge parish, La., June 27, 1889, by Rev. W. L. Lindsley, Mr. William S. Clayton, of Franklin county, Miss., to Mrs. A. G. Townsend.

FRENCH—McMICHAEL.—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Amite City, La., July 9, 1889, by Rev. F. M. Keen, Mr. Robert E. French, of Birmingham, Ala., to Miss Florence E. McMichael.

HOLLISTER—KINNE.—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Ponchatoula, La., July 10, 1889, by Rev. F. M. Keen, Mr. George J. Hollister, of Ponchatoula, La., and Miss Inez Kinne.

SMYLIE—KIBLINGER.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Jackson, La., July 11, 1889, by Rev C. McDonald, Mr. James J. Smylie, of Meridian, Miss., to Miss Libbie Kiblinger.

Obituaries.

Obituaries of less than thirty-five lines of six words each, will be published free of charge. For all over thirty-five lines, five cents for each additional line will be charged, and the money must invariably accompany the manuscript. When parties desire extra copies of the ADVOCATE containing the obituaries of their friends, they must send with the order the sum of five cents for each extra copy ordered.

COMMANDER—Rev. JAMES PERRY COMMANDER was born at Milledgeville, Ga., January 15, 1817; professed religion at Bethel Camp Ground, in Wilcox county, Ala. The date of his conversion is not exactly known. He was licensed to preach by the Methodist Protestant Church, March 9, 1839, and was sent by the Conference to the State of Mississippi as a missionary. He was ordained deacon October 20, 1843, and elder November 17, 1845. He united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the time of the union of the two ecclesiastical bodies, and was granted a superannuated relation to the North Mississippi Conference in the fall of 1878, and died, at his home, in Attala county, Miss., June 7, 1889. He was twice married, and raised a large family of sons and daughters—all of which grew up to usefulness in the church, one of whom is now a local preacher. In his domestic relation he was happy in the evidence that he had ruled his own house well.

On the occasion of the death of his first wife, he was induced to enter the practice of medicine in order to sustain his large family of motherless children. This, however, was only for a few years; the most of his long life was given to the active life of an itinerant preacher. In the Methodist Protestant Church he filled important stations, and, at times, was honored by being elected president of the Annual Conference. As a preacher, he was eminently scriptural; the Bible was his constant companion, and to it he looked for comfort and information. He was not afraid to recommend its teachings as a safe rule for others. In presenting the doctrines of the Bible he showed great earnestness, which impressed the hearer that he was speaking the truth from a personal experience. He loved the plain, simple gospel. His favorite themes were, Repentance, Justification by Faith, Regeneration, The Witness of the Spirit, and Holiness of Heart. These he believed to be important and necessary to salvation. He was what he pretended to be as a Methodist. He fully subscribed to the doctrines of his church. He was not a man to hunt for the defects of his church, but seemed to think what the church did was certainly right. He loved the church, and earnestly contended, both by word and deed, for that righteousness which is by faith. He did not propose to compromise with sin on any conditions. The consistency of his life was a benediction to the community in which he lived. For several years prior to his death, he was not able to preach, yet he was an inspiration to the people who came in contact with him. He would go to church when he was so palsied that he would have to be helped to the church and carried in the house. He would say, "The privilege of worshiping with the people is a feast to my soul."

About two years before his death, this writer asked him what he now thought of the power of the gospel he had been preaching so long. The answer was ready—"It is more than I had thought; the comfort that it gives me in my afflictions is more than I can express." He was a long and patient sufferer, but he bore it all without a murmur, preferring to suffer the whole will of God than to enjoy the pleasure of sin for a season. He kept the faith unto the end, and died without a struggle; only ceased to breathe, and went to his reward in peace. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.

W. W. WILLIAMS.

Alabama Advocate please copy.

JONES—Little WILLIAM LEVI, son of Mr. N. A. and Mrs. Martha E. Jones, died on July 5, 1889, aged one year, seven months and eleven days.

To the bereaved the most sincere sympathies are tendered. Their loved one has departed, but in the care of angels from heaven. His bright face and happy smiles will be seen no more on earth; but oh! may they greet loved ones "around the great white throne above."

H.

MANLY—MARTHA BOYD AMIS, wife of Rev. M. C. Manly, was born in Granville county, N. C., August 5, 1835, and died in Algiers, La., June 29, 1889. When a child her parents moved to Arkansas. At the age of twenty she was converted to God and joined the Baptist Church, of which her parents were members. She was educated at the Female College, located in Dallas county, Ark., an institution under the control of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Here, doubtless, she imbibed a part of her affection and loyalty to that church, preparing her at a later day to change her church relations. Her father was a man of means, abounded in hospitality, and his doors were ever open to Methodist preachers. In this manner she met her husband, became engaged and was married to Rev. M. C. Manly, April 5, 1859. About that time she joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and entered upon the itineracy with her husband.

In that trying and laborious life she has been found ever since, with the exception of one year in which Bro. Manly was a superannuate. She traveled large circuits with him, accepting the hardships without a murmur. When we remember that she had been raised in affluence, that murmuring spirit becomes all the more remarkable. Many have done well among our women in this field; but, certainly, here was one that excelled. Her husband has been blind for a lifetime. We let him speak through a note written to the writer of this sketch: "Given to me by the Lord, she was especially adapted to meet my wants as a Methodist traveling preacher. I traveled long circuits, and she often went with me as guide and companion. She entered fully into the work, feeling a deep interest in the welfare of the church. She assisted me in my studies, and but for her my pulpit preparation would have been a failure—in fact, I would have been compelled to locate." With her help I was able to memorize the Ritual of our church, the whole of the New Testament, with many chapters in the Old, and many of our hymns. I wrote a great deal, all of which she copied. She never complained at the hardships of the itinerancy. Her life was a beautiful one and her death triumphant." Thus speaks the husband.

Dr. D. W. Foster, of Plaisance, La., in letter to the writer, remarks: "I was at the home of Bro. Manly in March, and observed a strange difference in Sister Manly's manner. There seemed to be 'away-offness' about her. She seemed like a being from the skies on a visit to the earth."

Beautiful, however, as was her life, God did the crowning work for her in the last month of her life. She was among the twenty who received the blessing of sanctification in the revival at Carondelet Street Church in New Orleans.

What a death-bed hers was! Truly speaking, it was not death; it was translation. Her husband, thinking she was trembling with pain, approached to find her rejoicing with joy unspeakable and full of glory. She had counsel for one, exhortation for another, and tender, loving speech for all. Her last thought was about others; her only regret in dying was born of the thought of the loneliness and helplessness of her husband. She would have liked to have cared for him through her life and closed his eyes. But God's will be done. At six o'clock in the evening God's messengers came for her, and, full of joy and assurance, she went away with them. Her body rests in the Firemen's Cemetery near the tomb of that holy man of God, Elijah Steele. Her soul, we all know, is with Jesus.

B. CARRADINE.

BERT—Entered into rest, Jackson, Miss., June 18, 1889, at the Institute for the Blind, LIDA BERT, aged thirteen years.

Thus was this frail flower cut down ere the tender leaves of the bud had scarcely begun to unfold. There are souls too pure and spotless to be soiled by the dust of this world; they are fit only for the joys of paradise; and so it was with this dear child. We have seldom met with one whose life was so pure and intellect so bright. At the tender age of twelve she became a member of the Methodist Church, and her example has been such that older members might well follow. During the four years of her school-life at the Institute for the Blind, the same sweet gentleness of spirit marked her daily life and endeared her alike to teachers and school-mates. In the long, weary hours of her illness, not one impatient word escaped her lips. All was done for her that loving hearts and willing hands could do, but, alas! in vain. She drooped and faded each day until, in the early dawn of June 18, God called this dear child home. Ah! those eyes, once closed to the beauties of this world, now behold the King in his beauty, the streets of gold and the river of life. As I looked upon the frail form lying in its casket, she did not seem as one who had lived and suffered death, but it was as though she had fallen asleep amid the flowers.

S. D. L.

FLYNN—WILLIAM FLYNN was born in Lawrence district, S. C., April 18, 1807; was first married to Rebecca Arnold in 1824 or '25, by whom he raised six children. He moved to Monroe county, Miss., in 1840. After the death of his first wife he married, in 1856, Harriet C. Jenkins, by whom he raised four children. He moved from Monroe county to Chickasaw county, where he died, at his home, on June 5, 1889. Bro. Flynn was converted in early life, and joined the Methodist Church, which relation he sustained till death. He was licensed to preach in 1831; was ordained deacon in August, 1847, and elder in 1853, by Bishop Paine. Bro. Flynn's mother died while he was quite young, and he, by some cause, was "bound out" to a Presbyterian gentleman, by whom he was raised to young manhood. At the early age of eighteen he married, and at once established a family altar; the fire upon which never died, but received a morning and evening sacrifice to his death, which extended over a period of nearly sixty-four years. What a series of offerings! Bro. Flynn's home-life was one of the strongest demonstrations of his godly life. He prayed, talked, enjoyed and lived his religion. An act which he thought to be wrong in another, he was ready to say it was wrong. He made no compromise with sin. He was not a brilliant preacher; but his sermons showed him to be acquainted with God and the religion of the Bible. His last days were, possibly, his best days. He seemed to desire his "change" to come, that he might leave the sorrows and disappointments here for a land of peace. In his last sickness, which lasted for more than a week, he talked of death as calmly as if it had been a contemplated trip to church. When asked by a friend as to his funeral, he said he wanted it preached by a Methodist preacher, and stated further, when asked other questions, that his hope of heaven was not for barter. His funeral was preached by Bro. T. J. Lowry from Rev. xiv, 13; after which his body was laid to rest in the graveyard, back of Friendship Church, to await the resurrection.

W. M. FOSTER.

ERWIN—On Thursday, May 30, 1889, at 6 P. M., the angel of death visited the home of James A. and Susan Erwin, Babb's Bridge, La., claiming, as his victim, their youngest child, ANGUS DOWLING, aged twelve years, one month and seventeen days. His disease was peritonitis of a most stubborn nature. The vitality of the precious bud soon yielded to its power, and within four days his bright life had passed away—yes, passed into life eternal. When nearing death's portals, he called his mother to his bedside, and, while looking upward, said, "Look at that little girl ma; look at that little girl!" Later he exclaimed, "Death! death!" Still later, "Oh, pa!" Then departed with a father's kiss upon his brow. Though tender in years, he was endowed with a manly mind, and gave promise of a great and good man, the joy of his father and mother, the strength of their declining years. Obedient and affectionate as a son; kind, affable and obliging as brother and friend, he leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to weep for him. He filled his place in the Sabbath-school the last Sunday of his life, and in the afternoon joined his father in reading God's Holy Word as he was wont to do.

Alas! the golden cord is broken! God, in his wisdom, has taken him, and left us to mourn his loss. O God! help us to say, "Thy will be done." Farewell, sweet one, till we meet again just beyond, where sorrow and separation are unknown.

HIS SISTER BESSIE.

LATIMER—The following resolutions were adopted by the Woman's Missionary Society, of Canton, Miss.:

Whereas, After many years of suffering, our beloved sister, Mrs. ANDIE LATIMER, has entered into rest; therefore, be it

Resolved, That while we sorrow for the loss of her bright Christian example, her prayers and words of comfort and encouragement, yet we thank God for the manly lessons taught by her beautiful life of patience and resignation, of peace and joy even in fiery trials.

Resolved, That while this society mourns the loss of her brightest member, whose interest never decreased through all these years of pain, that we renew our diligence in the work she loved so well, emulate her example that we may receive her reward.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the society, and a copy thereof furnished the family.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in city papers and NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

MRS. ANN WEBSTER, for Com.

BRADFORD—Two weeks ago we placed the sod over little MATTIE, daughter of Rev. D. P. Bradford, of the Mississippi Conference.

To-day, July 15, 1889, as the sun in its golden splendor sank behind the horizon of the crimson west, the sweet life-sun of the darling mother, Mrs. E. P. BRADFORD, went down upon this earth forever. After a painful illness of one month, she passed quietly away to join little Mattie in the sweet, better land. She has left four daughters and three sons to mingle their tears with the devoted father over the grave of their darling one. The great heart of this people goes out in tender sympathy to the dear ones in their sad bereavement. May he, who is a father to the fatherless, take them tenderly in his arms and soften their affliction, as he alone can do, and so guide them through life that, when their summons shall come, they may join mother and Mattie, a loving, happy family in the bright home where partings never come!

A FRIEND.

Good resolutions are often like a loosely-tied cord—on the first strain of temptation they slip. They should be kept tight and firm by constant stretching God-ward. If they slip or break, tie them again.

The Way Out.

We have discovered a way out of the narrows: We want to say a great deal about Compound Oxygen, but there is not the space provided nor the time.

So we will trust to your sagacity to catch the saving suggestions embodied in the following:

JONESBORO, TENN., June 4, 1888.

About six years ago I had a number of hemorrhages, followed by fever, great exhaustion and nervous prostration, had but little appetite and much insomnia. I was led to try your Compound Oxygen. The hemorrhages ceased, appetite returned, slept well and general health became better than it had been for years. REV. C. A. DUNCAN.—Pastor of Presbyterian Church.

COLUMBIA CITY, IND., March 19, 1888.

"It is about three years now since I used the treatment to such good purpose for catarrh, and I find it has not lost its value in the least."

HENRY C. MCLALLEN.

We publish a brochure of 200 pages regarding the effect of Compound Oxygen on invalids suffering from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, headache, debility, rheumatism, neuralgia; all chronic and nervous disorders. It will be sent, free of charge, to any one addressing Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1529 Arch St., Phila., Pa.; or 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

ADAMS' HATS!

26 ST. CHARLES ST.

"The Man of Galilee." (1889.)

Price, 80 Cents.

HUNT & EATON, 805 BROADWAY, NEW YORK;
CRANSTON & STOWE, CINCINNATI, OHIO.

A book for those who have been disturbed by doubts concerning the historic Christ, for those who have occasion to deal with doubters and unbelievers, and for those who would study the method Jesus took in teaching and saving men.

SENT, POSTPAID, FOR 80 CENTS BY

A. G. HAYGOOD, Jr., : : : : Decatur, Ga.

Mention this paper.

H. Dudley Coleman & Co.,

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN. EDGAR L. STREAM.

(Successors to Willis P. Coleman and H. Dudley Coleman & Bro.)

CAR BUILDERS, FOUNDRY AND PLANTATION MACHINERY!

Complete Cotton Gin Outfits a Specialty. Passenger Cars, Box Cars, Flat Cars, Log Cars, Coal Cars, Ore Cars, Dump Cars, Lumber Cars, Hand Cars, Push Cars, Plantation Cars, Steam Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Pulleys, Shafting, Cotton Presses, Corn Mills.

Office and Foundry: MAGNOLIA AND ERATO STS., NEW ORLEANS.

Telephone—Office and Foundry, 688.

We build Steam Engines and Boilers here. | Are Agents for Other Manufacturers. Have a Large Stock to select from.

Coleman's Corn Mills "Maid of the South," Coleman's Cotton Presses, Coleman's Saw Mills, Coleman's Double Flue Boilers, Stream's Hoisting and Irrigating Pumps.

Prepared for and Expect Competition. Address

H. Dudley Coleman & Co., or Coleman's Foundry, N. O., La.

Mention this paper.

METROPOLITAN BANK, SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

80 CAMP STREET.

Capital.....$250,000. Undivided Profits.....$40,000.

FRED. PETERS, President. FRANK RODER, Vice-President. ED. CLAUSSEN, Cashier.

Is now open and prepared to receive deposits from one dollar upwards, upon which we pay three per cent. interest, payable semi-annually.

Directors—Phil. W. Diehmann, Frank Roder, Jacob Hassinger, H. F. Klumpp, John Nelson, Julius Weiss, Adolph G. Ricks, Fred Peters and Louis Leonhard.

ESTABLISHED 1868.

A. A. WOODS. L. H. POURSINE.
WALTER SCOTT. A. F. GODAT.

A. A. WOODS & CO.,

General Insurance Agency,

184 GRAVIER STREET,

OPPOSITE COTTON EXCHANGE. NEW ORLEANS

Total Assets over $200,000,000.

Dwelling and Sugar House Risks Especially Solicited.

Mention this paper.

W. R. LYMAN, President. JOSEPH BOWLING, Vice-President. CHAS. E. RICE, Secretary.

Crescent Insurance Com'y.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849.
Reorganized as a Stock Company in 1860.

Cash Capital, - - - - - - $300,000.

Has paid over TEN AND ONE-HALF MILLIONS for losses since 1849. ANNUAL and TERM POLICIES issued on Desirable Fire Business.

See our Agents throughout Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

Home Insurance Co., of New Orleans.

No. 78 CAMP STREET.

CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1886, - - - - $400,479.08
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1887, - - - - $413,860.76
CASH ASSETS, December 31st, 1888, - - - - $459,369.50

Steadily Increasing in Strength and Popularity.
Solicits Fire and River Business.

LIBERAL SETTLEMENTS AND PROMPT PAYMENTS.

Thos. Sefton, Pres't. Capt. J. B. Woods, Vice-Pres't. Jno. G. Byrd, Sec'y

J. B. WOODS, JNO. J. BAHR, J. R. LEVERT, F. STRINGER,
JOS. HAYLE, ANDREW STEWART, E. HORLAND, W. T. HARRIS,
JNO. BARKLEY, CHAS. CHAFFE, J. HORN, THOS. SEFTON

LLOYD R. COLEMAN, Pres't. GEO. H. FROST, Sec'y.

Mechanics' & Traders' Insurance Company,

14 Carondelet Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - - - $500,000

Fire, River and Marine Insurance Solicited.

TRUSTEES.—Robt. Maxwell, Geo. W. Semell, I. L. Lyons, Col. T. L. Macon, N. Landry, Chas. Holloway, F. J. Odendahl, W. A. Phelps, W. G. Wheeler, J. M. Frankenbush, Simon E. Marx, P. J. Jockburn, H. T. Cottam, J. A. Braselman, Henry Maspero, Giles M. Hillyer, W. B. Thompson, Walter C. Flower, Joseph Vignes, A. Xiques, J. M. Walsh, T. S. Waterman, Frederick Wing, P. Werlein, A. M. Silbernagel, A. G. Lobdell, Lloyd R. Coleman, C. Hernandez, O. Ehrer, J. A. C. Wadsworth, L. M. Delavallade. New Orleans, La., March 20, 1889.

The Southern Insurance Company

OF NEW ORLEANS.

54 - - CAMP STREET - - 54

Paid up Capital, $300,000. Assets, $486,095.99.

FIRE, RIVER AND MARINE INSURANCE.

This company by its conservative, yet liberal, business methods, and the immediate availability of its assets, affords complete security to its assured. Losses promptly adjusted and paid.

ERNEST MILTENBERGER, President. H. GALLY, Vice-President. SCOTT MCGEHEE, Secretary.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

John T. Moore, Jr., J. H. Menge, M. Schwabacher, F. G. Ernst, T. J. Woodward.

HARDWOOD, SLATE AND IRON MANTELS.

TILE HEARTHS, TILE FACINGS, TILE FLOORS.

Grates and Fire-place Trimmings.

LEAHY & WEBER,

ADVOCATE BUILDING. No. 112 CAMP STREET.

"Our constant aim is to keep the best of everything."

A. W. SKARDON & SON,

Dealers in Staple and Fancy Groceries,

643 and 645 MAGAZINE STREET, Cor. Jackson Ave., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

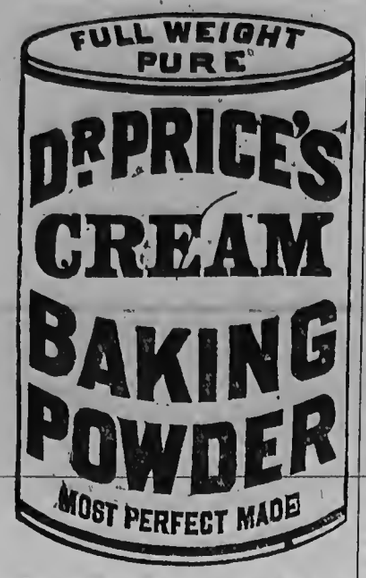
Would respectfully call the attention of clergymen and invalids to their unfermented communion wine—pure grape juice, free from alcohol.

Particular attention paid to country orders.

No charge for drayage or packing on goods sent out of the city.



Its superior excellence proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

$300 to $500 a month made by working for us. We guarantee energetic persons $500 a Year, with the opportunity of making 6 times that amount. Men who can furnish their own horses preferred. A few vacancies in towns and cities. Holloway & Co., 112 N. 6th St., St. Louis.

Mention this Paper.

BUY YOUR RELIGIOUS BOOKS FROM

F. D. VanValkenburgh,

106 Camp Street.

Any good book furnished at publisher's price. Special attention to Sunday-school Libraries. BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, HYMN BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Orders by mail promptly filled.

Mention this paper.

BROWN'S FRENCH DRESSING

—FOR—

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S BOOTS AND SHOES.

Awarded highest honors at

Phila.,	1876	Melbourne,	1880
Berlin,	1877	Frankfort,	1881
Paris,	1878	Amsterdam,	1883

New Orleans, 1884-85.

Paris Medal on every bottle.

Beware of Imitations.

THE GREAT PIONEER MEDICINE.

As in the progress of civilization there must needs be a pioneer to fell trees, bridge streams and clear the way for larger communities to follow, so in the the progress of LA-CU-PI-A in the cure of Chronic Catarrh, Scrofula, Chronic Rheumatism, Running of the Ears, Chronic Ulcers and Chronic [CATARRH] Skin Diseases, there is one pioneer medicine to clear away all obstructions in the system and keep the system in order. Such a medicine is MANA-LIN, the regulator of the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. No one can afford to be without it. Sold by all druggists—$1 a bottle; 6 for $5. Manufactured by

THE PERUNA MED. CO., Columbus, O.

P. P. P.

(Prickly Ash, Poke Root, and Potassium.)

CURES

RHEUMATISM

And in all Affections of the Blood, P. P. P. stands alone and unrivaled and some of its cures are really wonderful.

If you suffer from anything like Syphilis, Scrofula, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Old Sores, Rheumatism, or any disease of the blood, be sure and give P. P. P. a trial.

P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) is no secret patent medicine like the many on the market. Its formula is on every bottle, thus giving a guarantee of its purity and wholesomeness that no other blood purifier does give. For sale by all druggists.

SCROFULA

Is an impurity in the blood, producing Lumps or Swellings, causing Running Sores on the Arms, Legs, or Feet, for the cure of which use P. P. P., the greatest blood medicine on earth. All these diseases yield readily to the power of P. P. P., giving new life and new strength.

BLOOD POISON

Cured in its worse form; sometimes in cases with Erysipelas, where the patient was in Eternal Pain and given up by the physicians. In some cases Scrofulous Ulcers broke out till the party was a mass of corruption; a bottle of P. P. P. was procured, and the disease yielded quickly.

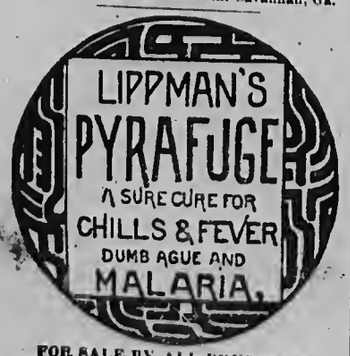
Also cures Syphilis, Primary, Secondary, Tertiary, Syphilis and Syphilistic Eruption.

Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration.

Want of energy and all diseases resulting from overtaxing the system are cured by the use of P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.)

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists, Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.



FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
LIPPMAN BROS., Wholesale Druggists, Sole Props., Lippman Block, Savannah, Ga.

For sale by I. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

DOMESTIC.

The Virginia Prohibition Convention met at Lynchburg, last week, and nominated a full State ticket, at the head of which for governor is the Hon. Thomas E. Taylor, of Loudon county.

Efforts are being made to form an alliance of all the great labor organizations in the country, as suggested by recently issued circulars of Powderly and others.

The People's Savings Bank was formally organized, in Vicksburg, on July 18, with $50,000 capital, all paid in.

Those having charge of the relief fund at Johnstown, Pa., began paying out money to the sufferers, on the eighteenth. Most of the checks were for $80, the lowest amount paid to a single sufferer.

Alpena, Mich., had a $120,000 fire on July 19, caused by lightning.

There was a general prevalence of floods, lightning and high winds in the United States, on the nineteenth instant. Bridges were washed away, tracks upturned, crops ruined and much property lost. There were storms in Dakota, Illinois, Ohio, New York and West Virginia; an earthquake in Tennessee, and cloudbursts in several sections.

Cincinnati juries refuse to enforce the Sunday law. There have been three or four cases of violations where the juries have wholly ignored the evidence and the law as defined by the judge.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt in Memphis on July 19.

A citizen of Erie (Pa.) has offered to assume that city's indebtedness for a deed of her waterworks. The city debt is over $1,000,000, and the water works plant cost originally about the same amount.

West End, a pleasure resort of this city, was visited by a serious fire, on July 21, which entailed a loss of over $10,000.

Many deaths and much suffering have resulted from the floods in West Virginia. The damage to crops in Wood county is inestimable. Public charity will be appealed to.

About 750 carpenters in Kansas City struck, on July 22, for a nine-hour working day.

Chicago is beginning an earnest fight for the World's Fair in 1892. At a meeting of the council the mayor was authorized to appoint a committee of 100 to take the preliminary steps toward securing the location of the fair at Chicago.

It is said that the Southern Republicans, angered at the course of the administration in ignoring their claims for office, threaten to oppose their Northern brethren in caucus and convention.

A saloon keeper, in this city, was found guilty of violating the Sunday law and sentenced to pay $200 fine.

FOREIGN.

At the Labor Congress, in London, on July 18, the American, English, Belgian, Spanish, French, Danish, Polish, Austro-Hungarian and Portuguese delegates agreed upon a series of resolutions declaring in favor of eight hours as the maximum diem; a holiday weekly; the suppression of labor for children under 14 years; equal opportunities and wages for the two sexes, etc.

M. Emile Ollivier, the well-known French statesman, has published a letter in which he denounces the indictment of General Boulanger as a base attempt to dishonor a valiant soldier who served his country devotedly for thirty years.

It is announced that an official dinner will be given by President Carnot at the Elysee Palace, on July 26, to the King of Greece. This announcement has caused a sensation in political circles in Paris.

The Emperor of Germany presented a portrait of himself to the Czar.

The trial of the action of Mr. William O'Brien against Lord Salisbury for slander began on July 19. Mr. O'Brien testified that he had never incited to murder or robbery, either upon the platform or in his paper, United Ireland.

The syndicate of English paper manufacturers has about completed all arrangements for the proposed combination. The capital of £1,500,000 has already been guaranteed.

I. I. Mapes, a graduate of Columbia College, New York, has taken the Edinburgh University medal for proficiency in the study of anatomy. Douglass Ewell, also a graduate of Columbia College, stood third in the class.

Grand Duke Constantine, uncle of the Czar, have suffered a stroke of paralysis. He has lost the power of speech.

The Italian government has withdrawn its vessels from participation in the blockade of east African ports, near Zanzibar.

The long-pending negotiations with the Porte aiming at the adhesion of Turkey to the Triple Alliance have finally resulted in an entente under which the Alliance guarantees to maintain the integrity of Turkey's territory in accordance with the treaty of Berlin.

It is reported that Emperor Francis Joseph has asked that there be no public festivities on the occasion of his visit to Berlin.

The Boulangists in Marseilles decided to nominate the General as a candidate, in four cantons for the councils general.

A reconnoitering party sent out from Wady-Halfa, Egypt, found the dervishes under Nana-El-Juuni occupying a good position. It was also learned that the dervishes have been reinforced by 1,000 men. The British troops at Assouan number 1,500 men, and are considered strong enough to attack the dervishes.

A dispatch to the London Chronicle says that Prince Bismarck, through Dr. Von Schoioeser, the German representative at the Vatican, has dissuaded the Pope from leaving Rome.

Hall's Hair Renewer eradicates and prevents the formation of dandruff, thickens the growth and beautifies the hair as no other preparation will.

Quarterly Conferences.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Iuka circuit	July 27, 28
Harmony circuit	Aug. 3, 4
Corinth circuit	10, 11
Kossuth circuit	17, 18
New Albany circuit	24, 25
Marietta circuit	31, Sept. 1
Blackland circuit	2
Ripley and New Albany station	7, 8
Ruhtown circuit	14, 15
Pleasant Ridge circuit	17
Ripley circuit	21, 22
Jonesboro circuit	28, 29

J. B. STONE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Charleston	July 27, 28
Minter City (Fri.)	Aug. 2
Sunny Side	3, 4
Grenada station	11, 12
Water Valley station	18, 19
Chapel Hill	24, 25
Carrollton	31, Sept. 1
Tillatuba	7, 8
Coffeeville (Thur.)	12
Torcopola	14, 15
Grenada circuit	21, 22
Atlanta	28, 29
Old Town (Tue.)	Oct. 1
Pittsboro (Thur.)	3
Banner	5, 6

J. F. EVANS, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Pontotoc, at Palestine	July 27, 28
Sparta, at Palestine	Aug. 3, 4
Houston and Wesley, at H. (Thurs.)	8
Buena Vista, at Asbury	10, 11
Okolona circuit, at Boone Chapel	17, 18
Ebenezer, at Egypt (Mon.)	19
Fulton and Smithville, at Antioch	24, 25
Tremont, at Riggan's Chapel	31, Sept. 1
Athens	7, 8
Prairie	14, 15
Aberdeen	21, 22

AMOS KENDALL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Crawford, at Trinity	July 27, 28
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Chapel	31
Brooksville, at Exprairie	Aug. 3, 4
Mashulaville, at Hickory Grove	9
Louisville, at Rocky Hills	10, 11
Plattsburg, at Plattsburg	15
Chester, at South Union	17, 18
Walthall, at Long Branch	31, Sept. 1
LaGrange	7, 8
Sturges	14, 15

Camp meeting at South Union on Chester circuit will embrace the third Sunday in August.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Hickory Flat, at Shelby Creek	July 27, 28
Red Banks cir. and Mt. Pleasant cir. at Bailey's C. G.	Aug. 3, 4
Hyhalia, at Emory	10, 11
Olive Branch, at Oak Grove	17, 18
Pine Mountain, at Lebanon	24, 25
Waterford, at Marvin	31, Sept. 1
Ashland, at Salem	7, 8
Shawnee, at Harmony	14, 15

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Hillsboro, at Oak Ridge	July 26
Shiloh, at Shiloh Camp Ground	Aug. 3, 4
Lake, at High Hill	5
Carthage, at Rocky Points	10, 11
Mt. Hose, at Mt. Zion	17, 18
Strong River, at Clear Creek	19
Westville, at Westville	21
Trenton, at Trenton Camp Ground	31, Sept. 1
Walnut Grove, at Beech Springs	7, 8
Marvin	14, 15

District Conference meets Thursday, nine A. M., August 1, at Shiloh Camp Ground. Bishop Galloway will preside. We insist that every member will be present. Let us have one full District Conference.

P. A. JOHNSTON, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Winchester, at Mt. Pleasant	July 27, 28
Vossburg	Aug. 3, 4
Paulding, at Hopewell	10, 11
Sandersville, at Laurel	17, 18
Marion, at Pleasant Hill	24, 25
Meridian, at Shiloh	31, Sept. 1
Meridian Station	8
Illinsville, at Wahallak	7, 8
Leaksville	14, 15
Union	21, 22
Lauderdale	28, 29
Spring Hill	Oct. 5, 6
DeKalb	12, 13
West End	19, 20

R. D. NORSWORTHY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchez—Wesley Chapel	July 27, 28
Washington, at Locust Grove (Thurs.)	Aug. 1
Natchez—Jefferson Street	3, 4
Anguilla, Sunflower Chapel	10, 11
Sunflower, at Fish Lake (Tue.)	13
Roxlu, at Hamburg	17, 18
Warren, at Wesley Chapel	21
Meadville, at Cool Springs	24, 25
South Warren, at Asbury	31, Sept. 1
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	7, 8
Mayersville, at Benlah	14, 15
S. Vicksburg and Buvina, at Bovina	21, 22
Vicksburg	28, 29

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Bayou Sara, at New Hope	July 27, 28
N. Wilkinson, at Mars Hill	Aug. 1
Percey's Creek	3, 4
Centerville, at Bethel	6
Sam Jones Camp Meeting	9-18
Clinton and Betoeville	24, 25
St. Helena	29
Amite City, at Osyka	31, Sept. 1
East Fuliciana	3
Woodville	7, 8
Livingston, at Palmetto	12
Springfield, at Wesley Chapel	14, 15
New River, at St. Amant	19
E. Baton Rouge, at Bay Ridge	21, 22

C. M'DONALD, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Whittington	July 27, 28
Vancleve	Aug. 3, 4
Scranton, at Zion	10, 11
Moss Point, at Moss Point	11, 12
Americus	18, 17
Hattiesburg, at Hopewell	24, 25

T. S. WEST, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.—THIRD ROUND.

Shreveport	July 27, 28
Sabine, at Red Land	Aug. 1
Pleasant Hill, at Marthaville	3, 4
Mansfield	7
DeSoto, at Bethel	10, 11
Natchitoches, at Robeline	16
Hellwood, at Oak Grove	17, 18
South Bossier, at Doyline	24, 25
Valley circuit, at Blocker's Chapel	31, Sept. 1
North Bossier, at Concord	2
Mooringsport, at Pine Hill	7, 8
Many, at New Hope	14, 15
Anacoco, at Holly Grove	17
Coushatta, at East Point	21, 22
Wesley, at Holly Springs	25
Red River	28, 29

J. B. CASSITY, P. E.

HOMER DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Minden, at Pine Grove	July 27, 28
Summerfield, at Summerfield	Aug. 3, 4
Farmerville, at Freeman's Chapel	10, 11
Downsville, at Camp Ground	17, 18
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	24, 25
Arcadia	31, Sept 1
Tulip, at Tulip	7, 8
Sparta, at Camp Ground	14, 15
Saline, at Antioch	21, 22
Ruston, at Douglas	28, 29
Indian Village, at Pine Grove	Oct. 5, 6
Lumlsville, at Gansville	12, 13
Vienna, at Pine Grove	19, 20
Gibbsland	26, 27

ROBERT HANDLE, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Big Cane and Melville, at Big Cane	Aug. 3, 4
Evergreen, at Bunkie	10, 11
District Conference, at Bunkie	8-11
Lecompte and Boyce, at Lecompte	17, 18
Black river, at Lamb	24, 25
Vidalia and Troy, at Young's	Sept. 1
Centreville, at Trout Creek	7, 8
Columbia, at Parnassus	14, 15
Simsport, at Bayou Jacques	21, 22
Alexandria, at Lemuel's	28, 29
Montgomery, at St. Maurice	Oct. 5, 6
Ada	12, 13
Sugar Town, at Dry Creek	19, 20
Spring Creek, at Science Hill	26, 27

B. F. ALEXANDER, P. E.

CAMP MEETINGS.

The first meeting at the Rapides Camp Ground will commence on Thursday, August 22. The camp ground is situated on Brown's Creek, ten miles from Boyce, Rapides parish. Full preparations for a comfortable and successful meeting are being made.

C. M. LYONS, P. C.

The camp meeting at Cyprus Camp Ground, near Stonewall, on the Texas and Pacific railroad, will be opened Friday, August 16, 1889. Conveyances will leave Stonewall and Keithville on the arrival of trains on the T. and P. and H. E. and W. T. railroads. Ministers are cordially invited. Ample provision for visitors at reasonable rates; also fur horses.

R. J. HARP, P. C.

The Providence Camp Meeting, Brookhaven district, will begin August 22, and continue one week. Ministers are especially invited. Conveyance from Hazlehurst to the camp ground will be provided.

J. T. ALFORD, Pres.
J. M. CATCHING, Sec.

Lake Camp Meeting will commence on Friday night before the fourth Sunday in August; continue seven days. Lake Camp Ground is located two miles north of Lake Station, on the V. and M. R. R. (forty miles west of Meridian). The grounds are handsomely laid out; substantial improvements. Hotel large and roomy. We invite you, Mr. Editor, and everybody to come.

H. R. CALDWELL, P. C.

Palmer Camp Meeting, located on Whittington circuit, near Mississippi City, will begin Sunday, October 6, and will continue through the week. All preachers are cordially invited, and cared for free of charge. Conveyance furnished from Mississippi City on Saturday, the fifth, and Monday, the seventh.

C. C. CAMPBELL, P. C.
SAM'L WALKER, Sec.

P. S.—There will be no speculation of any kind allowed on or about grounds.

C. C. C.
S. W.

For over fifty years Dr. Davis' Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar has cured coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, throat and lung affections. It is the regular prescription of a physician of extensive practice, who, after prescribing it for twenty years, was induced by the gratifying results to make it a proprietary medicine. Davis' Wild Cherry and Tar soon became known as the best remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Why? Because it has merit and will cure. A. C. Hallenbiger, Philadelphia, says: "I know a man suffering with his lungs who was in the hospital a year without benefit. I induced him to take Davis' Wild Cherry and Tar, and to-day he is well. I know it saved his life." Try it.

Camp Meeting Calendar.

Camp Meetings.	Begins.
Sulphur Springs	July 25
Henington (Crystal Springs)	Aug. 8
Sam Jones	Aug. 9
Topisaw	Aug. 10
Downsville	Aug. 16
Cyprus	Aug. 16
Rapides	Aug. 22
Providence	Aug. 22
Lake	Aug. 23
China Grove	Aug. 23
St. Tammany	Sept. 27
Palmer	Oct. 6

Studeuts of medicine would do well to send for the catalogue of the Memphis Hospital Medical College.

BEAUTIFUL CHAUTAUQUA LAKE,
Lakewood, New York.

The most healthful resort in America, situated on the Main Line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., at Lakewood, N. Y., midway between Cincinnati and New York City. The highest navigable water in the United States, over 1,300 feet above the level of the sea, and 700 feet higher than Lake Erie. Weather cool. No malaria. No mosquitoes. Hotels open June 1 to October 1. Round-trip fare from Cincinnati $11 25, good returning until October 31. Be sure your tickets read via New York, Lake Erie and Western R. R., from Cincinnati, as this is the only line running solid trains, Pullman cars, through to the Lake. Tourist tickets for sale at all large stations. For further information please apply to ticket agents of connecting lines, or to H. C. Holabird, Division Passenger Agent, 99 West 4th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R.

Well known as the Great Kennesaw Route, is now making twelve hours quicker time to Washington via New York and eastern points, with Pullman Buffet Sleepers from New Orleans to Washington without change. The mountain resorts of East Tennessee are reached in twenty-four hours, and Virginia resorts in thirty hours. For tickets, sleeping accommodation, circulars, schedule, etc., call at Kenessaw ticket office, 22 Carondelet street.

The clergy of America take kindly to Life Insurance, and have been its firmest champions. They fight for it and thoroughly believe in it. There are many splendid financiers in the Church; that they are intelligent and thoughtful for their future goes without saying. All denominations seek the protection of Life Insurance, and are careful to select the company offering the greatest security and the most advantageous terms to policy-holders. The Episcopal Diocese of New York has an Insurance Fund for all of its members, and The Mutual Life, which is the largest and strongest company in the world, with over $122,000,000 assets, has been officially selected by that body to issue all the insurance to these worthy people.

A Southern Department of this Company has been opened in New Orleans under the management of Mr. T. H. Bowles, with offices in Louisiana National Bank Building.

Summer Tours.

Nowhere can there be found more pleasant spots in which to enjoy health and recreation than in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. With pure mountain air, excellent waters, fishing, bowling, hunting, horseback rides through the mountain glens, delightful promenades, music, dancing, and all that go to make life enjoyable, is found at many points on line of the Queen and Crescent Route. For summer tours address

R. H. GANNATT, Div. P. A.,
34 St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, &c.

From General Albert Sidney Johnston, the great Confederate General.

[FT. BRIDGER, UTAH, Nov. 8, '57.

Messrs. J. & C. Maguire, St. Louis, Mo.

I have used the bottle of Maguire's Benne Plant handed me by Ass't Surgeon Dr. Kirtley Hyland, and found it a most efficacious remedy for Complaints of the bowels.

A. SIDNEY JOHNSTON.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

COTTON.

Low ordinary	8⅝ @ — —
Ordinary	8⅞ — —
Good ordinary	9⅜ — —
Low middling	10¼ — —
Middling	11 — —
Good middling	11½ — —
Middling fair	11 13-16 — —
Fair	12 13-16 — —
Galveston middling	11 — —
Mobile middling	10¾ — —
Memphis middling	10¾ — —

SUGAR.

OPEN KETTLE:
Prime	— — — —
Fully fair	— — — —
Good fair	— — — —
Common	— — — —
CENTRIFUGAL:
Seconds	— — — —
Prime yellow	— — — —
Gray white	— — — —
Choice white	— — — —
Standard granulated	— — 6¼

MOLASSES.

OPEN KETTLE:
Fancy	— — — —
Fair	— — — —
Good common	— — — —
SYRUP	— — — —

RICE.

No. 2	2 2¼
Good	4⅜ 4½
Fair	4 4¼
Prime	4¾ 5
Rough, ₱ bbl	2 25 3 00
POLISH, ₱ ton	15 00 16 00

FLOUR.

Extra Fancy	4 50 4 60
Fancy	4 15 4 25
Choice	— — — —
Minnesota Patents	— — 6 25
Winter wheat patents	4 95 5 00
Minnesota bakers	5 00 5 25

CORN PRODUCTS.

Corn meal	2 25 — —
Cream meal	2 50 2 60
Grits	2 55 2 60
Hominy	— — 2 75

GRAIN, ETC.

CORN:
White, ₱ bushel	— — 50
Yellow	— — 46
Mixed No. 2	45 45½
OATS:
Western	— — 32½
Texas rust-proof	— — — —
BRAN:
₱ cwt	70½ 72½
HAY:
Prime	14 00 15 00
Choice	16 50 17 50

PROVISIONS.

PORK:
Mess (Standard)	12 50 12 62½
Prime Mess	12 50 12 75
Rumps	12 00 12 25
BACON:
Fancy Breakfast	10½ 11
Shoulders	— — 6⅜
Sides, short rib	— — 7¼
Sides, long clear	7⅛ — —
HAMS:
Sugar-cured	11¾ 12½
DRY SALT MEAT:
Shoulders	— — 5½
Sides, short rib	— — 6¾
Sides, long clear	— — 6¼

GROCERIES.

COFFEE:
Prime	— — 19
Fair	— — 18
Common	— — 15¾
TEAS:
Choice	40 80
Ho-No	— — 55
BUTTER:
Western Creamery	18 — —
Western Dairy	13 14
Common	— — — —
LARD:
Refined	— — 6¾
OILS:
Coal, bbls	10 — —
Coal, cases	15½ 16
Cotton seed, crude	41 48
Lard, Extra No. 1	— — 65

VEGETABLES.

CABBAGES:
Western, ₱ head	1 00 1 25
Chicago, ₱ 100	— — — —
Louisiana, ₱ crate	— — — —
POTATOES:
New Louisiana	50 90
Western	1 15 1 25
ONIONS:
New Louisiana	1 75 1 85
Western	— — — —

BALING STUFFS.

BAGGING:
Jute, 2 lb. ₱ yard	10⅝ 10½
Jute, 1¾ lb. ₱ yard	9½ 9¾
Lane Mills cotton bagging	12½ — —
BALING TWINE:
₱ lb	9½ 10
TIES:
₱ bundle	1 05 — —

SUNDRIES.

POULTRY:
Old Hens, Western	4 00 4 25
Young Chickens	1 25 2 50
Chickens, Southern	2 75 3 00
Young	1 00 1 75
Turkeys, Southern	10 00 12 00
EGGS:
Western	10 11
Southern	12½ 13
WOOL:
Lake, ₱ lb	24 24½
Louisiana	22 23
Burry	11 15
COUNTRY HIDES:
Green Salted, ₱ lb	3 — —
Dry salted	5½ — —
FERTILIZERS:
Cotton seed, ₱ ton	11 00 13 00
Meal	20 50 — —
Pure Ground bone	28 00 30 00
Muriatic acid, ₱ lb	— — 2½
Sulphuric acid	2 — —

—Times-Democrat, July 23.

Report of the Condition of the

New Orleans National Bank,

AT NEW ORLEANS,

In the State of Louisiana, at the Close of Business, Friday, July 12, 1889.

RESOURCES

Loans and discounts		$2,017,265 37
Overdrafts		58,158 60
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,600 00
U. S. bonds to secure deposits		200,000 00
U. S. bonds on hand		3,850 00
Other stocks, bonds and mortgages		731,765 00
Due from approved reserve agents		215,883 38
Due from other national banks		190,580 02
Due from State banks and bankers		75,377 61
Real estate, furniture and fixtures		95,616 53
Current expenses and taxes paid		313 47
Premiums paid		48,167 63
Checks and other cash items	$761 60
Exchanges for Clearing-House	122,869 16
Bills of other banks	80,067 00
Fractional currency (including nickels)	1,298 20
Specie, including gold treasury certificates	492,040 00
Legal tender notes	300,000 00
		997,635 96
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, 5 per cent. of circulation		2,250 00
Total		$4,688,812 97

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$200,000 00
Surplus fund	600,000 00
Undivided profits	60,597 82	$860,597 82
National bank notes outstanding		34,500 00
Dividends unpaid		1,700 00
Individual deposits subject to check	$3,347,488 48
Demand certificates of deposit	55,147 58
Certified checks	28,190 60
Cashier's checks outstanding	529 02
United States deposits	220,000 00
Due to other national banks	36,330 76
Due to State banks and bankers	101,329 32	3,792,015 15
Total		$4,688,812 97

STATE OF LOUISIANA, Parish of Orleans, ss.

I, WILLIAM PALFREY, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

WM. PALFREY, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of July, 1889.

GEO. W. CHRISTY, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest: JOHN H. HANNA, A. H. WHEELER, SIGMUND KATZ, Directors.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe

Homeopathic Physician,

288 St. Charles Avenue, cor. of Calliope St.

Cases treated by letter.

LOUISIANA

STEAM

SASH, BLIND AND DOOR

FACTORY,

299, 301, 303, 305, 307 Gravier Street,

NEW ORLEANS,

ROBERTS & CO., Proprietors.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Flooring and Ceiling, Newels, Balusters, etc., always on hand or made to order.

Orders promptly attended to.

Plantation Cabins a Specialty.

BRANCH OFFICE: NO. 52 CARONDELET ST.

Mention the ADVOCATE when you write.

New Spring Clothing.

WE have received our NEW STOCK of SPRING BUSINESS SUITS, $10 to $20. Merino and Thibet Frock Suits. Long Alpaca and Merino Sacks for the Clergy. STAR SHIRTS—the best—$1 to $1 50. Collars, $1.50 per dozen. Jean Drawers, 50c. Boys' Unlaundried Shirts, 50 cents. D. B. Prince Albert Dingonal Suits. Searfs. Celluloid Collars and Cuffs. Boys' Short Pants Suits, $3 up, and other goods at Lowest Cash Prices at

WM. H. PIERSON'S.

Removed to 100 Canal Street.

H. D. McCOWN,

DEALER IN

FINE CLOTHING

—AND—

Men's Furnishing Goods.

Headquarters of the Celebrated

McCOWN SHIRT.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty. Men's and Boys' Hats

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER.

Cor. St. Charles and Common Sts., N. O.

Discount to Preachers.

BLADON SPRINGS

CHOCTAW COUNTY, ALABAMA.

W. A. TURNER, Manager.

—THE—

FIRST WATERING PLACE IN THE SOUTH.

12 Hours by Steamboat from Mobile, on the Tombigbee River. Daily communication during Winter Season.

Large Hotel and Pleasant Cottages. 300 Guests can be accommodated. The Cottages are neatly plastered and provided with good fire-places, making them warm and "home-like."

B. WALLD, Agent (Successor to O. F. Cawthon & Co.), Druggist, Mobile. ISAACSON, SEIXAS & CO., Agents (Grocers), Canal St., New Orleans. Blalon Water on tap and for sale by EUGENE MAY, Cor. Canal and Chartres Sts., New Orleans, La.

Mention this paper.

CLIFF HOUSE AND COTTAGES,

At Tallulah Falls,

THE NIAGARA OF THE SOUTH.

The Cliff House is the best equipped summer resort hotel in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

For descriptive pamphlet address

J. C. S. TIMBERLAKE, Manager.
Tallulah Falls, Ga.

When writing, mention this paper.

White Cliff Mineral Springs,

On Chilhowee Mountains.

3,000 Feet above sea level. Opens June 1. Good fare. Comfortable accommodations. Reasonable terms. Magnificent scenery. Pure atmosphere. For analysis, circulars and full information, address J. H. MAGILL,

Manager, White Cliff Springs,
Monroe County, Tenn.

SAFE INVESTMENT

FARRAND & VOTEY

ORGANS

DETROIT, MICH. U.S.A.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 36.—NO. 31. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1889. WHOLE NO. 1719.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POST-OFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Christian Advocate.

Rev. C. W. CARTER, D. D., Editor.
J. G. GRANT, Publisher.
Rev. D. L. MITCHEL, Business M'g'r.

OFFICE: 112 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - $2 PER ANNUM.
Ministers and wives of deceased preachers, $1.

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. CHAS. W. CARTER, D. D.
REV. S. S. KEENER.
REV. B. CARRADINE, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. C. BLACK, D. D.
REV. W. R. LEWIS.
REV. R. J. JONES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. D. CAMERON, D. D.
REV. T. C. WIER, M. D.

TO-MORROW.

BY GERALD MASSEY.

High hopes that burned like stars sublime,
Go down the heavens of freedom,
And true hearts perish in the time
We bitterliest need them;
But never sit me down and say,
There's nothing left but sorrow;
We walk the wilderness to-day—
The promised land to-morrow.

Our hearts brood o'er the past, our eyes
With smiling features glisten;
Lo! now its dawn bursts up the sky—
Lean out your souls and listen.
The earth rolls freedom's radiant way,
And ripens with our sorrow;
And 'tis the martyrdom to-day
Brings victory to-morrow.

'Tis weary watching wave by wave;
And yet the tide heaves onward.
We climb, like corals, grave by grave,
And beat a pathway sunward.
We're beat on back in many a fray,
Yet newer strength we borrow;
And where our vanguard rests to-day
Our rear shall rest to-morrow.

Through all the long, dark night of years
The people's cry ascended;
The earth was wet with blood and tears
Ere their weak sufferings ended.
The few shall not forever sway,
The many toil in sorrow;
The bars of hell are strong to-day,
But Christ shall reign to-morrow.

The Carondelet Street Church Revival.

BY B. CARRADINE, D. D.

In the latter part of the month of May the writer inaugurated a series of revival services in the above-named church. The protracted meeting lasted just three weeks, and, altogether, constituted one of the deepest and most powerful works of grace ever witnessed in this part of the country. The church was thought to be in a fine religious condition to begin with; but, ere the meeting closed, we all found out that God sees as man does not and can not see, and that what satisfied two months ago is powerless to please now.

Most of the time we had two meetings a day—the morning service, frequently lasting three hours, with scarcely a soul leaving; and the night service, running from 7:30 P. M. to 11 o'clock. This shows whether there was interest or not.

The ice was broken the first night under a sermon from Bro. Sawyer. The next three nights the work deepened under sermons by Dr. Evans and Rev. F. Parker, and a layman's service led by Bro. Grant. At a later period in the meeting I also received help from Dr. Ahrens and Bro. Beard. Bro. Hopper, of the Mississippi Conference, arrived on the fourth day, and took charge, preaching twice every day, and with a spiritual power that the writer has never seen surpassed.

The nights were devoted to the unconverted, and scores were cut to the heart, and over one hundred were brought to God. The long morning meetings were devoted to the church, the subject handled each morning by the preacher being "Entire Sanctification." It was presented as being obtained instantaneously through perfect consecration, and a perfect faith that Jesus Christ could cleanse the soul now from all sin. The displays of divine power at these morning meetings reminded one of Pentecost. One day the writer saw scores of his members all rejoicing at the same time, while Bro. Hopper, for minutes, was powerless to rise from his knees, through a mighty baptism of the Holy Ghost.

There were about fifteen who experienced the blessing of sanctification, among whom, with joy unutterable and full of glory, I enroll my own name. Men may speculate and doubt and deny. So did I once. But, for all that, there is a second work done in the soul by the Holy Ghost—clear, distinct and different from conversion. To every Christian who is without the blessing, I say: It is not a recovery from backsliding; it is not merely a great blessing; it is another work done in the soul by the Holy Ghost—clear, distinct and different from conversion, and testified to distinctly by the Holy Ghost. Brooding calmly, after an interval of two months, upon the work done within me, I would say that it seems to be the death of sin in the heart. It is a fullness of love and rest and peace, continuous, delightful and astonishing. It is also marked by a constant and easy victory over all assaults made upon the soul by men or devils. The witness by the Holy Spirit to this state is peculiar, and clearer than the witness to my justification, which I have enjoyed for fifteen years. I would gladly say more upon this line, but defer to a future time and article.

There were many remarkable scenes that occurred during the progress of the meeting. One was a reconciliation service, for so it proved to be before the benediction was pronounced. The writer saw fifty people, one after another, arise, cross the room, and beg each other's pardon and forgiveness for past offenses. O the tears, the smiles, the embraces, the shoutings and rejoicings! This occurred at one of the sanctification meetings.

Another notable scene took place up stairs in the auditorium one Sunday morning, at eleven o'clock. Bro. Hopper, just before preaching, called for Christian testimonies, and in fifteen minutes over one hundred were given—short, quick, and soul-stirring. Sometimes four or five people were on their feet at the same moment. One negro man in the gallery, who had been saved in the meeting, thrilled all with his clear-cut experience. Old Carondelet never witnessed a more wonderful sight. A mass of people who had not been coming to the "meetings" sat astonished at the scene. Doubtless the old suspicion arose: these people must be drunk with new wine. So they were; but it was the wine that the Holy Ghost prepares, and that Christ told his disciples they should drink when they entered his Father's kingdom.

Another result was the offering of jewelry, gold watches, etc., by a number of the members, toward the erection of a church building in Japan. The pastor hopes to realize a sufficient sum from these gifts to secure a sanctuary abroad, of which we need not be ashamed. When we see people stripping from their persons ornaments, valued and valuable, that had pandered to pride and held imprisoned the Lord's money, and consecrate them to a work where souls could be saved and God glorified, we see a work that strikes us as being deep and genuine and peculiarly suggestive of Scripture.

Another remarkable feature was the working spirit of the church membership. The instant the preacher concluded his sermon, members of the congregation, without any exhortation whatever, quietly and earnestly moved about through the audience, reasoning, persuading, and drawing people to the altar. It was a spectacle that impressed all who beheld it. One night the writer saw five little girls surrounding a hardened old man of the world. He was obdurate. Finally one of the little girls came after me, while the other four kept watch. When I arrived on the scene three were talking to him, and one was near by, with bowed head, softly crying. The man looked anything but comfortable. Five little snow-birds surrounding an old tiger, trying to persuade him to become a lamb!

Time would fail to tell of all the thrilling incidents of the meeting. One woman, who had been persuaded to come to an evening meeting, was soundly converted to God, and immediately went home and confessed to her husband that she had spent a sum of money, with which he had entrusted her, upon the Louisiana State Lottery. No one here doubts her conversion!

A husband and wife were converted in ten minutes of each other, and a home that had been a kind of pandemonium has now become a paradise on earth. The wife, full of the revival hymns, in singing them in her home, was heard by a torn-down girl in the neighborhood. The words sank into the girl's soul, repentance sprang up, faith was exercised, and another soul was born unto God. So the work goes on.

A little girl, aged twelve, and a member of my church, was discovered in the parlor talking to a gentleman on the subject of religion. He was sitting, and she standing by his chair. By and by she commenced singing:

"Why do you wait, dear brother,
O why do you tarry so long?
Your Savior is waiting to give you
A place in his sanctified throng.

"What do you hope, dear brother,
To gain by a further delay?
There's no one to save you but Jesus,
There's no other way but his way.

"Why not? why not?
Why not come to him now?"

Unseen by them, several parties beheld the beautiful sight. The child, with her face lighted up with the love of Christ; the man with his face streaming with tears! And yet he would not yield. After this, when the church bell rang he would quickly and secretly leave the house, to keep the child from urging him to come to church. Truly, if he can not face a child, how can he stand before the presence of the Almighty?

The results of the meeting can not be truly summed up. When we mention the seventy accessions, the one hundred conversions, and the fifteen or twenty sanctifications—this is only a part. Four or five of my young men are called to preach; scores of my members, male and female, will now pray in public. A number of young ladies and gentlemen pray in our various church meetings and services. A Dorcas Society has been organized to clothe the poor; a Visiting Band started to care for the sick and the stranger. A Holiness Meeting, led on each Tuesday evening by the pastor, is composed of nearly one hundred of my members, who are seeking by consecration and faith for the blessing of entire sanctification, while numbers of others not found in this and the other meetings mentioned have been blessed, and are quickened and helped onward and forward in the Christian life.

Not everybody is blessed in a revival, no matter how powerful that revival may be. Under the gospel some hearts soften; others grow harder. The Bible again and again says: "Some believed, but others doubted." So will it be to the end of time. Yet with this fact fully recognized, I can say truthfully there has never been a more gracious revival in New Orleans than the one lately beheld in Carondelet Street Church, and that still manifests itself in large audiences, unctuous class meetings, accessions, conversions, and occasional instances of sanctification.

Thoughts on Sanctification.

BY J. D. CAMERON, D. D.

A great deal has been written recently on the subject of sanctification, and I presume a great deal more will yet be written. And, for one, I am glad of it. I am only sorry that an unsanctified spirit has sometimes expressed itself in unsanctified language. But this subject needed re-opening, re-ventilating, re-illuminating. So far as I have been able to see, there is one point of difference between the two sides—that is, as to how this state is attained. Either side does the other great injustice to make the charge of opposition to the doctrine itself. Allow me to make one or two suggestions. And I do this with the distinct understanding that any brother is at perfect liberty to dissent from or even object to my suggestions.

My first suggestion is, that God offers full salvation to every sinner. The very word save carries within itself that idea. The angel said to Joseph: "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matthew i, 21.) From what sins? From all, of course. John says: "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (I. John i, 9.) What sins are we to confess? All, of course. Then all we confess are to be forgiven, and we are to be cleansed from all unrighteousness. Is not that complete salvation? If one may be thus completely saved, why may not all? But are all thus completely saved? The Savior said to the two blind men, "According to your faith, be it unto you." This implies possible differences in the amount of faith we may have, and corresponding differences in the measure of blessing we may receive. We accept these as facts in all our teachings, and realize them as such in all our prayers. The father of the child possessed of devils, said: "Lord, I do believe; help thou mine unbelief." This teaches that he had faith; but that he feared that it was insufficient. The man restored to sight first saw "men as trees walking." It took a second touch to give perfect sight. Maybe his faith at first was only sufficient to give him partial sight. Maybe the first touch was necessary to the increase of his faith. Maybe without an increase of faith he would have continued to "see men as trees walking." I say, maybe so. So we receive spiritual blessings on condition of faith, and according to our faith. While we receive largely when faith is strong, may not a weak faith receive its measure of blessing?

Faith is founded upon evidence. We can have no faith in that of which we have no evidence. Our faith can not be broader or stronger than the evidence on which it rests. It takes much and strong evidence to root out the prejudices of teaching. This is true as to individuals and nations. Missionaries tell us that there is no difficulty in getting an African Christian to be honest and chaste, because they have been taught that death was the penalty of the opposite; but they lie to a man, because they have been taught to lie. Paul found it difficult to bring the Corinthians up to the standard of Christian morality. This required much time, patience, teaching, authority. This all because of the prejudices of early teaching. One may be taught that he is so sinful that it is impossible for him to be completely saved from sin; that he is not expected to attain to the high standard of holiness set up in the Scriptures, but only to approximate it as nearly as possible. Or he may have been taught that a residue of sin necessarily remains at conversion to be taken out by a second blessing.

Now, if in any of these cases full salvation should result, either it has not been unto them according to their faith, or their faith has exceeded the evidence furnished. For these and other reasons, which will occur to the well-informed and reflecting mind, I can see how, possibly, full salvation may not result at conversion. But this is not an absolute necessity, but all growing out of other causes. I can see no reason why God should not provide full salvation for all. I can find no Scripture against such a view. It all seems to be in favor of it. And I believe we ought to preach it always, and to all.

My second suggestion is, that God offers complete preservation to the completely saved. Faith is the condition on which we are saved, and it is the condition on which we are preserved. "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him." (Colossians ii, 6.) As we were saved when we believed, so we are saved as long and to the extent we believe. We know that there are differences in Christians after conversion—some are better than others because of differences in faith; and why may not these differences exist at conversion as well? We speak of conversions as though there were differences; and there do seem to be such. Some seem to be clearer, brighter, sounder than others, and so we speak of them. As I have already said, these differences are not absolutely necessary, but grow out of conditions which should not exist. A young man hears and accepts a full salvation. In the joy of his heart he puts himself upon the altar of God to be, do and suffer all that God requires. He is called to go as a missionary to the heathen, to labor, suffer, die. He obeys. Could he give better evidence of perfect faith in God, and perfect love to God and man? What he needs now is to "live by the same rule and mind the same thing." The same faith which brought him into this state is necessary to preserve him in it. His vision will be extended, his capacity will increase, and he will continue to grow in grace and in the knowledge of Christ. I believe Paul's case was just such a case as this. I believe there have been many others of the same kind. I believe this is God's normal way of salvation. I believe everyone can and ought to be thus saved. I believe we ought to so teach our people. Still I am forced to believe that the many are not thus saved. Still I can not say that they are not saved at all. They give evidences of salvation. But they as certainly give evidences that they do not love God with all their hearts, and their neighbors themselves. For all such the prayer of Paul is necessary: "And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." (I. Thess. v, 23.) I believe the first part of this prayer should be answered at conversion: but if it was not, it is appropriate now. The latter part is always appropriate and necessary. The fact that one is sanctified wholly to-day is no guarantee that he will be to-morrow. And the fact that one is preserved blameless in spirit, soul and body to-day is no guarantee that he will be to-morrow.

"Every moment, Lord, I need the virtue of thy blood."

"The just shall live by his faith." When we believe with all the heart, the whole heart is saved; and as long as we thus believe, we are thus saved. Preservation is as necessary as sanctification.

Questions and Answers.

BY R. ARBEY, D. D.

"What is the strongest argument in favor of the proposition that bishops and elders in the early church were of the same order?"

Before that question can be answered, is there not another coming in before it which supersedes it and renders it nugatory? Does not the question suppose that which is untrue? It supposes that in the early church there were established several distinct "orders" of ministers; that there were bishops and elders in the legal framework of the church; and the inquiry is, whether they were or were not in the same legal order.

Now, this whole question falls to the ground when we consider that there never was a church government, framed by the apostles or anybody else, applicable to the entire church. By "the early church" is meant the church in the time of the apostles, albeit the church was not then quite as "early" as it was a hundred or two years earlier. Nevertheless, as touching its post-messianic condition, it was early.

As to church government, ministerial orders, etc., religious people did then just as they do now, in given circumstances. They recognized, fundamentally, an order of ministers distinguished from laymen, but no official or legal severalty of orders in the ministry. Different churches, here and there, and in different circumstances, regulated ministerial labor as seemed best to them. Where it was thought best for one man to have oversight of other ministers, they did so; and where they didn't, they didn't, just as we do now.

But there never was a time when the entire church was governed by one straight church law. Who made such a law? And where is a vestige of it to be seen? And more, how could such a universal law of church government comport with common sense and the various civil and political and military hamperings and troubles of the times? The purblind notion of some is, that in those days "the church" was at one time and one place, all working under an iron-framed government. O, no; some were in Palestine, with more or less of Pharisaical notions. Some were Samaritans, with their peculiar views, and most of them were Greeks, with their ancestral peculiarities.

And then, after ten years or so, outsiders, who had never been in the church, came pouring in here and there, with their more liberal notions of personal freedom. The whole church was as heterogeneous then as now.

After several centuries, but at no particular time, we see ministerial ambition lurking about, and the more permanent offices, especially in the larger cities, came to be considered "orders" in the ministry, distinguished from other classes of duty not so permanent. And so we see that these superior orders in the ministry are at first the product of ministerial ambition, and not of apostolic government or law.

When will we get these lingering shreds of popery clean out of the church?

Books and Periodicals.

BOOKS.

PURE SONGS FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. Edited by Rev. A. G. Haygood, D. D., and Prof. H. M. McIntosh. J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga. Price, thirty-five cents.

This music book claims to have two excellencies above others of a like class. (1) It abounds with songs founded on the parables, miracles and incidents of Scripture. (2) It contains an unusual number of the better forms of church tunes adapted to hymns in general use. After all, every man and woman claims to be a judge of singing, and what suits one will not suit another. Therefore, some will like this book and others will not. Perhaps you had better see it anyhow.

OUR BROTHER IN BLACK. HIS FREEDOM AND HIS FUTURE. By Rev. A. G. Haygood, D. D. Hunt and Eaton, New York.

This book appeared some years ago and was warmly commended by the press, South and North. Dr. Haygood, in bringing out a new edition, has added three chapters: His reply to Senator Eustis on the Negro Problem, published in the Independent, November 8, 1888; A Symposium on the same question by various Southern writers, also published in the Independent during the last spring, and an article in the April number of the Cumberland Presbyterian Review, entitled, The Southern Church and the Negro. These added chapters enhance the value of the book, in as much as they show the trend of thought on the subject at the present time.

EMERGENCY NOTES. What to Do in Accidents and Sudden Illness until the Doctor comes. By Glentworth H. Butler, A. M., M. D., Physician and Lecturer in three Hospitals and two Schools in Brooklyn, N. Y. Cloth, 12mo., 102 pp., 50 cents. New York: Funk & Wagnalls.

This is a small book, but it grapples with large subjects. It tells what to do in the emergencies that are ever arising in this world of multiplied diseases and accidents. Since "all that a man hath will he give for his life," and since that life often depends upon the enlightened common sense and prompt action of some friend on the spot, it is important for people to know how to act. Here, then, is a compendium of practical knowledge for the masses. The lessons are illustrated by 18 cuts. The book does not ignore medical skill, but recommends it. But what if the doctor is absent, disabled or dead? Everything may depend upon assistance rendered during the first hour. This book tells how to render it.

PERIODICALS.

—The leading article in the August MISSIONARY REVIEW OF THE WORLD on Islam and Christian Missions is one of extraordinary interest and ability. Rev. J. C. Bracq has a paper of deep interest on evangelical work in France. Dr. Pierson writes in his usual earnest and eloquent style on The Attitude of the Papal Church toward Progress, and on Spain, the Land of the Papal Inquisition. Dr. Sherwood's article in reply to Dr. Cuyler—Have we Too Many Missionary Periodicals?—furnishes food for serious thought on the part of churches, pastors and missionary societies. On the whole, we doubt if a more vigorous and interesting number of this "powerful periodical" has been issued. Published by Funk and Wagnalls, 18 and 20 Astor Place, New York. $2 per year; 25 cents for single numbers. In clubs of ten, $1 50.

—POPULAR SCIENCE, for August, has: The Spirit of Manual Training, by Prof. C. H. Henderson; Agnosticism and Christianity, by Prof. T. H. Huxley, F. R. S.; Life in the Solomon Islands, by C. M. Woodford (illustrated); Scientific Charity, by A. G. Warner, Ph. D.; The Influence of Race in History, by M. Gustave Le Bon; The Stone Age in Heatheu Sweden, by W. H. Larrabee (illustrated); The Wastes of Modern Civilization—I., by Felix L. Oswald, M. D.; Electrical Waves, by Samuel Sheldon, Ph. D.; Home-Made Apparatus, by Prof. John F. Woodhull; The Defensive Armor of Plants, by M. Henry de Varigny; Blood-Vengeance and Pardon in Albania, by Herr J. Ohle; Mr. Mallock on Optimism, by W. D. Le Sueur; Savage Life in South America, by Capt. John Page; Sketch of Lavesler (with portrait); Editor's Table—the Johnstown Disaster, Mental Growth from Manual Training, Bruno's Statue at Rome; Literary Notices, Popular Miscellany, Notes.

—The MAGAZINE OF ART opens with a frontispiece entitled, The Passing Salute. Current Art, illustrated, by Miss Cridland; Art for the Villa, by George Moore; the Barbizon School—Charles F. Daubigny, by David Croal Thomson; The Snake in the Grass, from a picture by Sir Joshua Reynolds; Art Patrons—Maxlmillan, by Miss F. Mabel Robinson; John Brown, the Draftsman, by J. M. Gray, make up the principal of this superb monthly. Cassell & Co., New York. Price, $3 50.

—ST. NICHOLAS, for August, has a table of contents that will charm young and old. Dr. C. S. Robinson, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Joaquin Miller, John H. Jewett, Charles Frederick Holder are among the contributors, and are a guarantee for something good in the way of reading matter. The Century Company, New York. Price, $3.

Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1889.

WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?

BY WILLIAM R. PALMER.

Who is thy neighbor? Lo, 'tis he,
Can not repay thy charity;

The wretched and the lonely one,
Despised by all, and loved of none;

The outcast and the prodigal,
Who may not now the past recall;

The widow, orphan and oppressed;
The sick who languish, craving rest.

All forms and states of misery
Reveal a neighbor's need to thee.

O, blind and dead, arise, awake,
And do thy utmost for his sake.

Let at that day of awe and dread,
When Christ shall judge the quick and dead,

The Judge of heaven and earth shall say:
"No deeds of love thy hands display;

When knew I of thy tender care,
In prison depths or anywhere?

Failing to choose the better part,
I never knew thee. Soul, depart!"

Missionary Meeting at Delhi, La.

The Woman's Missionary Convention, auxiliary to the Louisiana Conference, met, according to appointment, in Delhi, July 5; President Mrs. E. J. Fullilove in the chair. About twenty-five societies reported; most of them by delegates, a few by letter. Several ministers were present, and aided us by their timely counsel: Rev. H. Armstrong, the pastor; Rev. J. D. Harper, the presiding elder of the Delhi district, and Bro. Pipes, whom we regard as peculiarly our own. He was with us at our organization, and has always stood by us. We had a pleasant stay in that hospitable town, and a very profitable meeting. From some points we received great encouragement, especially from the juvenile workers. They are characterized by much more perseverance than are their elders. The "Willing Hearts," Mansfield's juvenile society, received the beautiful banner offered by Mrs. Foster to the juvenile society that would bring up the largest amount of money per capita. Shreveport, Friendship and Keachi Juveniles also deserve honorable mention. This banner is to be held by the successful society until the next convention, when they will compete for it again. The banner and the missionary ship awaken considerable enthusiasm among the young folks. Of the adult societies, Louisiana Avenue stands ahead for this year, though her excess over Shreveport was only a few cents.

The convention was characterized throughout by earnestness and good feeling. All expressed themselves as not only edified, but benefited by the work done there. The business concerning our society was discussed carefully and prayerfully.

As the contingent fund has been a knotty point for us to decide, I think it best here to incorporate a resolution of the Finance Committee bearing on this point, that all the auxiliaries may understand what to require of their members.

Resolved, That the Conference contingent fund be restricted to twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for juveniles, per annum, same to be remitted to Conference treasurer, for that specific purpose.

There was also a resolution authorizing the State corresponding secretary to have printed a number of blanks sufficient for all the adult and juvenile societies, that they may the more easily bring up accurate and systematic reports.

Bro. Harper preached a good missionary sermon on Sunday, full of encouragement and sympathy for our work.

The district secretaries, assisted by the State president, organized a juvenile society of twenty-three members on Sunday afternoon.

Memorial services for Miss Chrisman were held on Sunday night, at Delhi, and a collection taken for Miss Phillips.

After the farewell meeting on Monday, at the church, closing with "God be with you 'till we meet again," we repaired to our hospitable homes to enjoy a hasty repast, and then extend to our kind hosts and many new-made friends the parting hand, with many thanks for their generous hospitality, and many good wishes for their future prosperity.

According to Mrs. McGavock's request, we held memorial services for Miss Chrisman at several points going to and coming from the convention, in each case closing with a collection to help to defray the expenses of Miss Phillips, our outgoing missionary, who is to take Miss Chrisman's place.

The aggregate of our collections was $86, and our president requests every auxiliary in the State to hold similar meetings at their earliest possible convenience.

I neglected to say above that by vote of the convention we accepted the invitation to hold our next convention in Baton Rouge, to meet on Friday before the second Sunday in July, 1890.

The same State officers were elected, but several changes made in the district secretaries. They now stand thus: New Orleans district, Mrs. M. M. Amray; Shreveport district, Miss Eliza Logan; Delhi district, Miss Minnie Thompson; Homer district, Mrs. Robert Randle; Alexandria district, Miss Lizzie Pickens; Opelousas district, Mrs. M. E. Alexander.

L. PAXSON, Rec. Sec.

Holly Springs District Conference.

On July 11, after having rested for three weeks in that delightful quiet which succeeds the labors of a scholastic year, I took passage for Water Valley to visit our presiding elder, the Rev. J. F. Evans, who has been a great sufferer with rheumatism. For eight weeks he has not been able to go forth in his beloved work. I was glad indeed to find him improved, though he is by no means well.

Friday afternoon found me at Early Grove, the site of the Holly Springs District Conference. The Rev. J. W. Honnoll was presiding, and had made good progress in the work of the Conference. Our young Bro. Moss was serving the brethren as a most efficient secretary. The Sunday-school Conference was held on Thursday. The friends reported a good day and a healthful growth in the Sunday-school work. The reports from all the charges, by both pastor and laymen, were indeed gratifying. For three years I have had the pleasure of attending the Holly Springs District Conference, and I am persuaded that under the wise and faithful guidance of Bro. Honnoll, and the earnest, prayerful labors of his preachers, this district is moving to the front to take the place it once so rightfully held. New churches are being built, old ones are being refitted and beautified. New parsonages are being built, and old ones are made more comfortable and attractive. The salaries of the preachers are thus far better paid, and there is a strong hope that all the general assessments will be met. With this healthful state of temporal things we had a spiritual life that is strong and hopeful. The preaching was good, and the people enjoyed it. The religious literature of our church is not neglected, though when I arose to speak to the report of the committee (which said some nice things for our Advocates), I was just a little surprised that no sample copies of either of the Advocates or our Sunday-school literature could be found. I could have made a better speech if Bro. Grant and Bro. Smith had sent just a few copies, for the papers speak for themselves. The Conference did its work well, and was both profitable and pleasant. The educational meeting did not materialize as we hoped, but the Conference was not held in one of our flourishing towns, but away from the railroad, and in the country where there are marks of better days.

The brethren were entertained with large hospitality, and I subscribe myself as indebted to preachers and people for much kindness. I met Mrs. R. P. Mitchell. She trusts in God and looks up. She made a liberal subscription to the Male College, for which her sainted husband talked and prayed. I did not get the names of the delegates to the Annual Conference.

THOS. J. NEWELL.

Indian Mission Statistics.

MR. EDITOR: Some time ago I promised to give some statistics with regard to the Indians in Mississippi; and now, with your permission, I will comply with that promise.

I have been seeking information from all the available sources, with the following results: Number in the State, about 2,500, living in the following counties, principally: Leake, Neshoba, Newton, Jasper, Scott, Perry, Smith, and Attalla.

The Baptists have 8 churches among them—2 in Leake, 1 in Neshoba, 3 in Newton, 1 in Jasper, and 1 in Perry, containing, in all, about 200 members; and they have 8 native preachers (Choctaw), 5 ordained, 3 not ordained, and no schools that I have been able to hear of at all. However, the Indians have the chance of 3 free schools, and 1 Catholic school. The Catholics have a school in Neshoba county, and have succeeded in getting a few of them into the Catholic Church; but I have not been able to ascertain how many.

Now, you see, out of 2,500 there are about 200 in the church, leaving 2,300 out of the church, and the Methodists doing nothing at all toward their salvation. "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," says our blessed Lord just before he ascended from Mt. Olivet to heaven. You may take this great commission as a request or command, just as you please; and we are not obeying the command or complying with his request unless we preach the gospel to the Indians in Mississippi. And, again, he says, "If you love me, keep my commandments." So it is a test of our love to Christ, or demonstrates as to whether we have the spirit of Christ or not; and St. Paul says, "Now, if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of his."

Now, you see, in order to demonstrate our love to Christ, and obey his commandments, and comply with his request, and have his spirit, we have to preach the gospel to every creature, which we are not doing while we neglect the Indians in Mississippi. And remember, that we can not turn over this work to anyone else. We must obey or die. May God have mercy upon us, and open our hearts and money sacks, that the Indians in Mississippi may have the gospel from a Methodist standpoint! I think that the Indians are far superior to some other races of people that we are laboring to save. And even to our own, in some respects.

The Choctaw Indians in Mississippi are:

1. Truthful. As a general thing, they will do to rely upon. Of course, there are exceptions to all rules; but, as a general thing, you may rely upon their word.

2. They are honest; probably as much so as any race of people anywhere. Very few exceptions to their honesty.

3. They are virtuous; probably more so than almost any other race. They do not amalgamate with other races; and hence, in this respect, they may be superior to our own race.

Now, should not their condition and these characteristics entitle them to the gospel at our hands? Should we not rise up and make a strong effort for their salvation? And can we not do it by private subscription, without interfering with or adding to our other collections? Surely among seventy-five thousand Methodists in Mississippi, to say nothing of what we may get from other States, we can get enough. May I not expect that one hundred Methodists, when they read this article, will lay down the ADVOCATE and write me a postal, with his or her subscription, for $5, more or less, annually, for the next five years, to support a missionary to preach to the Indians in Mississippi? I have two more names to add to my subscription list, to wit: Rev. I. L. Peebles, of Brandon station, Mississippi Conference, $5 annually for five years; and Bro. Isaiah Tucker, of Gloster, Miss., for $5 for the first year, and more to follow.

Now, brethren and sisters, do not wait longer. You, doubtless, intend to help in this great work, and why not now?

A. D. MILLER.

CATO, Mississippi.

The Second Blessing.

MR. EDITOR: The subject of holiness, or sanctification, has been receiving its share of attention by correspondence to the different Advocates of the church for a long while. It remains a question as to whether, upon the whole, the various sayings upon this scriptural doctrine have been to the edification of believers or not. If this has not been one of the effects resulting from the constant utterances through the columns of our papers, something not so favorable to Zion's health has followed. I am fond of reading the matured thoughts of our great men upon any question of moment, but when thoughts and mere opinions take the form of dogmatisms, my satisfaction is disturbed, and the involuntary inquiry comes up: Whence hath he this infallibility, for surely such a claim is involved? There are many things about which we may entertain opposing views, while there are others about which we can not differ. We may say that without believing you can not be justified, and except a man repents he can not believe unto salvation. We may say, Except a man be born again, he can not see the kingdom of God. And the same may be said concerning the doctrine of holiness or sanctification. Without it no man shall see God.

Now, I suppose that no Bible Christian can be found who would take the responsibility of saying that without "holiness of heart" we may see God. All Christians who take the Bible for their guide on this important doctrine believe in holiness of heart, for the simple reason that the Bible leaves no room for an opinion as to the subject itself. But when you come to the matter as to how, when, and of what it consists, you enter the broad field of opinion, and, as such, only must be made in the balance of reason with the light in hand, and this disposed of by accepting or rejecting without running the risk of being convicted of heresy. It would be a relief to some of us if some of the advocates of "the second blessing theory" would learn to discriminate between mere theory and the thing itself—a thing they utterly fail to do when they charge those who differ with them of denying the doctrine altogether. It looks as if they thought the readers of the papers and Book upon this subject would not be able to see the difference between a proposition and a theory of a proposition. The theory of the divine life, of Christian manhood, or Christian maturity, is clearly suggested in the Book. The "babe in Christ," "first the blade," the talent in a napkin, the leaven in three measures of meal, are all suggestive of the conditions of holiness and maturity.

The object of the Scotsville Holiness Camp Meeting, as noticed in the ADVOCATE, of June 27, is suggestive of a waste of ammunition from the fact that much time is to be given to urging believers to seek a higher state of Christian life in accommodation to a humanly devised theory, so far as anything I have seen to the contrary. To seek to be holy in heart and life is a duty. To grow and mature is made to depend on a proper and faithful use of what is bestowed in regeneration, and not on seeking this advanced state at one bound as a distinct blessing from regeneration.

We think the tendency of this "second blessing theory" is to bring religion into disrepute by kindling a blind zeal bordering fanaticism, supporting a disposition to rely upon this profession of sanctification as the means of giving to the world the highest evidences of the truth and power of true religion, instead of a life of words, tempers and deeds comporting with the gospel. This is liable to be the case with the less intelligent, who may be induced to profess it as a distinct blessing from regeneration.

R. A. ELLIS.

Resolutions of Respect.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Mississippi Conference, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, through our officers, would give some expression to our sorrow which we feel because of the sudden, tragic death of Miss Anna Clara Chrisman, our missionary to Brazil. She left us so full of hope, and accompanied by our daily prayers in her behalf, and in behalf of her field of labor, where the harvest was ripe, "but the laborers few"—so few! We had looked for such great sheaves garnered by her willing hands. We had looked for her return after years of faithful toil for the Master; but upon her sweet face we shall look no more in this world! The work must go on without her. Her letters from Brazil will not cheer us. Her wise words will not guide us. We can only "be silent to the Lord" and abide the coming of the "hereafter," when we shall know why he has so dealt with us and with our loved sister, and with her loved and loving ones in the Beauregard home.

Resolved, That in the death of Anna Clara Chrisman our society has sustained a grievous loss and an awful sorrow; yet we bow submissively to the will of him who gave her to us awhile and then took her to him forever. While we can not now see how it is to be, yet we are confident that he who called her to go to the foreign field, and then permitted her to be overtaken by death on the way, will make this apparent loss a glorious gain to us, to her loved ones, to Brazil, and to the cause of missions generally. He never makes mistakes. We will, in faith, watch the unfolding of his plans.

Resolved, That to the mother and to the sister, to the venerable grandparents, and to the other members of the family, we tender our Christian condolence, and with their tears mingle ours. We feel assured that he who wept by the tomb of Lazarus is not unmindful of their sorrow.

Resolved, That to all who were instrumental in recovering the body of our beloved sister, especially to J. W. Curry, of Altoona, Penn., and to William F. Gable, of Altoona, Penn., are our heartfelt thanks due; very especially to Mrs. Isaac Hughes, of New York City, for her deep interest in our sister and her earnest efforts in her behalf, although at the time her own home was shrouded in the shadow of an awful sorrow. May God bless them all!

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE and the Woman's Missionary Advocate, and copies be furnished to "our Clara's" mother and to Mrs. Hughes.

MRS. I. N. CHATFIELD,
President.

MRS. E. P. MELLEN,
Vice-Pres.

MISS BESSIE FEARN, Rec. Sec.

MISS ANNIE E. LINFIELD, Cor. Sec.

MRS. ANNIE DE MOSS, Treas.

A New Educational Proposition.

MR. EDITOR: Since your visit to our District Conference, last May, and your talk on education and the endowment fund for Centenary College, I have thought a good deal about church education. At every Quarterly Conference you have the question asked, What are you doing for education? Answer: Something, or a little, or some other words amounting to the same thing. Now, brother, I think the people of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, can improve on the answer to that question, and I would be glad to see the State of my birth lead out in that direction.

Here is my proposition to the Methodists of the State of Louisiana: that each district of the Louisiana Conference educate at Centenary College one young man for the ministry, who, on his part, after graduating must enter the missionary field to work for the Master. The young man wishing a Christian education must send his application to the district stewards, who, after examining the applicant or applicants, as the case may be, the most worthy shall receive the appointment. As to the support of the young man thus sent to college, it would simply amount to nothing. We can do it and never miss the money thus spent in a good cause.

Now, brothers, by this means we would be lending the widow's mite to Centenary College and pushing on the grand cause for the Master, educating the heathen and laying up treasures in heaven. Come, brothers, let us be "up and doing," "for the night cometh when no man can work." We have means; have we the religion?

JOHN B. REILY.

BASTROP, Louisiana.

From the Work.

WASHINGTON CIRCUIT.

MR. EDITOR: By request of Bro. Johns, I write you a few notes of our protracted meeting, which commenced Friday night before the first Sunday in July, and closed Wednesday night succeeding. Rev. J. E. Denson, of Abbeville, was present, and did all the preaching, except twice. His forcible sermons and earnest prayers brought many to the altar, and several were converted and converted. The church has been wonderfully blessed. There were thirteen accessions to our church. One of the young men who was converted expects to study for the ministry. The lukewarm professor also feels drawn nearer to God, and takes a lively interest in church and Sunday-school work. We feel much encouraged. Pray for me that I may be able to do the work faithfully that is consigned to me. Many good wishes to you and the ADVOCATE.

Yours in Christ,

MRS. J. J. BEARD,
S. S. Sup't.

PORT VINCENT, LA.

MR. EDITOR: We have held two protracted meetings on our New River mission with very encouraging results; one of which Bro. McDonald, our presiding elder, has given some account—when were received eighteen members and a church organized. Since then we have held a ten days' meeting at Big Swamp; received twenty-four members and organized a church. We have also organized at each of these churches a Sunday-school and a prayer meeting. Most of those who joined the church were happily converted during the meeting, and have erected family altars at their homes, for all of which God be praised. Forty-two accessions up to date, with three more protracted meetings to hold. Grateful thanks to Bro. Norwood for his labor of love among us in both of those meetings; and also to Bro. Parker for his excellent sermons at Big Swamp. Pray for us at New River.

E. L. SINGELTARY, P. C.

Discovery of an Assyrian Library 3,500 Years Old.

PROF. SAYCE'S DESCRIPTION OF IT.

The Victoria Institute of London held its annual meeting at Adelphi Terrace on July 1. An immense audience crowded the Hall in every part, the president, Sir George Stokes, Bart., president of the Royal Society, took the chair. The proceedings were commenced by mentioning that the Emperor of Brazil had sent a message expressing special interest in the Institute's Journal, and desired to obtain it regularly for translation. The report for the past year was then read by Captain Francis Petrie, the honorary secretary, by which it appeared that the number of home, foreign and colonial members had increased to over 1,300, and there had been an important advance in the practical work of the Institute in investigating philosophical and scientific questions, especially any questions used by those who unhappily sought to attack religion in the name of science.

The adoption of the report was moved by Sir Henry Barkly, G. C. B., F. R. S., and seconded by Admiral Sir Leopold McClintock, F. R. S., after which it was announced that family matters, consequent on the death of his father, prevented Prof. Sayce's presence, and he had chosen the Rev. Dr. Wright, author of "The Hittites," to read the address. It gave an historical description of what has become known in regard to the conquests of Amenophis III., as shown by the archives of his palace, which have only lately been discovered, and which the Professor went last winter to investigate on the spot before writing the Address for the Victoria Institute. Of the tablets and inscriptions, he said: "From them we learn that in the fifteenth century before our era—a century before the Exodus—active literary intercourse was going on throughout the civilized world of Western Asia, between Babylon and Egypt and the smaller states of Palestine, of Syria, of Mesopotamia, and even of Eastern Kappadokia. And this intercourse was carried on by means of the Babylonian language, and the complicated Babylonian script. This implies that, all over the civilized East, there were libraries and schools where the Babylonian language and literature were taught and learned. Babylonian appeared to have been as much the language of diplomacy and cultivated society as French has become in modern times, with the difference that, whereas it does not take long to learn to read French, the cuneiform syllabary required years of hard labor and attention before it could be acquired. We can now understand the meaning of the name of the Canaanitish city which stood near Hebron, and which seems to have been one of the most important of the towns of Southern Palestine. Kirjath-Sepher, or 'Book-town,' must have been the seat of a famous library consisting mainly, if not altogether, as the Tel el-Amarna tablets inform us, of clay tablets inscribed with cuneiform characters. As the city also bore the name of Debir, or 'Sanctuary,' we may conclude that the tablets were stored in its chief temple, like the libraries of Assyria and Babylonia. It may be that they are still lying under the soil, awaiting the day when the spade of the excavator shall restore them to the light. The literary influence of Babylonia in the age before the Israelitish conquest of Palestine explains the occurrence of the names of Babylonian deities among the inhabitants of the West. Moses died on the summit of Mount Nebo, which received its name from the Babylonian god of literature, to whom the great temple of Borsippa was dedicated; and Sinai itself, the mountain 'of Sin,' testifies to a worship of the Babylonian Moon-god, Sin, amid the solitudes of the desert. Moloch, or Malik, was a Babylonian divinity like Rimmon, the Air-god, after whom more than one locality in Palestine was named, and Anat, the wife of Anu, the Sky-god, gave her name to the Palestinian Anab, as well as to Anathoth, the city of 'the Anat-goddesses.'"

In a careful reading of the tablets Canon Sayce came upon many ancient names and incidents known up to the present only from their appearance in the Bible. All these he carefully described, as well as several references in the tablets to the Hittites.

In regard to another point, he said:—

"Ever since the progress of Egyptology made it clear that Rameses II. was the Pharaoh of the oppression, it was difficult to understand how so long an interval of time as the whole period of the 18th Dynasty could lie between him and the 'new king' whose rise seems to have been followed almost immediately by the servitude and oppression of the Hebrews. The tablets of Tel el-Amarna now show that the difficulty does not exist. Up to the death of Khu-en-Aten, the Semite had greater influence than the native in the land of Mizraim."

Referring to those who have formed opinions as to the non-historical character of the Pentateuch, Professor Sayce said: "The Tel el-Amarna tablets have already overthrown the primary foundation on which much of this criticism has been built."

Professor Sayce closed his paper with a peroration of passing eloquence as to the duty of searching for the rich libraries that must lie buried beneath the sands of Syria and Palestine, a matter the importance of which has been urged in the Victoria Institute's Journal more than once, especially in the last volume, presented to all its supporters. A vote of thanks was passed to Professor Sayce for his splendid Address, and to Dr. Wright for reading it. This was moved by the Lord Chancellor in a speech of great interest, in which he said there was nothing more interesting in the literary history of mankind than such discoveries as those alluded to in the Address, which he considered a perfect mine of wealth. M. Navile, the Egyptian discoverer, having expressed his admiration of the labors of Professor Sayce, and declared the discovery the greatest one of the present century, a vote of thanks to the President was then moved by Sir Risdon Bennett, F. R. S., seconded by Admiral Sir Erasmas Ommanney, F. R. S., and conveyed to the President by Captain Creak, F. R. S. This closed the proceedings, and the members and their guests adjourned to the Museum, where refreshments were served.

Echoes.

It was not until Moses had been at the cost of forty years' living in the palace, and forty years' living in the desert, and of forty days' fasting in sacred communion with God in the mount that his face shone with the reflected effulgence of the divine glory, and that his very countenance proclaimed the beauty and the holiness of the Lord's presence. When any of us have had somewhat more than now of such preliminary training as was thus secured to Moses, we may have somewhat more in our countenances of the divine light which illumined his. Whenever we see an approach to that light on a child of God's countenance, we may be sure that there has been something of this training going on in his mind and character.—S. S. Times.

What a blessed thing rain is! How gently it descends upon "the mown grass." No wonder Shakespeare praises it. The dry and thirsty ground drinks it in with every sign of delight, and every leaf and flower looks up and praises God for his kindness. There is a purity, freshness and serenity in nature after summer showers which is calming and uplifting to our spirits. Are we not in the same condition as the thirsty earth? Do we not, equally, need the gracious showers of the Divine Spirit? Do not our souls grow dry and dusty and dispirited, until the Spirit comes down, and falls as gently, and as refreshingly upon us as the rain falls upon the withering herbs and parching grass? May such refreshing come to the waiting churches, even in these vacation days; and, as the rain falls not only upon fields of hay or grain, or fruits of earth, but also upon the dusty roads and the thorny and stony places, so may the spiritual showers revive and bless not only the churches, but multitudes of the thoughtless and indifferent, bringing them back to a merciful and loving God!—The Congregationalist.

Paul was not only an enthusiast. He was a strategist. He looked across the darkness of Europe, saw three cities where life was at its most hopeful point and its saddest; saw Athens, with its elegant and godless religiosity; saw Corinth, with its thronging crowds at a white heat of commercial ambition; saw Rome, making roads all over Europe—and he said, "Give me these centers for Christ, and they will carry the gospel out to the Pillars of Hercules." And Paul was right. After Rome came Constantinople—the gateway to the East, and Alexandria—the gateway to the South. And later, when Europe was to be re-awakened, it was from Genova that the Alps heard the Reformation cry, and from Paris, France heard it, and England from London, and Scotland from Edinburgh. Weakness and failure are inevitable if we forget the crying needs and pressing claims of our great cities.—Congregational Magazine.

Justification is the divine act that declares the sinner, trusting in the Son, innocent before the law.

Sunday-School Lesson.

(Hurlbut and Simpson's Lesson Commentary, Phillips & Hunt, New York.)

LESSON VI.—August 11.

SAMUEL'S FAREWELL ADDRESS.

1. Sam. xii, 1-15.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Only fear the Lord and serve him in truth with all your heart; for consider how great things he hath done for you.—1. Sam. xii, 24.

TIME.—B. C. 1095.

PLACE.—Gilgal (a rolling, a circle, wheel). According to Josephus, it lay within two miles of Jericho.

1. I ... have made a king over you—This statement, together with that which follows—behold the king walketh before you—indicates that this farewell address was made at Gilgal when they removed the kingdom there.

2. My sons are with you—That is, are at your disposal, to be treated as may seem proper to you and your king. Possibly, however, a tinge of mortified feeling at the rejection of himself and his family, mixed with a desire to recommend his sons to the favor and goodwill of the nation, is at the bottom of this mention of them.

3. Before his anointed—That is, Saul, the king, who had probably been publicly anointed before this assembly at Gilgal. All the parties concerned were there: the king, in the fullness of his power; the people, triumphant in the apparent sanction to their judgment, which the late victory under their new king afforded; Samuel, himself, too old to be expected much longer to exercise any remaining control over the movements of the government; and his sons, of whom they were jealous, were there present, like themselves, as subjects of Saul. Whose ox ... whose ass have I taken—The "ox and ass" represent property in a social life based on agriculture and trade, and are expressly named in the law with the things forbidden to covet. Any bribe—Literally, a ransom, the fine paid by a criminal in lieu of bonds or death. To blind mine eyes therewith—Rather, "that I should hide mine eyes at him" (see margin). The phrase is used of one who averts his eyes, as refusing assistance, or as showing contempt, or, as here, as winking at what is wrong.

4. Thou hast not—They thereby testified by an oath before God that there was no reason for them to be dissatisfied with Samuel's administration, or for bringing about this revolution in their government.

6. Advanced—If in the sense of appointing them to their office, it is tightly rendered. It is literally, made.

7. Stand still, that I may reason—Both words have a forensic sense. They would be better rendered "stand up" (as if in a court of justice). All the righteous acts—By "righteous acts" are here meant the acts of grace and favor which God had showed toward them in all his dispensations, even those of correction and judgment. His severest judgments are intended to reform vice and to confirm virtue; and not to destroy his people, but to amend them; to improve their graces, and to increase their rewards.

9. They forgat the Lord—Is put in contrast to the "righteous acts" of the Lord; they answered God's covenant fidelity with unfaithfulness, defection. Notice here Samuel's prudence in reproof: 1. By his reproof of their ancestors he prepares their minds to receive reproof. 2. He shows that their ingratitude is old, and so worse, and they should take care that it grow no stronger. 3. He chooses a very mild word, "forgot," to express their offense. He sold them—Indicates the just retribution of their forgetting him. When his people abandon him, he, by virtue of the same righteousness which blesses them if they are faithful, abandons them to their enemies, who enslave and oppress them. The selling refers to the right of the father to sell his children as slaves, here exercised by God as the extremest paternal right, as it were. It is also the right of the king to sell his subjects, and of God to dispose of his creatures. Sisera—According to the present arrangement of the Book of Judges, and the common chronology, the oppression of Sisera must have occurred about two hundred years after the entrance into Canaan. But Samuel here places it as the first great servitude, before that under Eglon, king of Moab, or that from which Shamgar delivered them. And this is in accordance with the internal evidence of the Book of Judges itself. The king of Moab—That is, Eglon. These three nations represent, as the most prominent, all the heathen nations into whose hands God gave his people.

10. They cried unto the Lord—These words are also a verbal citation, slightly abridged, of Judges x, 10-15.

11. Sent Jerubbaal—The oppression of the Midianites from which Jerubbaal, that is, Gideon, delivered Israel, has not been mentioned; but, doubtless, all the servitudes were intended to be included in the outline furnished in verses 8-10. Bedan—The name Bedan only occurs again in 1. Chron. vii, 17, among the descendants of Machir, the Manassite. Consequently some of the commentators suppose Jair of Gilead to be the judge intended. But such a supposition is perfectly arbitrary, as it is not rendered probable by any identity in the two names, and Jair is not described as having delivered Israel from any hostile oppression. ... There is just as little ground for rendering Bedan as an appellative, for example: the Danite (ben-Dan), as Kimchi suggests, or corpulentus, as Bottcher mutatains, and so connecting the name with Samson. There is no other course left, therefore, than to regard Bedan as an old copyist's error for Barak (Judges iv), a conclusion which is favored by the circumstance that Barak was one of the most celebrated of the judges, and is placed by the side of Gideon and Jephthah in Hebrews xi, 32.

12. When ye saw that Nahash—It hence appears not improbable that Nahash had made incursions into the Hebrew territory before the Israelites had demanded a king, and after his election had returned and begun the siege of Jabesh.

13. Behold the king—Two factors enter into the establishment of the kingdom: 1. The human, whom ye have chosen, and whom ye have desired, or asked. The arrangement of words in the Hebrew shows that the demand was the strongest act that the people could perform. They had not only chosen the king with the consent or by the direction of Samuel; they had even demanded a king of their own self-will. 2. The divine, Behold, the Lord hath set a king over you. The second "Behold" brings out the thought more strongly that Jehovah had fulfilled the desire of the people. Although the request of the people had been an act of hostility to God, yet Jehovah had fulfilled it.

14. If ye will fear the Lord—Here we see the true prophet as emphatically the man of God, the messenger of Jehovah, commissioned to reveal the divine will, to rebuke the wickedness of kings and peoples, and to pronounce the judgments that would surely follow personal and national sins. He was the spiritual watchman whom Jehovah set over his people to reveal the great truths of the divine government, and apply them to the leading persons and events of his age. Serve him—It is virtually equivalent to the wish, "O that ye would only!" Translate, "If ye will fear the Lord and serve him, and obey his voice, so as not to rebel against the mouth of the Lord, and will be, both you and your king that reigns over you, followers after the Lord your God" well; the apodosis being understood as Exodus xxxii, 32.

15. The hand of the Lord be against—You shall have no advantage in that point by the change of government, nor shall your kings be able to protect you against God's displeasure.

Missionary.

Comparative Religion and Christian Missions.

Comparative religion is pre-eminently useful as a valuable aid to Christian missions. Since the Graeco-Roman age Christianity was never so aggressive as to-day. During the first half of that age Christians laborers went everywhere bearing the glad tidings. That was the time of pure aggressive propagandism. During the second half the heathen flowed in upon Christian civilization, and so by migration came within the reach of its benign influences. This nineteenth century strikingly presents both these processes in active operation. Aggressive propagandism and migratory activity co-operate in the diffusion of Christianity. Of all the mighty moral movements that characterize and glorify our century, foreign missions is the greatest. Its heroic achievements in various lines of human progress are patent to the world, and receive from enlightened philanthropists everywhere that praise which they merit. In every war of conquest it is of the utmost importance that the resources, plans, strategic positions, character of the leaders and all the vulnerable points of the enemy should be known. This knowledge is power. Comparative religion places such knowledge in the hands of the church, which she may wisely use in her conquest of the world.

Our missionaries must be familiar with the details of comparative religion if they would be equipped and skilled for victory. If the church at home would triumph in this aggressive conflict, she must justly estimate the importance and magnitude of the work in which she is engaged; she must fully acquaint herself with the downtrodden and perishing whom she seeks to elevate and save; she must have deep, tender and practical sympathy with them as fellow-sinners and fellow-men; she must recognize and appreciate and consider the terrible power of falsehood to destroy, and of God's instrument (the truth) as mighty to save. She must not only be pitiful toward men, but also be exceedingly jealous for the honor of Jehovah, whose laws are disobeyed, whose character and glory are forgotten, whose dominion is disregarded, whose throne of the heart idol gods are permitted to occupy, and whose Son is waiting to be gracious. Was it only from the manward side—was it not from the Godward also?—that Paul was so profoundly moved when he saw Athens wholly given to idolatry?

If the church would be stirred in spirit, if she would have a soul-paroxysm for men (as the word is) she must, like Paul, see the pagan world. Her eye will affect her heart. She must feel the need, rely on the promises, and assure herself of certain victory. Now at every point comparative religion renders important service. It spreads before her eye the perishing peoples; it brings them very near as fellow-sinners, burdened by conscious guilt, vainly straggling down the ages for relief, spending their all on physicians but ever becoming worse; it impressively proves that there has been everywhere in the heathen world a development downward, to a lower deep still opening wide; it presents from the dawn of history the peoples of the world and their religions, and it proves that just as those peoples approached the doctrines and duties of the Bible have the nations advanced in individual, domestic, social and civil happiness; it shows that forces are at work to weaken the great systems of error and to prepare the peoples for the acceptance of the truth, and it stops the mouth of the opposers of God by confuting by its facts their hypotheses, and by clearest inductions it establishes the fact that the heart of man wants God, must have God, can not rest without him, and that there are evidences of God's working among men, that the time hastens when a weary world will return to God and rest in him.—Church at Home and Abroad.

In 1860, Henry Goethe, of Beaufort, S. C., wrote Dr. Shallenberger:

"I regard your Antidote a specific for chills and fever. It was used on Charleston & Savannah R. Road last summer and autumn in the most sickly region, and under the most trying circumstances. Out of one gang of negro operatives, fifty were stricken down with chills and fever, and every one recovered by the timely use of Shallenberger's Antidote. You possess the GREATEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD."

Temperance.

The Railway Age says: "The railways of the United States constitute one of the most effective temperance organizations in existence. Practically they encourage, and most of the companies require abstinence from intoxicating liquors on the part of their 60,000 employees. A great and gratifying change in sentiment, as well as in practice on this subject, has taken place among railway officers and men within a few years.

Another State has wheeled into line for the good of its children. Florida has passed a Scientide Temperance Instruction Bill which is to take effect this fall.

The total amount of money received in the State of Pennsylvania from license fees last year was less than $600,000, while to get that $50,000,000 was spent for liquor. An exchange remarks, "That's baiting your hook with a mackerel to catch a minnow."

